GENESIS

Genesis 1:1

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.

Genesis 1:2

And the earth was without form and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep; and the spirit of God was waving over the face of the waters.

Genesis 1:3

And God said, Let there be light; and there was light.

Genesis 1:4

And God saw the light that it was good; and God divided between the light and the darkness.

Genesis 1:5

And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And it was evening and it was morning, the first day.

Genesis 1:6

And God said, Let there be an expansion in the midst of the waters, and let it divide between waters and waters.

Genesis 1:7

And God made the expansion, and divided between the waters which were under the expansion and the waters which were above the expansion: and it was so.

Genesis 1:8

And God called the expansion Heaven. And it was evening and it was morning, the second day.

Genesis 1:9

And God said, Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land be visible: and it was so.

Genesis 1:10

And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters he called Seas: and God saw that it was good.

Genesis 1:11

And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, herbs yielding seed, fruit-trees yielding fruit after their kind, in which its seed is upon the earth: and it was so.

Genesis 1:12

And the earth brought forth grass, herbs yielding seed after their kind, and trees yielding fruit, in which its seed is after their kind: and God saw that it was good.

Genesis 1:13

And it was evening and it was morning, the third day.

Genesis 1:14

And God said, Let there be lights in the expansion of the heaven to divide between the day and the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years;

Genesis 1:15

And let them be for lights in the expansion of the heaven, to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

Genesis 1:16

And God made the two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night; and the stars.

Genesis 1:17

And God set them in the expansion of the heaven to give light upon the earth,

Genesis 1:18

And to rule by day and by night, and to divide between the light and the darkness: and God saw that it was good.

Genesis 1:19

And it was evening and it was morning, the fourth day.

Genesis 1:20

And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly moving creatures that have life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open expansion of the heaven.

Genesis 1:21

And God created the great sea-monsters, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth abundantly after their kind, and every winged fowl after its kind: and God saw that it was good.

Genesis 1:22

And God blessed them, saying, Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let the fowl multiply on the earth.

Genesis 1:23

And it was evening and it was morning, the fifth day.

Genesis 1:24

And God said, Let the earth bring forth living creatures after their kind, cattle, and creeping things, and beasts of the earth after their kind: and it was so.

Genesis 1:25

And God made the beasts of the earth after their kind, and the cattle after their kind, and every thing that creepeth upon the earth after its kind: and God saw that it was good.

Genesis 1:26

And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and they shall have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the heaven, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

And God created man in his image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them.

Genesis 1:28

And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it; and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the heaven, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

Genesis 1:29

And God said, Behold I have given unto you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree on which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for food.

Genesis 1:30

And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the heaven, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, [I have given] every green herb for food: and it was so.

Genesis 1:31

And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good. And it was evening and it was morning, the sixth day.

Genesis 2:1

Thus were finished the heavens and the earth, and all their host.

Genesis 2:2

And God had finished on the seventh day his work which he had made, and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.

Genesis 2:3

And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it; because thereon he had rested from all his work which God had created in making it.

Genesis 2:4

These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, on the day that the Lord God made earth and heaven.

Genesis 2:5

And every plant of the field was not yet on the earth, and every herb of the field had not yet grown; for the Lord God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and man was not yet there to till the ground.

Genesis 2:6

But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

Genesis 2:7

And the Lord God formed the man of dust from the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and the man became a living being.

Genesis 2:8

And the Lord God planted a garden in Eden to the eastward, and he put there the man whom he had formed.

Genesis 2:9

And the Lord God caused to grow out of the ground every tree that is pleasant to the sight and good for food; and the tree of life in the midst of the garden, and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil.

Genesis 2:10

And a river went out of Eden to water the garden, and from there it was parted, and became four principal streams.

Genesis 2:11

The name of the first is Pishon, the same which compasseth the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold.

Genesis 2:12

And the gold of that land is good; there is the bdellium and the onyx stone.

Genesis 2:13

And the name of the second river is Gihon, the same which compasseth the whole land of Cush.

Genesis 2:14

And the name of the third river is Hiddekel, the same which floweth towards the east of Assyria; and the fourth river is the Euphrates.

Genesis 2:15

And the Lord God took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, to till it, and to keep it.

Genesis 2:16

And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat;

Genesis 2:17

But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it; for on the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

Genesis 2:18

And the Lord God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him a help suitable for him.

Genesis 2:19

And the Lord God had formed out of the ground every beast of the field, and every fowl of the heaven, and he brought them unto the man to see what he would call them; and whatsoever the man would call every living creature, that should be its name.

Genesis 2:20

And the man gave names to all cattle, and to the fowl of the heaven, and to every beast of the field; but for man there was not found a help suitable for him.

Genesis 2:21

And the Lord God caused a deep sleep to fall upon the man, and he slept; and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof.

Genesis 2:22

And the Lord God formed the rib which he had taken from the man into a woman, and brought her unto the man.

Genesis 2:23

And the man said, This time it is bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh; this shall be called Woman, [Ishah,] because out of Man [Ishi] was this one taken.

Genesis 2:24

Therefore doth a man leave his father and his mother, and cleave unto his wife, and they become one flesh.

Genesis 2:25

And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed.

Genesis 3:1

Now the serpent was more subtle than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made; and he said unto the woman, Hath God indeed said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?

Genesis 3:2

And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden;

Genesis 3:3

But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

Genesis 3:4

And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye will surely not die;

Genesis 3:5

For God doth know, that, on the day ye eat thereof, your eyes will be opened, and ye will be as God, knowing good and evil.

Genesis 3:6

And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and the tree was desirable to make one wise, she took of its fruit, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her, and he did eat.

Genesis 3:7

And the eyes of both of them were opened, and they felt that they were naked; and they sewed fig-leaves together, and made themselves aprons.

Genesis 3:8

And they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day; and the man and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God amongst the trees of the garden.

Genesis 3:9

And the Lord God called unto the man, and said unto him, Where art thou?

Genesis 3:10

And he said, Thy voice I heard in the garden; and I was afraid, because I am naked; and I hid myself.

Genesis 3:11

And he said, Who told thee that thou art naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eat?

Genesis 3:12

And the man said, The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat.

Genesis 3:13

And the Lord God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat.

Genesis 3:14

And the Lord God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, be thou cursed above all the cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life:

Genesis 3:15

And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; he shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt wound his heel.

Genesis 3:16

Unto the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy pain and [the suffering of] thy conception; in pain shalt thou bring forth children; and for thy husband shall be thy desire, but he shall rule over thee.

Genesis 3:17

And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it; cursed be the ground for thy sake; in pain shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life.

Genesis 3:18

And thorns and thistles shall it bring forth to thee; and thou shalt eat the herbs of the field.

Genesis 3:19

In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground, for out of it wast thou taken; for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return.

Genesis 3:20

And the man called his wife's name Eve [Chavvah]; because she was the mother of all living [Chay].

Genesis 3:21

And the Lord God made unto Adam and to his wife coats of skins, and clothed them.

Genesis 3:22

And the Lord God said, Behold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil; and now, lest he put forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever—

Genesis 3:23

Therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from which he was taken.

Genesis 3:24

So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden the Cherubim, and the flaming sword which revolveth, to guard the way to the tree of life.

Genesis 4:1

And the man knew Eve his wife: and she conceived, and bore Cain, and said, I have gotten a man from the Lord.

Genesis 4:2

And she bore again, his brother, Abel; and Abel was a keeper of sheep, but Cain was a tiller of the ground.

Genesis 4:3

And it came to pass in process of time, that Cain brought of the fruit of the ground and offering unto the Lord.

Genesis 4:4

And Abel—he also brought of the firstlings of his flock, and of the fattest thereof; and the Lord had respect unto Abel and to his offering;

Genesis 4:5

But unto Cain and to his offering he had no respect; and it was very displeasing to Cain, and his countenance fell.

Genesis 4:6

And the Lord said unto Cain, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance fallen?

Genesis 4:7

If thou doest well, shalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doest not well, sin lieth at the door; and unto thee is its desire, but thou canst rule over it.

Genesis 4:8

And Cain talked with Abel his brother: and it came to pass when they were in the field, that Cain rose up against Abel his brother, and slew him.

Genesis 4:9

And the Lord said unto Cain, Where is Abel thy brother? and he said, I know not; am I my brother's keeper?

Genesis 4:10

And he said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground.

Genesis 4:11

And now be thou cursed from the ground, which hath opened its mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand:

Genesis 4:12

When thou tillest the ground, it shall not henceforth yield its strength unto thee; fugitive and vagabond shalt thou be on the earth.

Genesis 4:13

And Cain said unto the Lord, My punishment is greater than I can bear.

Genesis 4:14

Behold, thou hast driven me out this day from the face of the ground; and from thy face shall I be hid; and if I shall be a fugitive and a vagabond on the earth, it will come to pass, that every one that findeth me will slay me.

Genesis 4:15

And the Lord said unto him, Therefore whosoever slayeth Cain, vengeance shall be taken on him seven-fold. And the Lord set a sign unto Cain, that any one finding him should not kill him.

Genesis 4:16

And Cain went out from the presence of the Lord, and dwelt in the land of Nod, on the east of Eden.

Genesis 4:17

And Cain knew his wife, and she conceived, and bore Enoch; and he built a city, and called the name of the city after the name of his son Enoch.

Genesis 4:18

And unto Enoch was born Irad; and Irad begat Mechujael: and Mechujael begat Methushael; and Methushael begat Lemech.

Genesis 4:19

And Lemech took unto himself two wives, the name of one was Adah, and the name of the other Zillah.

Genesis 4:20

And Adah bore Jabal; he was the father of such as dwell in tents, and have cattle.

Genesis 4:21

And his brother's name was Jubal; he was the father of all such as play on the harp and guitar.

Genesis 4:22

And Zillah, she also bore Tubal-cain, an artificer in every article of copper and iron; and the sister of Tubal-cain was Naamah.

Genesis 4:23

And Lemech said unto his wives, Adah and Zillah, hear my voice; ye wives of Lemech, hearken unto my speech; for I have slain a man to my own wounding, and a young-man to my hurt.

Genesis 4:24

If Cain shall be avenged seven-fold, truly Lemech seventy and seven-fold.

Genesis 4:25

And Adam knew his wife again, and she bore a son, and called his name Sheth [Seth]; for God [said she] hath appointed me another seed instead of Abel, whom Cain slew.

Genesis 4:26

And to Sheth, to him also there was born a son; and he called his name Enosh: then began men to call upon the name of the Lord.

Genesis 5:1

Genesis 6:14

Make thee an ark of gopher-wood, rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch.

Genesis 8:2

The fountains also of the deep, and the windows of heaven were stopped; and the rain from heaven was restrained.

Genesis 8:3

And the waters returned from off the earth, gradually returning; and the waters were abated after the end of the hundred and fifty days.

Genesis 8:4

And the ark rested in the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, upon the mountains of Ararat.

Genesis 8:5

And the waters decreased continually until the tenth month; in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, were the tops of the mountains seen;

Genesis 8:6

And it came to pass at the end of forty days, that Noah opened the window of the ark which he had made;

Genesis 8:7

And he sent forth a raven which went forth to and fro, until the waters were dried up from off the earth.

Genesis 8:8

He then sent forth a dove from him, to see if the waters were abated from off the face of the ground.

Genesis 8:9

But the dove found no resting-place for the sole of her foot, and she returned unto him unto the ark; for there was water on the face of the whole earth; then he put forth his hand, and took her, and brought her into the ark.

Genesis 8:10

And he stayed yet another seven days, and again he sent forth the dove out of the ark.

Genesis 8:11

And the dove came in to him at the time of the evening; and, lo, an olive-leaf plucked off was in her mouth; so Noah knew that the waters were abated from off the earth.

Genesis 8:12

And he stayed yet other seven days, and sent forth the dove; but she returned not again unto him any more.

Genesis 8:13

And it came to pass in the six hundredth and first year, in the first month, on the first day of the month, that the waters were dried up from off the earth; and Noah removed the covering of the ark, and looked, and, behold, the face of the ground was dry.

Genesis 8:14

And in the second month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month, was the earth perfectly dried up.

Genesis 8:15

And God spoke unto Noah, saying,

Genesis 8:16

Go forth from the ark, thou, and thy wife, and thy sons, and thy sons' wives with thee.

Genesis 8:17

Every living thing that is with thee, of all flesh, both of fowl, and of cattle, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth, bring forth with thee; that they may breed abundantly on the earth, and be fruitful, and multiply upon the earth.

Genesis 8:18

And Noah went forth, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him.

Genesis 8:19

Every beast, every creeping thing, and every fowl, whatsoever creepeth upon the earth, after their families, went forth out of the ark.

Genesis 8:20

And Noah built an altar unto the Lord, and he took of every clean cattle, and of every clean fowl, and offered burnt-offerings on the altar.

Genesis 8:21

And the Lord smelled the sweet savour; and the Lord said in his heart, I will not again curse the ground any more for the sake of man; although the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth: neither will I again smite any more every thing living, as I have done.

Genesis 8:22

All the while the earth remaineth, seed-time and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night, shall not cease.

Genesis 9:1

And God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

Genesis 9:2

And the fear of you, and the dread of you, shall be upon every beast of the earth, and upon every fowl of the heaven; whatever is that moveth upon the earth, and all the fishes of the sea, are delivered into your hand.

Genesis 9:3

Every moving thing that liveth shall be yours for food; even as the green herbs have I given you all things.

Genesis 9:4

But flesh in which its life is, which is its blood, shall ye not eat.

Genesis 9:5

Your blood, however, on which your lives depend, will I require: at the hand of every beast will I require it; and at the hand of man, at the hand of every man's brother will I require the life of man.

Genesis 9:6

Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed; for in the image of God made he man.

And you, be ye fruitful, and multiply; bring forth abundantly on the earth, and multiply thereon.

Genesis 9:10

And with every living creature that is with you, of the fowl, of the cattle, and of every beast of the earth with you, from all those that go out of the ark, for every beast of the earth.

Genesis 9:11

And I will establish my covenant with you; and all flesh shall not be cut off any more by the waters of a flood; neither shall there be any more a flood to destroy the earth.

Genesis 9:12

And God said, This is the token of the covenant which I make between me and you, and every living creature that is with you, for perpetual generations.

Genesis 9:13

My bow I do set in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of the covenant between me and the earth.

Genesis 9:14

And it shall come to pass, that, when I bring a cloud over the earth, and the bow shall be seen in the cloud,

Genesis 9:15

I will remember my covenant, which is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh; and the waters shall no more become a flood to destroy all flesh.

Genesis 9:16

And the bow shall be in the cloud; and I will look upon it, that I may remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature, of all flesh, that is upon the earth.

Genesis 9:17

And God said unto Noah, This is the token of the covenant which I have established between me and all flesh that is upon the earth.

May God enlarge the boundaries of Japheth, and may he dwell in the tents of Shem; and Canaan shall be a servant unto them.

Genesis 9:28

And Noah lived after the flood three hundred and fifty years.

Genesis 9:29

And all the days of Noah were nine hundred and fifty years; and he died.

Genesis 10:1

Now these are the generations of the sons of Noah: Shem, Ham, and Japheth; and unto them were sons born after the flood.

He was a mighty hunter before the Lord: wherefore it is said, Even as Nimrod, a mighty hunter before the Lord.

And the beginning of his kingdom was Babel, and Erech, and Accad, and Calneh, in the land of Shinar.

And Ressen between Nineveh and Calach: the same is the great city.

Genesis 10:13

And Mizrayim begat the Ludim, and Anamim, and Lehabim, and Naphtuchim.

And the Arvadite, and the Zemarite, and the Hamathite; and afterward were the families of the Canaanites spread abroad.

Genesis 10:19

And the border of the Canaanites was from Sidon, as thou comest to Gerar, unto Gazzah; as thou goest unto Sodom and Gomorrah, and Admah, and Zeboyim, even unto Lesha.

Genesis 10:20

These are the sons of Ham, after their families, after their tongues, in their countries, in their nations.

And Arpachshad begat Shelach; and Shelach begat Eber.

And Joktan begat Almodad, and Sheleph, and Hazarmaveth, and Jerach,

Genesis 10:27

And Hadoram, and Uzal, and Diklah,

Genesis 11:3

And they said to one another, Go to, let us make bricks, and burn them thoroughly. And thus the brick served them for stone, and slime served them for mortar.

Genesis 11:4

And they said, Go to, let us build ourselves a city, and a tower, the top of which may reach unto heaven; and let us make ourselves a name, lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole earth.

Genesis 11:5

And the Lord came down to see the city and the tower, which the children of man were building.

Genesis 11:6

And the Lord said, Behold, it is one people, and they have all one language, and this is the first thing they undertake to do; and now shall they not be restrained in all which they have imagined to do?

Genesis 11:7

Go to, let us go down, and confound there their language, that they may not understand one another's speech.

Genesis 11:8

So the Lord scattered them abroad from there over the face of all the earth; and they left off to build the city.

Genesis 11:9

Therefore is the name of it called Babel, because the Lord did there confound the language of all the earth; and from there did the Lord scatter them abroad over the face of all the earth.

Genesis 11:10

These are the generations of Shem: Shem, when a hundred years old, begat Arpachshad, two years after the flood.

Genesis 11:11

And Shem lived after he had begotten Arpachshad five hundred years; and begat sons and daughters.

Genesis 11:26

And Terach lived seventy years, and begat Abram, Nachor, and Haran.

Genesis 11:27

Now these are the generations of Terach: Terach begat Abram, Nachor, and Haran; and Haran begat Lot.

Genesis 11:28

And Haran died before his father Terach in the land of his nativity, in Ur of the Chaldees.

Genesis 11:29

And Abram and Nachor took themselves wives; the name of Abram's wife was Sarai; and the name of Nachor's wife was Milcah, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah, and the father of Yiscah.

Genesis 11:30

But Sarai was barren; she had no child.

Genesis 11:31

And Terach took Abram his son, and Lot, the son of Haran, his son's son, and Sarai his daughter-in-law, the wife of his son Abram; and they went forth with them from Ur of the Chaldees, to go into the land of Canaan; and they came unto Charan, and dwelt there.

Genesis 11:32

And the days of Terach were two hundred and five years; and Terach died in Charan.

Genesis 12:1

Now the Lord had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and out of thy birthplace, and from thy father's house, unto the land that I will show thee.

Genesis 12:2

And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing:

Genesis 12:3

And I will bless those that bless thee, and him that curseth thee, will I curse; and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed.

Genesis 12:4

So Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken unto him, and Lot went with him; and Abram was seventy and five years old at his departure out of Charan.

Genesis 12:5

And Abram took Sarai his wife, and Lot his brother's son, and all their substance that they had acquired, and the persons that they had obtained in Charan; and they went forth to go into the land of Canaan; and they came into the land of Canaan.

And Abram journeyed farther, still going on toward the south.

Genesis 12:10

And there arose a famine in the land: and Abram went down into Egypt to sojourn there; for the famine was grievous in the land.

Genesis 12:11

And it came to pass, when he was come near to enter into Egypt, that he said unto Sarai his wife, Behold now, I know that thou art a woman of handsome appearance:

Genesis 12:12

And it may come to pass, when the Egyptians shall see thee, that they will say, This is his wife; and they may kill me, but thee they will save alive.

Genesis 12:13

Say then, I pray thee, thou art my sister, that it may go well with me for thy sake, and my soul live because of thee.

Genesis 12:14

And Abram said unto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee and between my herdmen and thy herdmen; for we are near relatives.

Genesis 13:10

And Lot lifted up his eyes, and beheld all the plain of Jordan, that it was well watered everywhere; before the Lord destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, [it was] like the garden of the Lord, like the land of Egypt, till thou comest unto Zoar.

Genesis 17:15

And God said unto Abraham, As for Sarai thy wife, thou shalt not call her name Sarai, but Sarah shall her name be.

Genesis 17:16

And I will bless her, and give thee also a son of her; yea I will bless her, and she shall become a mother of nations; kings of people shall spring from her.

Genesis 17:17

Then Abraham fell upon his face, and laughed; and he said in his heart, Shall a child be born unto him that is a hundred years old? and shall Sarah, who is ninety years old, bear?

Genesis 17:18

And Abraham said unto God, O that Ishmael might live before thee!

Genesis 17:19

And God said, Truly, Sarah thy wife shall bear thee a son; and thou shalt call his name Isaac; and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, for his seed after him.

Genesis 17:20

And as for Ishmael, I have heard thee: behold, I have blessed him, and will make him fruitful, and will multiply him exceedingly; twelve princes shall he beget, and I will make of him a great nation.

Genesis 17:21

But my covenant will I establish with Isaac, whom Sarah shall bear unto thee at this set time in the next year.

Genesis 17:22

And when he had left off talking with him, God went up from Abraham.

Genesis 17:23

And Abraham now took Ishmael his son, and all that were born in his house, and all that were bought with his money, every male among the men of Abraham's house; and he circumcised the flesh of their foreskin on the selfsame day, as God had spoken unto him.

Genesis 17:24

And Abraham was ninety and nine years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.

Genesis 17:25

And Ishmael his son, was thirteen years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.

Genesis 17:26

On the self-same day was Abraham circumcised, with Ishmael his son.

Genesis 17:27

And all the men of his house, born in the house, and bought with money of the stranger, were circumcised with him.

Genesis 18:1

And the Lord appeared unto him in the grove of Mamre; while he was sitting at the door of the tent in the heat of the day.

Genesis 18:2

And he lifted up his eyes and looked, and lo, three men stood near him; and when he saw them, he ran to meet them from the door of the tent, and bowed himself to the ground;

Genesis 18:3

And he said, My Lord, if now I have found favor in thy eyes, pass not away, I pray thee, from thy servant.

Genesis 18:4

Let a little water, I pray you, be fetched, and wash your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree.

Genesis 18:5

And I will fetch a morsel of bread, and comfort ye your heart, after that ye may pass on; since ye have once passed by your servant. And they said, So do, as thou hast spoken.

Genesis 18:6

And Abraham hastened into the tent unto Sarah, and said, Make ready quickly three measures of fine meal, knead it, and make cakes.

Genesis 18:7

And Abraham ran unto the herd, and fetched a calf tender and good, and gave it unto a young man, and he hastened to dress it.

Genesis 18:8

And he took cream and milk, and the calf which he had dressed, and set it before them; and he stood by them under the tree, and they did eat.

Genesis 18:9

And they said unto him, Where is Sarah thy wife! And he said, Behold, in the tent.

Genesis 18:10

And he said, I will certainly return unto thee at this time next year: and lo, Sarah thy wife shall have a son. And Sarah heard it at the door of the tent, which was behind him.

Genesis 18:11

Now Abraham and Sarah were old and well stricken in years; it had ceased to be with Sarah after the manner of women.

Genesis 18:12

Therefore Sarah laughed within herself, saying, After I am waxed old shall I have pleasure, my lord also being old!

Genesis 18:13

And the Lord said unto Abraham, Wherefore did Sarah laugh, saying, Shall I of a surety bear a child, since I am old?

Genesis 18:14

Is anything too hard for the Lord? At the time appointed I will return unto thee, at this time next year, and Sarah shall have a son.

Genesis 18:15

Then Sarah denied, saying, I laughed not; for she was afraid; but he said, Nay; indeed thou didst laugh.

Genesis 18:16

And the men rose up from there and looked toward Sodom; and Abraham went with them to bring them on the way.

Genesis 18:17

And the Lord said, Shall I hide from Abraham what I am about doing?

Genesis 18:18

Seeing that Abraham shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him?

Genesis 18:19

For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, that they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do righteousness and justice; in order that the Lord may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken concerning him.

Genesis 18:20

And the Lord said, Because the cry against Sodom and Gomorrah is great, and because their sin is very grievous:

Genesis 18:21

I will go down now, and see if they have done according to the cry against them, which is come unto me, destruction [shall come upon them]; and if not, I will know it.

Genesis 18:22

And the men turned their faces from there, and went toward Sodom; but Abraham stood yet before the Lord.

Genesis 18:23

And Abraham drew near, and said, Wilt thou then destroy the righteous also with the wicked?

Genesis 18:24

Peradventure there are fifty righteous within the city; wilt thou then also destroy and not spare the place for the sake of the fifty righteous that are therein?

Genesis 18:25

Far be it from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked, and that the righteous should be as the wicked; far be this from thee; shall the Judge of all the earth not exercise justice?

Genesis 18:26

And the Lord said, If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then will I spare all of the place for their sake.

Genesis 18:27

And Abraham answered and said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord, although I am but dust and ashes:

Genesis 18:28

Peradventure there will lack five of the fifty righteous; wilt thou then destroy all the city for the [lack of] these five? And he said, I will not destroy, if I find there forty and five.

Genesis 18:29

And he spoke yet again unto him, and said, Peradventure there will be found there forty. And he said, I will not do it for the sake of the forty.

Genesis 18:30

And he said, Oh, let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak: Peradventure there will be found there thirty. And he said, I will not do it, if I find there thirty.

Genesis 18:31

And he said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord: Peradventure there will be found there twenty. And he said, I will not destroy for the sake of the twenty.

Genesis 18:32

And he said, Oh, let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once: Peradventure there will be found there ten. And he said, I will not destroy, for the sake of the ten.

Genesis 18:33

And the Lord went away, when he had finished speaking with Abraham; and Abraham returned unto his place.

Genesis 19:1

And the two angels came to Sodom in the evening, and Lot was sitting in the gate of Sodom; and when Lot saw them he rose up to meet them, and he bowed himself with his face to the ground.

Genesis 19:2

And he said, Behold now, my lords, turn in, I pray you, into your servant's house, and tarry all night, and wash your feet, and ye can rise up early, and go on your way. And they said, Nay; but we will abide in the street all night.

Genesis 19:3

And he pressed upon them greatly, and they turned in unto him, and entered into his house; and he made them a feast, and baked unleavened bread, and they did eat.

Genesis 19:4

But before they had lain down, the men of the city, even the men of Sodom, compassed the house round, both old and young, all the people from every quarter:

Genesis 19:5

And they called unto Lot, and said unto him, Where are the men who came in to thee this night? bring them out unto us, that we may know them.

Genesis 19:6

And Lot went out unto them, at the entrance [of the house], and shut the door after him.

Genesis 19:7

And he said, I pray you, my brethren, do not act wickedly.

Genesis 19:8

Behold now, I have two daughters who have not known man; let me, I pray you, bring them out unto you, and do ye to them as is good in your eyes, only unto these men do nothing, since they have once come under the shadow of my roof.

Genesis 19:9

And they said, Stand back. And they said, This one man came in to sojourn, and he will needs be a judge; now will we deal worse with thee than with them. And they pressed sorely upon the man Lot, and they came near to break the door.

Genesis 19:10

But the men put forth their hand, and pulled Lot to them into the house, and the door they locked.

Genesis 19:11

And the men that were at the entrance of the house they smote with blindness, both small and great, so that they wearied themselves to find the entrance.

Genesis 19:12

And the men said unto Lot, Hast thou here any besides? a son-in-law, and thy sons, and thy daughters, and whatsoever thou hast in the city, bring out of this place.

Genesis 19:13

For we will destroy this place, because the cry against them is waxed great before the face of the Lord; and the Lord hath sent us to destroy it.

Genesis 19:14

And Lot went out and spoke unto his sons-in-law, who were to marry his daughters, and said, Arise, get yourselves out of this place, for the Lord will destroy this city; but he seemed as one that jesteth in the eyes of his sons-in-law.

Genesis 19:15

And as the morning dawn arose, the angels urged Lot, saying, Arise, take thy wife, and thy two daughters that are here, lest thou be consumed for the iniquity of the city.

Genesis 19:16

And while he yet lingered, the men laid hold of his hand, and of the hand of his wife, and of the hand of his two daughters, because the Lord desired to spare him; and they brought him forth, and set him without the city.

Genesis 19:17

And it came to pass, when they had brought them forth abroad, that he said, Escape for thy life, look not behind thee, neither stay thou in all the plain; escape to the mountain, lest thou be consumed.

Genesis 19:18

And Lot said unto them, Oh, not so, my lord!

Genesis 19:19

Behold now, thy servant hath found grace in thy eyes, and thou hast magnified thy kindness, which thou hast showed unto me in saving my life; and I cannot escape to the mountain, lest the evil overtake me, and I die.

Genesis 19:20

Behold now, this city is near to flee thereunto, and it is little; oh, let me, I pray thee, escape thither, [as it is but little,] that my life may be saved.

Genesis 19:21

And he said unto him, See, I have favored thee concerning this thing also, that I will not overthrow this city, of which thou hast spoken.

Genesis 19:22

Haste thee, escape thither; for I cannot do any thing till thou hast come thither. Therefore was the name of the city called Zoar.

Genesis 19:23

The sun rose over the earth, when Lot entered into Zoar.

Genesis 19:24

And the Lord rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire, from the Lord, out of heaven;

But his wife looked back from behind him, and she became a pillar of salt.

And Abraham got up early in the morning to the place where he had stood before the Lord:

Genesis 19:30

And Lot went up out of Zoar, and dwelt in the mountain, and his two daughters with him, for he feared to dwell in Zoar; and he dwelt in a cave, he, and his two daughters.

Genesis 19:31

And the first-born said unto the younger, Our father is old, and there is not a man in the country to come in unto us after the manner of all the earth:

Genesis 19:32

Come, let us make our father drink wine, and we will lie with him, that we may preserve seed of our father.

Genesis 19:33

And they made their father drink wine that night; and the first-born went in, and lay with her father, and he perceived not when she lay down, nor when she arose.

Genesis 19:34

And it came to pass on the morrow, that the first-born said unto the younger, Behold, I lay yesternight with my father; let us make him drink wine this night also, and go thou in, and lie with him, that we may preserve seed of our father.

And Abraham said of Sarah his wife, She is my sister; and Abimelech the king of Gerar sent and took Sarah.

Genesis 20:3

But God came to Abimelech in a dream by night, and said to him, Behold, thou shalt die for the sake of the woman whom thou hast taken; for she is a man's wife.

Genesis 20:4

But Abimelech had not come near to her; and he said, Lord, wilt thou then slay also a righteous nation?

Genesis 20:5

Said he not unto me, She is my sister? and she, even she herself, said, He is my brother; in the integrity of my heart and the innocency of my hands have I done this.

Genesis 20:6

And God said unto him in the dream, Yea, I also well know that thou hast done this in the integrity of thy heart; therefore did I also withhold thee from sinning against me; for this cause I suffered thee not to touch her.

Genesis 20:7

And now restore the man's wife, for he is a prophet, and he will pray for thee, that thou mayest live; and if thou restore her not, know thou, that thou shalt surely die, thou and all that are thine.

Genesis 20:8

And Abimelech rose early in the morning, and called all his servants, and told all these things in their hearing; and the men were greatly afraid.

And the water was spent from the bottle, and she cast the child under one of the shrubs.

Genesis 21:17

And God heard the voice of the lad; and an angel of God called to Hagar out of heaven, and said unto her, What aileth thee, Hagar? Fear not; for God hath heard the voice of the lad, there where he is.

The Lord, the God of heaven, who took me from my father's house, and from the land of my birth, and who spoke unto me, and who swore unto me, saying, Unto thy seed will I give this land: he will send his angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife unto my son from there.

Genesis 24:8

But if the woman should not be willing to follow thee, then shalt, thou be clear from this my oath: only my son thou shalt not bring thither again.

Genesis 24:9

And he put his hand under the thigh of Abraham his master, and swore to him concerning this matter.

Genesis 24:10

And the servant took ten camels of the camels of his master, and departed, with all kinds of precious things of his master in his hand; and he arose, and went to Mesopotamia, unto the city of Nachor.

Genesis 24:11

And he made the camels to kneel down without the city by a well of water at the time of the evening, at the time that the women go out to draw water.

Genesis 24:12

And he said, O Lord, the God of my master Abraham, I pray thee, send me good speed this day, and deal kindly with my master Abraham.

Genesis 24:13

Behold, I stand by the well of water: and the daughters of the men of the city come out to draw water.

Genesis 24:14

And let it come to pass that the maiden to whom I shall say, Let down thy pitcher, I pray thee, that I may drink; and she shall say, Drink, and to thy camels also will I give drink, be the one thou hast appointed for thy servant Isaac; and thereby shall I know that thou hast shown kindness unto my master.

Genesis 24:15

And it came to pass, before he had yet finished speaking, that, behold, Rebekah came out, who was born to Bethuel, the son of Milcah, the wife of Nachor, Abraham's brother, with her pitcher upon her shoulder.

Genesis 24:16

And the maiden was of a very handsome appearance, a virgin, neither had any man known her; and she went down to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came up.

Genesis 24:17

And the servant ran to meet her, and said, Let me, I pray thee, drink a little water out of thy pitcher.

Genesis 24:18

And she said, Drink, my lord; and she hastened, and let down her pitcher upon her hand, and gave him to drink.

Genesis 24:19

And when she had finished giving him drink, she said, Also for thy camels will I draw water, until they have finished drinking.

Genesis 24:20

And she hastened, and emptied her pitcher into the trough, and ran again unto the well to draw water, and drew for all his camels.

Genesis 24:21

And the man was wondering at her; remaining silent, to discover whether the Lord had made his journey prosperous or not.

Genesis 24:22

And it came to pass, as the camels had finished drinking, that the man took a golden earring, half a shekel in weight, and two bracelets for her hands, ten gold shekels in weight;

Genesis 24:23

And he said, Whose daughter art thou? tell me, I pray thee; is there room in thy father's house for us to stay this night in?

Genesis 24:24

And she said unto him, I am the daughter of Bethuel the son of Milcah, whom she bore unto Nachor.

Genesis 24:25

She said moreover unto him, We have both straw and provender in plenty, as also room to lodge in.

Genesis 24:26

And the man bowed down his head, and prostrated himself before the Lord.

Genesis 24:27

And he said, Blessed be the Lord, the God of my master Abraham, who hath not withdrawn his mercy and his truth from my master; I being on the way, which the Lord hath led me, to the house of the brethren of my master.

Genesis 24:28

And the maiden ran, and told at her mother's house these things.

Genesis 24:29

And Rebekah had a brother, and his name was Laban; and Laban ran out unto the man, unto the well.

Genesis 24:30

And this came to pass, when he saw the earring and the bracelets upon his sister's hands, and when he heard the words of Rebekah his sister, saying, Thus spoke the man unto me; and he came unto the man; and, behold, he was standing by the camels at the well.

Genesis 24:31

And he said, Come in, thou blessed of the Lord; wherefore standest thou without? while I have prepared the house and room for the camels.

Genesis 24:32

And the man came into the house, and he ungirded the camels; and he gave straw and provender for the camels, and water to wash his feet, and the feet of the men that were with him.

Genesis 24:33

And there was set food before him to eat; but he said, I will not eat, until I have spoken my words. And he said, Speak on.

Genesis 24:34

And he said, I am Abraham's servant.

But thou shalt go unto my father's house, and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son.

Genesis 24:39

And I said unto my master, Peradventure the woman will not follow me.

Genesis 24:40

And he said unto me, The Lord, before whom I have walked will send his angel with thee, and prosper thy way; that thou mayest take a wife for my son from my kindred, and from my father's house.

Genesis 24:41

Then shalt thou be clear from my oath, when thou comest to my kindred; and if they do not give thee one, [then] shalt thou be clear from my oath.

Genesis 24:42

And I came this day unto the well, and said, O Lord, the God of my master Abraham, if thou wouldst but prosper my way on which I am going.

Genesis 24:43

Behold, I stand by the well of water; and it shall be the young woman who cometh forth to draw water, and I say to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water out of thy pitcher to drink;

Genesis 24:44

And she say to me, Both drink thou, and also for thy camels will I draw: this shall be the wife whom the Lord hath destined for my master's son.

Genesis 24:45

And before I had yet finished speaking to my own heart, behold, Rebekah came forth with her pitcher on her shoulder; and she went down unto the well, and drew water; and I said unto her, Let me drink, I pray thee.

Genesis 24:46

And she made haste, and let down her pitcher from her shoulder, and said, Drink, and also to thy camels I will give drink; and I drank, and she made the camels drink also.

Genesis 24:47

And I asked her, and said, Whose daughter art thou? And she said, The daughter of Bethuel, Nachor's son, whom Milcah bore unto him: and I put the earring upon her face, and the bracelets upon her hands.

Genesis 24:48

And I bowed down my head, and prostrated myself before the Lord; and I blessed the Lord, the God of my master Abraham, who had led me in the right way to take the daughter of my master's brother for his son.

Genesis 24:49

And now if ye will deal kindly and truly with my master, tell me: and if not, tell me, that I may turn to the right, or to the left.

Genesis 24:50

Then Laban and Bethuel answered and said, The thing hath proceeded from the Lord; we cannot speak unto thee bad or good.

Genesis 24:51

Behold, Rebekah is before thee, take her, and go, and let her be the wife of thy master's son, as the Lord hath spoken.

Genesis 24:52

And it came to pass, when Abraham's servant heard their words, that he prostrated himself to the earth unto the Lord.

And he said unto them, Hinder me not, seeing the Lord hath prospered my way; send me away that I may go to my master.

Genesis 24:57

And they said, We will call the maiden, and inquire her own decision.

Genesis 24:58

And they called Rebekah, and said unto her, Wilt thou go with this man? And she said, I will go.

Genesis 24:59

And thereupon they sent away Rebekah their sister, and her nurse, and Abraham's servant, and his men.

Genesis 24:60

And they blessed Rebekah, and said unto her, Our sister, be thou the mother of thousands of myriads, and let thy seed possess the gate of those who hate them.

Genesis 24:61

Genesis 25:2

And she bore him Zimran, and Yokshan, and Medan, and Midian, and Yishbak, and Shuach.

Genesis 25:9

And his sons Isaac and Ishmael buried him in the cave of Machpelah, in the field of Ephron the son of Zochar the Hittite, which is before Mamre;

And it came to pass after the death of Abraham, that God blessed Isaac his son; and Isaac dwelt by the well Lachai-roi.

And Mishma, and Dumah, and Massa,

Genesis 25:15

Chadad, and Tema, Yetur, Naphish, and Kedemah.

Genesis 25:16

These are the sons of Ishmael, and these are their names, by their towns, and by their castles; twelve princes according to their nations.

Genesis 25:23

And the Lord said unto her, Two nations are in thy womb, and two manner of people shall be separated from thy bowels; and one people shall be stronger than the other people; and the elder shall serve the younger.

Genesis 25:24

And when her days to be delivered were fulfilled, behold, there were twins in her womb.

Genesis 25:25

And the first came out red, all over like a hairy garment; and they called his name Esau.

Genesis 25:26

And after that came his brother out, his hand holding on to Esau's heel; and his name was called Jacob: and Isaac was sixty years old when she bore them.

Genesis 25:27

And the boys grew up: and Esau was an expert hunter, a man of the field; and Jacob was a plain man, dwelling in tents.

And Jacob said, Sell me this day thy right of first-born.

Genesis 25:32

And Esau said, Behold, I am going to die; and what profit then can the right of first-born be to me?

And Jacob said, Swear to me this day; and he swore unto him, and he sold his right of first-born unto Jacob.

Genesis 26:10

And Abimelech said, What is this thou hast done unto us? How easily might one of the people have lain with thy wife, and thou wouldst have brought guiltiness upon us.

Genesis 26:11

And Abimelech charged all his people, saying, He that toucheth this man or his wife shall surely be put to death.

Genesis 26:12

Then Isaac sowed in that land, and received in the same year a hundred-fold: so the Lord blessed him.

Genesis 26:22

And he removed from there, and dug another well; and for that they strove not: and he called the name of it Rechoboth, and he said, For now the Lord hath made room for us, and we shall increase in the land.

Genesis 26:23

And he went up from there to Beer-sheba.

Genesis 26:24

And the Lord appeared unto him the same night, and said, I am the God of Abraham thy father; fear not, for I am with thee, and I will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for the sake of Abraham my servant.

And they said, We saw clearly that the Lord was with thee; and we said, Let there be now an oath between us and thee; and we will make a covenant with thee;

That thou shalt do us no hurt, as we have not touched thee, and as we have done unto thee nothing but good, and have sent thee away in peace: thou art now one blessed of the Lord.

And he made them a feast, and they ate and drank.

Genesis 26:31

And they rose up betimes in the morning, and they swore one to the other; and Isaac sent them away, and they departed from him in peace.

Genesis 27:3

Now therefore take, I pray thee, thy weapons, thy quiver and thy bow, and go out to the field, and hunt for me some venison;

And now, my son, obey my voice in that which I command thee.

And thou shalt bring it to thy father, that he may eat; for the sake that he may bless thee before his death.

Genesis 27:11

And Jacob said to Rebekah his mother, Behold, Esau my brother is a hairy man, and I am a smooth man:

Genesis 27:12

Peradventure my father will feel me, and I shall then seem to him as a deceiver; and I would bring upon me a curse, and not a blessing.

Genesis 27:13

And his mother said unto him, Upon me be thy curse, my son; only obey my voice, and go fetch them to me.

And thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north and to the south; and in thee and thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.

Fulfill the week of this, and we will give thee this one also, for the service which thou shalt serve with me yet seven other years.

And Jacob came out of the field in the evening, and Leah went out to meet him, and said, Unto me thou must come in; for surely I have obtained thee as a reward with my son's mandrakes. And he lay with her that night.

And he said, What shall I give thee? And Jacob said, Thou shalt not give me the least; if thou wilt do this thing for me, I will again feed and keep thy flock:

Genesis 30:32

I will pass through all thy flock today, removing from there every speckled and spotted lamb, and every brown lamb among the sheep, and whatever is spotted and speckled among the goats; and such shall be after this my reward.

Genesis 30:33

And my righteousness shall testify for me in time to come, when it shall come with my reward before thy face: every one that is not speckled and spotted among the goats, and brown among the sheep, that shall be counted stolen with me.

Genesis 30:34

And Laban said, Well, let it be according to thy word.

Genesis 30:35

And he removed on that day the he-goats that were ring-streaked and spotted, and all the she-goats that were speckled and spotted, every one that had some white on it, and all the brown among the sheep, and gave them into the hand of his sons.

And he put a space of three days' journey between himself and Jacob; and Jacob fed the flocks of Laban that were left.

And Jacob took himself rods of green poplar, and of the hazel and chestnut tree; and peeled thereon white streaks, laying bare the white which was on the rods.

Genesis 30:38

And he set the rods which he had peeled in the gutters in the watering troughs, where the flocks came to drink, just before the flocks, and where they conceived, when they came to drink.

Genesis 30:39

And the flocks conceived before the rods, and brought forth ring–streaked, speckled, and spotted.

Genesis 30:40

And these lambs did Jacob separate, and set the faces of the flocks toward the ring–streaked, and whatever was brown in the flock of Laban; and he put his own flocks by themselves, and put them not with Laban’s cattle.

Genesis 30:41

And it came to pass, whensoever the stronger cattle did conceive, that Jacob laid the rods before the eyes of the cattle in the gutters, that they might conceive among the rods.

Genesis 30:42

But when the cattle were feeble, he put them not in; so the feebler belonged to Laban, and the stronger to Jacob.

Genesis 30:43

And the man increased exceedingly, and he had many flocks, and maid–servants, and men–servants, and camels, and asses.

Genesis 31:1

And he heard the words of Laban’s sons, saying, Jacob hath taken away all that was our father’s, and of that which was our father’s hath he gotten all this wealth.

And ye know well that with all my power I have served your father.

Genesis 31:7

And your father hath deceived me, and changed my wages ten times: but God suffered him not to do me evil.

Genesis 31:8

If he said thus, The speckled shall be thy wages: then bore all the flocks speckled: and if he said thus, The ring-streaked shall be thy reward; then bore all the flocks ring-streaked.

Genesis 31:9

Thus God took away the cattle of your father, and gave them to me.

Genesis 31:10

And it came to pass at the time that the flocks conceived, that I lifted up my eyes, and saw in a dream, and, behold, the rams which leaped upon the flocks were ring-streaked, speckled, and grizzled.

And Rachel and Leah answered and said unto him, Is there yet any portion or inheritance for us in our father's house?

Genesis 31:15

Were we not counted of him as strangers? for he hath sold us; and he hath quite consumed also our money.

Genesis 31:16

For all the riches which God hath taken from our father, that is ours, and our children's; now then, whatsoever God hath said unto thee, do.

Genesis 31:17

Then Jacob rose up, and set his sons and his wives upon camels;

And God came to Laban, the Syrian, in a dream of the night, and said unto him, Take thou heed that thou speak not to Jacob either good or bad.

Then Laban overtook Jacob; now Jacob had pitched his tent on the mount, and Laban with his brethren pitched on the mount of Gilead.

Genesis 31:26

And Laban said to Jacob, What hast thou done, that thou hast stolen away unawares to me, and led away my daughters, as captives taken with the sword.

Genesis 31:27

Wherefore didst thou flee away secretly, and steal away from me; and why didst thou not tell me, that I might have sent thee away with mirth, and with songs, with tabret, and with harp?

Genesis 31:28

And [why] hast thou not suffered me to kiss my sons and my daughters? now thou hast acted foolishly in so doing.

Genesis 31:29

It is in the power of my hand to do you hurt; but the God of your father spoke unto me yesternight, saying, Take thou heed that thou speak not to Jacob either good or bad.

Genesis 31:30

And now, thou wouldst needs be gone, because thou greatly longedst after thy father's house; [yet] wherefore hast thou stolen my gods.

Genesis 31:31

And Jacob answered and said to Laban, Because I was afraid, for I said, Peradventure thou wouldst take by force thy daughters from me.

Genesis 31:32

With whomsoever thou findest thy gods, let him not live; before our brethren seek out thou what is thine with me, and take it to thee; but Jacob knew not that Rachel had stolen them.

Genesis 31:33

And Laban went into the tent of Jacob, and into the tent of Leah, and into the tent of the two maid-servants; but he found nothing; he then went out of the tent of Leah, and entered into Rachel's tent.

Genesis 31:34

Now Rachel had taken the images, and put them in the saddle-cushion of the camel, and sat upon them; and Laban searched all the tent, and found nothing.

Genesis 31:35

And she said to her father, Let it not displease my lord that I cannot rise up before thee; for the custom of women is upon me; and thus he searched, but found not the images.

Genesis 31:36

Now Jacob became wroth, and quarrelled with Laban; and Jacob answered and said to Laban, What is my trespass? what is my sin, that thou hast so hotly pursued after me?

Genesis 31:37

Although thou hast searched all my goods, what hast thou found of all the articles of thy household? set it here before my brethren and thy brethren, that they may judge between us both.

Genesis 31:38

These twenty years have I been with thee: thy ewes and thy she-goats have not cast their young; and the rams of thy flock have I not eaten.

Genesis 31:39

That which was torn of beasts I brought not unto thee; I had to bear the loss of it, of my hand didst thou require it, whatever was stolen by day, or stolen by night.

Genesis 31:40

[Where] I was in the day the heat consumed me, and the frost by night; and my sleep departed from my eyes.

Genesis 31:41

These twenty years have I been in thy house; I have served thee fourteen years for thy two daughters, and six years for thy flocks: and thou hast changed my wages ten times.

Genesis 31:42

Except the God of my father, the God of Abraham, and the Fear of Isaac, had been with me, surely thou hadst now sent me away empty; my affliction and the labor of my hands God hath seen, and decided yesternight.

Genesis 31:43

And Laban answered and said unto Jacob, The daughters are my daughters, and the children are my children, and the flocks are my flocks, and all that thou seest is mine; but as to my daughters, what can I do unto them this day, or unto their children whom they have born?

Genesis 31:44

And now, come thou, let us make a covenant, I and thou; and let it be for a witness between me and thee.

Genesis 31:45

And Jacob took a stone, and set it up for a pillar.

Genesis 31:46

And Jacob said unto his brethren, Gather stones; and they took stones, and made a heap; and they ate there upon the heap.

Genesis 31:47

And Laban called it Yegar-sahadutha; but Jacob called it Galed.

Genesis 31:48

And Laban said, This heap is a witness between me and thee this day; therefore called he its name Galed;

Genesis 31:49

And Mitzpah; for he said, The Lord shall watch between me and thee, when we are absent one from the other;

Genesis 31:50

If thou shouldst afflict my daughters, or if thou shouldst take other wives besides my daughters, when there is no man with us: see, God is witness between me and thee.

Genesis 31:51

And Laban said to Jacob, Behold this heap, and behold this pillar, which I have cast up between me and thee;

Genesis 31:52

Witness be this heap and witness be this pillar, that I will not pass by this heap, and that thou shalt not pass unto me by this heap and this pillar, for evil.

Genesis 31:53

The God of Abraham and the God of Nachor shall judge between us, the God of their father; but Jacob swore by the Fear of his father Isaac.

And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother unto the land of Seir, the country of Edom.

Genesis 32:5

And I have acquired oxen, and asses, flocks, and men-servants, and women-servants; and I send now to tell my lord, to find grace in thy eyes.

Genesis 32:6

And the messengers returned to Jacob, saying, We came to thy brother, to Esau, and also he cometh to meet thee, and four hundred men with him.

Genesis 32:7

Then Jacob was greatly afraid, and he felt distressed; and he divided the people that were with him, and the flocks, and the herds, and the camels, into two bands.

Genesis 32:8

And he said, If Esau should come to the one band and smite it, then the other band which is left may escape.

Genesis 32:9

And Jacob said, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, the Lord who saidst unto me, Return unto thy country, and to thy birthplace, and I will deal well with thee:

Genesis 32:10

I am not worthy of all the kindness, and of all the truth, which thou hast shown unto thy servant; for with my staff I passed over this Jordan; and now I am become two bands.

Genesis 32:11

Deliver me, I pray thee, from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau; for I fear him, lest he will come and smite me, the mother with the children.

Genesis 32:12

And thou saidst, I will surely do thee good, and make thy seed as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbered for multitude.

Genesis 32:13

And he lodged there that same night; and he took of that which he carried with him a present for Esau his brother:

Genesis 32:14

Two hundred she-goats, and twenty he-goats, two hundred ewes, and twenty rams.

Genesis 32:15

Thirty milch camels with their colts, forty cows, and ten bulls, twenty she-asses, and ten foals.

Genesis 32:16

And he delivered them into the hand of his servants, every drove by itself; and he said unto his servants, Pass on before me, and put a space between drove and drove.

Genesis 32:17

And he commanded the foremost, saying, When Esau my brother should meet thee, and ask thee, saying, Whose art thou? and whither art thou going? and for whom are these before thee?

Genesis 32:18

Then shalt thou say, They belong to thy servant, to Jacob; it is a present sent unto my lord, to Esau; and, behold, also, he is himself behind us.

Genesis 32:19

And so he commanded also the second, also the third, as also all that followed the droves, saying, After this manner shall ye speak unto Esau, when ye find him.

Genesis 32:20

And say ye moreover, Behold, also thy servant Jacob is behind us. For he said, I will appease him with the present that goeth before me, and afterward I will see his face; peradventure he will receive me kindly.

Genesis 32:21

The present went thus on before him; and he lodged himself that night in the camp.

Genesis 32:22

And he rose up that night, and he took his two wives, and his two women-servants, and his eleven sons, and passed over the ford of the Yabbok.

Genesis 32:23

And he took them, and sent them over the stream and sent over what he had.

Genesis 32:24

And Jacob was left alone; and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day.

And when he saw that he could not prevail against him, he struck against the hollow of his thigh; and the hollow of Jacob's thigh was put out of joint, as he was wrestling with him.

Genesis 32:26

And he said, Let me go, for the day hath dawned. And he said, I will not let thee go until thou hast blessed me.

Genesis 32:27

And he said unto him, What is thy name? and he said, Jacob.

Genesis 32:28

And he said, Not Jacob shall any more be called thy name, but Israel; for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed.

Genesis 32:29

And Jacob asked him, and said, tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, Wherefore is it that thou dost ask after my name? And he blessed him there.

Genesis 32:30

And Jacob called the name of the place Peniel: for I have seen an angel of God face to face, and my life hath been preserved.

Genesis 32:31

And the sun rose unto him as he passed by Penuel, and he halted upon his thigh.

Then came the handmaids near, they and their children, and they bowed themselves.

Genesis 33:7

And Leah also with her children came near, and they bowed themselves; and after that came Joseph near and Rachel, and they bowed themselves.

And he said, What meanest thou by all this drove which I have met? And he said, To find grace in the eyes of my lord.

Genesis 33:9

And Esau said, I have enough, my brother, keep unto thyself what thou hast.

Genesis 33:10

And Jacob said, This must not be, I pray thee; if I have but found grace in thy eyes, then do thou receive my present at my hand; since I have seen thy face, it is as though I had seen the face of an angel, and because thou hast received me kindly.

Genesis 33:11

Take, I pray thee, my present that is brought to thee; because God hath dealt graciously with me, and because I have a plenty of all. And he urged him, and he took it.

Genesis 33:12

And he said, Let us depart, and move farther, and I will travel near thee.

Genesis 33:13

And he said unto him, My lord knoweth that the children are tender, and the flocks and herds with young are a charge on me: and if they should overdrive them one day, all the flock would die.

Genesis 33:14

Let my lord, I pray thee, pass on before his servant: and I will lead on slowly, according to the cattle that goeth before me and the children may be able to travel, until I come unto my lord unto Seir.

Genesis 33:15

And Esau said, Let me, I pray thee, leave with thee some of the people that are with me. And he said, What needeth it? let me only find grace in the eyes of my lord.

Genesis 33:16

So Esau returned that day on his way unto Seir.

And she spoke unto him according to these words, saying, The Hebrew servant whom thou hast brought unto us, came in unto me to have his sport with me.

Genesis 39:18

And it came to pass, as I lifted up my voice and cried, that he left his garment with me, and fled forth.

Genesis 39:19

And it came to pass, when his master heard the words of his wife, which she spoke unto him, saying, After this manner hath thy servant done to me; that his wrath was kindled.

Genesis 39:20

And Joseph's master took him, and put him into the prison, the place where the king's prisoners were imprisoned: and he was there in the prison.

Genesis 39:21

But the Lord was with Joseph, and caused him to find kindness, and gave him favor in the eyes of the superintendent of the prison.

Genesis 39:22

And the superintendent of the prison committed into Joseph's hand all the prisoners that were in the prison; and whatsoever they did there, was done through him.

Genesis 39:23

The superintendent of the prison looked not after the least that was under his hand, because the Lord was with him; and that which he did, the Lord made to prosper.

Genesis 40:1

And it came to pass after these things, that the butler of the king of Egypt and the baker committed an offense, against their lord the king of Egypt.

Genesis 40:2

And Pharaoh was wroth against his two officers, against the chief of the butlers, and against the chief of the bakers.

Genesis 40:3

And he put them in ward in the house of the captain of the guards, into the prison, the place where Joseph was confined.

Genesis 40:4

And the captain of the guards charged Joseph with them, and he served them; and they continued a season in ward.

Genesis 40:5

And they dreamed a dream, both of them, each his dream in one night, each in accordance with the interpretation of his dream, the butler and the baker of the king of Egypt, who were confined in the prison.

Genesis 40:6

And Joseph came in unto them in the morning, and looked at them, and, behold, they were sad.

Genesis 40:7

And he asked the officers of Pharaoh that were with him in ward in his lord's house, saying, Wherefore look ye so sadly today?

Genesis 40:8

And they said unto him, We have dreamed a dream, and there is none to interpret it. And Joseph said unto them, Do not interpretations belong to God? tell it to me, I pray you.

Genesis 40:9

The chief of the butlers then told his dream to Joseph, and said to him, In my dream, behold, a vine was before me;

Genesis 40:10

And on the vine were three branches; and it was as though it budded, shot forth its blossoms, and on its clusters the grapes became ripe:

Genesis 40:11

And Pharaoh's cup was in my hand; and I took the grapes, and pressed them out into Pharaoh's cup, and I placed the cup into Pharaoh's hand.

Genesis 40:12

And Joseph said unto him, This is its interpretation: The three branches are three days;

Genesis 40:13

Within yet three days will Pharaoh lift up thy head, and restore thee unto thy office; and thou shalt place Pharaoh's cup into his hand, after the former manner when thou wast his butler.

Genesis 40:14

Therefore if thou thinkest on me when it shall be well with thee, then show kindness, I pray thee, unto me, and make mention of me unto Pharaoh, and bring me out of this house;

Genesis 40:15

For indeed I was stolen away out of the land of the Hebrews; and here also have I not done the least that they should put me into the dungeon.

Genesis 40:16

And when the chief of the bakers saw that he had well interpreted, he said unto Joseph, I also [saw] in my dream, and, behold, I had three baskets with fine bread on my head:

Genesis 40:17

And in the uppermost basket there was of all manner of bakemeats, used as food for Pharaoh; and the birds did eat them out of the basket from my head.

Genesis 40:18

And Joseph answered and said, This is the interpretation: The three baskets are three days;

Genesis 40:19

Within yet three days will Pharaoh lift up thy head from off thee, and will hang thee on a tree; and the birds shall eat thy flesh from off thee.

Genesis 40:20

And it came to pass on the third day, which was Pharaoh's birthday, that he made a feast unto all his servants: and he lifted up the head of the chief of the butlers and the head of the chief of the bakers among his servants.

Genesis 40:21

And he restored the chief of the butlers unto his butlership; and he placed the cup in Pharaoh's hand;

Genesis 40:22

But the chief of the bakers he hanged, as Joseph had interpreted to them.

Genesis 40:23

Yet the chief of the butlers did not remember Joseph, and forgot him.

Genesis 41:1

And it came to pass at the end of two full years, that Pharaoh dreamed: and, behold, he stood by the river.

Genesis 41:2

And, behold, there came up out of the river seven cows, of good appearance and fat in flesh; and they fed in the meadow.

Genesis 41:3

And, behold, seven other cows came up after them out of the river, ill-favored and lean in flesh; and they stood by the other cows upon the brink of the river.

Genesis 41:4

And the ill-favored and lean-fleshed cows did eat up the seven well-favored and fat cows. And Pharaoh awoke.

Genesis 41:5

And he slept and dreamed a second time: and, behold, seven ears of corn came up on one stalk, rank and good.

Genesis 41:6

And, behold, seven thin ears and blasted with the east wind sprung up after them.

Genesis 41:7

And the seven thin ears swallowed up the seven rank and full ears. And Pharaoh awoke, and, behold, it was a dream.

Genesis 41:8

And it came to pass in the morning that his spirit was troubled; and he sent and called for all the magicians of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof: and Pharaoh told them his dream; but there was none that could interpret the same unto Pharaoh.

Genesis 41:9

Then spoke the chief of the butlers unto Pharaoh, saying, My faults I must call to remembrance this day:

Genesis 41:10

Pharaoh was wroth with his servants, and put me in ward in the house of the captain of the guards, me and the chief of the bakers;

Genesis 41:11

And we dreamed a dream in one night, I and he; we dreamed each in accordance with the interpretation of his dream.

Genesis 41:12

And there was with us a Hebrew lad, a servant to the captain of the guards; and we told him, and he interpreted to us our dreams; to each according to his dream did he interpret.

Genesis 41:13

And it came to pass, just as he had interpreted to us, so it was; me he restored unto my office, and him he hanged.

Genesis 41:14

Then Pharaoh sent and had Joseph called, and they brought him hastily out of the dungeon: and he shaved himself, and changed his garments, and came in unto Pharaoh.

Genesis 41:15

And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, I have dreamed a dream, and there is none that can interpret it: and I have heard say of thee, that thou canst understand a dream to interpret it.

Genesis 41:16

And Joseph answered Pharaoh, saying, It is not in me; God will give an answer for the peace of Pharaoh.

Genesis 41:17

And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, In my dream, behold, I stood upon the brink of the river;

Genesis 41:18

And, behold, there came up out of the river seven cows, fat in flesh and good in shape; and they fed in the meadow;

Genesis 41:19

And, behold, seven other cows came up after them, poor and very ill-shaped and lean in flesh; I never saw any like these in all the land of Egypt for ugliness;

Genesis 41:20

And the lean and the ill-favored cows did eat up the first seven fat cows;

Genesis 41:21

And when they had eaten them up, it could not be known that they had eaten them; but their appearance was still as bad as at the beginning. And I awoke.

Genesis 41:22

And I saw in my dream, and, behold, seven ears came up on one stalk, full and good;

Genesis 41:23

And, behold, seven ears, withered, thin, blasted with the east wind, sprung up after them;

Genesis 41:24

And the thin ears devoured the seven good ears: and I told this unto the magicians; but there was none that could tell it to me.

Genesis 41:25

And Joseph said unto Pharaoh, the dream of Pharaoh is one, that which God is about to do, he hath told to Pharaoh.

Genesis 41:26

The seven good cows are seven years; and the seven good ears are seven years; the dream is one.

Genesis 41:27

And the seven thin and ill-favored cows that came up after them are seven years; and the seven empty ears, blasted with the east wind, shall be seven years of famine.

Genesis 41:28

This is the thing which I have spoken unto Pharaoh: What God is about to do he hath shown unto Pharaoh.

Genesis 41:29

Behold, there are coming seven years of great plenty throughout all the land of Egypt:

Genesis 41:30

And there shall arise seven years of famine after them, when all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Egypt; and the famine shall consume the land;

Genesis 41:31

And the plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of that famine following it; for it shall be very grievous.

Genesis 41:32

And as it respecteth that the dream was doubled unto Pharaoh twice, it is because the thing is firmly resolved on by God, and God hasteneth to bring it to pass.

Genesis 41:33

Now therefore let Pharaoh look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt.

Genesis 41:34

Let Pharaoh do this, and let him appoint officers over the land, and take up the fifth part [of the produce] of the land of Egypt in the seven years of plenty.

Genesis 41:35

And let them gather up all the food of those good years that are coming, and lay up corn under the hand of Pharaoh, as food in the cities, and keep the same.

Genesis 41:36

And that food shall be for a store to the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt; that the land be not cut off through the famine.

Genesis 41:37

And the thing was good in the eyes of Pharaoh, and in the eyes of all his servants.

Genesis 41:38

And Pharaoh said unto his servants, Can we find such a one as this, a man in whom the spirit of God is?

Genesis 41:39

And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, Inasmuch as God hath caused thee to know all this, there is none so discreet and wise as thou:

Genesis 41:40

Thou shalt be over my house, and according to thy word shall all my people be ruled, only in regard to the throne will I be greater than thou.

Genesis 41:41

And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, See, I have set thee over all the land of Egypt.

Genesis 41:42

And Pharaoh took off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Joseph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a golden chain about his neck;

Genesis 41:43

And he caused him to ride in the second chariot which he had; and they cried before him, Bend the knee: and he placed him [thus] over all the land of Egypt.

Genesis 41:44

And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, I am Pharaoh; but without thee shall no man lift up his hand or his foot in all the land of Egypt.

And Pharaoh called Joseph's name Zaphenath-pa'neach; and he gave him Assenath the daughter of Poti-phaera', the priest of On, for wife. And Joseph went out over all the land of Egypt.

And Joseph was thirty years old when he stood before Pharaoh the king of Egypt; and Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh, and went throughout all the land of Egypt.

Genesis 41:47

And the earth brought forth in the seven years of plenty by handfuls.

Genesis 41:48

And he gathered up all the food of the seven years, which were in the land of Egypt, and laid up the food in the cities: the food of the field of the city, which was round about it, laid he up in the same.

Genesis 41:49

And Joseph heaped up corn as the sand of the sea, very much; until he left off numbering, for it was without number.

Genesis 41:50

And unto Joseph were born two sons before the years of famine came, whom Assenath the daughter of Poti-phaera' the priest of On, bore unto him.

Genesis 41:51

And Joseph called the name of the first-born Menasseh: For God [said he] hath made me forget all my toil, and all my father's house.

Genesis 41:52

And the name of the second he called Ephraim; For God [said he] hath caused me to be fruitful in the land of my affliction.

Genesis 41:53

And the seven years of plenty, that was in the land of Egypt, were ended.

Genesis 41:54

And the seven years of famine began to come, just as Joseph had said; and there was famine in all the countries, but in all the land of Egypt there was bread.

Genesis 41:55

And when all the land of Egypt also felt hunger, the people cried to Pharaoh for bread: and Pharaoh said unto all the Egyptians, Go unto Joseph; what he saith to you, do.

Genesis 41:56

And the famine was over all the face of the earth: and Joseph opened all the store-houses, wherein corn was, and sold unto the Egyptians; for the famine grew strong in the land of Egypt.

And all the countries came into Egypt to buy corn of Joseph; because the famine was sore in all the countries.

And the sons of Israel came to buy corn among those that came; for the famine was in the land of Canaan.

And Joseph recognized his brothers, but they recognized not him.

Genesis 42:9

And Joseph remembered the dreams which he had dreamed concerning them, and he said unto them, Ye are spies; to see the nakedness of the land are ye come.

Genesis 42:10

And they said unto him, No, my lord, thy servants are only come to buy food.

Genesis 42:11

We are all sons of one man; we are true men; thy servants have never been spies.

Genesis 42:12

And he said unto them, No! but to see the nakedness of the land are ye come.

Genesis 42:13

And they said, We, thy servants, are twelve brothers, sons of one man in the land of Canaan; and, behold, the youngest is this day with our father, and one is no more.

Genesis 42:14

And Joseph said unto them, It is as I have spoken unto you, saying, Ye are spies;

Genesis 42:15

Hereby shall ye be proved: By the life of Pharaoh, ye shall not go forth hence, except your youngest brother come hither.

Send one of you, and let him fetch your brother, and ye shall be kept in prison, that your words may be proved, whether the truth be with you; and if not, by the life of Pharaoh, ye are surely spies.

Genesis 42:17

And he put them together into ward three days.

Genesis 42:18

And Joseph said unto them on the third day, This do, and live; I fear God.

Genesis 42:19

If ye be true men, let one of your brothers remain imprisoned in the house of your confinement; but ye, go, carry home what you have bought for the want of your household.

Genesis 42:20

But your youngest brother bring unto me; so shall your words be verified, and ye shall not die. And they did so.

And one of them opened his sack to give his ass provender in the inn: when he espied his money, for, behold, it was in the mouth of his sack.

Genesis 42:29

And they came unto Jacob their father unto the land of Canaan, and they told him all that had befallen them; saying,

Genesis 42:30

The man, the lord of the land, spoke roughly to us, and took us as though we were espying the country.

Genesis 42:31

And we said unto him, We are true men; we have never been spies:

Genesis 42:32

We are twelve brothers, sons of our father; the one is no more, and the youngest is this day with our father in the land of Canaan.

Genesis 42:33

And the man, the lord of the country, said unto us, Hereby shall I know that ye are true men: leave one of your brothers here with me, and [the food for] the want of your households take ye and be gone;

Genesis 42:34

And bring your youngest brother unto me; then shall I know that ye are no spies, but that ye are true men; your brother I will give up to you, and in the land ye shall be allowed to traffic.

Genesis 42:35

And it came to pass as they were emptying their sacks, that, behold, every man's bundle of money was in his sack: and when they saw the bundles of their money, they and their father, they were afraid.

But if thou sendest him not, we will not go down; for the man said unto us, Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you.

Genesis 43:6

And Israel said, Wherefore have ye dealt so ill with me, as to tell the man that ye have yet another brother?

And Judah said unto Israel his father, Send the lad with me, and we will arise and go; that we may live, and not die, both we, and thou, as also our little ones.

Genesis 43:9

I will be surety for him; from my hand shalt thou require him: if I bring him not unto thee, and set him before thee, then shall I have sinned against thee all the days.

Genesis 43:10

For, if we had not lingered, surely we had now returned the second time.

Genesis 43:11

And their father Israel said unto them, If it must be so now, do this: take of the best products of the land in your vessels, and carry down to the man a present, a little balm, and a little honey, spices and lotus, pistachio–nuts and almonds;

Genesis 43:12

And twofold money take in your hand; and the money that was put back in the mouth of your sacks, you must carry back in your hand; peradventure it was an oversight;

Genesis 43:13

Also your brother take along, and arise, go again unto the man.

Genesis 43:14

And may God the Almighty give you mercy before the man, that he may send away to you your other brother, and Benjamin. And I, if I am to be bereaved, let me be bereaved.

Genesis 43:16

And when Joseph saw Benjamin with them, he said to the superintendent of his house, Bring these men into the house, and slay, and make ready; for with me shall these men dine at noon.

Genesis 43:17

And the man did as Joseph had said; and the man brought the men into Joseph's house.

Genesis 43:18

And the men were afraid, because they were brought into Joseph's house: and they said, Because of the money that came back in our sacks at the first time are we brought in; that he may seek occasion against us, and fall upon us, and take us for bondmen, together with our asses.

Genesis 43:19

And they came near to the man who was appointed over Joseph's house, and they spoke with him at the door of the house.

Genesis 43:20

And they said, Pardon, my lord, we came down at the first time to buy food:

Genesis 43:21

And it came to pass, when we came to the inn, that we opened our sacks, and, behold, every man's money was in the mouth of his sack, our money in its full weight; and we have brought it back in our hand.

Genesis 43:22

And other money have we brought down in our hand to buy food; we know not who hath put our money in our sacks.

Genesis 43:23

And he said, Peace be to you, fear not; your God, and the God of your father, hath given you a treasure in your sacks; your money hath come to me. And he brought Simeon out unto them.

Genesis 43:24

And the man brought the men into Joseph's house; and he gave them water, and they washed their feet, and he gave provender to their asses.

Genesis 43:25

And they made ready the present before Joseph came home at noon; for they had heard that they should eat bread there.

Genesis 43:26

And when Joseph came home, they brought him the present which was in their hand into the house, and bowed themselves to him to the earth.

Genesis 43:27

And he asked them after their welfare, and said, Is your old father well, of whom ye spoke? is he yet alive?

Genesis 43:28

And they answered, Thy servant, our father, is in good health, he is yet alive. And they bowed down their heads, and prostrated themselves.

Genesis 43:29

And he lifted up his eyes, and saw his brother Benjamin, his mother's son, and said, Is this your youngest brother, of whom ye spoke unto me? And he said, God be gracious unto thee, my son.

Genesis 43:30

And Joseph hastened away, for his affection toward his brother became enkindled, and he sought to weep; and he entered into his chamber and wept there.

Genesis 43:31

And he washed his face, and came out, and refrained himself, and said, Set on the bread.

Genesis 43:32

And they set on for him by himself, and for them by themselves; and for the Egyptians, who did eat with him, by themselves; because the Egyptians may not eat bread with the Hebrews; for that is an abomination unto the Egyptians.

Genesis 43:33

And they sat before him, the first-born according to his prior birth, and the youngest according to his youth; and the men marveled one at the other.

Genesis 43:34

And he sent portions unto them from before him; but Benjamin's portion exceeded the portions of all of them fivefold. And they drank, and were merry with him.

Genesis 44:1

And he commanded the superintendent of his house, saying, Fill the sacks of these men with food, as much as they can carry, and put every man's money in the mouth of his sack.

Genesis 44:2

And my cup, the silver cup, thou shalt put in the mouth of the sack of the youngest, and the money for his corn. And he did according to the word of Joseph which he had spoken.

Genesis 44:3

As soon as the morning was light, the men were sent away, they and their asses.

Genesis 44:4

They were gone out of the city, not yet far off, when Joseph said unto the superintendent of his house, Up, follow after the men; and when thou hast overtaken them, say unto them, Wherefore have ye returned evil for good?

Genesis 44:5

Is not this out of which my lord drinketh, and whereby indeed he divineth? ye have done evil in so doing.

Genesis 44:6

And he overtook them, and he spoke unto them these same words.

Genesis 44:7

And they said unto him, Wherefore will my lord speak such words as these? God forbid that thy servants should do any thing like this.

Genesis 44:8

Behold the money, which we found in the mouth of our sacks, we brought back unto thee out of the land of Canaan: how then should we steal out of thy lord's house silver or gold?

Genesis 44:9

With whomsoever of thy servants it be found, let him die; and we also will be bondmen unto thy lord.

Genesis 44:10

And he said, Now also let it be according to your words: he with whom it is found shall be my servant; but ye shall be blameless.

Genesis 44:11

And they made haste, and every one of them took down his sack to the ground, and every one opened his sack.

Genesis 44:12

And he searched, at the eldest he began, and at the youngest he left off; and the cup was found in Benjamin's sack.

Genesis 44:13

Then they rent their clothes, and every one loaded his ass, and they returned to the city.

Genesis 44:14

And Judah and his brothers came into Joseph's house, and he was yet there; and they fell down before him on the ground.

Genesis 44:15

And Joseph said unto them, What deed is this that ye have done? knew ye not that such a man as I can certainly divine?

Genesis 44:16

And Judah said, What shall we say unto my lord? what shall we speak? or how shall we justify ourselves? God hath found out the iniquity of thy servants: behold we are servants unto my lord, both we, as also he in whose hand the cup was found.

Genesis 44:17

And he said, God forbid that I should do this: the man in whose hand the cup was found, he shall be my servant; and as for you, go you up in peace unto your father.

Genesis 44:18

Then Judah came near unto him, and said, Pardon, my lord, let thy servant, I pray thee, speak a word in my lord's ears, and let not thy anger burn against thy servant; for thou art even as Pharaoh.

Genesis 44:19

My lord asked his servants, saying, Have ye a father, or a brother.

Genesis 44:20

And we said unto my lord, We have an old father, and a little child born in his old age; and his brother is dead, and he alone is left of his mother, and his father loveth him.

Genesis 44:21

And thou saidst unto thy servants, Bring him down unto me, that I may set my eye upon him.

Genesis 44:22

And we said unto my lord, The lad cannot leave his father; for if he should leave his father, he would die.

Genesis 44:23

And thou saidst unto thy servants, Except your youngest brother come down with you, ye shall not see my face any more.

Genesis 44:24

And it came to pass, when we came up unto thy servant my father, that we told him the words of my lord.

Genesis 44:25

And our father said, Go back and buy us a little food.

Genesis 44:26

And we said, We cannot go down: if our youngest brother be with us, then will we go down; for we cannot see the man's face, except our youngest brother be with us.

Genesis 44:27

And thy servant my father said unto us, Ye know that my wife bore me two sons;

Genesis 44:28

And the one went out from me, and I said, Surely he hath been torn to pieces; and I have not seen him up to this time.

Genesis 44:29

And if ye take this one also from me, and mischief befall him, ye will bring down my gray hairs with sorrow to the grave.

Genesis 44:30

And now, when I come to thy servant my father, and the lad be not with us; seeing that his life is bound up in the lad's life;

Genesis 44:31

It will come to pass, that when he seeth that the lad is not with us, he will die: and thy servants would thus bring down the gray hairs of thy servant our father with sorrow to the grave.

Genesis 44:32

For thy servant became surety for the lad unto my father, saying, If I bring him not unto thee, then shall I have sinned against my father all the days.

Genesis 44:33

Now therefore, I pray thee, let thy servant abide instead of the lad as bond–man to my lord; and let the lad go up with his brothers.

Genesis 44:34

For how shall I go up to my father, and the lad be not with me? I should perhaps be compelled to witness the evil which would come on my father.

And the cony; because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.

Leviticus 11:6

And the hare; because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.

These may ye eat, of all that are in the waters: all that have fins and scales in the waters, in the seas, and in the rivers, them may ye eat.

Leviticus 11:10

But all that have not fins and scales in the seas, and in the rivers, of whatever moveth in the waters, and of any living thing which is in the waters, shall be an abomination unto you:

Leviticus 11:22

These of them may ye eat: The locust after its kind, and the sol'am after its kind, and the chargol after its kind, and the chagab after its kind.

But all flying insects, which have four feet, shall be an abomination unto you;

Leviticus 11:24

Leviticus 11:25

And whosoever beareth aught of their carcass shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the evening.

Leviticus 11:26

Every species of beast, which divideth the hoof and is not cloven-footed nor cheweth the cud, is unclean unto you: every one that toucheth the same shall be unclean.

Leviticus 11:27

And all that walk upon their paws, among all manner of beasts that walk on four feet, are unclean unto you; whosoever toucheth their carcass shall be unclean until the evening.

Leviticus 11:28

And he that beareth their carcass shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the evening: unclean shall they be unto you.

Leviticus 11:29

And these shall be unclean unto you among the creeping things that creep upon the earth: The weasel, and the mouse, and the tortoise after its kind,

Leviticus 11:31

These shall be unclean to you among all that creep: whosoever doth touch them, when they are dead, shall be unclean until the evening.

Leviticus 11:32

And every thing upon which any part of them, when they are dead, doth fall, shall be unclean; whether it be any vessel of wood, or raiment, or skin, or sack, every vessel wherewith any work can be done, must be put into water, and it shall be unclean until the evening, when it shall be clean.

Leviticus 11:33

And every earthen vessel whereinto any part of them falleth, whatsoever is in it shall be unclean; and itself shall ye break.

All kinds of food which may be eaten, on which water cometh, shall be unclean: and all drink that may be drunk, shall be rendered unclean in every vessel.

Leviticus 11:35

And every thing whereupon any part of their carcass falleth, shall be unclean; an oven, or ranges for pots, shall be broken down, they are unclean; and unclean shall they be unto you.

Leviticus 11:44

For I am the Lord your God; ye shall therefore sanctify yourselves, and ye shall be holy; for I am holy: neither shall ye make yourselves unclean with any manner of creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

Leviticus 11:45

For I am the Lord that have brought you up out of the land of Egypt, to be your God; ye shall therefore be holy, for I am holy.

Leviticus 11:47

To distinguish between the unclean and the clean, and between the beast that may be eaten and the beast that may not be eaten.

Leviticus 12:1

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 12:2

Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, If a woman have conceived seed, and born a male child: then shall she be unclean seven days, even as in the days of the separation for her infirmity shall she be unclean.

Leviticus 12:3

And on the eighth day shall the flesh of his foreskin be circumcised.

Leviticus 12:4

And thirty and three days shall she then continue in the blood of her purification; any thing hallowed shall she not touch, and into the sanctuary shall she not come, until the days of her purification be at an end.

Leviticus 12:5

But if she bear a female child, then shall she be unclean two weeks as in her separation; and sixty and six days shall she continue in the blood of the purification.

Leviticus 12:6

And at the completion of the days of her purification, for a son, or for a daughter, she shall bring a sheep of the first year for a burnt-offering, and a young pigeon, or a turtle-dove, for a sin-offering, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest.

Leviticus 12:7

And he shall bring it near before the Lord, and make an atonement for her, and she shall be cleansed from the issue of her blood: this is the law for her that hath given birth to a male or to a female.

Leviticus 12:8

And if her means will not suffice for a lamb, then shall she take two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, the one for a burnt-offering, and the other for a sin-offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for her, and she shall be clean.

Leviticus 13:1

And the Lord spoke unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,

Leviticus 13:2

If a man shall have in the skin of his flesh a swelling, a rising, or a bright spot, and it might become in the skin of his flesh the plague of leprosy: then shall he be brought unto Aaron the priest, or unto one of his sons the priests.

Leviticus 13:3

And if the priest shall see the plague in the skin of the flesh, and the hair in the plague be turned white, and the appearance of the plague be deeper than the skin of his flesh: it is a plague of leprosy; and [so soon as] the priest shall see him, he shall pronounce him unclean.

Leviticus 13:4

But if it be a white bright spot in the skin of his flesh, and its appearance be not deeper than the skin, and the hair be not turned white: then shall the priest shut up the plague seven days.

Leviticus 13:5

And the priest shall see him on the seventh day; and, behold, if the plague have remained unchanged in its appearance, the plague have not spread in the skin: then shall the priest shut him up seven days more.

Leviticus 13:6

And the priest shall see him again on the seventh day; and, behold, if the plague be somewhat pale, and the plague have not spread in the skin: then shall the priest pronounce him clean; it is a rising, and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.

Leviticus 13:7

But if the rising should spread abroad in the skin, after he hath been seen by the priest for his cleansing, he shall be seen again by the priest.

Leviticus 13:8

And if the priest see that, behold, the rising have spread abroad in the skin, then shall the priest pronounce him unclean: it is leprosy.

Leviticus 13:9

If the plague of leprosy happen to be on a man, then shall he be brought unto the priest;

Leviticus 13:10

And the priest shall see, and, behold, if there be a white swelling in the skin, and the hair in it have turned white, or there be a trace of healthy flesh in the swelling:

Leviticus 13:11

It is an inveterate leprosy in the skin of his flesh, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean; he shall not shut him up, for he is unclean.

Leviticus 13:12

And if the leprosy break out abroad in the skin, and the leprosy cover all the skin of [him that hath] the plague from his head even to the feet, so far as the eyes of the priest can see:

Leviticus 13:13

If now the priest should see, that, behold, the leprosy have covered all his flesh, he shall pronounce the plague clean; it is all turned white, he is clean.

Leviticus 13:14

But on the day that healthy flesh appeareth therein, he shall be unclean.

Leviticus 13:15

And the priest shall see the healthy flesh, and pronounce him to be unclean; the healthy flesh is unclean, it is the leprosy.

Leviticus 13:16

Or if the healthy flesh turn again, and be changed unto white, he shall come unto the priest;

Leviticus 13:17

And if the priest see him, and, behold, the plague be turned into white: then shall the priest pronounce the plague clean, he is clean.

Leviticus 13:18

And if there be a person who hath had in his skin an inflammation, and hath been healed,

Leviticus 13:19

And if there be on the place of the inflammation a white swelling, or a white and dark red bright spot, he shall be shown to the priest;

Leviticus 13:20

And if the priest see, and, behold, its appearance be lower than the skin, and the hair thereof have been turned white: then shall the priest pronounce him unclean, it is the plague of leprosy broken out in the inflammation.

Leviticus 13:21

But if the priest see it, and, behold, there be no white hair therein, and if it be not lower than the skin, and it be pale: then shall the priest shut him up seven days.

Leviticus 13:22

And if it now spread abroad in the skin, then shall the priest pronounce him unclean: it is the plague [of leprosy].

Leviticus 13:23

But if the bright spot remain in its place, and spread not, it is a scar of the inflammation; and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

Leviticus 13:24

Or if there be a person in whose skin there is a place burnt by fire, and the mark of the burning become a bright spot, white and dark red, or white;

Leviticus 13:25

And if the priest see it, and, behold, the hair in the bright spot have been turned white, and its appearance be deeper than the skin: it is leprosy, broken out in the fire-wound; and the priest shall pronounce him unclean, it is the plague of leprosy.

Leviticus 13:26

But if the priest see it, and, behold, there be in the bright spot no white hair, and it be not lower than the skin, and it be pale: then shall the priest shut him up seven days.

Leviticus 13:27

And the priest shall see him on the seventh day: if now it have spread abroad in the skin, then shall the priest pronounce him unclean: it is the plague of leprosy.

Leviticus 13:28

And if the bright spot remain in its place, [and] it have not spread abroad in the skin, and it be pale: it is a swelling of the fire-wound; and the priest shall pronounce him clean; for it is a scar of the fire-wound.

Leviticus 13:29

And if there be a man or woman on whom there arise a plague, on the head or on the beard;

Leviticus 13:30

Then shall the priest see the plague; and, behold, if its appearance be deeper than the skin, and there be in it a yellow thin hair: then shall the priest pronounce him unclean, it is a dry scall, it is the leprosy of the head or of the beard.

Leviticus 13:31

And if the priest see the plague of the scall, and, behold, its appearance be not deeper than the skin, and there be no black hair in it: then shall the priest shut up the plague of the scall seven days.

Leviticus 13:32

And the priest shall see the plague on the seventh day; and, behold, if the scall have not spread, and there be in it no yellow hair, and the appearance of the scall be not deeper than the skin:

Leviticus 13:33

Then shall he be shaved, but the scall he shall not shave; and the priest shall shut up the scall seven days more.

Leviticus 13:34

And the priest shall see the scall on the seventh day; and, behold, if the scall have not spread in the skin, and its appearance be not deeper than the skin: then shall the priest pronounce him clean, and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.

Leviticus 13:35

But if the scall should spread abroad in the skin after his being pronounced clean:

Leviticus 13:36

Then shall the priest see him; and, behold, if the scall have spread in the skin, the priest shall not seek for the yellow hair; he is unclean.

Leviticus 13:37

But if the scall have remained stationary in its color, and black hair have grown up therein: the scall is then healed, he is clean; and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

Leviticus 13:38

And if there be a man or a woman having in the skin of their flesh bright spots, white bright spots;

Leviticus 13:39

And if the priest do see, and, behold, there are in the skin of their flesh bright spots, pale and white: it is a freckly eruption grown in the skin; he is clean.

Leviticus 13:40

And if there be a man whose hair of the head fall off, he is a bald head; he is clean.

Leviticus 13:41

And if from the side of his face his hair fall off, he is forehead-bald; he is clean.

Leviticus 13:42

But if there be on the bald head, or the bald forehead, an eruption, white and dark red: it is the leprosy sprung up on his bald head, or his bald forehead.

Leviticus 13:43

And the priest shall see him; and, behold, if the swelling of the eruption be white and dark red on his bald head, or on his bald forehead, like the appearance of the leprosy on the [other parts of the] skin of the flesh:

Leviticus 13:44

He is a leprous man, he is unclean; the priest shall pronounce him unclean; his plague is on his head.

Leviticus 13:45

And the leper on whom the plague is, his clothes shall be rent, and his head shall be bare, and he shall cover himself up to his upper lip, and, Unclean, unclean, shall he call out.

Leviticus 13:46

All the days whereon the plague which rendereth unclean is on him, he shall be unclean; alone shall he dwell; without the camp shall his habitation be.

Leviticus 13:47

And if there be a garment on which there arise a plague of leprosy, whether it be on a woollen garment, or on a linen garment;

Leviticus 13:48

Whether it be on the warp, or on the woof; of linen, or of woollen; whether on a skin, or on any thing made of skin;

Leviticus 13:49

And the plague be dark green or dark red, on the garment, or on the skin, or on the warp, or on the woof, or on any article made of skin: it is the plague of leprosy; and it shall be shown unto the priest.

Leviticus 13:50

And the priest shall see the plague, and shut up the plague seven days.

Leviticus 13:51

And if he see the plague on the seventh day, that the plague have spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in the skin, or in any article that is made of skin: the plague is a corroding leprosy; it is unclean.

Leviticus 13:52

And he shall then burn that garment, whether warp or woof, in woollen or in linen, or any article of skin, whereon the plague is; for it is a corroding leprosy, in fire shall it be burnt.

Leviticus 13:53

And if the priest shall see, and, behold, the plague have not spread on the garment, either on the warp, or on the woof, or on any article of skin:

Leviticus 13:54

Then shall the priest command that they wash the thing whereon the plague is, and he shall shut it up seven days more.

Leviticus 13:55

And if the priest see, after the plague hath been washed, and, behold, the plague have not changed its color, and the plague have not spread: it is unclean, in fire shalt thou burn it; it is a decay on its inside or on its outside.

Leviticus 13:56

And if the priest see, and, behold, the plague have become pale after its having been washed: then shall he tear it out from the garment, or from the skin, or from the warp, or from the woof.

Leviticus 13:57

And if it appear again on the garment, either on the warp, or on the woof, or on any instrument of skin: it is a growing plague; with fire shalt thou burn that whereon the plague is.

Leviticus 13:58

And the garment, either the warp or the woof, or every instrument of skin, which thou shalt wash, and the plague depart therefrom, shall be washed the second time, when it shall be clean.

This is the law of the plague of leprosy on a garment of woollen or linen, either in the warp, or the woof, or any article of skin, to pronounce it clean, or unclean.

Leviticus 14:1

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 14:2

This shall be the law of the leper on the day of his being cleansed: He shall be brought unto the priest.

Leviticus 14:3

And the priest shall go forth to without the camp; and if the priest see, and, behold, the plague of leprosy be healed on the leper:

Leviticus 14:4

Then shall the priest command to take for him that is to be cleansed two healthy, clean birds, and cedar wood, and a string of scarlet yarn, and hyssop.

Leviticus 14:5

And the priest shall command that one of the birds be killed in an earthen vessel over running water.

Leviticus 14:6

As for the living bird, he shall take it, and the cedar wood, and the string of scarlet yarn, and the hyssop, and he shall dip these and the living bird into the blood of the bird that was killed over the running water:

Leviticus 14:7

And he shall sprinkle upon him that is to be cleansed from the leprosy seven times; and when he hath cleansed him, he shall let the living bird fly forth into the open field.

Leviticus 14:8

And he that is to be cleansed shall wash his clothes, and shave off all his hair, and wash himself in water, and he shall be clean, and after that he may come into the camp; but he shall tarry outside of his tent seven days.

Leviticus 14:9

And it shall be on the seventh day, that he shall shave off all his hair, his head, and his beard, and his eyebrows, even all his hair shall he shave off: and he shall wash his clothes, he shall also wash his flesh in water, when he shall be clean.

Leviticus 14:10

And on the eighth day he shall take two sheep without blemish, and one ewe of the first year without blemish, and three-tenth parts of fine flour for a meat-offering, mingled with oil, and one log of oil.

Leviticus 14:11

And the priest who cleanseth shall cause the man that is to be made clean, and these things, to stand before the Lord, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:

Leviticus 14:12

And the priest shall take the one sheep, and offer the same for a trespass-offering, with the log of oil; and he shall make with them a waving before the Lord.

Leviticus 14:13

And he shall slay the sheep on the place where the sin-offering and the burnt-offering are killed, in the holy place; for as the sin-offering so doth the trespass-offering belong to the priest: it is most holy.

Leviticus 14:14

And the priest shall take some of the blood of the trespass-offering; and the priest shall put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot.

Leviticus 14:15

And the priest shall take some of the log of oil, and pour it into the palm of his own left hand.

Leviticus 14:16

And the priest shall dip his finger of the right hand in the oil that is in his left hand, and he shall sprinkle of the oil with his finger seven times before the Lord.

Leviticus 14:17

And of the rest of the oil that is in his hand shall the priest put upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot, upon the blood of the trespass-offering.

Leviticus 14:18

And what is left of the oil that is in the priest's hand, he shall put upon the head of him that is to be cleansed: and the priest shall [thus] make an atonement for him before the Lord.

Leviticus 14:19

And the priest shall prepare the sin-offering, and make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed from his uncleanness; and afterward shall he kill the burnt-offering:

Leviticus 14:20

And the priest shall offer the burnt-offering and the meat-offering upon the altar; and the priest shall [thus] make an atonement for him, and he shall be clean.

Leviticus 14:21

But if he be poor, and his means do not suffice, then shall he take one sheep for a trespass-offering to be waved, to make an atonement for him; and one-tenth part of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat-offering, and a log of oil;

Leviticus 14:22

And two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, for which his means suffice; and one shall be a sin-offering, and the other a burnt-offering.

Leviticus 14:23

And he shall bring them on the eighth day of his being cleansed unto the priest, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, before the Lord.

Leviticus 14:24

And the priest shall take the sheep of the trespass-offering, and the log of oil; and the priest shall make with them a waving before the Lord.

Leviticus 14:25

And he shall kill the sheep of the trespass-offering; and the priest shall take some of the blood of the trespass-offering, and put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot.

Leviticus 14:26

And some of the oil shall the priest pour into the palm of his own left hand:

Leviticus 14:27

And the priest shall sprinkle with his finger of the right hand some of the oil that is in his left hand, seven times before the Lord;

Leviticus 14:28

And the priest shall put of the oil that is in his hand upon the tip of the right ear of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot; upon the place of the blood of the trespass-offering;

Leviticus 14:29

And what is left of the oil that is in the priest's hand he shall put upon the head of him that is to be cleansed, to make an atonement for him before the Lord.

Leviticus 14:30

And he shall offer the one of the turtle-doves, or of the young pigeons, from what his means enable him [to bring];

Leviticus 14:31

Even what his means enable him, the one for a sin-offering, and the other for a burnt-offering, with the meat-offering: and the priest shall [thus] make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed, before the Lord.

Leviticus 14:32

This is the law of him on whom is the plague of leprosy, whose means are not sufficient when he is cleansed.

Leviticus 14:33

And the Lord spoke unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,

Leviticus 14:34

When ye come into the land of Canaan, which I give to you for a possession, and I put the plague of leprosy on a house of the land of your possession:

Leviticus 14:35

Then shall he that owneth the house come and tell the priest, saying, Something like a leprosy hath shown itself to me in the house.

Leviticus 14:36

And the priest shall command that they clear out the house, before the priest go into it to see the plague, that all be not made unclean that is in the house: and after this shall the priest go in to see the house.

Leviticus 14:37

And he shall view the plague, and, behold, if the plague be in the walls of the house, in depressions, dark green or dark red, and their appearance be deeper than the wall:

Leviticus 14:38

Then shall the priest go out of the house to the door of the house, and lock up the house seven days.

Leviticus 14:39

And the priest shall come again on the seventh day; and if he see, that, behold, the plague have spread in the walls of the house:

Leviticus 14:40

Then shall the priest command that they break out the stones on which the plague is; and they shall cast them forth without the city on an unclean place.

Leviticus 14:41

And the house he shall cause to be scraped within round about; and they shall pour out the rubbish that they have scraped off without the city on an unclean place.

Leviticus 14:42

And they shall take other stones, and put them into the place of these stones; and other mortar shall he take, and shall plaster the house.

Leviticus 14:43

And if the plague come again, and break out in the house, after he hath taken away the stones, and after the house hath been scraped, and after it hath been plastered:

Leviticus 14:44

Then shall the priest come; and if he see that, behold, the plague have spread in the house, it is a corrosive leprosy in the house; it is unclean.

Leviticus 14:45

And he shall break down the house, its stones, and the timbers thereof, and all the mortar of the house; and he shall carry them forth to without the city, unto an unclean place.

Leviticus 14:46

And he that goeth into the house, all the days that it is locked up, shall be unclean until the evening.

Leviticus 14:47

And he that lieth in the house shall wash his clothes; and he that eateth in the house shall wash his clothes.

Leviticus 14:48

But if the priest should come in, and see, and, behold, the plague have not spread in the house, after the house was plastered: then shall the priest pronounce the house clean, because the plague is healed.

Leviticus 14:49

And he shall take, to atone for the house, two birds, and cedar wood, and a string of scarlet yarn, and hyssop;

Leviticus 14:50

And he shall kill the one bird in an earthen vessel over running water;

Leviticus 14:51

And he shall take the cedar wood, and the hyssop, and the scarlet yarn, and the living bird, and dip them in the blood of the slain bird, and in the running water, and sprinkle on the house seven times:

Leviticus 14:52

And he shall atone for the house with the blood of the bird, and with the running water, and with the living bird, and with the cedar wood, and with the hyssop, and with the string of scarlet yarn;

Leviticus 14:53

But he shall let fly forth the living bird out of the city into the open field, and make [thus] an atonement for the house, and it shall be clean.

Leviticus 14:54

This is the law for all manner of plague of leprosy, and scall,

Leviticus 14:55

And for the leprosy of a garment and of a house,

Leviticus 14:56

And for a swelling, and for a rising, and for a bright spot;

Leviticus 14:57

To teach on the day when something is unclean, and on the day when it is clean: this is the law of the leprosy.

Leviticus 15:1

And the Lord spoke unto Moses and to Aaron, saying,

Leviticus 15:2

Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When any man have a running issue out of his flesh: because of his issue is he unclean.

Leviticus 15:3

And this shall be his uncleanness in his issue: whether his flesh run with his issue, or his flesh be stopped from his issue, it is his uncleanness.

Leviticus 15:4

Every bed, whereon he may lie that hath the issue, shall be unclean: and every vessel, whereon he may sit, shall be unclean.

Leviticus 15:5

And any man that toucheth his bed shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the evening.

Leviticus 15:6

And he that sitteth on any vessel whereon he that hath the issue may sit, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the evening.

Leviticus 15:7

And he that toucheth the flesh of him that hath the issue shall wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the evening.

Leviticus 15:8

But on his kin, that is near unto him, [that is,] on his mother, and on his father, and on his son, and on his daughter, and on his brother,

Leviticus 21:3

And on his sister that is a virgin, that is nigh unto him, who hath had no husband: on her may he defile himself.

Leviticus 21:4

The chief man among his people shall not defile himself, to be profaned thereby.

Leviticus 21:5

They shall not make any baldness upon their head, and the corner of their beard shall they not shave off, and in their flesh shall they not make any incision.

Leviticus 21:6

Holy shall they be unto their God, and they shall not profane the name of their God; for the fire-offerings of the Lord, the bread of their God, do they offer, they shall therefore be holy.

Leviticus 21:7

A woman that is a harlot, or one profaned, shall they not take; and a woman put away from her husband shall they not take; for holy is he unto his God.

Leviticus 21:8

And thou shalt sanctify him; for the bread of thy God doth he offer: holy shall he be unto thee; for I the Lord, who sanctify you, am holy.

Leviticus 21:9

And if the daughter of any priest profane herself by committing incest, her father doth she profane: with fire shall she be burnt.

Leviticus 21:10

And the priest that is highest among his brethren, upon whose head the anointing oil hath been poured, and who hath been consecrated to put on the garments, shall not let the hair of his head grow long, and his garments shall he not rend;

Leviticus 21:11

Neither shall he go in to any dead body; even on his father, and on his mother shall he not defile himself.

Leviticus 21:12

And out of the sanctuary shall he not go, that he may not profane the sanctuary of his God; for the crown of the anointing oil of his God is upon him: I am the Lord.

Leviticus 21:13

And he shall take a wife in her virgin state.

Leviticus 21:14

A widow, and a divorced woman, and one profaned, [and] a harlot, these shall he not take; but a virgin of his own people shall he take for wife;

Leviticus 21:15

So that he may not profane his seed among his people; for I, the Lord, do sanctify him.

Leviticus 21:16

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 21:17

Speak unto Aaron, saying, Whosoever of thy seed in their generations it be on whom there is any blemish, shall not approach to offer the bread of his God.

Leviticus 21:18

For whatsoever man it be on whom there is a blemish, shall not approach: a blind, or a lame man, or one that hath a flattened nose, or a man one of whose limbs is too long,

Leviticus 21:19

Or a man who hath a broken foot, or a broken hand,

Leviticus 21:20

Or a crookbacked, or a dwarf, or one that hath a blemish in his eye, or the itch, or the scurvy, or the testicles broken.

Leviticus 21:21

Every man on whom there is a blemish, of the seed of Aaron the priest, shall not come nigh to offer the fire-offerings of the Lord: there is a blemish on him; he shall not come nigh to offer the bread of his God.

Leviticus 21:22

The brewed of his God, both of the most holy, and of the holy things he may eat.

Leviticus 21:23

Only unto the vail, and unto the altar shall he not come nigh, because there is a blemish on him; that he profane not my holy things; for I the Lord do sanctify them.

Leviticus 21:24

And Moses spoke thus unto Aaron, and to his sons, and unto all the children of Israel.

Leviticus 22:1

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 22:2

Speak unto Aaron and to his sons, that they keep themselves away from the holy things of the children of Israel, [so that they profane not my holy name] which they hallow unto me: I am the Lord.

Leviticus 22:3

Say unto them, In your generations, if there be any man of all your seed, that approacheth unto the holy things, which the children of Israel hallow unto the Lord, having his uncleanness upon him, that soul shall be cut off from my presence: I am the Lord.

Leviticus 22:4

Any man whatsoever of the seed of Aaron, that is a leper, or hath a running issue, shall not eat of the holy things, until he be clean; and whoso toucheth any thing that is unclean by the dead, or a man whose seed goeth from him;

Leviticus 22:5

Or a man who toucheth any creeping thing, whereby he may be made unclean, or a man through whom he can be rendered unclean, through any kind of uncleanness which he hath:

Leviticus 22:6

The person that toucheth any such shall be unclean until the evening, and he shall not eat of the holy things, unless he have bathed his flesh in water.

Leviticus 22:7

And when the sun hath set, he shall be clean; and afterward he may eat of the holy things; because it is his food.

Leviticus 22:8

That which dieth of itself, or is torn by beasts, shall he not eat, to defile himself therewith: I am the Lord.

Leviticus 22:9

And they shall keep my charge, that they may not bear sin through it, and die therefore, if they profane it: I am the Lord who sanctify them.

Leviticus 22:10

And no stranger shall eat of a holy thing: a sojourner of a priest, or a hired servant, shall not eat of a holy thing.

Leviticus 22:11

But if a priest buy a person with his money, then may he eat of it; and those that are born in his house, may eat of his bread.

Leviticus 22:12

And if the daughter of a priest be married unto a stranger, she may not eat of the offered part of holy things.

Leviticus 22:13

But the daughter of a priest, if she be a widow, or divorced, and have no child, and is returned unto her father's house, as in her youth, may eat of her father's bread; but no stranger shall eat thereof.

Leviticus 22:14

And if a man eat a holy thing unwittingly, then shall he add the fifth part thereof unto it, and he shall make good unto the priest the holy thing.

Leviticus 22:15

And they shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer unto the Lord;

Leviticus 22:16

And load on themselves the iniquity of trespass, when they eat their holy things; for I am the Lord who sanctify them.

Leviticus 22:17

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 22:18

Speak unto Aaron, and unto his sons, and unto all the children of Israel, and say unto them, If there be any man of the house of Israel, or of the strangers in Israel, that offereth his oblation, be it for any manner of vows, or for any manner of freewill-offerings, which they may offer unto the Lord for a burnt-offering:

Leviticus 22:19

Then shall it be, that it may be favorably received for you, a male without blemish, of the oxen, of the sheep, or of the goats.

Leviticus 22:20

Whatsoever on which there is a blemish shall ye not offer; for it will not be favorably received for you.

Leviticus 22:21

And when a man offereth a sacrifice of peace-offering unto the Lord as a vow, or a freewill-offering of the herds or of the flocks: it shall be without blemish to be favorably received; no kind of bodily defect shall be thereon.

Leviticus 22:22

A blind, or broken-limbed, or maimed animal, or one having a wen, or itch, or scurvy,—ye shall not offer these unto the Lord, and a fire-offering shall ye not make of them upon the altar unto the Lord.

Leviticus 22:23

And an ox or a lamb that hath a limb too long or too short, that mayest thou offer for a freewill-offering; but for a vow it shall not be favorably received.

Leviticus 22:24

And one that is bruised, or crushed, or broken, or cut in the testicles, shall ye not offer unto the Lord; and in your land shall ye not make the like.

Leviticus 22:25

And from a stranger's hand shall ye not offer the bread of your God from any of these; because their corruption is on them, a bodily defect is on them: they shall not be favorably received for you.

Leviticus 22:26

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 22:27

When a bullock, or a sheep, or a goat, is brought forth, then shall it remain seven days by its mother; and from the eighth day and thenceforth shall it be favorably received for an offering made by fire unto the Lord.

Leviticus 22:28

And whether it be ox or sheep, ye shall not kill it and its young both in one day.

Leviticus 22:29

And when ye offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving unto the Lord, offer it so that it may be favorably received of you.

Leviticus 22:30

On the same day shall it be eaten up; ye shall leave none of it until the morning: I am the Lord.

Leviticus 22:31

And ye shall keep my commandments and do them: I am the Lord.

Leviticus 22:32

And ye shall not profane my holy name; so that I may be sanctified among the children of Israel; I am the Lord who sanctify you,

Leviticus 22:33

That brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be unto you a God: I am the Lord.

Leviticus 23:1

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 23:2

Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, The feasts of the Lord, which ye shall proclaim to be holy convocations,—these are my feasts:

Leviticus 23:3

Six days may work be done; but on the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, a holy convocation; no kind of work shall ye do thereon; it is the sabbath [holy] unto the Lord in all your dwellings.

Leviticus 23:4

These are the feasts of the Lord, the holy convocations, which ye shall proclaim in their seasons:

Leviticus 23:5

On the fourteenth day of the first month, toward evening, is the passover—lamb to be offered unto the Lord.

Leviticus 23:6

And on the fifteenth day of the same month is the feast of unleavened bread unto the Lord: seven days must ye eat unleavened bread.

Leviticus 23:7

On the first day there shall be a holy convocation unto you; no servile work shall ye do thereon.

Leviticus 23:8

And ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord seven days: on the seventh day is a holy convocation; no servile work shall ye do.

Leviticus 23:9

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 23:10

Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye shall have come into the land which I give unto you, and reap the harvest thereof: then shall ye bring an omer full of the first of your harvest unto the priest;

Leviticus 23:11

And he shall wave the omer before the Lord, that it may be favorably received for you; on the morrow after the holy day shall the priest wave it.

Leviticus 23:12

And ye shall offer on the day when ye wave the omer, a male sheep without blemish of the first year for a burnt-offering unto the Lord.

Leviticus 23:13

And the meat-offering thereof shall be two tenth parts of fine flour mingled with oil, as an offering made by fire unto the Lord, for a sweet savor; with its drink-offering of wine, the fourth part of a hin.

Leviticus 23:14

And neither bread, nor parched corn, nor green ears, shall ye eat, until the self-same day, until ye have brought the offering of your God: it shall be a statute forever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

Leviticus 23:15

And ye shall count unto you from the morrow after the holy day, from the day that ye bring the omer of the wave-offering, [that] it be seven complete weeks:

Leviticus 23:16

Even unto the morrow after the seventh week shall ye number fifty days; and ye shall then offer a new meat-offering unto the Lord.

Leviticus 23:17

Out of your own habitations shall ye bring two wave-loaves of two tenth parts; of fine flour shall they be; leavened shall they be baked; they are the first-fruits unto the Lord.

Leviticus 23:18

And ye shall offer with the bread seven sheep without blemish of the first year, and one young bullock, and two rams: they shall be for a burnt-offering unto the Lord, with their meat-offering, with their drink-offerings, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savor unto the Lord.

Leviticus 23:19

And ye shall sacrifice one he-goat for a sin-offering, and two sheep of the first year for a sacrifice of peace-offering.

Leviticus 23:20

And the priest shall make with them together with the bread of the first-fruits a waving before the Lord, together with the two sheep; holy shall they be to the Lord for the priest.

Leviticus 23:21

And ye shall proclaim on the self-same day, that it may be a holy convocation unto you; no servile work shall ye do; it shall be a statute for ever in all your dwellings throughout your generations.

Leviticus 23:22

And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not cut away altogether the corners of thy field when thou reapest, and the gleaning of thy harvest shalt thou not gather up; unto the poor, and to the stranger shalt thou leave them: I am the Lord your God.

Leviticus 23:23

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 23:24

Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, In the seventh month, on the first day of the month, shall ye have a rest, a [day of] memorial of sounding the cornet, a holy convocation.

Leviticus 23:25

No servile work shall ye do: and ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord.

Leviticus 23:26

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 23:27

But on the tenth day of this seventh month is the day of atonement, a holy convocation shall it be unto you, and ye shall fast; and ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord.

Leviticus 23:28

And no manner of work shall ye do on this same day; for it is a day of atonement, to make an atonement for you before the Lord your God.

Leviticus 23:29

For whatsoever person it be that fasteth not on this same day, shall be cut off from among his people.

Leviticus 23:30

And if there be any person that doth any work on this same day, then will I destroy the same person from among his people.

Leviticus 23:31

No manner of work shall ye do: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations, in all your dwellings.

Leviticus 23:32

A sabbath of rest it shall be unto you, and ye shall fast: on the ninth day of the month at evening [shall ye begin], from evening unto evening shall ye celebrate your sabbath.

Leviticus 23:33

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 23:34

Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, On the fifteenth day of this seventh month, shall be the feast of tabernacles for seven days unto the Lord.

Leviticus 23:35

On the first day shall be a holy convocation; no servile work shall ye do.

Leviticus 23:36

Seven days shall ye offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord: on the eighth day shall be a holy convocation unto you; and ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord, it is a solemn assembly; no servile work shall ye do.

Leviticus 23:37

These are the feasts of the Lord, which ye shall proclaim to be holy convocations, to offer an offering made by fire unto the Lord, burnt-offering, and meat-offering, sacrifice, and drink-offerings, every thing upon its day:

Leviticus 23:38

Beside the sabbaths of the Lord, and beside your gifts, and beside all your vows, and beside all your freewill-offerings, which ye may give unto the Lord.

Leviticus 23:39

But on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when ye have gathered in the fruit of the land, shall ye keep the feast of the Lord seven days: on the first day shall be a rest, and on the eighth day shall be a rest.

Leviticus 23:40

And ye shall take unto yourselves on the first day the fruit of the tree hadar, branches of palm-trees, and the boughs of the myrtle-tree, and willows of the brook: and ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God seven days.

Leviticus 23:41

And ye shall keep it as a feast unto the Lord seven days in the year: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations; in the seventh month shall ye celebrate it.

Leviticus 23:42

In booths shall ye dwell seven days; all that are Israelites born shall dwell in booths.

Leviticus 23:43

In order that your generations may know, that I caused the children of Israel to dwell in booths, when I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

Leviticus 23:44

And Moses declared the feasts of the Lord unto the children of Israel.

Leviticus 24:1

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 24:2

Command the children of Israel, that they bring unto thee pure beaten olive-oil, for the lighting, to cause the lamp to burn continually.

Leviticus 24:3

Without the vail of the testimony, in the tabernacle of the congregation, shall Aaron put it in order [for] from evening unto morning before the Lord continually; as a statute for ever in your generations.

Leviticus 24:4

Upon the pure candlestick shall be put in order the lamps, before the Lord, continually.

Leviticus 24:5

And thou shalt take fine flour, and bake thereof twelve cakes: of two tenth parts shall each one cake be.

Leviticus 24:6

And thou shalt place them in two rows, six in a row, upon the pure table before the Lord.

Leviticus 24:7

And thou shalt put upon each row pure frankincense, that it may be unto the bread for a memorial, as a fire-offering unto the Lord.

Leviticus 24:8

On every and each sabbath day shall he place it in order before the Lord continually, [obtained] from the children of Israel as an everlasting covenant.

Leviticus 24:9

And it shall belong to Aaron and to his sons; and they shall eat it in a holy place; for it is most holy unto him, from the fire-offerings of the Lord, as a perpetual fixed portion.

Leviticus 24:10

And there went forth a son of an Israelitish woman, but who was the son of an Egyptian man, among the children of Israel; and there quarrelled together in the camp this son of the Israelitish woman and an Israelitish man.

Leviticus 24:11

And the son of the Israelitish woman pronounced the [holy] Name, and blasphemed; and they brought him unto Moses: [and his mother's name was Shelomith, the daughter of Dibri, of the tribe of Dan;]

Leviticus 24:12

And they placed him in ward, until the decision of the Lord could be explained to them.

Leviticus 24:13

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 24:14

Lead forth the blasphemer to without the camp; and all that have heard him shall lay their hands upon his head; and all the congregation shall stone him.

Leviticus 24:15

And unto the children of Israel shalt thou speak, saying, Whatsoever man that blasphemeth his God shall bear his sin.

Leviticus 24:16

But he that pronounced the name of the Lord [with blasphemy] shall be put to death, all the congregation shall stone him; be he a stranger, or be he one that is born in the land, when he pronounceth the [holy] Name [with blasphemy,] he shall be put to death.

Leviticus 24:17

And he that taketh the life of any man shall surely be put to death.

Leviticus 24:18

And he that taketh the life of a beast shall make it good: beast for beast.

Leviticus 24:19

And if a man cause a bodily defect in his neighbor, as he hath done, so shall be done to him;

Leviticus 24:20

Breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for tooth: in the manner as he hath caused a bodily defect in a man, so shall it be done to him.

Leviticus 24:21

And he that killeth a beast, shall make restitution for it; and he that killeth a man, shall be put to death.

Leviticus 24:22

One manner of judicial law shall ye have, the stranger shall be equal with one of your own country; for I am the Lord your God.

Leviticus 24:23

And Moses spoke to the children of Israel; and they led forth the blasphemer to without the camp, and they stoned him with stones; and the children of Israel did as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Leviticus 25:1

And the Lord spoke unto Moses on mount Sinai, saying,

Leviticus 25:2

Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye come into the land which I give unto you; then shall the land keep a sabbath unto the Lord.

Leviticus 25:3

Six years shalt thou sow thy field, and six years shalt thou prune thy vineyard, and gather in the fruit thereof;

Leviticus 25:4

But in the seventh year there shall be a sabbath of rest unto the land, a sabbath [in honor] of the Lord: thy field shalt thou not sow, and thy vineyard shalt thou not prune.

Leviticus 25:5

That which groweth of its own accord of thy harvest shalt thou not reap, and the grapes of thy undressed vine shalt thou not gather: a year of rest shall it be unto the land.

Leviticus 25:6

And [the product of] the sabbath of the land shall be unto you for food, for thee, and for thy man-servant, and for thy maid-servant, and for thy hired laborer, and for thy stranger, that sojourn with thee;

Leviticus 25:7

And for thy cattle, and for the beasts that are in thy land, shall all its products be [left] for food.

Leviticus 25:8

And thou shalt number unto thee seven sabbaths of years, seven years seven times; and the space of the seven sabbaths of years shall be unto thee forty and nine years.

Leviticus 25:9

And then shalt thou cause the sound of the cornet to be heard, in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month: on the day of atonement shall ye sound the cornet throughout all your land.

Leviticus 25:10

And ye shall hallow the fiftieth year, and proclaim freedom throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof; it shall be a jubilee unto you; and ye shall return, every man, unto his possession, and ye shall return, every man, unto his family.

Leviticus 25:11

A jubilee shall this, the fiftieth year, be unto you: ye shall not sow, nor reap that which groweth of itself in it, nor gather in it the fruit of the undressed vines.

Leviticus 25:12

For it is the jubilee; holy shall it be unto you: from the field shall ye eat the products thereof.

Leviticus 25:13

In this year of the jubilee shall ye return, every man, unto his possession.

Leviticus 25:14

And if thou sell aught unto thy neighbor, or buy aught of thy neighbor's hand, ye shall not overreach one the other;

Leviticus 25:15

According to the number of years after the jubilee shalt thou buy of thy neighbor, according unto the number of harvest-years shall he sell unto thee;

Leviticus 25:16

According to the multitude of years shalt thou increase the price thereof, and according to the fewness of years shalt thou diminish the price thereof; for a number of harvests doth he sell unto thee.

Leviticus 25:17

And ye shall not overreach one the other; but thou shalt be afraid of thy God; for I am the Lord your God.

Leviticus 25:18

And ye shall do my statutes, and my ordinances shall ye keep and do them; and then shall ye dwell in the land in safety.

Leviticus 25:19

And the land shall yield its fruit, and ye shall eat your fill, and dwell in safety therein.

Leviticus 25:20

And if ye should say, What shall we eat in the seventh year? behold, we are not permitted to sow, and we cannot gather in our harvest:

Leviticus 25:21

Then will I command my blessing unto you in the sixth year, and it shall bring forth a harvest for three years.

Leviticus 25:22

And when ye sow in the eighth year, then shall ye eat yet of the old harvest; until the ninth year, until its harvest come in, shall ye eat of the old store.

Leviticus 25:23

And the land shall not be sold for a permanence [to the purchaser]; for the land is mine; for strangers and sojourners are ye with me.

Leviticus 25:24

And in all the land of your possession ye shall grant a redemption for the land.

Leviticus 25:25

If thy brother become poor, and sell away some of his possession: then may his nearest of kin come and redeem what his brother hath sold.

Leviticus 25:26

And if the man have none to redeem it, and he acquire the means, sufficient to be able to redeem it himself:

Leviticus 25:27

Then let him reckon the years since his sale, and restore the overplus unto the man to whom he sold it; and so shall he return unto his possession.

Leviticus 25:28

But if his means do not suffice to enable him to restore it to him: then shall that which he hath sold remain in the hand of him that hath bought it until the year of the jubilee; and it shall be freed in the jubilee, and he shall return unto his possession.

Leviticus 25:29

And if a man sell a dwelling-house in a walled city: then shall the time of redemption last till the end of the year of his sale; a full year shall his time of redemption last.

Leviticus 25:30

And if it be not redeemed within the expiration of a full year: then shall the house which is in the walled city remain as a permanence to him that bought it throughout his generations; it shall not become freed in the jubilee.

Leviticus 25:31

But the houses of the villages which have no wall round about them shall be counted as the fields of the country: they shall have the right of redemption, and they shall become freed in the jubilee.

Leviticus 25:32

And [respecting] the cities of the Levites, the houses of the cities of their possession, a perpetual right of redemption shall belong to the Levites.

Leviticus 25:33

And if a man of the Levites redeem something: then shall the house that was sold, and the city of his possession, become freed in the jubilee; for the houses of the cities of the Levites are their possession among the children of Israel.

Leviticus 25:34

And a field of the suburbs of their cities shall not be sold; for a perpetual possession is it unto them.

Leviticus 25:35

And if thy brother become poor, and fall in decay with thee: then shalt thou assist him, [yea] a stranger, or a sojourner, that he may live with thee.

Leviticus 25:36

Thou shalt not take of him any usury or increase; but thou shalt be afraid of thy God: that thy brother may live with thee.

Leviticus 25:37

Thy money shalt thou not give him upon usury, nor lend him thy victuals for increase.

Leviticus 25:38

I am the Lord your God, who have brought you forth out of the land of Egypt, to give unto you the land of Canaan, to be unto you a God.

Leviticus 25:39

And if thy brother become poor near thee, and be sold unto thee: thou shalt not compel him to work as a bond-servant.

Leviticus 25:40

But as a hired laborer, as a sojourner, shall he be with thee; until the year of the jubilee shall he serve with thee:

Leviticus 25:41

And then shall he depart from thee, he and his children with him; and he shall return unto his own family, and unto the possession of his fathers shall he return.

Leviticus 25:42

For my servants are they, whom I brought forth out of the land of Egypt: they shall not be sold as bond-men are sold.

Leviticus 25:43

Thou shalt not rule over him with rigor; but thou shalt have fear of thy God.

Leviticus 25:44

But thy bond-man, and thy bond-woman that shall remain thine, shall be of the nations that are round about you; of them may ye buy bond-man and bond-woman.

Leviticus 25:45

And also of the children of the strangers that sojourn with you, of them may ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they have begotten in your land; and they shall remain to you as a possession.

Leviticus 25:46

And ye may transfer them as an inheritance for your children after you, to inherit them for a possession; you may hold them to service for ever; but over your brethren the children of Israel, one over the other, ye shall not rule with rigor.

Leviticus 25:47

And if a stranger or sojourner wax rich near thee, and thy brother become poor near him, and he sell himself unto the sojourning stranger near thee, or to a descendant of a stranger's family:

Leviticus 25:48

After he hath sold himself shall he have the right of redemption; one of his brethren may redeem him.

Leviticus 25:49

Either his uncle, or his uncle's son, may redeem him, or any that is near of kin unto him of his family may redeem him; or if he obtain the means, he may redeem himself.

Leviticus 25:50

And he shall reckon with him that bought him from the year that he sold himself to him unto the year of the jubilee: and the price of his sale shall be according to the number of years, as the time of a hired laborer shall he have been with him.

Leviticus 25:51

If there be yet many years, according to them shall he return the price of his redemption out of his purchase-money.

Leviticus 25:52

And if there remain but few years unto the year of the jubilee: then shall he reckon with him; according to his years shall he return the price of his redemption.

Leviticus 25:53

As a laborer hired from year to year shall he be with him; he shall not rule over him with rigor before thy eyes.

Leviticus 25:54

And if he be not redeemed by [one of] these means: then shall he go out in the year of the jubilee, both he, and his children with him.

Leviticus 25:55

For unto me are the children of Israel servants, my servants are they, whom I have brought forth out of the land of Egypt: I am the Eternal your God.

Leviticus 26:1

Ye shall not make yourselves any idols, and a graven image, or a standing image shall ye not rear up unto you, and any carved stone shall you not place in your land, to bow down upon it; for I am the Eternal your God.

Leviticus 26:2

My sabbaths shall ye keep, and my sanctuary shall ye reverence: I am the Lord.

Leviticus 26:3

If in my statutes ye walk, and if my commandments ye keep, and do them:

Leviticus 26:4

Then will I give you rains in their due season, and the earth shall yield her products, and the tree of the field shall yield its fruit.

Leviticus 26:5

And the threshing shall reach with you unto the vintage, and the vintage shall reach unto sowing-time; and ye shall eat your bread to the full, and ye shall dwell in safety in your land.

Leviticus 26:6

And I will give peace in the land, and ye shall lie down, with none to make you afraid; and I will remove evil beasts out of the land, and the sword shall not pass through your land.

Leviticus 26:7

And ye shall chase your enemies, and they shall fall before you by the sword.

Leviticus 26:8

And five of you shall chase a hundred, and a hundred of you shall chase ten thousand; and your enemies shall fall before you by the sword.

Leviticus 26:9

And I will turn myself unto you, and make you fruitful, and multiply you; and I will establish my covenant with you.

Leviticus 26:10

And ye shall eat very old store, and the old shall ye remove away because of the new.

Leviticus 26:11

And I will set my dwelling among you; and my soul shall not loath you.

Leviticus 26:12

And I will walk among you, and I will be to you a God, and ye shall be to me a people.

Leviticus 26:13

I am the Eternal your God, who have brought you forth out of the land of Egypt, that ye should not be their bond-men; and I have broken the bands of your yoke, and caused you to walk upright.

Leviticus 26:14

But if ye will not hearken unto me, and will not do all these commandments;

Leviticus 26:15

And if my statutes ye despise, and if my ordinances your soul loath, so as not to do all my commandments, in that ye break my covenant:

Leviticus 26:16

Then will I also do this unto you, and I will inflict on you terror, consumption, and the burning ague, that consume the eyes, and cause sorrow of heart; and ye shall sow in vain your seed, for your enemies shall eat it.

Leviticus 26:17

And I will set my face against you, and ye shall be struck down before your enemies: and they that hate you shall bear rule over you; and ye shall flee while there is no one pursuing you.

Leviticus 26:18

And if with these things even ye will not yet hearken unto me: then will I chastise you yet more, sevenfold for your sins.

Leviticus 26:19

And I will break the pride of your power; and I will make your heaven as iron, and your earth as copper:

Leviticus 26:20

And in vain shall your strength be spent; for your land shall not yield her products, and the tree of the land shall not yield its fruit.

Leviticus 26:21

And if ye walk yet contrary unto me, and if you refuse to hearken unto me: then will I bring more plagues upon you, sevenfold according to your sins.

Leviticus 26:22

And I will send out against you the beasts of the field, which shall rob you of your children, and destroy your cattle, and diminish yourselves; so that your roads shall be desolate.

Leviticus 26:23

And if notwithstanding these things ye will not be reformed by me, and walk contrary unto me:

Leviticus 26:24

Then will I also walk contrary unto you, and I also will punish you, sevenfold for your sins.

Leviticus 26:25

And I will bring over you the sword, avenging the quarrel of my covenant, so that ye shall be gathered together within your cities; and then will I send the pestilence among you, that ye shall deliver yourselves into the hand of the enemy;

Leviticus 26:26

When I break unto you the staff of bread; and ten women shall bake your bread in one oven, and they shall deliver your bread again by weight; and ye shall eat, and not be satisfied.

Leviticus 26:27

And if notwithstanding this ye will not hearken unto me, but walk contrary unto me:

Leviticus 26:28

Then will I also walk contrary unto you in fury; and I, even I, will chastise you, sevenfold for your sins.

Leviticus 26:29

And ye shall eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye eat.

Leviticus 26:30

And I will destroy your high-places, and cut down your sun-images, and cast your carcasses upon the carcasses of your idols; and my soul shall loath you.

Leviticus 26:31

And I will render your cities a waste, and I will make desolate your sanctuaries, and I will not smell the savor of your sweet odors.

Leviticus 26:32

And I will surely make desolate the land: and your enemies who dwell therein shall be astonished at it.

Leviticus 26:33

And you will I scatter among the nations, and I will draw out after you the sword; and your land shall be a desolate wild, and your cities shall be a waste.

Leviticus 26:34

Then shall the land satisfy its sabbaths, all the days of its desolation, when ye are in the land of your enemies: then shall the land rest, and satisfy its sabbaths.

Leviticus 26:35

All the days of its desolation shall it rest, the time which it did not rest in your sabbaths, when ye dwelt upon it.

Leviticus 26:36

And regarding those that are left of you, I will send a faintness into their hearts in the lands of their enemies; and the sound of a leaf shaken shall chase them; and they shall flee, as fleeing from the sword; and they shall fall with none pursuing.

Leviticus 26:37

And they shall stumble one over the other, as before the sword, without one pursuing: and ye shall have no power to stand up before your enemies.

Leviticus 26:38

And ye shall be lost among the nations, and the land of your enemies shall consume you.

Leviticus 26:39

And they that are left of you shall pine away in their iniquity in the land of your enemies; and also through the iniquities of their fathers shall they pine away with them.

Leviticus 26:40

And they shall then confess their iniquity, and the iniquity of their fathers, [that] through their trespass which they trespassed against me, and also that [because] they had walked contrary unto me:

Leviticus 26:41

I also had to walk contrary unto them, and to bring them into the land of their enemies; and then shall their uncircumcised heart be humbled, and then shall they satisfy their iniquity.

Leviticus 26:42

And I will then remember my covenant with Jacob, and also my covenant with Isaac, and also my covenant with Abraham will I remember; and the land will I remember.

Leviticus 26:43

For the land shall be forsaken by them, and shall satisfy its sabbaths, while it lieth desolate without them, and they shall satisfy their iniquity; because, even because my ordinances they despised, and my statutes their soul loathed.

Leviticus 26:44

And yet for all that, though they be in the land of their enemies, will I not cast them away, neither will I loath them, to destroy them utterly, to break my covenant with them; for I am the Lord their God.

Leviticus 26:45

But I will remember for their sakes the covenant of their ancestors, whom I brought forth out of the land of Egypt before the eyes of the nations, that I might be unto them a God: I am the Lord.

Leviticus 26:46

These are the statutes and ordinances and laws, which the Lord made between him and the children of Israel on mount Sinai, by the hand of Moses.

Leviticus 27:1

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Leviticus 27:2

Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, If a man make a particular vow, [to give] the estimated value of persons in honor of the Lord:

Leviticus 27:3

If the estimated value concern a male from twenty years old, and unto sixty years old, then shall the estimation be fifty shekels of silver, after the shekel of the sanctuary.

Leviticus 27:4

And if it be a female, then shall the estimation be thirty shekels.

Leviticus 27:5

And if [the person be] from five years old and unto twenty years old, then shall the estimation of the male be twenty shekels, and for the female ten shekels.

Leviticus 27:6

And if [the person be] from a month old and unto five years old, then shall the estimation of the male be five shekels of silver, and for the female the estimation [shall be] three shekels of silver.

Leviticus 27:7

And if [the person be] from sixty years old and upward, if it be a male, then shall the estimation be fifteen shekels, and for the female ten shekels.

Leviticus 27:8

But if he be too poor for this estimation, then shall he present himself before the priest, and the priest shall value him; according to the ability to pay of him that hath vowed shall the priest value him.

Leviticus 27:9

And if it be a beast, whereof men can bring an offering unto the Lord, all that a man giveth of such unto the Lord shall be holy.

Leviticus 27:10

He shall not alter it, nor change it, a good for a bad one, or a bad for a good one; and if he should change beast for beast, then shall it together with its exchange be holy.

Leviticus 27:11

And if it be any unclean beast, of which they cannot offer a sacrifice unto the Lord, then shall he present the beast before the priest:

Leviticus 27:12

And the priest shall value it, whether it be good or bad; as the priest valueth it, so shall it be.

Leviticus 27:13

And if he will redeem it, then shall he add a fifth part thereof unto the estimated value.

Leviticus 27:14

And if a man sanctify his house as holy unto the Lord, then shall the priest value it, whether it be good or bad; as the priest may value it, so shall it stand.

Leviticus 27:15

And if he that sanctified it will redeem his house, then shall he add the fifth part of the money of the estimated value unto it, and it shall remain his.

Leviticus 27:16

And if a man sanctify some part of a field of his possession unto the Lord, then shall the estimation be in proportion to its required seed: the seed of a chomer of barley at fifty shekels of silver.

Leviticus 27:17

If immediately after the year of the jubilee he sanctify his field, according to this estimation shall it stand.

Leviticus 27:18

But if after the jubilee he sanctify his field, then shall the priest reckon unto him the money in proportion to the years that remain, until the year of the jubilee, and it shall be deducted from the estimation.

Leviticus 27:19

And if he that sanctified the field will redeem it, then shall he add the fifth part of the money of the estimated value unto it, and it shall be assured to him.

Leviticus 27:20

But if he will not redeem the field, or if he have sold the field to another man, it shall not be redeemed any more.

Leviticus 27:21

But the field, when it is freed in the jubilee, shall be holy unto the Lord, as a devoted field: to the priest shall it belong as his possession.

Leviticus 27:22

And if a man sanctify a field which he hath bought, which is not of the fields of his possession, unto the Lord:

Leviticus 27:23

Then shall the priest reckon unto him the amount of the estimated value to the year of the jubilee; and he shall give this estimation on that day, as a holy thing unto the Lord.

Leviticus 27:24

In the year of the jubilee the field shall return unto him of whom he bought it, to the one to whom belongeth the possession of the land.

Leviticus 27:25

And all estimations of value shall be according to the shekel of the sanctuary; twenty gerahs shall be the shekel.

Leviticus 27:26

Only the first-born which shall, by being first born, be sacred unto the Lord among cattle, no man shall sanctify; whether it be ox, or lamb, it is the Lord's.

Leviticus 27:27

And if it be an unclean animal, then shall he redeem it according to the estimated value, and he shall add its fifth part thereto; and if it be not redeemed, then shall it be sold according to the estimated value.

Leviticus 27:28

But any devoted thing, which a man may devote unto the Lord of all that he hath, both of man and beast, and of the field of his possession, shall not be sold nor redeemed: every devoted thing is most holy unto the Lord.

Leviticus 27:29

Any one condemned, who shall be condemned to death among men, shall not be redeemed: he shall be put to death.

Leviticus 27:30

And every tithe of the land, of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, belongeth to the Lord; it is holy unto the Lord.

Leviticus 27:31

And if a man will redeem any part of his tithe, its fifth part shall he add thereto.

Leviticus 27:32

And concerning the tithe of the herds, or of the flocks, whatsoever passeth under the rod, the tenth shall be holy unto the Lord.

Leviticus 27:33

He shall not search whether it be good or bad, neither shall he change it: and if he should change it, then both it and the exchange thereof shall be holy; it shall not be redeemed.

Leviticus 27:34

These are the commandments, which the Lord commanded Moses for the children on mount Sinai.

Then shall he abstain from wine and strong drink, vinegar of wine, or vinegar of strong drink shall he not drink, and any infusion of grapes shall he not drink, and grapes, fresh or dried, shall he not eat.

Numbers 6:4

All the days of his abstinence shall he eat nothing that is made of the grape-vine, from the kernels even to the husk.

Numbers 6:21

And they brought up an evil report of the land which they had spied out unto the children of Israel, saying, The land through which we have passed to spy it out, is a land that consumeth its inhabitants; and all the people that we saw in it are men of a great stature.

Numbers 13:33

And there we saw the giants, the sons of 'Anak, of the giants' [family]: and we were in our own eyes as grasshoppers, and so were we in their eyes.

Numbers 14:1

And all the congregation lifted up their voice, and cried aloud; and the people wept that night.

Numbers 14:2

And all the people murmured against Moses and against Aaron; and the whole congregation said unto them, Oh who would grant that we had died in the land of Egypt! or that we might but die in this wilderness!

Numbers 14:3

And wherefore doth the Lord bring us unto yonder land, to fall by the sword? that our wives and our children may become a prey? is it not better for us to return to Egypt?

Numbers 14:4

And they said one to another, Let us appoint a chief, and let us return to Egypt.

Numbers 14:5

Then fell Moses and Aaron on their faces before all the assembly of the congregation of the children of Israel.

Numbers 14:6

And Joshua, the son of Nun, and Caleb the son of Yephunneh, of those that had spied out the land, rent their garments.

Numbers 14:7

And they said unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, as followeth, The land, through which we have passed to spy it out, this land is exceedingly good.

Numbers 14:8

If the Lord have delight in us, then will he bring us into this land, and give it to us: a land which is flowing with milk and honey.

Numbers 14:9

Only against the Lord do ye not rebel; and then ye need not fear the people of the land; for they are our bread: their shadow is departed from them, while the Lord is with us; fear them not.

Numbers 14:10

But all the congregation said to stone them with stones: when the glory of the Lord appeared in the tabernacle of the congregation unto all the children of Israel.

Numbers 14:11

And the Lord said unto Moses, How long yet shall this people provoke me? and how long yet will they not believe in me, with all the signs which I have shown in the midst of them?

Numbers 14:12

I will smite them with the pestilence, and root them out, and I will make of thee a nation greater and mightier than they.

Numbers 14:13

And Moses said unto the Lord, But when the Egyptian hear, from the midst of whom thou hast brought up in thy might this people; —

Numbers 14:14

And when they tell to the inhabitants of this land, who have heard that thou, Lord, art in the midst of this people, that face to face thou, Lord, art seen, and that thy cloud standeth over them, and that in a pillar of cloud thou goest before them by day, and in a pillar of fire by night; —

Numbers 14:15

That thou hast killed this people as one man: then will the nations that have heard thy fame, say in this manner,

Numbers 14:16

That because the Lord was not able to bring this people into the land which he had sworn unto them, hath he slain them in the wilderness.

Numbers 14:17

And now, I beseech thee, let the greatness of the power of the Lord be made manifest, as thou hast spoken, saying,

Numbers 14:18

The Eternal is long-suffering, and abundant in beneficence, forgiving iniquity and transgression; but who will by no means clear the guilty, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, upon the third and upon the fourth generation.

Numbers 14:19

Pardon, I beseech thee, the iniquity of this people, according to the greatness of thy beneficence, and as thou hast been indulgent to this people, from Egypt even until hitherto.

Numbers 14:20

And the Lord said, I have pardoned according to thy word.

Numbers 14:21

But as truly as I live, and as all the earth is filled with the glory of the Lord:—

Numbers 14:22

That all the men who have seen my glory, and my signs, which I have displayed in Egypt and in the wilderness, and have tempted me these ten times, and have not hearkened to my voice,

Numbers 14:23

Shall surely not see the land which I have sworn unto their fathers, yea all those that have provoked me shall not see it.

Numbers 14:24

But my servant Caleb, as a reward that he had another spirit with him, and followed me fully,—therefore will I bring him into the land whereinto he went; and his seed shall possess it.

Numbers 14:25

And the Amalekites and the Canaanites dwell in the valley: tomorrow turn you, and set forward into the wilderness by the way to the Red Sea.

Numbers 14:26

And the Lord spoke unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,

Numbers 14:27

How long [shall indulgence be given] to this evil congregation, that murmur against me? the murmurings of the children of Israel, which they murmur against me, have I heard.

Numbers 14:28

Say unto them, As truly as I live, saith the Lord, as ye have spoken in my ears, so will I do to you:

Numbers 14:29

In this wilderness shall your carcasses fall, and all that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, from twenty years old and upward; ye who have murmured against me;

Numbers 14:30

Truly ye shall not come into the land, concerning which I have lifted up my hand to let you dwell therein; save Caleb the son of Yephunneh, and Joshua the son of Nun.

Numbers 14:31

But your little ones of which ye said, They would become a prey, them will I bring in, and they shall know the land which ye have despised.

Numbers 14:32

But as for you, your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness.

Numbers 14:33

And your children shall wander about in the wilderness forty years, and bear your backslidings, until your carcasses be spent in the wilderness.

Numbers 14:34

After the number of the days in which ye spied out the land, forty days, yea, each one day for a year, shall ye bear for your iniquities, forty years; and ye shall experience my withdrawal [of protection].

Numbers 14:35

I the Lord have spoken it, surely, this will I do unto all this evil congregation that have assembled against me: in this wilderness shall they be spent, and therein shall they die.

Numbers 14:36

And the men whom Moses had sent to spy out the land, and who returned, and caused all the congregation to murmur against him, by bringing up an evil report against the land,

Numbers 14:37

Even these men, that had brought up the evil report of the land, died by the plague before the Lord.

Numbers 14:38

But Joshua the son of Nun, and Caleb the son of Yephunneh, remained alive of those men, who had gone to spy out the land.

Numbers 14:39

And Moses spoke these words unto all the children of Israel; and the people mourned greatly.

Numbers 14:40

And they rose up early in the morning, and went up to the top of the mountain, saying, Lo, here we are, and we will go up unto the place of which the Lord hath spoken; for we have sinned.

Numbers 14:41

And Moses said, Wherefore now do ye transgress the order of the Lord? and it will not prosper.

Numbers 14:42

Do not go up, for the Lord is not among you; that ye may not be smitten before your enemies.

Numbers 14:43

For the Amalekites and the Canaanites are there before you, and ye will fall by the sword; since, because ye are turned away from the Lord, the Lord also will not be with you.

Numbers 14:44

Yet they persisted to go up unto the top of the mountain; but the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and Moses, did not move out of the camp.

Numbers 14:45

Then came down the Amalekites, and the Canaanites that dwelt on that mountain, and smote them, and discomfited them, even unto Chormah.

Numbers 15:1

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Numbers 15:2

Speak unto the children of Israel and say unto them, When ye shall have come into the land of your habitations, which I give unto you,

Numbers 15:3

And ye will prepare a fire-offering unto the Lord, a burnt-offering, or a sacrifice, in performing a pronounced vow, or as a freewill-offering, or on your solemn feasts, to prepare a sweet savor unto the Lord, of the herds of the flocks:

Numbers 15:4

Then shall he that bringeth his offering unto the Lord, bring as a meat-offering a tenth part of fine flour mingled with the fourth of a hin of oil.

Numbers 15:5

And wine for a drink-offering, the fourth of a hin, shalt thou prepare with the burnt-offering or sacrifice, for each one sheep.

Numbers 15:6

But for a ram, shalt thou prepare as a meat-offering two tenth parts of fine flour mingled with the third of a hin of oil.

Numbers 15:7

And wine for the drink-offering, the third of a hin, shalt thou bring, for a sweet savor unto the Lord.

Numbers 15:8

And when thou preparest a bullock for a burnt-offering, or for a sacrifice, in performing a pronounced vow, or a peace-offering unto the Lord:

Numbers 15:9

Then shall he bring with the bullock as a meat-offering, three tenth parts of fine flour mingled with half a hin of oil.

Numbers 15:10

And wine shalt thou bring for a drink-offering, half a hin, as a fire-offering of a sweet savor unto the Lord.

Numbers 15:11

Thus shall it be done for each one bullock, or for each one ram, or for a lamb, be it of the sheep or of the goats.

Numbers 15:12

According to the number that ye may prepare, so shall ye do to every one according to their number.

Numbers 15:13

All that are born in the country shall do these things after this manner, in offering a fire-offering of a sweet savor unto the Lord.

Numbers 15:14

And if a stranger sojourn with you, or whosoever may be among you in your generations, and will make an offering made by fire, of a sweet savor unto the Lord: as ye do, so shall he do.

Numbers 15:15

Congregation! one statute shall be for you, and for the stranger that sojourneth: a statute for ever in your generations; as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the Lord.

Numbers 15:16

One law and one code shall be for you, and for the stranger that sojourneth with you.

Numbers 15:17

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Numbers 15:18

Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye come into the land whither I bring you:

Numbers 15:19

Then shall it be, that, when ye eat of the bread of the land, ye shall set aside a heave-offering unto the Lord.

Numbers 15:20

As the first of your doughs shall ye set aside a cake for a heave-offering; like the heave-offering of the threshing-floor, so shall ye set this aside.

Numbers 15:21

Of the first of your doughs shall ye give unto the Lord a heave-offering, in your generations.

Numbers 15:22

And if ye err, and do not observe all these commandments, which the Lord hath spoken unto Moses,

Numbers 15:23

All that the Lord hath commanded you by the hand of Moses, from the day that the Lord commanded [the same] and thenceforward, among your generations:

Numbers 15:24

Then shall it be, if, through inadvertence of the congregation, it was committed by ignorance, that all the congregation shall prepare one young bullock for a burnt-offering, for a sweet savor unto the Lord, with his meat-offering, and his drink-offering, according to the prescribed manner, and one he-goat for a sin-offering.

Numbers 15:25

And the priest shall make an atonement for all the congregation of the children of Israel, and it shall be forgiven unto them; for it is [a sin of] ignorance; and they have brought their offering, a sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord, and their sin-offering before the Lord, for their [sin of] ignorance:

Numbers 15:26

And it shall be forgiven unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among them; for by all the people [was it done] in ignorance.

Numbers 15:27

And if any person sin through ignorance, then shall he bring a she-goat of the first year for a sin-offering.

Numbers 15:28

And the priest shall make an atonement for the person that hath erred, in his sinning through ignorance before the Lord; to make an atonement for him, that it may be forgiven unto him.

Numbers 15:29

For the native born among the children of Israel, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them:—one law shall be for you, for him that acteth through ignorance.

Numbers 15:30

But the person that doth aught with a high hand, be he one born in the land, or a stranger, the same dishonoreth the Lord; and that person shall be cut off from among his people.

Numbers 15:31

Because the word of the Lord hath he despised, and his commandment hath he broken; that person shall be cut off, his iniquity is upon him.

Numbers 15:32

And while the children of Israel were in the wilderness, they found a man gathering sticks upon the sabbath-day.

Numbers 15:33

And they that found him gathering sticks brought him for judgment unto Moses and Aaron, and unto all the congregation.

Numbers 15:34

And they put him in ward; because it had not been declared what should be done to him.

Numbers 15:35

And the Lord said unto Moses, The man shall be put to death: all the congregation shall stone him with stones without the camp.

Numbers 15:36

And all the congregation brought him forth to without the camp, and they stoned him with stones, and he died; as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Numbers 15:37

And the Lord said unto Moses, as followeth,

Numbers 15:38

Speak unto the children of Israel, and say to them, that they shall make themselves fringes on the corners of their garments throughout their generations, and that they shall put upon the fringe of the corner a thread of blue:

Numbers 15:39

And it shall be unto you for a fringe, that ye may look upon it, and remember all the commandments of the Lord, and do them; and that ye seek not after [the inclination of] your own heart and [the delight of] your eyes, in pursuit of which ye have been led astray.

Numbers 15:40

In order that ye may remember, and do all my commandments, and be holy unto your God.

Numbers 15:41

I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: I am the Lord your God.

Numbers 16:1

Now Korach, the son of Yizhar, the son of Kehath, the son of Levi, was presumptuous, together with Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, and On, the son of Peleth, sons of Reuben:

Numbers 16:2

So that they rose up before Moses, with certain men of the children of Israel, in number two hundred and fifty; [who were] princes of the congregation, called to the assembly, men of renown.

Numbers 16:3

And they assembled themselves against Moses, and against Aaron, and said unto them, Ye assume too much; for the whole of the congregation are all of them holy, and the Lord is among them; wherefore then will you lift yourselves up above the congregation of the Lord?

Numbers 16:4

And when Moses heard it, he fell upon his face:

Numbers 16:5

And he spoke unto Korach and unto all his company, saying, Tomorrow,—then will the Lord make known who is his, and who is holy, that he may cause them to come near unto him; and him whom he shall choose will he cause to come near unto him.

Numbers 16:6

This do ye: Take yourselves censers, Korach and all his company;

Numbers 16:7

And put therein fire, and put upon them incense before the Lord, tomorrow; and it shall be that the man whom the Lord will choose, he shall be the holy one; you assume too much, ye sons of Levi.

Numbers 16:8

And Moses said unto Korach, Hear, I pray you, ye sons of Levi:

Numbers 16:9

It is too little for you, that the God of Israel hath separated you from the congregation of Israel, to bring you near unto himself, to do the service of the tabernacle of the Lord, and to stand before the congregation to minister for them?

Numbers 16:10

And he hath brought thee near, and all thy brethren the sons of Levi with thee: and now will ye seek the priesthood also?

Numbers 16:11

For which cause [beware], thou and all thy company that are gathered together against the Lord; for Aaron, what is he, that ye should murmur against him:

Numbers 16:12

And Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab; but they said, We will not come up:

Numbers 16:13

Is it too little that thou hast brought us up out of a land flowing with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness, that thou wilt assume to make thyself also a prince over us?

Numbers 16:14

Moreover thou hast not brought us into a land flowing with milk and honey, and thou hast not given us inheritance of fields and vineyards: wilt thou bore out the eyes of these men? we will not come up.

Numbers 16:15

And this displeased Moses greatly, and he said unto the Lord, Have no respect unto their offering: I have not taken away an ass of any one of them, nor have I done wrong to any one of them.

Numbers 16:16

And Moses said unto Korach, Thou and all thy company, be ye before the Lord, thou, and they, and Aaron, tomorrow:

Numbers 16:17

And take ye every man his censer, and put incense upon them, and bring ye near before the Lord every man his censer, two hundred and fifty censers; thou also, and Aaron, each his censer.

Numbers 16:18

And they took every man his censer, and put fire on them, and laid incense thereupon; and they stood at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation with Moses and Aaron.—

Numbers 16:19

And Korach assembled against them all the congregation unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation; and the glory of the Lord then appeared unto all the congregation.

Numbers 16:20

And the Lord spoke unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying,

Numbers 16:21

Separate yourselves from the midst of this congregation, and I will make an end of them in a moment.

Numbers 16:22

And they fell upon their faces, and said, O God, the God of the spirits of all flesh, this one man doth sin, and with all the congregation wouldst thou be wroth!

Numbers 16:23

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Numbers 16:24

Speak unto the congregation, saying, Get you away from about the dwelling of Korach, Dathan, and Abiram.

Numbers 16:25

And Moses rose up and went unto Dathan and Abiram; and there went after him the elders of Israel.

Numbers 16:26

And he spoke unto the congregation, saying, Depart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing which belongeth to them, lest ye be destroyed through all their sins.

Numbers 16:27

So they got away from the dwelling of Korach, Dathan, and Abiram, on every side: and Dathan and Abiram came out, standing [boldly] at the door of their tents, with their wives, and their sons, and their little ones.

Numbers 16:28

And Moses said, Through this shall ye know that the Lord hath sent me to do all these deeds; that [I have] not done them out of my own heart.

Numbers 16:29

If these men die as all men die, and if the visitation of all men be visited on them: then hath the Lord not sent me.

Numbers 16:30

But if the Lord do create a new thing, and the earth open her mouth, and swallow them up, with all that appertaineth unto them, and they go down alive into the pit: then shall ye understand that these men have provoked the Lord.

Numbers 16:31

And it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground that was under them was cloven asunder:

Numbers 16:32

And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Korach, and all their goods.

Numbers 16:33

And they went down, they, and all they that appertained to them, alive into the pit; and the earth closed over them, and they disappeared from the midst of the congregation.

Numbers 16:34

And all Israel that were round about them fled at their cry; for they said, Perhaps the earth may swallow us up [also].

Numbers 16:35

And there came out a fire from the Lord, and consumed the two hundred and fifty men that had offered the incense.

Numbers 16:36 (17:1)

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Numbers 16:37 (17:2)

Speak unto Elazar the son of Aaron the priest, that he lift up the censers out of the burning, and throw out the fire far away; for they have been hallowed:

Numbers 16:38 (17:3)

The censers of these sinners against their own lives; and they shall make of them broad plates for a covering for the altar; for they brought them near before the Lord, and they have thus become hallowed; and they shall serve for a sign unto the children of Israel.

Numbers 16:39 (17:4)

And Elazar the priest took the copper censers, which they that were burnt had brought near; and they beat them out for a covering unto the altar:

Numbers 16:40 (17:5)

As a memorial unto the children of Israel, in order that no stranger, who is not of the seed of Aaron, should come near to burn incense before the Lord; that he become not as Korach, and as his company; as the Lord had spoken to him by the hand of Moses.

Numbers 16:41 (17:6)

And all the congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron, on the morrow, saying, It is you who have caused the people of the Lord to die.

Numbers 16:42 (17:7)

And it came to pass, when the congregation assembled against Moses and against Aaron, that they looked toward the tabernacle of the congregation, and, behold, the cloud covered it; and the glory of the Lord appeared.

Numbers 16:43 (17:8)

And Moses came with Aaron before the tabernacle of the congregation.

Numbers 16:44 (17:9)

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Numbers 16:45 (17:10)

Remove yourselves from the midst of this congregation, that I may consume them in a moment. And they fell upon their faces.

Numbers 16:46 (17:11)

And Moses said unto Aaron, Take the censer, and put therein fire from off the altar, and put on incense, and carry [it] quickly unto the congregation, and make an atonement for them; for the wrath is gone forth from the Lord; the plague hath begun.

Numbers 16:47 (17:12)

And Aaron took as Moses had commanded, and he ran into the midst of the assembly; and, behold, the plague had begun among the people: and he put on the incense, and made an atonement for the people.

Numbers 16:48 (17:13)

And he stood between the dead and the living; and the plague was stayed.

Numbers 16:49 (17:14)

And those who died in the plague were fourteen thousand and seven hundred, besides those that had died about the matter of Korach.

Numbers 16:50 (17:15)

And Aaron returned unto Moses, to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, after the plague had been stayed.

Numbers 17:1 (17:16)

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Numbers 17:2 (17:17)

Speak unto the children of Israel, and take from them one staff each for a family division, from all their princes, according to their family divisions, twelve staves: the name of each man shalt thou write upon his staff.

Numbers 17:3 (17:18)

And the name of Aaron shalt thou write upon the staff of Levi; for there shall be but one staff for the head of their family division.

Numbers 17:4 (17:19)

And thou shalt lay them down in the tabernacle of the congregation before the testimony, where I usually meet with you.

Numbers 17:5 (17:20)

And it shall come to pass, that the staff of the man whom I shall choose, shall blossom: and I will allay from around me the murmurings of the children of Israel, which they murmur against you.

Numbers 17:6 (17:21)

And Moses spoke unto the children of Israel, and all their princes gave him each a staff, one for every prince, according to their family divisions, twelve staves: and the staff of Aaron was among their staves.

Numbers 17:7 (17:22)

And Moses laid down the staves before the Lord in the tabernacle of the testimony.

Numbers 17:8 (17:23)

And it came to pass on the morrow, that as Moses went into the tabernacle of the testimony, behold, the staff of Aaron for the house of Levi had budded; and it brought forth buds, and produced blossoms, and yielded ripe almonds.

Numbers 17:9 (17:24)

And Moses brought out all the staves from before the Lord unto all the children of Israel; and they looked [at them], and took away every one his staff.

Numbers 17:10 (17:25)

And the Lord said unto Moses, Carry back the staff of Aaron before the testimony, to be kept as a token against the children of rebellion, that there may be an end of their murmurings from around me, and they die not.

Numbers 17:11 (17:26)

And Moses did so; as the Lord had commanded him, so did he.

Numbers 17:12 (17:27)

And the children of Israel said unto Moses, thus, Behold, we perish, we are lost, we are all lost.

Numbers 17:13 (17:28)

Every one that cometh near at all unto the tabernacle of the Lord must die: shall we totally perish?

Numbers 18:1

And the Lord said unto Aaron, Thou and thy sons and thy father's house with thee shall bear the iniquity of the sanctuary; and thou and thy sons with thee shall bear the iniquity of your priesthood.

Numbers 18:2

And also thy brethren, the tribe of Levi, the tribe of thy father, bring thou near with thee, that they may be joined with thee, and minister unto thee; while thou and thy sons with thee shall be before the tabernacle of the testimony.

Numbers 18:3

And they shall keep thy charge, and the charge of all the tabernacle: only unto the vessels of the sanctuary and unto the altar shall they not come near, that they may not die, either they or you.

Numbers 18:4

And they shall be joined unto thee, and keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, respecting all the service of the tabernacle: and a stranger shall not come nigh unto you.

Numbers 18:5

And ye shall keep the charge of the sanctuary, and the charge of the altar; that there be not any more wrath upon the children of Israel.

Numbers 18:6

And I, behold, I have taken your brethren the Levites from the midst of the children of Israel; unto you are they given as a gift for the Lord, to perform the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.

And thou and thy sons with thee shall keep your priesthood concerning every matter of the altar, and for that within the vail, where ye shall serve: as a service of gift do I give you your priesthood; and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

Numbers 18:8

And the Lord spoke unto Aaron, And I, behold, I give thee the charge of my heave-offerings; of all the hallowed things of the children of Israel, unto thee have I given them as an official portion, and to thy sons, as a fixed right for ever.

Numbers 18:9

This shall belong to thee of the most holy things, from the fire-[offerings]: every oblation of theirs, namely, every meat-offering of theirs, and every sin-offering of theirs, and every, trespass-offering of theirs, which they shall render unto me, shall, as most holy things, belong to thee and to thy sons.

Numbers 18:10

In a most holy place shalt thou eat it: every male shall eat it; holy shall it be unto thee.

Numbers 18:11

And this shall be thine, as the heave-offering of their gift, of all the wave-offerings of the children of Israel; unto thee have I given them, and to thy sons and to thy daughters with thee, as a fixed portion for ever: every one that is clean in thy house may eat thereof.

Numbers 18:12

All the best of oil, and all the best of wine, and of corn, the first-fruits thereof which they shall offer unto the Lord, to thee have I given them.

Numbers 18:13

The first ripe fruit of whatsoever is in their land, which they may bring unto the Lord, shall be thine: every one that is clean in thy house may eat thereof.

Numbers 18:14

Every thing devoted in Israel shall be thine.

Numbers 18:15

Whatever openeth the womb of all flesh, which they bring unto the Lord, be it of men or of cattle, shall be thine: nevertheless thou shalt redeem the first-born of man, and the firstling of the unclean cattle shalt thou redeem.

Numbers 18:16

And those that are to be redeemed from a month old shalt thou redeem, according to the usual estimation of five shekels of silver, after the shekel of the sanctuary, which is twenty gerahs.

Numbers 18:17

But the firstling of an ox, or the firstling of a sheep, or the firstling of a goat, thou shalt not redeem; they are holy: their blood shalt thou sprinkle upon the altar, and their fat shalt thou burn as a fire-offering, for a sweet savor unto the Lord.

Numbers 18:18

And their flesh shall be thine: as the breast that is waved and as the right shoulder shall it be thine.

Numbers 18:19

All the heave-offerings of the holy things, which the children of Israel set apart unto the Lord, I have given to thee, and to thy sons and to thy daughters with thee, as a fixed portion for ever: it is a covenant of salt for ever before the Lord for thee and for thy seed with thee.

Numbers 18:20

And the Lord said unto Aaron, In their land shalt thou have no inheritance, and any portion shalt thou not have among them: I am thy portion and thy inheritance among the children of Israel.

Numbers 18:21

And to the children of Levi, behold, I have given every tithe in Israel, for an inheritance, in lieu of their service which they render, the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.

Numbers 18:22

And the children of Israel shall not henceforth come nigh unto the tabernacle of the congregation, to bear sin, to die thereby.

Numbers 18:23

But they of the tribe of Levi themselves shall perform the service of the tabernacle of the congregation, and they shall bear their iniquity: a statute for ever shall it be throughout your generations; and among the children of Israel shall they not possess any inheritance.

Numbers 18:24

But the tithes of the children of Israel, which they offer as a heave-offering unto the Lord, have I given to the Levites for an inheritance: therefore have I said unto them, Among the children of Israel shall they obtain no inheritance.

Numbers 18:25

And the Lord spoke unto Moses, saying,

Numbers 18:26

And unto the Levites shalt thou speak, and say unto them, When ye take from the children of Israel the tithes which I have given you from them for your inheritance: then shall ye separate therefrom a heave-offering of the Lord, the tenth part of the tithe.

Numbers 18:27

And your heave-offering shall be reckoned unto you, like the corn of the threshing-floor, and as the fulness of the wine-press.

And her father hear her vow, and her obligation wherewith she hath bound her soul, and her father be silent to her: then shall all her vows stand, and every obligation wherewith she hath bound her soul shall stand.

Numbers 30:5 (30:6)

But if her father disallow her on the day that he heareth it: all her vows or her obligations, wherewith she hath bound her soul, shall not stand; and the Lord will forgive her, because her father hath disallowed her.

Numbers 30:12 (30:13)

But if her husband hath annulled them on the day he heard them: then whatsoever proceeded out of her lips, concerning her vows, or concerning the obligation of her soul, shall not stand; her husband hath annulled them; and the Lord will forgive her.

Numbers 30:13 (30:14)

Every vow, and every binding oath to afflict the person, her husband may confirm it, or her husband may annul it.

Numbers 30:14 (30:15)

But if her husband should be silent to her from day to day: then hath he confirmed all her vows, or all her obligations, which are upon her; he hath confirmed them, because he was silent to her on the day that he heard them.

But if he should annul them after [the day] that he hath heard them: then shall he bear her iniquity.

Numbers 32:11

Surely none of the men that came up out of Egypt, from twenty years old and upward, shall see the land which I swore unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob; because they have not wholly followed me:

Numbers 32:12

Save Caleb the son of Yephunneh the Kenizzite, and Joshua the son of Nun; for they have wholly followed the Lord.

Numbers 32:13

And the anger of the Lord was thus kindled against Israel, and he made them wander about in the wilderness forty years, until all the generation was spent, that had done the evil in the eyes of the Lord.

And the Lord spoke unto Moses. saying,

Numbers 35:10

Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye have passed over the Jordan into the land of Canaan:

Numbers 35:11

Then ye shall appoint unto yourselves proper cities, that they be cities of refuge for you; and thither shall flee the manslayer who killeth any person at unawares.

Numbers 35:12

And these cities shall be unto you for a refuge from the avenger; that the manslayer die not, until he have stood before the congregation for trial.

Numbers 35:13

And the cities which ye shall give, shall be six cities of refuge unto you;

Numbers 35:14

Three of these cities shall ye give on this side of the Jordan, and the three other cities shall ye give in the land of Canaan: cities of refuge shall they be.

Numbers 35:15

For the children of Israel, and for the stranger, and for the sojourner among them, shall these six cities be for a refuge: that every one may flee thither that killeth any person at unawares.

Numbers 35:16

And if he have smitten him with an instrument of iron, so that he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.

Numbers 35:17

And if he have smitten him with a stone which one can take in the hand, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.

Numbers 35:18

Or if he have smitten him with an article of wood, which one can take in the hand, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.

Numbers 35:19

The avenger of the blood himself shall slay the murderer; when he meeteth him, shall he slay him.

Numbers 35:20

And if he push against him out of hatred, or he have hurled at him [any thing] by lying in wait, that he die;

Numbers 35:21

Or if in enmity he have smitten him with his hand, that he died, he that smote him shall surely be put to death; [for] he is a murderer: the avenger of the blood shall slay the murderer, when he meeteth with him.

Numbers 35:22

But if he have pushed against him accidentally without enmity, or have cast upon him any thing without lying in wait,

Numbers 35:23

Or with any stone wherewith a man may die, without seeing him, and he have let it fall upon him that he died; whereas he was not his enemy, and did not seek his harm:

Numbers 35:24

Then shall the congregation judge between the slayer and the avenger of the blood according to these institutions;

Numbers 35:25

And the congregation shall deliver the manslayer out of the hand of the avenger of the blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the city of his refuge, whither he had fled; and he shall abide in it until the death of the high-priest, who hath been anointed with the holy oil.

Numbers 35:26

But if the manslayer should at any time pass the boundary of the city of his refuge, whither he may have fled;

Numbers 35:27

And the avenger of the blood should find him beyond the boundary of the city of his refuge, and the avenger of the blood should kill the manslayer: he shall not be guilty of blood;

Numbers 35:28

Because in the city of his refuge shall he remain until the death of the high-priest; but after the death of the high-priest the manslayer may return unto the land of his possession.

Numbers 35:29

And these things shall be unto you for a statute of justice throughout your generations, in all your dwellings.

Numbers 35:30

Whoever it be that killeth a person, according to the testimony of witnesses shall the murderer be put to death; but one witness shall not testify against any person to cause him to die.

Numbers 35:31

Moreover ye shall take no redemption money for the person of a murderer, who is guilty of death; but he shall surely be put to death.

Numbers 35:32

And ye shall take no redemption money for him that hath fled to the city of his refuge, that he should come again to dwell in the land, until the death of the priest.

Numbers 35:33

And ye shall not defile the land wherein ye are; for the blood it is which defileth the land: and no atonement can be made unto the land for the blood which hath been shed therein, except through the blood of him that hath shed it.

Numbers 35:34

And ye shall not render unclean the land which ye inhabit, in the midst of which I dwell; for I the Lord dwell in the midst of the children of Israel.

Numbers 36:1

And there came near the chiefs of the divisions of the family of the children of Gil'ad, the son of Machir, the son of Menasseh, of the families of the sons of Joseph; and they spoke before Moses, and before the princes, the chiefs of the divisions of the children of Israel;

Numbers 36:2

And they said, the Lord hath commanded my Lord to give the land for an inheritance by lot to the children of Israel; and my Lord hath been commanded by the Lord to give the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother unto his daughters.

Numbers 36:3

And if they become the wives of any of the sons of the [other] tribes of the children of Israel: then will their inheritance be taken from the inheritance of our fathers, and be added to the inheritance of the tribe whereamong they may be married; and from the lot of our inheritance will it be taken away.

Numbers 36:4

And whenever the jubilee shall be to the children of Israel: then will their inheritance be added unto the inheritance of the tribe whereamong they may be married; and from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers will their inheritance be taken away.

Numbers 36:5

And Moses commanded the children of Israel by the order of the Lord, saying, the tribe of the sons of Joseph have spoken well.

Numbers 36:6

This is the thing which the Lord hath commanded concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, saying, To those who are pleasing in their eyes may they become wives; however only to the family of the tribe of their father shall they become wives.

Numbers 36:7

And the inheritance of the children of Israel shall not pass from tribe to tribe; but the children of Israel shall adhere every one to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.

Numbers 36:8

And every daughter that inheriteth any possession out of any tribe of the children of Israel, shall become the wife unto one of the family of the tribe of her father; in order that the children of Israel may inherit every one the inheritance of his fathers.

Numbers 36:9

And no inheritance shall pass from one tribe to another tribe; but the tribes of the children of Israel shall adhere, every one, to his own inheritance.

Numbers 36:10

Even as the Lord had commanded Moses, so did the daughters of Zelophehad;

Numbers 36:11

And Machlah, Tirzah, and Choglah, and Milcah, and No'ah, the daughters of Zelophehad became the wives of the sons of their uncles.

Numbers 36:12

[To persons] of the families of the sons of Menasseh the son of Joseph did they become wives, and their inheritance remained in the tribe of the family of their father.

Numbers 36:13

These are the commandments and the ordinances, which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses unto the children of Israel, in the plain of Moab by the Jordan opposite Jericho.

DEUTERONOMY

Deuteronomy 1:1

These are the words which Moses spoke unto all Israel on this side of the Jordan, in the wilderness, in the plain opposite Suph, between Paran, and Tophel, and Laban, and Chazeroth, and Di-zahab.

Deuteronomy 1:2

It is a journey of eleven days from Horeb by the way of mount Seir unto Kadesh-barnea'.

Deuteronomy 1:3

And it came to pass in the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first day of the month, that Moses spoke unto the children of Israel, according to all that the Lord had commanded him concerning them;

Deuteronomy 1:4

After he had smitten Sichon the king of the Emorites, who dwelt in Cheshbon, and 'Og the king of Bashan, who dwelt at 'Ashtaroth in Edre'i.

Deuteronomy 1:5

On this side of the Jordan, in the land of Moab, began Moses to explain this law, saying,

Deuteronomy 1:6

The Lord our God spoke unto us in Horeb, saying, Ye have tarried long enough at this mount;

Deuteronomy 1:7

Turn you, and take your journey, and go to the mountain of the Emorites, and unto all its neighboring places, in the plain, in the mountain, and in the lowlands, and in the southern country, and by the coast of the sea, to the land of the Canaanites, and unto the Lebanon, up to the great river, the river Euphrates.

Deuteronomy 1:8

Behold, I have given up the land before you: go in and take possession of the land which the Lord hath sworn unto your fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give it unto them and to their seed after them.

Deuteronomy 1:9

And I said unto you at that time, as followeth, I am not able alone to bear you:

Deuteronomy 1:10

The Lord your God hath multiplied you, and, behold, ye are this day as the stars of heaven for multitude.

Deuteronomy 1:11

May the Lord the God of your fathers make you a thousand times as many more as ye are; and bless you, as he hath spoken unto you.

Deuteronomy 1:12

How can I by myself alone bear your cumbrance, and your burden, and your strife!

Deuteronomy 1:13

Furnish for yourselves wise and understanding men, and those known among your tribes, and I will place them as chiefs over you.

Deuteronomy 1:14

And ye answered me, and said, The thing which thou hast spoken is good to do.

Deuteronomy 1:15

And I took the chiefs of your tribes, wise and known men, and I set them as heads over you, captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, and captains over fifties, and captains over tens, and as officers for your tribes.

Deuteronomy 1:16

And I commanded your judges at that time, saying, Hear the causes between your brethren, and judge righteously, between a man and his brother, and between his stranger.

Deuteronomy 1:17

Ye shall not respect persons in judgment; the small as well as the great shall ye hear; ye shall not be afraid of any man; for the judgment belongeth to God: and the cause that is too hard for you shall ye bring unto me, and I will hear it.

Deuteronomy 1:18

And I commanded you at that time all the things which ye should do.

Deuteronomy 1:19

And we departed from Horeb, and we went through all that great and terrible wilderness, which ye have seen, by the way of the mountain of the Emorites, as the Lord our God had commanded us; and we came as far as Kadesh–barnea’.

Deuteronomy 1:20

And I said unto you, Ye are come unto the mountain of the Emorites, which the Lord our God doth give unto us.

Deuteronomy 1:21

Behold, the Lord thy God hath given up the land before thee: go up and take possession of it, as the Lord the God of thy fathers hath spoken unto thee; do not fear, and be not discouraged.

Deuteronomy 1:22

And ye all came near unto me and said, Let us send out men before us, that they may search out for us the land, and bring us word again concerning the way by which we must go up, and the cities to which we shall come.

Deuteronomy 1:23

And the thing was pleasing in my eyes; and I took of you twelve men, one man for every tribe:

Deuteronomy 1:24

And they turned and went up into the mountain, and came unto the valley of Eshcol, and spied it out.

Deuteronomy 1:25

And they took in their hand some of the fruit of the land, and brought it down unto us; and they brought us word again, and said, The land which the Lord our God doth give us is good.

Deuteronomy 1:26

But you would not go up, and ye rebelled against the order of the Lord your God;

Deuteronomy 1:27

And ye murmured in your tents, and said, On account of the hatred of the Lord toward us, hath he brought us forth out of the land of Egypt, to deliver us into the hand of the Emorites, to destroy us.

Deuteronomy 1:28

Whither shall we go up? our brethren have made faint our heart, saying, The people is greater and taller than we; the cities are great and fortified up to heaven; and moreover the sons of the 'Anakim have we seen there.

Deuteronomy 1:29

And I said unto you, Have no dread, nor be ye afraid of them.

Deuteronomy 1:30

The Lord your God who goeth before you, he it is who will fight for you; all just as he did for you in Egypt before your eyes;

Deuteronomy 1:31

And in the wilderness which thou hast seen, where the Lord thy God bore thee, as a man doth bear his son, on all the way that ye have gone, until ye came unto this place.

Deuteronomy 1:32

Yet in this thing do ye not believe in the Lord your God,

Deuteronomy 1:33

Who goeth before you on the way to seek out for you a place for your encamping, in fire by night, to cause you to see on the way in which ye are to go, and in a cloud by day.

Deuteronomy 1:34

And the Lord heard the voice of your words; and he was wroth, and swore, saying,

Deuteronomy 1:35

Surely there shall not one of these men of this evil generation see that good land, which I have sworn to give unto your fathers;

Deuteronomy 1:36

Save Caleb the son of Yephunneh, he shall see it, and to him will I give the land upon which he hath trodden, and to his children; because he hath wholly followed the Lord.

Deuteronomy 1:37

also with me was the Lord angry for your sakes, saying, also thou shalt not go in thither.

Deuteronomy 1:38

Joshua the son of Nun, who standeth before thee, he shall go in thither: him encourage; for he shall cause Israel to inherit it.

Deuteronomy 1:39

And your little ones, of whom ye said, They will become a prey, and your children who know not this day either good or evil, these shall go in thither; and unto them will I give it, and they shall possess it.

Deuteronomy 1:40

But as for you, turn you, and take your journey into the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea.

Deuteronomy 1:41

And ye answered and said unto me, We have sinned against the Lord; we indeed will go up and we will fight, according to all that the Lord our God hath commanded us; and ye girded on every man his weapons of war, and ye insisted to go up into the mountain.

Deuteronomy 1:42

And the Lord said unto me, Say unto them, Go not up, and do not fight; for I am not among you; lest ye be smitten before your enemies.

Deuteronomy 1:43

And I spoke unto you; but ye would not hear; and ye rebelled against the order of the Lord, and you were presumptuous, and went up into the mountain.

Deuteronomy 1:44

And the Emorites, who dwelt in that mountain: came out against you, and they pursued you, as the bees do, and they overthrew you in Seir, as far as Chormah.

Deuteronomy 1:45

And ye returned and wept before the Lord; but the Lord hearkened not to your voice, nor gave ear unto you.

Deuteronomy 1:46

And ye tarried in Kadesh many days, according unto the days that ye tarried there.

Deuteronomy 2:1

Then we turned, and took our journey into the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea, as the Lord had spoken unto me: and we traveled around mount Seir many days.

Deuteronomy 2:2

And the Lord said unto me, as followeth,

Deuteronomy 2:3

Ye have traveled long enough around this mountain; turn yourselves northward.

Deuteronomy 2:4

And the people command thou, saying, Ye are passing by the border of your brethren the children of Esau, who dwell in Seir; and they will be afraid of you; therefore take ye good heed unto yourselves;

Deuteronomy 2:5

Do not contend with them; for I will not give unto you of their land, even so much as a foot's breadth; because unto Esau have I given mount Seir for an inheritance.

Deuteronomy 2:6

Food shall ye buy of them for money, that ye may eat; and water also shall ye buy of them for money, that ye may drink.

Deuteronomy 2:7

For the Lord thy God hath blessed thee in all the works of thy hand; he hath provided for thy wandering through this great wilderness: these forty years the Lord thy God hath been with thee; thou hast lacked nothing.

Deuteronomy 2:8

And we passed away from our brethren the children of Esau, who dwell in Seir, from the way through the plain, from Elath, and from 'Ezyon-gaber. And we turned and passed the way of the wilderness of Moab.

Deuteronomy 2:9

And the Lord said unto me, Do not attack the Moabites, nor contend with them in battle; for I will not give thee from their land any inheritance, because unto the children of Lot have I given 'Ar for an inheritance.

Deuteronomy 2:10

The Emim in times past dwelt therein, a people great, and numerous, and tall as the 'Anakim;

Deuteronomy 2:11

As Rephaim were also they accounted, equally with the 'Anakim; and the Moabites called them Emim.

Deuteronomy 2:12

And in Seir dwelt the Chorim in times past; but the children of Esau drove them out, and they destroyed them from before them, and dwelt in their stead; as Israel hath done unto the land of his inheritance, which the Lord hath given unto them.

Deuteronomy 2:13

Now rise up, and get you over the brook Zered; and we passed over the brook Zered.

Deuteronomy 2:14

And the time which we came from Kadesh-barnea', until we had passed over the brook Zered, was thirty and eight years; until all the generation of the men of war were spent from out the midst of the camp, as the Lord had sworn unto them.

Deuteronomy 2:15

And also the hand of the Lord was against them, to destroy them from the midst of the camp; until they were spent.

Deuteronomy 2:16

So it came to pass, when all the men of war were spent by, dying from the midst of the people,

Deuteronomy 2:17

That the Lord spoke unto me, saying,

Deuteronomy 2:18

Thou art passing this day by the border of Moab, by 'Ar,

Deuteronomy 2:19

And thou comest nigh opposite the children of 'Ammon: do not attack them, nor contend with them; for I will not give unto thee of the land of the children of 'Ammon any inheritance; because unto the children of Lot have I given it for an inheritance.

Deuteronomy 2:20

As the land of Rephaim was it also accounted: Rephaim dwelt therein in times past; and the 'Ammonites called them Zamzummim;

Deuteronomy 2:21

A people great, and numerous, and tall, as the 'Anakim; but the Lord destroyed them before them; and they drove them out, and dwelt in their stead:

Deuteronomy 2:22

As he hath done to the children of Esau, who dwell in Seir, from before whom he destroyed the Chorim; and they drove them out and dwelt in their stead, even unto this day.

Deuteronomy 2:23

And the 'Avvim, who dwelt in open towns, as far as unto Gazzah,—the Capthorim, who came forth out of Capthor, destroyed them, and dwelt in their stead.

Deuteronomy 2:24

Rise ye up, set forward, and pass over the brook Arnon; behold I have given into thy hand Sichon the king of Cheshbon, the Emorite, and his land: begin to drive him out, and contend with him in battle.

Deuteronomy 2:25

This day will I begin to put the dread of thee and the fear of thee upon the nations that are under the whole heaven; whoever will hear the report of thee, shall tremble, and shall quake because of thee.

Deuteronomy 2:26

And I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kedemoth unto Sichon, the king of Cheshbon, with words of peace, saying,

Deuteronomy 2:27

Let me pass through thy land: always by the highway will I go along; I will not turn unto the right hand or unto the left.

Deuteronomy 2:28

Food shalt thou sell me for money, that I may eat; and water for money shalt thou give me, that I may drink: only let me pass through on foot;

Deuteronomy 2:29

(As the children of Esau who dwell in Seir, and the Moabites who dwell in 'Ar, have done unto me:) until that I shall pass over the Jordan into the land which the Lord our God giveth us.

Deuteronomy 2:30

But Sichon, the king of Cheshbon, would not suffer our passing by him; for the Lord thy God had hardened his spirit, and had made obstinate his heart, that he might deliver him into thy hand, as [hath happened] this day.

Deuteronomy 2:31

And the Lord said unto me, Behold, I have begun to give up Sichon and his land before thee: begin to drive him out, that thou mayest inherit his land.

Deuteronomy 2:32

And Sichon came out against us, he and all his people, to the battle at Yahaz.

Deuteronomy 2:33

And the Lord our God gave him up before us; and we smote him, and his sons, and all his people.

Deuteronomy 2:34

And we conquered all his cities at that time, and devoted every inhabited city, and the women, and the little ones; we left none that escaped.

Deuteronomy 2:35

Only the cattle we took as booty unto ourselves, and the spoil of the cities which we had captured.

Deuteronomy 2:36

From 'Aro'er, which is by the bank of the brook of Arnon, and the city that is in the brook, even unto Gil'ad, there was not one city which was too strong for us; the whole did the Lord our God give up before us.

Deuteronomy 2:37

Only unto the land of the children of 'Ammon didst thou not come nigh, unto the whole margin of the brook Yabbok, and the cities in the mountain, and unto whatsoever the Lord our God had forbidden us.

Deuteronomy 3:1

And we turned, and went up the way to Bashan; and 'Og the king of Bashan came out against us, he and all his people, to the battle at Edre'i.

Deuteronomy 3:2

And the Lord said unto me, Fear him not; for into thy hand have I given him, and all his people, and his land; and thou shalt do unto him as thou hast done unto Sichon, the king of the Emorites, who dwelt at Cheshbon.

Deuteronomy 3:3

And the Lord our God gave into our hands also 'Og the king of Bashan, and all his people; and we smote him until none was left to him who escaped.

Deuteronomy 3:4

And we conquered all his cities at that time, there was not a city which we took not from them, sixty cities, all the region of Argob, the kingdom of 'Og in Bashan.

Deuteronomy 3:5

all these were fortified cities, with high walls, gates, and bars; besides the unwalled towns, which were a great many.

Deuteronomy 3:6

And we devoted them, as we had done unto Sichon the king of Cheshbon, devoting every inhabited city, the women, and the little ones.

Deuteronomy 3:7

But all the cattle, and the spoil of the cities, we took as booty to ourselves.

Deuteronomy 3:8

And we took at that time out of the hand of the two kings of the Emorites the land which is on this side of the Jordan, from the river of Arnon unto mount Chermon;

Deuteronomy 3:9

(The Sidonians call Chermon Siryon; and the Emorites call it Senir;)

Deuteronomy 3:10

All the cities of the plain, and all Gil'ad, and all Bashan, unto Salchah and Edrei, the cities of the kingdom of 'Og in Bashan.

Deuteronomy 3:11

For only 'Og the king of Bashan had been left of the remnant of the Rephaim; behold, his bedstead was a bedstead of iron; lo! it is in Rabbah of the children of 'Ammon: nine cubits is its length, and four cubits its breadth, after the arm of a man.

Deuteronomy 3:12

And of this land, of which we took possession at that time, from 'Aro'er, which is by the river Arnon, and half mount Gil'ad, and the cities thereof, I gave unto the Reubenites and to the Gadites.

Deuteronomy 3:13

And the rest of Gil'ad, and all Bashan, the kingdom of 'Og, I gave unto the half tribe of Menasseh: all the region of Argob, with all Bashan, this is called the land of Rephaim.

Deuteronomy 3:14

Yair the son of Menasseh took all the region of Argob up to the border of the Geshurites and the Ma-'achathites; and he called them the [land of] Bashan, after his own name, the villages of Yair, unto this day.

Deuteronomy 3:15

And unto Machir I gave Gil'ad.

Deuteronomy 3:16

And unto the Reubenites and unto the Gadites I gave from Gil'ad even unto the brook Arnon, the land within the river and that adjoining, even unto the brook Yabbok, the border of the children of 'Ammon;

Deuteronomy 3:17

The plain also, and the Jordan, and the adjoining land, from Kinnereth even unto the sea of the plain, the Salt Sea, under the declivities of Pisgah, eastward.

Deuteronomy 3:18

And I commanded you at that time, saying, The Lord your God hath given you this land to possess it: armed shall ye pass over before your brethren the children of Israel, all that are fit to bear arms.

Deuteronomy 3:19

But your wives, and your little ones, and your cattle, (I know that ye have much cattle,) shall abide in your cities which I have given you;

Deuteronomy 3:20

Until that the Lord have given rest unto your brethren, as well as unto you, and they also have taken possession of the land which the Lord your God giveth them beyond the Jordan: then shall ye return every man unto his possession which I have given you.

Deuteronomy 3:21

And Joshua also I commanded at that time, saying, Thy own eyes have seen all that the Lord your God hath done unto these two kings: thus will the Lord do unto all the kingdoms whither thou passest.

Deuteronomy 3:22

Ye shall not fear them; for the Lord your God it is who fighteth for you.

Deuteronomy 3:23

And I besought the Lord at that time, saying,

Deuteronomy 3:24

O Lord Eternal, thou hast begun to show thy servant thy greatness, and thy mighty hand; for what God is there in heaven or on earth, that can do aught like thy works, and like thy mighty deeds?

Deuteronomy 3:25

Let me go over, I pray thee, that I may see the good land which is on the other side of the Jordan, this goodly mountain, and the Lebanon.

Deuteronomy 3:26

But the Lord was wroth with me for your sakes, and he would not hear me: and the Lord said unto me, Let it suffice thee; do not continue to speak unto me any more of this matter.

Deuteronomy 3:27

Get thee up unto the top of Pisgah, and lift up thy eyes, westward, and northward, and southward, and eastward, and behold it with thy eyes; for thou shalt not pass over this Jordan.

Deuteronomy 3:28

And do thou charge Joshua, and strengthen him, and encourage him; for he shall go over before this people, and he shall divide out to them the land which thou shalt see.

Deuteronomy 3:29

And we abode in the valley opposite Beth-peor.

Deuteronomy 4:1

And now, O Israel, hearken unto the statutes and unto the ordinances which I teach you to do; in order that ye may live, and go in and take possession of the land which the Lord, the God of your fathers, giveth unto you.

Deuteronomy 4:2

Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, nor shall ye diminish aught from it; that ye may keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you.

Deuteronomy 4:3

Your own eyes have seen that which the Lord hath done because of Baal-peor; for every man that followed Baal-peor, him the Lord thy God hath destroyed from the midst of thee.

Deuteronomy 4:4

But ye that did cleave unto the Lord your God, are alive, every one of you, this day.

Deuteronomy 4:5

See, I have taught you statutes and ordinances, just as the Lord my God commanded me; that ye may do so in the midst of the land whither ye go to take possession of it.

Deuteronomy 4:6

Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding before the eyes of the nations, that shall hear all these statutes, and they will say, Nothing but a wise and understanding people is this great nation.

Deuteronomy 4:7

For what great nation is there that hath gods so nigh unto it, as is the Lord our God at all times that we call upon him.

Deuteronomy 4:8

And what great nation is there that hath statutes and ordinances so righteous as is all this law, which I lay before you this day?

Deuteronomy 4:9

Only take heed to thyself, and guard thy soul diligently, that thou do not forget the things which thy eyes have seen, and that they depart not from thy heart all the days of thy life; but thou shalt make them known unto thy sons, and unto thy sons' sons;

Deuteronomy 4:10

The day that thou stoodest before the Lord thy God at Horeb, when the Lord said unto me, Assemble for me the people, and I will cause them to hear my words, which they shall learn, to fear me all the days that they shall live upon the earth, and which they shall teach their children.

Deuteronomy 4:11

And ye came near and stood at the foot of the mount; and the mount was burning with fire unto the midst of the heaven, [from amidst] darkness, clouds, and thick darkness.

Deuteronomy 4:12

And the Lord spoke unto you out of the midst of the fire; the sound of words ye heard, but any similitude ye saw not: there was nothing but a sound.

Deuteronomy 4:13

And he told unto you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, the ten commandments; and he wrote them upon two tables of stone.

Deuteronomy 4:14

And me the Lord commanded at that time to teach you statutes and ordinances, that ye might do them in the land whither ye go over to possess it.

Deuteronomy 4:15

Take ye therefore good heed of your souls; for ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the Lord spoke unto you at Horeb out of the midst of the fire:

Deuteronomy 4:16

That ye become not corrupt, and make yourselves a graven image, the similitude of any idol-figure, the likeness of a male or of a female,

Deuteronomy 4:17

The likeness of any beast that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged fowl that flieth in the air of heaven,

Deuteronomy 4:18

The likeness of any thing that creepeth on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the waters beneath the earth;

Deuteronomy 4:19

And that thou lift not up thy eyes unto the heavens, and thou see the sun, and the moon, and the stars, all the host of heaven, and be misled to bow down to them, and to serve them, those which the Lord thy God hath assigned unto all nations under the whole heaven.

Deuteronomy 4:20

But you did the Lord take, and he brought you forth out of the iron furnace, out of Egypt, to be unto you a people of inheritance, as ye are this day.

Deuteronomy 4:21

Farthermore the Lord was angry with me for your sakes, and he swore that I should not go over the Jordan, and that I should not go in unto that good land, which the Lord thy God giveth unto thee for an inheritance;

Deuteronomy 4:22

For I must die in this land; I shall not go over the Jordan; but ye will go over and take possession of this good land.

Deuteronomy 4:23

Take heed unto yourselves, that ye do not forget the covenant of the Lord your God, which he hath made with you, and make yourselves a graven image, the likeness of any thing, which the Lord thy God hath forbidden thee.

Deuteronomy 4:24

For the Lord thy God is a consuming fire; yea, a watchful God.

Deuteronomy 4:25

When thou begettest children, and children's children, and ye shall have remained long in the land, and ye become corrupt, and make a graven image, the likeness of any thing, and do the evil in the eyes of the Lord thy God, to provoke him to anger:

Deuteronomy 4:26

Behold, to the Lord thy God belong the heavens and the heavens of heavens, and the earth with all that is thereon;

Deuteronomy 10:15

Yet only in thy fathers had the Lord delight, to love them; he chose, therefore, their seed after them, namely you, from all the nations, as it is this day.

Deuteronomy 10:16

Remove therefore the obduracy of your heart, and be no more stiff-necked.

Deuteronomy 10:17

For the Lord your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of lords, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who hath no regard to persons, and taketh no bribe;

Deuteronomy 10:18

Who executeth justice for the fatherless and the widow, and loveth the stranger, to give him food and raiment.

Deuteronomy 10:19

Love ye then the stranger; for you have been strangers in the land of Egypt.

Deuteronomy 10:20

The Lord thy God shalt thou fear: him shalt thou serve, and to him shalt thou cleave, and by his name shalt thou swear.

Deuteronomy 10:21

He is thy praise, and he is thy God, who hath done for thee these great and fearful things, which thy own eyes have seen.

Deuteronomy 10:22

With seventy persons did thy fathers go down into Egypt; and now the Lord thy God hath made thee like the stars of heaven in multitude.

Deuteronomy 11:1

Thou shalt therefore love the Lord thy God, and keep his charge, and his statutes, and his ordinances, and his commandments, all the days.

Deuteronomy 11:2

And ye shall know this day, that [I speak] not with your children who have not known, and who have not seen the chastisement of the Lord your God, his greatness, his strong hand, and his outstretched arm;

Deuteronomy 11:3

And his signs, and his acts, which he displayed in the midst of Egypt, unto Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and unto all his land;

Deuteronomy 11:4

And what he did unto the army of Egypt, unto its horses, and to its chariots; over whom he caused the water of the Red Sea to flow, as they pursued after you, and whom the Lord destroyed unto this day;

Deuteronomy 11:5

And what he did unto you in the wilderness, until ye came unto this place;

Deuteronomy 11:6

And what he did unto Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, the son of Reuben; how the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their households, and their tents, and all the living substance that followed them, in the midst of all Israel;

Deuteronomy 11:7

But it is your own eyes which have seen all the great acts of the Lord which he hath done.

Deuteronomy 11:8

Ye shall therefore keep all the commandment which I command you this day, that ye may be strong, and go in and take possession of the land, whither ye go over to possess it;

Deuteronomy 11:9

And in order that ye may live many days in the land, which the Lord hath sworn unto your fathers to give unto them and to their seed, a land flowing with milk and honey.

Deuteronomy 11:10

For the land, whither thou goest in to possess it, is not like the land of Egypt, from where ye came out, where thou sowest thy seed, and waterest it with thy foot, as a garden of herbs;

Deuteronomy 11:11

But the land, whither ye go over to possess it, is a land of mountains and valleys, from the rain of heaven doth it drink water.

Deuteronomy 11:12

A land which the Lord thy God careth for; always are the eyes of the Lord thy God upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year.

Deuteronomy 11:13

And it shall come to pass, if ye will hearken diligently unto my commandments which I command you this day, to love the Lord your God, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul,

Deuteronomy 11:14

That I will send rain for your land in its due season, the first rain and the latter rain, that thou mayest gather in thy corn, and thy wine, and thy oil.

Deuteronomy 11:15

And I will give grass in thy field for thy cattle; and thou shalt eat and be satisfied,

Deuteronomy 11:16

Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them;

Deuteronomy 11:17

[For] then the Lord's wrath will be kindled against you, and he will shut up the heavens that there be no rain, and the land will not yield her products; and ye shall perish quickly from off the good land which the Lord giveth unto you.

Deuteronomy 11:18

Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul; and ye shall bind them for a sign upon your hand, and they shall be as frontlets between your eyes.

Deuteronomy 11:19

And ye shall teach them to your children, to speak of them when thou sittest in thy house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

Deuteronomy 11:20

And thou shalt write them upon the door-posts of thy house, and upon thy gates.

Deuteronomy 11:21

In order that your days may be multiplied, and the days of your children, in the land which the Lord swore unto your fathers to give unto them, as the days of the heavens over the earth.

Deuteronomy 11:22

For if ye will diligently keep all this commandment which I command you, in order to do it, to love the Lord your God, to walk in all his ways, and to cleave unto him:

Deuteronomy 11:23

Then will the Lord drive out all these nations from before you, and ye shall supplant nations greater and mightier than yourselves.

Deuteronomy 11:24

Every place whereon the sole of your foot may tread shall be yours: from the wilderness and the Lebanon, from the river, the river Euphrates, even unto the Western Sea shall be your boundary.

Deuteronomy 11:25

There shall no man be able to stand up before you; the dread of you and the fear of you will the Lord your God lay upon all the land which ye may tread upon, as he hath spoken unto you.

Deuteronomy 11:26

Behold, I lay before you this day a blessing and a curse:

Deuteronomy 11:27

The blessing, if ye will hearken unto the commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day;

Deuteronomy 11:28

And the curse, if ye will not hearken unto the commandments of the Lord your God, and ye turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, to go after other gods, which ye know not.

Deuteronomy 11:29

And it shall come to pass, when the Lord thy God shall have brought thee in unto the land whither thou goest to possess it, that thou shalt put the blessing upon mount Gerizzim, and the curse upon mount 'Ebal.

Deuteronomy 11:30

Behold, they are on the other side of the Jordan, far away in the direction of the going down of the sun, in the land of the Canaanites, who dwell in the plain, opposite Gilgal, near the grove of Moreh.

Deuteronomy 11:31

For ye are about to pass over the Jordan to go in to take possession of the land which the Lord your God giveth you; and ye will possess it, and dwell therein.

Deuteronomy 11:32

And ye shall then observe to do all the statutes and ordinances which I set before you this day.

Deuteronomy 12:1

These are the statutes and ordinances, which ye shall observe to do, in the land which the Lord, the God of thy fathers, giveth unto thee to possess it, and all the days that ye live upon the earth.

Deuteronomy 12:2

Ye shall utterly destroy all the places whereon the nations which ye are about to drive out served their gods, upon the high mountains, and upon the hills, and under every green tree;

Deuteronomy 12:3

And ye shall overthrow their altars, and break their statues, and their groves shall ye burn with fire; and the graven images of their gods shall ye hew down; and ye shall destroy their name out of the same place.

Deuteronomy 12:4

Ye shall not do so unto the Lord your God;

Deuteronomy 12:5

But unto the place which the Lord your God may choose out of all your tribes to put his name there, even unto his habitation shall ye repair, and thither shalt thou come;

Deuteronomy 12:6

And ye shall bring thither your burnt-offerings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and the heave-offering of your hand, and your vows, and your freewill-offerings, and the first-born of your herds and of your flocks;

Deuteronomy 12:7

And ye shall eat there before the Lord your God, and ye shall rejoice with all the acquisition of your hand, ye and your households, wherewith the Lord thy God may have blessed thee.

Deuteronomy 12:8

Ye shall not do after all the manner that we do here this day, every one whatsoever is right in his own eyes.

Deuteronomy 12:9

For ye are not as yet come to the rest and to the inheritance, which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

Deuteronomy 12:10

But ye will go over the Jordan, and dwell in the land which the Lord your God causeth you to inherit, and he will give you rest from all your enemies round about, so that ye may dwell in safety.

Deuteronomy 12:11

And then shall it be, that the place which the Lord your God will choose to cause his name to dwell there,—[even] thither shall ye bring all that I command you: your burnt-offerings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the heave-offering of your hand, and all your choice vows which ye may vow unto the Lord;

Deuteronomy 12:12

And ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God, ye, and your sons, and your daughters, and your men-servants, and your maid-servants, and the Levite who is within your gates; because he hath not any portion nor inheritance with you.

Deuteronomy 12:13

Take heed to thyself that thou offer not thy burnt-offerings in every place which thou mayest see;

Deuteronomy 12:14

But in the place which the Lord will choose in one of thy tribes, there shalt thou offer thy burnt-offerings, and there shalt thou do all that I command thee.

Deuteronomy 12:15

Notwithstanding, according to all the longing of thy soul, mayest thou kill and eat flesh, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which he hath given thee, in all thy gates: the unclean and the clean may eat thereof, as of the roebuck, and as of the hart.

Deuteronomy 12:16

Only the blood shall ye not eat: upon the earth shall ye pour it out as water.

Deuteronomy 12:17

Thou mayest not eat within thy gates the tithe of thy corn, or of thy wine, or of thy oil, nor the first-born of thy herds or of thy flocks, nor any of thy vows which thou mayest vow, nor thy freewill-offerings, and the heave-offering of thy hand;

Deuteronomy 12:18

But before the Lord thy God must thou eat them in the place which the Lord thy God may choose, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy man-servant, and thy maid-servant, and the Levite who is within thy gates; and thou shalt rejoice before the Lord thy God with all the acquisition of thy hand.

Deuteronomy 12:19

Take heed to thyself that thou forsake not the Levite as long as thou livest upon thy land.

Deuteronomy 12:20

When the Lord thy God will enlarge thy border, as he hath spoken unto thee, and thou dost say, I wish to eat flesh, because thy soul longeth to eat flesh: then mayest thou, according to all the longing of thy soul, eat flesh.

Deuteronomy 12:21

If the place which the Lord thy God may choose to put his name there be too far for thee: then mayest thou kill of thy herds and of thy flocks, which the Lord hath given thee, as I have commanded thee; and thou shalt eat in thy gates according to all the longing of thy soul.

Deuteronomy 12:22

But as the roebuck and the hart are eaten, so shalt thou eat the same: the unclean and the clean may eat thereof together.

Deuteronomy 12:23

Only be firm so as not to eat the blood; for the blood is the life; and thou shalt not eat the life with the flesh.

Deuteronomy 12:24

Thou shalt not eat it: upon the earth shalt thou pour it out like water.

Deuteronomy 12:25

Thou shalt not eat it; in order that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, when thou wilt do what is right in the eyes of the Lord.

Deuteronomy 12:26

Nevertheless thy holy things which thou mayest have, and thy vows, shalt thou take, and go unto the place which the Lord may choose:

Deuteronomy 12:27

And thou shalt offer thy burnt-offerings, the flesh and the blood, upon the altar of the Lord thy God; and the blood of thy sacrifices shall be poured out upon the altar of the Lord thy God, and the flesh shalt thou eat.

Observe and hear all these words which I command thee; in order that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee for ever, when thou wilt do what is good and right in the eyes of the Lord thy God.

Deuteronomy 12:29

When the Lord thy God will cut off the nations, whither thou goest to drive them out from before thee, and thou succeedest them, and dwellest in their land:

Deuteronomy 12:30

Then take heed to thyself that thou be not snared by following them, after they have been destroyed from before thee; and that thou inquire not after their gods, saying, How did these nations serve their gods? even so will I do likewise.

Deuteronomy 12:31

Thou shalt not do so unto the Lord thy God; for every abomination to the Lord, which he hateth, have they done unto their gods; for even their sons and their daughters have they burnt in the fire to their gods.

Deuteronomy 12:32 (13:1)

What thing soever I command you, even that shall ye observe to do: thou shalt not add thereto, and thou shalt not diminish therefrom.

Then shalt thou not hearken unto the words of that prophet, or unto that dreamer of dreams; for the Lord your God proveth you, to know whether ye indeed love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul.

Deuteronomy 13:4 (13:5)

After the Lord your God shall ye walk, and him shall ye fear, and his commandments shall ye keep, and his voice shall ye obey, and him shall ye serve, and unto him shall ye cleave.

Deuteronomy 13:5 (13:6)

And that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams, shall be put to death; because he hath spoken revolt against the Lord your God, who hath brought you out of the land of Egypt, and who hath redeemed you out of the house of bond-men, to mislead thee front the way which the Lord thy God commanded thee to walk therein; and thou shalt put the evil away from the midst of thee.

Deuteronomy 13:6 (13:7)

If thy brother, the son of thy mother, or thy son, or thy daughter, or the wife of thy bosom, or thy friend, who is [dear to thee] as thy own soul, should entice thee, in secret, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which thou dost not know, either thou, or thy fathers;

Deuteronomy 13:7 (13:8)

Some of the gods of the nations which are round about you, that are nigh unto thee, or that are far off from thee, from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth:

Deuteronomy 13:8 (13:9)

Then shalt thou not consent unto him, nor shalt thou hearken unto him; nor shall thy eye look with pity on him, nor shalt thou spare, nor shalt thou conceal it for him;

Deuteronomy 13:9 (13:10)

But thou shalt surely kill him; thy hand shall be the first upon him to put him to death, and the hand of all the people afterward.

If thou shouldst hear concerning one of thy cities, which the Lord thy God hath given thee to dwell there, saying,

Deuteronomy 13:13 (13:14)

There have gone forth men, children of worthlessness, from the midst of thee, and have misled the inhabitants of their city, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which ye have not known:

Deuteronomy 13:14 (13:15)

Then shalt thou inquire, and make search, and ask diligently; and, behold, if it be true, the thing is certain, such abomination hath been wrought in the midst of thee:

Deuteronomy 13:15 (13:16)

Then shalt thou smite the inhabitants of that city with the edge of the sword, devoting it utterly, and all that is therein, and the cattle thereof, to the edge of the sword.

Deuteronomy 13:16 (13:17)

Joshua 2:6

But she had brought them up to the roof, and had hidden them among the stalks of flax, which she had laid in order upon the roof.

Joshua 2:7

And the men pursued after them, by the way to the Jordan unto the fords; and the gate was closed, as soon as those who pursued after them were gone out.

Joshua 2:8

But they had not yet laid themselves down, when she came up unto them upon the roof.

Joshua 2:9

And she said unto them, I know that the Lord hath given you the land, and that the terror of you hath fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land are become faint-hearted, because of you.

Joshua 2:10

For we have heard, how that the Lord dried up the waters of the Red Sea before you, when ye went forth out of Egypt; and what ye have done unto the two kings of the Emorites, who were on the other side of the Jordan, unto Sichon and 'Og, whom ye have utterly destroyed.

Joshua 2:11

And when we heard this, our heart melted, and there remained not any more courage in any man, because of you; for the Lord your God is alone God in the heavens above, and upon the earth beneath.

Joshua 2:12

And now swear, I pray you, unto me by the Lord, because I have shown you kindness, that ye will also, for your part, show kindness, unto my father's house; and give me a sure token,

Joshua 2:13

That ye will preserve the life of my father, and my mother, and my brothers, and my sisters, and all that they have, and deliver our lives from death.

Joshua 2:14

And the men said unto her, Our life shall be [doomed] to death instead of yours, if ye tell not this our business; and it shall be, when the Lord giveth us the land, that we will show thee kindness and truth.

Joshua 2:15

Then she let them down by a cord through the window; for her house was within the town wall, and within the wall she dwelt.

Joshua 2:16

And she said unto them, Get you to the mountain, lest the pursuers meet with you; and hide yourselves there three days, until the pursuers be returned; and afterward ye may go your way.

Joshua 2:17

And the men said unto her, We will be blameless of this thy oath which thou hast caused us to swear.

Joshua 2:18

Behold, when we come into the land, this line of scarlet thread shalt thou bind in the window by which thou hast let us down; and thy father, and thy mother, and thy brothers, and all thy father's household, thou must bring together unto thee into the house.

Joshua 2:19

And it shall be, that whosoever will go out of the doors of thy house into the street, his blood shall be upon his head, and we will be guiltless; and whosoever will remain with thee in the house, his blood shall be on our head, if a hand be laid upon him.

Joshua 2:20

And if thou tell this our business, then will we be free of thy oath which thou hast caused us to swear.

Joshua 2:21

And she said, According unto your words, so be it; and she dismissed them, and they departed; and she bound the scarlet line in the window.

Joshua 2:22

And they went, and came unto the mountain, and they remained there three days, until the pursuers were returned; and the pursuers sought throughout all the way, but found nothing.

Joshua 2:23

And the two men returned, and descended from the mountain, and passed over, and came to Joshua the son of Nun, and related to him all the things that had befallen them.

Joshua 2:24

And they said unto Joshua, Truly the Lord hath given up into our hand all the country; for all the inhabitants of the country are already become faint-hearted because of us.

Joshua 3:1

And Joshua rose early in the morning; and they broke up from Shittim, and came close to the Jordan, he and all the children of Israel; and they lodged there before they passed over.

Joshua 3:2

And it came to pass at the end of three days, that the officers passed through the midst of the camp.

Joshua 3:3

And they commanded the people, saying, When ye see the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God, and the priests the Levites bearing it, then shall ye break up from your place, and go after it.

Joshua 3:4

Nevertheless there shall be a space between you and it, of about two thousand cubits by measure: come not near unto it, in order that ye may know the way by which ye must go; for ye have not passed this way heretofore.

Joshua 3:5

And Joshua said unto the people, Sanctify yourselves; for tomorrow will the Lord do wonders in the midst of you.

Joshua 3:6

And Joshua said unto the priests, as followeth, Take up the ark of the covenant, and pass over before the people. And they took up the ark of the covenant, and went before the people.

Joshua 3:7

And the Lord said unto Joshua, This day will I begin to make thee great in the eyes of all Israel, that they may know that, as I was with Moses, so will I be with thee.

Joshua 3:8

And thou shalt command the priests that bear the ark of the covenant, saying, When ye are come to the brink of the waters of the Jordan, ye shall stand still in the Jordan.

Joshua 3:9

And Joshua said unto the children of Israel, Approach hither, and hear the words of the Lord your God.

Joshua 3:10

And Joshua said, Hereby shall ye know that the living God is in the midst of you, and that he will without fail drive out from before you the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Hivites, and the Perizzites, and the Girgashites, and the Emorites, and the Jebusites.

Joshua 3:11

Behold, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth passeth over before you into the Jordan.

Joshua 3:12

And now take yourselves twelve men out of the tribes of Israel, one man each out of every tribe.

Joshua 3:13

And it shall come to pass, that as soon as the soles of the feet of the priests that bear the ark of the Lord, the Lord of all the earth, shall rest in the waters of the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan shall be cut off, namely, the waters that come down from above; and they shall stand up as a wall.

Joshua 3:14

And it came to pass, when the people broke up from their tents, to pass over the Jordan, and the priests the bearers of the ark of the covenant were before the people;

Joshua 3:15

And as they that bore the ark were come up to the Jordan, and the feet of the priests that bore the ark were dipped in the edge of the water, [the Jordan, however, had overflowed all its banks all the time of harvest,]

Joshua 3:16

That the waters which came down from above stood still and rose up as a wall, very far from the city Adam, which is beside Zarethan; and those that ran down toward the sea of the plain, the salt sea, failed, were cut off; and the people passed over opposite to Jericho.

Joshua 3:17

And the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord stood firm on dry ground in the midst of the Jordan, and all the Israelites passed over on dry ground, until all the people had finished passing over the Jordan.

Joshua 4:1

And it came to pass, when all the people had finished passing over the Jordan, That the Lord said unto Joshua, as followeth,

Joshua 4:2

Take yourselves twelve men out of the people, one man each out of every tribe,

Joshua 4:3

And command ye them, saying, Take yourselves hence out of the midst of the Jordan, out of the place where the priests' feet stood firmly, twelve stones, and ye shall carry them over with you, and leave them in the lodging-place, where ye will lodge this night.

Joshua 4:4

Then did Joshua call the twelve men, whom he had appointed out of the children of Israel, one man each out of every tribe:

Joshua 4:5

And Joshua said unto them, Pass over before the ark of the Lord your God into the midst of the Jordan, and take yourselves up every man one stone upon his shoulder, according unto the number of the tribes of the children of Israel;

Joshua 4:6

In order that this may be a sign among you, when your children ask in time to come, saying, What mean ye by these stones?

Joshua 4:7

That ye shall answer them, That the waters of the Jordan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the Lord; when it passed over the Jordan, the waters of the Jordan were cut off; and these stones shall be for a memorial unto the children of Israel for ever.

Joshua 4:8

And the children of Israel did so as Joshua had commanded; and they took up twelve stones out of the midst of the Jordan, as the Lord had spoken unto Joshua, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Israel; and they carried them over with them unto the place where they lodged, and laid them down there.

Joshua 4:9

Twelve stones also did Joshua set up in the midst of the Jordan, on the spot where the feet of the priests who bore the ark of the covenant had stood: and they have remained there unto this day.

Joshua 4:10

But the priests who bore the ark stood in the midst of the Jordan, until every thing was finished that the Lord had commanded Joshua to speak unto the people, according to all that Moses had commanded Joshua; and the people hastened and passed over.

Joshua 4:11

And it came to pass, when all the people had finished passing over, that the ark of the Lord passed over with the priests in the presence of the people.

Joshua 4:12

And the children of Reuben, and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Menasseh, passed over armed before the children of Israel, as Moses had spoken unto them:

Joshua 4:13

About forty thousand ready armed for war, did they pass over before the Lord unto battle, to the plains of Jericho.

Joshua 4:14

On that day the Lord made Joshua great in the eyes of all Israel; and they feared him, as they had feared Moses, all the days of his life.

Joshua 4:15

And the Lord said unto Joshua, as followeth,

Joshua 4:16

Command the priests that bear the ark of the testimony, that they come up out of the Jordan.

Joshua 4:17

And Joshua commanded the priests, saying, Come ye up out of the Jordan.

Joshua 4:18

And it came to pass, when the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord were come up out of the midst of the Jordan, the soles of the feet of the priests were lifted up unto the dry land, that the waters of the Jordan returned unto their place, and flowed over all its banks, as on the preceding days.

Joshua 4:19

And the people came up out of the Jordan on the tenth day of the first month, and encamped in Gilgal, on the extreme eastern border of Jericho.

Joshua 4:20

And those twelve stones, which they had taken out of the Jordan, did Joshua set up in Gilgal.

Joshua 4:21

And he said unto the children of Israel, thus, When your children shall ask in time to come their fathers, saying, What mean these stones?

Joshua 4:22

Then shall ye let your children know, saying, On dry land did Israel pass over this Jordan;

Joshua 4:23

That the Lord your God dried up the waters of the Jordan from before you, until ye were passed over, as the Lord your God did to the Red Sea, which he dried up from before us, until we were gone over;

Joshua 4:24

In order that all the nations of the earth may know the hand of the Lord, that it is mighty; in order that ye may fear the Lord your God all the days.

Joshua 5:1

And it came to pass, when all the kings of the Emorites, who were on the side of the Jordan westward, and all the kings of the Canaanites, who were by the sea, heard that the Lord had dried up the waters of the Jordan from before the children of Israel, until they were passed over, that their heart melted, and there remained no more any courage in them, because of the children of Israel.

Joshua 5:2

At that time the Lord said unto Joshua, Make thee sharp knives, and circumcise again the children of Israel the second time.

Joshua 5:3

And Joshua made himself sharp knives, and circumcised the children of Israel at the hill of 'Araloth.

Joshua 5:4

And this is the cause why Joshua did circumcise: All the people that came out of Egypt, the males, all the men of war, died in the wilderness on the way, after their going forth out of Egypt.

Joshua 5:5

For all the people that came out were circumcised; but all the people that were born in the wilderness on the way at their going forth out of Egypt, they had not circumcised.

Joshua 5:6

For during forty years the children of Israel wandered in the wilderness, till there was an end of all the people, the men of war, who were come out of Egypt, who had not obeyed the voice of the Lord; unto whom the Lord had sworn that he would not let them see the land, which the Lord had sworn unto their fathers that he would give unto us, a land flowing with milk and honey.

Joshua 5:7

But their children he raised up in their stead: these did Joshua circumcise; for they were uncircumcised, because they had not circumcised them on the way.

Joshua 5:8

And it came to pass, when the whole people had all been circumcised, that they abode in their places in the camp till they were healed.

Joshua 5:9

And the Lord said unto Joshua, This day have I rolled away the reproach of Egypt from off you. And he called the name of the place Gilgal unto this day.

Joshua 5:10

And the children of Israel encamped in Gilgal, and they prepared the passover—offering on the fourteenth day of the month at evening in the plains of Jericho.

Joshua 5:11

And they ate of the corn of the land on the morrow after the passover—offering, unleavened cakes and parched corn, on the selfsame day.

Joshua 5:12

And the manna ceased on the morrow after they had eaten of the corn of the land; and the children of Israel had not any more manna; but they did eat of the product of the land of Canaan during that year.

Joshua 5:13

And it came to pass, when Joshua was by Jericho, that he lifted up his eyes and looked, and, behold, a man was standing over against him with his sword drawn in his hand; and Joshua went unto him, and said to him, Art thou for us, or for our adversaries?

Joshua 5:14

And he said, No; for I am a captain of the host of the Lord: now am I come. And Joshua fell on his face to the earth, and bowed himself, and said to him, What doth my lord speak unto his servant?

Joshua 5:15

And the captain of the Lord's host said unto Joshua, Put off thy shoe from off thy foot; for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Joshua did so.

Joshua 6:1

Now Jericho was shut up, and barred up, because of the children of Israel: no one went out, and no one came in.

Joshua 6:2

And the Lord said unto Joshua, See, I have given into thy hand Jericho and its king, even the mighty men of valor.

Joshua 6:3

And ye shall compass the city, all the men of war, going round about the city once. Thus shalt thou do six days.

Joshua 6:4

And seven priests shall bear before the ark seven cornets of rams' horns; and on the seventh day shall ye compass the city seven times, and the priests shall blow with the cornets.

Joshua 6:5

And it shall come to pass, that, when they blow a long blast with the ram's horn, when ye hear the sound of the cornet all the people shall utter a great shout; and the wall of the city shall fall down flat, and the people shall ascend up every man straight before him.

Joshua 6:6

And Joshua the son of Nun called the priests, and said unto them, Take up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests bear seven cornets of rams' horns before the ark of the Lord.

Joshua 6:7

And he said unto the people, Pass on, and compass the city, and let the armed men pass on before the ark of the Lord.

Joshua 6:8

And it came to pass, when Joshua had spoken unto the people, that the seven priests, bearing the seven cornets of rams' horns before the Lord, passed on and blew with the cornets; and the ark of the covenant of the Lord followed them.

Joshua 6:9

And the armed men went before the priests that blew the cornets, and the rereward came after the ark, going on, and blowing with the cornets.

Joshua 6:10

And Joshua had commanded the people, saying, Ye shall not shout, nor let your voice be heard, neither shall any word proceed out of your mouth, until the day I bid you, Shout; and then shall ye shout.

Joshua 6:11

So the ark of the Lord compassed the city, going round it once; and they came into the camp, and lodged in the camp.

Joshua 6:12

And Joshua rose early in the morning, and the priests took up the ark of the Lord.

Joshua 6:13

And the seven priests bearing the seven cornets of rams' horns before the ark of the Lord went on continually, and blew with the cornets; and the armed men went before them; and the rereward came after the ark of the Lord, going on, and blowing with the cornets.

Joshua 6:14

And they compassed the city on the second day once, and returned into the camp: so did they six days.

Joshua 6:15

And it came to pass on the seventh day, that they rose early about the dawning of the day, and compassed the city after this manner seven times; only on that day they compassed the city seven times.

Joshua 6:16

And it came to pass at the seventh time, when the priest blew with the cornets, that Joshua' said unto the people, Shout; for the Lord hath given you the city.

Joshua 6:17

And the city shall be devoted, it, and all that is therein, to the Lord: only Rachab the harlot shall live, she and all that are with her in the house; because she did hide the messengers that we sent.

Joshua 6:18

But ye, keep yourselves from the devoted things, lest ye devote and yet take of the devoted things, and make the camp of Israel a curse, and trouble it.

Joshua 6:19

And all the silver, and gold, and vessels of copper and iron, shall be holy unto the Lord: into the treasury of the Lord shall they come.

Joshua 6:20

So the people shouted, when they blew with the cornets; and it came to pass, when the people heard the sound of the cornet, that the people uttered a great shout, and the wall fell down flat, and the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they captured the city.

Joshua 6:21

And they utterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, and ox, and lamb, and ass, with the edge of the sword.

Joshua 6:22

But unto the two men that had spied out the country, Joshua said, Go into the house of the woman, the harlot, and bring out thence the woman, and all belonging to her, as ye have sworn unto her.

Joshua 6:23

And the young men, the spies, went in, and brought out Rachab, and her father, and her mother, and her brothers, and all belonging to her: and they brought out all her kindred, and they left them without the camp of Israel.

Joshua 6:24

And the city they burnt with fire, and all that was therein: only the silver, and the gold, and the vessels of copper and of iron, they put into the treasury of the house of the Lord.

Joshua 6:25

And Rachab the harlot did Joshua save alive, and her father's household, and all belonging to her; and she dwelt in the midst of Israel even unto this day; because she had hidden the messengers, whom Joshua had sent to spy out Jericho.

Joshua 6:26

And Joshua adjured [the people] at that time, saying, Cursed be the man before the Lord, that will rise up and build this city Jericho: with his first-born shall he lay its foundation, and with his youngest shall he set up its gates.

Joshua 6:27

And the Lord was with Joshua; and his fame was spread throughout all the country.

Joshua 7:1

But the children of Israel committed a trespass on the devoted things; for ‘Achan, the son of Carmi, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zerach, of the tribe of Judah, took of the devoted things: and the anger of the Lord was kindled against the children of Israel.

Joshua 7:2

And Joshua sent men from Jericho to ‘Ai, which is beside Beth–aven, on the east side of Beth–el, and said unto them, thus, Go up and spy out the country. And the men went up and spied out ‘Ai.

Joshua 7:3

And they returned to Joshua, and said unto him, Let not all the people go up; but let about two or three thousand men go up and smite ‘Ai: do not fatigue all the people [to go] thither; for they are but few.

Joshua 7:4

So there went up thither of the people about three thousand men; and they fled before the men of ‘Ai.

Joshua 7:5

And the men of ‘Ai smote of them about thirty and six men; and they chased them from before the gate unto the stone–quarries, and smote them on the declivity [of the hill]; wherefore the heart of the people melted, and became as water.

Joshua 7:6

And Joshua rent his clothes, and fell upon his face to the earth before the ark of the Lord until the evening, he with the elders of Israel, and they put dust upon their head.

Joshua 7:7

And Joshua said, Alas, O Lord Eternal, wherefore hast thou caused this people to pass over the Jordan, to deliver us into the hand of the Emorites, to destroy us? and oh! that we had been content, and dwelt on the other side of the Jordan!

Joshua 7:8

I pray thee, O Lord, what shall I say, since Israel have turned their back before their enemies!

Joshua 7:9

And when the Canaanites and all the inhabitants of the land will hear of it, they will environ us round, and cut off our name from the earth; and what wilt thou do for thy great name?

Joshua 7:10

And the Lord said unto Joshua, Get thee up; wherefore liest thou upon thy face.

Joshua 7:11

Israel hath sinned, and they have also transgressed my covenant which I have commanded them; and they have also taken of the devoted things, and have also stolen, and have also dissembled, and they have also put it into their own vessels.

Joshua 7:12

Therefore will the children of Israel not be able to stand up before their enemies; their back will they turn before their enemies, because they have become accursed: I will not be any more with you, except ye destroy the accursed from among you.

Joshua 7:13

Rise up, sanctify the people, and say, Sanctify yourselves against tomorrow; for thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel, An accursed thing is in the midst of thee, O Israel: thou shalt not be able to stand up before thy enemies, until ye have removed the accursed from among you.

Joshua 7:14

And ye shall be brought near in the morning according to your tribes: and it shall be, that the tribe which the Lord will seize shall come near according to its families; and the family which the Lord will seize shall come near by households; and the household which the Lord shall seize will come near by its men.

Joshua 7:15

And it shall be, that he that is seized with the accursed thing shall be burnt with fire, he, and all that he hath; because he hath transgressed the covenant of the Lord, and because he hath wrought wickedness in Israel.

Joshua 7:16

So Joshua rose up early in the morning, and brought Israel near by their tribes, and the tribe of Judah was seized;

Joshua 7:17

And he brought near the family of Judah, and he seized the family of the Zarchites; and he brought near the family of the Zarchites by its men, and Zabdi was seized;

Joshua 7:18

And he brought near his household by its men, and 'Achan, the son of Carmi, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zerach, of the tribe of Judah, was seized.

Joshua 7:19

And Joshua said unto 'Achan, My son, give, I pray thee, glory to the Lord, the God of Israel, and make confession unto him; and tell me, I pray thee, what thou hast done: hide nothing from me.

Joshua 7:20

And 'Achan answered Joshua, and said, Truly! I have indeed sinned against the Lord the God of Israel, and thus and thus have I done:

Joshua 7:21

I saw among the spoil a handsome Babylonish mantle, and two hundred shekels of silver, and a wedge of gold of fifty shekels in weight, and I coveted them, and took them; and, behold, they are hidden in the earth in the midst of my tent, with the silver beneath the same.

Joshua 7:22

Joshua thereupon sent messengers, and they ran unto the tent; and, behold, it was hidden in his tent, and the silver beneath it.

Joshua 7:23

And they took them out of the midst of the tent, and brought them unto Joshua, and unto all the children of Israel, and they laid them out before the Lord.

Joshua 7:24

And Joshua took 'Achan the son of Zerach, and the silver, and the mantle, and the wedge of gold, and his sons, and his daughters, and his ox, and his ass, and his sheep, and his tent, and all that he had, and all Israel were with him, and they brought them up unto the valley of 'Achor.

Joshua 7:25

And Joshua said, How hast thou troubled us! so shall the Lord trouble thee this day. And all Israel stoned him with stones, and burnt them with fire, after they had stoned them with stones.

Joshua 7:26

And they raised over him a great heap of stones [which is] unto this day; and the Lord turned from the fierceness of his anger. Wherefore the name of that place was called, The valley of 'Achor, unto this day.

Joshua 8:1

And the Lord said unto Joshua, Fear not, neither be thou discouraged: take with thee all the people of war, and arise, go up to 'Ai; see, I have given into thy hand the king of 'Ai, and his people, and his city, and his land.

Joshua 8:2

And thou shalt do to 'Ai and to its king as thou hast done unto Jericho and its king; only its spoil and its cattle shall ye take for booty unto yourselves; but lay thee an ambush for the city in its rear.

Joshua 8:3

So Joshua arose, and all the people of war, to go up against 'Ai: and Joshua chose out thirty thousand mighty men of valor, and sent them away by night.

Joshua 8:4

And he commanded them, saying, Behold, ye shall lie in wait against the city, in the rear of the city; go not very far from the city; and be ye all ready;

Joshua 8:5

And I, and all the people that are with me, will approach unto the city; and it shall come to pass that, when they come out against us, as at the first time, we will flee before them;

Joshua 8:6

And they will come out after us, till we have drawn them from the city; for they will say, They flee from us as at the first time: and we will flee before them.

Joshua 8:7

And then shall ye rise up from the ambush, and take possession of the city; and the Lord your God will deliver it in into your hand.

Joshua 8:8

And it shall be, that as soon as ye have seized the city, ye shall set the city on fire; according to the word of the Lord shall ye do: see, I have commanded you.

Joshua 8:9

And Joshua sent them off: and they went to lie in ambush, and remained between Beth-el and 'Ai, on the west side of 'Ai; but Joshua lodged that night among the people.

Joshua 8:10

And Joshua rose up early in the morning, and numbered the people, and went up, he and the elders of Israel, before the people, toward 'Ai.

Joshua 8:11

And all the people of war that were with him went up, and drew nigh, and came opposite the city, and encamped on the north side of 'Ai; and the valley was between them and 'Ai.

Joshua 8:12

And he took about five thousand men, and set them as an ambush between Beth-el and 'Ai, on the west side of 'Ai.

Joshua 8:13

And the people, all the camp that was on the north of the city, and its ambush on the west of the city got ready; and Joshua went that night into the midst of the valley.

Joshua 8:14

And it came to pass, when the king of 'Ai saw this, the men of the city hastened and rose up early, and went out against Israel to battle, he and all his people, at the time appointed, before the plain; but he knew not that there was an ambush against him in the rear of the city.

Joshua 8:15

And Joshua and Israel feigned themselves beaten before them, and fled by the way of the wilderness.

Joshua 8:16

And all the people that were in 'Ai were called together to pursue after them; and they pursued after Joshua, and were drawn away from the city.

Joshua 8:17

And there was not a man left in 'Ai or Beth-el, that went not out after Israel; and they left the city open, and pursued after Israel.

Joshua 8:18

And the Lord said unto Joshua, Stretch out the spear that is in thy hand toward 'Ai; for into thy hand will I give it. And Joshua stretched out the spear which was in his hand toward the city.

Joshua 8:19

And the ambush arose quickly out of their place, and they ran as soon as he stretched out his hand; and they entered into the city, and took possession of it, and hastened and set the city on fire.

Joshua 8:20

And the men of 'Ai turned [and looked] behind them, and they saw, and, behold, the smoke of the city ascended up to heaven; and they had no power to flee this way or that way; and the people that had fled to the wilderness turned back upon the pursuers.

Joshua 8:21

For when Joshua and all Israel saw that the ambush had seized the city, and that the smoke of the city ascended: they turned back, and smote the men of 'Ai.

Joshua 8:22

And the others issued out of the city against them; so that the Israelites had them in the middle, some on this side, and some on that side; and they smote them, until there was not left of them one that remained or escaped.

Joshua 8:23

And the king of 'Ai they caught alive, and brought him to Joshua.

Joshua 8:24

And it came to pass, that, when Israel had made an end of slaying all the inhabitants of 'Ai in the field, in the wilderness wherein they had pursued them, and when they were all fallen by the edge of the sword, until they were consumed, All the Israelites returned unto 'Ai, and smote it with the edge of the sword.

Joshua 8:25

And [the number of] all that fell in that day, both of men and women, was twelve thousand, all the people of 'Ai.

Joshua 8:26

And Joshua drew not back his hand, wherewith he had stretched out the spear, until he had utterly destroyed all the inhabitants of 'Ai.

Joshua 8:27

Only the cattle and the spoil of that city Israel took as booty unto themselves, according to the word of the Lord which he had commanded Joshua.

Joshua 8:28

And Joshua burnt 'Ai, and made it a ruinous heap of desolation for ever, even unto this day,

Joshua 8:29

And the king of 'Ai he hanged on a tree until eventide; and at the going down of the sun, Joshua commanded, and they took his carcass down from the tree and cast it at the entrance of the city gate, and they raised over him a great heap of stones, [which is] even unto this day.

Joshua 8:30

Then did Joshua build an altar unto the Lord, the God of Israel on mount 'Ebal,

Joshua 8:31

As Moses the servant of the Lord had commanded the children of Israel, as it is written in the book of the law of Moses, an altar of whole stones, over which no one had lifted up any iron tool; and they offered thereon burnt-offerings unto the Lord, and sacrificed peace-offerings.

Joshua 8:32

And he wrote there upon the stones a copy of the law of Moses, which he wrote in the presence of the children of Israel.

Joshua 8:33

And all Israel, and their elders, and the officers, and their judges, stood on this side and on that side of the ark, opposite the priests the Levites, who bore the ark of the covenant of the Lord, the stranger no less than the native born: half of them turned toward mount Gerizzim, and the other half of them turned toward mount 'Ebal; as Moses the servant of the Lord had commanded, to bless the people of Israel at first.

Joshua 8:34

And afterward he read all the words of the law, the blessing and the curse, all, just as it is written in the book of the law.

Joshua 8:35

There was not a word of all that Moses had commanded, which Joshua did not read before all the congregation of Israel, with the women, and the little ones, and the stranger that walked in the midst of them.

Joshua 9:1

And it came to pass, when all the kings that were on this side of the Jordan, in the mountain, and in the lowlands, and in all the coast of the great sea opposite Lebanon, the Hittites, and the Emorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, heard this,

Joshua 9:2

That they assembled themselves all together, to fight with Joshua and with Israel, with one accord.

Joshua 9:3

And when the inhabitants of Gib'on heard what Joshua had done unto Jericho and unto 'Ai,

Joshua 9:4

They also did work wilily, and went and feigned to be messengers, and took old sacks for their asses, and wine-bottles, old, and rent, and bound up;

Joshua 9:5

And [put] old and patched-up shoes upon their feet, and old garments upon themselves; and all the bread of their provision was dry and mouldy.

And they went to Joshua unto the camp at Gilgal, and said unto him, and to the men of Israel, We are come from a far-off country; and now make ye a covenant with us.

Joshua 9:7

And the men of Israel said unto the Hivites, Peradventure ye dwell in the midst of us; and how can we make a covenant with you:

Joshua 9:8

And they said unto Joshua, We are thy servants. And Joshua said unto them, Who are ye? and whence come ye!

Joshua 9:9

And they said unto him, From a very far-off country are thy servants come, because of the name of the Lord thy God; for we have heard his fame, and all that he hath done in Egypt;

Joshua 9:10

And all that he hath done to the two kings of the Emorites, that were beyond the Jordan, to Sichon the king of Cheshbon, and to 'Og the king of Bashan, who was at 'Ashtaroth.

Joshua 9:11

Wherefore our elders and all the inhabitants of our country said to us, as followeth, Take provisions with you for the journey, and go to meet them, and say unto them, Your servants are we: and now make ye with us a covenant.

Joshua 9:12

This our bread we took hot for our provision out of our houses on the day we came forth to go unto you; and now, behold, it is dry, and it is become mouldy:

Joshua 9:13

And these wine-bottles, which we filled, when new,— but behold, they are now become rent; and these our garments and our shoes are become worn out by reason of the very long journey.

Joshua 9:14

And the men took of their provisions, but the decision of the Lord they did not ask.

Joshua 9:15

And Joshua made peace with them, and made a covenant with them, to let them live; and the princes of the congregation swore unto them.

Joshua 9:18

And the children of Israel smote them not; because the princes of the congregation had sworn unto them by the Lord, the God of Israel; but all the congregation murmured against the princes.

Joshua 9:19

And all the princes said unto all the congregation, We have sworn unto them by the Lord the God of Israel: and now we cannot touch them.

Joshua 9:20

This will we do to them, and we will let them live, that there be no wrath upon us, on account of the oath which we have sworn unto them.

Joshua 9:21

And the princes said unto them, Let them live: and they became hewers of wood and drawers of water unto all the congregation, as the princes had spoken unto them.

Joshua 9:22

And Joshua called for them, and he spoke unto them, saying, Wherefore have ye deceived us, saying, We are very far from you: whereas ye dwell in the midst of us?

Joshua 9:23

And now be ye cursed, and there shall not cease to be of you servants and hewers of wood and drawers of water for the house of my God.

Joshua 9:24

And they answered Joshua, and said, Because it was certainly told thy servants, how that the Lord thy God had commanded his servant Moses to give unto you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land from before you; wherefore we were sore afraid for our lives because of you, and we have done this thing.

Joshua 9:25

And now, behold, we are in thy hand; as it seemeth good and right in thy eyes to do unto us, so do.

Joshua 9:26

And he did unto them thus; and he delivered them out of the hand of the children of Israel, and they slew them not.

Joshua 9:27

And Joshua appointed them on that day hewers of wood and drawers of water for the congregation, and for the altar of the Lord, even unto this day, for the place which he should choose.

Joshua 10:1

Now it came to pass, when Adoni-zedek, the king of Jerusalem heard that Joshua had captured 'Ai, and had utterly destroyed it; [that] as he had done to Jericho and its king, so had he done to 'Ai and its king; and that the inhabitants of Gib'on had made peace with Israel, and were in the midst of them:

Joshua 10:2

That they were greatly afraid; because Gib'on was a great city, like one of the royal cities, and because it was greater than 'Ai, and all the men thereof were mighty.

Joshua 10:3

Therefore Adoni-zedek the king of Jerusalem sent unto Hoham the king of Hebron, and unto Piram the king of Yarmuth, and unto Yaphia', the king of Lachish, and unto Debir the king of 'Eglon, saying,

Joshua 10:4

Come up unto me, and help me, that we may smite Gib'on; for it hath made peace with Joshua and with the children of Israel.

Joshua 10:5

And the five kings of the Emorites, the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Yarmuth, the king of Lachish, the king of 'Eglon, assembled themselves together, and went up, they and all their camps, and encamped before Gib'on, and made war against it.

Joshua 10:6

And Joshua came unto them suddenly; the whole night he went up from Gilgal.

Joshua 10:10

And the Lord brought them in confusion before Israel, and they smote them with a great slaughter at Gib'on, and pursued them by the way of the ascent to Beth-choron, and smote them up to 'Azekah, and up to Makkedah.

Joshua 10:11

And it came to pass, as they fled from before Israel, while they were in the declivity of Beth-choron, that the Lord cast down upon them great stones from heaven, up to 'Azekah, and they died: there were more who died by means of the hailstones than those whom the children of Israel had slain with the sword.

Joshua 10:12

Then spoke Joshua to the Lord on the day when the Lord delivered up the Amorites before the children of Israel, and he said before the eyes of Israel, Sun, stand thou still upon Gib'on; and thou, Moon, in the valley of Ayalon.

Joshua 10:13

And the sun stood still, and the moon stayed, until the people had avenged themselves upon their enemies. Is not this written in the book of Yashar? And the sun stood still in the midst of the heavens, and hastened not to go down about a whole day.

But these five kings fled, and hid themselves in the cave at Makkedah.

And it was told to Joshua, saying, The five kings have been found hidden in the cave at Makkedah.

Joshua 10:18

And Joshua said, Roll great stones to the mouth of the cave, and set men over it to guard them;

Joshua 10:19

But you, do ye not stay, pursue after your enemies, and smite the hindmost of them: suffer them not to enter into their cities; for the Lord your God hath delivered them into your hand.

Joshua 10:20

And it came to pass, when Joshua and the children of Israel had made an end of smiting them with a very great defeat, till they were all spent, and those that escaped had fled from them and entered into the fortified cities,

Joshua 10:21

That all the people returned to the camp to Joshua at Makkedah in peace: no one pointed against any man of the children of Israel his tongue.

Joshua 10:22

Then said Joshua, Open the mouth of the cave, and bring out unto me those five kings out of the cave.

And they did so, and brought forth unto him those five kings out of the cave, the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Yarmuth, the king of Lachish, the king of 'Eglon.

Joshua 10:24

And it came to pass, when they brought out those kings unto Joshua, that Joshua called for all the men of Israel, and said unto the chiefs of the men of war who had gone with him, Come near, put your feet upon the necks of these kings. And they came near, and put their feet upon their necks.

been hidden; and they placed great stones upon the mouth of the cave, [which remain] even until this very day.

And Joshua captured Makkedah on that day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and its king he devoted, them, and all the souls that were therein; he left none that escaped; and he did to the king of Makkedah as he had done unto the king of Jericho.

Joshua 10:29

Then did Joshua, and all Israel with him, pass from Makkedah unto Libnah; and he fought against Libnah;

Joshua 10:30

And he captured it, and its king, and all its cities; and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and devoted all the souls that were therein; he left none that escaped: as he had done to Hebron, so did he to Debir and to its king; and as he had done to Libnah and to its king.

Joshua 10:40

And he said unto them, Ye have indeed kept all that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you, and ye have obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you:

Joshua 22:3

Ye have not forsaken your brethren these many days, until this day; but ye have kept the obligation of the commandment of the Lord your God.

Joshua 22:4

And now the Lord your God hath given rest unto your brethren, as he promised them; therefore now turn yourselves, and get you unto your tents, unto the land of your possession, which Moses the servant of the Lord gave unto you on the other side of the Jordan.

Joshua 22:5

Only take diligent heed to practise the commandment and the law, which Moses the servant of the Lord hath commanded you, to love the Lord your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave unto him, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.

And he said unto them, as followeth, With much riches return unto your tents, and with very much cattle, with silver, and with gold, and with copper, and with iron, and with very many garments: divide the spoil of your enemies with your brethren.

And the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Menasseh returned, and departed from the children of Israel from Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan, to go unto the country of Gil'ad, to the land of their possession, whereof they were possessed, according to the order of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

And the children of Israel heard, as followeth, Behold, the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Menasseh have built an altar in the front of the land of Canaan, in the districts of the Jordan, at the side belonging to the children of Israel.

Joshua 22:12

And when the children of Israel heard it, the whole congregation of the children of Israel assembled themselves together at Shiloh, to go up against them to war.

Joshua 22:13

And the children of Israel sent unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Menasseh, into the land of Gil'ad, Phinehas the son of Elazar the priest.

Joshua 22:14

And ten princes with him, one prince each for every division of all the tribes of Israel; and each one was a head of their family divisions among the thousands of Israel.

Joshua 22:15

And they came unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the half tribe of Menasseh, unto the land of Gil'ad, and they spoke with them, saying:

Joshua 22:16

Thus have said the whole congregation of the Lord, What trespass is this that ye have committed against the God of Israel to turn away this day from following the Lord, in that ye have built yourselves an altar, that ye might rebel this day against the Lord?

Joshua 22:17

Have we had too little in the iniquity of Peor,—from which we are not yet cleansed until this day,—when there was a plague in the congregation of the Lord?

Joshua 22:18

And will ye turn away this day from following the Lord? and it will be, that when ye will rebel this day against the Lord, tomorrow he will be wroth with the whole congregation of Israel.

Joshua 22:19

But, notwithstanding, if the land of your possession be unclean, then pass ye over unto the land of the possession of the Lord, wherein dwelleth the tabernacle of the Lord, and take possession in the midst of us; but rebel not against the Lord and against us do not rebel, in building yourselves an altar beside the altar of the Lord our God.

Joshua 22:20

Did not 'Achan the son of Zerach commit a trespass on the devoted things, and wrath fell on all the congregation of Israel? and he, though but one man, perished not alone in his iniquity.

Joshua 22:21

But the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Menasseh answered, and they spoke unto the heads of the thousands of Israel,

Joshua 22:22

The God of gods, the Eternal, the God of gods, the Eternal, he knoweth, and Israel also shall know: if it be in rebellion, or if in transgression against the Lord, [aid us not this day,]

Joshua 22:23

That we have built us an altar to turn away from following the Lord; or if to offer thereon burnt-offering or meat-offering, or if to offer thereon peace-offerings, may the Lord himself require it;

Joshua 22:24

Or whether we have not done it for fear of this thing, saying, In time to come your children might say unto our children, as followeth, What have ye to do with the Lord, the God of Israel?

Joshua 22:25

For the Lord hath made a boundary between us and you, ye children of Reuben and children of Gad,—the Jordan; ye have no part in the Lord: thus might your children make our children cease so as not to fear the Lord.

Joshua 22:26

Wherefore we said, Let us now act for ourselves to build this altar, not for burnt-offering, nor for sacrifice;

Joshua 22:27

But it shall be a witness between us, and you, and our generations after us, that we may perform the service of the Lord before him with our burnt-offerings, and with our sacrifices, and with our, peace-offerings; and that your children may not say in time to come to our children, Ye have no portion in the Lord.

Joshua 22:28

And we said, that it shall be when they should say this to us and to our generations in time to come, that we may say, Behold the pattern of the altar of the Lord, which our fathers made, not for burnt-offering, nor for sacrifice; but it is a witness between us and you.

Joshua 22:29

Far be it from us that we should rebel against the Lord, and turn away this day from following the Lord, to build an altar for burnt-offering, for meat-offering, or for sacrifice, beside the altar of the Lord our God that is before his dwelling.

Joshua 22:30

And when Phinehas the priest, and the princes of the congregation and the heads of the thousands of Israel who were with him, heard the words which the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the children of Menasseh had spoken, it was pleasing in their eyes.

Joshua 22:31

And Phinehas the son of Elazar the priest said unto the children of Reuben, and to the children of Gad, and to the children of Menasseh, This day do we know that the Lord is in our midst, because ye have not committed this trespass against the Lord: now have ye delivered the children of Israel out of the hand of the Lord.

Joshua 22:32

And Phinehas the son of Elazar the priest, and the princes, returned from the children of Reuben, and from the children of Gad, out of the land of Gil'ad, unto the land of Canaan, to the children of Israel, and they brought them word again.

Joshua 22:33

And the thing was pleasing in the eyes of the children of Israel; and the children of Israel blessed God; and they did not speak any more to go up against them to battle, to destroy the land wherein the children of Reuben and Gad dwelt.

Joshua 22:34

And the children of Reuben and the children of Gad called the altar["Ed"]; for [they said] it is a witness between us that the Eternal is God.

Joshua 23:1

And it came to pass after many days, after the Lord had given rest unto Israel from all their enemies round about, and Joshua had grown old and was well stricken in age,

Joshua 23:2

That Joshua called for all Israel, for their elders, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers, and said unto them, I am become old and well stricken in age;

Joshua 23:3

And ye have yourselves seen all that the Lord your God hath done unto all these nations, because of you; for the Lord your God it is that hath fought for you.

Joshua 23:4

Behold, I have divided unto you by lot those nations that yet remain, to be an inheritance according to your tribes, from the Jordan, with all the nations that I have cut off, as far as the great sea, toward the setting of the sun.

Joshua 23:5

And the Lord your God will indeed expel them from before you, and drive them out from before you; and ye shall possess their land, as the Lord your God hath spoken unto you.

Joshua 23:6

But be ye very steadfast to keep and to do all that is written in the book of the law of Moses, so as not to turn aside therefrom to the right or to the left;

Joshua 23:7

So as not to come among these nations, those that are left remaining near you; and of the name of their gods shall ye not make mention, nor cause any to swear thereby, neither shall ye serve them, nor bow yourselves down unto them;

Joshua 23:8

But unto the Lord your God shall ye cleave, as ye have done unto this day.

Joshua 23:9

And the Lord drove out from before you great and mighty nations; but as for you, no man hath been able to stand up before you unto this day.

Joshua 23:10

One man of you can chase a thousand; for the Lord your God it is that fighteth for you, as he hath spoken unto you.

Joshua 23:11

Take good heed therefore for your souls' sake, to love the Lord your God.

Joshua 23:12

For if ye do in any wise turn back, and cleave unto the remnant of these nations, those that are left remaining near you, and make marriages with them, and come in among them, and they among you:

Joshua 23:13

Know for a certainty that the Lord your God will no more drive out these nations from before you; but they shall be snares and traps unto you, and scourges in your sides, and stings in your eyes, until ye perish from off this good land which the Lord your God hath given you.

Joshua 23:14

And, behold, I am going this day the way of all the earth; and ye know with all your heart and with all your soul, that not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the Lord your God spoke concerning you: all are come to pass unto you, not one thing thereof hath failed.

Joshua 23:15

But it shall come to pass, that as every good thing is come upon you, which the Lord your God spoke unto you: so will the Lord bring upon you every evil thing, until he have destroyed you from off this good land which the Lord your God hath given unto you.

Joshua 23:16

When ye transgress the covenant of the Lord your God, which he hath commanded you, and go and serve other gods, and bow yourselves down to them: then will the anger of the Lord be kindled against you, and ye shall perish quickly from off the good land which he hath given unto you.

Joshua 24:1

And Joshua assembled all the tribes of Israel to Shechem; and he called for the elders of Israel, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers, and they presented themselves before God.

Joshua 24:2

And Joshua said unto all the people, Thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel, On the other side of the river did your fathers dwell in old time, even Terach, the father of Abraham, and the father of Nachor; and they served other gods.

Joshua 24:3

And I took your father Abraham from the other side of the river, and I led him throughout all the land of Canaan; and I multiplied his seed, and gave him Isaac.

And I brought your fathers out of Egypt; and ye came unto the sea; and the Egyptians pursued after your fathers with chariots and horsemen unto the Red Sea.

Joshua 24:7

And they cried unto the Lord, and he put darkness between you and the Egyptians, and he brought the sea over them, and covered them; and your eyes saw what I had done on Egypt; and ye dwelt in the wilderness many days.

Joshua 24:8

And I brought you into the land of the Emorites, that dwelt on the other side of the Jordan; and they fought with you: and I gave them into your hand, and ye took possession of their land; and I destroyed them from before you.

Joshua 24:9

Then Balak the son of Zippor, the king of Moab, arose and warred against Israel; and he sent and called Bil'am the son of Beor to curse you;

Joshua 24:10

And I would not hearken unto Bil'am; but he had to bless you instead: and I delivered you out of his hand.

Joshua 24:11

And ye passed over the Jordan, and came unto Jericho; and then fought the men of Jericho against you, the Emorites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Girgashites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites: and I gave them up into your hand.

Joshua 24:12

And I sent before you the hornet which drove them out from before you, even the two kings of the Emorites: not with thy sword, and not with thy bow.

Joshua 24:13

And I gave you a land for which ye had not toiled, and cities which ye had not built, and ye dwell in them; of vineyards and oliveyards which ye planted not do ye eat.

Joshua 24:14

Now therefore fear the Lord, and serve him in sincerity and truth; and put away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the river and in Egypt, and serve the Lord.

Joshua 24:15

And if it be displeasing in your eyes to serve the Lord, choose for yourselves this day whom ye will serve: whether the gods which your fathers that were on the other side of the river served, or the gods of the Emorites, in whose land ye dwell; but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.

Joshua 24:16

And the people answered and said, Far be it from us to forsake the Lord, to serve other gods;

Joshua 24:17

For the Lord our God it is that hath brought us and our fathers up out of the land of Egypt, from the house of slavery, and who hath done those great signs before our eyes, and preserved us upon all the way whereon we have gone, and among all the people through the midst of whom we have passed:

And Joshua made a covenant with the people on that day, and set them a statute and an ordinance in Shechem.

Joshua 24:26

And Joshua wrote these words in the book of the law of God; and he took a great stone, and set it up there under the oak, that was by the sanctuary of the Lord.

Joshua 24:27

And Joshua said unto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be among us as a witness; for it hath heard all the words of the Lord which he spoke unto us: it shall be therefore as a witness against you, that ye may not deny your God.

Joshua 24:28

And Joshua let the people depart, every man unto his inheritance.

And it came to pass after these things, that Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the Lord, died, one hundred and ten years old.

Judges 14:16

And Samson's wife wept before him, and said, Thou doest but hate me, and lovest me not: that riddle hast thou propounded unto the children of my people, and me hast thou not told [the solution]. And the Spirit of the Lord came suddenly over him, and he went down to Ashkelon, and slew of them thirty men, and he took their apparel, and gave the changes of garments unto the expounders of the riddle; but his anger was kindled, and he went up to his father's house.

And, behold, an old man was coming from his work out of the field at evening, and this man was from the mountain of Ephraim, and he sojourned in Gib'ah; but the men of the place were Benjamites.

Judges 19:17

And he lifted up his eyes, and saw the wayfaring man in the street of the city: and then said the old man, Whither goest thou? and whence comest thou?

Judges 19:18

And he said unto him, We are passing from Beth-lechem-judah toward the lower edge of the mountain of Ephraim; from there am I, and I went as far as Beth-lechem-judah; but I am going to the house of the Lord; and there is no man that bringeth me into his house.

Judges 19:19

Yet there is both straw and provender for our asses; and there are also bread and wine for me, and for thy handmaid, and for the young man who is with thy servants; there is no want of any thing.

Judges 19:20

And the old man said, Peace be with thee; only let all thy wants lie upon me; at least lodge not in the street.

Judges 19:21

So he brought him to his house, and gave provender unto the asses: and they washed their feet, and they ate and drank.

Judges 19:22

As they were making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the city, worthless people, beset the house round about, knocking at the door; and they said to the master of the house, the old man, thus, Bring forth the man that in come to thy house, that we may know him.

Judges 19:23

And the man, the master of the house, went out unto them, and said unto them, No, my brethren, I pray you, act not wickedly; since this man is once come into my house, do not this scandalous thing.

Judges 19:24

Behold, here is my daughter a virgin, and his concubine; let me bring them out now, and humble ye them, and do to them what seemeth good in your eyes; but unto this man do not this scandalous thing.

Judges 19:25

But the men would not hearken to him; so the man took hold of his concubine, and brought her forth unto them into the street; and they knew her, and ill-used her all the night until the morning; and they let her go when the day began to dawn.

Judges 19:26

Then came the woman [home] in the early part of the morning, and fell down at the door of the man's house where her lord was, [and lay] till it was light.

Judges 19:27

And when her lord rose up in the morning, and opened the doors of the house, and went out to go on his way: behold, the woman, his concubine, was lying at the door of the house, with her hands upon the threshold.

Judges 19:28

And he said unto her, Rise up, and let us be going; but no one answered. Then he took her upon the ass, and the man rose up, and went unto his place.

Judges 19:29

And when he was come into his house, he took a knife, and laid hold on his concubine, and divided her, according to her bones, into twelve pieces, and sent her about in all the territory of Israel.

Judges 19:30

And it happened, that whoever saw it said, There hath no such deed been done or seen from the day that the children of Israel came up out of the land of Egypt until this day: reflect well on it, give advice, and speak.

Judges 20:1

Then went out all the children of Israel, and the congregation was assembled together as one man, from Dan even to Beer-sheba', with the land of Gil'ad, unto the Lord in Mizpah.

Judges 20:2

and there presented themselves the chiefs of all the people, of all the tribes of Israel, in the assembly of the people of God, four hundred thousand men on foot that drew the sword.

Judges 20:3

(And the children of Benjamin heard that the children of Israel were gone up to Mizpah.) And the children of Israel said, Speak, how did this wickedness take place?

Judges 20:4

And the Levite, the husband of the woman that was murdered, answered and said, I came to Gib'ah that belongeth to Benjamin, I and my concubine, to stay one night,

Judges 20:5

When the men of Gib'ah rose against me, and beset the house round about against me by night; me they intended to slay; and my concubine they humbled, so that she died.

Judges 20:6

And I took hold of my concubine and cut her in pieces, and sent her about throughout all the fields of the inheritance of Israel; for they had committed incest and scandal in Israel.

Judges 20:7

Behold, ye are all here children of Israel: furnish for yourselves here advice and counsel.

Judges 20:8

And all the people then arose as one man, saying, We will not go any of us to his tent, neither will we turn any of us into his house.

Judges 20:9

And now this shall be the thing which we will do to Gib'ah: We will go up against it by lot;

Judges 20:10

And we will take ten men out of every hundred throughout all the tribes of Israel, and a hundred out of every thousand, and a thousand out of every ten thousand, to procure provisions for the people; that they may do, when they come to Gib'ah of Benjamin, in accordance with all the scandalous deed that they have wrought in Israel.

Judges 20:11

So all the men of Israel were gathered against the city, associated together as one man.

Judges 20:12

And the tribes of Israel sent men through all the divisions of Benjamin, saying, What wickedness is this that hath been done among you?

Judges 20:13

Now therefore deliver up the men, those worthless people, who are in Gib'ah, that we may put them to death, and remove evil from Israel. But the children of Benjamin would not hearken to the voice of their brethren the children of Israel.

Judges 20:14

And the children of Benjamin gathered themselves together out of the cities unto Gib'ah, to go out to battle with the children of Israel.

Judges 20:15

And at that time there were numbered of the children of Benjamin out of the cities twenty and six thousand men that drew the sword, beside the inhabitants of Gib'ah, who were numbered seven hundred chosen men.

Judges 20:16

Among all this people there were seven hundred chosen men lame in the right hand: every one of these could sling a stone at a hair, and would not miss.

Judges 20:17

And the men of Israel, beside Benjamin, were numbered four hundred thousand men that drew the sword: all these were men of war.

Judges 20:18

And they arose, and went up to Beth-el, and asked counsel of God; and the children of Israel said, Who of us shall go up at first to the battle with the children of Benjamin? And the Lord said, Judah, at first.

Judges 20:19

And the children of Israel rose up in the morning, and encamped against Gib'ah.

Judges 20:20

And the men of Israel went out to battle with Benjamin; and the men of Israel put themselves in battle–array against them by Gib’ah.

Judges 20:21

And the Children of Benjamin came forth out of Gib’ah, and struck down to the ground of the Israelites on that day twenty and two thousand men.

Judges 20:22

And the people the men of Israel took courage, and set themselves again in battle–array in the place where they had arrayed themselves on the first day.

Judges 20:23

And the children of Israel went up and wept before the Lord until the evening, and asked counsel of the Lord, saying, Shall I again approach to battle with the children of Benjamin my brother? And the Lord said, Go up against him.

Judges 20:24

And the children of Israel came near against the children of Benjamin on the second day.

Judges 20:25

And Benjamin went forth against them out of Gib’ah on the second day, and struck down to the ground of the children of Israel again eighteen thousand men: all these were men that drew the sword.

Judges 20:26

Now all the children of Israel, and all the people, went up, and came unto Beth–el, and wept, and sat there before the Lord, and fasted on that day until the evening, and offered burnt–offerings and peace–offerings before the Lord.

Judges 20:27

And the children of Israel inquired of the Lord, (for there was the ark of the covenant of God in those days,

Judges 20:28

And Phinehas, the son of Elazar, the son of Aaron, stood before it in those days,) saying, shall I yet continue to go out to battle with the children of Benjamin my brother, or shall I forbear? And the Lord said, Go up; for tomorrow will I deliver him into thy hand.

Judges 20:29

And Israel sent men to lie in wait round about Gib’ah.

Judges 20:30

And the children of Israel went up against the children of Benjamin on the third day, and put themselves in array against Gib'ah, as at previous times.

Judges 20:31

And the children of Benjamin went out against the people, and were drawn away from the city; and they began to smite some of the people, and kill, as at previous times, in the highways, of which one goeth up to Beth-el, and the other to Gib'ah in the field, about thirty men of Israel.

Judges 20:32

And the children of Benjamin said, They are defeated before us, as at the first. But the children of Israel said, Let us flee, and draw them from the city unto the highways.

Judges 20:33

And all the men of Israel rose up out of their place, and put themselves in array at Ba'al-thamar: and those that lay in wait of Israel rushed forth out of their place, out of the meadows of Gib'ah.

Judges 20:34

And there came against Gib'ah ten thousand chosen men out of all Israel, and the battle was severe; but they knew not that the evil was overtaking them.

Judges 20:35

And the Lord smote Benjamin before Israel; and the children of Israel destroyed of the Benjamites on that day twenty and five thousand and one hundred men: all these were those that drew the sword.

Judges 20:36

And the children of Benjamin saw that they were defeated; for the men of Israel gave place to the Benjamites, because they trusted unto those that lay in wait whom they had set against Gib'ah.

Judges 20:37

And those in ambush hastened, and spread themselves over Gib'ah; and those that lay in wait moved along, and smote all the city with the edge of the sword.

Judges 20:38

Now there was an understanding between the men of Israel and those that lay in wait, that they should make an abundance of columns of smoke rise up out of the city.

Judges 20:39

And when the men of Israel turned round in the battle, and Benjamin began to smite and kill of the men of Israel about thirty persons; for they said, Surely they are entirely defeated before us, as in the first battle:

Judges 20:40

Then began the cloud to arise up out of the city as a pillar of smoke; and when the Benjamites looked behind them, behold, the flames of all the city were ascending up to heaven.

Judges 20:41

And when the men of Israel turned again, the men of Benjamin were amazed; for they saw that the evil had overtaken them.

Judges 20:42

Therefore they turned round before the men of Israel unto the way to the wilderness; but the battle overtook them; and those who came out of the cities destroyed them in the midst of them.

Judges 20:43

They enclosed the Benjamites round about, chased them, they overtook them in their places of rest, as far as opposite to Gib'ah toward the rising of the sun.

Judges 20:44

And there fell of Benjamin eighteen thousand men: all these were men of valor.

Judges 20:45

And they turned and fled toward the wilderness unto the rock of Rimmon; and they gleaned of them in the highways five thousand men; and they pursued hard after them as far as Gid'om, and slew of them two thousand men.

Judges 20:46

So that all who fell on that day of Benjamin were twenty and five thousand men that drew the sword: all these were men of valor.

Judges 20:47

But six hundred men turned and fled into the wilderness unto the rock Rimmon, and they abode on the rock Rimmon four months.

Judges 20:48

And the men of Israel turned again upon the children of Benjamin, and smote them with the edge of the sword, as well the men of every city, as the beasts, and all that was found: also all the cities that they came upon did they set on fire.

Judges 21:1

Now the men of Israel had sworn in Mizpah, saying, Not any of us shall give his daughter unto Benjamin for wife.

Judges 21:2

And the people came to Beth-el, and abode there till the evening, before God, and they lifted up their voices, and wept with a great lamentation;

Judges 21:3

And they said, Wherefore, O Lord, God of Israel, is this come to pass in Israel, that there should be lacking this day out of Israel one tribe?

Judges 21:4

And it came to pass on the morrow, that the people rose early, and built there an altar, and offered burnt-offerings and peace-offerings.

Judges 21:5

And the children of Israel said, Who is there among all the tribes of Israel that came not up with the congregation unto the Lord? For there had been taken the great oath concerning him that came not up to the Lord to Mizpah, saying, He shall surely be put to death.

Judges 21:6

And the children of Israel felt regret for Benjamin their brother, and they said, One tribe hath this day been cut down from Israel.

Judges 21:7

What shall we do as respecteth wives for those that remain, since we have sworn by the Lord that we will give none of our daughters unto them for wives?

Judges 21:8

And they said, what one is there of the tribes of Israel that came not up unto the Lord to Mizpah? And, behold, there had not come to the camp a man from Yabesh-gil'ad to the assembly.

Judges 21:9

For the people were numbered, and, behold, there was not present a man of the inhabitants of Yabesh-gil'ad.

Judges 21:10

And the congregation sent thither twelve thousand persons of the valiant men, and commanded them, saying, Go and smite the inhabitants of Yabesh-gil'ad with the edge of the sword, with the women and the children.

Judges 21:11

And this is the thing that ye shall do, every male, and every woman that hath known [man] by lying with him, shall ye devote.

Judges 21:12

And they found among the inhabitants of Yabesh-gil'ad four hundred young virgins that had not known man by lying with any male: and they brought them unto the camp to Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan.

Judges 21:13

And the whole congregation sent and spoke to the children of Benjamin that were on the rock Rimmon, and offered them peace.

Judges 21:14

And Benjamin returned at that time: and they gave unto them the wives whom they had saved alive out of the women of Yabesh-gil'ad; but they found not sufficient for them in this way.

Judges 21:15

And the people felt regret for Benjamin; because that the Lord had made a breach in the tribes of Israel.

Judges 21:16

And the elders of the congregation said, What shall we do for those that remain as respecteth wives; because the women have been destroyed out of Benjamin?

Judges 21:17

And they said, Their inheritance must be secured for Benjamin, that not a tribe may be blotted out from Israel.

Judges 21:18

Nevertheless we ourselves are not able to give them wives of our daughters; for the children of Israel have sworn, saying, Cursed be he that giveth a wife to Benjamin.

Judges 21:19

And they said, Behold, there is a feast of the Lord in Shiloh from year to year [at a place] which is on the north side of Beth-el, on the east side of the highway that goeth up from Beth-el to Shechem, and on the south of Lebonah.

Judges 21:20

And they commanded the children of Benjamin, saying, Go ye and lie in wait in the vineyards;

Judges 21:21

And look out, and, behold, if the daughters of Shiloh go out to dance in dances: then come ye forth out of the vineyards, and snatch you every man his wife from the daughters of Shiloh, and go then to the land of Benjamin.

Judges 21:22

And it shall be, when their fathers or their brothers come to contend with us, that we will say unto them, Be favorable unto them for our sakes; because we took not for each man his wife in the war; [and] because ye yourselves did not give them unto them, that ye should at this time be guilty.

Judges 21:23

And the children of Benjamin did so, and took themselves wives, according to their number, from the dancers whom they had stolen away; and they went and returned unto their inheritance, and rebuilt the cities, and dwelt in them.

Judges 21:24

And the children of Israel departed thence at that time, every man to his tribe and to his family, and they went out from there every man to his inheritance.

Judges 21:25

In those days there was no king in Israel: every man did what was right in his own eyes.

RUTH

Ruth 1:1

And it came to pass in the days when the judges judged, that there was a famine in the land: and there went a certain man of Beth-lechem-judah to sojourn in the fields of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sons.

Ruth 1:2

And the name of the man was Elimelech, and the name of his wife Na'omi, and the name of his two sons Machlon and Kilyon, Ephrathites of Beth-lechem-judah. And they came into the fields of Moab, and remained there.

Ruth 1:3

Thereupon died Elimelech Na'omi's husband; and she was left, with her two sons.

Ruth 1:4

And they took themselves wives of the women of Moab; the name of one was 'Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelt there about ten years.

Ruth 1:5

And then died also both of these, Machlon and Kilyon, and the woman was left [deprived] of her two children and her husband.

Ruth 1:6

Then did she arise with her daughters-in-law, and returned homeward from the fields of Moab; for she had heard in the fields of Moab that the Lord had thought of his people in giving them bread.

Ruth 1:7

Therefore she went forth out of the place where she had been, and her two daughters-in-law [were] with her; and they went on their way to return unto the land of Judah.

Ruth 1:8

Then said Na'omi unto her two daughters-in-law, Go, return each one to her mother's house: may the Lord deal kindly with you, as ye have dealt with the dead, and with me.

Ruth 1:9

May the Lord grant unto you that ye may find rest, each one in the house of her husband. Then she kissed them, and they lifted up their voice, and wept.

Ruth 1:10

And they said unto her, [No,] for truly we will return with thee unto thy people.

Ruth 1:11

Then said Na'omi, Return back, my daughters; why will ye go with me? are there yet any more sons in my womb, that they may become your husbands?

Ruth 1:12

Return back, my daughters, go; for I am too old to become [the wife] of any man; yea, if I were even to think, I have hope; should I even obtain this night a husband, and should also bear sons:

Ruth 1:13

Would ye wait in hopes for them till they were grown? would ye debar yourselves for them so as not to become the wives of any man? not so, my daughters; for I feel much more bitter pain than you; because the hand of the Lord is gone out against me.

Ruth 1:14

And they lifted up their voice and wept a long time; and Orpah kissed her mother-in-law; but Ruth cleaved unto her.

Ruth 1:15

And she said, Behold, thy sister-in-law is returned back unto her people, and unto her gods; return thou after thy sister-in-law.

Ruth 1:16

But Ruth said, Urge me not to leave thee, to return from following thee; for whither thou goest, will I go; and where thou lodgest, will I lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.

Ruth 1:17

Where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried; may the Lord do so to me, and may he so continue, if aught but death shall part me from thee.

Ruth 1:18

When she thus saw that she was persisting to go with her, she left off speaking unto her.

Ruth 1:19

So these two went until they came to Beth-lechem. And it came to pass, when they entered Beth-lechem, that all the city was in commotion about them, and people said, Is this Na'omi?

Ruth 1:20

And she said unto them, Call me not Na'omi, call me Mara; for the Almighty hath dealt very bitterly with me.

Ruth 1:21

I went out full, but empty hath the Lord brought me home again; why then will ye call me Na'omi, seeing the Lord hath testified against me, and the Almighty hath sent me affliction?

Ruth 1:22

So did Na'omi return, and Ruth the Moabitess, her daughter-in-law, with her, who had returned out of the fields of Moab; and they came to Beth-lechem at the beginning of the barley-harvest.

Ruth 2:1

And Na'omi had a kinsman of her husband's, a mighty, valiant man, of the family of Elimelech, whose name was Bo'az.

Ruth 2:2

And Ruth the Moabitess said unto Na'omi, Let me go, I pray thee, into the field, and glean ears of corn after him in whose eyes I shall find grace. And she said unto her, Go, my daughter.

Ruth 2:3

And she went, and came, and gleaned in the field after the reapers; and the accident happened to her, that it was a part of the field belonging unto Bo'az, who was of the family of Elimelech.

Ruth 2:4

And, behold, Bo'az came from Beth-lechem, and he said unto the reapers, The Lord be with you. And they said unto him, May the Lord bless thee.

Ruth 2:5

Then said Bo'az unto his young man that was appointed over the reapers, Whose maiden is this?

Ruth 2:6

And the young man that was appointed over the reapers answered and said, It is a Moabitish maiden that is returned with Na'omi out of the fields of Moab;

Ruth 2:7

And she said, Let me glean, I pray you, and gather among the sheaves after the reapers: so she came, and hath remained ever from the morning even until now; it is but a little while that she hath sat down in the house.

Ruth 2:8

Then said Bo'az unto Ruth, Hearest thou not, my daughter? Go not to glean in another field, neither go away from this; but keep close company with my own maidens.

Ruth 2:9

Let thy eyes be on the field which they may reap, and go thou after them; behold, I have charged the young men that they shall not touch thee: and when thou art thirsty, go unto the vessels, and drink of that which the young men may draw.

Ruth 2:10

Thereupon she fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, and said unto him, Why have I found grace in thy eyes, that thou shouldst take cognizance of me, seeing I am but a stranger?

Ruth 2:11

But Bo'az answered and said unto her, It hath fully been told me, all that thou hast done unto thy mother-in-law after the death of thy husband; and how thou hast forsaken thy father and thy mother, and the land of thy birth, and art come unto a people which thou knewest not yesterday or the day before.

Ruth 2:12

May the Lord recompense thy work, and may thy reward be complete from the Lord the God of Israel, under whose wings thou art come to seek shelter.

Ruth 2:13

Then said she, Let me find grace in thy eyes, my lord; for thou hast comforted me, and because thou hast spoken [kindly] unto the heart of thy handmaid, though I be not like one of thy handmaids.

Ruth 2:14

And Bo'az said unto her, At mealtime come near hither, and eat of the bread, and dip thy morsel in the vinegar. And she seated herself beside the reapers: and he reached her parched corn, and she ate, and was satisfied, and had some left.

Ruth 2:15

Then did she arise to glean: and Bo'az commanded his young men, saying, Even between the sheaves let her glean, and do not cause her to feel any shame;

Ruth 2:16

And ye shall also draw out some for her from the bundles on purpose, and leave it, that she may glean it, and ye shall not rebuke her.

Ruth 2:17

So she gleaned in the field until the evening; and when she beat out what she had gleaned, it was about an ephah of barley.

Ruth 2:18

And she took it up, and she went into the city; and her mother-in-law saw what she had gleaned; and she brought forth and gave to her what she had left over after she was satisfied.

Ruth 2:19

And her mother-in-law said unto her, Where hast thou gleaned today? and where hast thou wrought? may he that took cognizance of thee be blessed. And she told her mother-in-law with whom she had wrought, and said, The name of the man with whom I wrought today is Bo'az.

Ruth 2:20

Then said Na'omi unto her daughter-in-law, Blessed be he unto the Lord, who hath not withheld his kindness from the living and from the dead. And Na'omi said unto her, The man is nearly related unto us, he is one of our next kinsmen.

Ruth 2:21

And Ruth the Moabitess said, He hath also said unto me, Thou shalt keep close company with my young men, until they have ended all my harvest.

Ruth 2:22

Then said Na'omi unto Ruth her daughter-in-law, It is good, my daughter, that thou go out with his maidens, and that men may not meet with thee in any other field.

Ruth 2:23

So she kept close company with the maidens of Bo'az in gleaning until the end of the barley-harvest and of the wheat-harvest; and she dwelt with her mother-in-law.

Ruth 3:1

Then said Na'omi her mother-in-law unto her, My daughter, behold I will seek for thee a resting-place, where it may be well with thee.

Ruth 3:2

And now, behold, Bo'az is our kinsman, he with whose maidens thou hast been. Lo, he is winnowing the barley to-night in the threshing-floor.

Ruth 3:3

Therefore bathe, and anoint thyself, and put thy garments upon thee, and go down to the threshing-floor; [but] make thyself not known unto the man, until he shall have finished eating and drinking.

Ruth 3:4

And it shall be, when he lieth down, that thou shalt note the place where he will lie, and thou shalt then go in, and lift up the covering that is on his feet, and lay thyself down: and he will tell thee what thou shalt do.

Ruth 3:5

And she said unto her, All that thou sayest unto me will I do.

Ruth 3:6

And she went down unto the threshing-floor, and did in accordance with all that her mother-in-law had commanded her.

Ruth 3:7

And Bo'az ate and drank, and his heart became merry; and he then went in to lie down at the end of the heap of corn: and she came in softly, and lifted up the covering that was on his feet, and laid herself down.

Ruth 3:8

And it came to pass at midnight, that the man became terrified, and bent himself forward; and, behold, a woman was lying at his feet.

Ruth 3:9

And he said, Who art thou? And she said, I am Ruth thy handmaid: spread therefore thy skirt over thy handmaid; for thou art a near kinsman.

Ruth 3:10

And he said, Blessed be thou unto the Lord, my daughter; for thou hast shown more kindness in the last instance than the first, by not going after the young men, whether they be poor or rich.

Ruth 3:11

And now, my daughter, fear not: all that thou mayest say will I do for thee; for all [the men in] the gate of my people know that thou art a virtuous woman.

Ruth 3:12

And now, it is indeed true that I am thy near kinsman; nevertheless, there is a kinsman nearer than I.

Ruth 3:13

Remain here this night, and it shall be in the morning, that if he will redeem thee, well, let him redeem; but if he be not willing to redeem thee, then will I redeem thee, as the Lord liveth: lie still until the morning.

Ruth 3:14

And she lay at his feet until the morning; and she rose up before one could know another. And he said, It must not be known that this woman came into the threshing-floor.

Ruth 3:15

Also he said, Bring hither the cloak that thou hast upon thee, and lay hold of it. And she laid hold of it, and he measured six [measures] of barley, and laid it on her, and went into the city.

Ruth 3:16

And she came to her mother-in-law, and she said, How is it with thee, my daughter? And she told her all that the man had done to her.

Ruth 3:17

And she said, These six measures of barley gave he unto me; for he said to me, Thou shalt not come empty to thy mother-in-law.

Ruth 3:18

Then said she, Remain still, my daughter, until thou know how the matter will fall out; for the man will not rest, until he have finished the matter this day.

Ruth 4:1

But Bo'az went up to the gate, and sat down there; and, behold, the kinsman of whom Bo'az had spoken came passing by; and he said unto him, Turn aside hither, sit down here, such a one. And he turned aside, and sat down.

Ruth 4:2

And he took ten men of the elders of the city, and said, Sit ye down here. And they sat down.

Ruth 4:3

And he said unto the kinsman, Na'omi, that is returned out of the field of Moab, hath to sell a parcel of land, which was our brother Elimelech's.

Ruth 4:4

And I thought to inform thee of it, saying, Buy it before those sitting here, and before the elders of my people. If thou wilt redeem it, redeem it; but if thou wilt not redeem it, then tell me, that I may know; for there is none beside thee to redeem it, and I am after thee. And he said, I will redeem it.

Ruth 4:5

Then said Bo'az, On the day that thou buyest the field out of the hand of Na'omi, thou buyest it also from Ruth the Moabitess, the wife of the dead, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance.

Ruth 4:6

And the kinsman said, I am not able to redeem it for myself, lest I injure my own inheritance: redeem thou what I should redeem for thyself; for I am not able to redeem it.

Ruth 4:7

Now this was formerly the custom in Israel at a redeeming and at an exchanging, to confirm any thing, that a man pulled off his shoe, and gave it to the other; and this was the manner of testimony in Israel.

Ruth 4:8

Thereupon said the kinsman unto Bo'az, Buy it for thee. And he pulled off his shoe.

Ruth 4:9

And Bo'az said unto the elders, and unto all the people, Ye are witnesses this day, that I have bought all that belonged to Elimelech, and all that belonged to Kilyon and Machlon, out of the hand of Na'omi.

Ruth 4:10

And also Ruth the Moabitess, the wife of Machlon, have I obtained for myself as my wife, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance, that the name of the dead may not be cut off from among his brethren, and from the gate of his place: ye are witnesses this day.

Ruth 4:11

And all the people that were in the gate, and the elders, said, [We are] witnesses. The Lord grant that the woman that is coming into thy house be like Rachel and like Leah, who did both build up the house of Israel: and acquire thou wealth in Ephrathah, and let thy name become famous in Beth-lechem;

Ruth 4:12

And may thy house be like the house of Perez, whom Tamar bore unto Judah, through the seed which the Lord will give thee of this young woman.

Ruth 4:13

And Bo'az took Ruth, and she became his wife, and he went in unto her: and the Lord gave her conception, and she bore a son.

Ruth 4:14

And the women said unto Na'omi, Blessed be the Lord, who hath not allowed to be wanting unto thee a kinsman this day: and may his name become famous in Israel.

Ruth 4:15

And may he be unto thee one who refresheth thy soul, and who nourisheth thy old age; for thy daughter-in-law, who loveth thee, hath born him, she who is better to thee than seven sons.

Ruth 4:16

And Na'omi took the child, and laid it in her lap, and she became a nurse unto it.

Ruth 4:17

And the neighboring women gave him a name, saying, There hath been a son born unto Na'omi: and they called his name 'Obed, who is the father of Jesse, the father of David.

Ruth 4:18

And these are the generations of Perez: Perez begat Chezron;

Ruth 4:19

And Chezron begat Ram; and Ram begat 'Amminadab;

Ruth 4:20

And 'Amminadab begat Nachshon; and Nachshon begat Salmah;

Ruth 4:21

And Salmon begat Bo'az; and Bo'az begat 'Obed;

Ruth 4:22

And 'Obed begat Jesse, and Jesse begat David.

1 SAMUEL

1 Samuel 1:1

And there was a certain man of Rama–thayim–zophim, of the mountain of Ephraim, whose name was Elkanah, the son of Yerocham, the son of Elihu, the son of Tochu, the son of Zuph, an Ephrathite.

1 Samuel 1:2

And he had two wives; the name of the one was Hannah, and the name of the other Peninnah: Peninnah had children, but Hannah had no children.

1 Samuel 1:3

And this man went up out of his city from year to year to prostrate himself and to sacrifice unto the Lord of hosts in Shiloh. And at that place were the two sons of ‘Eli, Chophni and Phinehas, priests of the Lord.

1 Samuel 1:4

And when the day was come that Elkanah offered, he gave to Peninnah his wife, and to all her sons and her daughters, portions;

1 Samuel 1:5

But unto Hannah he gave a double portion; for Hannah he loved [greatly]; but the Lord had shut up her womb.

1 Samuel 1:6

And her rival also provoked her continually, in order to make her fret; because the Lord had shut up her womb.

1 Samuel 1:7

And he did so year by year, as often as she went up to the house of the Lord, so did she provoke her; wherefore she wept, and did not eat.

1 Samuel 1:8

Then said to her Elkanah her husband, Hannah, why wilt thou weep? and why wilt thou not eat? and why should thy heart be grieved? am not I better to thee than ten sons?

1 Samuel 1:9

And Hannah rose up after they had eaten in Shiloh, and after they had drunk; and ‘Eli the priest was sitting upon a chair by the door–post of the temple of the Lord.

1 Samuel 1:10

But she had bitterness of soul, and prayed unto the Lord, and wept greatly.

1 Samuel 1:11

And she vowed a vow, and said, O Lord of hosts, if thou wilt indeed look on the affliction of thy handmaid, and remember me, and not forget thy handmaid, but wilt give unto thy handmaid a man-child: then will I give him unto the Lord all the days of his life, and no razor shall come upon his head.

1 Samuel 1:12

And it came to pass, as she continued praying long before the Lord, that 'Eli watched her mouth.

1 Samuel 1:13

Now as for Hannah, she spoke in her heart; only her lips moved, but her voice could not be heard; wherefore 'Eli regarded her as a drunken woman.

1 Samuel 1:14

And 'Eli said unto her, How long wilt thou be drunken? put away thy wine from off thee.

1 Samuel 1:15

And Hannah answered and said, No, my Lord, I am a woman of a sorrowful spirit; but neither wine nor strong drink have I drunk, and I have poured out my soul before the Lord.

1 Samuel 1:16

Esteem not thy handmaid as a worthless woman; for out of the abundance of my grief and vexation have I spoken hitherto.

1 Samuel 1:17

Then 'Eli answered and said, Go in peace; and may the God of Israel grant thy petition which thou hast asked of him.

1 Samuel 1:18

And she said, Let thy handmaid find grace in thy eyes. The woman then went on her way, and did eat, and her countenance was no longer as before.

1 Samuel 1:19

And they rose up early in the morning, and prostrated themselves before the Lord, and returned, and came to their house at Ramah; and Elkanah knew Hannah his wife; and the Lord remembered her.

1 Samuel 1:20

And it came to pass, after the lapse of some time, that Hannah conceived, and bore a son; and she called his name Samuel, saying, Because from the Lord have I asked him.

1 Samuel 1:21

And the man Elkanah went up, with all his house, to offer unto the Lord the yearly sacrifice, and his vow.

1 Samuel 1:22

But Hannah did not go up; for she said unto her husband, So soon as the child shall be weaned, then I will bring him, that he may appear before the Lord, and abide there for ever.

1 Samuel 1:23

And Elkanah her husband said unto her, Do what seemeth good in thy eyes; tarry until thou hast weaned him; only may the Lord fulfill his word. So the woman remained behind, and gave her son suck until she weaned him.

1 Samuel 1:24

And she took him up with her, when she had weaned him, with three bullocks, and one ephah of flour, and a bottle of wine, and she brought him unto the house of the Lord at Shiloh; although the child was yet young.

1 Samuel 1:25

And they slew a bullock, and brought the child to 'Eli.

1 Samuel 1:26

And she said, Pardon, my Lord, as thy soul liveth, my Lord, I am the woman that stood by thee here, to pray unto the Lord.

1 Samuel 1:27

For this lad did I pray; and the Lord hath granted me my petition which I asked of him;

1 Samuel 1:28

Therefore also have I lent him, for my part, to the Lord; all the days that have been assigned to him shall he be lent to the Lord. And he bowed himself there before the Lord.

1 Samuel 2:1

And Hannah prayed, and said, My heart is glad in the Lord, my horn is exalted through the Lord: my mouth is enlarged over my enemies; because I rejoice in thy salvation.

1 Samuel 2:2

There is none holy like the Lord; for there is none beside thee; and there is not any rock like our God.

1 Samuel 2:3

Talk no more so exceeding proudly; let not arrogance come out of your mouth; for a God of knowledge is the Lord, and by him are actions weighed.

1 Samuel 2:4

The bow of the mighty is broken, and those that stumbled are girded with strength.

1 Samuel 2:5

They that were full hire themselves out for bread; and they that were hungry cease [from labor]: while the barren hath born seven, she that hath many children fadeth away.

1 Samuel 2:6

The Lord killeth, and maketh alive: he bringeth down to the grave, and bringeth up.

1 Samuel 2:7

The Lord maketh poor and maketh rich: he bringeth low and also lifteth up.

1 Samuel 2:8

He raiseth up out of the dust the poor, from the dunghill he lifteth up the needy, to set them among nobles, and he assigneth them the throne of glory; for the Lord's are the pillars of the earth, on which he hath set the world.

1 Samuel 2:9

He ever guardeth the feet of his pious ones, and the wicked shall be made silent in darkness; for not by strength can man prevail.

1 Samuel 2:10

The Lord—his adversaries will be crushed; out of heaven will he thunder upon them: the Lord will judge the ends of the earth; and he will give strength unto his king, and lift up the horn of his anointed.

1 Samuel 2:11

And Elkanah went to Ramah to his house. And the lad was ministering unto the Lord before 'Eli the priest.

1 Samuel 2:12

And the sons of 'Eli were worthless men: they knew not the Lord.

1 Samuel 2:13

And the custom of the priests with the people was, that, when any man offered a sacrifice, the priest's servant came, while [the man] was seething the flesh, with a fork with three teeth in his hand;

1 Samuel 2:14

And he struck it into the pan, or the kettle, or the caldron, or the pot; [and] all that the fork brought up the priest took away with it. So did they unto all the Israelites that came thither, to Shiloh.

1 Samuel 2:15

Even before they had yet burnt the fat, the priest's servant would come, and say to the man that sacrificed, Give flesh to roast for the priest; for he will not take from thee sodden flesh, but raw.

1 Samuel 2:16

And if the man said unto him, They will surely presently burn the fat, and then take whatever thy soul may long for: then would he say, No; but thou shalt give it me now; and if not, I will take it by force.

1 Samuel 2:17

And the sin of the young men was very great before the Lord; for the men despised the offering of the Lord.

1 Samuel 2:18

But Samuel was ministering before the Lord, being a lad, girded with a linen ephod.

1 Samuel 2:19

Moreover his mother used to make him a little overcoat, and brought it to him from year to year, when she came up with her husband to offer the yearly sacrifice.

1 Samuel 2:20

And 'Eli blessed Elkanah and his wife, and said, May the Lord give thee seed from this woman instead of the loan who is lent to the Lord. And they went back unto his place.

1 Samuel 2:21

And truly the Lord visited Hannah, and she conceived, and bore three sons and two daughters. And the lad Samuel grew up before the Lord.

1 Samuel 2:22

Now 'Eli was very old, and heard all that his sons were in the habit of doing unto all Israel; and how they would lie with the women that assembled at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

1 Samuel 2:23

And he said unto them, Why will ye do such things? for I hear of your evil dealings from all this people.

1 Samuel 2:24

No, my sons; for the report that I hear is not good, which the Lord's people spread abroad.

1 Samuel 2:25

If one man sin against another, the judge shall judge him; but if against the Lord a man should sin, who shall pray for him? Nevertheless would they not hearken unto the voice of their father, because the Lord desired to slay them.

1 Samuel 2:26

And the lad Samuel was constantly growing and increasing in favor both with the Lord, and also with men.

1 Samuel 2:27

And there came a man of God unto 'Eli, and said unto him, Thus hath said the Lord, Did I [not] appear unto the house of thy father, when they were in Egypt, in Pharaoh's house?

1 Samuel 2:28

And did I [not] choose him out of all the tribes of Israel to me as a priest, to offer upon my altar, to burn incense, to wear an ephod before me? and did I [not] give unto the house of thy father all the fire-offerings of the children of Israel?

1 Samuel 2:29

Wherefore kick ye at my sacrifice and at my meat-offering, which I have commanded in [my] habitation? and [why] honoredst thou thy sons above me, to fatten yourselves with the first of every offering of Israel my people?

1 Samuel 2:30

Therefore saith the Lord the God of Israel, I had indeed said, Thy house, and the house of thy father, should walk before me for ever; but now, saith the Lord, Be it far from me; for those that honor me will I honor, and those that despise me shall be lightly esteemed.

1 Samuel 2:31

Behold, days are coming, that I will hew off thy arm, and the arm of thy father's house, so that there shall not be an old man in thy house.

1 Samuel 2:32

And thou shalt behold a rival in my habitation, in all that by which he will do good for Israel: and there shall not be an old man in thy house in all times.

1 Samuel 2:33

And yet I will not cut off the men descended from thee from my altar, to consume thy eyes, and to grieve thy soul: and all the increase of thy house shall die as [vigorous] men.

1 Samuel 2:34

And this shall be unto thee the sign, that shall happen on thy two sons, on Chophni and Phinehas: On one day shall they, both of them, die.

1 Samuel 2:35

And I will raise up to me a faithful priest, who shall do in accordance with what is in my heart and in my mind; and I will build for him an enduring house; and he shall walk before my anointed in all times.

1 Samuel 2:36

And it shall come to pass, that whoever is left in thy house shall come to bow down to him for a gera of silver and a loaf of bread, and shall say, Attach me, I pray thee, unto one of the priestly offices, that I may eat a piece of bread.

1 Samuel 3:1

And the lad Samuel was ministering unto the Lord before 'Eli. And the word of the Lord was scarce in those days: prophecy was not extended.

1 Samuel 3:2

And it came to pass one day, when 'Eli was lying down in his place, and his eyes had begun to grow dim, he could not see;

1 Samuel 3:3

And the lamp of God had not yet gone out, while Samuel was lying down in [the hall of] the temple of the Lord, where the ark of God was;

1 Samuel 3:4

That the Lord called Samuel: and he said, Here am I.

1 Samuel 3:5

And he ran unto 'Eli, and said, Here am I; for thou didst call me. And he said, I did not call: lie down again. And he went and lay down.

1 Samuel 3:6

And the Lord continued to call again, Samuel. And Samuel arose and went to 'Eli, and said, Here am I; for thou didst call me. And he answered, I did not call, my son: lie down again.

1 Samuel 3:7

And Samuel knew not yet the Lord, nor had the word of the Lord been as yet revealed unto him.

1 Samuel 3:8

And the Lord continued to call, Samuel, the third time; and he arose and went to 'Eli, and said, Here am I; for thou didst call me. And 'Eli then perceived that the Lord was calling the lad.

1 Samuel 3:9

And 'Eli said unto Samuel, Go, lie down; and it shall be, if he call thee, that thou shalt say, Speak, Lord; for thy servant heareth. And Samuel went and lay down in his place.

1 Samuel 3:10

And the Lord came, and placed himself, and called as at previous times, Samuel, Samuel. And Samuel said, Speak; for thy servant heareth.

1 Samuel 3:11

And the Lord said to Samuel, Behold, I will do a thing in Israel, at which both the ears of every one that heareth it shall tingle.

1 Samuel 3:12

On that day will I fulfill on 'Eli all that I have spoken concerning his house: I will begin and finish.

1 Samuel 3:13

And I tell him that I will judge his house for ever; for the iniquity that he knew that his sons were drawing a curse on themselves, and he restrained them not.

1 Samuel 3:14

And therefore have I sworn unto the house of 'Eli, that the iniquity of 'Eli's house shall not be atoned for with sacrifice or meat-offering for ever.

1 Samuel 3:15

And Samuel lay until the morning, when he opened the doors of the house of the Lord; and Samuel feared to tell the vision unto 'Eli.

1 Samuel 3:16

But 'Eli called Samuel, and said, Samuel, my son. And he said, Here am I.

1 Samuel 3:17

And he said, What is the word which he hath spoken unto thee? do not, I pray thee, conceal it from me: may God do to thee thus, and continue to do so, if thou conceal any thing from me of all the word that he hath spoken unto thee.

1 Samuel 3:18

And Samuel told him all the words, and concealed nothing from him. And he said, He is the Lord: let him do what seemeth good in his eyes.

1 Samuel 3:19

And Samuel grew up, and the Lord was with him, and he did not let fall any one of all his words to the ground.

1 Samuel 3:20

And thus knew all Israel from Dan even to Beer-sheba' that Samuel was accredited as a prophet of the Lord.

1 Samuel 3:21

And the Lord continued to appear in Shiloh; for the Lord revealed himself to Samuel in Shiloh by the word of the Lord.

1 Samuel 4:1

And the word of Samuel became known to all Israel. Now Israel went out against the Philistines to battle, and encamped beside Eben-ha'ezer; and the Philistines encamped in Aphek.

1 Samuel 4:2

And the Philistines put themselves in battle-array against Israel; and the battle became general, and Israel was smitten before the Philistines: and they slew on the battle-ground, in the field, about four thousand men.

1 Samuel 4:3

And when the people were come back into the camp, the elders of Israel said, Wherefore hath the Lord smitten us this day before the Philistines? Let us bring over to us out of Shiloh the ark of the covenant of the Lord, that it may come in the midst of us, and deliver us out of the hand of our enemies.

1 Samuel 4:4

So the people sent to Shiloh, and they brought away from there the ark of the covenant of the Lord of hosts, who dwelleth over the cherubim: and the two sons of 'Eli, Chophni and Phinehas, were there with the ark of the covenant of God.

1 Samuel 4:5

And it happened when the ark of the covenant of the Lord came into the camp, that all Israel set up a great shout, so that the earth trembled.

1 Samuel 4:6

And when the Philistines heard the noise of the shouting, they said, What meaneth the noise of this great shouting in the camp of the Hebrews? And they understood that the ark of the Lord was come into the camp.

1 Samuel 4:7

And the Philistines were afraid; for they said, God is come into the camp. And they said, Woe unto us! for the like of this hath not been, yesterday or the day before.

1 Samuel 4:8

Woe unto us! who shall deliver us out of the hand of these mighty Gods? these are the Gods that smote the Egyptians with every plague in the wilderness.

1 Samuel 4:9

Be strong, and act like men, O Philistines, so that ye become not servants unto the Hebrews, as they have been servants to you: therefore act like men, and fight.

1 Samuel 4:10

And the Philistines fought, and the Israelites were smitten, and they fled every man unto his tent: and the defeat was very great; and there fell of Israel thirty thousand men on foot.

1 Samuel 4:11

And the ark of God was taken; and the two sons of 'Eli, Chophni and Phinehas, died also.

1 Samuel 4:12

And there ran a man of Benjamin from the battlefield, and came to Shiloh on the same day, with his clothes rent, and earth upon his head.

1 Samuel 4:13

And when he came, lo, 'Eli was sitting upon a chair by the wayside watching; for his heart was anxious for the ark of God. And when the man came to tell it in the city, all the city cried out.

1 Samuel 4:14

And when 'Eli heard the noise of the crying, he said, What meaneth the noise of this multitude? And the man came in hastily, and told it to 'Eli.

1 Samuel 4:15

Now 'Eli was ninety and eight years old; and his eyes were fixed, so that he could not see.

1 Samuel 4:16

And the man said unto 'Eli, I am the person that came from the battlefield, and I myself fled from the battlefield today. And he said, What was it that took place, my son?

1 Samuel 4:17

And the messenger answered and said, Israel is fled before the Philistines, and there hath also been a great slaughter among the people, and also thy two sons, Chophni and Phinehas, are dead, and the ark of God hath been taken.

1 Samuel 4:18

And it came to pass, when he mentioned the ark of God, that he fell from off the chair backward by the side of the gate, and his neck was broken, and he died; for the man was old, and heavy. And he had judged Israel forty years.

1 Samuel 4:19

And his daughter-in-law, the wife of Phinehas, was with child, near to be delivered: and when she heard the tidings concerning that the ark of God had been taken, and that her father-in-law and her husband were dead, she sank down and gave birth; for her pains came suddenly upon her.

1 Samuel 4:20

And at the moment of her dying, the women that stood around her spoke [unto her], Fear not; for a son hast thou born. But she answered not, nor did she take it to heart.

1 Samuel 4:21

And she named the child I-chabod, saying, Glory is departed from Israel; because of the taking away of the ark of God, and because of her father-in-law and her husband.

1 Samuel 4:22

And she said, Glory is departed from Israel; for the ark of God hath been taken away.

1 Samuel 5:1

And the Philistines took the ark of God, and brought it from Eben-ha'ezer unto Ashdod.

1 Samuel 5:2

And the Philistines took the ark of God, and brought it into the house of Dagon, and set it by Dagon.

1 Samuel 5:3

And when the people of Ashdod arose early on the morrow, behold, Dagon was lying upon his face on the earth before the ark of the Lord. And they took Dagon, and set him again in his place.

1 Samuel 5:4

And when they arose early on the morning of the following day, behold, Dagon was lying upon his face on the ground before the ark of the Lord; and the head of Dagon and both the palms of his hands were cut off upon the threshold; only the fish portion was left on him.

1 Samuel 5:5

Therefore do the priests of Dagon, and all that come into Dagon's house, not step on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod even until this day.

1 Samuel 5:6

And the hand of the Lord became heavy upon the people of Ashdod, and he destroyed them, and smote them with hemorrhoids, even Ashdod and its territory.

1 Samuel 5:7

And when the men of Ashdod saw that it was so, they said, The ark of the God of Israel shall not remain with us; for his hand is sore upon us, and upon Dagon our God.

1 Samuel 5:8

And they sent and gathered together all the lords of the Philistines unto them, and said, What shall we do with the ark of the God of Israel? And they answered, Let the ark of the God of Israel be removed unto Gath. And they removed the ark of the God of Israel thither.

1 Samuel 5:9

And it happened, after they had removed it, that the hand of the Lord was against the city with a very great confusion; and he smote the men of the city, both small and great, and they had hemorrhoids in their secret parts.

1 Samuel 5:10

And they sent away the ark of God to 'Ekron. And it came to pass, as the ark of God came to 'Ekron, that the 'Ekronites cried out, saying, They have removed to us the ark of the God of Israel, to slay us and our people.

1 Samuel 5:11

So they sent and gathered together all the lords of the Philistines, and said, Send away the ark of the God of Israel, that it may return to its own place, so that it may not slay us, and our people; for there was a confusion of death throughout all the city; the hand of God was very heavy there.

1 Samuel 5:12

And the people that did not die were smitten with the hemorrhoids; and the lamentation of the city went up to heaven.

1 Samuel 6:1

And the ark of the Lord was in the fields of the Philistines seven months.

1 Samuel 6:2

And the Philistines called for the priests and the diviners, saying, What shall we do with the ark of the Lord? let us know wherewith we shall send off it to its place.

1 Samuel 6:3

And they said, If ye send away the ark of the God of Israel, send it not away empty; but ye must to a certainty return him a trespass–offering: then will ye be healed, and it will be known to you why his hand is not removed from you.

1 Samuel 6:4

And they said, What shall be the trespass–offering that we shall return to him? And they answered, According to the number of the lords of the Philistines, five golden hemorrhoids, and five golden mice; for one plague affected them all, and your lords.

1 Samuel 6:5

Therefore make images of your hemorrhoids, and images of your mice that devastate the land; and give glory unto the God of Israel: perhaps he will lighten his hand from off you, and from off your gods, and from off your land.

1 Samuel 6:6

And why will ye harden your heart, just as the Egyptians and Pharaoh hardened their heart? Did not they, when he had wrought wonderful deeds among them, dismiss them, and they departed?

1 Samuel 6:7

And now make a new wagon, and take two milch–cows, on which there hath come no yoke, and harness the cows to the wagon, and bring their calves home away from them:

1 Samuel 6:8

And take the ark of the Lord, and place it into the wagon; and the articles of gold, which ye return him as a trespass–offering, ye must put in a casket alongside of it; and then send it away, that it may go.

1 Samuel 6:9

And then see, if it go up by the way to its own boundary, to Beth–shemesh, then hath he done us this great evil; but if not, then shall we know that not his hand hath smitten us; it is a chance which hath happened to us.

1 Samuel 6:10

And the men did so; and they took two milch–cows, and harnessed them to the wagon, and their calves they shut up at home:

1 Samuel 6:11

And they placed the ark of the Lord in the wagon, and the casket with the mice of gold and images of their hemorrhoids.

1 Samuel 6:12

And the cows went straight forward on the way on the road to Beth–shemesh: on one highway they did go along, lowing as they went, and turned not aside to the right or to the left; and the lords of the Philistines went after them as far as the border of Beth–shemesh.

1 Samuel 6:13

And they of Beth–shemesh were reaping their wheat harvest in the valley; and when they lifted up their eyes, and saw the ark, they rejoiced to see it.

1 Samuel 6:14

And the wagon came to the field of Joshua, the Beth–shemite, and stood still there; and there was a great stone; and they split the wood of the wagon, and the cows they offered as a burnt–offering unto the Lord.

1 Samuel 6:15

And the Levites took down the ark of the Lord, and the casket that was with it, wherein were the articles of gold, and put them on the great stone; and the men of Beth–shemesh offered bunt–offerings and sacrificed sacrifices on the same day unto the Lord.

1 Samuel 6:16

And when the five lords of the Philistines had seen it, they returned to ‘Ekron on the same day.

1 Samuel 6:17

And these are the golden hemorrhoids which the Philistines returned as a trespass–offering unto the Lord: For Ashdod one, for Gazzah one, for Ashkelon one, for Gath one, for ‘Ekron one.

1 Samuel 6:18

And the golden mice were according to the number of all the cities of the Philistines under the five lords, from the fortified city, down to the open village, even unto the great stone whereon they had set down the ark of the Lord, and which is unto this day in the field of Joshua, the Beth–shemite.

1 Samuel 6:19

And he smote among the men of Beth–shemesh, because they had looked into the ark of the Lord, namely, he smote among the people seventy men and fifty thousand men: and the people mourned because the Lord had caused among the people a great slaughter.

1 Samuel 6:20

And the men of Beth–shemesh said, Who is able to stand before the Lord, this holy God? and to whom shall it go up away from us?

1 Samuel 6:21

And they sent messengers to the inhabitants of Kiryath–ye’arim, saying, The Philistines have brought back the ark of the Lord: come ye down, and fetch it up to you.

1 Samuel 7:1

And the men of Kiryath–ye’arim came, and fetched up the ark of the Lord, and brought it unto the house of Abinadab on the hill, and Elazar his son they sanctified to guard the ark of the Lord.

1 Samuel 7:2

And it came to pass, from the time the ark remained in Kiryath–ye’arim, and the time was long, and it was twenty years: that all the house of Israel followed anxiously after the Lord.

1 Samuel 7:3

And Samuel said unto all the house of Israel, as followeth, If with all your heart ye do return unto the Lord, then put away the gods of the stranger and the ‘Ashtaroth from your midst, and direct your heart unto the Lord, and serve him alone: and then will he deliver you out of the hand of the Philistines.

1 Samuel 7:4

Then did the children of Israel put away the Be’alim and the ‘Ashtaroth, and served the Lord alone.

1 Samuel 7:5

And Samuel said, Assemble all Israel together at Mizpah, and I will pray in your behalf unto the Lord.

1 Samuel 7:6

And they assembled themselves together at Mizpah, and drew water, and poured it out before the Lord, and fasted on that day, and said there, We have sinned against the Lord. And Samuel judged the children of Israel in Mizpah.

1 Samuel 7:7

And when the Philistines heard that the children of Israel had assembled themselves at Mizpah, the lords of the Philistines went up against Israel. And when the children of Israel heard it, they were afraid of the Philistines.

1 Samuel 7:8

And the children of Israel said to Samuel, Do not abstain, so as not to cry for us unto the Lord our God, that he may help us out of the hand of the Philistines.

1 Samuel 7:9

And Samuel took one sucking lamb, and offered it for an entire burnt-offering unto the Lord: and Samuel cried unto the Lord in behalf of Israel; and the Lord answered him.

1 Samuel 7:10

And as Samuel was offering up the burnt-offering, the Philistines drew near to battle against Israel; but the Lord thundered with a loud noise on that day over the Philistines, and brought them into confusion, and they were smitten before Israel.

1 Samuel 7:11

And the men of Israel went out of Mizpah, and pursued the Philistines, and smote them, as far as below Beth-car.

1 Samuel 7:12

And Samuel took one stone, and set it between Mizpah and Shen, and called its name Eben-ha'ezer, saying, As far as this hath the Lord helped us.

1 Samuel 7:13

So were the Philistines humbled, and they came no more into the territory of Israel; and the hand of the Lord was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel.

1 Samuel 7:14

And the cities which the Philistines had taken from Israel came again to Israel, from 'Ekron even unto Gath, and their territory did Israel deliver out of the hand of the Philistines. And there was peace between Israel and the Emorites.

1 Samuel 7:15

And Samuel judged Israel all the days of his life.

1 Samuel 7:16

And he went from year to year and traveled in circuit to Beth-el, and Gilgal, and Mizpah, and judged Israel in all these places.

1 Samuel 7:17

And his return was to Ramah; for there was his house; and there he judged Israel: and he built there an altar unto the Lord.

1 Samuel 8:1

And it came to pass, when Samuel was old, that he appointed his sons judges over Israel.

1 Samuel 8:2

And the name of his first-born was Joel; and the name of his second Abiyah: they judged in Beer-sheba'.

1 Samuel 8:3

But his sons walked not in his ways, and they inclined after their own advantage, and took bribes, and perverted justice.

1 Samuel 8:4

Then did all the elders of Israel assemble themselves together, and came to Samuel unto Ramah,

1 Samuel 8:5

And said unto him, Behold, thou art old, and thy sons have not walked in thy ways: now appoint for us a king to judge us like all the nations.

1 Samuel 8:6

But the thing was displeasing in the eyes of Samuel, when they said, Give us a king to judge us. And Samuel prayed unto the Lord.

1 Samuel 8:7

And the Lord said unto Samuel, Hearken unto the voice of the people in all that they may say unto thee; for not thee have they rejected, but me have they rejected, that I should not reign over them.

1 Samuel 8:8

In accordance with all the deeds which they have done since the day that I brought them up out of Egypt even until this day, when they forsook me, and served other gods: so do they also unto thee.

1 Samuel 8:9

And now hearken unto their voice: nevertheless thou must still solemnly forewarn them, and tell them the manner of the king that will reign over them.

1 Samuel 8:10

And Samuel said all the words of the Lord unto the people that had asked of him a king.

1 Samuel 8:11

And he said, This will be the manner of the king that will reign over you: Your sons will he take, and appoint them for himself with his chariots, and among his horsemen; and they will have to run before his chariot;

1 Samuel 8:12

And to appoint for himself captains over thousands, and captains over fifties; and to plough his ground, and to reap his harvest, and to make his instruments of war, and the instruments of his chariots.

1 Samuel 8:13

And your daughters will he take for ointment makers, and for cooks, and for bakers.

1 Samuel 8:14

And your fields, and your vineyards, and your olive-yards, yea the best, will he take, and give them to his servants.

1 Samuel 8:15

And of your seeds, and of your vineyards will he take the tenth, and give [the same] to his officers, and to his servants.

1 Samuel 8:16

And your men-servants, and your maid-servants, and your best young men, and your asses will he take, and employ [them] for his work.

1 Samuel 8:17

Of your flocks will he take the tenth: and ye yourselves will become his servants.

1 Samuel 8:18

And ye will cry out on that day because of your king whom ye will have chosen for yourselves, but the Lord will not answer you on that day.

1 Samuel 8:19

Nevertheless the people refused to listen to the voice of Samuel; and they said, No; but a king shall be over us;

1 Samuel 8:20

That we also may ourselves be like all the nations: and that our king may judge us, and go out before us, and fight our battles.

1 Samuel 8:21

And Samuel heard all the words of the people, and he spoke them before the ears of the Lord.

1 Samuel 8:22

And the Lord said to Samuel, Hearken unto their voice, and appoint them a king. And Samuel said unto the men of Israel, Go ye every man unto his city.

1 Samuel 9:1

Now there was a man of Benjamin, whose name was Kish, the son of Abiel, the son of Zeror, the son of Bechorath, the son of Aphiach, the son of a Benjamite, a mighty man of valor.

1 Samuel 9:2

And he had a son whose name was Saul, young and handsome; and there was not a man among the children of Israel handsomer than he: from his shoulders and upward he was taller than any of the people.

1 Samuel 9:3

And there were lost the asses belonging to Kish, Saul's father; and Kish said to Saul his son, Do take with thee one of the servants, and arise, go seek the asses.

1 Samuel 9:4

And he passed through the mountain of Ephraim, and passed through the land of Shalisha, but they found [them] not; then they passed through the land of Sha'alim, and there was nothing there; and he passed through the land of Benjamin, but they found them not.

1 Samuel 9:5

When they were come in the land of Zuph, Saul said to his servant that was with him, Come, and let us return; lest my father relinquish the care for the asses, and become anxious for us.

1 Samuel 9:6

And the other said unto him, Behold now, a man of God is in this city, and the man is honored; all that he ever saith will surely come to pass: now let us go thither; perhaps he can tell us our way that we should go.

1 Samuel 9:7

Then said Saul to his servant, But, behold, if we should go, what shall we bring to the man? for the bread is spent out of our vessels, and there is not a present to bring to the man of God: what have we with us?

1 Samuel 9:8

And the servant answered Saul again, and said, Behold, I have here in my hand the fourth part of a shekel of silver; and I will give this to the man of God, that he may tell us our way.

1 Samuel 9:9

In former times it was custom in Israel, that when a man went to inquire of God, he said thus, Come, and let us go as far as the seer; for the Prophet of the present day was in former times called a Seer.

1 Samuel 9:10

Then said Saul to his servant, Thy word is good: come, let us go. So they went unto the city where the man of God was.

1 Samuel 9:11

As they went up the ascent to the city, they found some maidens going out to draw water; and they said unto them, Is the seer here?

1 Samuel 9:12

And they answered them, and said, He is; behold, he is before you: make haste now, for this day came he to the city; because the people have a sacrifice today on the high-place;

1 Samuel 9:13

As soon as ye are come into the city, ye will straightway find him, before yet he can go up to the high-place to eat; for the people will not eat until he be come, because he always blesseth the sacrifice; afterward eat those that are invited; and now go you up; for just today will ye surely find him.

1 Samuel 9:14

And they went up into the city. They were entering into the city, when, behold, Samuel came out toward them, to go up to the high-place.

1 Samuel 9:15

And the Lord had revealed to Samuel's ear one day before Saul's coming, saying,

1 Samuel 9:16

About this time tomorrow will I send unto thee a man out of the land of Benjamin, and thou shalt anoint him as chief over my people Israel, that he may save my people out of the hand of the Philistines; for I have beheld my people, because their cry is come unto me.

1 Samuel 9:17

And when Samuel saw Saul, the Lord addressed him, Behold, the man of whom I spoke to thee, This one shall rule over my people.

1 Samuel 9:18

And Saul drew near to Samuel within the gate, and said, Tell me, I pray thee, where is the house of the seer.

1 Samuel 9:19

And Samuel answered Saul, and said, I am the seer: go up before me unto the high-place, and ye shall eat with me today; and I will let thee go in the morning, and all that is in thy heart will I tell thee.

1 Samuel 9:20

And as for thy asses that were lost unto thee this day three days ago, do not set thy heart on them; for they have been found. And to whom belongeth all that is desirable in Israel? Is it not to thee, and to all thy father's house?

1 Samuel 9:21

And Saul answered and said, Am not I a son of Benjamin, of one of the smallest tribes of Israel? and [is not] my family the least of all the families of the tribes of Benjamin? wherefore then hast thou spoken to me such thing?

1 Samuel 9:22

And Samuel took Saul and his servant, and brought them into the apartment; and he assigned them a place at the head of the invited guests, who were about thirty persons.

1 Samuel 9:23

And Samuel said unto the cook, Hand here the portion which I gave thee, of which I said unto thee, Put it away by thee.

1 Samuel 9:24

And the cook took up the shoulder, and that which was on it, and set it before Saul; and he said, Behold what is left! set it before thee, and eat; for unto this time hath it been kept from thee, since I said, I have invited the people. And Saul ate with Samuel on that day.

1 Samuel 9:25

And they went down from the high-place into the city, and he spoke with Saul upon the roof.

1 Samuel 9:26

And they got up early; and it came to pass when the morning-dawn arose, that Samuel called Saul to the roof, saying, Up, that I may send thee away. And Saul arose, and they went out, both of them, he and Samuel, into the street.

1 Samuel 9:27

As they were going down to the end of the city, Samuel said to Saul, Say to the servant that he pass on before us,—and he passed on,—but thou remain standing a while, and I will let thee hear the word of God.

1 Samuel 10:1

And Samuel took a flask of oil, and poured it upon his head, and kissed him, and said, Behold, it is because the Lord hath anointed thee over his inheritance as chief.

1 Samuel 10:2

When thou goest this day away from me, thou wilt find two men who are now by Rachel's sepulchre, on the boundary of Benjamin at Zelzach; and they will say unto thee, The asses which thou wentest to seek are found: and, lo, thy father hath given up the matter of the asses, and is anxious for you, saying, What shall I do for my son?

1 Samuel 10:3

Then shalt thou go on forward from there, and thou shalt come as far as the grove of Tabor, and there shall meet thee three men going up to God to Beth-el, one carrying three kids, and another carrying three loaves of bread, and another carrying a bottle of wine:

1 Samuel 10:4

And they will ask thee after thy welfare, and give thee two loaves of bread, which thou must take from their hand.

1 Samuel 10:5

After that shalt thou come to the hill of God, where the outposts of the Philistines are; and it shall come to pass, when thou art come thither to the city, that thou wilt meet a company of prophets coming down from the high-place, having before them a psaltery, and a tambourine, and a pipe, and a harp; and they will be prophesying;

1 Samuel 10:6

And the Spirit of the Lord will suddenly come over thee, and thou shalt prophesy with them, and thou shalt be changed into another man.

1 Samuel 10:7

And it shall be, that, when these signs are come unto thee, then do thou what thy hand may be able to effect; for God is with thee.

1 Samuel 10:8

And thou shalt go down before me to Gilgal; and, behold, I will come down unto thee, to offer burnt-offerings, [and] to sacrifice sacrifices of peace-offerings: seven days shalt thou tarry, till I come to thee, and then will I tell thee what thou shalt do.

1 Samuel 10:9

And it happened, that, as he turned his back to go away from Samuel, God changed his heart into another; and all these signs came to pass on that same day.

1 Samuel 10:10

And when they came thither to the hill, behold, a company of prophets met him; and the Spirit of God came suddenly over him, and he prophesied in the midst of them.

1 Samuel 10:11

And it came to pass, when all that knew him before saw, that, behold, he prophesied with the prophets, then said the people one to another, What is this that hath happened to the son of Kish? is Saul also among the prophets?

1 Samuel 10:12

And one of that place answered and said, And who is their father? Therefore it became a proverb, Is Saul also among the prophets?

1 Samuel 10:13

And when he had made an end of prophesying, he came to the high-place.

1 Samuel 10:14

And Saul's uncle said unto him and to his servant, Whither were ye gone? And he said, To seek the asses; and when we saw that they were nowhere, we went to Samuel.

1 Samuel 10:15

And Saul's uncle said, Do tell me, I pray thee, what did Samuel say unto you.

1 Samuel 10:16

And Saul said unto his uncle, He told us plainly that the asses had been found. But of the matter of the kingdom, whereof Samuel had spoken, he told him not.

And Samuel called the people together unto the Lord to Mizpah;

And Saul also went to his home to Gib'ah; and there went with him a large crowd, whose heart God had touched.

1 Samuel 11:1

Then came up Nachash the 'Ammonite, and encamped against Yabesh-gil'ad: and all the men of Yabesh said unto Nachash, Make a covenant with us, and we will serve thee.

1 Samuel 11:2

And Nachash the 'Ammonite said unto them, On this condition will I make it with you, that ye all have put out the right eye, that I may lay it as a reproach upon all Israel.

1 Samuel 11:3

And the elders of Yabesh said unto him, Grant us seven days' respite, that we may send messengers throughout all the boundary of Israel; and then, if there be none to save us, will we come out to thee.

1 Samuel 11:4

And the messengers came to Gib'ah of Saul, and spoke the words in the ears of the people; and all the people lifted up their voice, and wept.

1 Samuel 11:5

And, behold, Saul was coming after the herds out of the field; and Saul said, What aileth the people that they weep? And they told him the words of the men of Yabesh.

1 Samuel 11:6

And the spirit of God came suddenly over Saul when he heard these words, and his anger was kindled greatly,

1 Samuel 11:7

And he took a yoke of oxen, and cut them in pieces, and sent them about throughout all the boundary of Israel by the hand of the messengers, saying, Whosoever goeth not forth after Saul and after Samuel, shall have his herds thus treated. And the dread of the Lord fell on the people, and they went out as one man.

1 Samuel 11:8

And he numbered them in Bezek; and the children of Israel were three hundred thousand, and the men of Judah thirty thousand.

1 Samuel 11:9

And they said unto the messengers that were come, Thus shall ye say unto the men of Yabesh-gil'ad, Tomorrow shall ye have help, when the sun shineth hot. And the messengers came and told it to the men of Yabesh; and these were glad.

And the men of Yabesh said, Tomorrow will we go out unto you, and ye can do unto us in accordance with all that seemeth good in your eyes.

1 Samuel 11:12

And the people said unto Samuel, Who is there that saith, Shall Saul reign over us? give up the men, and we will put them to death.

1 Samuel 12:3

Behold, here am I; testify against me in the presence of the Lord, and in the presence of his anointed: Whose ox have I taken? or whose ass have I taken? or whom have I defrauded? whom have I oppressed? or from whose hand have I received any ransom so that I withdrew my eyes from him? and I will restore it you.

1 Samuel 12:4

And they said, Thou hast not defrauded us, nor hast thou oppressed us, and thou hast not taken from any man's hand the least.

And he said unto them, The Lord is witness against you, and his anointed is witness this day, that ye have not found in my hand the least: and they answered, He is witness.

1 Samuel 12:6

And Samuel said unto the people, It is the Lord who did [wonders through] Moses and Aaron, and who brought your fathers up out of the land of Egypt.

1 Samuel 12:15

But if ye will not hearken to the voice of the Lord, and rebel against the will of the Lord: then will the hand of the Lord be against you, as it was against your fathers.

1 Samuel 12:16

And now stand up and see this great thing, which the Lord is about doing before your eyes.

1 Samuel 12:17

Is there not wheat-harvest today? I will call unto the Lord, and he will send thunders and rain; and ye will [thus] perceive and see that your wickedness is great, which ye have done, in the eyes of the Lord, to ask for yourselves a king.

1 Samuel 12:18

And Samuel called unto the Lord; and the Lord sent thunders and rain on that day: and all the people feared greatly the Lord and Samuel.

1 Samuel 12:19

And all the people said unto Samuel, Pray in behalf of thy servants unto the Lord thy God, that we may not die; for we have added unto all our sins yet this evil, to ask for ourselves a king.

1 Samuel 12:20

And Samuel said unto the people, Fear not; ye have indeed done all this evil: yet turn not aside from following the Lord, and serve ye the Lord with all your heart;

1 Samuel 12:21

And turn ye not aside; for then would ye go after vain things, which cannot profit nor deliver; because they are vain.

1 Samuel 12:22

For the Lord will not forsake his people for the sake of his great name; because it hath pleased the Lord to make you a people unto himself.

1 Samuel 12:23

Moreover as for me, far be it from me that I should sin against the Lord by ceasing to pray in behalf of you; but I will teach you the good and the right way:

1 Samuel 12:24

Only fear the Lord, and serve him in truth with all your heart; for see what great things he hath done with you.

1 Samuel 12:25

But if ye will in any wise do wickedly, both ye yourselves as also your king shall perish.

1 Samuel 13:1

When Saul had reigned one year,—and two years he reigned over Israel,—

1 Samuel 13:2

Saul chose for himself three thousand men out of Israel; and there were with Saul two thousand in Michmash and on the mountain of Beth-el, and a thousand were with Jonathan in Gib'ah of Benjamin: and the rest of the people he sent away every man to his tents.

1 Samuel 13:3

And Jonathan smote the outpost of the Philistines that was at Geba', and the Philistines heard of it. And Saul blew the cornet throughout all the land, saying, Let the Hebrews hear it.

1 Samuel 13:4

And all Israel heard it, saying, Saul hath smitten the outpost of the Philistines, and the Israelites also have put themselves in ill-favor with the Philistines. And the people were called together after Saul to Gilgal.

1 Samuel 13:5

And the Philistines gathered themselves together to fight with Israel, thirty thousand chariots, and six thousand horsemen, and people as the sand which is on the sea-shore in multitude; and they came up, and encamped in Michmash, eastward from Bethaven.

1 Samuel 13:6

And when the men of Israel saw that they were in a strait, [for the people were oppressed,] then did the people hide themselves in caves, and in thickets, and in rocks, and in strongholds, and in pits.

1 Samuel 13:7

And some of the Hebrews passed over the Jordan to the land of Gad and Gil'ad. As for Saul, he was still in Gilgal, and all the people followed him hastily.

1 Samuel 13:8

And he tarried seven days, according to the set time that Samuel had appointed; but Samuel came not to Gilgal; and the people were scattering themselves from him.

1 Samuel 13:9

And Saul said, Bring hither to me the burnt-offering and the peace-offerings. And he offered the burnt-offering.

1 Samuel 13:10

And it came to pass, that, as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt-offering, behold, Samuel came; and Saul went out to meet him, that he might greet him.

1 Samuel 13:11

And Samuel said, What hast thou done: And Saul said, Because I saw that the people were scattering themselves from me, whereas thou camest not at the appointed day, and the Philistines are gathering themselves together at Michmash;

1 Samuel 13:12

And I said, The Philistines will now come down unto me to Gilgal, and I have not yet made supplication unto the Lord: wherefore I forced myself, and offered the burnt-offering.

1 Samuel 13:13

And Samuel said to Saul, Thou hast done foolishly: thou hast not kept the commandment of the Lord thy God, which he had commanded thee; for now would the Lord have established thy government over Israel for ever.

1 Samuel 13:14

But now thy government shall not endure: the Lord hath sought out for himself a man after his own heart, and the Lord hath ordained him to be chief over his people; because thou hast not kept what the Lord had commanded thee.

1 Samuel 13:15

And Samuel arose, and went up from Gilgal unto Gib'ah of Benjamin. And Saul numbered the people that were to be found with him, about six hundred men.

1 Samuel 13:16

And Saul, and Jonathan his son, and the people that were to be found with them, were lying in Geba' of Benjamin; but the Philistines were encamped in Michmash.

1 Samuel 13:17

And the troop of freebooters went out of the camp of the Philistines in three companies: one company turned into the way to 'Ophrah, unto the land of Shu'al;

1 Samuel 13:18

And another company turned into the way to Beth-choron; and the other company turned into the way to the frontier that looketh over the valley of Zebo'im toward the wilderness.

1 Samuel 13:19

Now there was no smith to be found throughout all the land of Israel; for the Philistines said, So that the Hebrews shall not make themselves swords or spears.

1 Samuel 13:20

But all the Israelites went down to the Philistines, to sharpen every man his plough-share, and his coulter, and his axe, and his mattock.

1 Samuel 13:21

And they used a file for the mattocks, and for the coulters, and for the three-pronged forks, and for the axes, and to sharpen the goads.

1 Samuel 13:22

So it came to pass on the day of battle, that there was neither sword nor spear found in the hand of any of the people that were with Saul and Jonathan; but they were found with Saul and with Jonathan his son.

1 Samuel 13:23

And the outpost of the Philistines went out to the pass of Michmash.

1 Samuel 14:1

Now it happened one day, that Jonathan the son of Saul said unto the young man that bore his armor, Come, and let us go over to the Philistines' outpost, that is on the other side yonder. But unto his father he told nothing.

1 Samuel 14:2

And Saul tarried in the lower part of Gib'ah under the pomegranate tree which is by Migron: and the people that were with him were about six hundred men.

1 Samuel 14:3

And Achiyah, the son of Achitub, the brother of I-chabod, the son of Phinehas, the son of 'Eli, the priest of the Lord in Shiloh, wore the ephod. And the people knew not that Jonathan was gone.

1 Samuel 14:4

And between the passes, by which Jonathan sought to go over unto the outpost of the Philistines, there was a sharp point of rock on the one side, and a sharp point of rock on the other side: and the name of the one was Bozez, and the name of the other Seneh.

1 Samuel 14:5

The one point rose up abruptly northward opposite Michmash, and the other southward opposite Geba'.

1 Samuel 14:6

And Jonathan said to the young man that bore his armor, Come, and let us go over unto the outpost of these uncircumcised: it may be that the Lord will work for us; for there is no restraint to the Lord to save by means of many or by means of few.

1 Samuel 14:7

And his armor-bearer said unto him, Do all that is in thy heart: turn thee; behold, I am with thee according to thy heart.

1 Samuel 14:8

Then said Jonathan, Behold, we will pass over unto these men, and we will show ourselves unto them.

1 Samuel 14:9

If they say thus unto us, Stand still until we come to you: then will we remain standing in our places, and will not go up unto them.

1 Samuel 14:10

But if they say thus, Come up unto us: then will we go up; for the Lord hath delivered them into our hand; and this shall be unto us the sign.

1 Samuel 14:11

And when both of them showed themselves unto the outpost of the Philistines, the Philistines said, Behold, Hebrews are coming forth out of the holes wherein they have hidden themselves.

1 Samuel 14:12

And the men of the outpost addressed Jonathan and his armor-bearer, and said, Come up to us, and we will let you know something. Then said Jonathan unto his armor-bearer, Come up after me; for the Lord hath given them up into the hand of Israel.

And Jonathan then ascended upon his hands and upon his feet, and his armor-bearer after him: and they fell before Jonathan, and his armor-bearer was killing after him.

1 Samuel 14:14

And that first defeat, which Jonathan and his armor-bearer caused, was about twenty men, within about the half of a field, which a yoke of oxen might plough.

1 Samuel 14:27

But Jonathan had not heard his father charging the people with the oath; he therefore put forth the end of the staff that was in his hand, and dipped it in a honey-comb, and carried his hand again to his mouth; and his eyes became clear.

1 Samuel 14:28

Then commenced one of the people, and said, Thy father strictly charged the people with an oath, saying, Cursed be the man that will eat food this day; though the people were faint.

1 Samuel 18:4

And Jonathan stripped himself of the robe that he had upon him, and gave it to David, and likewise his garments, even to his sword, and to his bow, and to his girdle.

1 Samuel 18:5

And David went out; whithersoever Saul used to send him, he was successful; and Saul set him over the men of war; and he was accepted in the eyes of all the people, and also in the eyes of the servants of Saul.

1 Samuel 18:6

And it came to pass as they came home, when David returned from smiting the Philistines, that the women came forth out of all the cities of Israel, singing and dancing, to meet king Saul, with tambourines, with joy, and with triangles.

1 Samuel 18:7

And the women that played answered one another, and said, Saul hath slain his thousands, and David his ten thousands.

1 Samuel 18:8

And Saul was very wroth, and this saying was displeasing in his eyes; and he said, They have given unto David ten thousands, and to me they have given the thousands: and all that he lacketh now yet is only the kingdom.

1 Samuel 18:9

And Saul looked jealous on David from that day and forward.

1 Samuel 18:10

And it came to pass on the morrow, that an evil spirit from God came suddenly over Saul, and he spoke foolish things in the midst of the house: while David was playing with his hand, as on previous days; and the spear was in the hand of Saul.

1 Samuel 18:11

And Saul cast the spear; and he thought, I will strike David through even on the wall. And David turned aside out of his presence twice.

1 Samuel 18:12

And Saul was afraid of David; because the Lord was with him, and from Saul he was departed.

1 Samuel 18:13

Therefore Saul removed him from himself, and made him his captain over a thousand: and he went out and came in before the people.

1 Samuel 18:14

And David was successful on all his ways; and the Lord was with him.

1 Samuel 18:15

And when Saul saw that he was very successful, he was in dread of him.

1 Samuel 18:16

But all Israel and Judah loved David; because he went out and came in before them.

1 Samuel 18:17

And Saul said to David, Behold, here is my eldest daughter Merab, her will I give to thee for wife: only be thou unto me a man of valor, and fight the Lord's battles. And Saul thought, Let not my hand be against him, but let the hand of the Philistines be against him.

1 Samuel 18:18

And David said unto Saul, Who am I? and what is my life, [or] my father's family in Israel, that I should be a son-in-law to the king?

1 Samuel 18:19

But it happened at the time when Merab, Saul's daughter should have been given to David, that she was given unto 'Adriel the Mecholathite for wife.

1 Samuel 18:20

And Michal Saul's daughter loved David: and they told it to Saul, and the thing was right in his eyes.

1 Samuel 18:21

And Saul said, I will give her to him, that she may become unto him a snare, and that the hand of the Philistines may be against him. Wherefore Saul said to David, Through the second shalt thou this day become my son-in-law.

1 Samuel 18:22

And Saul commanded his servants, Speak to David secretly, saying, Behold, the king hath delight in thee, and all his servants love thee; and now thou must become the king's son-in-law.

1 Samuel 18:23

And the servants of Saul spoke in the ears of David these words. And David said, Doth it seem so light in your eyes to become the king's son-in-law, seeing that I am a poor man, and of light esteem?

1 Samuel 18:24

And the servants of Saul told him, saying, Words such as these David hath spoken.

1 Samuel 18:25

And Saul said, Thus shall ye say to David, The king desireth not any dowry, but a hundred foreskins of the Philistines, to be avenged on the king's enemies. But Saul thought to cause David to fall by the hand of the Philistines.

1 Samuel 18:26

And when his servants told David these words, the thing was pleasing in the eyes of David to become the king's son-in-law: and the days were not complete,

1 Samuel 18:27

When David arose and went, he and his men, and smote of the Philistines two hundred men; and David brought their foreskins, and they counted them out in full to the king, that he might become the king's son-in-law. And Saul gave him Michal his daughter for wife.

1 Samuel 18:28

And Saul saw and understood that the Lord was with David: and Michal, Saul's daughter, loved him.

1 Samuel 18:29

And Saul was yet the more afraid of David; and Saul was David's enemy all the time.

1 Samuel 18:30

And the princes of the Philistines went forth; and it came to pass, whenever they went forth, that David was more successful than all the servants of Saul; so that his name was highly prized.

1 Samuel 19:1

And Saul spoke to Jonathan his son, and to all his servants, that he would kill David. But Jonathan the son of Saul delighted greatly in David.

1 Samuel 19:2

And Jonathan told David, saying, Saul my father seeketh to kill thee; now therefore, I pray thee, take heed to thyself in the morning, and abide in a secret place, and hide thyself:

1 Samuel 19:3

And I will go out and stand by the side of my father in the field where thou art, and I myself will speak of thee to my father; and I will see what it is, and I will tell thee.

1 Samuel 19:4

And Jonathan spoke favorably of David unto Saul his father, and said unto him, Let not the king sin against his servant, against David; since he hath not sinned against thee, and because his deeds are very good for thee;

1 Samuel 19:5

And he did put his life in his hand, and he slew the Philistine, and the Lord wrought a great salvation for all Israel; thou sawest it, and wast rejoiced: wherefore then wilt thou commit sin on innocent blood, by slaying David without a cause?

1 Samuel 19:6

And Saul hearkened unto the voice of Jonathan: and Saul swore, As the Lord liveth, he shall not be put to death.

1 Samuel 19:7

And Jonathan called David, and Jonathan told him all these words. And Jonathan brought David to Saul, and he was in his presence, as in times past.

1 Samuel 19:8

And the war occurred again: and David went out, and fought with the Philistines, and smote them with a great defeat, and they fled from before him.

1 Samuel 19:9

And the evil spirit from the Lord came upon Saul, and he was sitting in his house with his spear in his hand; and David was playing with his hand.

1 Samuel 19:10

And Saul sought to strike David through with the spear even to the wall; but he slipped away from before Saul, who struck the spear into the wall: and David fled, and escaped that night.

1 Samuel 19:11

But Saul sent messengers unto David's house, to watch him, and to slay him in the morning; and Michal his wife told it to David, saying, If thou save not thy life this night, tomorrow thou wilt be put to death.

1 Samuel 19:12

And Michal let David down through the window: and he went, and fled, and escaped.

1 Samuel 19:13

And Michal took an image, and put it in the bed, and a pillow of goats' hair she put for its head to rest on, and covered it with a cloth.

1 Samuel 19:14

And when Saul sent messengers to take David, she said, He is sick.

1 Samuel 19:15

And Saul sent the messengers to see David, saying, Bring him up to me in the bed, that I may put him to death.

1 Samuel 19:16

And when the messengers were come in, behold, there was an image in the bed, with a pillow of goats' hair for its head to rest on.

1 Samuel 19:17

And Saul said unto Michal, Why hast thou thus deceived me, and sent away my enemy, that he is escaped? And Michal said to Saul, He said unto me, Let me go away: why should I kill thee?

1 Samuel 19:18

So David fled, and escaped, and came unto Samuel to Ramah, and he told him all that Saul had done to him. And he and Samuel went and remained in Nayoth.

1 Samuel 19:19

And it was told unto Saul, saying, Behold, David is at Nayoth near Ramah.

1 Samuel 19:20

And Saul sent messengers to take David; and when they saw the company of the prophets prophesying, and Samuel standing as superintendent over them: then came upon the messengers of Saul the spirit of God, and they also prophesied.

1 Samuel 19:21

And when it was told to Saul, he sent other messengers, and these prophesied likewise. And Saul sent again messengers the third time, and these also prophesied.

1 Samuel 19:22

Then went he himself also to Ramah, and came as far as the great well that is in Sechu: and he asked and said, Where are Samuel and David? And some one said, Behold, they are at Nayoth near Ramah.

1 Samuel 19:23

And he went thither to Nayoth near Ramah: and there came upon him also the Spirit of God, and he went on, and prophesied as he went, until he came to Nayoth near Ramah.

1 Samuel 19:24

And he also stripped off his clothes, and he also prophesied himself before Samuel, and lay down naked all that day and all that night. Therefore people are in the habit of saying, Is Saul too among the prophets?

1 Samuel 20:1

And David fled from Nayoth near Ramah, and came and said before Jonathan, What have I done? what is my iniquity? and what is my sin before thy father, that he seeketh my life?

1 Samuel 20:2

And he said unto him, God forbid; thou shalt not die: behold, my father is not wont to do a great thing or a small thing, which he doth not inform me of; and why should my father conceal this thing from me? it is not so.

1 Samuel 20:3

But David swore again, and said, Thy father well knoweth that I have found grace in thy eyes; wherefore he said, Jonathan must not know this, lest he be grieved: nevertheless, as truly as the Lord liveth, and thy soul liveth, there was but one step between me and death.

1 Samuel 20:4

Then said Jonathan unto David, Whatsoever thy soul sayeth will I do for thee.

1 Samuel 20:5

And David said unto Jonathan, Behold, tomorrow is the new-moon, and I should as usual sit with the king to eat; but let me go, that I may hide myself in the field until the third evening.

1 Samuel 20:6

If thy father at all miss me, then do thou say, David asked earnestly leave of me that he might run to Beth-lechem his city; for there is a yearly sacrifice there for all the family.

1 Samuel 20:7

If he should say thus, It is well: then shall thy servant have peace; but if it be at all displeasing to him, then know that the evil is determined on by him.

1 Samuel 20:8

And do thou deal kindly with thy servant; for into a covenant of the Lord hast thou brought thy servant with thee; but if there be in me any iniquity, slay me thyself; for why shouldst thou bring me to thy father?

1 Samuel 20:9

And Jonathan said, Far be it from thee; for if I should know for certain that evil were determined on by my father to come upon thee, would I not tell it thee?

1 Samuel 20:10

Then said David to Jonathan, Who shall tell it me? or what, if thy father answer thee roughly?

1 Samuel 20:11

And Jonathan said unto David, Come, let us go out into the field. And they went out, both of them, into the field.

1 Samuel 20:12

And Jonathan said unto David, May the God of Israel [punish me] if, when I have sounded my father about this time tomorrow, or of the third day, and, behold, if he be good toward David, I do not then send unto thee, and inform thee of it.

1 Samuel 20:13

May the Lord do so to Jonathan and continue so yet farther, that, if it please my father [to do] thee evil, I will inform thee of it, and send thee away, that thou mayest go in peace; and may the Lord be with thee, as he hath been with my father.

1 Samuel 20:14

And wilt thou not, should I be yet alive, show me the kindness of the Lord, that I may not die?

1 Samuel 20:15

But, surely, thou wilt not withdraw thy kindness from my house for ever, not even when the Lord cutteth off the enemies of David, every one, from off the face of the earth.

1 Samuel 20:16

So Jonathan made a covenant with the house of David, [saying,] May the Lord require it at the hand of David's enemies.

1 Samuel 20:17

And Jonathan caused David to swear again, by his love for him; for he loved him as he loved his own soul.

1 Samuel 20:18

Then Jonathan said to David, Tomorrow is the new-moon: and thou wilt be missed, because thy seat will be left empty.

1 Samuel 20:19

And when thou hast stayed till the third day, then shalt thou go down greatly, and come to the place where thou didst hide thyself on the work-day; and thou shalt remain by the stone Ezel.

1 Samuel 20:20

And I will myself shoot three arrows on the side thereof, as though I were shooting at a mark.

1 Samuel 20:21

And, behold, I will send the lad, saying, Go, find the arrows; if I should now say unto the lad, Behold, the arrows are on this side of thee: then take him and come; for there is peace to thee, and it is nothing; as the Lord liveth.

1 Samuel 20:22

But if thus I should say unto the young man, Behold, the arrows are beyond thee: then go thy way, for the Lord hath sent thee off.

1 Samuel 20:23

And touching the matter of which we have spoken, thou and I, behold, the Lord is between me and thee for ever.

1 Samuel 20:24

So David hid himself in the field: and when the new-moon was come, the king set himself down to the repast to eat.

1 Samuel 20:25

And the king sat upon his seat, as at other times, upon the seat by the wall: and when Jonathan arose, Abner seated himself by the side of Saul, and David's place was left empty.

1 Samuel 20:26

Nevertheless Saul spoke not the least on that day; for he thought, Something hath befallen him, he is not clean; because he hath not yet purified himself.

1 Samuel 20:27

And it came to pass on the morrow, the second day of the new-moon, that David's place was left empty; and Saul said unto Jonathan his son, Wherefore is the son of Jesse not come, both yesterday and today, to the repast?

1 Samuel 20:28

And Jonathan answered Saul, David asked earnestly leave of me to go as far as Beth-lechem.

1 Samuel 20:29

And he said, Let me go, I pray thee; for we have a family-sacrifice in the city, and my brother himself hath commanded it to me; and now, if I have found favor in thy eyes, let me get away, I pray thee, that I may see my brothers: therefore is he not come unto the king's table.

1 Samuel 20:30

And the anger of Saul was kindled against Jonathan, and he said unto him, Thou son of perverse rebelliousness! do I not know that thou hast chosen the son of Jesse to thy own shame, and to the shame of thy mother's nakedness?

1 Samuel 20:31

For all the days that the son of Jesse liveth upon the ground, thou wilt not have any permanence with thy kingdom: therefore now send and fetch him unto me, for he shall surely die.

1 Samuel 20:32

And Jonathan answered Saul his father, and said unto him, Wherefore shall he be put to death? what hath he done?

1 Samuel 20:33

And Saul cast his spear at him to smite him: and Jonathan understood that it was determined on by his father to put David to death.

1 Samuel 20:34

And Jonathan arose from the table in fierce anger, and did eat no food on the second day of the new-moon; for he was grieved for David; because his father had made him feel ashamed.

1 Samuel 20:35

And it came to pass in the morning, that Jonathan went out into the field to the place appointed with David, and a little lad was with him.

1 Samuel 20:36

And he said unto his lad, Run, do find out the arrows which I shoot: and the lad ran, and he shot the arrow so as to pass beyond him.

1 Samuel 20:37

And when the lad was come to the place of the arrow which Jonathan had shot, Jonathan called after the lad, and said, Behold, the arrow is beyond thee!

1 Samuel 20:38

And Jonathan called after the lad, Make haste, speed, stay not: and Jonathan's lad gathered up the arrows, and came to his master.

1 Samuel 20:39

But the lad knew not the least: only Jonathan and David knew the matter.

1 Samuel 20:40

And Jonathan gave his weapons unto the lad who was with him, and said unto him, Go, carry them to the city.

1 Samuel 20:41

And as soon as the lad was gone, David arose from the south side [of the stone], and fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himself three times: and they kissed one another, and wept one with another, until David exceeded.

1 Samuel 20:42

And Jonathan said to David, Go in peace: what we have sworn, both of us, in the name of the Lord, saying, The Lord shall be between me and thee, and between my seed and thy seed for ever, [shall be kept]. (21:1)
And he arose and departed; and Jonathan went into the city.

1 Samuel 21:1 (21:2)

And David came to Nob to Achimelech the priest; and Achimelech hastened trembling to meet David, and said unto him, Why art thou alone, and no man is with thee?

1 Samuel 21:2 (21:3)

And David said unto Achimelech the priest, The king commanded me a business, and said unto me, Let not any man know the least of the business concerning which I send thee, and which I have commanded thee. And the young men have I appointed to such and such a place.

1 Samuel 21:3 (21:4)

And now what hast thou on hand: put five loaves of bread into my hand, or what else can be found.

1 Samuel 21:4 (21:5)

And the priest answered David, and said, I have no common bread on hand, but there is hallowed bread; if the young men have only withheld themselves from women.

1 Samuel 21:5 (21:6)

And David answered the priest and said to him, To a certainty women have been denied us yesterday and the day before, when I went forth, and the vessels of the young men were holy: and if this was the custom with unholy things, how much more will it remain this day holy in the vessels.

1 Samuel 21:6 (21:7)

So the priest gave him hallowed bread; for there was no bread there except the showbread, that was removed from before the Lord, so as to put down hot bread on the day when it was taken away.

1 Samuel 21:7 (21:8)

Now a certain man of the servants of Saul was there on that day, detained before the Lord; and his name was Doeg, the Edomite, the chief of the herdsmen that belonged to Saul.

1 Samuel 21:8 (21:9)

And David said unto Achimelech, Hast thou not also here at hand a spear or sword: for both my sword as also my other weapons have I not brought with me, because the king's business was urgent.

1 Samuel 21:9 (21:10)

And the priest said, The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom thou didst slay in the valley of Elah, behold, it is here wrapped up in a cloth behind the ephod: if thou wilt take that for thyself, take it; for there is no other save it here. And David said, There is none like that: give it to me.

1 Samuel 21:10 (21:11)

And David arose, and fled on that day from before Saul, and came to Achish the king of Gath.

1 Samuel 21:11 (21:12)

And the servants of Achish said unto him, Is not this David the king of the land? did they not of this man sing one to another in the dances, saying, Saul hath slain his thousands, and David his ten thousands?

1 Samuel 21:12 (21:13)

And David took these words to his heart, and was greatly afraid of Achish the king of Gath.

1 Samuel 21:13 (21:14)

And he disguised his reason before their eyes, and played the madman in their hands, and scribbled on the doors of the gate, and let his spittle run down upon his beard.

1 Samuel 21:14 (21:15)

Then said Achish unto his servants, Lo, ye see, the man is mad: wherefore then will ye bring him to me?

1 Samuel 21:15 (21:16)

Have I lack of madmen, that ye have brought this man to play his pranks about me? shall this one come into my house?

1 Samuel 22:1

And David departed thence, and escaped to the cave 'Adullam: and when his brothers and all his father's house heard it, they went down to him thither.

1 Samuel 22:2

And there gathered themselves unto him every one that was in distress, and every one that had a creditor, and every one that had an embittered spirit; and he became a captain over them: and there were with him about four hundred men.

1 Samuel 22:3

And David went thence to Mizpeh of Moab: and he said unto the king of Moab, Let my father and my mother, I pray thee, go forth with you, until I can know what God will do for me.

1 Samuel 22:4

And he conducted them to the presence of the king of Moab: and they remained with him all the time that David was in the strong-hold.

1 Samuel 22:5

And the prophet Gad said unto David, Thou must not remain in the strong-hold: depart, and get thee into the land of Judah. Then David departed, and came into the forest of Chereth.

1 Samuel 22:6

And Saul heard that David was discovered, and the men that were with him, [now Saul was sitting in Gib'ah under the tamarisk on the hill, with his spear in his hand, and all his servants were standing about him;]

1 Samuel 22:7

Then said Saul unto his servants that stood about him, Hear, I pray you, men of Benjamin! will the son of Jesse give, indeed, to every one of you fields and vineyards? will he appoint you all captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds?

1 Samuel 22:8

That ye have conspired, all of you, against me, and there is none that informeth me, while my son hath made a covenant with the son of Jesse, and there is none of you that is concerned for me, or informeth me that my son hath stirred up my servant to lie in wait against me, as it is this day?

1 Samuel 22:9

Then answered Doeg the Edomite, who was set over the servants of Saul, and said, I saw the son of Jesse coming to Nob, to Achimelech the son of Achitub.

1 Samuel 22:10

And he asked counsel for him of the Lord, and he gave him provision, and gave him also the sword of Goliath the philistine.

1 Samuel 22:11

Then sent the king to call Achimelech, the son of Achitub, the priest, and all his father's house, the priests that were in Nob: and they came, all of them, to the king.

1 Samuel 22:12

And Saul said, Hear now, thou son of Achitub. And he said, here am I, my Lord.

1 Samuel 22:13

And Saul said unto him, Why have ye conspired against me, thou and the son of Jesse, in that thou didst give him bread, and a sword, and hast asked counsel for him of God, that he should rise to lie in wait against me, as it is this day!

1 Samuel 22:14

Then answered Achimelech the king, and said, And who is among all thy servants so trusted as David, and the king's son-in-law, and freely admitted to thy private council, and is honored in thy house?

1 Samuel 22:15

Did I this day then begin to ask counsel for him of God? far be it from me; let not the king impute any thing unto his servant, [nor] to all the house of my father; for thy servant knew not of all this, either a little or great thing.

1 Samuel 22:16

And the king said, Thou shalt surely die, Achimelech, thou, and all thy father's house.

1 Samuel 22:17

And the king said unto the runners that stood about him, Turn round and slay the priests of the Lord; because their hand also is with David, and because they knew that he was fleeing, and did not disclose it to me. But the servants of the king would not stretch forth their hand to fall upon the priests of the Lord.

1 Samuel 22:18

And the king said to Doeg, Turn thou round, and fall upon the priests. And Doeg the Edomite turned round, and he fell upon the priests, and slew on that day eighty and five persons that did wear a linen ephod.

1 Samuel 22:19

And Nob, the city of the priests, he smote with the edge of the sword, both men and women, children and sucklings, and oxen, and asses, and lambs, with the edge of the sword.

1 Samuel 22:20

And there escaped one of the sons of Achimelech the son of Achitub, whose name was Ebyathar, and he fled after David.

1 Samuel 22:21

And Ebyathar told David that Saul had slain the priests of the Lord.

1 Samuel 22:22

And David said unto Ebyathar, I knew on that day, because Doeg the Edomite was there, that he would surely tell Saul: I have myself occasioned the death of all the persons of thy father's house.

1 Samuel 22:23

Remain thou with me, fear nothing; for he that will seek my life will seek thy life; but thou shalt be well guarded with me.

1 Samuel 23:1

Then they told David, saying, Behold, the Philistines are fighting against Ke'ilah, and they are plundering the threshing-floors.

1 Samuel 23:2

Thereupon David asked counsel of the Lord, saying, Shall I go and smite among these Philistines? And the Lord said unto David, Go and smite among the Philistines, and deliver Ke'ilah.

1 Samuel 23:3

And David's men said unto him, Behold, here in Judah are we afraid: how much more then if we should go to Ke'ilah against the battle-arrays of the Philistines?

1 Samuel 23:4

Then David asked yet again counsel of the Lord. And the Lord answered him and said, Arise, Go down to Ke'ilah; for I [will] deliver the Philistines into thy hand.

1 Samuel 23:5

So David and his men went to Ke'ilah; and he fought with the Philistines, and lead away their cattle, and smote among them a great slaughter. So David delivered the inhabitants of Ke'ilah.

1 Samuel 23:6

And it came to pass, when Ebyathar the son of Achimelech, fled over to David, to Ke'ilah, that the ephod came down with him.

1 Samuel 23:8

And Saul called all the people together to war, to go down to Ke'ilah, to besiege David and his men.

1 Samuel 23:9

And David understood that Saul secretly devised mischief against him; and he said to Ebyathar the priest, Bring hither the ephod.

1 Samuel 23:10

Then said David, O Lord, God of Israel, thy servant hath heard for certain that Saul seeketh to come to Ke'ilah, to destroy the city for my sake.

1 Samuel 23:11

Will the men of Ke'ilah surrender me into his hand? will Saul come down as thy servant hath heard? O Lord, God of Israel, I beseech thee, tell thy servant. And the Lord said, He will come down.

1 Samuel 23:12

Then said David, Will the men of Ke'ilah surrender me and my men into the hand of Saul! And the Lord said, They will surrender.

1 Samuel 23:13

Then arose David and his men, about six hundred men, and departed out of Ke'ilah, and wandered about whithersoever they could go. And when it was told to Saul that David was escaped from Ke'ilah, he forbore to go forth.

1 Samuel 23:14

And David remained in the wilderness in strong-holds, and abode on the mountain in the wilderness of Ziph. And Saul sought him all the time, but God delivered him not into his hand.

1 Samuel 23:15

And David saw that Saul was gone forth to seek his life: and David was in the wilderness of Ziph in the forest.

1 Samuel 23:16

And Jonathan, the son of Saul, arose and went to David into the forest, and strengthened his hand in God.

1 Samuel 23:17

And he said unto him, Fear not; for the hand of Saul my father will not find thee; and thou wilt be king over Israel, and I will be next unto thee; and also Saul my father knoweth this.

1 Samuel 23:18

And they made, both of them, a covenant before the Lord: and David remained in the forest; but Jonathan went to his house.

1 Samuel 23:19

Then came up the Ziphites unto Saul to Gib'ah, saying, Behold, David is hiding himself with us in the strong-holds in the forest, on the hill of Chachilah, which is on the right of the desert.

1 Samuel 23:20

And now in accordance with all the longing of thy soul, O king, to come down, come down; and our part shall be to surrender him into the king's hand.

1 Samuel 23:21

And Saul said, Blessed be ye of the Lord; for ye have pity on me.

1 Samuel 23:22

Go, I pray you, make yet more preparations, and remark and see his place where his foot may be, who hath seen him there; for I am told that he dealeth with great subtilty.

1 Samuel 23:23

See therefore, and remark every one of all the lurking-places where he usually hideth himself, and come ye again to me with the certainty, and I will go with you; and it shall come to pass, if he be in the land, that I will search him out throughout all the thousands of Judah.

1 Samuel 23:24

And they arose, and went to Ziph before Saul; but David and his men were in the wilderness of Ma'on, in the plain on the right of the desert.

1 Samuel 23:25

And Saul and his men went to make a search. And they told it to David: wherefore he came down to the rock, and abode in the wilderness of Ma'on. And when Saul heard this, he pursued after David into the wilderness of Ma'on.

1 Samuel 23:26

And Saul went on this side of the mountain, and David and his men on that side of the mountain; and David made haste to get away from before Saul; and Saul and his men were compassing David and his men to seize them.

1 Samuel 23:27

But a messenger came unto Saul, saying, Haste thee, and come; for the Philistines have invaded the land.

1 Samuel 23:28

Wherefore Saul returned from pursuing after David, and went against the Philistines: therefore they called that place Sela-hammachlekoth.

1 Samuel 23:29

And David went up from there, and dwelt in strong-holds of 'En-gedi.

1 Samuel 24:1

And it came to pass, when Saul was returned from pursuing the Philistines, that it was told to him, saying, Behold, David is in the wilderness of 'En-gedi.

1 Samuel 24:2

Then took Saul three thousand chosen men out of all Israel, and went to seek David and his men upon the rocks of the wild goats.

1 Samuel 24:3

And he came to the sheepfolds by the way, and there was a cave; and Saul went in to cover his feet: and David and his men were sitting in the lower end of the cave.

1 Samuel 24:4

And the men of David said unto him, Behold, this is the day of which the Lord hath said unto thee, Behold, I will deliver thy enemy into thy hand, that thou mayest do to him as it shall seem good in thy eyes. And David arose, and cut off the corner of the robe which Saul wore, unperceived.

1 Samuel 24:5

And it came to pass afterward, that David's heart smote him, because he had cut off the corner of Saul's [robe].

1 Samuel 24:6

And he said unto his men, Far be it from me for the Lord's sake, that I should do this thing unto my master, the Lord's anointed, to stretch forth my hand against him; because he is the anointed of the Lord.

1 Samuel 24:7

So David restrained his servants with these words, and suffered them not to rise against Saul. But Saul rose up out of the cave, and went on his way.

1 Samuel 24:8

David also arose afterward, and went forth out of the cave, and called after Saul, saying, My Lord, the king! And Saul then looked behind him, and David bowed his face to the earth, and prostrated himself.

1 Samuel 24:9

And David said to Saul, Wherefore wilt thou listen to men's words, saying, Behold, David seeketh thy injury?

1 Samuel 24:10

Behold, this day thy eyes have seen how that the Lord had delivered thee today into my hand in the cave, and some one said that I should kill thee: but my soul felt compassion for thee: and I said, I will not stretch forth my hand against my Lord; because he is the anointed of the Lord.

1 Samuel 24:11

And now, my father, see, yea, see the corner of thy robe in my hand; for in that I cut off the corner of thy robe, and killed thee not, know thou and see that there is neither evil nor transgression in my hand, and that I have not sinned against thee: yet thou liest in wait for my soul to take it.

1 Samuel 24:12

May the Lord judge between me and thee, and may the Lord avenge me on thee; but my hand shall not be against thee.

1 Samuel 24:13

As saith the proverb of the ancients, From the wicked proceedeth wickedness; but my hand shall not be against thee.

1 Samuel 24:14

After whom is the king of Israel gone out? after whom art thou pursuing? after a dead dog, after a single flea.

1 Samuel 24:15

May the Lord therefore be judge, and decide between me and thee, and see, and plead my cause, and obtain me justice out of thy hand.

1 Samuel 24:16

And it came to pass, When David had finished speaking these words unto Saul, that Saul said, Is this thy voice, my son David? And Saul lifted up his voice, and wept.

1 Samuel 24:17

And he said to David, Thou art more righteous than I; for thou hast done for me only what is good, whereas I have rewarded thee only with what is evil.

1 Samuel 24:18

And thou hast proved this day, that thou hast dealt well with me; forasmuch as when the Lord had surrendered me into thy hand, thou didst not kill me.

1 Samuel 24:19

For if a man find his enemy, will he let him go away on a good road? so may the Lord reward thee with good for what thou hast done unto me this day.

1 Samuel 24:20

And now, behold, I know that thou wilt surely become king, and that the kingdom of Israel will stand firmly in thy hand.

1 Samuel 24:21

And now swear unto me by the Lord, that thou wilt not cut off my seed after me, and that thou wilt not destroy my name out of my father's house.

1 Samuel 24:22

And David swore unto Saul; and Saul went to his house; but David and his men went up into the strong-hold.

1 Samuel 25:1

And Samuel died; and all the Israelites assembled themselves together, and lamented for him, and buried him in his house at Ramah. And David arose, and went down to the wilderness of Paran.

1 Samuel 25:2

And there was a man in Ma'on, whose business was in Carmel; and the man was very great, and he had three thousand sheep, and a thousand goats: and he was, while they were shearing his sheep, at Carmel.

1 Samuel 25:3

Now the name of the man was Nabal, and the name of his wife Abigail: and the woman was of good understanding, and of a beautiful form; but the man was hard-hearted and evil in his deeds; and he was of the house of Caleb.

1 Samuel 25:4

And David heard in the wilderness that Nabal was shearing his sheep.

1 Samuel 25:5

And David sent out ten young men, and David said unto the young men, Get you up to Carmel, and go to Nabal, and ask him in my name after his well-being.

1 Samuel 25:6

And ye shall say, May it thus be throughout thy life; and peace be to thee, and peace be to thy house, and unto all that thou hast be peace.

1 Samuel 25:7

And now have I heard that thou hast sheep-shearers: now thy shepherds have been with us, we have not injured them, neither hath there aught been missing unto them, all the time they were at Carmel.

1 Samuel 25:8

Ask thy young men, and they will tell it thee. Therefore let the young men find favor in thy eyes; for on a festive day are we come: give, I pray thee, whatsoever thy hand is capable of unto thy servants, and to thy son, to David.

1 Samuel 25:9

And David's young men came, and they spoke to Nabal in accordance with all these words in the name of David; and then they ceased.

1 Samuel 25:10

And Nabal answered the servants of David, and said, Who is David? and who is the son of Jesse? now-a-days there are many servants that break away every one from his master.

1 Samuel 25:11

Shall I then take my bread, and my water, and my flesh that I have killed for my sheep-shearers, and give it unto men, whom I know not whence they are?

1 Samuel 25:12

And David's young men turned about on their way, and returned, and came and told him in accordance with all these words.

1 Samuel 25:13

And David said unto his men, Gird ye on, every man, his sword. And they girded on, every man, his sword; and David also girded on his sword: and there went up after David about four hundred men, and two hundred abode by the baggage.

1 Samuel 25:14

But one of the young men told Abigail, Nabal's wife, saying, Behold, David sent messengers out of the wilderness to greet our master; but he hath spoken rudely to them.

1 Samuel 25:15

Whereas the men have been very good unto us; and we have not been injured, neither have we missed any thing, all the time that we went about with them, while we were in the field:

1 Samuel 25:16

A wall were they around us both by night and by day, all the time we were with them, feeding the flocks.

1 Samuel 25:17

And now know and consider what thou canst do; for evil is determined on against our master, and against all his household; and he is too greatly a worthless man for me to speak to him.

1 Samuel 25:18

And Abigail made haste, and took two hundred loaves, and two bottles of wine, and five sheep ready dressed, and five measures of parched corn, and a hundred clusters of raisins, and two hundred cakes of figs, and laid them on asses.

1 Samuel 25:19

And she said unto her young men, Pass on before me: behold, I come after you. But to her husband Nabal she told nothing.

1 Samuel 25:20

And it was so, as she was riding on the ass, and coming down by the covert of the mount, that, behold, David and his men came down toward her; and she met them.

1 Samuel 25:21

Now David had said, Yea, for naught only have I guarded all that belongeth to this fellow in the wilderness, so that not the least was missed of all that pertained unto him; and he hath requited me evil instead of good.

1 Samuel 25:22

So may God do unto the enemies of David, and do so yet farther, if I leave of all that pertaineth to him by the morning light, as much as a dog.

1 Samuel 25:23

And when Abigail saw David, she hastened, and alighted off the ass, and fell down before David on her face, and bowed herself to the ground.

1 Samuel 25:24

And she fell at his feet, and said, On me, me, my lord, is the fault: and let thy hand-maid, I pray thee, speak in thy hearing, and listen to the words of thy hand-maid.

1 Samuel 25:25

Let not my Lord, I pray thee, turn his heart unto this worthless man, unto Nabal; for as his name is, so is he: Nabal is his name, and meanness is with him; but I thy hand-maid did not see the young men of my Lord, whom thou didst send.

1 Samuel 25:26

And now, my lord, as the Eternal liveth, and as thy soul liveth, it is the Lord who hath withholden thee from coming to blood-guiltiness, and from helping thyself with thy own hand; and now may like Nabal be thy enemies, and those that seek [to do] my Lord evil.

1 Samuel 25:27

And now this present which thy hand-maid hath brought unto my Lord, let it even be given unto the young men that follow in the train my Lord.

1 Samuel 25:28

Pardon, I pray thee, the trespass of thy hand-maid; for the Lord will certainly make for my lord an enduring house; because the battles of the Lord doth my lord fight, and evil will not be found in thee all thy days.

1 Samuel 25:29

And though a man is risen up to pursue thee, and to seek thy soul: yet will the soul of my Lord be bound in the bond of life with the Lord thy God; and the soul of thy enemies will he hurl away, as out of the middle of the sling.

1 Samuel 25:30

And it shall come to pass, when the Lord will do to my lord, in accordance with all the good that he hath spoken concerning thee, and will ordain thee as ruler over Israel,

1 Samuel 25:31

That this shall not be unto thee as a cause of offense and as a reproach of heart unto my lord, both by having shed blood without cause, and by my lord having righted himself; and when the Lord will do good unto my lord, then do thou remember thy hand-maid.

1 Samuel 25:32

And David said to Abigail, Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, who sent thee this day to meet me;

1 Samuel 25:33

And blessed be thy intelligence, and blessed be thou, who hast prevented me this day from coming unto blood-guiltiness, and from helping myself with my own hand.

1 Samuel 25:34

But truly, as the Lord the God of Israel liveth, who hath withdrawn me from injuring thee, except thou hadst hastened and come to meet me, surely there would not have been left unto Nabal by the morning–light so much as a dog.

1 Samuel 25:35

And David took out of her hand that which she had brought him; and unto her he said, Go up in peace to thy house: see, I have hearkened to thy voice, and have respected thy presence.

1 Samuel 25:36

And Abigail came to Nabal; and, behold, he held a feast in his house, like the feast of a king; and Nabal's heart was merry within him, and he was exceedingly drunken; wherefore she told him not a word, either little or great, until the morning–light.

1 Samuel 25:37

But it happened in the morning, when the wine was gone out of Nabal, that his wife told him these things; and his heart died within him, and he became as a stone.

1 Samuel 25:38

And it came to pass in about ten days thereafter, that the Lord struck Nabal, and he died.

1 Samuel 25:39

And when David heard that Nabal was dead, he said, Blessed be the Lord, who hath pleaded the cause of my reproach from the hand of Nabal, and hath withheld his servant from evil; and the wickedness of Nabal hath the Lord returned upon his own head. And David sent and applied for Abigail, to take her to himself for wife.

1 Samuel 25:40

And the servants of David came to Abigail to Carmel, and they spoke unto her, saying, David hath sent us unto thee, to take thee to himself for wife.

1 Samuel 25:41

Thereupon she arose, and bowed herself with her face to the earth, and said, Behold, let thy hand–maid be a servant to wash the feet of the servants of my lord.

1 Samuel 25:42

And Abigail hastened, and arose, and rode upon an ass, with her five damsels that went in her train; and she went after the messengers of David, and she became his wife.

1 Samuel 25:43

David also took Achino'am of Yizre'el; and both of them became thus his wives.

1 Samuel 25:44

But Saul had given Michal his daughter, David's wife, to Palti, the son of Layish, who was of Gallim.

1 Samuel 26:1

And the Ziphites came unto Saul to Gib'ah, saying, Behold, David hideth himself on the hill of Chachilah, before the desert.

1 Samuel 26:2

Then arose Saul, and went down to the wilderness of Ziph, and with him were three thousand men chosen out of Israel, to seek David in the wilderness of Ziph.

1 Samuel 26:3

And Saul encamped on the hill of Chachilah, which is before the desert by the way; but David abode in the wilderness, and he saw that Saul was coming after him into the wilderness.

1 Samuel 26:4

David thereupon sent out spies, and understood that Saul was come for a certainty.

1 Samuel 26:5

And David arose, and came to the place where Saul was encamped; and David beheld the place where Saul lay, with Abner the son of Ner, the captain of his army; and Saul was lying in the midst of the ring, and the people were encamped round about him.

1 Samuel 26:6

Then commenced David and said to Achimelech the Hittite, and to Abishai the son of Zeruyah, the brother of Joab, saying, Who will go down with me to Saul to the camp? And Abishai said, I will readily go down with thee.

1 Samuel 26:7

So David and Abishai came to the people by night: and, behold, Saul lay sleeping within the ring, with his spear stuck in the ground by his head; but Abner and the people were lying round about him.

1 Samuel 26:8

Then said Abishai to David, God hath surrendered this day thy enemy into thy hand: and now let me strike him through, I pray thee, with the spear, even to the earth with one blow, and I will not give him a second one.

1 Samuel 26:9

But David said to Abishai, Destroy him not; for who hath stretched forth his hand against the Lord's anointed, and remained guiltless?

1 Samuel 26:10

David said furthermore, As the Lord liveth, the Lord alone shall strike him down: either his day shall come that he die; or he shall go down into battle, and perish.

1 Samuel 26:11

Far be this from me for the sake of the Lord, that I should stretch forth my hand against the Lord's anointed; but now, I pray thee, take thou the spear that is by his head, and the cruise of water, and let us go our way.

1 Samuel 26:12

So David took the spear and the cruise of water by the head of Saul, and they went their way; and no one saw it, and no one perceived it, and—no one awaked; for they were all sleeping; because a deep sleep from the Lord was fallen upon them.

1 Samuel 26:13

Then went David over to the other side, and stood on the top of the mount afar off, the space between them being great.

1 Samuel 26:14

And David called to the people, and to Abner the son of Ner, saying, Wilt thou not answer, Abner? And Abner answered and said, Who art thou that callest to the king?

1 Samuel 26:15

And David said to Abner, Art thou not a man? and who is like to thee in Israel? why then hast thou not kept guard over thy lord the king? for there came one of the people to destroy the king thy lord.

1 Samuel 26:16

This thing which thou hast done is not good. As the Lord liveth, ye deserve to die; because ye have not kept guard over your master, over the Lord's anointed. And now see, where is the king's spear, and the cruise of water that was by his head?

1 Samuel 26:17

And Saul recognized David's voice, and he said, Is this thy voice, my son David? And David said, It is my voice, my Lord, O king.

1 Samuel 26:18

And he said, Why is this that my lord doth pursue after his servant? for what have I done? or what evil is in my hand?

1 Samuel 26:19

And now, I pray thee, let my Lord the king hear the words of his servant! If the Lord have stirred thee up against me, then may he accept the savor of an offering; but if they be the children of men, then be they cursed before the Lord; because they have driven me out this day so that I cannot attach myself on the inheritance of the Lord, saying, Go, serve other gods.

1 Samuel 26:20

Now, therefore, let not my blood fall to the earth far from the presence of the Lord; for the king of Israel is come out to seek a single flea, as one doth usually pursue a partridge on the mountains.

1 Samuel 26:21

Then said Saul, I have sinned; return, my son David; for I will not do thee harm any more, for the cause that my life was precious in thy eyes this day: behold, I have acted foolishly, and have erred exceedingly much.

1 Samuel 26:22

And David answered and said, Behold, here is the king's spear! and let one of the young men come over and fetch it.

1 Samuel 26:23

And may the Lord recompense to every man his righteousness and his faithfulness; since the Lord delivered thee into my hand today, and I would not stretch forth my hand against the anointed of the Lord.

1 Samuel 26:24

And behold, as thy life was highly valued this day in my eyes, so may my life be highly valued in the eyes of the Lord, and may he deliver me out of all tribulation.

1 Samuel 26:25

Then said Saul to David, Blessed be thou my son David: thou wilt both do great things, and wilt also surely prevail. And David went then on his way, and Saul returned to his place.

1 Samuel 27:1

And David said in his heart, Now I may yet perish suddenly one day by the hand of Saul; there is nothing better for me than that I should escape at once into the land of the Philistines, then Saul will abstain from me, to seek me any more in all the territory of Israel: and so shall I escape out of his hand.

1 Samuel 27:2

And David arose, and he passed over himself with the six hundred men that were with him unto Achish, the son of Ma'och, the king of Gath.

1 Samuel 27:3

And David remained with Achish at Gath, he and his men, every man with his household, also David with his two wives, Achino'am the Yizre'elitess, and Abigail, Nabal's wife, the Carmelitess.

1 Samuel 27:4

And when it was told unto Saul that David was fled to Gath, he continued no more to seek for him.

1 Samuel 27:5

And David said unto Achish, If now I have found grace in thy eyes, let them give me a place in some one of the country-towns, that I may dwell there; for why should thy servant dwell in the royal city with thee?

1 Samuel 27:6

Then gave Achish unto him on that day Ziklag: therefore hath Ziklag pertained unto the kings of Judah until this day.

1 Samuel 27:7

And the number of the days that David dwelt in the fields of the Philistines was a full year and four months.

1 Samuel 27:8

And David and his men went up, and invaded the Geshurites, and the Gizrites, and the 'Amalekites; for these nations were of old the inhabitants of the land, till thou comest to Shur, and as far as the land of Egypt.

1 Samuel 27:9

And David smote the land, and left not alive either man or woman, and took away the flocks, and the oxen, and the asses, and the camels, and the apparel, and returned, and came to Achish.

1 Samuel 27:10

And Achish said, Whither have ye made an inroad today? And David said, Against the south of Judah, and against the south of the Yerachmeelites, and against the south of the Kenites.

1 Samuel 27:11

And David left not alive either man or woman, to bring [them] to Gath, saying, That they may not tell on us, saying, So hath David done, and so is his custom all the days he hath dwelt in the fields of the Philistines.

1 Samuel 27:12

And Achish had confidence in David, saying, He hath surely spoiled his odor among his people, among Israel; and he will become unto me a servant for ever.

1 Samuel 28:1

And it came to pass in those days, that the Philistines gathered their camps together for warfare, to fight with Israel; and Achish said unto David, Thou must know that thou shalt go out with me into the camp, thou and thy men.

1 Samuel 28:2

And David said to Achish, By reason of this wilt thou thyself ascertain what thy servant will do. And Achish said to David, Therefore will I make thee the guard of my head for all times.

1 Samuel 28:3

Now Samuel was dead, and all Israel had lamented him, and buried him in Ramah, even in his own city; and Saul had removed those that had familiar spirits, and the wizards, out of the land.

1 Samuel 28:4

And the Philistines assembled themselves together, and came and encamped at Shunem: and Saul assembled together all Israel, and they encamped at Gilboa'.

1 Samuel 28:5

And when Saul saw the camp of the Philistines, he was afraid, and his heart trembled greatly.

1 Samuel 28:6

And Saul asked counsel of the Lord; but the Lord answered him not, either by means of dreams, or by means of the Urim, or by means of the prophets.

1 Samuel 28:7

Then said Saul unto his servants, Seek out for me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may go to her and inquire of her. And his servants said to him, Behold, there is a woman that hath a familiar spirit at 'En-dor.

1 Samuel 28:8

And Saul disguised himself, and put on other garments, and he went, he and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night: and he said, Divine, I pray thee, unto me by the familiar spirit, and bring up for me the one whom I shall say unto thee.

1 Samuel 28:9

And the woman said unto him, Behold, thou well knowest that which Saul hath done, that he hath cut off those that have familiar spirits, and the wizards, out of the land; wherefore then layest thou a snare for my life, to cause me to die?

1 Samuel 28:10

And Saul swore to her by the Lord, saying, As the Lord liveth, there shall no guilt attach to thee for this thing.

1 Samuel 28:11

Then said the woman, Whom shall I bring up for thee? And he said, Samuel thou must bring up for me.

1 Samuel 28:12

And when the woman saw Samuel, she cried with a loud voice: and the woman said to Saul thus, Why hast thou deceived me? since thou art Saul.

1 Samuel 28:13

And the king said unto her, Be not afraid; however, what hast thou seen? And the woman said unto Saul, A divine being have I seen ascending out of the earth.

1 Samuel 28:14

And he said unto her, What is his form? And she said, An old man is coming up; and he is wrapt in a mantle. And so Saul perceived that it was Samuel, and he bowed with his face to the ground, and prostrated himself.

1 Samuel 28:15

And Samuel said to Saul, Why hast thou disquieted me, to bring me up? And Saul answered, I am greatly distressed, and the Philistines make war against me, and God is departed from me, and hath not answered me any more, either by the agency of the prophets, or by means of dreams; wherefore I have called thee, to make known unto me what I shall do.

1 Samuel 28:16

Then said Samuel, And why wilt thou ask me, seeing the Lord is departed from thee, and is become thy enemy?

1 Samuel 28:17

And the Lord hath done for himself as he hath spoken through my agency; and the Lord hath rent the government out of thy hand, and hath given it to thy associate, to David;

1 Samuel 28:18

As thou didst not obey the voice of the Lord, and didst not execute his fierce wrath upon 'Amalek; therefore hath the Lord done this thing unto thee this day.

1 Samuel 28:19

And the Lord will deliver also Israel with thee into the hand of the Philistines; and tomorrow shalt thou and thy sons be with me: also the camp of Israel will the Lord deliver into the hand of the Philistines.

1 Samuel 28:20

Then fell Saul hastily with his full length to the earth, and was greatly afraid, because of the words of Samuel: there was also no strength in him; for he had not eaten any food all that day, and all that night.

1 Samuel 28:21

And the woman came unto Saul, and saw that he was greatly terrified; and she said unto him, Behold, thy hand-maid hath obeyed thy voice; and I put my life in my hand, and hearkened unto thy words which thou spakest unto me.

1 Samuel 28:22

And now, hearken thou also, I pray thee, unto the voice of thy hand-maid, and let me set before thee a morsel of bread, and eat; that thou mayest have strength when thou goest on the way.

1 Samuel 28:23

But he refused, and said, I will not eat. But his servants urged him much, as also the woman; and he hearkened unto their voice. So he arose from the earth, and sat upon the bed.

1 Samuel 28:24

And the woman had a fatted calf in the house; and she hastened, and slaughtered it, and took flour, and kneaded it, and baked unleavened bread thereof:

1 Samuel 28:25

And she brought it near before Saul, and before his servants; and they ate. Then they rose up, and went away that night.

1 Samuel 29:1

Now the Philistines assembled together all their camps at Aphek: and the Israelites encamped by the spring which is by Yizre'el.

1 Samuel 29:2

And the lords of the Philistines passed on by hundreds, and by thousands; but David and his men passed on at the last with Achish.

1 Samuel 29:3

Then said the princes of the Philistines, What are these Hebrews to do? And Achish said unto the princes of the Philistines, Behold, this is David, the servant of Saul the king of Israel, who hath been with me already a year, or even years, and I have not found the least in him [to blame] from the day of his joining [me] until this day?

1 Samuel 29:4

And the princes of the Philistines were angry with him; and the princes of the Philistines said unto him, Cause this man to go back, that he may return to his place whither thou hast assigned him; but he shall not go down with us to the battle, that he may not become an adversary to us in the battle; for wherewith could this person reconcile himself unto his master? is it not by means of the heads of these men?

1 Samuel 29:5

Is not this David, of whom they sang one to another in the dances, saying, Saul hath slain his thousands, and David his ten thousands?

1 Samuel 29:6

Then did Achish call David, and say unto him, As the Lord liveth, [I declare] that thou art upright, and that thy going out and thy coming in with me in the camp is good in my eyes; for I have not found in thee any evil from the day of thy coming unto me until this day; nevertheless in the eyes of the lords thou art not good.

1 Samuel 29:7

And now return, and go in peace, that thou mayest not do any evil in the eyes of the lords of the Philistines.

1 Samuel 29:8

And David said unto Achish, But what have I done? and what hast thou found in thy servant from the day that I have been before thee, until this day, that I shall not go to fight against the enemies of my Lord the king?

1 Samuel 29:9

And Achish answered and said to David, I know that thou art good in my eyes, as an angel of God; nevertheless, the princes of the Philistines have said, He shall not go up with us to the battle.

1 Samuel 29:10

And now rise up early in the morning with the servants of thy master that are come with thee: and rise then up early in the morning, and when ye have light, go away.

1 Samuel 29:11

And David and his men rose up early to go away in the morning, to return unto the land of the Philistines; but the Philistines went up to Yizre'el.

1 Samuel 30:1

And it came to pass when David and his men came to Ziklag on the third day, that the 'Amalekites had invaded the south, and Ziklag, and smitten Ziklag, and burnt it with fire;

1 Samuel 30:2

And had taken captive the women that were therein, both great and small: they had not slain any one, but had led them off, and gone on their way.

1 Samuel 30:3

When therefore David and his men came to the city, behold, it was burnt with fire; and their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, had been taken captive.

1 Samuel 30:4

And David and the people that were with him lifted up their voice and wept, until they had no more power to weep.

1 Samuel 30:5

And the two wives of David were also taken captive, Achino'am the Yizre'elitess, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

1 Samuel 30:6

And David was greatly distressed; for the people spoke of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was embittered, every man for his sons and for his daughters; but David fortified himself in the Lord his God.

1 Samuel 30:7

And David said to Ebyathar the priest, the son of Achimelech, Bring hither, I pray thee, unto me the ephod. And Ebyathar brought the ephod near unto David.

1 Samuel 30:8

And David asked counsel of the Lord, saying, Shall I pursue after this troop! shall I overtake them? And he said to him, Pursue; for thou wilt surely overtake them, and certainly recover [all].

1 Samuel 30:9

So David went, he and the six hundred men that were with him, and came up to the brook Bessor, where those that were left behind stayed.

1 Samuel 30:10

But David pursued on, he and four hundred men; and there stayed behind two hundred men, who were too fatigued to go over the brook Bessor.

1 Samuel 30:11

And they found an Egyptian man in the field, and took him to David, and gave him bread, and he did eat; and they made him drink water;

1 Samuel 30:12

And they gave him a piece of a cake of figs, and two clusters of raisins, and he ate, and then his spirit returned to him; for he had not eaten any bread, nor drunk any water, three days and three nights.

1 Samuel 30:13

And David said unto him, To whom belondest thou? and whence art thou? And he said, I am a young Egyptian man, the servant to an 'Amalekite; and my master left me behind, because I fell sick, today three days ago.

1 Samuel 30:14

We made an invasion upon the south of the Kerethites, and upon that which belongeth to Judah, and upon the south of Caleb; and Ziklag did we burn with fire.

1 Samuel 30:15

And David said to him, Wilt thou bring me down to this troop? And he said, Swear unto me by God, that thou wilt not kill me, and that thou wilt not surrender me into the hand of my master, and then will I bring thee down to this troop.

1 Samuel 30:16

And he brought him down; and behold, they were scattered over the face of all the country, eating and drinking, and dancing for joy, because of all the great spoil which they had taken out of the land of the Philistines, and out of the land of Judah.

1 Samuel 30:17

And David smote them from the twilight even unto the evening of the next day; and there escaped not a man of them, save four hundred young men, who rode upon camels, and fled.

1 Samuel 30:18

And David recovered all that the 'Amalekites had taken away; and his two wives also did David rescue.

1 Samuel 30:19

And there was nothing missing to them, from small to great, as also sons and daughters, and spoil, down to every thing that they had taken from them: the whole did David bring back.

1 Samuel 30:20

And David took all the flocks and the herds: these they drove before those other cattle, and said, This is David's spoil.

1 Samuel 30:21

And David came to the two hundred men, who had been too fatigued to follow after David, and whom they had left to remain at the brook Bessor: and they went forth to meet David, and to meet the people that were with him; and David came near to the people, and asked them after their well-being.

1 Samuel 30:22

Then exclaimed every wicked and worthless man, of those that had gone with David, and said, Because they went not with us, we will not give them aught of the spoil that we have recovered, save to every man his wife and his children, and these they may lead away, and go.

1 Samuel 30:23

Then said David, Ye must not do so, my brethren; since the Lord hath given us this, and guarded us, and delivered the troop that came against us into our hand.

1 Samuel 30:24

And who will hearken unto you in this matter? but as is the part of him that went down to the battle, so shall be the part of him that remained with the baggage: together must they share.

1 Samuel 30:25

And it happened from that day and forward, that he made it a statute and an ordinance for Israel until this day.

1 Samuel 30:26

And when David came to Ziklag, he sent of the spoil unto the elders of Judah, to his friends, saying, Behold, here is a present for you from the spoil of the enemies of the Lord:

1 Samuel 30:27

To those who were in Beth-el, and to those who were in south Ramoth, and to those who were in Yattir,

1 Samuel 30:28

And to those who were in 'Aro'er, and to those who were in Siphmoth, and to those who were in Eshtemoa',

1 Samuel 30:29

And to those who were in Rachal, and to those who were in the cities of Yerach-meelites, and to those who were in the cities of the Kenites,

1 Samuel 30:30

And to those who were in Chormah, and to those who were in Kor-'ashan, and to those who were in 'Athach,

1 Samuel 30:31

And to those who were in Hebron, and to all the places where David himself and his men had wandered about.

1 Samuel 31:1

Now the Philistines fought against Israel; and the men of Israel fled from before the Philistines, and there fell down [many] slain on mount Gilboa'.

1 Samuel 31:2

And the Philistines overtook Saul and his sons; and the Philistines smote Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malkishua', the sons of Saul.

1 Samuel 31:3

And the battle was heavy against Saul, and he was found by the archers, the men with bows; and he was greatly in dread of the archers.

1 Samuel 31:4

And Saul said unto his armor-bearer, Draw thy sword, and thrust me through therewith; lest these uncircumcised come and thrust me through, and wantonly ill-use me. But his armor-bearer would not; for he was greatly afraid; wherefore Saul took the sword, and fell upon it.

1 Samuel 31:5

And when his armor-bearer saw that Saul was dead, then fell he likewise upon his sword, and died with him.

1 Samuel 31:6

Thus died Saul, and his three sons, and his armor-bearer, also all his men, on that same day together.

1 Samuel 31:7

And when the men of Israel that were on the other side of the valley, and those that were on the other side of the Jordan, saw that the men of Israel had fled, and that Saul and his sons had died: they forsook the cities, and fled away; and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

1 Samuel 31:8

And it came to pass on the morrow, that the Philistines came to strip the slain; and they found Saul and his three sons fallen on mount Gilboa'.

1 Samuel 31:9

And they cut off his head, and stripped off his armor, and sent it into the land of the Philistines round about, to publish it in the house of their idols, and among the people.

1 Samuel 31:10

And they put his armor in the house of 'Ashtaroth; and his body they fastened to the wall of Beth-shan.

1 Samuel 31:11

And when the inhabitants of Yabeshgil'ad heard concerning him that which the Philistines had done to Saul:

1 Samuel 31:12

Then arose all the valiant men, and walked all the night, and took the body of Saul and the bodies of his sons from the wall of Beth-shan, and they came to Yabesh, and burnt them there.

1 Samuel 31:13

And they took their bones, and buried them under the tamarisk-tree at Yabesh, and they fasted seven days.

2 SAMUEL

2 Samuel 1:1

Now it came to pass after the death of Saul, when David was returned from smiting the 'Amalekites, that David abode in Ziklag two days.

2 Samuel 1:2

And it came to pass on the third day, that, behold, a man came out of the camp from Saul with his clothes rent, and earth upon his head: and it happened, when he came to David, that he fell to the earth, and prostrated himself.

2 Samuel 1:3

And David said unto him, From where comest thou? And he said unto him, Out of the camp of Israel am I escaped.

2 Samuel 1:4

And David said unto him, What took place there? I pray thee, tell me. And he said, That the people are fled from the battle, and that also many of the people are fallen and have died; and that also Saul and Jonathan his son are dead.

2 Samuel 1:5

And David said unto the young man that told him, How knowest thou that Saul is dead as also Jonathan his son?

2 Samuel 1:6

And the young man that told him said, I happened entirely by chance to be upon mount Gilboa', when, behold, there was Saul leaning upon his spear; and, lo, the chariots and horsemen had overtaken him.

2 Samuel 1:7

And he turned round, and he saw me, and called unto me, And I said, Here am I.

2 Samuel 1:8

And he said unto me, Who art thou! And I answered him, An 'Amalekite am I.

2 Samuel 1:9

And he said unto me, Place thyself, I pray thee, by me, and slay me; for a mortal tremor hath seized on me, although my life is yet whole in me.

2 Samuel 1:10

So I placed myself by him, and slew him, because I was sure that he could not live after his fall; and I took the crown that was upon his head, and the bracelet that was on his arm, and I have brought them unto my lord hither.

2 Samuel 1:11

David thereupon took hold of his clothes, and rent them; and [so did] likewise all the men that were with him:

2 Samuel 1:12

And they lamented, and wept, and fasted until the evening, for Saul, and for Jonathan his son, and for the people of the Lord, and for the house of Israel; because they were fallen by the sword.

2 Samuel 1:13

And David said unto the young man that told him, Whence art thou? And he said, The son of a stranger, an 'Amalekite, am I.

2 Samuel 1:14

And David said unto him, How wast thou not afraid to stretch forth thy hand to destroy the Lord's anointed?

2 Samuel 1:15

And David called one of the young men, and said, Come near, and fall upon him. And he smote him that he died.

2 Samuel 1:16

And David said unto him, Thy blood is upon thy own head; for thy mouth hath testified against thee, saying, I myself have slain the Lord's anointed.

2 Samuel 1:17

And David lamented with this lamentation over Saul and over Jonathan his son:

2 Samuel 1:18

And he said, That the children of Judah should be taught the bow; behold it is written in the book of Yashar.

2 Samuel 1:19

O beauty of Israel! upon the high places slain: how are the mighty fallen!

2 Samuel 1:20

Tell it not in Gath, publish it not in the streets of Ashkelon; that the daughters of the Philistines may not be glad, that the daughters of the uncircumcised may not rejoice.

2 Samuel 1:21

O mountains of Gilboa', no dew, nor rain be upon you, nor fields of offerings; for there the shield of the mighty was stained, the shield of Saul, as though it had not been anointed with oil.

2 Samuel 1:22

From the blood of the slain, from the fat of the mighty, the bow of Jonathan turned never back, and the sword of Saul never returned empty.

2 Samuel 1:23

Saul and Jonathan, the beloved and the dear in their lives, were even in their death not divided: more than eagles were they swift, more than lions were they strong.

2 Samuel 1:24

O daughters of Israel, weep for Saul, who clothed you in scarlet, with beautiful dresses, who put on ornaments of gold upon your apparel.

2 Samuel 1:25

How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle! O Jonathan, on thy high places slain.

2 Samuel 1:26

I am distressed for thee, my brother Jonathan; very dear hast thou been unto me: wonderful was thy love for me, passing the love of women.

2 Samuel 1:27

How are the mighty fallen, and lost the instruments of war!

2 Samuel 2:1

And it came to pass after this, that David asked counsel of the Lord, saying, Shall I go up into one of the cities of Judah? And the Lord said unto him, Go up. And David said, Whither shall I go up? And he said, Unto Hebron.

2 Samuel 2:2

So David went up thither, and his two wives also, Achino'am the Yizre'elitess, and Abigayil, Nabal's wife, the Carmelite.

2 Samuel 2:3

And his men that were with him did David bring up, every man with his household; and they dwelt in the cities of Hebron.

2 Samuel 2:4

And then came the men of Judah, and they anointed there David as king over the house of Judah. And they told David, saying, The men of Yabesh-gil'ad were those that buried Saul.

2 Samuel 2:5

And David thereupon sent messengers unto the men of Yabesh–gil’ad, and said unto them, Blessed be ye of the Lord, that ye have done this kindness unto your Lord, unto Saul, and have buried him.

2 Samuel 2:6

And now may the Lord deal with you in kindness and truth: and as for me also, I will requite you this good deed, because ye have done this thing.

2 Samuel 2:7

And now let your hands be strengthened, and be ye valiant men; for your lord Saul is dead; and also me have the house of Judah anointed as king over them.

2 Samuel 2:8

But Abner, the son of Ner, the captain of the army of Saul, took Ish–bosheth the son of Saul, and brought him over to Machanayim;

2 Samuel 2:9

And made him king over Gil’ad, and over the Ashurites, and over Yizre’el, and over Ephraim, and over Benjamin, and over all Israel.

2 Samuel 2:10

Forty years old was Ish–bosheth the son of Saul, when he became king over Israel, and two years he reigned. But the house of Judah followed David.

2 Samuel 2:11

And the number of days that David was king in Hebron over the house of Judah was seven years and six months.

2 Samuel 2:12

And there went out Abner the son of Ner, and the servants of Ish–bosheth the son of Saul, from Machanayim to Gib’on.

2 Samuel 2:13

And Joab the son of Zeruyah and the servants of David also went out, and they met together by the pool of Gib’on: and they sat down, these on the one side of the pool, and the others on the other side of the pool.

2 Samuel 2:14

And Abner said to Joab, Do let the young men rise up and play before us. And Joab said, They may rise up.

2 Samuel 2:15

Then they rose up and went over by number: twelve for Benjamin, and for Ish-bosheth the son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of David.

2 Samuel 2:16

And they grasped every one his fellow by the head, and thrust his sword in his fellow's side; and they fell down together: wherefore that place was called Chelkath-hazzurim, which is by Gib'on.

2 Samuel 2:17

And the battle was exceedingly fierce on that day; and Abner with the men of Israel was beaten, before the servants of David.

2 Samuel 2:18

And there were at that place three sons of Zeruyah, Joab, and Abishai, and 'Asahel: and 'Asahel was as fleet of foot as any roe in the field.

2 Samuel 2:19

And 'Asahel pursued after Abner; and he turned not in going to the right hand or to the left from following Abner.

2 Samuel 2:20

And Abner turned round and said, Art thou 'Asahel? And he answered, I am.

2 Samuel 2:21

And Abner said to him, Turn thee aside to thy right hand or to thy left, and lay hold for thyself on one of the young men, and take thyself his armor. But 'Asahel would not turn aside from following him.

2 Samuel 2:22

And Abner repeated again to say unto 'Asahel, Turn thee aside from following me: wherefore should I smite thee to the ground? and how should I then lift up my face to Joab thy brother?

2 Samuel 2:23

But he refused to turn aside; and Abner smote him with the hinder end of the spear under the fifth rib, so that the spear came out behind him; and he fell down there, and died on the spot: and it came to pass, that all who came to the place where 'Asahel had fallen down and died remained standing still.

2 Samuel 2:24

But Joab and Abishai pursued after Abner: and the sun went down when they were come to the hill of Ammah, that lieth before Giach on the way to the wilderness of Gib'on.

2 Samuel 2:25

And the children of Benjamin assembled themselves together behind Abner, and formed one solid body, and posted themselves on the top of a certain hill.

2 Samuel 2:26

And Abner called to Joab, and said, Shall for everlasting the sword devour? knowest thou not that it will be bitter in the end? and how long shall it be, ere thou wilt bid the people to return from pursuing their brethren?

2 Samuel 2:27

And Joab said, As God liveth, unless thou hadst spoken, surely then already in the morning would the people have gone away every one from pursuing his brother.

2 Samuel 2:28

So Joab blew the cornet, and all the people remained standing still, and pursued no more after Israel, and they continued no more to fight.

2 Samuel 2:29

And Abner and his men walked through the plain all that night, and they passed over the Jordan, and went through all Bithron, and they came to Machanayim.

2 Samuel 2:30

And Joab returned from pursuing Abner; and he gathered all the people together; and there were missed of David's servants nineteen men and 'Asahel.

2 Samuel 2:31

But the servants of David had smitten [many] of Benjamin, and of Abner's men: three hundred and sixty men died.

2 Samuel 2:32

And they took up 'Asahel, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Beth-lechem. And Joab and his men went all that night, and the day broke on them at Hebron.

2 Samuel 3:1

And the war lasted a long time between the house of Saul and the house of David; but David became continually stronger and stronger, and the house of Saul became continually weaker and weaker.

2 Samuel 3:2

And there were born unto David sons in Hebron: and his first-born was Amnon, of Achino'am the Yizre'elites;

2 Samuel 3:3

And his second was Kilab, of Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite; and the third, Abshalom, the son of Ma'achah the daughter of Talmai the king of Geshur;

2 Samuel 3:4

And the fourth, Adoniyah, the son of Chagith; and the fifth, Shephatyah, the son of Abital;

2 Samuel 3:5

And the sixth, Yithre'am, by 'Eglah, David's wife. These were born to David in Hebron.

2 Samuel 3:6

And it came to pass, while the war lasted between the house of Saul and the house of David, that Abner upheld with all his strength the house of Saul.

2 Samuel 3:7

And Saul had a concubine, whose name was Rizpah, the daughter of Ayah: and Ish-bosheth said to Abner, Wherefore hast thou gone in unto my father's concubine?

2 Samuel 3:8

And Abner became very wroth because of the words of Ish-bosheth, and said, Am I the chief of the dogs which belong to Judah? unto this day have I shown kindness unto the house of Saul thy father, to his brothers, and to his friends, and have not delivered thee into the hand of David; and yet thou chargest me today with a wrong committed with this woman?

2 Samuel 3:9

May God do so to Abner, and continue to do yet more to him, that, as the Lord hath sworn to David, even so will I surely do to him;

2 Samuel 3:10

To transfer the kingdom from the house of Saul, and to establish the throne of David over Israel and over Judah, from Dan even to Beer-sheba'.

2 Samuel 3:11

And he could not answer Abner a word more in reply, because of his fear of him.

2 Samuel 3:12

And Abner sent messengers to David on his behalf, saying, Whose is the land? saying [also,] Make thy covenant with me, and, behold, my hand shall be with thee, to bring round unto thee all Israel.

2 Samuel 3:13

And he said, Well: I will indeed make a covenant with thee; but one thing I require of thee, namely, Thou shalt not see my face, except thou first bring Michal, Saul's daughter, when thou comest to see my face.

2 Samuel 3:14

And David sent messengers to Ish-bosheth, the son of Saul, saying, Give up to me my wife Michal, whom I espoused to me for a hundred foreskins of the Philistines.

2 Samuel 3:15

And Ish-bosheth sent, and took her from the man, from Paltiel the son of Layish.

2 Samuel 3:16

And her husband went with her going along and weeping behind her as far as Bachurim: when Abner said unto him, Go, return. And he returned.

2 Samuel 3:17

And Abner had used these words with the elders of Israel, saying, Already yesterday and even before ye have been desiring David as king over you:

2 Samuel 3:18

And now do it; for the Lord hath said of David thus, By the hand of my servant David will I save my people Israel out of the hand of the Philistines, and out of the hand of all their enemies.

2 Samuel 3:19

And Abner also spoke in the ears of Benjamin; and Abner went also to speak in the ears of David in Hebron all that seemed good in the eyes of Israel, and in the eyes of the whole house of Benjamin.

2 Samuel 3:20

And Abner came to David to Hebron, and with him were twenty men; and David made for Abner and for the men that were with him a feast.

2 Samuel 3:21

And Abner said unto David, I will now arise and go, and I will assemble unto my Lord the king all Israel, that they may make a covenant with thee, and that thou mayest reign over all that thy soul longeth for. And David dismissed Abner: and he went in peace.

2 Samuel 3:22

And, behold, the servants of David and Joab came from a predatory excursion, and brought in much booty with them; but Abner was no more with David in Hebron; for he had dismissed him, and he was gone in peace.

2 Samuel 3:23

When Joab and all the army that was with him were come, they told Joab, saying, Abner the son of Ner came to the king, and he hath dismissed him, and he is gone in peace.

2 Samuel 3:24

Then came Joab to the king, and said, What hast thou done? behold, Abner came unto thee: why is it that thou hast dismissed him, that he went freely away?

2 Samuel 3:25

Thou knowest Abner the son of Ner, that to deceive thee did he come, and to know thy going out and thy coming in, and to know all that thou art doing.

2 Samuel 3:26

And Joab went out from David, and he sent messengers after Abner, who brought him back from the well of Sirah; but David knew it not.

2 Samuel 3:27

And when Abner was returned to Hebron, Joab took him aside in the gate to speak with him in private; and he smote him there under the fifth rib, and he died, for the blood of 'Asahel his brother.

2 Samuel 3:28

And when David heard it afterward, he said, I and my kingdom are guiltless before the Lord for ever of the blood of Abner the son of Ner:

2 Samuel 3:29

May it rest on the head of Joab, and on all his father's house; and may there not fail from the house of Joab one that hath an issue, or that is a leper, or that leaneth on a crutch, or that falleth by the sword, or that lacketh bread.

2 Samuel 3:30

But Joab and Abishai his brother slew Abner, because he had killed their brother 'Asahel at Gib'on in the battle.

2 Samuel 3:31

And David said to Joab, and to all the people that were with him, Rend your clothes, and gird yourselves with sackcloth, and [go] mourning before Abner. And king David walked behind the bier.

2 Samuel 3:32

And they buried Abner in Hebron: and the king lifted up his voice, and wept at the grave of Abner; and all the people wept.

2 Samuel 3:33

And the king lamented over Abner, and said, O, that Abner had to die, as the worthless dieth!

2 Samuel 3:34

Thy hands were not bound, and thy feet were not put into fetters: as one falleth before men of wickedness art thou fallen. And all the people wept again over him.

2 Samuel 3:35

And all the people came to cause David to eat food while it was yet day; but David swore, saying, So do God to me, and thus may he continue, if before the sun be down I taste bread, or the least else.

2 Samuel 3:36

And all the people took notice of it, and it was pleasing in their eyes: as whatsoever the king did was pleasing in the eyes of all the people.

2 Samuel 3:37

And all the people and all Israel understood on that day that it had not been of the king to slay Abner the son of Ner.

2 Samuel 3:38

And the king said unto his servants, Know ye not that a prince and a great man hath fallen this day in Israel?

2 Samuel 3:39

And I am this day yet weak, and just anointed king; and these men, the sons of Zeruyah, are too strong for me: may the Lord pay the doer of evil according to his wickedness.

2 Samuel 4:1

And when Saul's son heard that Abner had died in Hebron, his hands became enfeebled, and all the Israelites were troubled.

2 Samuel 4:2

And Saul's son had two men who were captains of bands; the name of the one was Ba'anah, and the name of the other Rechab, the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, of the children of Benjamin: (for Beeroth also was reckoned to Benjamin:

2 Samuel 4:3

And the Beerothites had fled to Gittayim, and remained sojourners there until this day.)

2 Samuel 4:4

And Jonathan, Saul's son, had a son that was lame on both feet. He was five years old when the tidings came of Saul and Jonathan from Yizre'el, and his nurse took him up and fled: and it came to pass, in her haste to flee, that he fell, and was rendered lame. And his name was Mephibosheth.

2 Samuel 4:5

And the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, Rechab and Ba'anah, went, and came at the heat of the day to the house of Ish-bosheth, who was just lying in bed as usual at noon.

2 Samuel 4:6

And they came thither into the interior of the house, as buyers of wheat; and they smote him under the fifth rib: and Rechab and Ba'anah his brother escaped.

2 Samuel 4:7

Namely, they came into the house, while he was lying on his bed in his sleeping-chamber, and they smote him, and slew him, and cut off his head, and took his head, and went by the way of the plain all the night.

2 Samuel 4:8

And they brought the head of Ish-bosheth unto David to Hebron, and they said to the king, Behold, here is the head of Ish-bosheth the son of Saul thy enemy, who sought thy life: and the Lord hath granted to my lord the king vengeance this day on Saul, and on his seed.

2 Samuel 4:9

But David answered Rechab and Ba'anah his brother, the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, and said unto them, As the Lord liveth, who hath redeemed my soul out of all adversity,

2 Samuel 4:10

When one told me, saying, Behold, Saul is dead, and he was in his own eyes as though he brought good tidings, I took hold of him, and slew him in Ziklag, who [thought] that I should give him a reward for his tidings:

2 Samuel 4:11

How much more, when wicked men have slain a righteous man in his own house upon his bed? and now, behold, I will require his blood of your hand, and I will remove you away from the earth.

2 Samuel 4:12

And David gave the command to the young men, and they slew them, and cut off their hands and their feet, and hanged them up by the pool in Hebron. But the head of Ish-bosheth they took, and buried it in the sepulchre of Abner in Hebron.

2 Samuel 5:1

Then came all the tribes of Israel to David unto Hebron, and spoke, saying, Behold us, thy bone and thy flesh are we;

2 Samuel 5:2

Already yesterday, and even before, when Saul was king over us, thou wast the one that led out and brought in Israel: And the Lord said to thee, Thou shalt indeed feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be a chief over Israel.

2 Samuel 5:3

Thus came all the elders of Israel to the king unto Hebron; and king David made a covenant with them in Hebron before the Lord: and they anointed David as king over Israel.

2 Samuel 5:4

Thirty years was David old when he became king, [and] forty years he reigned.

2 Samuel 5:5

In Hebron he reigned over Judah seven years and six months: and in Jerusalem he reigned thirty and three years over all Israel and Judah.

2 Samuel 5:6

And the king and his men went to Jerusalem against the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land; who said unto David, as followeth, Thou shalt not come in hither, except thou [first] remove away the blind and the lame: meaning, David cannot come in hither.

2 Samuel 5:7

Nevertheless David captured the strong-hold of Zion; the same is the city of David.

2 Samuel 5:8

And David said on that day, Whosoever will smite the Jebusites, and reach the aqueduct and the lame and the blind, that are hateful to David's soul,—Wherefore people usually say, The blind and the lame shall not come into the house.

2 Samuel 5:9

And David dwelt in the fort, and he called it "The City of David." And David built [it] round about from the Millo and inward.

2 Samuel 5:10

And David went on, and became greater and greater, and the Lord the God of hosts was with him.

2 Samuel 5:11

And Hiram the king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar-trees, and carpenters, and stone-masons: and they built a house for David.

2 Samuel 5:12

And David felt conscious that the Lord has established him as king over Israel, and that he had exalted his kingdom for the sake of his people Israel.

2 Samuel 5:13

And David took yet more concubines and wives out of Jerusalem, after he was come from Hebron; and there were born to David yet [more] sons and daughters.

2 Samuel 5:14

And these are the names of those that were born unto him in Jerusalem: Shammua', and Shobab, and Nathan, and Solomon,

2 Samuel 5:15

And Yibchar, and Elishua', and Nepheg, and Yaphia',

2 Samuel 5:16

And Elishama', and Elyada', and Eliphelet.

2 Samuel 5:17

But when the Philistines heard that the people had anointed David as king over Israel, all the Philistines came up to seek David: and David heard of it, and went down to the strong-hold.

2 Samuel 5:18

The Philistines also came and spread themselves out in the valley of Rephaim.

2 Samuel 5:19

And David asked counsel of the Lord, saying, shall I go up against the Philistines? wilt thou deliver them into my hand? And the Lord said unto David, Go up; for I will certainly deliver the Philistines into thy hand.

2 Samuel 5:20

And David came to Ba'al-perazim, and David smote them there, and said, The Lord hath broken down my enemies before me, as a breach [is made by] water. Wherefore he called the name of that place Ba'al-perazim.

2 Samuel 5:21

And they left behind there their idols, and David and his men burnt them.

2 Samuel 5:22

And the Philistines came up once again, and spread themselves out in the valley of Rephaim.

2 Samuel 5:23

And when David asked counsel of the Lord, he said, Thou shalt not go up; but turn about and fall in the rear of them, and come upon them opposite to the mulberry-trees.

2 Samuel 5:24

And it shall be, when thou hearest the sound of walking on the top of the mulberry-trees, that thou shalt then bestir thyself; for then will the Lord go out before thee, to smite in the camp of the Philistines.

2 Samuel 5:25

And David did so, as the Lord had commanded him; and he smote the Philistines from Geba' until thou comest to Gezer.

2 Samuel 6:1

And David assembled again all the chosen men of Israel, thirty thousand.

2 Samuel 6:2

And David arose, and went with all the people who were with him from Ba'ale-yehudah, to bring up from there the ark of God, the name of which was called by the name of the Lord of hosts, that dwelleth over the cherubim.

2 Samuel 6:3

And they conveyed the ark of God in a new wagon, and brought it out of the house of Abinadab that was on the hill; and 'Uzzah and Achyo, the sons of Abinadab, guided the new wagon.

2 Samuel 6:4

When they brought it out of the house of Abinadab which was on the hill, [they were] near the ark of God; but Achyo went before the ark.

2 Samuel 6:5

And David and all the house of Israel played before the Lord on all manner of instruments made of fir-wood, and on harps, and on psalteries, and on tambourines, and with bells, and with cymbals.

2 Samuel 6:6

And when they came to the threshing-floor of Nachon, 'Uzzah put forth [his hand] to the ark of God, and took hold of it; for the oxen shook it.

2 Samuel 6:7

And the anger of the Lord was kindled against 'Uzzah; and God smote him there for the error; and he died there by the ark of God.

2 Samuel 6:8

And it was grievous to David, because the Lord had suddenly taken away 'Uzzah; and he called that place Perez-'uzzah [Breach of 'Uzzah] until this day.

2 Samuel 6:9

And David was afraid of the Lord on that day, and said, How shall the ark of the Lord come to me?

2 Samuel 6:10

So David would not allow to have the ark of the Lord removed unto him into the city of David; but David had it carried round into the house of 'Obed-edom the Gittite.

2 Samuel 6:11

And the ark of the Lord remained in the house of 'Obed-edom the Gittite three months: and the Lord blessed 'Obed-edom, and all his household.

2 Samuel 6:12

And it was told to king David, saying, The Lord hath blessed the house of 'Obed-edom, and all that pertaineth unto him, because of the ark of God: and David then went and brought up the ark of God from the house of 'Obed-edom into the city of David with joy.

2 Samuel 6:13

And it happened, that when the bearers of the ark of the Lord had progressed six paces, he sacrificed an ox and a fatling.

2 Samuel 6:14

And David danced with all his might before the Lord; and David was girded with a linen ephod.

2 Samuel 6:15

So David and all the house of Israel brought up the ark of the Lord with shouting, and with the sound of the cornet.

2 Samuel 6:16

And it happened, as the ark of the Lord came into the city of David, that Michal the daughter of Saul looked through the window, and saw king David leaping and dancing before the Lord; and she despised him in her heart.

2 Samuel 6:17

And they brought in the ark of the Lord, and set it in its place, in the midst of the tent that David had pitched for it: and David offered burnt-offerings before the Lord and peace-offerings.

2 Samuel 6:18

And when David had made an end of offering the burnt-offerings and the peace-offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord of hosts.

2 Samuel 6:19

And he dealt out to all the people, to the whole multitude of Israel, to both men and women, to every person one cake of bread, and a good piece of flesh, and a flagon of wine: and all the people departed every one to his house.

2 Samuel 6:20

And David then returned to bless his household. But Michal the daughter of Saul came out to meet David, and she said, How honored was today the king of Israel, who uncovered himself today before the eyes of the hand-maids of his servants, as only one of the low fellows can uncover himself!

2 Samuel 6:21

And David said unto Michal, Before the Lord, who chose me before thy father, and before all his house, to ordain me ruler over the people of the Lord, over Israel:—yea, before the Lord will I yet farther play.

2 Samuel 6:22

And should I be yet more vile than thus, and should I be base in my own eyes: yet among the maid-servants of whom thou hast spoken, yea, among them would I still be honored.

2 Samuel 6:23

And Michal the daughter of Saul had no child until the day of her death.

2 Samuel 7:1

And it came to pass, when the king dwelt in his house, and the Lord had given him rest round about from all his enemies;

2 Samuel 7:2

That the king said unto Nathan the prophet, See now, I dwell in a house of cedar, while the ark of God dwelleth within curtains.

2 Samuel 7:3

And Nathan said to the king, all that is in thy heart go and do; for the Lord is with thee.

2 Samuel 7:4

And it came to pass during that night, That the word of the Lord came unto Nathan, saying,

2 Samuel 7:5

Go and say unto my servant, unto David, Thus hath said the Lord, Wilt thou indeed build me a house for my dwelling?

2 Samuel 7:6

For I have not dwelt in a house since the day that I brought up the children of Israel out of Egypt, even until this day; but have been moving about in a tent and in a tabernacle.

2 Samuel 7:7

In all the places where I moved about among all the children of Israel, did I speak a word to any one of the tribes of Israel, whom I ordained to feed my people Israel, saying, Why have ye not built for me a house of cedar?

2 Samuel 7:8

Now therefore, thus shalt thou say unto my servant, to David, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, I took thee from the sheep-cote, from behind the flocks, to be a ruler over my people, over Israel;

2 Samuel 7:9

And I have been with thee whithersoever thou didst go, and I have cut off all thy enemies from thy presence, and I have made thee a great name, like the name of the great who are on the earth;

2 Samuel 7:10

And I have procured a place for my people, for Israel, and I have planted them, that they may dwell in a place of their own, and be no more troubled; and that the children of wickedness shall not afflict them any more as aforesaid,

2 Samuel 7:11

And [as it was] since the day that I ordained judges to be over my people Israel; and I have caused thee to rest from all thy enemies; and the Lord telleth thee that he, the Lord, will make thee a house.

2 Samuel 7:12

When thy days will be completed, and thou wilt sleep with thy fathers: then will I set up thy seed after thee, who shall proceed out of thy body, and I will establish his kingdom.

2 Samuel 7:13

He it is that shall build a house for my name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom for ever.

2 Samuel 7:14

I too will be to him as a father, and he shall indeed be to me as a son: so that when he committeth iniquity, I will chastise him with the rod of men, and with the plagues of the children of man;

2 Samuel 7:15

But my kindness shall not depart from him, as I caused it to depart from Saul, whom I removed from before thee.

2 Samuel 7:16

And thy house and thy kingdom shall be steadfast for ever before thee: thy throne shall be established for ever.

2 Samuel 7:17

In accordance with all these words, and in accordance with all this vision, so did Nathan speak unto David.

2 Samuel 7:18

Then went king David in, and sat down before the Lord, and he said, Who am I, O Lord Eternal? and what is my house, that thou hast brought me as far as hitherward?

2 Samuel 7:19

And this was yet too small a thing in thine eyes, O Lord Eternal; and thou hast spoken also of thy servant's house for a distant time. And is this the desert of man, O Lord Eternal?

2 Samuel 7:20

And what can David add yet more to speak unto thee? since thou, O Lord Eternal, knowest well thy servant?

2 Samuel 7:21

For the sake of thy word, and in accordance with thy own heart, hast thou done all this great thing, so as to let thy servant know it.

2 Samuel 7:22

Therefore art thou great, O Eternal God; for there is none like thee, and there is no God beside thee, in accordance with all that we have heard with our ears.

2 Samuel 7:23

And who is like thy people, like Israel, the only nation on the earth, which God went to redeem for himself as a people, and to acquire for himself a name, and to do for you this great deed, and fearful things for thy land [to drive out], from before thy people which thou hast redeemed for thyself from Egypt, nations and their gods.

2 Samuel 7:24

For thou hast established for thyself thy people Israel as a people unto thee for ever; and thou, O Lord, art indeed become their God.

2 Samuel 7:25

And now, O Eternal God, let the word that thou hast spoken concerning thy servant, and concerning his house, stand firm for ever, and do as thou hast spoken.

2 Samuel 7:26

And let thy name be magnified unto everlasting, that men may say, The Lord of hosts is the God over Israel: and may the house of thy servant David be established before thee.

2 Samuel 7:27

For thou, O Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, hast revealed to the ear of thy servant, saying, A house will be built up for thee; therefore hath thy servant found the heart to pray unto thee this prayer.

2 Samuel 7:28

And now, O Lord Eternal, thou art the [true] God, and thy words must become the truth, and thou hast spoken unto thy servant this goodness:

2 Samuel 7:29

And now let it please thee and bless the house of thy servant, that it may continue for ever before thee; for thou, O Lord Eternal, hast spoken it; and from thy blessing let the house of thy servant be blessed for ever.

Then called the king for Ziba, Saul's servant, and said unto him, all that hath pertained to Saul and to all his house have I given unto thy master's son.

2 Samuel 9:10

And thou shalt till for him the land, thou, and thy sons, and thy servants, and thou shalt bring in [the product], that thy master's son may have bread which he can eat; but Mephibosheth thy master's son shall eat continually bread at my table. Now Ziba had fifteen sons and twenty servants.

2 Samuel 9:11

And it came to pass after this, that the king of the children of 'Ammon died, and Chanun his son reigned in his stead.

Then said David, I will show kindness unto Chanun the son of Nachash, as his father showed me kindness. And David sent to comfort him by the hand of his servants for his father. And David's servants came unto the land of the children of 'Ammon.

2 Samuel 10:3

And the princes of the children of 'Ammon said unto Chanun their Lord, Doth David honor thy father in thy eyes, that he hath sent comforters unto thee! hath David not sent his servants unto thee, in order to search the city, and to spy it out, and to overthrow it?

2 Samuel 10:4

Chanun thereupon took David's servants, and shaved off the one-half of their beard, and cut off their garments in the middle, even to their buttocks, and sent them away.

2 Samuel 10:5

When they told it unto David, he sent [persons] to meet them, because the men were greatly ashamed; and the king said, Tarry at Jericho until your beard be grown, and then return.

2 Samuel 10:6

And when the children of 'Ammon saw that they were become in bad odor with David, the children of 'Ammon sent and hired the Syrians of Beth-rechob, and the Syrians of Zoba, twenty thousand men on foot, and the king of Ma'achah with a thousand men, and of the people of Tob twelve thousand men.

And when David heard of it, he sent Joab, and all the army, [and] the mighty men.

2 Samuel 10:8

And the children of 'Ammon came out, and put themselves in battle-array at the entrance of the gate: and the Syrians of Zoba, and of Rechob, and the people of Tob and Ma'achah, were by themselves in the field.

2 Samuel 10:9

When now Joab saw that the front of the battle was against him before and behind, he selected from all the chosen men of Israel, and arrayed himself against the Syrians:

2 Samuel 10:10

And the rest of the people he delivered into the hand of Abishai his brother, who arrayed himself against the children of 'Ammon.

2 Samuel 10:11

And he said, If the Syrians be too strong for me, then shalt thou bring me help; but if the children of 'Ammon be too strong for thee, then will I go to help thee.

2 Samuel 10:12

Be strong, and let us strengthen ourselves in behalf of our people, and in behalf of the cities of our God: and may the Lord do that which seemeth good in his eyes.

2 Samuel 10:13

And Joab drew nigh, and the people that were with him, unto the battle against the Syrians; and they fled from before him.

2 Samuel 10:14

And when the children of 'Ammon saw that the Syrians were fled, then did they also fly before Abishai, and entered into the city. Joab then returned from the children of 'Ammon, and came to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 10:15

And when the Syrians saw that they were smitten before Israel, they gathered themselves altogether.

2 Samuel 10:16

And Hadar'ezer sent, and brought out the Syrians that were beyond the river, and they came to Chelam; and Shobach the captain of the army of Hadar'ezer went before them.

2 Samuel 10:19

And when all the kings, the vassals to Hadar'ezer saw that they were smitten before Israel, they made peace with Israel, and served them: and the Syrians feared to help the children of 'Ammon any more.

2 Samuel 11:1

And it came to pass, at the return of the same season of the year, at the time when kings go forth, that David sent Joab, and his servants with him, and all Israel; and they destroyed the children of 'Ammon, and besieged Rabbah. But David remained behind at Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 11:2

And it happened at evening-tide, that David arose from off his couch, and walked upon the roof of the king's house: and he saw from the roof a woman bathing herself; and the woman was of a very beautiful appearance.

2 Samuel 11:3

And David sent and inquired after the woman; and some one said, Behold, this is Bethsheba', the daughter of Eli'am, the wife of Uriyah the Hittite.

2 Samuel 11:4

And David sent messengers, and took her; and she came in unto him, and he lay with her, and she had just purified herself from her uncleanness; and she returned unto her house.

2 Samuel 11:5

And the woman conceived; and she sent and told David, and said, I am with child.

2 Samuel 11:6

And David sent to Joab, Send unto me Uriyah the Hittite. And Joab sent Uriyah to David.

2 Samuel 11:7

And when Uriyah was come unto him, David asked after the well-being of Joab, and after the well-being of the people, and how the war prospered.

2 Samuel 11:8

And David said to Uriyah, Go down to thy house, and wash thy feet. And Uriyah went forth out of the king's house, and there followed him a mess of food from the king.

2 Samuel 11:9

But Uriyah laid himself down at the door of the king's house with all the servants of his lord, and went not down to his house.

2 Samuel 11:10

And they told David, saying, Uriyah is not gone down unto his house: and David said unto Uriyah, Art thou not come from a journey? why then art thou not gone down unto thy own house?

2 Samuel 11:11

Then said Uriyah unto David, The ark, and Israel, and Judah abide in booths; and my Lord Joab and the servants of my Lord are encamped in the open field: and should I alone go unto my house, to eat and to drink, and to lie with my wife? as thou livest, and as thy soul liveth, I will not do this thing.

2 Samuel 11:12

And David said unto Uriyah, Tarry here also this day, and tomorrow will I send thee off. So Uriyah remained in Jerusalem on that day and the following.

2 Samuel 11:13

And David invited him, and he ate and drank before him, and he made him drunken; and he went out in the evening to lie down on his resting-place with the servants of his lord; but to his house he did not go down.

2 Samuel 11:14

And it came to pass in the morning, that David wrote a letter to Joab, and sent it by the hand of Uriyah.

2 Samuel 11:15

And he wrote in the letter, saying, Set Uriyah in front, opposite to the hottest fight, and then withdraw from behind him, that he may be smitten and die.

2 Samuel 11:16

And it came to pass, when Joab was enclosing the city, that he placed Uriyah toward the spot of which he knew that valiant men were there.

2 Samuel 11:17

And the men of the city went out and fought with Joab; and there fell some of the people, of the servants of David, and there died also Uriyah the Hittite.

2 Samuel 11:18

Then did Joab send, and told unto David all the events of the war.

2 Samuel 11:19

And he charged the messenger, saying, When thou hast finished telling all the events of the war to the king,

2 Samuel 11:20

And it happen that the king's wrath arise, and he say unto thee, Wherefore did you approach unto the city to fight? knew ye not, that they would shoot down from off the wall?

2 Samuel 11:21

Who smote Abimelech the son of Yerubbesheth? did not a woman throw down upon him a piece of an upper mill-stone from off the wall so that he died at Thebez? why did ye approach unto the wall? then must thou say, Also thy servant Uriyah the Hittite is dead.

2 Samuel 11:22

And the messenger went, and came and told unto David all for which Joab had sent him.

2 Samuel 11:23

And the messenger said unto David, Because the men overpowered us and came out against us into the field; but we set upon them, as far as the entrance of the gate.

2 Samuel 11:24

And the archers then shot at thy servants from off the wall; and there died some of the servants of the king, and also thy servant Uriyah the Hittite is dead.

2 Samuel 11:25

Then said David to the messenger, Thus shalt thou say to Joab, Let this thing not be displeasing in thy eyes; for at times this, at other times the other will the sword devour; continue firmly in thy war against the city, and overthrow it: and thus do thou encourage him.

2 Samuel 11:26

And when the wife of Uriyah heard that Uriyah her husband had died, she mourned for her lord.

2 Samuel 11:27

And when the [time of] mourning was past, David sent and took her to his house, and she became his wife; and she bore him a son. But the thing which David had done was displeasing in the eyes of the Lord.

2 Samuel 12:1

And the Lord sent Nathan unto David, and he came unto him and said to him, Two men were once in one city, the one rich and the other poor.

2 Samuel 12:2

The rich man had flocks and herds, in great abundance.

2 Samuel 12:3

But the poor man had nothing, save one little ewe, which he had bought; and he nourished it, and it grew up with him and with his children together; of his bread it used to eat, and out of his cup it used to drink, and in his bosom it used to lie, and it was to him as a daughter.

2 Samuel 12:4

And there came a traveler unto the rich man; and he felt compunction to take from his own flocks and from his own herds to dress for the wayfarer that was come to him; but he took the ewe of the poor man, and dressed it for the man that was come to him.

2 Samuel 12:5

And the anger of David was greatly kindled against the man; and he said to Nathan, As the Lord liveth, surely the man that hath done this deserveth to die;

2 Samuel 12:6

And the ewe he shall pay fourfold, for punishment that he hath done this thing, and because he had no compassion.

2 Samuel 12:7

Then said Nathan to David, Thou art the man! Thus hath said the Lord, the God of Israel, It is I who anointed thee as king over Israel, and it is I who delivered thee out of the hand of Saul;

2 Samuel 12:8

And I gave unto thee the house of thy master, and [put] the wives of thy master into thy bosom, and gave unto thee the house of Israel and Judah: and if this be too little, I could bestow on thee yet many more like these things.

2 Samuel 12:9

Wherefore hast thou despised the word of the Lord to do what is evil in his eyes? Uriyah the Hittite hast thou smitten with the sword, and his wife hast thou taken unto thee for wife; but him hast thou slain with the sword of the children of 'Ammon.

2 Samuel 12:10

And now, the sword shall not depart from thy house for ever; for the reason that thou hast despised me, and hast taken the wife of Uriyah the Hittite to be thy wife.

2 Samuel 12:11

Thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will raise up against thee evil out of thy own house, and I will take away thy wives before thy eyes, and I will give them unto thy neighbor; and he shall lie with thy wives before the face of this sun.

2 Samuel 12:12

For thou hast done it in secret; but I will surely do this thing before all Israel, and before the sun.

2 Samuel 12:13

Then said David unto Nathan, I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said to David, Also the Lord hath caused thy sin to pass away: thou shalt not die.

2 Samuel 12:14

Nevertheless, because thou hast given great cause to the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme through this thing, the child also that hath been born unto thee shall surely die.

2 Samuel 12:15

And Nathan went to his house; and the Lord struck the child that Uriyah's wife had born unto David, that it became very sick.

2 Samuel 12:16

And David besought God in behalf of the lad; and David kept a fast, and came home, and lay over night upon the earth.

2 Samuel 12:17

And the elders of the house arose about him, to raise him up from the earth; but he would not, and he did not partake of any bread with them.

2 Samuel 12:18

And it came to pass on the seventh day that the child died; and the servants of David were afraid to tell him, that the child was dead; for they said, Behold, while the child was yet alive, we spoke to him, and he would not hearken to our voice: how then shall we say to him, The child is dead! he might do [himself] a hurt.

2 Samuel 12:19

But when David saw that his servants were whispering to each other, David understood that the child was dead; wherefore David said unto his servants, Is the child dead? and they said, he is dead.

2 Samuel 12:20

David then rose up from the earth, and washed and anointed himself, and changed his garments, and went into the house of the Lord and prostrated himself; and then he came to his own house, and asked that they should set food before him, and he ate.

2 Samuel 12:21

And his servants then said unto him, What is this thing which thou hast done? On account of the child when living thou didst fast and weep; but as soon as the child was dead thou didst arise and eat bread!

2 Samuel 12:22

And he said, While the child was yet alive, I fasted and wept; because I said, Who knoweth, but that the Lord will be gracious to me, that the child may live?

2 Samuel 12:23

But now he is dead, wherefore should I fast then? can I restore him again? I am going to him; but he will not return to me.

2 Samuel 12:24

And David comforted Bath-sheba' his wife, and he went in unto her, and lay with her; and she bore a son, and called his name Solomon; and the Lord loved him.

2 Samuel 12:25

And he sent by the hand of Nathan the prophet, and called his name, Yedideyah in behalf of the Lord.

2 Samuel 12:26

And Joab fought against Rabbah of the children of 'Ammon, and captured the royal city.

2 Samuel 12:27

And Joab sent messengers to David; and said, I have fought against Rabbah, and have also captured the water-town.

2 Samuel 12:28

And now gather the rest of the people together, and encamp against the city, and capture it: lest I capture the city myself, and it be called by my name.

2 Samuel 12:29

And David gathered all the people together and went to Rabbah, and fought against it, and captured it.

2 Samuel 12:30

And he took the crown of Malkam from off his head, and its weight was a talent of gold, and [on it was] a precious stone, and it was set on the head of David; and the booty of the city he brought out in great abundance.

2 Samuel 12:31

And the people that were therein he brought forward, and put them under saws, and under iron threshing-wagons, and under axes of iron, and made them pass through brick-kilns; and thus did he unto all the cities of the children of 'Ammon: and David returned with them with all the people unto Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 13:1

And it came to pass after this, that Abshalom the son of David had a handsome sister, whose name was Tamar; and Amnon the son of David loved her.

2 Samuel 13:2

And Amnon worried himself so that he fell sick on account of Tamar his sister; for she was a virgin; and it was impossible in the eyes of Amnon to do her the least [harm].

2 Samuel 13:3

But Amnon had a friend, whose name was Yonadab, the son of Shim'ah, David's brother; and Yonadab was a very sensible man.

2 Samuel 13:4

And he said to him, Why art thou so wasted, O prince, morning after morning? Wilt thou not tell me? Then said Amnon to him, Tamar the sister of Abshalom my brother do I love.

2 Samuel 13:5

And Yonadab said to him, Lie down on thy couch, and feign thyself sick; and when thy father cometh to see thee, thou must say unto him, Let, I pray thee, Thamar my sister come, and give me some food, and prepare the refreshment before my eyes, in order that I may see it, and eat it out of her hand.

2 Samuel 13:6

So Amnon lay down, and feigned himself sick; and when the king came to see him, Amnon said to the king, Let, I pray thee, Thamar my sister come, and mix up before my eyes a couple of cakes, that I may enjoy them out of her hand.

2 Samuel 13:7

Then did David send home to Thamar, saying, Do go now to thy brother Amnon's house, and prepare for him the refreshment.

2 Samuel 13:8

So Thamar went to the house of Amnon her brother, and he was lying down; and she took the dough and kneaded, and mixed it up before his eyes, and baked the cakes;

2 Samuel 13:9

And she took the pan, and poured them out before him; but he refused to eat; and Amnon said, Cause every man to go out from me; and they went out, every man, from him.

2 Samuel 13:10

And Amnon said to Thamar, Bring the refreshment into the chamber, that I may enjoy it out of thy hand. So Thamar took the cakes which she had made, and brought them unto Amnon her brother into the chamber.

2 Samuel 13:11

And when she had brought them near unto him to eat, he took hold of her, and said unto her, Come, lie with me, my sister.

2 Samuel 13:12

But she said to him, No, my brother, do not violate me; for such a deed ought not to be done in Israel; do not this scandalous act!

2 Samuel 13:13

And I, whither should I carry my shame? and as for thee, thou wouldst be like one of the worthless in Israel; but now, O speak, I pray thee, unto the king, for he will not withhold me from thee.

2 Samuel 13:14

Nevertheless, he would not hearken unto her voice; but he overpowered her, and violated her, and lay with her.

2 Samuel 13:15

Then did Amnon hate her with a very great hatred; so that the hatred with which he hated her was greater than the love with which he had loved her; and Amnon said unto her, Arise, be gone.

2 Samuel 13:16

And she said unto him, [Do] not add this yet greater wrong than the other which thou hast done with me, to send me [now] away! But he would not listen to her;

2 Samuel 13:17

And he called his young man, his servant, and said, Do send this woman away from me, into the street, and lock the door behind her.

2 Samuel 13:18

And she had on a garment of divers colors; for thus were usually appareled the king's daughters when virgins, in robes; and his servant brought her out into the street, and locked the door behind her.

2 Samuel 13:19

And Tamar put ashes on her head, and the garment of divers colors which was on her she rent: and she placed her hand on her head, and went away and cried as she went along.

2 Samuel 13:20

Then said to her Abshalom her brother, Hath Amnon thy brother been with thee? but now, my sister, keep silence, he is thy brother, take this thing not to thy heart. So Tamar remained, and was secluded in the house of Abshalom her brother.

2 Samuel 13:21

And when king David heard all these things, it displeased him greatly.

2 Samuel 13:22

And Abshalom spoke not with Amnon either bad or good; for Abshalom hated Amnon, because he had violated Tamar his sister.

2 Samuel 13:23

And it came to pass after two full years, that Abshalom had sheep-shearers at Ba'al-chazor, which is near Ephraim; and Abshalom invited all the king's sons.

2 Samuel 13:24

And Abshalom came to the king, and said, Behold, now, thy servant hath sheep-shearers; let the king, I pray thee, and his servants go with thy servant.

2 Samuel 13:25

And the king said to Abshalom, No, my son, do not let us all go now, that we may not be a burden upon thee. And he urged him much, but he would not go, and he blessed him.

2 Samuel 13:26

And Abshalom said, If not, let, I pray thee, Amnon my brother go with us. And the king said to him, Why should he go with thee?

2 Samuel 13:27

But Abshalom urged him greatly, and he sent with him Amnon and all the sons of the king.

2 Samuel 13:28

Now Abshalom commanded his servants, saying, Mark ye, I pray you, when Amnon's heart is merry with wine, and I say unto you, Smite Amnon: then kill him, fear not; behold, it is I who command it you; be firm and show yourselves men of valor.

2 Samuel 13:29

And the servants of Abshalom did unto Amnon as Abshalom had commanded. Then arose all the king's sons, and they rode off, every man on his mule, and fled.

2 Samuel 13:30

And it happened, while they were on the way, that the report came to David, saying, Abshalom hath smitten all the king's sons, and there is not one of them left.

2 Samuel 13:31

Then arose the king and rent his garments, and laid himself on the earth: and all his servants were standing by with their garments rent.

2 Samuel 13:32

But Yonadab the son of Shim'ah, David's brother, commenced and said, Let not my Lord suppose that they have slain all the young men, the king's sons; since Amnon alone is dead; for by the command of Abshalom was this ordained from the day that he violated Thamar his sister.

2 Samuel 13:33

And now let not my Lord the king take the thing to his heart, thinking, that all the king's sons are dead; for Amnon alone is dead.

2 Samuel 13:34

And Abshalom flew away. And the young man that was watching lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold, many people were coming by the way behind him, by the side of the mount.

2 Samuel 13:35

And Yonadab said to the king, The king's sons are come: according to the word of thy servant, so hath it come to pass.

2 Samuel 13:36

And it happened, as he had just finished speaking, that, behold, the king's sons came, and they lifted up their voice and wept; and also the king and all his servants wept very much.

2 Samuel 13:37

But Abshalom had fled; and he went to Talmai, the son of 'Ammihud, the king of Geshur: and [David] mourned for his son all the time.

2 Samuel 13:38

So did Abshalom fly, and go to Geshur, and he remained there three years.

2 Samuel 13:39

And [the soul of] king David longed to go forth unto Abshalom; for he was comforted concerning Amnon, that he was dead.

2 Samuel 14:1

And when now Joab the son of Zeruyah perceived that the heart of the king was [turned] toward Abshalom:

2 Samuel 14:2

Then sent Joab to Tekoa', and he fetched thence a wise woman, and said to her, Feign. I pray thee, as though thou mournest, and do put on mourning garments, and anoint thyself not with oil; but be as a woman that hath these many days been mourning for the dead.

2 Samuel 14:3

And thou must come to the king and speak with him after these words: and Joab put the words into her mouth.

2 Samuel 14:4

And the woman from Tekoa' spoke to the king, and fell on her face to the ground, and bowed herself, and said, Help, O king!

2 Samuel 14:5

And the king said unto her, What aileth thee? And she said, Truly, I am a widow-woman; since my husband is dead.

2 Samuel 14:6

And thy hand-maid had two sons, and they two quarreled together in the field, and there was no one between them to help [either]; so the one smote the other, and slew him.

2 Samuel 14:7

And, behold, the whole family is risen up against thy handmaid, and they said, Give up the slayer of his brother, that we may have him put to death, for the life of his brother whom he hath killed; and we will destroy also the heir: and thus they will quench my coal which is remaining, so as not to allow to my husband either name or remainder upon the face of the earth.

2 Samuel 14:8

And the king said unto the woman, Go to thy house, and I will issue [my] charge concerning thee.

2 Samuel 14:9

Then said the woman of Tekoa unto the king, On me, my Lord, O king, be the iniquity, and on my father's house: and may the king and his throne be guiltless.

2 Samuel 14:10

And the king said, Whosoever speaketh aught unto thee, bring him to me, and he shall not touch thee any more.

2 Samuel 14:11

Then said she, Let the king, I pray thee, remember the Lord thy God, so as not to suffer the avenger of the blood to cause yet more destruction, and that they may not destroy my son. And he said, As the Lord liveth, there shall not fall one hair of thy son to the earth.

2 Samuel 14:12

Then said the woman, Let thy hand-maid, I pray thee, speak unto my Lord the king one word. And he said, Speak on.

2 Samuel 14:13

And the woman said, Wherefore then hast thou thought such a thing against the people of God? and since the king doth speak this thing, he is as a guilty man, if the king do not permit his banished one to return home.

2 Samuel 14:14

For we must needs die, and are as water which is spilt on the ground, which cannot be gathered up again; and yet doth God not take away life; and he deviseth thoughts, so that the banished one may not remain banished from him.

2 Samuel 14:15

And now that I am come to speak unto my Lord the king of this thing, [happened] because the people made me afraid; and therefore thy hand-maid said, I will still speak unto the king; perhaps the king may act [in accordance with] the word of his hand-maid.

2 Samuel 14:16

For the king may hear [me], to deliver his hand–maid out of the hand of the man [that desireth] to exterminate me and my son together out of the inheritance of God.

2 Samuel 14:17

And thy hand–maid said, May the word of my Lord the king now become [the means of giving] repose; for as an angel of God, so is my Lord the king to comprehend the good and the bad: and may the Lord thy God be with thee.

2 Samuel 14:18

Then answered the king and said unto the woman, Conceal not, I pray thee, from me a word concerning what I am going to ask thee. And the woman said, Let my Lord the king but speak.

2 Samuel 14:19

And the king said, Is not the hand of Joab with thee in all this? And the woman answered and said, As thy soul liveth, my Lord, O king! none can turn to the right or to the left from all that my Lord the king hath spoken; for it was thy servant Joab who hath bidden me, and it was he that hath put in the mouth of thy hand–maid all these words.

2 Samuel 14:20

In order to change the appearance of the matter hath thy servant Joab done this thing: and my Lord is wise, according to the wisdom of an angel of God, to know all that is [done] on the earth.

2 Samuel 14:21

And the king said unto Joab, Behold, now, thou hast done this thing: go then, bring back the young man Abshalom.

2 Samuel 14:22

And Joab fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himself, and blessed the king: and Joab said, Today is thy servant convinced that I have found grace in thy eyes, my Lord, O king; since the king hath acted in accordance with the word of thy servant.

2 Samuel 14:23

And Joab arose and went to Geshur, and brought Abshalom to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 14:24

And the king said, Let him repair to his own house, but my face he shall not see. So Abshalom repaired to his own house, but the king's face he did not see.

2 Samuel 14:25

And like Abshalom there was no man as handsome in all Israel, so that he was greatly praised: from the sole of his foot up to the crown of his head there was no blemish on him.

2 Samuel 14:26

And when he shaved off [the hair of] his head [and it was at the end of every year that he shaved it off; because it was too heavy on him, so that he had to shave it off:] he weighed the hair of his head at two hundred shekels by the king's weight.

2 Samuel 14:27

And there was born unto Abshalom three sons and one daughter, whose name was Thamar: this one was a woman of handsome appearance.

2 Samuel 14:28

And Abshalom dwelt two full years in Jerusalem, and the king's face he did not see.

2 Samuel 14:29

Abshalom sent out therefore for Joab, to send him to the king; but he would not come to him: and he sent again the second time; but he would not come.

2 Samuel 14:30

He thereupon said unto his servants, See, Joab's field is alongside of mine, and he hath barley there: go and set it on fire. And Abshalom's servants set the field on fire.

2 Samuel 14:31

Then did Joab arise, and he went to Abshalom unto his house, and said unto him, Wherefore have thy servants set the field belonging to me on fire?

2 Samuel 14:32

And Abshalom said to Joab, Behold, I had sent unto thee, saying, Come hither, that I may send thee to the king, to say, Wherefore am I come from Geshur? it would be better for me were I yet there: and now let me see the king's face; and if there be any iniquity in me, let him put me to death.

2 Samuel 14:33

So Joab went to the king, and told it to him: and he called for Abshalom, who came to the king, and bowed himself on his face to the ground before the king; and the king kissed Abshalom.

2 Samuel 15:1

And it came to pass after this, that Abshalom provided for himself a chariot and horses, and fifty men who ran before him.

2 Samuel 15:2

And Abshalom rose up early, and stood on the side of the way to the gate: and it happened, that whenever a man who had a controversy came to the king for judgment, Abshalom called to him, and said, From what city art thou? And he said, Thy servant is from one of the tribes of Israel.

2 Samuel 15:3

And Abshalom said unto him, See, thy words are good and right; but no one listeneth to thee on the part of the king.

2 Samuel 15:4

And Abshalom said, Oh, if there were but one to appoint me judge in the land, so that every man who may have any controversy or cause might come unto me, and I would do him justice!

2 Samuel 15:5

And it happened, that when a man came nigh to bow down to him, he used to put forth his hand, and laid hold of him, and kissed him.

2 Samuel 15:6

And Abshalom did after this manner to all Israel that came to the king for judgment: and thus did Abshalom steal the heart of the men of Israel.

2 Samuel 15:7

And it came to pass at the end of forty years, that Abshalom said unto the king, Let me go, I pray thee, and fulfill my vow, which I have vowed unto the Lord, at Hebron.

2 Samuel 15:8

For thy servant vowed a vow while I abode at Geshur in Syria, saying, If the Lord will ever bring me back again to Jerusalem, then will I serve the Lord.

2 Samuel 15:9

And the king said unto him, Go in peace: and he arose, and went to Hebron.

2 Samuel 15:10

But Abshalom sent spies throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, When ye hear the sound of the cornet, then shall ye say, Abshalom is become king at Hebron.

2 Samuel 15:11

And with Abshalom went two hundred men out of Jerusalem, who were invited, and going in their simplicity; and they knew of nothing whatever.

2 Samuel 15:12

And Abshalom sent for Achithophel the Gilomite, David's counsellor, from his city, from Giloh, while he offered the sacrifices. And the conspiracy became strong; and the people increased continually with Abshalom.

2 Samuel 15:13

And there came a news-bearer to David, saying, the heart of the men of Israel is turned after Abshalom.

2 Samuel 15:14

And David said unto all his servants that were with him at Jerusalem, Arise, and let us flee; for there will not [else] be any escape for us from Abshalom: make haste, to depart, lest he make haste and overtake us suddenly and overwhelm us with evil, and smite the city with the edge of the sword.

2 Samuel 15:15

And the king's servants said unto the king, In accordance with all that my Lord the king may choose, are thy servants ready.

2 Samuel 15:16

And the king went forth, and all his household in his train. And the king left behind ten women, who were concubines, to guard the house.

2 Samuel 15:17

And the king went forth, and all the people in his train, and tarried in a place that was far off.

2 Samuel 15:18

And all his servants passed on alongside of him, and all the Kerethites, and all the Pelethites; and all the Gittites, six hundred men, who were come in his train from Gath, passed on before the king.

2 Samuel 15:19

Then said the king to Ittai the Gittite, Wherefore wilt thou also go with us? turn back and abide with the king; for thou art a stranger, and also an exile from thy place.

2 Samuel 15:20

Yesterday thou camest; and today should I move thee about with us to wander? seeing that I go whither I may: return thou, and take back thy brethren with thee, in kindness and truth.

2 Samuel 15:21

And Ittai answered the king, and said, As the Lord liveth, and as my Lord the king liveth, surely in whatever place my Lord the king may be, whether for death or for life, even there will thy servant be.

2 Samuel 15:22

And David said then to Ittai, Go and pass on. And Ittai the Gittite passed on, and all his men, and all the little ones that were with him.

2 Samuel 15:23

And all the [people of the] country wept with a loud voice, as all the people passed on: and the king passed over the brook Kidron, and all the people passed over, along the way to the wilderness.

2 Samuel 15:24

And lo, Zadok also, and all the Levites with him, were bearing the ark of the covenant of God; and they set down the ark of God; and Ebyathar went up, until all the people had finished passing out of the city.

2 Samuel 15:25

And the king said unto Zadok, Carry back the ark of God into the city; if I shall find favor in the eyes of the Lord, he will bring me back again, and show me both it, and his dwelling;

2 Samuel 15:26

But if he should thus say, I have no delight in thee: here am I, let him do to me as seemeth good in his eyes.

2 Samuel 15:27

The king said also unto Zadok the priest, If thou see the justice of this, return to the city in peace: and your two sons, Achima'az thy son, and Jonathan the son of Ebyathar, are with you.

2 Samuel 15:28

See, I will tarry in the plain of the wilderness, until there come word from you to bring me news.

2 Samuel 15:29

Zadok therefore and Ebyathar carried the ark of God again to Jerusalem: and they remained there.

2 Samuel 15:30

And David went up by the ascent of the mount of Olives, weeping as he went up, and had his head covered, and he was walking barefoot: and all the people that were with him covered every man his head, and they went up, weeping as they went up.

2 Samuel 15:31

And some one told David, saying, Achithophel is among the conspirators with Abshalom. And David said, I pray thee, turn into foolishness the counsel of Achithophel, O Lord!

2 Samuel 15:32

And it came to pass, that, when David was come to the top, where he used to bow himself down to God, behold, Chushai the Arkite came to meet him with his coat rent, and earth upon his head.

2 Samuel 15:33

And David said unto him, If thou passest on with me, thou wouldst be a burden unto me;

2 Samuel 15:34

But if thou shouldst return to the city, and say unto Abshalom, Thy servant will I be, O king; thy father's servant have I been this long time past, and now will I also be thy servant: then mightest thou defeat for me the counsel of Achithophel.

2 Samuel 15:35

And, behold, thou hast with thee there Zadok and Ebyathar the priests; therefore shall it be, that what thing soever thou mayest hear out of the king's house, shalt thou tell to Zadok and Ebyathar the priests.

2 Samuel 15:36

Behold, they have there with them their two sons. Achima'az for Zadok, and Jonathan for Ebyathar: and ye shall send by means of them unto me whatever thing ye can hear.

2 Samuel 15:37

So Chushai, David's friend, came into the city, as Abshalom had just resolved to enter into Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 16:1

And when David was passed a little beyond the top [of the mount], behold, Ziba the servant of Mephibosheth came toward him, with a couple of asses saddled, and upon them two hundred loaves of bread, and a hundred bunches of raisins, and a hundred [cakes] of dried figs, and a bottle of wine.

2 Samuel 16:2

And the king said unto Ziba, What meanest thou with these? And Ziba said, The asses are for the king's household to ride on; and the bread and the dried figs for the young men to eat; and the wine to drink for such as may be faint in the wilderness.

2 Samuel 16:3

And the king said, And where is thy master's son? And Ziba said unto the king, Behold, he remaineth at Jerusalem; for he said, Today will the house of Israel restore unto me the kingdom of my father.

2 Samuel 16:4

Then said the king to Ziba, Behold, thine shall be all that pertaineth unto Mephibosheth. And Ziba said, I prostrate myself; let me but find grace in thy eyes, my Lord, O king.

2 Samuel 16:5

And when King David came as far as Bachurim, behold, there came out thence a man of the family of the house of Saul, whose name was Shim'i, the son of Gera, coming forth, and cursing.

2 Samuel 16:6

And he cast stones at David, and at all the servants of king David: and all the people and all the mighty men were on his right and on his left.

2 Samuel 16:7

And thus said Shim'i as he cursed, Away, away, thou man of blood, and thou worthless man!

2 Samuel 16:8

The Lord hath brought back upon thee all the blood of the house of Saul, in whose stead thou didst reign; and the Lord hath placed the kingdom into the hand of Abshalom thy son; and, behold, thou art now in thy misfortune, because a man of blood art thou.

2 Samuel 16:9

Then said Abishai the son of Zeruyah unto the king, Why should this dead dog curse my Lord the king? let me go over, I pray thee, and remove his head.

2 Samuel 16:10

And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zeruyah? so let him curse; because the Lord hath said unto him, Curse David. Who shall then say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

2 Samuel 16:11

And David said to Abishai, and to all his servants, Behold, my son, who hath come forth out of my own body, seeketh my life: how much more now this Benjamite? let him alone, and let him curse; for the Lord hath said it to him.

2 Samuel 16:12

Perhaps the Lord will look on my affliction, and the Lord will requite me good instead of his cursing this day.

2 Samuel 16:13

And David and his men went [thus] on the way. And Shim'i went on the side of the mount opposite to him, and cursed as he went, and threw stones toward him, and cast dust.

2 Samuel 16:14

And the king, and all the people that were with him, arrived weary, and refreshed themselves there.

2 Samuel 16:15

And Abshalom, and all the people the men of Israel, came to Jerusalem, and Achithophel [also] with him.

2 Samuel 16:16

And it came to pass, when Chushai the Arkite, David's friend, was come unto Abshalom, that Chushai said unto Abshalom, Long live the king! Long live the king!

2 Samuel 16:17

And Abshalom said to Chushai, Is this thy kindness for thy friend? why art thou not gone with thy friend?

2 Samuel 16:18

And Chushai said unto Abshalom, No; but whom the Lord, and this people, and all the men of Israel have chosen, his will I be, and with him will I remain.

2 Samuel 16:19

And secondly, who is it whom I shall serve? is it not in the presence of his son? as I have served in thy father's presence, so will I be in thy presence.

2 Samuel 16:20

Then said Abshalom to Achithophel, Hold counsel among yourselves as to what we shall do.

2 Samuel 16:21

And Achithophel said unto Abshalom, Go in unto thy father's concubines, whom he hath left to guard the house; and all Israel will hear that thou art in bad odor with thy father: and then will the hands of all that are with thee become strong.

2 Samuel 16:22

So they spread for Abshalom a tent upon the roof; and Abshalom went in unto his father's concubines before the eyes of all Israel.

2 Samuel 16:23

And the counsel of Achithophel, which he counseled in those days, was as if a man had asked advice of the word of God: so was all the counsel of Achithophel both with David and with Abshalom.

2 Samuel 17:1

Moreover Achithophel said unto Abshalom, Do let me now select twelve thousand men, and I will arise and pursue after David this night;

2 Samuel 17:2

And I will come upon him while he is weary and weak-handed, and will terrify him; so that all the people that are with him will flee; and I will smite the king alone;

2 Samuel 17:3

And I will bring back all the people unto thee: when all return [except] the man whom thou seekest, all the people will be in peace.

2 Samuel 17:4

And the thing was pleasing in the eyes of Abshalom, and in the eyes of all the elders of Israel.

2 Samuel 17:5

Then said Abshalom, Do call now also Chushai the Arkite, and let us hear what he likewise beareth in his mouth.

2 Samuel 17:6

And when Chushai was come to Abshalom, Abshalom said unto him, as followeth, Such words as these hath Achithophel spoken: shall we do after his words? if not, do thou speak.

2 Samuel 17:7

And Chushai said unto Abshalom, The counsel that Achithophel hath given at this time is not good.

2 Samuel 17:8

And Chushai said, Thou well knowest thy father and his men, that they are mighty men, and are of an embittered spirit, as a bear robbed of her whelps in the field: and thy father is also a man of war, and will not lodge with the people.

2 Samuel 17:9

Behold, he is now hidden in some one of the pits, or in some one of the [other] places: and it will come to pass, when some of them should fall at the first onset, that whosoever heareth it would say, There hath been slaughter among the people that follow Abshalom.

2 Samuel 17:10

And he also that is most valiant, whose heart is as the heart of the lion, would become quite discouraged; for all Israel knoweth that thy father is a mighty man, and they who are with him are valiant persons.

2 Samuel 17:11

But I counsel that all Israel be gathered together unto thee, from Dan even to Beer-sheba', like the sand that is by the sea in multitude: while thou in thy own person goest into the fight.

2 Samuel 17:12

And when we come upon him in some one of the places where he may be found, we will encamp around him as the dew falleth on the earth: and there shall not be left of him and of all the men that are with him so much as one.

2 Samuel 17:13

And if he should withdraw into a city, then shall all Israel bring ropes to that city, and we will drag it into the stream, until there be not found there even one small stone.

2 Samuel 17:14

And Abshalom and all the men of Israel said, The counsel of Chushai the Arkite is better than the counsel of Achithophel. But the Lord had ordained to frustrate the good counsel of Achithophel, to the intent that the Lord might bring the evil upon Abshalom.

2 Samuel 17:15

Then said Chushai unto Zadok and to Ebyathar the priests, Thus and thus did Achithophel counsel Abshalom and the elders of Israel; and thus and thus have I counseled.

2 Samuel 17:16

Now therefore send quickly, and tell David, saying, Lodge not this night in the plains of the wilderness, but rather pass over at once; lest the king be entirely ruined, and all the people that are with him.

2 Samuel 17:17

Now Jonathan and Achima'az were staying by 'En-rogel; and a maid-servant had to go and tell them, that they should go and tell king David; for they dared not be seen to come into the city.

2 Samuel 17:18

Nevertheless a lad saw them, and told it to Abshalom; but they went, both of them, quickly away, and came to the house of a man in Bachurim, who had a well in his court; and they went down thither.

2 Samuel 17:19

And the wife took and spread a covering over the well's mouth, and scattered ground corn thereupon; so that nothing was perceived.

2 Samuel 17:20

And Abshalom's servants came to the woman into the house, and they said, Where are Achima'az and Jonathan? And the woman said unto them, They are passed over the brook of water. And they sought, but could not find them; and they returned to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 17:21

And it came to pass, after they were gone, that they came up out of the well, and went and told it to king David, and they said unto David, Arise, and pass quickly over the water; for thus hath Achithophel counseled against you.

2 Samuel 17:22

Then did David arise, and all the people that were with him, and they passed over the Jordan: by the time the morning was light, not even one was lacking who had not passed over the Jordan.

2 Samuel 17:23

And when Achithophel saw that his counsel was not followed, he saddled the ass, and arose, and went home to his house, to his city, and gave his charge to his household, and hanged himself; and he died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father.

2 Samuel 17:24

Then came David to Machanayim: and Abshalom passed over the Jordan, he and all the men of Israel with him.

2 Samuel 17:25

And Abshalom placed 'Amassa instead of Joab as captain over the army: and 'Amassa was the son of a man, whose name was Yithra the Israelite, who had gone in to Abigail the daughter of Nachash, the sister of Zeruyah Joab's mother.

2 Samuel 17:26

And Israel and Abshalom encamped in the land of Gil'ad.

2 Samuel 17:27

And it came to pass, when David was come to Machanayim, that Shobi the son of Nachash of Rabbah of the children of 'Ammon, and Machir the son of 'Ammiel of Lo-debar, and Barzillai the Gil'adite of Rogelim,

2 Samuel 17:28

Brought beds, and bowls, and earthen vessels, and wheat, and barley, and flour, and parched corn, and beans, and lentils, and parched pulse,

2 Samuel 17:29

And honey, and cream, and sheep, and cow's cheese, for David, and for the people that were with him, to eat; for they said, The people are hungry, and weary, and thirsty, in the wilderness.

2 Samuel 18:1

And David numbered the people that were with him, and he set over them captains of thousands and captains of hundreds.

2 Samuel 18:2

And David sent forth the people a third part under the command of Joab, and a third part under the command of Abishai the son of Zeruyah, Joab's brother, and a third part under the command of Ittai the Gittite. And the king said unto the people, I myself also will without fail go forth with you.

2 Samuel 18:3

But the people said, Thou shalt not go forth; for if we should have to flee away, they will not care for us; and if half of us die, they will not care for us; for now thou art worth ten thousand of us: therefore now it is better that thou shouldst be a succor to us out of the city.

2 Samuel 18:4

And the king said unto them, What seemeth good in your eyes will I do. And the king placed himself by the side of the gate, and all the people went out by hundreds and by thousands.

2 Samuel 18:5

And the king commanded Joab and Abishai and Ittai, saying, Deal gently for my sake with the young man, with Abshalom. And all the people heard when the king charged all the captains with respect to Abshalom.

2 Samuel 18:6

So the people went out into the field against Israel: and the battle took place in the forest of Ephraim.

2 Samuel 18:7

And the people of Israel were smitten there before David's servants, and the slaughter was great there on that day—twenty thousand men.

2 Samuel 18:8

And the battle became extended there over the face of all the country: and the forest devoured yet more of the people than the sword had devoured on that day.

2 Samuel 18:9

And Abshalom happened to come before the servants of David. And Abshalom was riding upon a mule, and the mule came under the thick boughs of a great oak, and his head caught hold of the oak, and he was left hanging between the heaven and the earth: and the mule that was under him passed on.

2 Samuel 18:10

And a certain man saw, and told it to Joab, and said, Behold, I have seen Abshalom hanging on an oak.

2 Samuel 18:11

And Joab said unto the man that told him, And, behold, thou sawest him: why then didst thou not smite him there to the ground? and it would have been obligatory on me to give thee ten shekels of silver and a girdle.

2 Samuel 18:12

And the man said unto Joab, And though I should weigh on my hands a thousand shekels of silver, I would not stretch forth my hand against the king's son; for before our ears did the king charge thee and Abishai and Ittai, saying, Take heed, whoever it be, of the young man, of Abshalom.

2 Samuel 18:13

Or should I even have acted with falsehood against my own life, since there is no matter which can be hidden from the king; thou wouldst surely have placed thyself aloof.

2 Samuel 18:14

Then said Joab, I will not wait thus before thee. And he took three darts in his hand, and thrust them into the heart of Abshalom, who was yet alive in the midst of the oak.

2 Samuel 18:15

And ten young men, Joab's armor-bearers, encompassed and smote Abshalom, and slew him.

2 Samuel 18:16

And Joab blew the cornet, and the people returned from pursuing after Israel; for Joab restrained the people.

2 Samuel 18:17

And they took Abshalom, and cast him down in the forest, into the large pit, and erected upon him a very great heap of stones: and all Israel fled, every one, to his tents.

2 Samuel 18:18

Now Abshalom had taken and reared up for himself in his lifetime, the pillar, which is in the king's dale; for he said, I have no son, so as to keep my name in remembrance; and he called the pillar after his own name: and it was called Abshalom's monument, even until this day.

2 Samuel 18:19

And Achima'az the son of Zadok said, Do let me run, I pray thee, and bear the king tidings, that the Lord hath done him justice from the power of his enemies.

2 Samuel 18:20

And Joab said unto him, Thou art not the man to bear [good] tidings this day, and thou shalt bear tidings another day; but this day thou shalt bear no tidings, because the king's son is dead.

2 Samuel 18:21

Then said Joab to the Cushite, Go tell the king what thou hast seen, And the Cushite bowed himself unto Joab, and ran.

2 Samuel 18:22

Then said Achima'az the son of Zadok yet again to Joab, Be it as it may, let me, I pray thee, run also after the Cushite. And Joab said, Wherefore is it that thou wilt run, my son, seeing that thou hast no profitable tidings?

2 Samuel 18:23

But be it as it may, let me run. And he said unto him, Run. And Achima'az ran by the way of the plain, and passed the Cushite.

2 Samuel 18:24

And David was sitting between the two gates: and the watchman went up to the roof of the gate, upon the wall, and as he lifted up his eyes, he saw, and behold, a man was running alone.

2 Samuel 18:25

And the watchman cried, and told it to the king. And the king said, If he be alone, there are tidings in his mouth. And he came nearer and nearer continually.

2 Samuel 18:26

And the watchman saw another man running: and the watchman called unto the gate-keeper, and said, Behold, here is a man running alone. And the king said, Also this one bringeth tidings.

2 Samuel 18:27

And the watchman said, I regard the running of the foremost as the running of Achima'az the son of Zadok. And the king said, That is a good man, and with good tidings must he come.

2 Samuel 18:28

And Achima'az called, and said unto the king, Peace. And he prostrated himself to the king with his face to the earth, and said, Blessed be the Lord thy God, who hath surrendered the men that had lifted up their hand against my Lord the king.

2 Samuel 18:29

And the king said, Is the young man Abshalom safe? And Achima'az answered, I saw the greatest crowd when Joab sent off the king's servant, and thy servant; but I know not what hath happened.

2 Samuel 18:30

And the king said, Turn aside, place thyself here. And he turned aside, and remained standing.

2 Samuel 18:31

And, behold, the Cushite came [next]; and the Cushite said, Let my lord the king receive the tidings, that the Lord hath done thee justice this day from the power of all those that had risen up against thee.

2 Samuel 18:32

And the king said unto the Cushite, Is the young man Abshalom safe? And the Cushite answered, May like the young man be the enemies of my Lord the king, and all that have risen up against thee for evil.

2 Samuel 18:33 (19:1)

And the king was much moved, and he went up to the upper chamber of the gate, and wept: and thus he said as he went, O my son Abshalom, my son, my son Abshalom! who would grant that I had died in thy stead, O Abshalom, my son, my son!

2 Samuel 19:1 (19:2)

And it was told unto Joab, Behold, the king is weeping and he mourneth for Abshalom.

2 Samuel 19:2 (19:3)

And the victory on that day was turned into mourning unto all the people; for the people heard it said on that day, that the king was grieved for his son.

2 Samuel 19:3 (19:4)

And the people repared by stealth on that day when coming into the city, as usually steal away the people who are ashamed when they flee in battle.

2 Samuel 19:4 (19:5)

But the king covered his face, and the king cried with a loud voice, O my son Abshalom, O Abshalom, my son, my son!

2 Samuel 19:5 (19:6)

And Joab came to the king, into the house, and said, Thou hast covered with shame this day the faces of all thy servants, who have saved thy life this day, and the life of thy sons and of thy daughters, and the life of thy wives, and the life of thy concubines;

2 Samuel 19:6 (19:7)

Since thou lovest thy enemies, and hatest thy friends: for thou hast declared this day, that thou hast neither princes nor servants; for I perceive this day, that if Abshalom were but alive, and we all were dead this day, that then it would have been just right in thy eyes.

2 Samuel 19:7 (19:8)

And now arise, go forth, and speak to the heart of thy servants; for by the Lord have I sworn, that if thou go not forth, there shall not remain one man with thee this night: and this would be worse unto thee than all the evil that hath befallen thee from thy youth until now.

2 Samuel 19:8 (19:9)

Then the king arose, and sat in the gate. And they told it unto all the people, saying, Behold, the king is sitting in the gate. And all the people came before the king; but Israel fled, every man to his tents.

2 Samuel 19:9 (19:10)

And all the people were contending throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, The king hath saved us out of the hand of our enemies, and he it was that hath delivered us out of the hand of the Philistines; and now he is fled out of the land from before Abshalom.

2 Samuel 19:10 (19:11)

And Abshalom, whom we had anointed over us, died in battle: and now why are ye silent about bringing the king back?

2 Samuel 19:11 (19:12)

And king David sent to Zadok and to Ebyathar the priests, saying, Speak ye unto the elders of Judah, saying, Why will you be the last to bring the king back to his house? seeing the speech of all Israel is already come to the king, to his house.

2 Samuel 19:12 (19:13)

My brothers are ye, my bone and my flesh are ye: wherefore then will you be the last to bring back the king?

2 Samuel 19:13 (19:14)

And to 'Amassa shall ye say, Art thou not my bone and my flesh? May God do so to me, and may he thus continue to do, if thou shalt not be captain of the army before me continually in the room of Joab.

2 Samuel 19:14 (19:15)

And he turned the heart of all the men of Judah, as of one man: and these sent unto the king, Return thou, with all thy servants.

2 Samuel 19:15 (19:16)

So the king returned, and came as far as the Jordan; and Judah came to Gilgal, to go forth to meet the king, to conduct the king over the Jordan.

2 Samuel 19:16 (19:17)

Then hastened Shim'i the son of Gera, the Benjamite, who was of Bachurim, and went down with the men of Judah to meet king David.

2 Samuel 19:17 (19:18)

And there were with him a thousand men of Benjamin, and Ziba the servant of the house of Saul, and his fifteen sons and his twenty servants with him; and they set hastily over the Jordan before the king.

2 Samuel 19:18 (19:19)

And there went over the ferry-boat to carry over the king's household, and to do what was good in his eyes. And Shim'i the son of Gera fell down before the king, as he was passing over the Jordan;

2 Samuel 19:19 (19:20)

And he said unto the king, Let not my Lord impute it unto me as iniquity, neither do thou remember that in which thy servant acted perversely on the day that my Lord the king went forth out of Jerusalem, so that the king should lay it to his heart.

2 Samuel 19:20 (19:21)

For thy servant doth know that I have indeed sinned; and, behold, I am come this day the first of all the house of Joseph to go down to meet my Lord the king.

2 Samuel 19:21 (19:22)

But Abishai the son of Zeruyah spoke out and said, Shall Shim'i for this not be put to death, because he cursed the Lord's anointed?

2 Samuel 19:22 (19:23)

And David said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zeruyah, that ye should become a hindrance this day unto me? shall this day any man be put to death in Israel? for do I not know that this day I am king over Israel?

2 Samuel 19:23 (19:24)

And the king said unto Shim'i, Thou shalt not die. And the king swore unto him.

2 Samuel 19:24 (19:25)

And Mephibosheth the [grand] son of Saul came down to meet the king, and he had not dressed his feet, nor trimmed his beard, nor washed his clothes, from the day that the king departed until the day that he came home in peace.

2 Samuel 19:25 (19:26)

And it came to pass, when he was come to Jerusalem to meet the king, that the king said unto him, Wherefore didst thou not go with me, Mephibosheth?

2 Samuel 19:26 (19:27)

And he answered, My Lord, O king, my servant deceived me; for thy servant said, I will saddle for me the ass, that I may ride thereon, and go with the king; because thy servant is lame.

2 Samuel 19:27 (19:28)

And he slandered thy servant unto my Lord the king; but my Lord the king is like an angel of God: do then what is good in thy eyes.

2 Samuel 19:28 (19:29)

For all of my father's house were nothing but men deserving death with my Lord the king: and yet didst thou set thy servant among those that eat at thy own table. What other merit therefore have I, and what to complain of yet farther unto the king?

2 Samuel 19:29 (19:30)

And the king said unto him, For what purpose speakest thou yet thy words? I have said, Thou and Ziba shall divide the field.

2 Samuel 19:30 (19:31)

And Mephibosheth said unto the king, Yea, let him take the whole, since that my Lord the king is come [back] in peace unto his own house.

2 Samuel 19:31 (19:32)

And Barzillai the Gil'adite came down from Rogelim; and he passed over the Jordan with the king, to accompany him over the Jordan.

2 Samuel 19:32 (19:33)

Now Barzillai was very aged, eighty years old: and he had sustained the king while he lay at Machanayim; for he was a very great man.

2 Samuel 19:33 (19:34)

And the king said unto Barzillai, Come thou over with me, and I will sustain thee near me in Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 19:34 (19:35)

But Barzillai said unto the king, How many yet are the days of the years of my life, that I should go up with the king to Jerusalem?

2 Samuel 19:35 (19:36)

I am eighty years old this day: can I discern between good and evil? or can thy servant taste what I eat or what I drink? or can I listen yet to the voice of singing men and singing women? wherefore then should thy servant become yet a burden unto my Lord the king?

2 Samuel 19:36 (19:37)

Thy servant will pass a little way over the Jordan with the king: and why should the king recompense me with this reward?

2 Samuel 19:37 (19:38)

Let thy servant, I pray thee, turn back again, that I may die in my own city, by the sepulchre of my father and of my mother. But, behold, thy servant Kimham will pass over with my Lord the king; and do to him what is good in thy eyes.

2 Samuel 19:38 (19:39)

And the king said, Kimham shall pass over with me, and I will do to him that which shall seem good in thy eyes: and whatsoever thou wilt desire of me, will I do for thee.

2 Samuel 19:39 (19:40)

And all the people passed over the Jordan, after the king had passed over; and the king kissed Barzillai, and blessed him; and he returned unto his own place.

2 Samuel 19:40 (19:41)

Then did the king pass on to Gilgal, and Kimham passed on with him: and all the people of Judah conducted the king, and also half the people of Israel.

2 Samuel 19:41 (19:42)

And, behold, all the men of Israel came to the king, and said unto the king, Why have our brethren the men of Judah stolen thee away, and have conducted the king and his household over the Jordan, and all David's men with him?

2 Samuel 19:42 (19:43)

And all the men of Judah replied to the men of Israel, Because the king is near of kin to us: wherefore then are ye so angry for this matter? have we eaten the least from the king? or hath he given us any gift?

2 Samuel 19:43 (19:44)

And the men of Israel answered the men of Judah, and said, Ten parts have we in the king, and also in David have we more right than ye: why then did ye esteem us lightly? and was not our word the very first to bring back our king? And the words of the men of Judah were fiercer than the words of the men of Israel.

2 Samuel 20:1

And there happened to be a worthless man, whose name was Sheba', the son of Bichri, a Benjamite; and he blew the cornet, and said, We have no part in David, nor have we any inheritance in the son of Jesse: every man to his tents, O Israel!

2 Samuel 20:2

So every man of Israel went off from David, following Sheba' the son of Bichri; but the men of Judah adhered unto their king, from the Jordan even to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 20:3

And David came to his house at Jerusalem; and the king took the ten women, the concubines, whom he had left to guard the house, and put them in a guard-house, and provided for them, but went not in unto them. So they were confined until the day of their death, living in widowhood.

2 Samuel 20:4

Then said the king to 'Amassa, Call together for me the men of Judah within three days, and thou present thyself here [then].

2 Samuel 20:5

So 'Amassa went to call Judah together; but he remained out longer than the set time which he had appointed him.

2 Samuel 20:6

And David said to Abishai, Now will Sheba' the son of Bichri do us more harm than [did] Abshalom: take thou the servants of thy Lord, and pursue after him, lest he succeed in reaching fortified cities, and withdraw himself from our eyes.

2 Samuel 20:7

And there went out after him Joab's men, and the Kerethites, and the Pelethites, and all the mighty men: and they went forth out of Jerusalem, to pursue after Sheba' the son of Bichri.

2 Samuel 20:8

They were close by the great stone which is at Gib'on, as 'Amassa came before them. And Joab was girded with his coat, his [usual] garment, and upon it the girdle of the sword which was fastened upon his loins in its sheath; and as he went forth it fell out.

2 Samuel 20:9

And Joab said to 'Amassa, Art thou in health, my brother? And Joab's right hand took hold of 'Amassa's beard to kiss him.

2 Samuel 20:10

And 'Amassa did not guard himself against the sword that was in Joab's hand: so he smote him therewith in the fifth rib and shed out his bowels to the ground, and struck him not again; and he died. But Joab and Abishai his brother pursued after Sheba' the son of Bichri.

2 Samuel 20:11

And one man of Joab's people remained standing by him, and said, He that favoreth Joab, and he that is for David, follow Joab.

2 Samuel 20:12

And 'Amassa was wallowing in his blood in the midst of the highway. And when the man saw that all the people stood still, he put 'Amassa aside out of the highway into the field, and threw a garment over him, when he saw that every one that came by him stood still.

2 Samuel 20:13

When he was removed out of the highway, every man passed on after Joab, to pursue after Sheba' the son of Bichri.

2 Samuel 20:14

And this one passed through all the tribes of Israel unto Abel, which is of Beth-ma'achah, and all the Berim: and they assembled themselves together, and went also after him.

2 Samuel 20:15

And they came and besieged him in Abel of Beth-ma'achah, and they cast up a trench against the city, and it stood enclosed by the troops: and all the people that were with Joab were battering to throw down the wall.

2 Samuel 20:16

Then called a wise woman out of the city, Hear, hear: say, I pray you, unto Joab, Come near as far as hither, that I may speak with thee.

2 Samuel 20:17

And when he was come near unto her, the woman said, Art thou Joab? And he said, I am. Then said she unto him, Hear the words of thy hand-maid. And he said, I do hear.

2 Samuel 20:18

Then said she, thus, They ought surely first to have spoken, saying, "Let them ask at least in Abel:" and so would they have come to an end.

2 Samuel 20:19

I am one of the peaceful and faithful [cities] in Israel; thou seekest to overthrow a city and a metropolis in Israel: why wilt thou destroy the inheritance of the Lord?

2 Samuel 20:20

And Joab answered and said, Far be it, far be it from me, that I should destroy or ruin.

2 Samuel 20:21

The matter is not so; but a man from the mountains of Ephraim, Sheba' the son of Bichri is his name, hath lifted up his hand against the king, against David: give him up alone, and I will withdraw from the city. And the woman said unto Joab, Behold, his head shall be cast down to thee over the wall.

2 Samuel 20:22

And the woman came unto all the people with her wisdom; and they cut off the head of Sheba' the son of Bichri, and cast it down to Joab: and he blew the cornet, and they scattered themselves from the city, every man to his tents. And Joab returned to Jerusalem unto the king.

2 Samuel 20:23

Now Joab was over all the army of Israel; and Benayah the son of Yehoyada' was over the Kerethites and over the Pelethites;

2 Samuel 20:24

And Adoram was over the tribute; and Jehoshaphat the son of Achilud was recorder;

2 Samuel 20:25

And Sheva was scribe; and Zadok and Ebyathar were priests;

2 Samuel 20:26

And 'Ira also the Yairite was an officer of state unto David.

2 Samuel 21:1

And there was a famine in the days of David three years, year after year; and David besought the presence of the Lord. And the Lord said, On account of Saul, and on account of the house of blood, is this; because he hath slain the Gib'onites.

2 Samuel 21:2

And the king called for the Gib'onites, and said unto them: [now the Gib'onites are not of the children of Israel, but of the remnant of the Emorites; and the children of Israel had sworn unto them; but Saul had sought to slay them in his zeal for the children of Israel in Judah:]

2 Samuel 21:3

Wherefore David said unto the Gib'onites, What shall I do for you? and wherewith shall I make the atonement, that ye may bless the inheritance of the Lord?

2 Samuel 21:4

And the Gib'onites said unto him, We have no concern of silver or gold with Saul and with his house: nor do we wish to kill any man in Israel. And he said, What ye say, will I do for you.

2 Samuel 21:5

And they said to the king, The man that consumed us, and that devised against us that we should be destroyed, so that we should have no footing in all the boundaries of Israel.

2 Samuel 21:6

Let there be delivered unto us seven men of his sons, and we will hang them up unto the Lord in Gib'ah of Saul, the chosen of the Lord. And the king said, I will give them.

2 Samuel 21:7

But the king had pity on Mephibosheth, the son of Jonathan the son of Saul, because of the Lord's oath that was between them, between David and Jonathan the son of Saul.

2 Samuel 21:8

And the king took the two sons of Rizpah the daughter of Ayah, whom she had born unto Saul, Armoni and Mephibosheth; and the five sons of Michal the daughter of Saul, whom she had brought up for 'Adriel the son of Barzillai the Mecholathite:

2 Samuel 21:9

And he delivered them into the hand of the Gib'onites, and they hanged them on the mount before the Lord; and they fell, these seven, together; and they were put to death in the first days of harvest, in the beginning of the barley-harvest.

2 Samuel 21:10

And Rizpah the daughter of Ayah took sackcloth, and spread out it for herself upon the rock, from the beginning of the harvest until water dropped down upon them out of heaven, and she suffered neither the birds of heaven to rest on them by day, nor the beasts of the field by night.

2 Samuel 21:11

And it was told to David what Rizpah the daughter of Ayah, the concubine of Saul, had done.

2 Samuel 21:12

And David then went and took the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son from the men of Yabeshgil'ad, who had stolen them from the market-place of Bethshan, where the Philistines had hanged them up, at the time the Philistines had smitten Saul at Gilboa':

2 Samuel 21:13

And he brought up from there the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son; and they gathered up the bones of those that had been hanged.

2 Samuel 21:14

And they buried the bones of Saul and Jonathan his son in the country of Benjamin at Zela', in the sepulchre of Kish his father: and they performed all that the king had commanded. And after that God was entreated for the land.

2 Samuel 21:15

And the Philistines had again a war with Israel; and David went down, and his servants with him, and fought against the Philistines: and David became fatigued.

2 Samuel 21:16

And Yishbi at Nob, who was of the children of the Raphah, the weight of whose spear was three hundred shekels of copper, he being girded with a new armor, thought to slay David.

2 Samuel 21:17

But Abishai the son of Zeruyah succored him, and smote the Philistine, and killed him. Then swore the men of David unto him, saying, Thou shalt go out no more with us to battle, that thou mayest not quench the lamp of Israel.

2 Samuel 21:18

And it came to pass after this, that there was again a battle at Gob, with the Philistines: then smote Sibbechai the Chushathite Saph, who was of the children of the Raphah.

2 Samuel 21:19

And there was again a battle at Gob with the Philistines, when Elchanan the son of Ya'are-oregim, the Bethlehemite, slew Goliath the Gittite, the staff of whose spear was like a weaver's beam.

2 Samuel 21:20

And there was again a battle in Gath, where was a man of [great] stature, that had on every hand six fingers, and on every foot six toes, [in all] four and twenty in number; and he also was born to the Raphah.

2 Samuel 21:21

And he defied Israel; but Jonathan the son of Shim'ah, the brother of David, slew him.

2 Samuel 21:22

These four were born to the Raphah in Gath; and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his servants.

2 Samuel 22:1

And David spoke unto the Lord the words of this song, and on the day that the Lord had delivered him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul.

2 Samuel 22:2

And he said, Lord, my rock, my fortress, and my deliverer;

2 Samuel 22:3

God, my rock, in whom I trust; my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower, and my refuge, my saviour! from violence dost thou save me!

2 Samuel 22:4

Praised, I cried, be the Lord, and from my enemies was I saved.

2 Samuel 22:5

For the waves of death encompassed me, the floods of destruction made me afraid;

2 Samuel 22:6

The bonds of hell encircled me, the snares of death seized on me:

2 Samuel 22:7

[When] in my distress I called upon the Lord, and to my God I cried; and he heard from his temple my voice, and my complaint [entered] into his ears.

2 Samuel 22:8

Then shook and trembled the earth; the foundations of the heavens were moved; and they shook, because he was wroth.

2 Samuel 22:9

Smoke went up in his anger, and consuming fire out of his mouth, coals flamed forth from him.

2 Samuel 22:10

And he bent the heavens, and came down, and thick darkness was under his feet.

2 Samuel 22:11

And he rode upon a cherub, and flew along, and he was seen upon the wings of the wind.

2 Samuel 22:12

And he made darkness round about him into pavilions, heavy masses of waters, thick clouds of the skies.

2 Samuel 22:13

From the brightness before him flamed forth coals of fire.

2 Samuel 22:14

The Lord thundered from heaven, and the Most High uttered forth his voice.

2 Samuel 22:15

And he sent out arrows, and scattered them; lightning, and discomfited them.

2 Samuel 22:16

And then were seen the channels of the sea, there were laid open the foundations of the world; at the rebuke of the Lord, through the blast of the breath of his nostrils.

2 Samuel 22:17

He stretched out from above [his hand], he took me; he drew me out from the mighty waters.

2 Samuel 22:18

He delivered me from my enemy, the strong, from those that hated me, when they were too mighty for me.

2 Samuel 22:19

They overcame me on the day of my calamity; but the Lord became my stay;

2 Samuel 22:20

And he brought me forth into a large space: he delivered me, because he had delight in me.

2 Samuel 22:21

The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness: according to the purity of my hands did he recompense me.

2 Samuel 22:22

For I had kept the ways of the Lord, and had not wickedly departed from my God.

2 Samuel 22:23

For all his ordinances were before me, and from none of his statutes did I depart.

2 Samuel 22:24

I was also upright toward him, and I guarded myself against my iniquity.

2 Samuel 22:25

Therefore did the Lord recompense me according to my righteousness, according to my purity before his eyes.

2 Samuel 22:26

With the kind thou wilt show thyself kind; with the upright mighty man thou wilt show thyself upright.

2 Samuel 22:27

With the pure thou wilt show thyself pure; and with the perverse thou wilt wage a contest.

2 Samuel 22:28

And the afflicted people thou wilt save; but thy eyes are upon the haughty, [that] thou mayest bring [them] down.

2 Samuel 22:29

For thou art my lamp, O Lord! and the Lord will enlighten my darkness.

2 Samuel 22:30

For [aided] by thee I run through a troop: [helped] by my God I leap over a wall.

2 Samuel 22:31

As for God—his way is perfect; the word of the Lord is tried; he is a shield to all that trust in him.

2 Samuel 22:32

For who is God, save the Lord? and who is a rock, save our God?

2 Samuel 22:33

God is my strength and power; and he rendereth free from obstruction my way.

2 Samuel 22:34

He maketh my feet like those of the hinds, and upon my high places he causeth me to stand.

2 Samuel 22:35

He teaches my hands for the war, so that a brazen bow is bent by my arms.

2 Samuel 22:36

And thou gavest me the shield of thy salvation; and thy assistance hath made me great.

2 Samuel 22:37

Thou enlargest my steps under me, so that my joints do not slip.

2 Samuel 22:38

I pursue my enemies and destroy them; and I return not again until I have made an end of them.

2 Samuel 22:39

And I make an end of them, and I crush them, that they cannot rise; and they fall under my feet.

2 Samuel 22:40

For thou hast girded me with strength for the war; thou subduest my opponents under me.

2 Samuel 22:41

And my enemies thou causest to turn their back to me; those that hate me,—that I may destroy them.

2 Samuel 22:42

They look about, but there is none to help; unto the Lord—but he answereth them not.

2 Samuel 22:43

And I beat them small as the dust of the earth; as the mire of the street, I stamp them, I tread them down.

2 Samuel 22:44

Thou hast also delivered me from the contests of my people: thou preservest me to be the head of nations, a people which I know not shall serve me.

2 Samuel 22:45

The children of the stranger shall utter flattery unto me; as soon as their ear heareth they shall be obedient unto me.

2 Samuel 22:46

The children of the stranger shall fade away, and come forth tottering out of their close places.

2 Samuel 22:47

The Lord liveth, and blessed be my Rock; and exalted be the God, the Rock of my salvation;

2 Samuel 22:48

The God, that granteth me vengeance, and bringeth down nations under me;

2 Samuel 22:49

And that bringeth me forth from my enemies: also above my opponents thou liftest me up, from the man of violence thou deliverest me.

2 Samuel 22:50

Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, O Lord, among the nations, and unto thy name will I sing praises;

2 Samuel 22:51

[To] the tower of salvation of his king, and who showeth kindness to his anointed, to David and to his seed forever.

2 Samuel 23:1

And these are the last words of David. Thus saith David the son of Jesse, and thus saith the man who was raised up on high, the anointed of the God of Jacob, and the sweet singer of Israel:

2 Samuel 23:2

The Spirit of the Lord spoke through me, and his word was upon my tongue.

2 Samuel 23:3

[Thus] said the God of Israel, concerning me spoke the Rock of Israel, That [I should be] ruler over men, be righteous, ruling in the fear of God;

2 Samuel 23:4

And as in the light of morning the sun riseth, in a morning without clouds, with more than the brightness [reflected] by rain on the herbs that spring from the earth.

2 Samuel 23:5

Truly is not so my house with God? since he hath made with me an everlasting covenant, firm in all, and sure? yea, will he not cause to grow all my salvation, and all my desire?

2 Samuel 23:6

But the godless are all of them as waving thorns, which cannot be taken in the hand;

2 Samuel 23:7

But the man that will touch them must protect his hand with iron and the staff of a spear: and they will be utterly burnt with fire in the dwelling.

2 Samuel 23:8

These are the names of the mighty men whom David had: Yosheb—bashebeth, the Thachkemonite, the chief among the captains,—the same as ‘Adino the ‘Eznite,—because of eight hundred slain at one time.

2 Samuel 23:9

And after him was El’azar the son of Dodo, the son of Achochi, one of the three mighty men with David, when they defied the Philistines that were there gathered together to battle, and the men of Israel had withdrawn themselves;

2 Samuel 23:10

He then arose, and smote the Philistines until his hand was weary, and his hand did cleave unto the sword: and the Lord wrought a great victory on that day; and the people returned after him only to strip [the slain].

2 Samuel 23:11

And after him was Shammah the son of Age the Hararite. The Philistines were gathered together into a troop, and there was a piece of ground full of lentiles; and the people had fled from the Philistines;

2 Samuel 23:12

But he placed himself in the midst of the ground, and delivered it, and smote the Philistines: and the Lord wrought a great victory.

2 Samuel 23:13

And these three, the chiefs of the thirty, went down, and came to David at harvest—time unto the cave of ‘Adullam: and the troop of the Philistines was encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

2 Samuel 23:14

And David was then in the strong-hold, and an outpost of the Philistines was then in Beth-lechem.

2 Samuel 23:15

And David longed, and said, Oh that one would bring me water to drink out of the well at Beth-lechem, which is by the gate!

2 Samuel 23:16

And the three mighty men broke through the camp of the Philistines; and drew water out of the well of Beth-lechem, that was by the gate, and took it, and brought it to David; but he would not drink thereof, and poured it out unto the Lord.

2 Samuel 23:17

And he said, Far be it from me, O Lord, that I should do this: [is not this] the blood of the men that went at the risk of their life? and thus he would not drink it. These things did the three mighty men.

2 Samuel 23:18

And Abishai, the brother of Joab, the son of Zeruyah, was the chief of these three; and he lifted up his spear against three hundred slain, and had a name among the three.

2 Samuel 23:19

Although he was the most honored of the three, wherefore he became their captain: he nevertheless attained not unto the three [in prowess].

2 Samuel 23:20

And Benayahu the son of Yehoyada', the son of a valiant man, great in many acts of Kabzeel; he it was that smote the two lion-like heroes of Moab; he also went down and slew a lion in the midst of a pit on a day when it snowed;

2 Samuel 23:21

And he slew an Egyptian, a man of good appearance; and the Egyptian had a spear in his hand; but he went down to him with a staff, and he snatched the spear out of the Egyptian's hand, and slew him with his own spear.

2 Samuel 23:22

These things did Benayahu the son of Yehoyada', and he had a name among the three mighty men.

2 Samuel 23:23

He was more honored than the thirty; but he attained not to these three. And David appointed him in his private council.

2 Samuel 23:24

‘Asahel the brother of Joab was one of the thirty; Elchanan the son of Dodo of Beth-lechem,

2 Samuel 23:25

Shammah the Charodite, Elika the Charodite,

2 Samuel 23:26

Chelez the Paltite, ‘Ira the son of ‘Ikkesh the Teko’ite,

2 Samuel 23:27

Abi’ezer the ‘Anethothite, Mebunnai the Chushathite,

2 Samuel 23:28

Zalmon the Achochite, Maharai the Netophathite,

2 Samuel 23:29

Cheleb the son of Ba’anah, the Netophathite, Ittai the son of Ribai of Gib’ah of the children of Benjamin,

2 Samuel 23:30

Benayahu the Pir’athonite, Hiddai of Nachale–Ga’ash,

2 Samuel 23:31

Abi–albon the ‘Arbathite, ‘Azmaveth the Barchumite,

2 Samuel 23:32

Elyachba the Sha’albonite, Bne–yashen, Jonathan,

2 Samuel 23:33

Shammah the Hararite, Achiam the son of Sharar the Ararite,

2 Samuel 23:34

Eliphelet the son of Achasbai, the son of the Ma’achathite, Eli’am the son of Achithophel the Gilonite,

2 Samuel 23:35

Chezrai, the Carmelite, Pa’arai the Arbite,

2 Samuel 23:36

Yigal the son of Nathan of Zobah, Bani the Gadite,

2 Samuel 23:37

Zelek the 'Ammonite, Nacharai the Beerothite, the armor-bearer of Joab the son of Zeruyah,

2 Samuel 23:38

'Ira the Yithrite, Gareb the Yithrite,

2 Samuel 23:39

Uriyah the Hittite: in all thirty and seven.

2 Samuel 24:1

And again was the anger of the Lord kindled against Israel, and he incited David against them to say, Go, number Israel and Judah.

2 Samuel 24:2

And the king said to Joab the captain of the army, who was with him, Traverse, I pray thee, all the tribes of Israel, from Dan even to Beer-sheba', and number ye the people, that I may know the number of the people.

2 Samuel 24:3

Then said Joab unto the king, Now may the Lord thy God add unto the people, how many soever they be, a hundred-fold more, and may the eyes of my Lord the king see it; but why doth my Lord the king find delight in this thing?

2 Samuel 24:4

Nevertheless the king's word remained firm against Joab, and against the captains of the army: and Joab and the captains of the army went out from the presence of the king, to number the people of Israel.

2 Samuel 24:5

And they passed over the Jordan, and encamped in 'Aro'er, on the right side of the city that lieth in the midst of the valley of Gad, and toward Ya'zer:

2 Samuel 24:6

Then they came to Gil'ad, and to the land of Tachtimchodshi; and they came to Dan-ya'an, and about to Zidon;

2 Samuel 24:7

And they came to the strong-hold of Tyre, and to all the cities of the Hivites, and of the Canaanites; and they went out to the south of Judah, up to Beer-sheba'.

2 Samuel 24:8

And so they traversed all the land, and they came at the end of nine months and twenty days to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 24:9

And Joab gave up the sum of the number of the people unto the king: and there were in Israel eight hundred thousand valiant men that drew the sword; and the men of Judah were five hundred thousand men.

2 Samuel 24:10

And David's heart smote him after that he had numbered the people. And David said unto the Lord, I have sinned greatly in what I have done; and now, I beseech thee, O Lord, cause the iniquity of thy servant to pass away; for I have acted very foolishly.

2 Samuel 24:11

And when David was arisen in the morning, The word of the Lord came unto Gad the prophet, David's seer, saying,

2 Samuel 24:12

Go and speak unto David, Thus hath said the Lord, Three things do I offer thee: choose for thyself one of them, and I will do it unto thee.

2 Samuel 24:13

So Gad came to David, and told it unto him; and he said unto him, Shall there come unto thee seven years of famine in thy land? or three months, that thou flee before thy enemies, while they pursue thee? or that there be for three days a pestilence in thy land? now consider and see what word I shall bring back to him that hath sent me.

2 Samuel 24:14

And David said unto Gad, I am in a great strait: let us fall then into the hand of the Lord,—for his mercies are great; but let me not fall into the hand of man.

2 Samuel 24:15

And the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel from the morning even to the time appointed: and there died of the people from Dan even to Beer-sheba' seventy thousand men.

2 Samuel 24:16

And when the angel stretched out his hand over Jerusalem to destroy it, the Lord bethought himself of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed among the people, It is enough: now stay thy hand. And the angel of the Lord was by the threshingfloor of Aravnah the Jebusite.

2 Samuel 24:17

And David spoke unto the Lord when he saw the angel that smote among the people, and said, Lo, I have indeed sinned, and I have truly done wickedly; but these sheep, what have they done? let thy hand, I pray thee, be against me, and against my father's house.

2 Samuel 24:18

And Gad came to David on that day, and said unto him, Go up, erect an altar unto the Lord on the threshing-floor of Aravnah the Jebusite.

2 Samuel 24:19

And David went up, according to the word of Gad, as the Lord had commanded.

2 Samuel 24:20

And Aravnah looked up, and saw the king and his servants coming on toward him: and Aravnah went out, and bowed himself before the king with his face to the ground.

2 Samuel 24:21

And Aravnah said, Wherefore is my Lord the king come to his servant? And David said, To buy from thee the threshingfloor, to build an altar unto the Lord, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

2 Samuel 24:22

And Aravnah said unto David, Let my Lord the king take and offer up what seemeth good in his eyes: behold, the oxen are here for burnt-offerings, and the threshing rollers and the harness of the oxen for wood.

2 Samuel 24:23

All these things did Aravnah, [for] the king, give unto the king. And Aravnah said unto the king, May the Lord thy God receive thee favorably.

2 Samuel 24:24

And the king said unto Aravnah, No; but I will surely buy it from thee at the value; for I will not offer burnt-offerings unto the Lord my God without paying therefor. So David bought the threshing-floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver.

2 Samuel 24:25

And David built there an altar unto the Lord, and offered burnt-offerings and peace-offerings: and the Lord was entreated for the land, and the plague was stayed from Israel.

1 KINGS

1 Kings 1:1

Now king David was old, stricken in years; and they covered him with clothes, but he could not become warm.

1 Kings 1:2

Wherefore his servants said unto him, Let them seek out for my lord the king a young virgin, and let her stand before the king, and let her be an attendant on him; and let her lie in thy bosom, that my lord the king may become warm.

1 Kings 1:3

So they sought for a fair maiden throughout all the territory of Israel; and they found Abishag the Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

And Adoniyah slaughtered sheep and oxen and fatted cattle by the stone Zocheleth, which is by 'En-rogel; and he invited all his brothers the king's sons, and all the men of Judah the king's servants;

1 Kings 1:10

But Nathan the prophet, and Benayahu, and the mighty men, and Solomon his brother, he invited not.

And now come, let me, I pray thee, give thee counsel, that thou mayest save thy own life, and the life of thy son Solomon.

1 Kings 1:13

Go and get thee in unto king David, and say unto him, Didst not thou, my lord, O king, swear unto thy hand-maid, saying, Assuredly, Solomon thy son shall reign after me, and only he shall sit upon my throne? why then is Adoniyah become king?

1 Kings 1:14

And, lo, while thou shalt be yet speaking there with the king, I myself will come in after thee, and confirm thy words.

1 Kings 1:15

And Bath-sheba' went in unto the king into the chamber, and the king was very old; and Abishag the Shunammite was ministering unto the king.

And now, behold, Adoniyah is become king; and now, my lord, O king, thou knowest it not:

1 Kings 1:19

And he hath slaughtered oxen and fatted cattle and sheep in abundance, and hath invited all the sons of the king, and Ebyathar the priest, and Joab the captain of the army; but Solomon thy servant hath he not invited.

1 Kings 1:20

And as for thee, my lord, O king, the eyes of all Israel are upon thee, to tell them, who shall sit on the throne of my lord the king after him.

1 Kings 1:21

Otherwise it would come to pass, when my lord the king sleepeth with his fathers, that I and my son Solomon may be counted offenders.

1 Kings 1:22

And, lo, while she was yet speaking with the king, Nathan the prophet also came in.

1 Kings 1:23

And they told the king, saying, Behold, here is Nathan the prophet: and when he was come in before the king, he prostrated himself before the king with his face to the ground.

1 Kings 1:24

And Nathan said, My lord, O king, hast thou then said, Adoniyah shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne?

1 Kings 1:25

For he is gone down this day, and hath slaughtered oxen and fatted cattle and sheep in abundance, and hath invited all the king's sons, and the captains of the army, and Ebyathar the priest: and, behold, they are eating and drinking before him, and they say, Long live king Adoniyah.

1 Kings 1:26

But as for me, me thy servant, and Zadok the priest, and Benayahu the son of Yehoyada', and thy servant Solomon, hath he not invited.

1 Kings 1:27

Can it be that this hath been done by order of my lord the king, and thou hast not informed thy servant, who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?

1 Kings 1:28

Then answered king David, and said, Call me Bath-sheba'; and she came into the king's presence, and stood before the king.

1 Kings 1:29

And the king swore and said, As the Lord liveth, that hath redeemed my soul out of all distress,

Even as I have sworn unto thee by the Lord the God of Israel, saying, Assuredly Solomon thy son shall reign after me, and only he shall sit upon my throne in my stead: even so will I certainly do this day.

1 Kings 1:31

Then did Bath-sheba' bow herself with her face to the earth, and prostrate herself unto the king; and she said, May my lord, the king David, live for ever!

1 Kings 1:32

And king David said, Call unto me Zadok the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Benayahu the son of Yehoyada'. And they came before the king.

1 Kings 1:33

And the king said unto them, Take with you the servants of your lord, and cause Solomon my son to ride upon my own mule, and conduct him down to Gichon:

1 Kings 1:34

And let Zadok the priest with Nathan the prophet anoint him there as king over Israel; and blow ye with the cornet, and say, Long live king Solomon.

1 Kings 1:35

Then shall ye go up after him, and he shall come and sit upon my throne; and he shall be king in my stead: and him have I ordained to be ruler over Israel and over Judah.

1 Kings 1:36

And Benayahu the son of Yehoyada' answered the king, and said, Amen: May thus say the Eternal the God of my lord the king.

1 Kings 1:37

As the Eternal hath been with my lord the king, even so may he be with Solomon, and may he make his throne greater than the throne of my lord the king David.

1 Kings 1:38

Thereupon Zadok the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Benayahu the son of Yehoyada', and the Kerethites, and the Pelethites, went down, and caused Solomon to ride upon king David's mule, and conducted him to Gichon.

1 Kings 1:39

And Zadok the priest took the horn of oil out of the tabernacle, and anointed Solomon. And they blew with the cornet; and all the people said, Long live king Solomon.

1 Kings 1:40

And all the people went up after him, and the people blew on flutes, and rejoiced with great joy, so that the earth was rent at their noise.

1 Kings 1:41

And Adoniyah and all the guests that were with him heard it as they had just finished eating: and when Joab heard the sound of the cornet, he said, Wherefore is this noise of the city in an uproar?

1 Kings 1:42

And while he was yet speaking, behold, Jonathan the son of Ebyathar the priest came in: and Adoniyah said [unto him], Come in; for thou art a worthy man, and must bring good tidings.

1 Kings 1:45

And Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him as king on the Gichon; and they are come up from there rejoicing, and the city hath been set in commotion. This is the noise that ye have heard.

1 Kings 1:46

And Solomon hath also sat on the kingly throne.

1 Kings 1:47

And also the king's servants are come to bless our lord king David, saying, May God make the name of Solomon more famous than thy name, and make his throne greater than thy throne: and the king hath bowed himself upon the bed.

1 Kings 1:48

And also thus hath the king said, Blessed be the Lord the God of Israel, who hath given [me] this day one who sitteth on my throne, while my eyes see it.

1 Kings 1:49

And all the guests that were with Adoniyah were terrified, and rose up, and went, every man, on his own way.

1 Kings 1:50

And Adoniyah was afraid because of Solomon; and he arose, and went, and caught hold on the horns of the altar.

1 Kings 1:51

And it was told unto Solomon, saying, Behold, Adoniyah feareth king Solomon; and, behold, he hath caught hold on the horns of the altar, saying, Let king Solomon swear unto me today that he will not slay his servant with the sword.

1 Kings 1:52

And Solomon said, If he will become a worthy man, there shall not a hair of his fall to the earth; but if any wrong shall be found on him, then shall he die.

1 Kings 1:53

So king Solomon sent, and they brought him down from the altar; and he came and bowed himself to king Solomon; and Solomon said unto him, Go to thy house.

1 Kings 2:1

And when the days of David drew near that he should die, he charged Solomon his son, saying,

1 Kings 2:2

I am going the way of all the earth; but be thou strong, and become a man;

1 Kings 2:3

And keep the charge of the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, to keep his statutes, his commandments, and his ordinances, and his testimonies, as it is written in the law of Moses; in order that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest, and whithersoever thou turnest thyself;

1 Kings 2:4

In order that the Lord may fulfill his word which he hath spoken concerning me, saying, If thy children take heed to their way, to walk before me in truth with all their heart and with all their soul, there shall never fail thee, said he, a man on the throne of Israel.

1 Kings 2:5

And thou also knowest well what Joab the son of Zeruyah hath done to me, what he did to the two captains of the armies of Israel, unto Abner the son of Ner, and unto 'Amassa the son of Yether, whom he slew, and shed the blood of war in peace, and put the blood of war upon his girdle that was about his loins, and on his shoes that were on his feet.

1 Kings 2:6

Do therefore according to thy wisdom, and let not his hoary head go down in peace to the grave.

1 Kings 2:7

But unto the sons of Barzillai the Gil'adite show thou kindness, and let them be of those that eat at thy table; for so they came near to me when I fled from before Abshalom thy brother.

1 Kings 2:8

And, behold, thou hast with thee Shim'i the son of Gera, the Benjamite of Bachurim, who cursed me with a grievous curse on the day when I went to Machanayim; but who came down to meet me at the Jordan, and I swore to him by the Lord, saying, I will not put thee to death with the sword.

1 Kings 2:9

But now leave him not unpunished; for thou art a wise man; know then what thou oughtest to do unto him, and bring thou down his hoary head with blood to the grave.

1 Kings 2:10

And David slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David.

1 Kings 2:11

And the days that David reigned over Israel were forty years: in Hebron he reigned seven years, and in Jerusalem he reigned thirty and three years.

1 Kings 2:12

Then sat Solomon upon the throne of David his father; and his kingdom was established greatly.

1 Kings 2:13

And Adoniyah the son of Chaggith came to Bath-sheba' the mother of Solomon: and she said, Is thy coming for peace? And he said, For peace.

1 Kings 2:14

He said moreover, I have a word for thee. And she said, Speak.

1 Kings 2:15

And he said, Thou well knowest that mine was the kingdom, and that on me all Israel had set their faces, that I should reign: nevertheless the kingdom was turned about, and became my brother's; for from the Lord was it [made] his.

1 Kings 2:16

And now there is one petition I am going to ask of thee, do not turn me away. And she said unto him, Speak.

1 Kings 2:17

And he said, Speak, I pray thee, unto Solomon the king, [for he will not turn thee away,] that he may give me Abishag the Shunammite for wife.

1 Kings 2:18

And Bath-sheba' said, Well: I will speak for thee unto the king.

1 Kings 2:19

Bath-sheba' thereupon went unto king Solomon, to speak unto him for Adoniyah; and the king rose up to meet her, and bowed himself unto her, and then sat down on his throne, and placed a chair for the king's mother; and she sat on his right hand.

1 Kings 2:20

Then said she, There is one small petition I am going to ask of thee; do not turn me away. And the king said unto her, Ask on, my mother; for I will not turn thee away.

1 Kings 2:21

And she said, Let Abishag the Shunammite be given to Adoniyah thy brother for wife.

1 Kings 2:22

And king Solomon answered and said unto his mother, And why dost thou ask Abishag the Shunammite for Adoniyah? rather ask for him the kingdom; for he is my elder brother; —even for him, and for Ebyathar the priest, and for Joab the son of Zeruyah.

1 Kings 2:23

Then swore king Solomon by the Lord, saying, May God do so to me, and may he thus continue, if Adoniyah have not spoken this word against his own life.

1 Kings 2:24

And now, as the Lord liveth, who hath established me, and seated me on the throne of David my father, and who hath made me a house, as he hath spoken, this very day shall Adoniyah be put to death.

1 Kings 2:25

And king Solomon sent by the hand of Benayahu the son of Yehoyada'; and he fell upon him so that he died.

1 Kings 2:26

And unto Ebyathar the priest said the king, Go to 'Anathoth, unto thy own fields; for thou art a man worthy of death; but on this day will I not put thee to death; because thou hast borne the ark of the Lord Eternal before David my father, and because thou was afflicted in all wherein my father was afflicted.

1 Kings 2:27

So Solomon banished Ebyathar that he should not be priest unto the Lord, to fulfill the word of the Lord, which he had spoken concerning the house of 'Eli in Shiloh.

1 Kings 2:28

And the report came to Joab; for Joab had turned after Adoniyah, though he had not turned after Abshalom. And Joab fled unto the tabernacle of the Lord, and caught hold on the horns of the altar.

1 Kings 2:29

And it was told to king Solomon that Joab had fled unto the tabernacle of the Lord; and that, behold, he was close by the altar. Then sent Solomon Benayahu the son of Yehoyada,' saying, Go, fall upon him.

1 Kings 2:30

And Benayahu came to the tabernacle of the Lord, and said unto him, Thus hath said the king, Come forth. And he said, No; but here will I die. And Benayahu brought the king word again, saying, Thus hath Joab spoken, and thus hath he answered me.

1 Kings 2:31

Then said the king unto him, Do as he hath spoken, and fall upon him, and bury him; and remove [thus] the innocent blood, which Joab hath shed, from me, and from the house of my father.

1 Kings 2:32

And may the Lord bring back his blood—guiltiness upon his own head, because he fell upon two men more righteous and better than he, and slew them with the sword, while my father David knew it not, Abner the son of Ner, the captain of the army of Israel, and 'Amassa the son of Yether, the captain of the army of Judah.

1 Kings 2:33

And their blood shall return upon the head of Joab, and upon the head of his seed for ever; but unto David, and unto his seed, and unto his house, and unto his throne, may there be peace for ever from the Lord.

1 Kings 2:34

So Benayahu the son of Yehoyada' went up, and fell upon him, and slew him: and he was buried in his own house in the wilderness.

1 Kings 2:35

And the king appointed Benayahu the son of Yehoyada' in his place over the army; and Zadok the priest did the king appoint in the place of Ebyathar.

1 Kings 2:36

And the king sent and called for Shim'i, and said unto him, Build thee a house in Jerusalem, and dwell there, and thou shalt not go forth from there hither or thither.

1 Kings 2:37

And it shall be, that on the day thou goest out, and passest over the brook Kidron, thou shalt know for certain that thou shalt surely die: thy blood shall be upon thy own head.

1 Kings 2:38

And Shim'i said unto the king, It is well: as my Lord the king hath spoken, so will thy servant do. And Shim'i dwelt in Jerusalem many days.

1 Kings 2:39

And it came to pass at the end of three years, that two servants of Shim'i ran away unto Achish the son of Ma'achah the king of Gath: and they told unto Shim'i, saying, Behold, thy servants are in Gath.

1 Kings 2:40

And Shim'i arose, and saddled his ass, and went to Gath to Achish to seek his servants; and Shim'i went, and brought his servants from Gath.

1 Kings 2:41

And it was told to Solomon that Shim'i had gone from Jerusalem to Gath, and had returned.

1 Kings 2:42

And the king sent and called for Shim'i, and said unto him, Did I not make thee swear by the Lord, and warned thee, saying, On that day thou goest out, and walkest abroad hither or thither, know for certain that thou shalt surely die? and thou saidst unto me, It is well, I have heard?

1 Kings 2:43

Why then hast thou not kept the oath of the Lord, and the commandment with which I charged thee?

1 Kings 2:44

The king said moreover to Shim'i, Thou well knowest all the wickedness of which thy heart is conscious, that thou hast done to David my father: and the Lord bringeth back thy wickedness upon thy own head;

1 Kings 2:45

But king Solomon will be blessed, and the throne of David will be established before the Lord for ever.

1 Kings 2:46

So the king commanded Benayahu the son of Yehoyada', who went out, and fell upon him, so that he died. And the kingdom was established in the hand of Solomon.

1 Kings 3:1

And Solomon intermarried with Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and took the daughter of Pharaoh, and brought her into the city of David, until he had finished building his own house, and the house of the Lord, and the wall of Jerusalem round about.

1 Kings 3:2

But the people sacrificed still on the high-places; because there was no house built unto the name of the Lord, until those days.

1 Kings 3:3

And Solomon loved the Lord, walking in the statutes of David his father: only that he sacrificed and burnt incense on the high-places.

1 Kings 3:4

And the king went to Gib'on to sacrifice there; for that was the great high-place: one thousand burnt-offerings did Solomon offer upon that altar.

1 Kings 3:5

In Gib'on the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream of the night: and God said, Ask what I shall give thee.

1 Kings 3:6

And Solomon said, Thou hast shown unto thy servant David my father great kindness, just as he walked before thee in truth, and in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with thee; and thou hast kept for him this great kindness, and thou hast given him a son who sitteth on his throne, as it is this day.

1 Kings 3:7

And now, O Lord my God, thou hast made thy servant king in the place of David my father: and I am but a young lad; I know not how to go out or come in.

1 Kings 3:8

And thy servant is in the midst of thy people which thou hast chosen, a great people, that cannot be numbered nor counted for multitude.

1 Kings 3:9

Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, to discern between good and bad; for who would [otherwise] be able to judge this thy great people?

1 Kings 3:10

And the speech was pleasing in the eyes of the Lord, that Solomon had asked this thing.

1 Kings 3:11

And God said unto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thyself long life; and hast not asked for thyself riches, nor hast asked the life of thy enemies; but hast asked for thyself discernment to understand [how to give] judgment:

1 Kings 3:12

Behold, I have done according to thy word; lo, I have given thee a wise and a discerning heart; so that like unto thee there was none before thee, nor after thee shall any one arise like unto thee.

1 Kings 3:13

And also what thou hast not asked have I given thee, both riches and honor: so that like unto thee there shall not have been any one among the kings all thy days.

1 Kings 3:14

And if thou wilt walk in my ways, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as thy father David did walk, then will I lengthen thy days.

1 Kings 3:15

And Solomon awoke, and, behold, it was a dream; and he went to Jerusalem, and stood before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and offered up burnt-offerings, and prepared peace-offerings, and made a feast to all his servants.

1 Kings 3:16

Then came there two women, that were harlots, unto the king, and placed themselves before him.

1 Kings 3:17

And the one woman said, Pardon, my Lord, I and this woman dwell in one house; and I was delivered of a child with her in the house.

1 Kings 3:18

And it came to pass on the third day after I was delivered, that also this woman was delivered: and we were together, there was no stranger with us in the house, only we two were in the house.

1 Kings 3:19

And this woman's son died in the night; because she had overlaid him.

1 Kings 3:20

And she arose in the midst of the night, and took my son from beside me, while thy hand-maid slept, and laid him in her bosom, and her dead son she laid in my bosom.

1 Kings 3:21

And when I rose in the morning to give my son suck, behold, he was dead; but when I looked at him carefully in the morning, behold, it was not my son, whom I had born.

1 Kings 3:22

And the other woman said, It is not so; my son is the living one, and thy son is the dead; and this one said, It is not so; thy son is the dead, and my son is the living: thus they spoke before the king.

1 Kings 3:23

Then said the king, This one saith, This is my son that liveth, and thy son is dead: and the other saith, It is not so; thy son is the dead, and my son is the living.

1 Kings 3:24

And the king said, Fetch me a sword: and they brought the sword before the king.

1 Kings 3:25

And the king said, Hew the living child in two, and give the one half to one, and the other half to the other.

1 Kings 3:26

Then spoke the woman whose son was the living unto the king, for her love had become enkindled for her son, and she said, O pardon, my Lord, give her the living child, and only do not slay it; but the other said, Neither mine nor thine shall it be, hew it asunder.

1 Kings 3:27

The king then answered and said, Give her the living child, and do not slay it: she is its mother.

1 Kings 3:28

And when all Israel heard of the judgment which the king had given, they feared the king; for they saw that the wisdom of God was in him, to exercise justice.

1 Kings 4:1

Thus was king Solomon king over all Israel.

1 Kings 4:2

And these were the princes whom he had: 'Azaryahu the son of Zadok the priest;

1 Kings 4:3

Elichoreph and Achiyah, the sons of Shisha, scribes; Jehoshaphat the son of Achilud, the recorder;

1 Kings 4:4

And Benayahu the son of Yehoyada' over the army; and Zadok and Ebyathar priests;

1 Kings 4:8

And these are their names: Ben-chur on the mountain of Ephraim;

1 Kings 4:9

Ben-deker, in Makaz, and in Sha'albim, and Beth-shemesh, and Elon-beth-chanan;

1 Kings 4:10

Ben-chessed, in Arubboth; to him pertained Sochoh and all the land of Chepher;

1 Kings 4:11

Ben-abinadab, in all the district of Dor; he had Taphath the daughter of Solomon for wife;

1 Kings 4:12

Ben-geber, in Ramoth-gil'ad; to him pertained the villages of Ya'ir the son of Menasseh, which are in Gil'ad; to him also pertained the region of Argob, which is in Bashan, sixty great cities with walls and brazen bars;

1 Kings 4:14

Achinadab the son of 'Iddo in Machanayim;

1 Kings 4:15

Achima'az in Naphtali; he also took Bahsemath the daughter of Solomon for wife;

1 Kings 4:16

Ba'anah the son of Chushai in Asher and in Be'aloth;

1 Kings 4:17

Jehoshaphat the son of Paruach, in Issachar;

1 Kings 4:18

Shim'i the son of Ela, in Benjamin;

1 Kings 4:19

Geber the son of Uri in the country of Gil'ad, the country of Sichon the king of the Emorites, and of 'Og the king of Bashan; besides the one superintendent who was in the land.

1 Kings 4:20

Judah and Israel were numerous, as the sand which is by the sea in multitude; and they ate and drank, and made merry.

1 Kings 4:21 (5:1)

And Solomon was ruling over all the kingdoms from the river unto the land of the Philistines, and as far as the boundary of Egypt, which brought presents, and served Solomon all the days of his life.

1 Kings 4:22 (5:2)

And Solomon's provision for one day was thirty kors of fine flour, and sixty kors of meal,

1 Kings 4:23 (5:3)

Ten fatted oxen, and twenty pasture oxen, and a hundred sheep, besides harts, and roebucks, and fallow-deer, and fatted fowl.

1 Kings 4:24 (5:4)

For he had dominion over all the region on this side the river, from Thiphsach even to Gazzah, over all the kings on this side the river: and he had peace on all sides round about him.

1 Kings 4:25 (5:5)

And Judah and Israel dwelt in safety, every man under his vine and under his fig-tree, from Dan even to Beer-sheba', all the days of Solomon.

1 Kings 4:26 (5:6)

And Solomon had forty thousand stalls for the horses for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen.

1 Kings 4:27 (5:7)

And those superintendents provided for king Solomon, and for all that came near unto king Solomon's table, every man in his month: they let nothing be wanting.

1 Kings 4:28 (5:8)

The barley also and the straw for the horses and the runners did they bring unto the place where he might be, every man according to his prescription.

1 Kings 4:29 (5:9)

And God gave unto Solomon wisdom and understanding exceedingly much, and largeness of heart, even as the sand that is on the sea-shore.

1 Kings 4:30 (5:10)

And Solomon's wisdom excelled the wisdom of all the children of the east country, and all the wisdom of Egypt.

1 Kings 4:31 (5:11)

And he was wiser than all men; than Ethan the Ezrachite, and Heman, and Kalkol, and Darda', the sons of Machol: and his name was [spread] among all the nations round about.

1 Kings 4:32 (5:12)

And he spoke three thousand proverbs; and his songs were a thousand and five.

1 Kings 4:33 (5:13)

And he spoke concerning the trees, from the cedar-tree that is on the Lebanon even unto the hyssop that springeth out of the wall; he spoke also concerning the beasts, and concerning the fowl, and concerning the creeping things, and concerning the fishes.

1 Kings 4:34 (5:14)

And men came from all the people to hear the wisdom of Solomon, from all the kings of the earth, who had heard of his wisdom.

1 Kings 5:1 (5:15)

And Hiram the king of Tyre sent his servants unto Solomon; for he had heard that they had anointed him king in the room of his father; for Hiram had all the time been a lover of David.

1 Kings 5:2 (5:16)

And Solomon sent to Hiram, saying,

1 Kings 5:3 (5:17)

Thou well knowest of David my father, that he was not able to build a house unto the name of the Lord his God, on account of the war wherewith his enemies encompassed him, until the Lord had put them under the soles of his feet.

1 Kings 5:4 (5:18)

But now hath the Lord my God given me rest on every side, there is neither adversary nor evil hinderance.

1 Kings 5:5 (5:19)

And, behold, I purpose to build a house unto the name of the Lord my God, as the Lord hath spoken unto David my father, saying, Thy son, whom I will place in thy room upon thy throne, he it is that shall build the house unto my name.

1 Kings 5:6 (5:20)

And now command thou that they hew me cedar-trees out of Lebanon; and my servants shall be with thy servants; and the wages of thy servants will I give unto thee in accordance with all that thou wilt say; for thou well knowest that there is not among us a man that hath the skill to hew timber like unto the Zidonians.

1 Kings 5:7 (5:21)

And it came to pass, when Hiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoiced greatly; and he said, Blessed be the Lord this day, who hath given unto David a wise son over this numerous people.

1 Kings 5:8 (5:22)

And Hiram sent to Solomon, saying, I have heard what thou hast sent to me for: I will gladly execute all thy desire in respect of timber of cedar, and in respect of timber of fir.

1 Kings 5:9 (5:23)

My servants shall bring them down from the Lebanon unto the sea: and I will convey them by sea in floats unto the place of which thou wilt send me word, and I will cause them to be taken apart there, and thou shalt take them away; and thou shalt accomplish my desire, in giving the food for my household.

1 Kings 5:10 (5:24)

So Hiram gave Solomon cedar-trees and fir-trees, all his desire.

1 Kings 5:11 (5:25)

And Solomon gave Hiram twenty thousand kors of wheat as provision for his household, and twenty kors of beaten oil: thus did Solomon give to Hiram year by year.

1 Kings 5:12 (5:26)

And the Lord gave wisdom unto Solomon, as he had spoken to him; and there was peace between Hiram and Solomon; and they made a covenant with each other.

1 Kings 5:13 (5:27)

And king Solomon raised a levy out of all Israel; and the levy was thirty thousand men.

1 Kings 5:14 (5:28)

And he sent them into the Lebanon, ten thousand in each month by turns; one month they used to be in the Lebanon, two months at home: and Adoniram was over the levy.

1 Kings 5:15 (5:29)

And there belonged to Solomon seventy thousand bearers of burdens, and eighty thousand stone-cutters in the mountains;

1 Kings 5:16 (5:30)

Besides the chiefs who were appointed by Solomon over the work, three thousand and three hundred, who ruled over the people that wrought on the work.

1 Kings 5:17 (5:31)

And when the king commanded, they quarried out great stones, heavy stones, to lay the foundation of the house, and hewn stones.

1 Kings 5:18 (5:32)

And the builders of Solomon, and the builders of Hiram, and the Giblites hewed them; and so they prepared the wood and the stones to build the house.

1 Kings 6:1

And it came to pass, in the four hundred and eightieth year after the going forth of the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, in the fourth year, in the month Ziv, which is the second month, of the reign of Solomon over Israel, that he built the house unto the Lord.

1 Kings 6:2

And the house which king Solomon built unto the Lord, was sixty cubits in length, and twenty in breadth, and thirty cubits in height.

1 Kings 6:3

And the porch before the temple of the house, was twenty cubits in length, in front of the breadth of the house; and ten cubits in breadth at the east side of the house.

1 Kings 6:4

And he made for the house windows wide without and narrow within.

1 Kings 6:5

And he built on the wall of the house a gallery round about, on the walls of the house round about, of the temple and of the most holy place: and he made side-chambers round about.

1 Kings 6:6

The nethermost gallery was five cubits in breadth, and the middle was six cubits in breadth, and the third was seven cubits in breadth; for projections had he made to the house round about on the outside, so as to fasten nothing in the walls of the house.

1 Kings 6:7

And the house, when it was in building, was built of entire stones as they had been prepared at the quarry: so that neither hammer, nor axe, nor any tool of iron was heard in the house, while it was in building.

1 Kings 6:8

The door for the middle [gallery] sidechamber was in the right side of the house: and with winding stairs they went up into the middle chamber, and out of the middle into the third.

1 Kings 6:9

So he built the house, and finished it; and covered the house with hollow tiles, and with boards of cedar.

1 Kings 6:10

And he built the gallery against all the house, [each] five cubits in height; and it was fastened on to the house with timber of cedar.

1 Kings 6:11

And the word of the Lord came to Solomon, saying,

1 Kings 6:12

This house which thou art building—if thou wilt walk in my statutes, and execute my ordinances, and keep all my commandments to walk in them: then will I perform my word with thee, which I have spoken unto David thy father.

1 Kings 6:13

And I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel, and I will not forsake my people Israel.

1 Kings 6:14

So did Solomon build the house, and finish it.

1 Kings 6:15

And he built the walls of the house within with boards of cedar; from the floor of the house to where the walls touched the ceiling did he overlay it on the inside with wood; and he overlaid the floor of the house with boards of fir.

1 Kings 6:16

And he built the twenty cubits on the lower side of the house with boards of cedar, from the floor to the battlements; and he built it within, for the debir, for the holy of holies.

1 Kings 6:17

And the house, that is, the temple before it, was forty cubits long.

1 Kings 6:18

And the cedar on the house within was carved with colocynths and opening flowers; all was cedar, no stone was seen.

1 Kings 6:19

And the debir in the house within did he prepare, to set therein the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

1 Kings 6:20

And the interior of the debir was twenty cubits in length, and twenty cubits in breadth, and twenty cubits was its height: and he overlaid it with pure gold; and he overlaid the altar with cedar-wood.

1 Kings 6:21

And Solomon overlaid the house within with pure gold: and he barred by means of chains of gold the front of the debir; and he overlaid it with gold.

1 Kings 6:22

And the whole house he overlaid with gold, until all the house was finished: also the whole altar that was before the debir did he overlay with gold.

1 Kings 6:23

And within the debir he made two cherubims of oleaster-wood, each ten cubits high.

1 Kings 6:24

And five cubits was the one wing of the cherub, and five cubits the other wing of the cherub: [there were] ten cubits from the uttermost part of the one wing unto the uttermost part of the other.

1 Kings 6:25

And the other cherub was also ten cubits: both the cherubim were of one measure and one form.

1 Kings 6:26

The height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and so that of the other cherub.

1 Kings 6:27

And he set the cherubim within the innermost part of the house: and they spread forth the wings of the cherubim, so that the wing of the one touched the one wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall; and their wings toward the middle of the house touched one another.

1 Kings 6:28

And he overlaid the cherubim with gold.

1 Kings 6:29

And on all the wall of the house round about he carved figures of cherubim and palm-trees and opening flowers, in the debir and in the temple.

1 Kings 6:30

And the floor of the house he overlaid with gold for the debir and for the temple.

1 Kings 6:31

And for the entrance of the debir he made doors of oleaster-wood: the lintel with the side-posts forming five sides.

1 Kings 6:32

And also upon the two doors of oleaster-wood he carved figures of cherubim and palm-trees and opening flowers, and overlaid them with gold, and spread the gold, by beating, upon the cherubim, and upon the palm-trees.

1 Kings 6:33

So also made he for the entrance of the temple door-posts of oleaster-wood in shape of a square;

1 Kings 6:34

And two doors of fir-wood: the one door having two leaves which were folding, and the other door having two leaves which were folding.

1 Kings 6:35

And he carved thereon cherubim, and palm-trees and opening flowers: and he overlaid them with gold fitting upon the carved work.

1 Kings 6:36

And he built the inner court of three rows of hewn stone, and one row of cedar beams.

1 Kings 6:37

In the fourth year was the foundation of the house of the Lord laid, in the month Ziv;

1 Kings 6:38

And in the eleventh year, in the month Bul, which is the eighth month, was the house finished throughout all its parts, and according to all its requirements. So was he building it seven years.

1 Kings 7:1

But his own house was Solomon building thirteen years, and then he finished all his house.

1 Kings 7:2

He built also the house of the forest of Lebanon: a hundred cubits was its length, and fifty cubits was its breadth, and thirty cubits was its height, upon four rows of cedar pillars, with cedar beams upon the pillars.

1 Kings 7:3

And it was covered with cedar above over the beams, that lay on the forty-five pillars, fifteen in a row.

1 Kings 7:4

And there were window-spaces in three rows, and windows were opposite each other in three ranks.

1 Kings 7:5

And all the entrances and door-posts formed a square in shape: and windows were opposite windows in three ranks.

1 Kings 7:6

And he made a porch of pillars: fifty cubits was its length, and thirty cubits its breadth; and the porch was before them; and the other pillars with an entablature before them.

1 Kings 7:7

Then he made a porch for the throne where he might judge, the porch of judgment: and it was covered with cedar from one side of the floor to the other.

1 Kings 7:8

And his house where he dwelt in another court within the porch, was of the like work: and Solomon made also a house for Pharaoh's daughter, whom he had taken for wife, like unto this porch.

1 Kings 7:9

All these were of heavy stones, hewn after a fixed measure, sawed with the saw inside and outside, even from the foundation unto the coping, and from the outside unto the great court.

1 Kings 7:10

And the foundation was of heavy stones, large stones, stones of ten cubits, and stones of eight cubits.

1 Kings 7:11

And above were heavy stones, hewn after a fixed measure, and cedars.

1 Kings 7:12

And the great court round about was of three rows of hewn stones, and one row of cedar beams, both for the inner court of the house of the Lord, and for the porch of the house.

1 Kings 7:13

And king Solomon sent and fetched Hiram out of Tyre.

1 Kings 7:14

He was the son of a widow of the tribe of Naphtali, and his father was a man of Tyre, a worker in copper: and he was filled with wisdom, and understanding, and knowledge, to make every work in copper; and he came to king Solomon, and did all his work.

1 Kings 7:15

And he cast two pillars of copper, eighteen cubits was the height of the one pillar; and a line of twelve cubits did encompass the second pillar.

1 Kings 7:16

And he made two capitals, to set upon the tops of the pillars, of molten copper; five cubits was the height of the one capital, and five cubits was the height of the other capital;

1 Kings 7:17

And nets of checker-work, and wreaths of chain-work, for the capitals which were upon the top of the pillars; seven for the one capital, and seven for the other capital.

1 Kings 7:18

And he made the pillars, so that two rows of pomegranates were round about upon the one net-work, to cover the capitals that were upon the top: and the same he made for the other capital.

1 Kings 7:19

And the capitals, that were upon the top of the pillars, furnished with lily-work, [as] those in the porch, were four cubits.

1 Kings 7:20

And the capitals upon the two pillars rose also above, close by the rounding which was on the side of the network: and the pomegranates were two hundred, in rows round about, upon either capital.

1 Kings 7:21

And he set up the pillars for the porch of the temple; and he set up the right pillar, and called its name Yachin; and he set up the left pillar, and called its name Boaz.

1 Kings 7:22

And upon the top of the pillars there was lily-work: and so was finished the work of the pillars.

1 Kings 7:23

And he made the molten sea, ten cubits from the one brim to the other, rounded all about, and it was five cubits in height: and a line of thirty cubits did encompass it round about.

1 Kings 7:24

And colocynth-shaped knobs were under its brim round about encompassing it, ten in a cubit, encircling the sea round about: the colocyths were in two rows, and were cast [with it] when it was cast.

1 Kings 7:25

It was standing upon twelve oxen, three looking toward the north, and three looking toward the west, and three looking toward the south, and three looking toward the east; and the sea was resting above upon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

1 Kings 7:26

And its thickness was a hand's breadth, and its brim was wrought like the brim of a cup, with lily-buds: it could contain two thousand baths.

1 Kings 7:27

And he made ten bases of copper: four cubits was the length of each one base, and four cubits its breadth, and three cubits its height.

1 Kings 7:28

And this was the workmanship of the bases: They had borders, and the borders were between the corner ledges;

1 Kings 7:29

And on the borders that were between the ledges were lions, oxen, and cherubim; and upon the corner ledges it was thus also above; and likewise beneath the lions and oxen were pendant wreaths of plated work.

1 Kings 7:30

And every base had four copper wheels, and axles of copper; and its four corners had undersetters; under the laver were the undersetters cast on; at the side of each were pendants.

1 Kings 7:31

And its mouth was within the capital and above a cubit in height; but the mouth of this was rounded after the work of the base, a cubit and a half cubit; and also upon its mouth were carvings; and their borders were square, not rounded.

1 Kings 7:32

And the four wheels were under the borders; and the axletrees of the wheels were joined to the base: and the height of each one wheel was a cubit and a half cubit.

1 Kings 7:33

And the workmanship of the wheels was like the workmanship of a chariot-wheel: their axletrees, and their naves, and their felloes, and their spokes, were all cast.

1 Kings 7:34

And there were four undersetters to the four corners of each one base; the undersetters were of one piece with the base itself.

1 Kings 7:35

And on the top of the base was a rounded compass of half a cubit high: and on the top of the base were its side-ledges; and its borders were of one piece with itself.

1 Kings 7:36

And he engraved on the plates of its side-ledges and on its borders, cherubim, lions, and palm-trees: and in the open space of every one were pendant wreaths round about.

1 Kings 7:37

After this manner did he make the ten bases: one casting, one measure, one form, was there for all of them.

1 Kings 7:38

Then made he ten lavers of copper; forty baths could each one laver contain; every laver was four cubits: each one laver was upon each one base of the ten bases.

1 Kings 7:39

And he put the bases, five on the right side of the house, and five on the left side of the house: and the sea he set on the right side of the house eastward opposite the south.

1 Kings 7:40

And Hiram made the lavers, and the shovels, and the basins; so Hiram made an end of doing all the work that he made for king Solomon for the house of the Lord.

1 Kings 7:41

The two pillars, and the two bowl-shaped capitals that were on the top of the two pillars; and the two net-works, to cover the two bowl-shaped capitals which were upon the top of the pillars;

1 Kings 7:42

And the four hundred pomegranates for the two net-works, two rows of pomegranates for each one net-work, to cover the two bowl-shaped, capitals that were upon the front of the pillars;

1 Kings 7:43

And the ten bases, and the ten lavers upon the bases;

1 Kings 7:44

And the one sea, and the twelve oxen under the sea;

1 Kings 7:45

And the pots, and the shovels, and the basins; and all these vessels, which Hiram had made for king Solomon for the house of the Lord, were of polished copper.

1 Kings 7:46

In the plain of Jordan did the king cast them, in the clay-ground between Succoth and Zarethan.

1 Kings 7:47

And Solomon set down all the vessels [unweighed], because they were exceedingly many: the weight of the copper was not inquired into.

1 Kings 7:48

And Solomon made all the vessels that pertained unto the house of the Lord: The altar of gold, and the table whereupon the show-bread was, of gold,

1 Kings 7:49

And the candlesticks, five on the right side, and five on the left, before the debir, of pure gold, with the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs of gold,

1 Kings 7:50

And the bowls, and the knives, and the basins, and the spoons, and the censers of pure gold; and the hinges, for the doors of the inner house, for the holy of holies, for the doors of the house, and for the temple, [were] of gold.

1 Kings 7:51

And so was ended all the work that king Solomon made for the house of the Lord: and Solomon brought in the things sanctified by David his father, the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, [and] he placed [these] in the treasuries of the house of the Lord.

1 Kings 8:1

Then did Solomon assemble the elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, the princes of the divisions of the children of Israel, unto king Solomon in Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord out of the city of David, which is Zion.

1 Kings 8:2

And all the men of Israel assembled themselves unto king Solomon at the feast in the month Ethanim, which is the seventh month.

1 Kings 8:3

And all the elders of Israel came, and the priests took up the ark.

1 Kings 8:4

And they brought up the ark of the Lord, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle: even these did the priests and the Levites bring up.

1 Kings 8:5

And king Solomon, and all the congregation of Israel, that were assembled unto him, were with him before the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen, that could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

1 Kings 8:6

And the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the Lord unto its place, into the debir of the house, into the most holy place, under the wings of the cherubim.

1 Kings 8:7

For the cherubim spread forth their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubim covered the ark and its staves from above.

1 Kings 8:8

And they had made the staves so long, that the ends of the staves were seen out in the holy place in the front of the debir, but they were not seen without; and they have remained there until this day.

1 Kings 8:9

There was nothing in the ark save the two tables of stone, which Moses had placed therein at Horeb, where the Lord made a covenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of the land of Egypt.

1 Kings 8:10

And it came to pass, when the priests were come out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house of the Lord:

1 Kings 8:11

And the priests were not able to stand to minister because of the cloud; for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of the Lord.

1 Kings 8:12

Then said Solomon, The Lord said that he would dwell in the thick darkness.

1 Kings 8:13

I have indeed built a dwelling–house for thee, a settled place for thy abode for ever.

1 Kings 8:14

And the king turned his face about, and blessed all the congregation of Israel; and all the congregation of Israel was standing;

1 Kings 8:15

And he said, Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, who spoke with his mouth unto David my father, and hath with his hand fulfilled it, when he said,

1 Kings 8:16

Since the day that I brought forth my people Israel out of Egypt, I did not make choice of any city out of all the tribes of Israel to build a house, that my name might be therein; but I made choice of David to be over my people Israel.

1 Kings 8:17

And it was in the heart of David my father to build a house for the name of the Lord, the God of Israel.

1 Kings 8:18

But the Lord said unto David my father, Whereas it was in thy heart to build a house unto my name, thou didst well that it was in thy heart:

1 Kings 8:19

Nevertheless, thou shalt not thyself build the house; but thy son that shall come forth out of thy loins, he shall build the house unto my name.

1 Kings 8:20

And the Lord hath fulfilled his word that he hath spoken: and I am risen up in the room of David my father, and I sit on the throne of Israel, as the Lord hath spoken, and I have built the house for the name of the Lord the God of Israel.

1 Kings 8:21

And I have assigned there a place for the ark, wherein is the covenant of the Lord, which he made with our fathers, when he brought them forth out of the land of Egypt.

1 Kings 8:22

And Solomon now placed himself before the altar of the Lord in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread forth his hands toward heaven;

1 Kings 8:23

And he said, O Lord, the God of Israel, there is no god like thee, in the heavens above, and on the earth beneath, thou who keepest the covenant and the kindness for thy servants that walk before thee with all their heart;

1 Kings 8:24

Who hast kept for thy servant David my father what thou hadst promised him; and thou spokest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thy hand, as it is this day.

1 Kings 8:25

And now, O Lord, the God of Israel, keep for thy servant David my father what thou hast spoken concerning him, saying, There shall never fail thee a man in my sight who sitteth on the throne of Israel; if thy children but take heed to their way to walk before me, as thou hast walked before me.

1 Kings 8:26

And now, O God of Israel, I pray thee, let thy word be verified, which thou hast spoken unto thy servant David my father.

1 Kings 8:27

For in truth will God then dwell on the earth? behold, the heavens and the heavens of heavens cannot contain thee: how much less then this house that I have built!

1 Kings 8:28

Yet wilt thou turn thy regard unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to listen unto the entreaty and unto the prayer, which thy servant prayeth before thee today;

1 Kings 8:29

That thy eyes may be open toward this house night and day, toward the place of which thou hast said, My name shall be there; that thou mayest listen unto the prayer which thy servant shall pray at this place.

1 Kings 8:30

And listen thou to the supplication of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, which they will pray at this place: and oh, do thou hear in heaven thy dwelling-place; and hear, and forgive.

1 Kings 8:31

If any man trespass against his neighbor, and an oath be laid upon him to cause him to swear, and the oath come before thy altar in this house:

1 Kings 8:32

Then do thou hear in heaven, and act, and judge thy servants, by condemning the wicked, to bring his way upon his head; and by justifying the righteous, to give him according to his righteousness.

1 Kings 8:33

When thy people Israel are struck down before the enemy, because they have sinned against thee, and they return then to thee, and confess thy name, and pray, and make supplication unto thee in this house:

1 Kings 8:34

Then do thou hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of thy people Israel, and cause them to return unto the land which thou hast given unto their fathers.

1 Kings 8:35

When the heavens be shut up, and there be no rain, because they have sinned against thee, and they pray toward this place, and confess thy name, and turn from their sin, because thou hast afflicted them:

1 Kings 8:36

Then do thou hear in heaven, and forgive the sin of thy servants, and of thy people Israel; for thou wilt teach them the good way wherein they should walk; and give them rain upon thy land, which thou hast given to thy people for an inheritance.

1 Kings 8:37

If there be a famine in the land, if there be pestilence, blasting, mildew, or if there be locust, caterpillar, if their enemy besiege them in the land of their gates; at whatsoever plague, whatsoever sickness;

1 Kings 8:38

What prayer and supplication soever be made by any man, of all thy people Israel, when they shall be conscious every man of the plague of his own heart, and he then spread forth his hands toward this house:

1 Kings 8:39

Then do thou hear in heaven the place of thy dwelling, and forgive, and act, and give to every man in accordance with all his ways, as thou mayest know his heart; for thou, thyself alone, knowest the heart of all the children of men;

1 Kings 8:40

In order that they may fear thee all the days that they live on the face of the land which thou hast given unto our fathers.

1 Kings 8:41

But also to the stranger, who is not of thy people Israel, but cometh out of a far-off country for the sake of thy name;

1 Kings 8:42

For they will hear of thy great name, and of thy strong hand, and of thy outstretched arm; when he will come and pray at this house:

1 Kings 8:43

Mayest thou listen in heaven the place of thy dwelling, and do according to all that the stranger will call on thee for; in order that all the nations of the earth may know thy name, to fear thee, as [do] thy people Israel; and that they may understand that this house, which I have built, is called by thy name.

1 Kings 8:44

If thy people go out to battle against their enemy, on the way on which thou mayest send them, and they do pray unto the Lord in the direction of the city which thou hast chosen, and of the house that I have built for thy name:

1 Kings 8:45

Then hear thou in heaven their prayer and their supplication, and procure them justice.

1 Kings 8:46

If they sin against thee, [for there is no man that may not sin,] and thou be angry with them, and give them up before the enemy, so that their captors carry them away captive unto the land of the enemy, [be it] far or near;

1 Kings 8:47

And if they then take it to their heart in the land whither they have been carried captive, and repent, and make supplication unto thee in the land of their captors, saying, We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, we have acted wickedly;

1 Kings 8:48

And they return unto thee with all their heart, and with all their soul, in the land of their enemies, who have led them away captive, and they pray unto thee in the direction of their land, which thou hast given unto their fathers, of the city which thou hast chosen, and of the house which I have built for thy name:

1 Kings 8:49

Then hear thou in heaven the place of thy dwelling their prayer and their supplication, and procure them justice;

1 Kings 8:50

And forgive thy people for what they have sinned against thee, and all their transgressions whereby they have transgressed against thee, and cause them to find mercy before their captors, that they may have mercy on them;

1 Kings 8:51

For they are thy people, and thy heritage, whom thou hast brought forth out of Egypt, from the midst of the iron furnace;

1 Kings 8:52

That thy eyes may be open unto the supplication of thy servant, and unto the supplication of thy people Israel, to listen unto them in all for which they call unto thee;

1 Kings 8:53

For thou hast separated them unto thee as a heritage from all the people of the earth, as thou spokest by the hand of Moses thy servant, when thou broughtest forth our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord Eternal.

1 Kings 8:54

And it happened, that, when Solomon had made an end of praying all this prayer and supplication unto the Lord, he arose from before the altar of the Lord from kneeling on his knees, with his hands spread out toward heaven.

1 Kings 8:55

And he stood up, and blessed all the congregation of Israel with a loud voice, saying,

1 Kings 8:56

Blessed be the Lord, who hath given rest unto his people Israel, in accordance with all that he hath spoken: [so that] there hath not failed one word of all his good promise, which he spoke by the hand of Moses his servant.

1 Kings 8:57

The Lord our God be with us, as he was with our fathers; oh may he not leave us, nor forsake us;

1 Kings 8:58

That he may incline our heart unto him, to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and his statutes, and his ordinances, which he commanded our fathers.

1 Kings 8:59

And may these my words, wherewith I have made supplication before the Lord, be nigh unto the Lord our God day and night, that he may maintain the cause of his servant, and the cause of his people Israel in their daily requirements;

1 Kings 8:60

In order that all the nations of the earth may know that the Lord is the [true] God, and none else.

1 Kings 8:61

Let your heart therefore be entire with the Lord our God, to walk in his statutes, and to keep his commandments, as at this day.

1 Kings 8:62

And the king, and all Israel with him, offered sacrifices before the Lord.

1 Kings 8:63

And Solomon offered [as] the sacrifice of peace-offering which he offered unto the Lord, two and twenty thousand oxen, and a hundred and twenty thousand sheep. And thus did the king and all the children of Israel dedicate the house of the Lord.

1 Kings 8:64

On the same day did the king hallow the interior of the court that was before the house of the Lord; for he prepared there the burnt-offerings, and the meat-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings; because the copper altar that was before the Lord was too small to contain the burnt-offerings, and the meat-offerings, and the fat of the peace-offerings.

1 Kings 8:65

And Solomon held at that time the feast, and all Israel with him, a great assembly, from the entrance of Chamath unto the river of Egypt, before the Lord our God, seven days and seven days, even fourteen days.

1 Kings 8:66

On the eighth day he dismissed the people, and they blessed the king; and they went unto their tents joyful and glad of heart, because of all the good that the Lord had done for David his servant, and for Israel his people.

1 Kings 9:1

And it came to pass, when Solomon had finished building the house of the Lord, and the king's house, and all Solomon's desire which he was pleased to execute:

1 Kings 9:2

That the Lord appeared to Solomon the second time, as he had appeared unto him at Gib'on.

1 Kings 9:3

And the Lord said unto him, I have heard thy prayer and thy supplication, that thou hast offered before me; I have hallowed this house, which thou hast built, to put my name there for ever; and my eyes and my heart shall be there at all times.

1 Kings 9:4

And as for thee, if thou wilt walk before me, as David thy father walked, in integrity of heart, and in rectitude, to do in accordance with all that I have commanded thee, [and] wilt keep my statutes and my ordinances:

1 Kings 9:5

Then will I establish the throne of thy kingdom over Israel for ever; as I have spoken concerning David thy father, saying, There shall never fail thee a man upon the throne of Israel.

1 Kings 9:6

But if ye will at all turn away, ye or your children, from following me, and will not keep my commandments [and] my statutes which I have set before you, and go and serve other gods, and bow down to them:

1 Kings 9:7

Then will I cut off Israel from the face of the land which I have given them; and the house, which I have hallowed unto my name, will I cast away from my sight; and Israel shall be a proverb and a by-word among all the nations;

1 Kings 9:8

And at this house, [which] should be so exalted, every one that passeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss; and men will say, Why hath the Lord done thus unto this land, and unto this house?

1 Kings 9:9

And they shall say, For the cause that they forsook the Lord their God, who had brought forth their fathers out of the land of Egypt, and took hold of other gods, and bowed down to them, and served them: therefore hath the Lord brought upon them all this evil.

1 Kings 9:10

And it came to pass at the end of twenty years, when Solomon had built the two houses, the house of the Lord, and the king's house,

1 Kings 9:11

(Now Hiram the king of Tyre had supplied Solomon with cedar-trees and fir-trees, and with gold, according to all his desire,) that king Solomon then gave to Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

1 Kings 9:12

And Hiram came out from Tyre to see the cities which Solomon had given him; but they were not right in his eyes.

1 Kings 9:13

And he said, What kind of cities are these which thou hast given me, my brother? And he called them, The land of Cabul, until this day.

1 Kings 9:14

And Hiram sent to the king one hundred and twenty talents of gold.

1 Kings 9:15

And this is the manner of the levy which king Solomon raised, to build the house of the Lord, and his own house, and the Millo, and the wall of Jerusalem, and Chazor, and Megiddo, and Gezer.

1 Kings 9:16

(Pharaoh king of Egypt had gone up, and captured Gezer, and burnt it with fire, and slain the Canaanites that dwelt in the city, and given it as a marriage-present unto his daughter, Solomon's wife.

1 Kings 9:17

And Solomon built Gezer, and lower Beth-choron,

1 Kings 9:18

And Ba'alath, and Thadmor in the wilderness, in the land,

1 Kings 9:19

And all the treasure-cities that Solomon had, and the cities for the chariots, and the cities for the horsemen, and the [other] desire of Solomon which he desired to build in Jerusalem, and in Lebanon, and in all the land of his dominion.)

1 Kings 9:20

All the people that were left of the Emorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, who were not of the children of Israel,

1 Kings 9:21

Their children that were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel had not been able utterly to destroy, these did Solomon levy as tributary laborers until this day.

1 Kings 9:22

Yet of the children of Israel did Solomon make no one a bond-man; but they were the men of war, and his servants, and his princes, and his captains, and the officers of his chariots, and of his horsemen.

1 Kings 9:23

These [also] were the chiefs of the superintendents that were over Solomon's work, five hundred and fifty, who ruled over the people that wrought on the work.

1 Kings 9:24

But Pharaoh's daughter came up out of the city of David unto her house which he had built for her: then did he build the Millo.

1 Kings 9:25

And Solomon did offer three times in every year burnt-offerings and peace-offerings upon the altar which he had built unto the Lord, and he burnt incense upon the one that was before the Lord. So he finished the house.

1 Kings 9:26

And king Solomon made a ship in 'Ezyon-geber, which is near Eloth, on the shore of the Red Sea, in the land of Edom.

1 Kings 9:27

And Hiram sent in the ship his servants, seamen, that had knowledge of the sea, with the servants of Solomon.

1 Kings 9:28

And they came to Ophir, and fetched from there gold, four hundred and twenty talents, and brought it to king Solomon.

1 Kings 10:1

And when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon in connection with the name of the Lord, she came to prove him with riddles.

1 Kings 10:2

And she came to Jerusalem with an exceedingly great train, with camels bearing spices, and gold in great abundance, and precious stones: and when she was come to Solomon, she spoke with him of all that was on her heart.

1 Kings 10:3

And Solomon solved [for] her all her questions: nothing remained hidden from the king, which he did not tell her.

1 Kings 10:4

And when the queen of Sheba saw all Solomon's wisdom, and the house that he had built,

1 Kings 10:5

And the food of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the attendance of his ministers, and their apparel, and his cup-bearers, and his ascent by which he went up unto the house of the Lord: there was no more spirit in her.

1 Kings 10:6

And she said to the king, The truth only was the word that I heard in my own land of thy acts and of thy wisdom.

1 Kings 10:7

And I believed not in the words, until I came, and my eyes saw [all]: and, behold, the half hath not been told me; thou excellest in wisdom and prosperity the report which I have heard.

1 Kings 10:8

Happy are thy men, happy are these thy servants, who stand before thee continually, who hear thy wisdom.

1 Kings 10:9

Blessed be the Lord thy God, who hath had delight in thee, to place thee on the throne of Israel; because the Lord loveth Israel for ever, therefore hath he made thee king, to do justice and righteousness.

1 Kings 10:10

And she gave to the king one hundred and twenty talents of gold, and of spices a very great store, and precious stones: there came no more spices in such abundance as these which the queen of Sheba gave to king Solomon.

1 Kings 10:11

And also the ship of Hiram, that fetched gold from Ophir, brought in from Ophir in great abundance sandal-wood and precious stones.

1 Kings 10:12

And the king made of the sandal-wood a railing for the house of the Lord, and for the king's house, and harps and psalteries for the singers: there came no such sandal-wood, nor was it seen [again] until this day.

1 Kings 10:13

And king Solomon gave unto the queen of Sheba all her pleasure, whatsoever she asked, beside what Solomon gave her of his royal bounty. So she turned about and went to her own country, she and her servants.

1 Kings 10:14

Now the weight of the gold that came to Solomon in one year was six hundred and sixty and six talents of gold,

1 Kings 10:15

Beside [what he had] of the traveling tradesmen, and of the traffic of the merchants, and of the kings of confederate nations, and of the governors of the country.

1 Kings 10:16

And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: six hundred shekels of gold he used for each one target.

1 Kings 10:17

And [he made] three hundred shields of beaten gold; three manehs of gold he used for each one shield: and the king put them in the house of the forest of Lebanon.

1 Kings 10:18

The king also made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with the best gold.

1 Kings 10:19

The throne had six steps, and there was a round top on the throne behind; and there were arms on either side on the place of the seat, and two lions stood beside the arms.

1 Kings 10:20

And twelve lions stood there upon the six steps on both sides: there was not the like made in any other kingdom.

1 Kings 10:21

And all king Solomon's drinking-vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were of pure gold; none were of silver; it was not valued in the days of Solomon at the least.

1 Kings 10:22

For the king had a Tharshish-ship at sea with the ship of Hiram: once in three years the Tharshish-ship used to come home, laden with gold, and silver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks.

1 Kings 10:23

And king Solomon became greater than all the kings of the earth for riches and for wisdom.

1 Kings 10:24

And [men of] all the earth sought the presence of Solomon to hear his wisdom, which God had put in his heart.

1 Kings 10:25

And they brought every man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and garments, and armor, and spices, horses, and mules: and so year by year.

1 Kings 10:26

And Solomon gathered together chariots and horsemen: and he had a thousand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, whom he quartered in the cities for chariots, and near the king at Jerusalem.

1 Kings 10:27

And the king rendered the silver in Jerusalem like stones, and the cedars he rendered like the sycamore-trees that are in the lowlands, for abundance.

1 Kings 10:28

And Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt; and a company of the king's merchants bought a quantity at a price.

1 Kings 10:29

And a chariot-team came up and went out of Egypt for six hundred shekels of silver, and a horse for a hundred and fifty: and so for all the kings of the Hittites, and for the kings of Syria, did they bring them out by their means.

1 Kings 11:1

But king Solomon loved many strange women, beside the daughter of Pharaoh, women of the Moabites, 'Ammonites, Edomites, Zidonians, and Hittites.

1 Kings 11:2

From the nations concerning which the Lord had said unto the children of Israel, Ye shall not go in among them, nor shall they come in among you; surely they will turn away your heart after their gods: unto these Solomon did cleave to love them.

1 Kings 11:3

And he had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines: and his wives turned away his heart.

1 Kings 11:4

And it came to pass, at the time that Solomon was old, that his wives turned away his heart after other gods; and his heart was not undivided with the Lord his God, like the heart of David his father.

1 Kings 11:5

And Solomon went after 'Ashtoreth the divinity of the Zidonians, and after Milcom the abomination of the 'Ammonites.

1 Kings 11:6

And Solomon did what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, and went not fully after the Lord, like David his father.

1 Kings 11:7

Then did Solomon build a high-place for Kemosh, the abomination of Moab, on the mount that is before Jerusalem, and for Molech, the abomination of the children of 'Ammon.

1 Kings 11:8

And so did he for all his strange wives, who burnt incense and sacrificed unto their gods.

1 Kings 11:9

And the Lord was angry with Solomon; because his heart was turned away from the Lord the God of Israel, who had appeared unto him twice;

1 Kings 11:10

And had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods; but he did not keep that which the Lord had commanded.

1 Kings 11:11

And the Lord said unto Solomon, Forasmuch as this is in thy mind, and thou hast not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I commanded concerning thee: I will surely rend the kingdom from thee, and will give it to thy servant.

1 Kings 11:12

Nevertheless in thy days will I not do it, for the sake of David thy father; [but] out of the hand of thy son will I rend it.

1 Kings 11:13

Still all the kingdom will I not rend away: one tribe will I give to thy son on account of David my servant, and on account of Jerusalem which I have chosen.

1 Kings 11:14

And the Lord stirred up an adversary unto Solomon, Hadad the Edomite: he was of the king's seed in Edom.

1 Kings 11:15

It came to pass, namely, when David was in Edom, when Joab the captain of the army was gone up to bury the slain, after he had smitten every male in Edom;

1 Kings 11:16

(For six months did Joab remain there with all Israel, until he had cut off every male in Edom:)

1 Kings 11:17

That Hadad fled, he and certain Edomites of his father's servants with him, to go into Egypt; but Hadad was then yet a young lad.

1 Kings 11:18

And they arose from Midian, and came to Paran; and they took [some] men with them from Paran, and came to Egypt, unto Pharaoh the king of Egypt; who gave him a house, and decreed him a support, and gave him land.

1 Kings 11:19

And Hadad found great favor in the eyes of Pharaoh, so that he gave him for wife the sister of his own wife, the sister of Thachpeness the queen.

1 Kings 11:20

And the sister of Thachpeness bore him Genubath his son, whom Thachpeness brought up in Pharaoh's house; and Genubath remained in Pharaoh's house among the sons of Pharaoh.

1 Kings 11:21

And when Hadad heard in Egypt that David slept with his fathers, and that Joab the captain of the army was dead: Hadad said to Pharaoh, Dismiss me, that I may go to my own country.

1 Kings 11:22

Then said Pharaoh unto him, But what dost thou lack with me, that, behold, thou seekest to go to thy own country? And he answered, Nothing: nevertheless thou must let me go away.

1 Kings 11:23

And God stirred him up [another] adversary, Rezon the son of Elyada', who had fled from Hadad'ezer the king of Zobah his lord;

1 Kings 11:24

And he gathered around him some men, and became captain over a band, when David slew those [of Zobah]; and they went to Damascus, and dwelt therein, and reigned in Damascus.

1 Kings 11:25

And he was an adversary to Israel all the days of Solomon, beside the mischief that Hadad did: and he abhorred Israel, and reigned over Syria.

1 Kings 11:26

Also Jerobo'am the son of Nebat, an Ephrathite of Zeredah, the name of whose mother was Zeru'ah, a widow woman, was a servant of Solomon, and he lifted up his hand against the king.

1 Kings 11:27

And this was the occasion that he lifted up his hand against the king: Solomon built up the Millo, and closed up the breach of the city of David his father.

1 Kings 11:28

And the man Jerobo'am was a mighty man of valor: and Solomon seeing the young man that he was [also] an industrious worker, he appointed him over all the charge of the house of Joseph.

1 Kings 11:29

And it came to pass at that time when Jerobo'am went out of Jerusalem, that the prophet Achiyah the Shilonite found him on the way; and he had clad himself with a new garment; and these two were alone by themselves in the field;

1 Kings 11:30

And Achiyah caught hold of the new garment that was on him, and rent it in twelve pieces;

1 Kings 11:31

And he said to Jerobo'am, Take thee ten pieces; for thus hath said the Lord, the God of Israel, Behold, I will rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and I will give to thee the ten tribes;

1 Kings 11:32

But the one tribe shall remain for him, on account of my servant David, and on account of Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel;

1 Kings 11:33

For the cause that they have forsaken me, and have bowed down to 'Ashtoreth the divinity of the Zidonians, to Kemosh the god of Moab, and to Milcom the god of the children of 'Ammon, and have not walked in my ways, to do what is right in my eyes, and my statutes and my ordinances, like David his father.

1 Kings 11:34

Nevertheless will I not take the whole kingdom out of his hand; but I will let him remain prince all the days of his life for the sake of David my servant, whom I chose, who kept my commandments and my statutes;

1 Kings 11:35

But I will take the kingdom out of the hand of his son, and I will give it unto thee, even the ten tribes.

1 Kings 11:36

And unto his son will I give one tribe; so that there may remain a government for David my servant at all times before me in Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen for me, to put my name there.

1 Kings 11:37

But thee will I take, and thou shalt reign over all that thy soul may long for; and thou shalt be king over Israel.

1 Kings 11:38

And it shall be, if thou wilt hearken unto all that I shall command thee, and wilt walk in my ways, and do what is right in my eyes, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as David my servant did: that I will be with thee, and build thee a permanent house, as I have built for David, and I will give Israel unto thee.

1 Kings 11:39

And I will afflict the seed of David for this; but not for all times.

1 Kings 11:40

Solomon thereupon sought to put Jerobo'am to death; but Jerobo'am arose, and fled into Egypt, unto Shishak the king of Egypt, and remained in Egypt until the death of Solomon.

1 Kings 11:41

And the rest of the acts of Solomon, and all that he did and his wisdom, behold, they are written in the book of the history of Solomon.

1 Kings 11:42

And the days that Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel were forty years.

1 Kings 11:43

And Solomon slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David his father; and Rehobo'am his son became king in his stead.

1 Kings 12:1

And Rehobo'am went to Shechem; for all Israel were come to Shechem to make him king.

1 Kings 12:2

And it came to pass, when Jerobo'am the son of Nebat, heard of it, (but he was yet in Egypt, whither he was fled from the presence of king Solomon, and Jerobo'am dwelt in Egypt;

1 Kings 12:3

And they had sent and called him;) that Jerobo'am and all the congregation of Israel came, and spoke unto Rehobo'am, saying,

1 Kings 12:4

Thy father made our yoke hard; but do thou now make lighter the hard service of thy father, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us, and we will serve thee.

1 Kings 12:5

And he said unto them, Go away yet for three days, and then return to me. And the people went away.

1 Kings 12:6

Then consulted king Rehobo'am with the old men, that had stood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, and said, How do ye advise that I should give an answer to this people?

1 Kings 12:7

And they spoke unto him, saying, If thou wilt this day be a servant unto this people, and wilt serve them, and be attentive to them, and speak to them good words; then will they be servants unto thee for all times.

1 Kings 12:8

But he forsook the counsel of the old men, which they had given him, and consulted with the young men that were grown up with him, those who stood before him:

1 Kings 12:9

And he said unto them, What do you counsel how we should give an answer to this people, who have spoken to me, saying, Make lighter the yoke which thy father did put upon us?

1 Kings 12:10

Then spoke unto him the young men that were grown up with him, saying, Thus must thou say unto this people that have spoken unto thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but do thou make it lighter unto us: thus must thou speak unto them, My little finger is thicker than my father's loins.

1 Kings 12:11

And now, if my father hath burdened you with a heavy yoke, I will even add to your yoke; if my father hath chastised you with whips, then will I chastise you with scorpion-thorns.

1 Kings 12:12

When now Jerobo'am and all the people came to Rehobo'am on the third day, as the king had spoken, saying, Return to me on the third day.

1 Kings 12:13

The king answered the people harshly, and forsook the old men's counsel that they had advised him;

1 Kings 12:14

And he spoke to them after the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will even add to your yoke; my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpion-thorns.

1 Kings 12:15

Thus the king hearkened not unto the people; for it was so brought about from the Lord, in order that he might fulfill his word, which the Lord had spoken by means of Achiyah the Shilonite unto Jerobo'am the son of Nebat.

1 Kings 12:16

So when all Israel saw that the king hearkened not unto them, the people gave the king an answer saying, What portion have we in David? nor have we an inheritance in the son of Jesse; to your tents, O Israel: now see to thy own house, David. So did Israel go away unto their tents.

1 Kings 12:17

But as for the children of Israel who dwelt in the cities of Judah, over them did Rehobo'am reign.

1 Kings 12:18

Then sent king Rehobo'am Adoram, who was over the tribute; but all Israel stoned him with stones, that he died. Therefore king Rehobo'am made speed with all his might to get up into his chariot, to flee to Jerusalem.

1 Kings 12:19

So did Israel rebel against the house of David unto this day.

1 Kings 12:20

And it came to pass, when all Israel heard that Jerobo'am was returned, that they sent and called him unto the congregation, and made him king over all Israel: there was none that followed the house of David, save the tribe of Judah alone.

1 Kings 12:21

And when Rehobo'am was come to Jerusalem, he assembled all the house of Judah, with the tribe of Benjamin, a hundred and eighty thousand chosen men, warriors, to fight against the house of Israel, to bring back the kingdom to Rehobo'am the son of Solomon.

1 Kings 12:22

But the word of God came unto Shema'yah the man of God, saying,

1 Kings 12:23

Say unto Rehobo'am, the son of Solomon, the king of Judah, and unto all the house of Judah and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, saying,

1 Kings 12:24

Thus hath said the Lord, Ye shall not go up, nor fight with your brethren the children of Israel: return every man to his house; for from me hath this thing been brought about.

And they hearkened to the word of the Lord, and returned to go home, according to the word of the Lord.

1 Kings 12:25

And Jerobo'am built Shechem in the mountain of Ephraim, and dwelt therein; and he went out from there and built Penuel.

1 Kings 12:26

And Jerobo'am said in his heart, Now may the kingdom return to the house of David:

1 Kings 12:27

If this people go up to prepare sacrifices in the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, then may the heart of this people turn again unto their Lord, even unto Rehobo'am the king of Judah, and they might kill me, and return to Rehobo'am the king of Judah.

1 Kings 12:28

Whereupon the king took counsel, and he made two calves of gold, and said unto the people, You have been long enough going up to Jerusalem: behold, here are thy gods, O Israel, which have brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

1 Kings 12:29

And he placed the one in Beth-el, and the other put he in Dan.

1 Kings 12:30

And this thing became a sin; and the people went before the one, as far as Dan.

1 Kings 12:31

And he made a house of the high-places, and made priests of the lowest of the people, who were not of the sons of Levi.

1 Kings 12:32

And Jerobo'am made a feast in the eighth month, on the fifteenth day of the month, like unto the feast that is in Judah, and he offered upon the altar; so did he in Beth-el, sacrificing unto the calves that he had made: and he stationed at Beth-el the priests of the high-places whom he had made.

1 Kings 12:33

So he offered upon the altar which he had made in Beth-el on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, in the month which he had falsely devised of his own heart; and he ordained a feast unto the children of Israel, and he went up to the altar, to burn incense.

1 Kings 13:1

And, behold, there came a man of God out of Judah by the word of the Lord unto Beth-el: while Jerobo'am was standing upon the altar to burn incense.

1 Kings 13:2

And he called out against the altar by the word of the Lord, and he said, O altar, altar, thus hath said the Lord, Behold, a child shall be born unto the house of David, Josiah by name, and he shall sacrifice upon thee the priests of the high-places that burn incense upon thee, and men's bones shall be burnt upon thee.

1 Kings 13:3

And he gave on the same day a token, saying, This is the token that the Lord hath spoken, Behold, the altar shall be rent, and the ashes which are upon it shall be spilled about.

1 Kings 13:4

And it came to pass, when the king heard the word of the man of God, which he had called out against the altar in Beth-el, that Jerobo'am stretched forth his hand from off the altar, saying, Seize him. And his hand, which he had put forth against him, dried up, so that he could not draw it back to himself.

1 Kings 13:5

The altar also was rent, and the ashes were spilled about from the altar, according to the token which the man of God had given by the word of the Lord.

1 Kings 13:6

And the king commenced and said unto the man of God, Offer but entreaty before the Lord thy God, and pray in behalf of me, that my hand may return to me again. And the man of God offered his entreaty before the Lord, and the king's hand returned to him again, and became as it was before.

1 Kings 13:7

And the king spoke unto the man of God, Come home with me, and take some refreshment, and I will give thee a present.

1 Kings 13:8

But the man of God said unto the king, If thou wert to give me the half of thy house, I would not go in with thee, neither would I eat bread nor drink water in this place;

1 Kings 13:9

For so was it charged me by the word of the Lord, saying, Thou shalt not eat bread, nor drink water, nor return by the way that thou camest.

1 Kings 13:10

So he went by another way, and returned not by the way on which he was come to Beth-el.

1 Kings 13:11

Now there dwelt a certain old prophet in Beth-el; and his son came and told him all the deed that the man of God had done that day in Beth-el: the words [also] which he had spoken unto the king, these too they told to their father.

1 Kings 13:12

And their father spoke unto them, What way did he go? His sons however had seen what way had gone the man of God, who had come from Judah.

1 Kings 13:13

And he said unto his sons, Saddle me the ass. So they saddled him the ass, and he rode away thereon,

1 Kings 13:14

And he went after the man of God, and found him sitting under the oak; and he said unto him, Art thou the man of God that camest from Judah? And he said, I am.

1 Kings 13:15

Then said he unto him, Come with me home, and eat bread.

1 Kings 13:16

And he said, I cannot return with thee, nor go in with thee: neither will I eat bread nor drink water with thee in this place;

1 Kings 13:17

For a command came to me by the word of the Lord, Thou shalt not eat bread nor drink water there; thou shalt not return to go by the way [also] by which thou camest.

1 Kings 13:18

And he said unto him, I also am a prophet like thee; and an angel spoke unto me by the word of the Lord, saying, Bring him back with thee unto thy house, that he may eat bread and drink water. But he lied unto him.

1 Kings 13:19

So he returned with him, and ate bread in his house, and drank water.

1 Kings 13:20

And it came to pass, as they were sitting at the table, That the word of the Lord came unto the prophet who had brought him back;

1 Kings 13:21

And he called unto the man of God that was come from Judah, saying, Thus hath said the Lord, Forasmuch as thou hast disobeyed the order of the Lord, and hast not kept the commandment which the Lord thy God had commanded thee;

1 Kings 13:22

But didst return, and hast eaten bread and drunk water in the place, of which he had spoken to thee, Thou shalt not eat bread, nor drink water: thy dead body shall not come unto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

1 Kings 13:23

And it came to pass, after he had eaten bread, and after he had drunk, that he saddled for him the ass, [to wit,] for the prophet whom he had brought back.

1 Kings 13:24

And when he was gone, a lion met him on the way, and slew him; and his corpse remained cast down on the way, and the ass stood by it, the lion also stood by the corpse.

1 Kings 13:25

And, behold, men passed by, and saw the corpse cast down on the way, and the lion standing by the corpse; and they came and spoke of it in the city where the old prophet dwelt.

1 Kings 13:26

And when the prophet that had brought him back from the way heard it, he said, It is the man of God who was disobedient unto the order of the Lord; wherefore the Lord hath given him up unto the lion, who hath torn him, and slain him, according to the word of the Lord, which he had spoken unto him.

1 Kings 13:27

And he spoke to his sons, saying, Saddle me the ass. And they saddled him.

1 Kings 13:28

And he went and found his corpse cast down on the way, and the ass and the lion standing by the corpse: the lion had not eaten the corpse, nor torn the ass.

1 Kings 13:29

And the prophet took up the corpse of the man of God, and laid it upon the ass, and brought it back; and he came to the city of the old prophet, to lament for, and to bury him.

1 Kings 13:30

And he laid his corpse in his own sepulchre; and they lamented over him, "Alas, my brother!"

1 Kings 13:31

And it came to pass, after he had buried him, that he spoke to his sons, saying, When I am dead, then bury me in the sepulchre wherein the man of God is buried; beside his bones lay ye my bones;

1 Kings 13:32

For the thing which he called out by the word of the Lord against the altar which is in Beth-el, and against all the houses of the high-places which are in the cities of Samaria, will surely come to pass.

1 Kings 13:33

After this event Jerobo'am returned not from his evil way; but made again of the lowest of the people priests of the high-places: whosoever desired it, he consecrated, that he might become one of the priests of the high-places.

1 Kings 13:34

And he became through this thing the cause of sin unto the house of Jerobo'am, and to cause that it was blotted out, and destroyed from off the face of the earth.

1 Kings 14:1

At that time Abiyah the son of Jerobo'am fell sick.

1 Kings 14:2

And Jerobo'am said to his wife, Arise, I pray thee, and disguise thyself, that people may not know that thou art the wife of Jerobo'am; and go to Shiloh: behold, there is Achiyahu the prophet, who spoke of me that [I should become] king over this people.

1 Kings 14:3

And take with thee ten loaves of bread and spice-cakes, and a cruise of honey, and go to him: he will tell thee what is to become of the lad.

1 Kings 14:4

And Jerobo'am's wife did so, and arose, and went to Shiloh, and came to the house of Achiyahu. But Achiyahu was not able to see; for his eyes were set by reason of his high age.

1 Kings 14:5

And the Lord had said unto Achiyahu, Behold the wife of Jerobo'am is coming to inquire a word of thee about her son; for he is sick: thus and thus shalt thou speak unto her; for it will be, when she cometh in, that she will feign to be another.

1 Kings 14:6

And it happened, when Achiyahu heard the sound of her feet, as she came in at the door, that he said, Come in, thou wife of Jerobo'am; why is this, that thou feignest to be another? but I am sent to thee with a hard message.

1 Kings 14:7

Go, say to Jerobo'am, Thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel, Forasmuch as I exalted thee from the midst of the people, and made thee prince over my people Israel,

1 Kings 14:8

And I rent the kingdom away from the house of David, and gave it unto thee; whereas thou hast not been like my servant David, who kept my commandments, and who followed after me with all his heart, to do only what is right in my eyes;

1 Kings 14:9

And thou hast done more evil than all that were before thee; and thou art gone and hast made unto thyself other gods, and molten images, to provoke me to anger, and me hast thou cast behind thy back:

1 Kings 14:10

Therefore, behold, will I bring evil upon the house of Jerobo'am, and will cut off from Jerobo'am every male, [also] the guarded and fortified in Israel; and I will sweep out after the house of Jerobo'am as one sweepeth away the dung till there be nothing left of it.

1 Kings 14:11

Him that dieth of Jerobo'am in the city shall the dogs eat; and him that dieth in the field shall the fowls of the heavens eat; for the Lord hath spoken it.

1 Kings 14:12

But thou, arise now, go to thy own house: when thy feet enter into the city, the child shall die.

1 Kings 14:13

And all Israel shall mourn for him, and bury him; for this one alone shall come of Jerobo'am's [family] to the grave; because there hath been found in him some good thing toward the Lord the God of Israel in the house of Jerobo'am.

1 Kings 14:14

And the Lord will raise up unto himself a king over Israel, who shall cut off the house of Jerobo'am what is here this day, and what will be after this.

1 Kings 14:15

And the Lord will smite Israel, as the reed is shaken in the water, and he will pull up Israel out of this good land, which he gave to their fathers, and will scatter them on the other side of the river; because they have made their groves, provoking the Lord to anger.

1 Kings 14:16

And he will give Israel up for the sake of the sins of Jerobo'am, who did sin, and who induced Israel to sin.

1 Kings 14:17

And Jerobo'am's wife arose, and departed, and came to Thirzah; [and] as she came to the threshold of the door, the lad died:

1 Kings 14:18

And they buried him; and all Israel mourned for him, according to the word of the Lord, which he had spoken by the hand of his servant Achiyahu the prophet.

1 Kings 14:19

And the rest of the acts of Jerobo'am, how he warred, and how he reigned, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1 Kings 14:20

And the days which Jerobo'am reigned were two and twenty years; and he slept with his fathers, and Nadab his son became king in his stead.

1 Kings 14:21

And Rehobo'am the son of Solomon reigned in Judah. Rehobo'am was forty and one years old when he became king, and seventeen years did he reign in Jerusalem, the city which the Lord had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there. And his mother's name was Na'amah the 'Ammonitess.

1 Kings 14:22

And Judah did what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, and they moved him to wrath more than all that their fathers had done, with their sins which they committed.

1 Kings 14:23

And they also built themselves high-places, and standing images, and groves, on every high hill, and under every green tree.

1 Kings 14:24

And sodomites also were in the land: they acted in accordance with all the abominable deeds of the nations which the Lord had driven out before the children of Israel.

1 Kings 14:25

And it came to pass in the fifth year of king Rehobo'am, that Shishak the king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem:

1 Kings 14:26

And he took away the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house; yea, every thing did he take away; and he took away all the shields of gold which Solomon had made.

1 Kings 14:27

And king Rehobo'am made in their stead shields of copper, and committed them for keeping into the hand of the chiefs of the runners, who kept guard at the door of the king's house.

1 Kings 14:28

And it happened whenever the king went into the house of the Lord, that the runners used to bear them, and carried them then back into the apartment of the runners.

1 Kings 14:29

And the rest of the acts of Rehobo'am, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

1 Kings 14:30

And there was war between Rehobo'am and Jerobo'am all the days.

1 Kings 14:31

And Rehobo'am slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David. And his mother's name was Na'amah the 'Ammonitess. And Abiyam his son became king in his stead.

1 Kings 15:1

Now in the eighteenth year of king Jerobo'am the son of Nebat became Abiyam king over Judah.

1 Kings 15:2

Three years he reigned in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Ma'achah, the daughter of Abishalom.

1 Kings 15:3

And he walked in all the sins of his father, which he had done before him; and his heart was not entire with the Lord his God, like the heart of David his father.

1 Kings 15:4

Nevertheless for the sake of David did the Lord his God give him a rule in Jerusalem, to set up his son after him, and to allow Jerusalem to exist.

1 Kings 15:5

Because David did what is right in the eyes of the Lord, and turned not aside from all that he had commanded him all the days of his life, save only in the matter of Uriyah the Hittite.

1 Kings 15:6

And there had been war between Rehobo'am and Jerobo'am all the days of his life.

1 Kings 15:7

And the rest of the acts of Abiyam, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah. And there was [also] war between Abiyam and Jerobo'am.

1 Kings 15:8

And Abiyam slept with his fathers; and they buried him in the city of David: and Assa his son became king in his stead.

1 Kings 15:9

And in the twentieth year of Jerobo'am the king of Israel became Assa king over Judah.

1 Kings 15:10

And forty and one years did he reign in Jerusalem. And the name of his mother was Ma'achah, the daughter of Abishalom.

1 Kings 15:11

And Assa did what is right in the eyes of the Lord, like David his father.

1 Kings 15:12

And he put away the sodomites out of the land, and removed all the idols which his fathers had made.

1 Kings 15:13

And also Ma'achah his mother, even her he removed from being queen; because she had made a scandalous image for the grove; and Assa cut down her scandalous image, and burnt it by the brook Kidron.

1 Kings 15:14

But the high-places were not removed; nevertheless Assa's heart was entire with the Lord all his days.

1 Kings 15:15

And he brought the things which his father had sanctified, and his own sanctified things, into the house of the Lord, silver, and gold, and vessels.

1 Kings 15:16

And there was war between Assa and Ba'sha the king of Israel all their days.

1 Kings 15:17

And Ba'sha the king of Israel went up against Judah, and built Ramah, in order not to suffer any one to go out or come in to Assa the king of Judah.

1 Kings 15:18

Then did Assa take all the silver and the gold that were left in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house, and gave them into the hand of his servants; and king Assa sent them to Ben-hadad, the son of Tabrimmon, the son of Chesyon, the king of Syria, who dwelt in Damascus, saying,

1 Kings 15:19

A covenant is between me and thee, [as] between my father and thy father: behold, I have sent unto thee a present of silver and gold; go and do break thy covenant with Ba'sha the king of Israel, that he may withdraw from me.

1 Kings 15:20

And Ben-hadad hearkened unto king Assa, and sent the captains of the armies which he had against the cities of Israel, and smote 'Iyon, and Dan, and Abel-beth-ma'achah, and the whole of Kinneroth, with all the land of Naphtali.

1 Kings 15:21

And it came to pass, when Ba'sha heard this, that he left off the building of Ramah, and remained in Tirzah.

1 Kings 15:22

Then king Assa called together by proclamation all Judah, none being exempted: and they took away the stones of Ramah, and its timber, wherewith Ba'sha had built; and king Assa built with them Geba' of Benjamin, and Mizpah.

1 Kings 15:23

And the rest of all the acts of Assa, and all his mighty deeds, and all that he did, and the cities which he built, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah. Nevertheless in the time of his old age he became diseased in his feet.

1 Kings 15:27

And Ba'sha the son of Achiyah, of the house of Issachar, conspired against him; and Ba'sha smote him at Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines: while Nadab and all Israel were besieging Gibbethon.

1 Kings 15:28

And Ba'sha slew him in the third year of Assa the king of Judah, and became king in his stead.

1 Kings 15:29

And it came to pass, when he reigned, that he smote all the house of Jerobo'am; he left not any that breathed unto Jerobo'am, until he had destroyed him, according to the word of the Lord, which he had spoken by his servant Achiyah the Shilonite;

1 Kings 15:30

Because of the sins of Jerobo'am which he had sinned, and through which he had induced Israel to sin, by his provoking wherewith he provoked the Lord the God of Israel to anger.

1 Kings 15:31

And the rest of the acts of Nadab, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1 Kings 16:1

Then came the word of the Lord to Jehu the son of Chanani against Ba'sha, saying,

1 Kings 16:2

Forasmuch as I lifted thee up out of the dust, and I set thee as prince over my people Israel; and thou hast walked in the way of Jerobo'am, and hast induced my people Israel to sin, to provoke me to anger with their sins:

1 Kings 16:3

Behold, I will sweep out after Ba'sha, and after his house; and I will render thy house like the house of Jerobo'am the son of Nebat;

1 Kings 16:4

Him that dieth of Ba'sha in the city shall the dogs eat; and him that dieth of his in the field shall the fowls of the heavens eat.

1 Kings 16:5

And the rest of the acts of Ba'sha, and what he did, and his mighty deeds, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1 Kings 16:6

And Ba'sha slept with his fathers, and was buried in Thirzah: and Elah his son became king in his stead.

1 Kings 16:7

And also by the hand of Jehu the son of Chanani, the prophet, came the word of the Lord against Ba'sha, and against his house, both for all the evil that he did in the eyes of the Lord, to provoke him to anger with the work of his hands, thus being like the house of Jerobo'am; and because he had killed him.

1 Kings 16:8

In the twenty and sixth year of Assa the king of Judah became Elah the son of Ba'sha king over Israel in Thirzah, [for] two years.

1 Kings 16:9

And there conspired against him his servant Zimri, captain of half the chariots, as he was in Thirzah, drinking himself drunk in the house of Arza, who was set over the house in Thirzah.

1 Kings 16:10

And Zimri went in and smote him, and killed him, in the twenty and seventh year of Assa the king of Judah, and became king in his stead.

1 Kings 16:11

And it came to pass, when he began to reign, as soon as he sat on his throne, that he slew all the house of Ba'sha: he left him not a single male, neither of his kinsfolks, nor of his friends.

1 Kings 16:12

Thus did Zimri exterminate all the house of Ba'sha, according to the word of the Lord, which he had spoken against Ba'sha by the agency of Jehu the prophet,

1 Kings 16:13

For all the sins of Ba'sha, and the sins of Elah his son, by which they had sinned, and by which they had induced Israel to sin, to provoke the Lord the God of Israel to anger with their vanities.

1 Kings 16:14

Now the rest of the acts of Elah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1 Kings 16:15

In the twenty and seventh year of Assa the king of Judah did Zimri reign seven days in Thirzah: and the people were encamped against Gibbethon, which belonged to the Philistines.

1 Kings 16:17

And 'Omri went up, and all Israel with him from Gibbethon, and they besieged Thirzah.

1 Kings 16:18

And it came to pass, when Zimri saw that the city was captured, that he went into the strong-hold of the king's house, and burnt the king's house over him with fire, and he died;

1 Kings 16:19

For his sins which he had sinned, in doing what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, to walk in the way of Jerobo'am, and in his sin which he did, to induce Israel to sin.

1 Kings 16:20

And the rest of the acts of Zimri, and his conspiracy that he contrived, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1 Kings 16:21

At that time were the people of Israel divided into two parts: one half of the people followed Tibni the son of Ginath, to make him king; and the other half followed 'Omri.

1 Kings 16:22

But the people that followed 'Omri prevailed against the people that followed Tibni the son of Ginath: and Tibni [also] died, and 'Omri became king.

1 Kings 16:23

In the thirty and first year of Assa the king of Judah became 'Omri king over Israel, [for] twelve years; in Thirzah he reigned six years.

1 Kings 16:24

And he bought the mount Samaria, of Shemer for two talents of silver, and built on the mount, and called the name of the city which he had built, after the name of Shemer, the Lord of the mount, Samaria.

And Achab the son of 'omri became king over Israel in the thirty and eighth year of Assa the king of Judah; and Achab the son of 'Omri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty and two years.

1 Kings 16:30

And Achab the son of 'Omri did what is evil in the eyes of the Lord more than all that had been before him.

1 Kings 16:31

And it came to pass, as if it had been too light a thing for him to walk in the sins of Jerobo'am the son of Nebat, that he took for wife Izebel the daughter of Ethba'al the king of the Zidonians, and went and served Ba'al, and worshipped him.

1 Kings 16:32

And he erected an altar for Ba'al in the house of Ba'al, which he had built in Samaria.

1 Kings 16:33

And Achab made a grove; and Achab did yet more, so as to provoke the Lord the God of Israel to anger, than all the kings of Israel that had been before him.

1 Kings 16:34

In his days did Chiel the Beth-elite build Jericho: with Abiram his first-born laid he the foundation thereof, and with Segub his youngest son set he up the gates thereof, according to the word of the Lord, which he had spoken by means of Joshua the son of Nun.

1 Kings 17:1

And the word of the Lord came unto him, saying,

1 Kings 17:3

Go away from here, and turn thyself eastward, and hide thyself by the brook Kerith, which is to the east of the Jordan.

1 Kings 17:4

And it shall be, that out of the brook shalt thou drink; and the ravens have I ordained to sustain thee there.

1 Kings 17:5

And he went and did according to the word of the Lord; and he went and remained by the brook Kerith, that is to the east of the Jordan.

1 Kings 17:6

And the ravens brought him bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening: and out of the brook he used to drink.

1 Kings 17:9

Arise, go unto Zarephath, which belongeth to Zidon, and remain there: behold, I have ordained there a widow–woman to sustain thee.

1 Kings 17:10

So he arose and went to Zarephath; and when he came to the gate of the city, behold, there was there a widow–woman gathering sticks of wood: and he called her, and said, Fetch me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, that I may drink.

1 Kings 17:11

And as she went to fetch it, he called to her, and said, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsel of bread in thy hand.

1 Kings 17:12

And she said, As the Lord thy God liveth, I have nothing baked, but a handful of meal in a jar, and a little oil in a cruise: and, behold, I am gathering a couple of sticks, that I may go in and prepare it for me and my son; and when we have eaten it, we shall have to die.

1 Kings 17:13

And Elijah said unto her, Fear not; go and do as thou hast said; but make me thereof a little cake at first, and bring it out unto me, and for thee and for thy son shalt thou prepare [something] afterward.

1 Kings 17:14

For thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel, The jar of meal shall not fail, neither shall the cruise of oil diminish, until the day that the Lord giveth rain upon the face of the earth.

1 Kings 17:15

And she went and did according to the word of Elijah: and she, and he, and her household, did eat [many] days.

1 Kings 17:16

The jar of meal failed not, nor did the cruise of oil diminish, according to the word of the Lord, which he had spoken through means of Elijah.

1 Kings 17:17

And it came to pass after these events, that the son of the woman, the mistress of the house, fell sick; and his sickness became very severe, until that at length there was no breath left in him.

And the Lord listened to the voice of Elijah: and the soul of the child returned into him, and he revived.

And Elijah took the child, and brought him down out of the upper chamber into the house, and gave him unto his mother; and Elijah said, See, thy son liveth.

1 Kings 17:24

And it happened, when Izebel cut off the prophets of the Lord, that ‘Obadiah took a hundred prophets, and hid them fifty each in one cave, and provided them with bread and water;)

1 Kings 18:5

And Achab said unto ‘Obadiah, Go through the land, unto all the springs of water, and unto all the brooks, peradventure we may find grass and keep alive horse and mule, that we lose not all the cattle.

1 Kings 18:6

So they divided between them the land to pass through it: Achab went one way by himself alone, and ‘Obadiah went another way by himself alone.

1 Kings 18:7

And as ‘Obadiah was on the way, behold, Elijah came toward him; and he recognized him, and fell on his face, and said, Art thou here indeed, my Lord Elijah?

1 Kings 18:8

And he said unto him, I am: go, say unto thy Lord, Behold, Elijah is here.

1 Kings 18:9

And he said, What have I sinned, that thou wouldst deliver thy servant into the hand of Achab, to slay me?

1 Kings 18:10

As the Lord thy God liveth, there is not a nation or kingdom whither my Lord hath not sent to seek thee; and when they said, He is not here: he caused that kingdom and nation to take an oath, that no one could find thee.

1 Kings 18:11

And now thou sayest, Go, say unto thy Lord, Behold, here is Elijah.

1 Kings 18:12

And it may come to pass, that, when I go from thee, the spirit of the Lord may carry thee whither I know not; and when I come to inform Achab, and he cannot find thee, he will slay me; but I thy servant have feared the Lord from my youth.

1 Kings 18:13

Hath it not been told unto my Lord what I did when Izebel slew the prophets of the Lord, how I hid a hundred men of the prophets of the Lord, fifty each in one cave, and provided them with bread and water?

1 Kings 18:14

And now thou sayest, Go say to thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here: and he will slay me.

1 Kings 18:15

Then said Elijah, As the Lord of hosts liveth, before whom I have stood, surely today will I show myself unto him.

1 Kings 18:17

And it came to pass, when Achab saw Elijah, that Achab said unto him, Art thou he that troubleth Israel?

1 Kings 18:18

And he answered, I have not troubled Israel; but thou, and thy father's house, through your forsaking the commandments of the Lord, and because thou hast followed the Be'alim.

1 Kings 18:19

And now send, assemble unto me all Israel at Mount Carmel, and the prophets of Ba'al four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the grove four hundred, who eat at the table of Izebel.

And Elijah said unto the people, I have been left a prophet of the Lord by myself alone; but the prophets of Ba'al are four hundred and fifty men.

1 Kings 18:23

Therefore let there be given unto us two bullocks; and let them choose for themselves the one bullock, and cut it in pieces, and lay it on wood, and put no fire to it: and I will prepare the other bullock, and lay it on wood, and put no fire to it.

1 Kings 18:24

And do ye call on the name of your god, and I will call on the name of the Lord: and it shall be that the God who answereth by fire, he shall be the [true] God. And all the people answered and said, The proposal is good.

1 Kings 18:25

And Elijah said unto the prophets of Ba'al, Choose you for yourselves the one bullock, and prepare it first; for ye are the many; and call on the name of your god, but put no fire to it.

1 Kings 18:26

And they took the bullock which he had given to them, and they prepared it; and they called on the name of Ba'al from morning even until noon, saying, O Ba'al, answer us; but there was no voice, nor any answer: and they danced about the altar which had been made.

1 Kings 18:27

And it came to pass at noon, that Elijah mocked at them, and said, Call with a loud voice; for he is a god; either he is holding council, or he is busy in some pursuit, or he is on a journey; or peradventure he sleepeth, and may thus awaken.

1 Kings 18:28

And they called with a loud voice and cut themselves after their custom with knives and spears, till the blood gushed out over them.

1 Kings 18:29

And it came to pass, when midday was past, that they practised their follies until near [the time of] the offering of the evening-sacrifice; but there was neither voice, nor any answer, nor any perceptible sound.

1 Kings 18:31

And Elijah took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of the sons of Jacob, unto whom the word of the Lord was come, saying, Israel shall be thy name.

1 Kings 18:32

And he built of the stones an altar in the name of the Lord; and he made a trench as great as would contain two seahs of seed round about the altar.

1 Kings 18:33

And he put in order the wood, and cut the bullock in pieces, and laid them on the wood,

1 Kings 18:34

And he said, Fill four jars with water; and they had to pour it on the burnt-offering, and on the wood: and he said, Do it the second time: and they did it the second time: and he said, Do it the third time; and they did it the third time.

1 Kings 18:35

And the water ran round about the altar; and the trench also he filled with water.

1 Kings 18:36

And it came to pass, at [the time of] the offering of the evening-sacrifice, that Elijah the prophet came near, and said, O Lord, God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Israel, this day let it be known that thou art God in Israel, and that I am thy servant, and that at thy word I have done all these things.

1 Kings 18:37

Answer me, O Lord, answer me, and let all this people know that thou, O Lord, art the [true] God, and thou wilt [then] have turned their heart back again.

1 Kings 18:38

And there fell a fire of the Lord, and consumed the burnt-offering, and the wood, and the stones, and the dust; and the water also that was in the trench did it lick up.

1 Kings 18:39

And when all the people saw this, they fell on their faces; and they said, the Lord—he is the God; the Lord—he is the God.

1 Kings 18:43

And he said to his servant, Go up, I pray thee, look in the direction of the sea. And he went up, and looked, and said, Not the least [is visible]. And he said, Go again, seven times.

1 Kings 18:44

And it came to pass at the seventh time, that he said, Behold, there is a little cloud like a man's hand arising out of the sea. And he said, Go up, say unto Achab, Harness up [thy chariot], and come down, that the rain may not detain thee.

1 Kings 18:45

And it came to pass in the mean while, that the heavens were blackened with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. And Achab rode, and went to Yizre'el.

1 Kings 19:1

And Achab told Izebel all that Elijah had done, and withal that he had slain all the prophets with the sword.

1 Kings 19:2

Then sent Izebel a messenger unto Elijah, saying, So may the gods do to me, and may they thus continue, if about this time tomorrow I do not render thy life as the life of any one of them.

1 Kings 19:3

And when he saw this, he arose, and went for his life, and came to Beer-sheba', which belongeth to Judah, and he left his young man there.

1 Kings 19:4

But he himself went forward into the wilderness a day's journey, and he came and sat down under a certain broom-bush: and he requested for himself to die; and he said, It is enough, now, O Lord, take away my soul; for I am not better than my fathers.

1 Kings 19:5

And he laid himself down and slept under a certain broom-bush, and, behold then, an angel was touching him, and said unto him, Arise, eat.

1 Kings 19:6

And he looked about, and, behold, there was at his head a cake baked on coals, and a cruise of water; and he ate and drank, and laid himself down again.

1 Kings 19:7

And the angel of the Lord came again, the second time, and touched him, and said, Arise, eat; because the journey is yet far for thee.

1 Kings 19:8

And he arose, and ate and drank; and he went on the strength of that eating forty days and forty nights unto the mount of God, Horeb.

1 Kings 19:9

And he came there unto a cave, and remained there over night: and, behold, the word of the Lord came to him, and said unto him, What dost thou here, Elijah?

1 Kings 19:10

And he said, I have been very zealous for the Lord, the God of hosts; for the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, thy altars have they thrown down, and thy prophets have they slain with the sword: and I am left by myself alone, and they have sought my life, to take it away.

1 Kings 19:11

And he said, Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the Lord: and, behold, the Lord passed by, and a wind, great and strong, rending the mountains, and breaking in pieces the rocks [went] before the Lord; but not in the wind was the Lord: and after the wind was an earthquake: but not in the earthquake was the Lord;

1 Kings 19:12

And after the earthquake was a fire; but not in the fire was the Lord; and after the fire was the sound of a soft whisper.

1 Kings 19:13

And it came to pass, when Elijah heard it, that he concealed his face in his mantle, and went out, and stood in the entrance of the cave: and, behold, there came a voice unto him, and said, What dost thou here, Elijah?

1 Kings 19:14

And he said, I have been very zealous for the Lord, the God of hosts; because the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, thy altars have they thrown down, and thy prophets have they slain with the sword: and I am left by myself alone, and they have sought my life, to take it away.

1 Kings 19:15

And his servants said unto him, Behold now, we have heard that the kings of the house of Israel are kindly kings; let us, we pray thee, put sackcloth on our loins, and ropes upon our heads, and go out to the king of Israel; peradventure he may save thy life.

1 Kings 20:32

So they girded sackcloth on their loins, and ropes on their heads, and came to the king of Israel, and said, Thy servant Ben-hadad hath said, I pray thee, let me live. And he said, Is he yet alive? he is my brother.

1 Kings 20:33

Now the men took it for a good sign, and hastened and caught at his word, whether it was his earnest; and they said, Thy brother Ben-hadad! But he said, Go ye, bring him. Then came Ben-hadad forth to him; and he caused him to come up into the chariot.

1 Kings 20:34

And he said unto him, The cities, which my father took from thy father, will I restore; and thou canst lay out for thyself streets in Damascus, as my father laid out in Samaria. "And I for my part will send thee away with this covenant." So he made a covenant with him, and sent him away.

1 Kings 20:40

But it happened as thy servant was Busy here and there, that he was gone. And the king of Israel said unto him, So is thy sentence: thou thyself hast decided it.

And the king of Israel went to his house low-spirited and displeased, and he came to Samaria.

1 Kings 21:1

And it came to pass after these events, that Naboth the Yizre'elite had a vineyard, which was in Yizre'el, near the palace of Achab the king of Samaria.

1 Kings 21:2

And Achab spoke unto Naboth, saying, Give me thy vineyard, that it may serve me for a herb-garden, because it is near unto my house; and I will give thee in its stead a vineyard better than it; [or,] if it seem good in thy eyes, I will give thee the money, the value of the same.

1 Kings 21:3

And Naboth said to Achab, Far be it from me before the Lord, that I should give the inheritance of my fathers unto thee.

1 Kings 21:4

And Achab came into his house low-spirited and displeased because of the word which Naboth the Yizre'elite had spoken to him, when he said, I will not give unto thee the inheritance of my fathers. And he laid himself down upon his bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no food.

1 Kings 21:5

But Izebel his wife came to him, and spoke unto him, Why is thy spirit so sad! and why eatest thou no food?

1 Kings 21:6

And he said unto her, Because I spoke unto Naboth the Yizre'elite, and said unto him, Give me thy vineyard for money; or else, if it please thee, I will give thee a vineyard in its stead; but he hath said, I will not give unto thee my vineyard.

1 Kings 21:7

Then said unto him Izebel his wife, Dost thou now govern the kingdom of Israel? arise, eat bread, and let thy heart be merry: I will myself give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Yizre'elite.

1 Kings 21:8

So she wrote letters in Achab's name, and sealed them with his seal; and she sent the letters unto the elders and unto the nobles who were in his city, and who dwelt near Naboth.

And she wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaim a fast, and cause Naboth to sit at the head of the people;

1 Kings 21:10

And seat two men, worthless fellows, opposite to him, and let them bear witness against him, saying, Thou hast blasphemed God and the king; and then lead him forth, and stone him, that he may die.

And the men of his city, the elders and the nobles, those who dwelt in his city, did as Izebel had sent unto them, as was written in the letters which she had sent unto them.

They proclaimed a fast, and caused Naboth to sit at the head of the people.

And there came in two men, worthless fellows, and seated themselves opposite to him; and these worthless men testified against him, against Naboth, in the presence of the people, saying, Naboth hath blasphemed God and the king. Then they led him forth out of the city, and stoned him with stones, that he died.

1 Kings 21:14

And they sent to Izebel, saying, Naboth hath been stoned, and is dead.

1 Kings 21:15

And it came to pass, when Izebel heard that Naboth had been stoned, and was dead, that Izebel said to Achab, Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Yizre'elite, which he refused to give thee for money; for Naboth is not alive, but dead.

1 Kings 21:17

And the word of the Lord came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying,

1 Kings 21:18

1 Kings 21:19

And thou shalt speak unto him, saying, Thus hath said the Lord, Hast thou murdered, and also taken possession? And thou shalt speak unto him, saying, Thus hath said the Lord, In the place where the dogs licked the blood of Naboth shall the dogs lick thy blood, yes, thine also.

1 Kings 21:20

And Achab said to Elijah, Hast thou found me, O my enemy? And he answered, I have found thee: because thou hast sold thyself to do what is evil in the eyes of the Lord.

1 Kings 21:21

Behold, I will bring evil upon thee, and I will sweep out after thee, and will cut off from Achab every male, and the guarded and fortified in Israel,

1 Kings 21:22

And I will make thy house like the house of Jerobo'am the son of Nebat, and like the house of Ba'sha the son of Achiyah, for the provocation wherewith thou hast provoked [me] to anger, and induced Israel to sin.

1 Kings 21:23

And also concerning Izebel hath the Lord spoken, saying, The dogs shall eat Izebel in the valley of Yizre'el.

1 Kings 21:24

Him that dieth of Achab in the city shall the dogs eat; and him that dieth in the field shall the fowls of the heavens eat.

1 Kings 21:25

But indeed there was none like unto Achab, who sold himself to do what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, to which Izebel his wife incited him.

1 Kings 21:26

And he acted very abominably in following the idols, in all things just as had done the Emorites, whom the Lord had driven out from before the children of Israel.

And the word of the Lord came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying,

2 Kings 4:23

And he said, Wherefore art thou going to him today? it is neither new moon, nor sabbath. And she said, It is well.

2 Kings 4:24

Then she saddled the she-ass, and said to her servant, Drive, and go forward; do not restrain me in riding, unless I say it to thee.

2 Kings 4:25

So she went and came unto the man of God to mount Carmel; and it came to pass, when the man of God saw her afar off, that he said to Gehazi his servant, Behold, yonder that Shunammite.

2 Kings 4:26

Now do run to meet her, and say unto her, Is it well with thee? is it well with thy husband? is it well with thy child? and she answered, It is well.

2 Kings 4:27

And she came to the man of God to the mount, and caught hold of his feet; and Gehazi came near to thrust her away; but the man of God said, Let her alone; for her soul is grieved within her; and the Lord hath hidden it from me, and hath not told it me.

And she said, Did I request a son from my Lord? did I not say, Do not lead me astray?

And the mother of the lad said, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. And he arose and followed her.

2 Kings 4:34

And he went up, and laid himself upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands; and he stretched himself upon him: and the flesh of the child became warm.

2 Kings 4:35

Then he returned, and walked in the house to and fro; and went up, and stretched himself [again] upon him; and the lad sneezed as many as seven times, and the lad opened his eyes.

2 Kings 4:36

And he called Gehazi, and said, Call this Shunammite: so he called her, and she came in unto him; and he said, Take up thy son.

2 Kings 4:38

And one went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a wild vine, and gathered thereof wild colocynths his garment full, and came and cut them up into the pot of pottage; for they knew them not.

2 Kings 4:40

And they poured it out for the men to eat; and it came to pass, as they were eating of the pottage, that they cried out, and said, Death is in the pot, O man of God. And they could not eat.

2 Kings 4:41

But he said, Then bring some meal. And he cast it into the pot; and he said, Pour it out for the people, that they may eat. And there was nothing bad in the pot.

2 Kings 4:42

And there came a man from Ba'alshalishah, and brought unto the man of God bread of the first-fruits, twenty loaves of barley bread, and fresh ears of corn in his scrip: and he said, Give it unto the people, that they may eat.

And his servitor said, What, shall I set this before a hundred men? And he said, Give it unto the people, that they may eat; for thus hath said the Lord, They shall eat, and shall leave [thereof].

2 Kings 4:44

So he set it before them, and they ate, and left thereof, according to the word of the Lord.

2 Kings 5:1

And Na'aman, the captain of the army of the king of Syria, was a great man before his Lord, and highly honored; because by him had the Lord given victory unto Syria: and this man was valiant in war, [but] a leper.

And the Syrians had gone out in predatory troops, and had brought away captive out of the land of Israel a little maiden; and she waited on Na'aman's wife.

2 Kings 5:3

And she said unto her mistress, Oh that my Lord were but before the prophet that is in Samaria! then would he heal him of his leprosy.

And he went in, and told his lord, saying, Thus and thus hath spoken the maiden that is from the land of Israel.

2 Kings 5:5

And the king of Syria said, Go to, go, and I will send a letter unto the king of Israel. And he departed, and took with him ten talents of silver, and six thousand pieces of gold, and ten changes of garments.

And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, which said, And now when this letter cometh unto thee, behold, I have sent to thee Na'aman my servant, that thou mayest heal him of his leprosy.

2 Kings 5:7

And it came to pass, when the king of Israel read the letter, that he rent his clothes, and said, Am I God, to kill and to make alive, that this one doth send unto me to heal a man of his leprosy? for know to a certainty, I pray you, and see that he but seeketh a quarrel against me.

2 Kings 5:8

And it happened, when Elisha' the man of God heard that the king of Israel had rent his clothes, that he sent to the king, saying, Wherefore hast thou rent thy clothes? let him but come to me, and he shall know that there is a prophet in Israel.

And Elisha' sent a messenger unto him, saying, Go and bathe seven times in the Jordan, and thy flesh shall be restored [healthy] to thee, and thou shalt become clean.

2 Kings 5:11

2 Kings 5:12

Are not Amanah and Pharpar, the rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? may I not bathe in them, and become clean? and he turned and went away in a rage.

2 Kings 5:13

And his servants came near, and spoke unto him, and they said, My father, if the prophet had bidden thee a great thing, wouldst thou not do it? how much rather then, when he hath said to thee, Bathe, and become clean?

2 Kings 5:14

Then went he down, and dived seven times in the Jordan, according to the word of the man of God: and his flesh was restored [healthy] like the flesh of a little boy, and he became clean.

2 Kings 5:15

And he returned to the man of God, he with all his camp, and came and stood before him, and said, Behold, now I know that there is no god on all the earth, but in Israel; and now, I pray thee, take a present from thy servant.

But he said, As the Lord liveth before whom I have stood, I will take none: and he urged him to take it; but he refused.

2 Kings 5:17

And Na'aman said, If [thou wilt] not, [then] let there be given, I pray thee, unto thy servant two mules' burden of earth; for thy servant will not offer henceforth either burnt-offering or peace-sacrifice unto other gods, except unto the Lord.

2 Kings 5:18

For this thing may the Lord pardon thy servant, that when my Lord goeth into the house of Rimmon to prostrate himself there, and he leaneth on my hand, and I prostrate myself also in the house of Rimmon: when I prostrate myself in the house of Rimmon, may the Lord pardon thy servant for this thing.

2 Kings 5:19

And he said unto him, Go in peace: so he departed from him some distance.

2 Kings 5:20

But Gehazi, the servant of Elisha' the man of God, said, Behold, my master hath spared Na'aman, this Syrian, in not receiving from his hand what he had brought; but, as the Lord liveth, I will run after him, and take some little thing from him.

2 Kings 5:21

So Gehazi hurried after Na'aman; and when Na'aman saw him running after him, he lighted doom from the chariot to meet him, and said, Is [all] well?

2 Kings 5:22

And he said, [all] is well. My master hath sent me, saying, Behold, even now there are come to me from the mountain of Ephraim two young men of the sons of the prophets: do give them, I pray thee, a talent of silver, and two changes of garments.

2 Kings 5:23

And Na'aman said, Give thy assent, take two talents. And he urged him, and bound up two talents of silver in two bags, with two changes of garments, and he gave them unto his two young men, and they carried them before him.

2 Kings 5:24

And when he came to the hill, he took them from their hand, and bestowed them in the house: and he dismissed the men, and they departed.

2 Kings 5:26

And he said unto him, My mind was not gone, when the man turned round from his chariot to meet thee. Is it a time to take money, and to take garments, and oliveyards, and vineyards, and sheep, and oxen, and men-servants, and maid-servants?

2 Kings 5:27

May then the leprosy of Na'aman cleave unto thee, and unto thy seed for ever. And he went out from his presence a leper [as white] as snow.

2 Kings 6:1

And the sons of the prophets said unto Elisha', Behold now, the place where we dwell before thee is too narrow for us.

2 Kings 6:3

And one said, Give thy assent, I pray thee, and go with thy servants. And he said, I will indeed go.

2 Kings 6:4

So he went with them; and they came to the Jordan, and they cut down trees.

2 Kings 6:5

But as one was felling a beam, the axe-head fell into the water: and he cried, and said, Alas, my Lord! it was also borrowed.

2 Kings 6:6

And the man of God said, Where did it fall? And he showed him the place. And he cut down a stick, and cast it in thither, and he caused the iron to swim.

2 Kings 6:20

And it came to pass, when they were come into Samaria, that Elisha' said, Lord, open the eyes of these, that they may see. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they saw, and, behold, they were in the midst of Samaria.

2 Kings 6:21

And the king of Israel said unto Elisha', when he saw them, Shall I smite them? Shall I smite them, my father?

2 Kings 6:22

But he said, Thou shalt not smite them: wouldst thou smite those whom thou hast taken captive with thy sword and with thy bow? set bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink, and go [back] to their master.

2 Kings 6:23

And he prepared for them a great meal; and they ate and drank, and he sent them away, and they went [back] to their master. And the predatory bands of Syria came no more into the land of Israel.

So we boiled my son, and ate him; but when I said unto her on the next day, Give up thy son, that we may eat him: she hid her son.

2 Kings 6:30

And it came to pass, when the king heard the words of the woman, that he rent his clothes, as he was passing along upon the wall: and the people looked, and, behold, he had sackcloth beneath upon his flesh.

2 Kings 6:31

Then said he, May God do so unto me and continue so yet farther, if the head of Elisha' the son of Shaphat shall remain on him this day.

2 Kings 6:32

But Elisha' was sitting in his house, and the elders were sitting with him; and he sent a man from before him; but before the messenger could yet come to him, he said to the elders, See ye how this son of the murderer hath sent to remove my head? look, when the messenger cometh, shut the door, and hold him back with the door: is not the sound of his master's feet behind him?

2 Kings 6:33

And while he was yet speaking with them, behold, the messenger came down unto him: and he said, Behold, this evil is of the Lord; what shall I hope for in the Lord any longer?

2 Kings 7:1

Then said Elisha', Hear ye the word of the Lord: Thus hath said the Lord, About this time tomorrow a seah of fine flour shall be sold for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel, in the gate of Samaria.

2 Kings 7:2

Then answered the lord of the king, on whose hand he used to lean, the man of God, and said, Behold, will the Lord make windows in the heavens, that this thing shall be? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thy eyes, but thereof shalt thou not eat.

2 Kings 7:3

And there were four leprous men at the entrance of the gate: and they said one to another, Why do we remain here until we die?

2 Kings 7:4

If we say, We will enter into the city, then is the famine in the city, and we shall die there; and if we remain here, we die [also]: now therefore come, and let us go over unto the camp of the Syrians; if they will let us live, we shall live; and if they kill us, we shall but die.

2 Kings 7:5

And they rose up in the twilight, to go unto the camp of the Syrians; and when they were come to the uttermost part of the camp of the Syrians, behold, there was no man there.

2 Kings 7:6

For the Lord had caused the camp of the Syrians to hear a noise of chariots, and a noise of horses, the noise of a large army: and they said one to the other, Lo, the king of Israel hath hired against us the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Egyptians, to come upon us.

2 Kings 7:7

And they were arisen and fled in the twilight, and had left their tents, and their horses, and their asses, the camp as it was, and fled for their life.

2 Kings 7:8

And so came these lepers to the uttermost part of the camp, and they went into one tent, and ate and drank, and carried away thence silver, and gold, and garments, and went and hid them; and they returned, and entered into another tent, and carried away [something] thence, and went and hid it.

2 Kings 7:9

And then they said one to the other, We do not act correctly; this day is a day of good tidings; and if we remain silent, and tarry till the morning–light, we shall incur guilt: now then come, and let us go and tell it at the king’s house.

2 Kings 7:10

So they went and called unto one of the gate–keepers of the city, and they told them, saying, We came to the camp of the Syrians, and, behold, there was no man there, nor the voice of man; but the horses were tied, and the asses were tied, and the tents as they had been.

2 Kings 7:11

And he called the gate–keepers; and they told it at the king’s house within.

2 Kings 7:12

And the king arose in the night, and said unto his servants, I can easily tell you what the Syrians have done to us: they know that we are hungry; and they are therefore gone out of the camp to hide themselves in the field, saying, If they should come out of the city, we will catch them alive, and enter into the city.

2 Kings 7:13

And one of his servants answered and said, Let some take, I pray thee, five of the horses that remain, which are left in the city, let it fare with them as with all the multitude of Israel that are left in it, [or] let it fare with them as with all the multitude of Israel that have perished: and let us send out and see.

2 Kings 7:14

And they took two chariots with horses; and the king sent after the camp of the Syrians, saying, Go and see.

2 Kings 7:15

And they went after them as far as the Jordan; and, lo, the whole way was full of garments and vessels, which the Syrians had cast away in their haste: and the messengers returned, and told it to the king.

2 Kings 7:16

And the people went out, and plundered the camp of the Syrians: and a seah of fine flour was to be had for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel, according to the word of the Lord.

2 Kings 7:17

And the king had appointed the lord on whose hand he used to lean to have the charge of the gate; and the people trod him down in the gate, and he died; as the man of God had spoken, which he spoke when the king came down to him.

2 Kings 7:18

And it came to pass as the man of God was speaking to the king, saying, Two seahs of barley for a shekel, and a seah of fine flour for a shekel, shall be about this time tomorrow in the gate of Samaria:

2 Kings 7:19

That the Lord had answered the man of God, and said, Now, behold, if even the Lord were to make windows in the heavens, would such a thing be? And he had said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thy eyes, but thereof shalt thou not eat.

2 Kings 7:20

And it happened unto him so; for the people trod him down in the gate, and he died.

2 Kings 8:1

And Elisha' spoke unto the woman, whose son he had restored to life, saying, Arise, and go, thou and thy household, and sojourn wheresoever thou canst sojourn; for the Lord hath called for a famine, and it is also coming in the land for seven years.

2 Kings 8:2

And the woman arose, and did after the word of the man of God; and she went, she with her household, and sojourned in the land of the Philistines seven years.

2 Kings 8:3

And it came to pass at the end of seven years, that the woman returned out of the land of the Philistines; and she went forth to cry unto the king for her house and for her land.

2 Kings 8:4

And the king was just speaking with Gehazi the servant of the man of God, saying, Relate to me, I pray thee, all the great things that Elisha' hath done.

2 Kings 8:5

And it came to pass, as he was just relating to the king how he had restored the dead to life, that, behold, the woman, whose son he had restored to life, cried to the king for her house and for her land. And Gehazi said, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her son, whom Elisha' restored to life.

2 Kings 8:6

And the king asked of the woman, who related it to him. So the king appointed unto her a certain officer, saying, Restore all that belongeth to her, and all the products of the field since the day that she left the land, even until now.

2 Kings 8:7

And Elisha' came to Damascus; and Ben-hadad, the king of Syria, was sick; and it was told him, saying, The man of God is come even hither.

2 Kings 8:8

And the king said unto Chazael, Take a present in thy hand, and go to meet the man of God, and inquire of the Lord from him, saying, Shall I recover from this sickness?

2 Kings 8:9

So Chazael went to meet him, and took a present in his hand, and all manner of good things of Damascus, a burden for forty camels, and he came and stood before him, and said, Thy son Ben-hadad the king of Syria hath sent me to thee, saying, Shall I recover from this sickness?

2 Kings 8:10

And Elisha' said unto him, Go, say unto him, Thou mayest certainly recover; nevertheless the Lord hath shown me that he shall surely die.

2 Kings 8:11

And he restrained his countenance, and held back as long as he could: and then wept the man of God.

2 Kings 8:12

And Chazael said, Why doth my Lord weep? And he said, Because I know what evil thou wilt do unto the children of Israel: their strong-holds wilt thou set on fire, and their young men wilt thou slay with the sword, and their children wilt thou dash, and their pregnant women wilt thou rip up.

2 Kings 8:13

And Chazael said, But what is thy servant, the dog, that he should do this great thing? And Elisha' said, The Lord hath caused me to see thee as king over Syria.

2 Kings 8:14

So he went away from Elisha', and came to his master; who said to him, What hath Elisha' said to thee? And he said, he said to me that thou couldst surely recover.

2 Kings 8:15

And it came to pass on the morrow, that he took a cover lid, and dipped it in water, and spread it over his face, and he died: and Chazael became king in his stead.

2 Kings 8:16

And in the fifth year of Joram the son of Achab the king of Israel, Jehoshaphat being yet king of Judah, Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphat the king of Judah became king.

2 Kings 8:17

Thirty and two years old was he when he became king, and eight years did he reign in Jerusalem.

2 Kings 8:18

And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Achab had done; for a daughter of Achab had he for wife: and he did what is evil in the eyes of the Lord.

2 Kings 8:19

Yet would the Lord not destroy Judah for the sake of David his servant, as he said unto him, to give him a government and to his children at all times.

2 Kings 8:20

In his days Edom revolted from under the power of Judah, and they appointed a king over themselves.

2 Kings 8:21

And Joram went over to Za'ir, and all the chariots were with him; and he rose up by night, and smote the Edomites who compassed him about, and the captains of the chariots: and the people fled unto their tents.

2 Kings 8:22

Yet Edom revolted from under the power of Judah even until this day; then did Libnah revolt at the same time.

2 Kings 8:23

And the rest of the acts of Joram, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2 Kings 8:24

And Joram slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Achazyahu his son became king in his stead.

2 Kings 8:25

In the twelfth year of Joram the son of Achab the king of Israel became Achazyahu, the son of Jehoram the king of Judah, king.

2 Kings 8:26

Two and twenty years old was Achazyahu when he became king; and one year did he reign in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was 'Athalyahu, the [grand-]daughter of 'Omri the king of Israel.

2 Kings 8:27

And he walked in the way of the house of Achab, and did what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, like the house of Achab; for he was the son-in-law of the house of Achab.

2 Kings 8:28

And he went with Joram the son of Achab to the war against Chazael the king of Syria at Ramoth-gil'ad: and the Syrians smote Joram.

2 Kings 8:29

And king Joram returned to be healed in Yizre'el of the wounds which the Syrians had inflicted on him at Ramah, when he was fighting against Chazael the king of Syria. And Achazyahu the son of Jehoram the king of Judah went down to see Joram the son of Achab in Yizre'el, because he was sick.

2 Kings 9:1

And Elisha' the prophet called one of the children of the prophets, and said unto him, Gird up thy loins, and take this flask of oil in thy hand, and go to Ramoth-gil'ad:

2 Kings 9:2

And when thou art come thither, look out there for Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat the son of Nimshi, and go in, and cause him to stand up from the midst of his brethren, and bring him in to the innermost chamber;

2 Kings 9:3

And thou shalt then take the flask of oil, and pour it on his head, and say, Thus hath said the Lord, I have anointed thee as king over Israel. Then must thou open the door, and flee, and not wait for any thing.

2 Kings 9:4

So the young man, the disciple of the prophet, went to Ramoth-gil'ad.

2 Kings 9:5

And when he came, behold, the captains of the army were sitting; and he said, I have a word for thee, O captain. And Jehu said, For whom of all of us? And he said, For thee, O captain.

2 Kings 9:6

And he arose, and went into the house: and he poured the oil on his head, and said unto him, Thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel, I anoint thee as king over the people of the Lord, over Israel.

2 Kings 9:7

And thou shalt smite the house of Achab thy master, that I may avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the Lord, at the hand of Izebel.

2 Kings 9:8

And the whole house of Achab shall perish: and I will cut off from Achab every male, and the guarded and fortified in Israel;

2 Kings 9:9

And I will make the house of Achab like the house of Jerobo'am the son of Nebat, and like the house of Ba'sha the son of Achiyah;

2 Kings 9:10

And Izebel shall the dogs eat in the field of Yizre'el, with none to bury her. And he [then] opened the door, and fled.

2 Kings 9:11

But Jehu came forth to the servants of his Lord: and one said unto him, Is all well? wherefore came this madman to thee? And he said unto them, Ye yourselves know the man, and his talk.

2 Kings 9:12

And they said, It is false: only tell us, we pray thee. And he said, So and so did he speak to me, saying, Thus hath said the Lord, I anoint thee as king over Israel.

2 Kings 9:13

Then they hastened, and they took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the stairs; and they blew the cornet, saying, Jehu is king.

2 Kings 9:14

So Jehu the son of Jehoshaphat the son of Nimshi conspired against Joram. (Now Joram had kept guard at Ramoth-gil'ad, he and all Israel, because of Chazael the king of Syria.

2 Kings 9:15

But king Jehoram was returned to be healed in Yizre'el of the wounds which the Syrians had inflicted on him, when he was fighting with Chazael the king of Syria.) And Jehu said, If this be your mind, then let none that escapeth go forth out of the city to go to tell it in Yizre'el.

2 Kings 9:16

So Jehu rode in a chariot, and went to Yizre'el; for Joram was lying there. And Achazyah the king of Judah was come down to see Joram.

2 Kings 9:17

And the watchman stood on the tower in Yizre'el, and he saw the company of Jehu as he came; and he said, A company do I see, And Jehoram said, Take a horseman, and send out to meet them, and let him say, Is it peace?

2 Kings 9:18

So there went one riding on horseback to meet him, and said, Thus hath said the king, Is it peace? And Jehu said, What hast thou to do with peace? turn thee about behind me. And the watchman told, saying, The messenger came up to them, but he hath not returned.

2 Kings 9:19

Then sent he out a second rider on horseback, who came to them, and said, Thus hath said the king, Is it peace? And Jehu answered, What hast thou to do with peace? turn thee about behind me.

2 Kings 9:20

And the watchman told, saying, He came up to them, but he hath not returned: and the driving is like the driving of Jehu the son of Nimshi; for he driveth as though he were mad.

2 Kings 9:21

And Jehoram said, Harness up. And his chariot was harnessed up. And Jehoram the king of Israel and Achazyahu the king of Judah went out, each in his chariot, and they went out to meet Jehu, and found him in the portion of land of Naboth the Yizre'elite.

2 Kings 9:22

And it came to pass, when Jehoram saw Jehu, that he said, Is it peace, Jehu? And he said, What peace can there be with the acts of incest of thy mother Izebel and her many witchcrafts?

2 Kings 9:23

And Jehoram turned about, and fled, and said to Achazyahu, Treachery, Achazyahu.

2 Kings 9:24

And Jehu grasped the bow with his full strength, and struck Jehoram between his arms, and the arrow went out at his heart, and he sunk down in his chariot.

2 Kings 9:25

Then said he to Bidkar his officer, Lift up, [and] cast him down in the part of the field that was Naboth's the Yizre'elite; for remember how that I and thou rode alongside each other after Achab his father, when the Lord pronounced over him this fatal decree:

2 Kings 9:26

Surely I have seen yesterday the blood of Naboth, and the blood of his sons, saith the Lord; and I will repay thee in this part of the field, saith the Lord. And now lift up, [and] cast him down into the field, according to the word of the Lord.

2 Kings 9:27

And when Achazyahu the king of Judah saw this, he fled by the way of the garden-house; but Jehu pursued after him, and said, Also him smite in the chariot. [And they did so] on the ascent to Gur, which is by Yible'am. And he fled to Megiddo, and died there.

2 Kings 9:28

And his servants carried him in a chariot to Jerusalem, and buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in the city of David.

2 Kings 9:29

And in the eleventh year of Joram the son of Achab became Achazyah king over Judah.

2 Kings 9:30

And Jehu came to Yizre'el; and when Izebel heard of it, she painted her eyes, and ornamented her head, and looked out at the window.

2 Kings 9:31

And as Jehu entered in at the gate, she said, Is it peace, O Zimri, who hath slain his master?

2 Kings 9:32

And he lifted up his face to the window, and said, Who is on my side? who? And there looked out to him two or three chamberlains.

2 Kings 9:33

And he said, Pitch her down. So they pitched her down: and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses; and he trod her under foot.

2 Kings 9:34

And he came in, and ate and drank; and then said he, Look, I pray you, after this accursed one, and bury her; for she is a king's daughter.

2 Kings 9:35

And they went to bury her: but they found nothing of her but the skull, and the feet, and the palms of the hands.

2 Kings 9:36

And they returned, and told him; and he said, It is the word of the Lord, which he spoke by means of his servant Elijah the Tishbite, saying, In the field of Yizre'el shall the dogs eat the flesh of Izebel:

2 Kings 9:37

And the carcass of Izebel shall be as dung upon the face of the field in the portion of Yizre'el; so that they shall not say, This is Izebel.

2 Kings 10:1

And Achab had seventy sons in Samaria. And Jehu wrote letters and sent them to Samaria, unto the rulers of Yizre'el, the elders, and to those that brought up Achab's children, saying,

2 Kings 10:2

And now as soon as this letter cometh to you, seeing that there are with you your master's sons, and there are with you the chariots and the horses, and the fortified city, and the armor:

2 Kings 10:3

Select then the best and the most fitting of your master's sons, and set him on his father's throne, and fight for your master's house.

2 Kings 10:4

But they were exceedingly much afraid, and said, Behold, the two kings could not stand before him: how then shall we be able to stand?

2 Kings 10:5

And the superintendent over the house, and the commander over the city, and the elders, and the bringers up of the children, sent to Jehu, saying, We are thy servants, and all that thou mayest say unto us will we do; we will not set up any one as king: do what is good in thy eyes.

2 Kings 10:6

Then wrote he to them a letter the second time, saying, If ye be for me, and if ye will hearken unto my voice, then take the heads of the men, your master's sons, and come to me to Yizre'el by this time tomorrow. Now the king's sons, seventy persons, were with the great men of the city, who brought them up.

2 Kings 10:7

And it came to pass, when the letter came to them, that they took the king's sons and slaughtered them, seventy persons, and put their heads in baskets, and sent them to him to Yizre'el.

2 Kings 10:8

And the messenger came, and told him, saying, They have brought the heads of the king's sons. And he said, Place ye them in two heaps at the entrance of the gate until the morning.

2 Kings 10:9

And it came to pass in the morning, that he went out, and stood, and said to all the people, Ye are righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slew him; but who hath killed all these?

2 Kings 10:10

Know now that there shall not fall of the word of the Lord unto the earth, the least that the Lord hath spoken concerning the house of Achab; and the Lord hath done that which he spoke by means of his servant Elijah.

2 Kings 10:11

And Jehu smote all that yet remained of the house of Achab in Yizre'el, and all his great men, and his acquaintance, and his priests, until he had left him none that escaped.

2 Kings 10:12

And he arose and departed, and came to Samaria; he was just at the binding-house of the shepherds, on the way:

2 Kings 10:13

When Jehu met with the brothers of Achazyahu the king of Judah, and he said, Who are ye? And they said, The brothers of Achazyahu are we; and we are come down to salute the children of the king and the children of the queen.

2 Kings 10:14

And he said, Seize them alive. And they seized them alive, and slaughtered them at the pit of the binding-house, two and forty men; and he left not one of them remaining.

2 Kings 10:15

And he went away thence, and met Yehonadab the son of Rechab coming to meet him: and he saluted him, and said to him, Is all right in thy heart, as my heart is with thy heart? And Yehonadab answered, It is; it is: give me thy hand. And he gave him his hand; and he took him up to him into the chariot.

2 Kings 10:16

And he said, Come with me, and behold my zeal for the Lord. So they made him ride in his chariot.

2 Kings 10:17

And when he came to Samaria, he smote all that yet remained unto Achab in Samaria, till he had exterminated him, according to the word of the Lord which he had spoken to Elijah.

2 Kings 10:18

And Jehu assembled all the people, and said unto them, Achab hath served Ba'al a little: Jehu will serve him much.

2 Kings 10:19

And now call unto me all the prophets of Ba'al, all his worshippers, and all his priests: let no one be missing; for I have a great sacrifice to make for Ba'al; whosoever will be missing, shall not live. But Jehu did it in subtilty, in order to destroy the worshippers of Ba'al.

2 Kings 10:20

And Jehu said, Sanctify a solemn assembly for Ba'al. And they proclaimed it.

2 Kings 10:21

And Jehu sent throughout all Israel: and there came all the worshippers of Ba'al, so that there was not a man remaining that came not; and they came into the house of Ba'al; and the house of Ba'al was full from one end to another.

2 Kings 10:22

And he said unto him that was over the wardrobe, Bring forth vestments for all the worshippers of Ba'al. And he brought forth for them the vestments.

2 Kings 10:23

And Jehu went, with Yehonadab the son of Rechab, into the house of Ba'al, and he said unto the worshippers of Ba'al, Search, and look that there be not here with you any of the servants of the Lord, but the worshippers of Ba'al entirely alone.

2 Kings 10:24

And they went in to prepare sacrifices and burnt-offerings; but Jehu had set for himself without eighty men, and said, [If there be] a man that escapeth from the men whom I deliver into your hands, [there shall be given] life for his life.

2 Kings 10:25

And it came to pass, as soon as they had made an end of preparing the burnt-offering, that Jehu said to the runners and to the officers, Go in, smite them: let none come forth. And they smote them with the edge of the sword; and the runners and the captains cast them out, and went as far as the city of the house of Ba'al.

2 Kings 10:26

And they brought forth the statues out of the house of Ba'al, and burnt every one of them.

2 Kings 10:27

And they broke down the statue of Ba'al, and broke down the house of Ba'al, and made it a common sewer unto this day.

2 Kings 10:28

Thus Jehu exterminated Ba'al out of Israel.

2 Kings 10:29

2 Kings 10:30

And the Lord said unto Jehu, Forasmuch as thou hast acted well in doing what is right in my eyes, and hast done in accordance with all that was in my heart unto the house of Achab: children of the fourth generation after thee shall sit upon the throne of Israel.

2 Kings 10:31

But Jehu took no heed to walk in the law of the Lord the God of Israel with all his heart: he departed not from the sins of Jerobo'am, who induced Israel to sin.

2 Kings 10:32

In those days the Lord began to cut Israel short; and Chazael smote them in all the boundary of Israel;

2 Kings 10:33

From the Jordan to the rising of the sun, all the land of Gil'ad, the Gadites, and the Reubenites, and the Menassites, from 'Aro'er which is by the river Arnon, both Gil'ad and Bashan.

2 Kings 10:34

Now the rest of the acts of Jehu, and all that he did, and all his mighty deeds, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2 Kings 11:3

And he was with her in the house of the Lord hidden for six years, while 'Athalyah was reigning over the land.

2 Kings 11:4

And in the seventh year Yehoyada' sent and fetched the rulers over the hundreds, of the guards and the runners, and brought them to him into the house of the Lord, and made a covenant with them, and made them swear in the house of the Lord, and showed them the king's son.

2 Kings 11:5

And he commanded them, saying, This is the thing that ye shall do: A third part of you that enter in on the sabbath shall even be keeping watch in the king's house;

2 Kings 11:6

And a third part shall be at the gate of Sur; and a third part at the gate behind the runners; so shall ye keep watch at the house, as a defence.

2 Kings 11:7

And two parts of you all that are relieved on the sabbath, even they shall keep watch in the house of the Lord about the king.

2 Kings 11:8

And ye shall encompass the king round about, every man with his weapons in his hand; and he that cometh within the ranges shall be put to death: and be ye with the king when he goeth out and when he cometh in.

2 Kings 11:9

And the captains over the hundreds did in accordance with all that Yohayada' the priest had commanded: and they took every man his men that came in on the sabbath, with those that were to be relieved on the sabbath, and came to Yehoyada' the priest.

2 Kings 11:10

And the priest gave to the captains over the hundred the spears and shields that had belonged to king David, that were in the house of the Lord.

And when 'Athalyah heard the noise of the runners [and] of the people, she came to the people in the house of the Lord.

2 Kings 11:14

And she looked, and, behold, the king stood upon a stand, according to custom, and the princes and the trumpeters were by the king, and all the people of the land were rejoicing, and blowing with trumpets: and 'Athalyah then rent her clothes, and cried, Conspiracy! conspiracy!

2 Kings 11:15

But Yehoyada' the priest commanded the captains of the hundreds, the commanders of the army, and said unto them, Lead her forth to within the ranges: and him that followeth her put to death with the sword. For the priest had said, She shall not be slain in the house of the Lord.

And had burnt there incense on all the high-places, like the nations that the Lord had led away exiles before them; and wrought wicked things to provoke the Lord to anger;

2 Kings 17:12

And had served the idols, whereof the Lord had said unto them, Ye shall not do this thing.

2 Kings 17:13

The Lord had indeed warned Israel and Judah, by means of all the prophets, all the seers, saying, Turn ye back from your evil ways, and keep my commandments [and] my statutes, in accordance with all the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I have sent to you by means of my servants the prophets.

2 Kings 17:14

But they would not hear, and hardened their neck, like the neck of their fathers, who had not believed in the Lord their God;

2 Kings 17:15

And they despised his statutes, and his covenant which he had made with their fathers, and his testimonies which he had entrusted to them; and they followed after what is vanity, and became vain, and followed after the nations that were round about them, concerning whom the Lord had charged them, not to do like them.

2 Kings 17:16

And they forsook all the commandments of the Lord their God, and made themselves molten images, two calves, and made a grove, and bowed down to all the host of the heavens, and served Ba'al;

2 Kings 17:17

And they caused their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire, and used divinations and enchantments, and sold themselves to do what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, to provoke him to anger.

2 Kings 17:18

Therefore became the Lord very angry with Israel, and he removed them from his presence: there was none left but the tribe of Judah alone.

2 Kings 17:19

Also Judah kept not the commandments of the Lord their God, but walked in the customs of Israel which they had made.

2 Kings 17:20

Therefore did the Lord reject all the seed of Israel, and he afflicted them, and gave them up into the hand of spoilers, until that he had cast them out of his presence.

2 Kings 17:21

For Israel had torn themselves from the house of David, and they made Jerobo'am the son of Nebat king: and Jerobo'am misled Israel from following the Lord, and caused them to commit a great sin;

2 Kings 17:22

And the children of Israel walked in all the sins of Jerobo'am which he did; they departed not therefrom.

2 Kings 17:23

Until that the Lord removed Israel out of his presence, as he had spoken by means of all his servants the prophets; and Israel was led away as exiles out of their own land to Assyria even until this day.

2 Kings 17:24

And the king of Assyria brought [men] from Babylon, and from Cuthah, and from ‘Avva, and from Chamath, and from Sepharvayim, and settled them in the cities of Samaria in the room of the children of Israel: and they took possession of Samaria, and dwelt in its cities.

2 Kings 17:25

And it happened at the beginning of their dwelling there, that they feared not the Lord; wherefore the Lord sent among them lions, which slew some of them.

2 Kings 17:26

And they said to the king of Assyria, as followeth, The nations that thou hast led away, and settled in the cities of Samaria, know not the manner of the God of the land; wherefore he hath sent among them lions, and, behold, they are slaying them, since they know not the manner of the God of the land.

2 Kings 17:27

Then commanded the king of Assyria, saying, Carry thither one of the priests whom ye led away from there; and let them go and dwell there, and let him teach them the manner of the God of the land.

2 Kings 17:28

And there came one of the priests whom they had led away as exiles from Samaria, and dwelt in Beth-el; and he taught them how they should fear the Lord.

2 Kings 17:29

Yet they made, every nation, their own gods; and they put them in the houses of the high-places which the Samaritans had made, every nation in their cities wherein they dwelt.

2 Kings 17:30

And the men of Babylon made Succoth-benoth, and the men of Cuth made Neregal, and the men of Chamath made Ashima.

2 Kings 17:31

And the ‘Avvites made Nibchaz and Tharthak, and the Sepharvites burnt their children in fire to ‘Adrammelech and ‘Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvayim.

2 Kings 17:32

And they feared [also] the Lord; and they made unto themselves of the lowest of them priests of the high-places, and these sacrificed for them in the houses of the high-places.

2 Kings 17:33

The Lord did they fear, and their own gods did they serve, after the manner of the nations whence they had been led away.

2 Kings 17:34

Even until this day do they act after the former manners: they fear not the Lord, neither do they act after their own customs, and after their manner, nor after the law and after the commandment which the Lord commanded the children of Israel, whose name he styled Israel;

2 Kings 17:35

With whom the Lord had made a covenant, and charged them, saying, Ye shall not fear other gods, nor bow yourselves down to them, nor serve them, nor sacrifice to them;

2 Kings 17:36

But the Lord, who hath brought you up out of the land of Egypt with great might and with an outstretched arm, him alone shall ye fear, and to him shall ye bow yourselves down, and to him shall ye sacrifice;

2 Kings 17:37

And the statutes, and the ordinances, and the law, and the commandment, which he hath written for you, shall ye observe to do for all time; and ye shall not fear other gods.

2 Kings 17:38

And the covenant that I have made with you shall ye not forget; and ye shall not fear other gods.

2 Kings 17:39

But the Lord your God shall ye fear; and he will deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies.

2 Kings 17:40

Nevertheless they have not hearkened, but they act after their former manner.

2 Kings 17:41

So were these nations, while they feared the Lord, also serving their graven images; and both their children and their children's children do until this day as their fathers have done.

2 Kings 18:1

And it came to pass in the third year of Hoshea' the son of Elah the king of Israel, that Hezekiah, the son of Achaz the king of Judah, became king.

2 Kings 18:2

Twenty and five years old was he when he became king, and twenty and nine years did he reign in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Abi, the daughter of Zechariah.

2 Kings 18:3

And he did what is right in the eyes of the Lord, in accordance with all that David his father had done.

2 Kings 18:4

He it was that removed the high-places, and broke the statues, and cut down the groves, and stamped in pieces the copper serpent that Moses had made; for unto those days were the children of Israel burning incense to it; and he called it Nechushtan.

2 Kings 18:5

In the Lord the God of Israel did he trust; and after him there was not his like among all the kings of Judah, nor among those that were before him.

2 Kings 18:6

And he adhered to the Lord, and turned not away from following him; but he kept his commandments, which the Lord had commanded Moses.

2 Kings 18:7

And the Lord was with him; whithersoever he went forth he prospered: and he rebelled against the king of Assyria, and served him not.

2 Kings 18:8

He it was that smote the Philistines, as far as Gazzah, and its territory, from the tower of the watchmen up to the fortified city.

2 Kings 18:9

And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Hezekiah, which was the seventh year of Hoshea' the son of Elah the king of Israel, that Shalmanesser the king of Assyria came up against Samaria, and besieged it.

2 Kings 18:10

And they captured it at the end of three years,—in the sixth year of Hezekiah, that is the ninth year of Hoshea' the king of Israel, was Samaria captured.

2 Kings 18:11

And the king of Assyria led away Israel as exiles unto Assyria, and transported them to Chalach and to Chabor, by the river of Gozan, and to the cities of Media;

2 Kings 18:12

Because they had not obeyed the voice of the Lord their God, but had transgressed his covenant, all that Moses the servant of the Lord had commanded; and had not obeyed, nor done accordingly.

2 Kings 18:13

And in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah did Sennacherib the king of Assyria come up against all the fortified cities of Judah, and seized on them.

2 Kings 18:14

And Hezekiah the king of Judah sent to the king of Assyria to Lachish, saying, I have sinned; retire from me: what thou wilt impose on me will I bear. And the king of Assyria exacted from Hezekiah the king of Judah three hundred talents of silver and thirty talents of gold.

2 Kings 18:15

And Hezekiah gave up all the silver that was found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the king's house.

2 Kings 18:16

At that time did Hezekiah cut off [the gold from] the doors of the temple of the Lord, and from the door-sills which Hezekiah the king of Judah had overlaid, and gave the same to the king of Assyria.

2 Kings 18:17

And the king of Assyria sent Tharthan and Rub-sariss and Rabshakeh from Lachish to king Hezekiah with a strong army against Jerusalem. And they went up and came to Jerusalem; and when they were come up, they came and halted by the aqueduct of the upper pool, which is on the highway of the washer's field.

2 Kings 18:18

And they called for the king, when there came out to them Elyakim the son of Chilkiyahu, who was superintendent over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and Yoach the son of Assaph the recorder.

2 Kings 18:19

And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus hath said the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherewith thou hast trusted?

2 Kings 18:20

Thou saidst, but it was only a word uttered with the lips, [I have] counsel and strength for the war. Now on whom didst thou trust, that thou rebelledst against me?

2 Kings 18:21

Now, behold, thou trustedst thee upon yon cracked reed–staff, upon Egypt, which, if a man lean on it, will enter into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh the king of Egypt unto all that trust on him.

2 Kings 18:22

But if ye should say unto me, In the Lord our God have we trusted: is he not the one whose high–places and whose altars Hezekiah hath removed, when he said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Before this altar shall ye prostrate yourselves in Jerusalem?

2 Kings 18:23

And now, I pray thee, enter into a contest with my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

2 Kings 18:24

How then wilt thou turn back the face of a single chieftain among the least of my master’s servants, while thou hast put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen!

2 Kings 18:25

Now am I come up without the Lord[’s will] against this place to destroy it? The Lord hath said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

2 Kings 18:26

Then said Elyakim the son of Chilkiyahu, and Shebnah, and Yoach, unto Rabshakeh, Speak, we pray thee, to thy servants in the Syrian language; for we understand it: and speak not with us in the Jewish language before the ears of the people that are on the wall.

2 Kings 18:27

But Rabshakeh said unto them, Hath my master then sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? is it not rather to the men who sit on the wall, that they may eat their own excrement, and drink their own urine with you?

2 Kings 18:28

Then stood Rabshakeh up and called out with a loud voice in the Jewish language, and spoke, and said, Hear ye the word of the great king, the king of Assyria:

2 Kings 18:29

Thus hath said the king. Let not Hezekiah deceive you; for he will not be able to deliver you out of his hand;

2 Kings 18:30

Neither let Hezekiah induce you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliver us, and this city will not be given up into the hand of the king of Assyria:

2 Kings 18:31

Hearken not to Hezekiah; for thus hath said the king of Assyria, Make a treaty of peace with me, and come out to me, and eat ye every man of his own vine, and every man of his fig-tree, and drink ye every man the waters of his cistern;

2 Kings 18:32

Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of oil-olive trees, and of honey, that ye may live, and not die; and hearken not unto Hezekiah; for he will mislead you, saying, The Lord will deliver us.

2 Kings 18:33

Have the gods of the nations delivered in anywise each his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

2 Kings 18:34

Where are the gods of Chamath, and of Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvayim, Hena', and 'Ivvah? have they then delivered Samaria out of my hand?

2 Kings 18:35

Who are they among all the gods of the countries, that have delivered their country out of my hand, that the Lord should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

2 Kings 18:36

But the people remained silent, and answered him not a word; for it was the king's command, saying, Ye shall not answer him.

2 Kings 18:37

Then came Elyakim the son of Chilkiyah, who was superintendent over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and Yoach the son of Assaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent; and they told unto him the words of Rabshakeh.

2 Kings 19:1

And it came to pass, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the Lord.

2 Kings 19:2

And he sent Elyakim, who was superintendent over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz.

2 Kings 19:3

And they said unto him, Thus hath said Hezekiah, A day of trouble, and of rebuke, and derision is this day; for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.

2 Kings 19:4

Perhaps the Lord thy God will hear all the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to blaspheme the living God; and who hath reproached with the words which the Lord thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up a prayer in behalf of the remnant that is still found here.

2 Kings 19:5

And the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

2 Kings 19:6

And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus hath said the Lord, Be not afraid because of the words which thou hast heard, with which the boys of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

2 Kings 19:7

Behold, I will put an [other] spirit in him, that when he will hear a rumor, he shall return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

2 Kings 19:8

And Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah; for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

2 Kings 19:9

And he heard it said of Thirhakah the king of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight with thee; and he again sent messengers unto Hezekiah, saying,

2 Kings 19:10

Thus shall ye say to Hezekiah the king of Judah, as followeth, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given up into the hand of the king of Assyria.

2 Kings 19:11

Behold, thou thyself hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all the lands, by destroying them utterly: and thou alone shouldst be delivered?

2 Kings 19:12

Have the gods of the nations which my fathers destroyed delivered them; as Gozan, and Charan, and Rezep, and the children of 'Eden, who were in Thelassar?

2 Kings 19:13

Where is the king of Chamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvayim, of Hena', and 'Ivvah?

2 Kings 19:14

And Hezekiah took the letters out of the hand of the messengers, and read them: and Hezekiah went up into the house of the Lord, and spread them out before the Lord.

2 Kings 19:15

And Hezekiah prayed before the Lord, and said, O Lord God of Israel, who dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the [true] God, thou alone, for all the kingdoms of the earth; for it is thou who hast made the heavens and the earth.

2 Kings 19:16

Bend down, O Lord, thy ear, and hear! open, O Lord, thy eyes, and see! and hear the words of Sennacherib, that which he hath sent to blaspheme the living God.

2 Kings 19:17

Truly, Lord, the kings of Assyria have devastated the nations and their land,

2 Kings 19:18

And they have placed their gods into the fire; for they are no gods, but the work of man's hands, wood and stone: and these have they destroyed.

2 Kings 19:19

And now, O Lord our God, save us, I beseech thee, out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the Lord God, thou alone.

2 Kings 19:20

Then sent Isaiah the son of Amoz to Hezekiah, saying, Thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel, What thou hast prayed to me concerning Sennacherib the king of Assyria have I heard.

2 Kings 19:21

This is the word that the Lord hath spoken over him: She despiseth thee, she laugheth thee to scorn, the virgin daughter of Zion; behind thee shaketh her head the daughter of Jerusalem.

2 Kings 19:22

Whom hast thou blasphemed, and [whom] hast thou scorned? and against whom hast thou raised thy voice, and lifted up thy eyes on high? against the Holy One of Israel.

2 Kings 19:23

By thy messengers thou hast blasphemed the Lord and hast said, With the multitude of my chariots am I indeed come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon, and I will cut down its tall cedars, the choice of its fir-trees: and I will enter into the lodgings on its summit, the forest of its fruitful soil.

2 Kings 19:24

I have dug and drunk strange waters, and I will dry up with the sole of my feet all the streams of besieged places.

2 Kings 19:25

Hadst thou not heard that in distant ages I had prepared this? in the times of antiquity when I formed it? now have I brought it along, and it came to pass, to desolate into ruinous heaps fortified cities.

2 Kings 19:26

And thus their inhabitants were short of power, they were dismayed and confounded; they were as the herbs of the field, and as the green grass; as the moss on the housetops, and as corn blasted before the ear appeareth.

2 Kings 19:27

But thy abiding and thy going out and thy coming in do I know, and thy raging against me.

2 Kings 19:28

Because of thy raging against me and thy tumult that is come up into my ears, will I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle between thy lips; and I will cause thee to turn back on the way by which thou camest.

2 Kings 19:29

And this shall be unto thee the sign, Ye shall eat this year what groweth of itself, and in the second year what springeth up after the same; and in the third year sow and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat their fruit.

2 Kings 19:30

And the remnant of the house of Judah that is escaped shall yet again strike root downward, and bear fruit upward.

2 Kings 19:31

For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and that which escapeth out of mount Zion: the zeal of the Lord of hosts will do this.

2 Kings 19:32

Therefore thus hath said the Lord concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this city, and he shall not shoot an arrow thereon, nor come before it with shield, nor cast up against it an embankment.

2 Kings 19:33

On the way by which he came, by the same shall he return, and into this city shall he not come, saith the Lord.

2 Kings 19:34

And I will shield this city, to save it, for my own sake, and for the sake of David my servant.

2 Kings 19:35

And it came to pass, on the same night, that an angel of the Lord went out and smote in the camp of the Assyrians one hundred eighty and five thousand men: and when people arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

2 Kings 19:36

And Sennacherib the king of Assyria then departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

2 Kings 19:37

And it came to pass, as he was prostrating himself in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Ararat. And Essar-chaddon his son became king in his stead.

2 Kings 20:1

In those days Hezekiah fell sick unto death; and there came to him Isaiah the son of Amoz the prophet, and said unto him, Thus hath said the Lord, Give thy charge to thy house; for thou shalt die, and not live.

2 Kings 20:2

Then did he turn his face to the wall, and prayed unto the Lord, saying,

2 Kings 20:3

I beseech thee, O Lord, remember now that I have walked before thee in truth, and with an undivided heart, and have done what is good in thy eyes. And Hezekiah wept aloud.

2 Kings 20:4

And it came to pass, before Isaiah was gone out into the middle court, that the word of the Lord came to him, saying,

2 Kings 20:5

Return, and say to Hezekiah the ruler of my people, Thus hath said the Lord, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears; behold, I will heal thee: on the third day shalt thou go up unto the house of the Lord.

2 Kings 20:6

And I will add unto thy days fifteen years; and out of the hand of the king of Assyria will I deliver thee and this city; and I will shield this city for my own sake, and for the sake of David my servant.

2 Kings 20:7

And Isaiah said, Fetch a lump of figs. And they fetched and laid it on the inflammation, and he recovered.

2 Kings 20:8

And Hezekiah said unto Isaiah, What sign shall there be that the Lord will heal me, and that I shall go up into the house of the Lord the third day?

2 Kings 20:9

And Isaiah said, This shall be unto thee the sign from the Lord, that the Lord will do the thing that he hath spoken: Shall the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees?

2 Kings 20:10

And Hezekiah said, It is a light thing for the shadow to go forward ten degrees: no; but let the shadow return backward ten degrees.

2 Kings 20:11

And Isaiah the prophet called unto the Lord; and he caused the shadow to return, by the degrees which the [sun] was gone down on the dial of Achaz, backward, ten degrees.

2 Kings 20:12

And at that time sent Berodach-baladan, the son of Baladan, the king of Babylon, letters and a present unto Hezekiah; for he had heard that Hezekiah had been sick.

2 Kings 20:13

And Hezekiah listened unto them, and showed them the whole of his treasure-house, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oil, and the whole of his armor-house, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing that Hezekiah showed them not, in his house and in all his dominion.

2 Kings 20:14

Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What did these men say? and whence did they come unto thee? And Hezekiah said, From a far off country are they come, from Babylon.

And he said, What did they see in thy house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in my house have they seen: there was nothing that I did not show them in my treasures.

2 Kings 20:16

And Isaiah said unto Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord,

2 Kings 20:17

Behold, days are coming, when all that is in thy house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

2 Kings 20:18

And of thy sons that will issue from thee, whom thou wilt beget, shall they take; and they shall be court-servants in the palace of the king of Babylon.

2 Kings 20:19

Then said Hezekiah unto Isaiah, Good is the word of the Lord which thou hast spoken. And he said, Is it not so, if there be peace and stability in my days?

2 Kings 20:20

And the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and all his mighty deeds, and how he made the pool, and the aqueduct, and brought the water into the city, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2 Kings 20:21

And Hezekiah slept with his fathers: and Menasseh his son became king in his stead.

2 Kings 21:1

Twelve years old was Menasseh when he became king, and fifty and five years did he reign in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Chephzi-bah.

And he did what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, after the abominable acts of the nations whom the Lord had driven out before the children of Israel.

2 Kings 21:3

2 Kings 21:7

And he set a hewn image of the Asherah that he had made in the house, of which the Lord had said to David, and to Solomon his son, In this house, and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all tribes of Israel, will I put my name for ever:

2 Kings 21:8

And I will not cause any more the foot of Israel to move out of the land which I gave their fathers; only if they will observe to act in accordance with all that I have commanded them, and in accordance with all the law that my servant Moses commanded them.

2 Kings 21:9

But they hearkened not: and Menasseh seduced them to do what is evil more than the nations whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

2 Kings 21:10

And the Lord spoke by means of his servants the prophets, saying,

2 Kings 21:11

Forasmuch as Menasseh the king of Judah hath done these abominations, having done wickedly more than all that the Emorites had done, who were before him, and hath induced Judah also to sin with his idols:

2 Kings 21:12

Therefore thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring evil upon Jerusalem and Judah, at which both the ears of every one that heareth it shall tingle.

2 Kings 21:13

And I will stretch over Jerusalem the measure–line of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Achab: and I will wipe off Jerusalem as one wipeth off a dish, wiping it, and turning it on its face.

2 Kings 21:14

And I will forsake the remnant of my inheritance, and give them up into the hand of their enemies; and they shall become a prey and a spoil to all their enemies;

2 Kings 21:15

Forasmuch as they have done what is evil in my eyes, and have been provoking me to anger, from the day that their fathers came forth out of Egypt, even until this day.

2 Kings 21:16

And also innocent blood did Menasseh shed in very great abundance, till he had filled [therewith] Jerusalem from one end to another; beside his sin wherewith he induced Judah to sin, to do what is evil in the eyes of the Lord.

2 Kings 21:17

Now the rest of the acts of Menasseh, and all that he did, and his sin that he committed, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2 Kings 22:3

And it came to pass in the eighteenth year of king Josiah, that the king sent Shaphan the son of Azalyahu, the son of Meshullam, the scribe, to the house of the Lord, saying,

2 Kings 22:4

Go up to Chilkiyahu the high-priest, that he may collect up all the money which is brought into the house of the Lord, which the door-keepers have gathered from the people:

2 Kings 22:5

And let them deliver it into the hand of those who overlook the workmen, that have been appointed as overseers of the house of the Lord; and let them give it to those who do the work who are in the house of the Lord, to repair the breaches of the house:

2 Kings 22:6

Unto the carpenters, and the builders, and the masons, and to buy timber and hewn stones to repair the house.

2 Kings 22:7

Nevertheless shall there be no reckoning made with them for the money that is delivered into their hand, because they deal faithfully.

2 Kings 22:8

And Chilkiyahu the high-priest said unto Shaphan the scribe, A book of the law have I found in the house of the Lord. And Chilkiyah gave the book to Shaphan, and he read it.

2 Kings 22:9

And Shaphan the scribe came to the king, and brought the king word again, and said, Thy servants have taken out all the money that was found in the house, and have delivered it into the hand of those who overlook the workmen, that have been appointed overseers of the house of the Lord.

2 Kings 22:10

And Shaphan the scribe also told the king, saying, A book hath Chilkiyahu the priest given me. And Shaphan read it before the king.

2 Kings 22:11

And it came to pass, when the king had heard the words of the book of the law, that he rent his clothes.

2 Kings 22:12

And the king commanded Chilkiyah the priest, and Achikam the son of Shaphan, and 'Achbor the son of Michayah, and Shaphan the scribe, and 'Assahyah a servant of the king's, saying,

2 Kings 22:13

Go ye, inquire of the Lord in my behalf, and in behalf of the people, and in behalf of all Judah, concerning the words of this book that hath been found; for great is the wrath of the Lord that hath been kindled against us, because our fathers did not hearken unto the words of this book, to do in accordance with all that is prescribed concerning us.

2 Kings 22:14

And Chilkiyahu the priest, and Achikam, and 'Achbor, and Shaphan, and 'Assahyah, went unto Chuldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvah the son of Charchass, the keeper of the wardrobe; [now she dwelt in Jerusalem in the suburb;] and they spoke unto her.

2 Kings 22:15

And she said unto them, Thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel, Say unto the man that hath sent you to me,

2 Kings 22:16

Thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, and upon its inhabitants, all the words of the book which the king of Judah hath read;

2 Kings 22:17

Because they have forsaken me, and have burnt incense unto other gods, in order to provoke me to anger with all the works of their hands: therefore is my wrath kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched.

2 Kings 22:18

But with respect to the king of Judah who sendeth you to inquire of the Lord, thus shall ye say to him, Thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel, Concerning the words which thou hast heard;

2 Kings 22:19

Because thy heart was tender, and thou hast humbled thyself before the Lord, when thou heardest what I had spoken against this place, and against its inhabitants, that they should become an astonishment and a curse, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me: I also have heard it, saith the Lord.

2 Kings 22:20

Therefore, behold, I will gather thee unto thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered unto thy graves in peace; and thy eyes shall not look on all the evil which I am bringing over this place. And they brought the king word again.

2 Kings 23:1

And the king sent, and they gathered unto him all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Kings 23:2

And the king went up into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people, from the small to the great: and he read before their ears all the words of the book of the covenant which had been found in the house of the Lord.

2 Kings 23:3

And the king stood upon the stand, and he made a covenant before the Lord, to walk after the Lord, and to keep his commandments, and his testimonies and his statutes with all [their] heart and all [their] soul, to maintain the words of this covenant that are written in this book. And all the people entered into the covenant.

2 Kings 23:4

And the king commanded Chilkiyahu the high-priest, and the priests of the second order, and the door-keepers, to carry forth out of the temple of the Lord all the vessels that had been made for Ba'al, and for the Asherah, and for all the host of heaven: and they burnt them without Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron, and carried their ashes unto Beth-el.

2 Kings 23:5

And he put down the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Judah had appointed that they might burn incense on the high-places in the cities of Judah, and in the places round about Jerusalem; those also that burnt incense unto Ba'al, to the sun, and to the moon, and to the planets, and to all the host of heaven.

2 Kings 23:6

And he brought out the Asherah from the house of the Lord, without Jerusalem, unto the brook Kidron, and burnt it at the brook Kidron, and ground it small to powder, and cast its powder upon the graves of the children of the people.

2 Kings 23:7

And he pulled down the houses of the sodomites, that were by the house of the Lord, where the women wove hangings for the Asherah.

2 Kings 23:8

And he brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah, and defiled the high-places where the priests had burnt incense, from Geba' to Beer-Sheba', and he pulled down the high-places of the gates that were at the entrance of the gate of Joshua the governor of the city, which were on a man's left at the gate of the city.

2 Kings 23:9

Nevertheless the priests of the high-places came not up to the altar of the Lord in Jerusalem; but they ate unleavened bread in the midst of their brethren.

2 Kings 23:10

And he defiled the Thopheth, which was in the valley Ben-hinnom, so that no man should cause his son or his daughter to pass through the fire to Molech.

2 Kings 23:11

And he put down the horses that the kings of Judah had dedicated to the sun, from the entrance of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Nethan-melech the chamberlain, who was over the suburbs; and the chariots of the sun he burnt with fire.

2 Kings 23:12

And the altars that were on the roof of the upper-chamber of Achaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which Menasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the Lord, did the king pull down, and tore them away from there, and cast their dust into the brook Kidron.

2 Kings 23:13

And the high-places that were before Jerusalem, which were to the right of the mount of destruction, which Solomon the king of Israel had built for 'Ashtoreth the abomination of the Zidonians, and for Kemosh the abomination of the Moabites, and for Milcom the abomination of the children of 'Ammon, did the king defile.

2 Kings 23:14

And he broke in pieces the standing images, and cut down the Asherah-groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.

2 Kings 23:15

So also the altar that was at Beth-el, the high-place which Jerobo'am the son of Nebat, who induced Israel to sin, had made,—also that altar and the high-place did he pull down; and he burnt the high-place, ground it small to powder, and burnt then the Asherah.

2 Kings 23:16

And Josiah turned about, and beheld the graves that were there in the mount, and he sent, and took the bones out of the sepulchres, and burnt them upon the altar, and polluted it, according to the word of the Lord which the man of God proclaimed, who had proclaimed these events.

2 Kings 23:17

Then said he, What kind of monument is that which I see? And the men of the city said to him, It is the grave of the man of God, who came from Judah, and proclaimed these things which thou hast done against the altar of Beth-el.

2 Kings 23:18

And he said, Let him rest: no man shall disturb his bones. So they saved his bones, with the bones of the prophet that came out of Samaria.

2 Kings 23:19

And also all the houses of the high-places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made as provocations to anger, did Josiah remove, and did to them in accordance with all the acts that he had done in Beth-el.

2 Kings 23:20

And he slaughtered all the priests of the high-places that were there upon the altars, and burnt men's bones upon them, and returned [then] to Jerusalem.

2 Kings 23:21

And the king commanded all the people, saying, Keep the passover unto the Lord your God, as it is written in this book of the covenant.

2 Kings 23:22

For there had not been holden such a passover from the days of the judges that judged Israel; nor in all the days of the kings of Israel, and of the kings of Judah;

2 Kings 23:23

But in the eighteenth year of king Josiah was this passover holden to the Lord in Jerusalem.

2 Kings 23:24

And also the men of familiar spirits, and the wizards, and the teraphim, and the idols, and all the abominations that were to be seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, did Josiah clear away; in order that he might accomplish the words of the law which were written in the book that Chilkijahu the priest had found in the house of the Lord.

2 Kings 23:25

And like unto him there was no king before him, that returned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses; and after him there arose none like him.

2 Kings 23:26

Notwithstanding this the Lord turned not from the fierceness of his great anger, since his anger was kindled against Judah, because of all the provokings wherewith Menasseh had provoked him to anger.

2 Kings 23:27

And the Lord said, Also Judah will I remove out of my sight, as I have removed Israel, and will cast off this city which I have chosen, even Jerusalem, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there.

2 Kings 23:28

Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2 Kings 23:29

In his days went up Pharaoh-nechoh the king of Egypt against the king of Assyria to the river Euphrates: and king Josiah went against him; and he slew him at Megiddo, when he saw him.

2 Kings 23:30

And his servants carried him dying in a chariot from Megiddo, and brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his own sepulchre. And the people of the land took Jehoachaz the son of Josiah, and anointed him, and made him king in his father's stead.

2 Kings 23:31

Twenty and three years old was Jehoachaz when he became king; and three months did he reign in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Chamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 Kings 23:32

And he did what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, all just as his fathers had done.

2 Kings 23:33

And Pharaoh–nechoh put him in fetters at Riblah in the land of Chamath, that he should not reign in Jerusalem, and imposed a fine on the land of a hundred talents of silver, and a talent of gold.

2 Kings 23:34

And Pharaoh–nechoh made Elyakim the son of Josiah king in the room of Josiah his father, and changed his name to Jehoyakim, and took Jehoachaz away: and he came to Egypt, and died there.

2 Kings 23:35

And Jehoyakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh; but he taxed the land to give the money by the order of Pharaoh: from every one according to his estimation did he exact the silver and gold from the people of the land, to give it unto Pharaoh–nechoh.

2 Kings 23:36

Twenty and five years old was Jehoyakim when he became king; and eleven years did he reign in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Zebudah, the daughter of Pedayah of Rumah.

2 Kings 23:37

And he did what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, all just as his fathers had done.

2 Kings 24:1

In his days came up Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and Jehoyakim became his servant for three years: and then he returned and rebelled against him.

2 Kings 24:2

And the Lord sent against him predatory bands of the Chaldeans, and predatory bands of the Syrians, and predatory bands of the Moabites, and predatory bands of the children of 'Ammon, and sent them against Judah to destroy it, according to the word of the Lord, which he had spoken by means of his servants the prophets.

2 Kings 24:3

But only at the order of the Lord came this upon Judah, to remove the same out of his sight, for the sins of Menasseh, in accordance with all that he had done;

2 Kings 24:4

And also for the innocent blood that he had shed; for he had filled Jerusalem with innocent blood; wherefore the Lord would not pardon.

2 Kings 24:5

Now the rest of the acts of Jehoyakim, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2 Kings 24:6

And Jehoyakim slept with his fathers: and Jehoyachin his son became king in his stead.

2 Kings 24:7

And the king of Egypt came no more again out of his land; for the king of Babylon had taken from the brook of Egypt unto the river Euphrates all that had pertained to the king of Egypt.

2 Kings 24:8

Eighteen years old was Jehoyachin when he became king, and three months did he reign in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Nechushta, the daughter of Elnathan of Jerusalem.

2 Kings 24:9

And he did what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, all just as that his father had done.

2 Kings 24:10

At that time the servants of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon came up against Jerusalem, and the city was put in a state of siege.

2 Kings 24:11

And Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon came against the city, while his servants were besieging it.

2 Kings 24:12

And Jehoyachin the king of Judah went out to the king of Babylon, he, and his mother, and his servants, and his princes, and his court-officers: and the king of Babylon took him [captive] in the eighth year of his reign.

2 Kings 24:13

And he carried out thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house, and cut in pieces all the vessels of gold which Solomon the king of Israel had made in the temple of the Lord, as the Lord had spoken.

2 Kings 24:14

And he led away as exiles all Jerusalem, and all the princes, and all the mighty men of valor, ten thousand exiles, and all the craftsmen and locksmiths: there was none left, save the poorest sort of the people of the land.

2 Kings 24:15

And he led away Jehoyachin as exile to Babylon; and the king's mother, and the king's wives, and his court-officers, and the mighty men of the land, he led into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon.

2 Kings 24:16

And all the men of might, seven thousand [in number], and the craftsmen and the locksmiths a thousand [in number], all strong men, apt for war; and the king of Babylon brought them into exile to Babylon.

2 Kings 24:17

And the king of Babylon made Mattanyah his uncle king in his stead, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

2 Kings 24:18

Twenty and one years old was Zedekiah when he became king, and eleven years did he reign in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Chamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2 Kings 24:19

And he did what is evil in the eyes of the Lord, all just as Jehoyakim had done.

2 Kings 24:20

For through the anger of the Lord it occurred in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence, that Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

2 Kings 25:1

And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth of the month, that Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon came, he, and all his host, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it; and they built a mound all around about it.

2 Kings 25:2

And the city was put in a state of siege until the eleventh year of king Zedekiah.

2 Kings 25:3

And on the ninth of the month, when the famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land:

2 Kings 25:4

The city was broken into, and all the men of war [fled] in the night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden; [while the Chaldeans were all round about the city;] and the people went the way toward the plain.

2 Kings 25:5

And the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jericho: and all his army were scattered from around him.

2 Kings 25:6

And they seized the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon to Riblah; and they called him to account.

2 Kings 25:7

And they slaughtered the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and he blinded the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with fetters of brass, and carried him to Babylon.

2 Kings 25:8

And in the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, came Nebusaradan, the chief of the guard, a servant of the king of Babylon, unto Jerusalem:

2 Kings 25:9

And he burnt the house of the Lord, and the king's house; also, all the houses of Jerusalem, and every great man's house burnt he with fire.

2 Kings 25:10

And the walls of Jerusalem round about did all the army of the Chaldeans that were with the captain of the guard tear down.

2 Kings 25:11

And the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the deserters that had run over to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebusaradan the captain of the guard lead away into exile;

2 Kings 25:12

But from the poorest of the land the captain of the guard left some to be vine-dressers and husbandmen.

2 Kings 25:13

And the pillars of copper that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the copper sea that was in the house of the Lord, did the Chaldeans break up, and they carried the copper thereof to Babylon.

2 Kings 25:14

And the pots, and the shovels, and the knives, and the spoons, and all the vessels of copper wherewith they ministered, took they away.

2 Kings 25:15

And the censers, and the bowls, the gold of the golden things, and the silver of the silver things, took the captain of the guard away.

2 Kings 25:16

The two pillars, the one sea, and the bases which Solomon had made for the house of the Lord: the copper of all these vessels was too much to be weighed.

2 Kings 25:17

Eighteen cubits was the height of the one pillar, and the capital upon it was copper; and the height of the capital was three cubits; and the wreathed work, and the pomegranates upon the capitals round about, were all of copper: and the same had the second pillar together with the wreathed work.

2 Kings 25:18

And the captain of the guard took Serayah the chief-priest, and Zephanyahu the second priest, and the three door-keepers;

2 Kings 25:19

And out of the city he took one court-officer that was appointed over the men of war, and five men of those that could come into the king's presence, who were found in the city, and the scribe of the chief of the army, who ordered to the army the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land that were found in the city:

2 Kings 25:20

And Nebusaradan the captain of the guard took these, and conducted them to the king of Babylon to Riblah;

2 Kings 25:21

And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Chamath. So did Judah wander away into exile out of their land.

2 Kings 25:22

And as for the people that were left in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had left, he appointed over them Gedalyahu the son of Achikam, the son of Shaphan.

2 Kings 25:23

And when all the captains of the armies, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedalyahu, they came to Gedalyahu to Mizpah; even Ishma'el the son of Nethanyah, and Jochanan the son of Kareach, and Serayah the son of Tanchumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazanyahu the son of a Ma'achathite, they and their men.

2 Kings 25:24

And Gedalyahu swore to them, and to their men, and said unto them, Be not afraid of the servants of the Chaldeans: remain in the land, and serve the king of Babylon; and it will be well with you.

2 Kings 25:25

But it happened in the seventh month, that there came Ishma'el the son of Nethanyah, the son of Elishama', of the seed royal, and ten men with him, and they smote Gedalyahu, so that he died, also the Jews and the Chaldeans that were with him at Mizpah.

2 Kings 25:26

And then arose all the people, from small to great, and the captains of the armies, and went to Egypt; for they were afraid of the Chaldeans.

2 Kings 25:27

And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoyachin the king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the seven and twentieth [day] of the month, that Evilmerodach the king of Babylon in the year that he became king did lift up the head of Jehoyachin the king of Judah out of the prison;

2 Kings 25:28

And he spoke kindly to him, and set his chair above the chair of the kings that were with him in Babylon:

2 Kings 25:29

And changed his prison garments: and he ate bread continually before him all the days of his life.

2 Kings 25:30

And his allowance was a continual allowance given him by the king, the necessary ration for the day on its day, all the days of his life.

And when the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to prove Solomon with riddles at Jerusalem, with a very great train, and with camels bearing spices, and gold in abundance, and precious stones: and when she was come to Solomon, she spoke with him of all that was on her heart.

2 Chronicles 9:2

And Solomon solved for her all her questions; and there was nothing hidden from Solomon which he did not tell her.

2 Chronicles 9:3

And when the queen of Sheba saw the wisdom of Solomon, and the house that he had built,

2 Chronicles 9:4

And the food of his table, and the sitting of his servants, and the attendance of his ministers, and their apparel, and his cup-bearers, and their apparel; and his ascent by which he went up into the house of the Lord: there was no more spirit in her.

2 Chronicles 9:5

And she said to the king, The truth [only] was the word that I heard in my own land of thy acts, and of thy wisdom.

Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy servants, who stand before thee continually, and hear thy wisdom.

2 Chronicles 9:8

Blessed be the Lord thy God, who hath had delight in thee to place thee on his throne, as a king for the Lord thy God; because thy God loved Israel, to sustain them for ever, therefore hath he placed thee over them as king, to exercise justice and righteousness.

And twelve lions stood there upon the six steps on both sides: there was not the like made in any kingdom.

Have ye not cast out the priests of the Lord, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, and have made yourselves priests like the people of the [various] lands? so that whosoever cometh to consecrate himself with a young bullock and seven rams can become a priest to things that are no gods?

Then commenced Hezekiah, and said, Now have ye consecrated yourselves unto the Lord: come near and bring sacrifices and thanksgiving–offerings unto the house of the Lord. And the assembly brought in sacrifices and thanksgiving–offerings, and every one who was liberal of heart, burnt–offerings.

2 Chronicles 29:32

And the number of the burnt–offerings, which the assembly brought, was seventy bullocks, one hundred rams, [and] two hundred sheep: as a burnt–offering unto the Lord were all these.

2 Chronicles 29:33

And the hallowed sacrifices were six hundred oxen and three thousand sheep.

2 Chronicles 29:34

Only the priests were too few, so that they could not flay all the burnt–offerings: wherefore their brethren the Levites assisted them, till the work was ended, and until the other priests could sanctify themselves, for the Levites were of upright heart to sanctify themselves more than the priests.

2 Chronicles 29:35

But there were also burnt–offerings in abundance, with the fat of the peace–offerings, and the drink–offerings for the burnt–offerings. So was [again] established the service of the house of the Lord.

2 Chronicles 29:36

And Hezekiah rejoiced, with all the people, over that which God had prepared for the people; because the thing occurred suddenly.

Then sent Hezekiah to all Israel and Judah, and he also wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, to prepare the passover–sacrifice unto the Lord the God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 30:2

And the king held a consultation, as also his princes, and all the assembly in Jerusalem, to prepare the passover–sacrifice in the second month.

2 Chronicles 30:3

For they were not able to prepare it at that time; because the priests had not sanctified themselves sufficiently, nor had the people gathered themselves together to Jerusalem.

And the thing seemed right in the eyes of the king and in the eyes of all the assembly.

2 Chronicles 30:5

So they established a decree to cause a proclamation to be made throughout all Israel, from Beer-sheba' even as far as Dan, that they should come to prepare the passover-sacrifice unto thy Lord the God of Israel at Jerusalem; because for a long time past they had not prepared it as it was written,

2 Chronicles 30:7

And be not like your fathers, and like your brethren, who acted faithlessly against the Lord the God of their fathers, wherefore he gave them up to become an [object of] astonishment, as ye see.

2 Chronicles 30:8

Now do ye not harden your necks, like your fathers: hold out your hand unto the Lord, and come unto his sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for ever, and serve the Lord your God, and so will he turn away from you the fierceness of his wrath.

2 Chronicles 30:9

For If ye return unto the Lord, your brethren and your children will find mercy in the presence of their captors, so that they may return to this land; for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his countenance from you, if ye return unto him.

And as the runners were passing from city to city through the country of Ephraim and Menasseh and as far as Zebulun, they were laughing them to scorn, and mocking at them.

And they stood on their station after their prescribed manner, according to the law of Moses the man of God, the priest sprinkling the blood, [which they received] out of the hand of the Levites.

For there were many in the assembly that had not sanctified themselves: therefore the Levites had the charge of the slaughtering of the passover sacrifices for every one that was not clean, to sanctify [the same] unto the Lord.

2 Chronicles 30:18

For a large portion of the people, even many out of Ephraim, and Menasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun, had not cleansed themselves, but ate the passover not as it is written. However Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The Lord who is good will grant pardon for this.

Then arose the priests the Levites and blessed the people: and their voice was listened to, and their prayer came to His holy dwelling-place, even unto heaven.

2 Chronicles 31:1

And when all this was finished, all Israel that were present went out to the cities of Judah, and broke in pieces the statues, and cut down the groves, and pulled down the high-places and the altars out of all Judah and Benjamin, and in Ephraim and Menasseh, until they had made an end of them all. Then returned all the children of Israel every man to his possession, to their own cities.

2 Chronicles 31:2

And Hezekiah stationed the divisions of the priests and the Levites after their divisions, every man according to his service, of the priests and the Levites, for burnt-offerings and for peace-offerings, to minister, and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the camps of the Lord.

2 Chronicles 31:3

The king also gave a portion from his own property for the burnt-offerings, [namely,] for the morning and evening burnt-offerings, and the burnt-offerings for the sabbaths, and for the new-moons, and for the appointed feasts, as it is written in the law of the Lord.

2 Chronicles 31:6

And as for the children of Israel and Judah, that dwelt in the cities of Judah, they also brought in the tithe of oxen and sheep, and the tithe of holy things which were hallowed unto the Lord their God, and gave [them] by heaps.

2 Chronicles 31:7

In the third month did they begin to lay the foundation of the heaps, and in the seventh month did they finish them.

Who among all the gods of those nations that my fathers utterly destroyed, was it, that was able to deliver his people out of my hand, that your God should be able to deliver you out of my hand?

Then arose Jeshua' the son of Jozadak, and his brethren the priests, and Zerubbabel the son of Shealthiel, and his brethren, and they built the altar of the God of Israel, to offer thereon burnt-offerings, as it is written in the law of Moses the man of God.

Ezra 3:3

And they erected the altar upon its foundations; for there was fear upon them because of the people of these countries; and they offered thereon burnt-offerings unto the Lord, burnt-offerings at morning and at evening.

Ezra 3:4

And they celebrated the feast of tabernacles, as it is written, and [offered] the daily burnt-offerings by number, according to the prescribed manner, the offering of every day on its day;

Ezra 3:8

And in the second year of their coming unto the house of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, did Zerubbabel the son of Shealthiel and Jeshua' the son of Jozadak, and the remainder of their brethren the priests and the Levites, and all they that were come out of the captivity unto Jerusalem make a beginning; and they appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, to superintend the work of the house of the Lord.

Ezra 3:9

Then stood forward Jeshua' with his sons and his brethren, Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of Judah, as one man, to superintend the workmen in the house of God; [also] the sons of Chenadad, their sons and their brethren the Levites.

And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the Lord, they placed the priests in their apparel with trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Assaph with cymbals, to praise the Lord, after the manner of David the king of Israel.

Ezra 3:11

And they sang responsively in praise and thanksgiving unto the Lord; because he is good, for unto everlasting endureth his kindness toward Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shout, while praising the Lord; because the foundation of the house of the Lord had been laid.

Ezra 3:12

But many of the priests and Levites and chiefs of the divisions, the aged, who had seen the first house, when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, wept with a loud voice, while many, shouting for joy, raised aloud their voice:

Ezra 3:13

So that the people could not distinguish the noise of the shout of joy from the noise of the weeping of the people; for the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard ever so far off.

Ezra 4:1

Now when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the children of the exile were building the temple unto the Lord the God of Israel:

Ezra 4:2

Then came they near to Zerubbabel, and to the chiefs of the divisions, and said unto them, Let us build with you; for like you will we seek your God; and unto him do we sacrifice since the days of Essar-chaddon the king of Asshur, who hath brought us up hither.

Ezra 4:3

But Zerubbabel, and Jeshua', and the rest of the of the divisions of Israel, said unto them, It is not obligatory on you and on us to build a house unto our God; but we ourselves together must build unto the Lord the God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commanded us.

Ezra 4:4

Then did the people of the land weaken the hands of the people of Judah, and frightened them off from building;

Ezra 4:5

And they hired against them counsellors, to frustrate their purpose, all the days of Cyrus the king of Persia, and even until the reign of Darius the king of Persia.

Ezra 4:6

And in the reign of Achashverosh, in the beginning of his reign they wrote an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

Ezra 4:7

And in the days of Artaxerxes wrote Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions, unto Artaxerxes the king of Persia: and the writing of the letter was written in Aramic, and interpreted in Aramic.

Ezra 4:8

Rechum the counsellor and Shimshai the scribe wrote a certain letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king, as followeth:

Ezra 4:9

Then [wrote] Rechum the counsellor, and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their companions, from Din, and Apharsathach, Tarpel, Apharass, Erech, Babylon, Shushan, Dehav, and 'Elam,

Ezra 4:10

And the rest of the nations whom the great and honored Assnapper had brought into exile, and settled in the cities of Samaria, and the rest that are on this side the river, and so forth.

Ezra 4:11

This is the copy of the letter which they sent unto him, even unto king Artaxerxes: Thy servants the men on this side the river, and so forth.

Ezra 4:12

Be it made known unto the king, that the Jews who removed away from thee are come up to us unto Jerusalem: they are building the rebellious and the bad city, and are completing the walls, and are joining together the foundations.

Ezra 4:13

Be it now known unto the king, that, if this city be rebuilt, and the walls be completed, they will not give tax, tribute, and toll, and the royal revenues will suffer damage.

Ezra 4:14

Now because we eat the salt of the palace, and it is not proper for us to see the king's dishonor, therefore have we sent and let the king know this:

Ezra 4:15

That search may be made in the book of the memorable events of thy fathers, and thou wilt find in the book of the memorable events, and know that this city is a rebellious city, and hurtful unto kings and provinces, and that they have practised sedition within the same from the most ancient time; for which cause this city was destroyed.

Ezra 4:16

We let the king know that, if this city be rebuilt, and its walls be completed, by this means thou wilt have no more any portion on this side of the river.

Ezra 4:17

Then sent the king a reply unto Rechum the counsellor, and to Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwell in Samaria, and unto the rest of those beyond the river, Peace, and so forth.

Ezra 4:18

The letter which ye have sent unto us hath been plainly read before me.

Ezra 4:19

And an order was given by me, and search was made, and it was found that this city from the most ancient time hath lifted itself up against kings, and that rebellion and sedition have been practised therein.

Ezra 4:20

And that mighty kings have been over Jerusalem, who ruled over all the countries beyond the river; and that tax, tribute, and toll was given unto them.

Ezra 4:21

Now give ye the order to stop these men, and this city shall not be built, until the order be given from me.

Ezra 4:22

Take heed now that ye commit no error in this: that not any injury may grow [out of this] to the damage of the kings.

Ezra 4:23

Thereupon so soon as the copy of king Artaxerxes' letter was read before Rechum, and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they did go up in haste to Jerusalem unto the Jews, and stopped them by force and power.

Ezra 4:24

Then was stopped the work of the house of God which is at Jerusalem, and it remained interrupted until the second year of the reign of Darius the king of Persia.

Ezra 5:1

Then prophesied Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the son of 'Iddo, the prophets, unto the Jews that were in Judah and Jerusalem, in the name of the God of Israel, concerning them.

Ezra 5:2

Then rose up Zerubbabel the son of Shealthiel, and Jeshua' the son of Jozadak, and began to build the house of God which is in Jerusalem; and with them were the prophets of God helping them.

Ezra 5:3

At this same time came to them Thathnai, the governor on this side of the river, and Shethar-bozenai, and their companions, and thus they said unto them, "Who hath given you an order to build this house, and to complete these walls?"

Ezra 5:4

Then said we unto them after this manner, what are the names of the men that erect this building.

Ezra 5:5

But the eye of their God was upon the elders of the Jews, so that they did not stop them, till the matter came to Darius; and they then returned an answer by letter concerning this.

Ezra 5:6

A copy of the letter which Thathnai, the governor on this side of the river, and Shethar-bozenai, and his companions, the Apharsachites, who were on this side of the river, sent unto king Darius.

Ezra 5:7

They sent a report unto him, and thus was it written therein: Unto king Darius be all peace.

Ezra 5:8

Be it known unto the king, that we went into the province of Judah, to the house of the great God, which they are building with heavy stones, and timber is laid in the walls, and this work is urged with speed, and it prospereth in their hands.

Ezra 5:9

Then asked we these elders, and after this manner said we unto them, Who hath given you the order to build this house, and to complete these walls?

Ezra 5:10

Also their names did we ask of them, to let thee know them, that we might write down the names of the men that are at their head.

Ezra 5:11

And in this manner did they return us answer, saying, We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and we build the house that was built before this many years, and a great king of Israel built and completed it.

Ezra 5:12

But since our fathers had provoked the God of heaven unto wrath, he gave them up into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, the Chaldean, and he destroyed this house, and carried the people as exiles into Babylon.

Ezra 5:13

However, in the first year of Cyrus the king of Babylon, king Cyrus gave an order to build this house of God.

Ezra 5:14

And also the vessels of gold and silver of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple that was in Jerusalem, and brought into the temple of Babylon, these did king Cyrus take out of the temple of Babylon, and gave them unto one, Sheshbazzar by name, whom he had appointed as governor;

Ezra 5:15

And he said unto him, Take these vessels, go, carry them into the temple which is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be built on its site.

Ezra 5:16

Then came this same Sheshbazzar, [and] laid the foundation of the house of God which is in Jerusalem; and from that time even until now they have been building it, but it is not yet finished.

Ezra 5:17

And now, if it seem good to the king, let search be made in the king's treasure-house, which is there at Babylon, whether it be so, that an order was given by king Cyrus to build this house of God at Jerusalem, and let the king send to us his pleasure concerning this matter.

Ezra 6:1

Then gave king Darius an order, that they should make search in the house of the books, where the treasures were laid up there in Babylon.

Ezra 6:2

And there was found at Achmetha, in the castle that is in the province of Media, a roll, and therein was thus written: A record.

Ezra 6:3

In the first year of king Cyrus, king Cyrus gave an order concerning the house of God at Jerusalem, Let the house be built, the place where they used to offer sacrifices, and let its foundations be strongly laid: its height shall be sixty cubits, its breadth sixty cubits,

Ezra 6:4

With three rows of heavy stones, and a row of new timber; and let the expenses be given out of the king's house.

Ezra 6:5

And also let the golden and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took away out of the temple which is in Jerusalem, and brought unto Babylon, be restored, and brought back unto the temple which is in Jerusalem, every one to its place, and let them be put in the house of God.

Ezra 6:6

Now Thathnai, governor beyond the river, Shethar-bozenai, and your companions the Apharsachites, who are beyond the river, be ye far from there:

Ezra 6:7

Let the work of this house of God alone; let the governor of the Jews and the elders of the Jews build this house of God on its site.

Ezra 6:8

And by me is the order given what ye shall do to the elders of these Jews for the building of this house of God, that out of the king's property, arising out of the tax beyond the river, the expenses shall forthwith be given unto these men, that they be not hindered.

Ezra 6:9

And what they have need of, both young bullocks, and rams, and lambs, for the burnt-offerings unto the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oil, according to the requirement of the priests who are a Jerusalem, shall be given unto them day by day, without fail.

Ezra 6:10

That they may offer sacrifices of sweet savors unto the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king and of his sons.

Ezra 6:11

Also is by me the order given, that if any man should alter this command, timber shall be pulled down from his house, and being set up, he shall be hanged thereon; and his house shall be made a dunghill for this.

Ezra 6:12

And may the God that causeth his name to dwell there cast down every king and people that will stretch forth their hand to alter, to destroy this house of God which is in Jerusalem. I Darius have given the order: let it be done speedily.

Ezra 6:13

Then did Thathnai the, governor on this aide of the river, Shethar-bozenai, and their companions, in accordance with what king Darius had sent, act in this manner speedily.

Ezra 6:14

And the elders of the Jews built, and they prospered, through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the son of 'Iddo. And they built, and completed it, according to the order of the God of Israel, and according to the order of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes the king of Persia.

Ezra 6:15

And this house was finished on the third day of the month Adar, which was in the sixth year of the reign of king Darius.

Ezra 6:16

Then celebrated the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the exile, the dedication of this house of God with joy;

Ezra 6:17

And they offered for the dedication of this house of God one hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; and for a sin-offering for all Israel, twelve he-goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

Ezra 6:18

And they stationed the priests in their orders, and the Levites in their divisions, for the service of God, which is in Jerusalem, as it is written in the book of Moses.

Ezra 6:19

And the children of the exile prepared the passover-[sacrifice] on the fourteenth day of the first month.

Ezra 6:20

For the priests and the Levites had purified themselves, as one man were all of them clean; and they slaughtered the passover-sacrifice for all the children of the exile, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

Ezra 6:21

And then did the children of Israel, who were returned out of the exile, and all such as had separated themselves unto them from the uncleanness of the nations of the earth, to seek the Lord the God of Israel, eat thereof.

Ezra 6:22

And they celebrated the feast of unleavened bread seven days with joy; for the Lord had made them joyful, and had turned the heart of the king of Asshur toward them, to strengthen their hands in the work of the house of God, the God of Israel.

Ezra 7:1

And after these things, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king of Persia, Ezra the son of Serayah, the son of 'Azaryah, the son of Chilkiyah,

Ezra 7:2

The son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Achitub,

Ezra 7:3

The son of Amaryah, the son of 'Azaryah, the son of Merayoth,

Ezra 7:4

The son of Zerachyah, the son of 'Uzzi, the son of Bukki,

Ezra 7:5

The son of Abishua', the son of Phinehas, the son of Elazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest:

Ezra 7:6

This 'Ezra went up from Babylon; and he was a practised expounder in the law of Moses, which the Lord the God of Israel hath given; and the king gave him, according to the hand of the Lord his God upon him, all his request.

Ezra 7:7

And there went up some of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and the Levites, and the singers, and the gate-keepers, and the temple-servants, unto Jerusalem, in the seventh year of king Artaxerxes.

Ezra 7:8

And he came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, which was in the seventh year of the king.

Ezra 7:9

For on the first day of the first month was the commencement of the expedition from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth month came he to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him.

Ezra 7:10

For 'Ezra had directed his heart to inquire in the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach in Israel statutes and ordinances.

Ezra 7:11

Now this is the copy of the letter which king Artaxerxes gave unto 'Ezra the priest, the expounder of the law, the expounder of the words of the commandments of the Lord, and of his statutes for Israel.

Ezra 7:12

Artaxerxes, the king of kings, unto 'Ezra the priest, the expounder of the law of the God of heaven, the perfect, and so forth.

Ezra 7:13

By me is the order given, that every one who is freely willing in my kingdom out of the people of Israel, and their priests and Levites, to go up to Jerusalem, may go up with thee:

Ezra 7:14

Forasmuch as thou art sent on the part of the king, and of his seven counsellors, to make inquiry concerning Judah and Jerusalem, according to the law of thy God which is in thy hand;

Ezra 7:15

And to carry the silver and gold, which the king and his counsellors have freely offered unto the God of Israel, whose habitation is in Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:16

And all [freewill offerings of] silver and gold that thou canst find in all the province of Babylon, with the freewill offerings which the people and the priests offer willingly for the house of their God which is in Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:17

Therefore mayest thou buy speedily with this money bullocks, rams, lambs, with their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings, and offer them upon the altar of the house of your God which is in Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:18

And whatsoever shall seem good to thee, and to thy brethren, to do with the rest of the silver and the gold, that do according to the will of your God.

Ezra 7:19

And the vessels which have been given unto thee for the service of the house of thy God, deliver thou before the God of Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:20

And the remainder that will yet be needful for the house of thy God, which thou shalt have occasion to procure, procure out of the King's treasure-house.

Ezra 7:21

And by me, me King Artaxerxes, is the order given unto all the treasurers who are beyond the river, that whatsoever 'Ezra the priest, the expounder of the law of the God of heaven, may demand of you, shall be done speedily.

Ezra 7:22

Up to one hundred talents of silver, and up to one hundred cors of wheat, and up to one hundred baths of wine, and up to one hundred baths of oil, and salt without prescribing it.

Ezra 7:23

Whatsoever is ordered by the God of heaven shall be carefully done for the house of the God of heaven; for why should there be wrath against the kingdom of the king and his sons?

Ezra 7:24

And to you make we it known, that on any of the priests and Levites, singers, gate-keepers, and temple-servants, or ministers of this house of God, no one shall be empowered to impose any tax, tribute, or toll.

Ezra 7:25

And thou, 'Ezra, according to the wisdom of thy God which is in thy hand, appoint judges and magistrates, who are to judge all the people that are beyond the river, all such as know the laws of thy God; and make ye them known to those that know them not.

Ezra 7:26

And if there be any one who will not execute the law of thy God, and the law of the king, let justice be speedily executed upon him, whether it be unto death or to banishment, or to a fine on goods, or to imprisonment.

Ezra 7:27

Blessed be the Lord the God of our fathers, who hath put the like of this in the heart of the king, to glorify the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem;

Ezra 7:28

And who hath extended kindness unto me before the king and his counsellors, and before all the mighty princes of the king: and I strengthened myself according to the hand of the Lord my God upon me, and I gathered together out of Israel principal men to go up with me.

Ezra 8:1

Now these are the chiefs of their divisions, and this is the genealogy of those that went up with me, in the reign of king Artaxerxes, from Babylon.

Ezra 8:2

Of these sons of Phinehas, Gershom; of the sons of Ithamar, Daniel; of the sons of David, Chattush;

Ezra 8:3

Of the sons of Shechanyah, [who was] of the sons of Par'osh, Zechariah; and with him were recorded by genealogy of males one hundred and fifty.

Ezra 8:4

Of the sons of Pachath-moab, Elyeho'enai the son of Zerachyah, and with him were two hundred males.

Ezra 8:5

Of the sons of Shechanyah, the son of Yachaziel, and with him were three hundred males.

Ezra 8:6

And of the sons of 'Adin, 'Ebed the son of Jonathan, and with him were fifty males.

Ezra 8:7

And of the sons of 'Elam, Jeshayah the son of 'Athalyah, and with him were seventy males.

Ezra 8:8

And of the sons of Shephatyath, Zebadyah the son of Michael, and with him were eighty males.

Ezra 8:9

Of the sons of Joab, 'Obadiah the son of Jechiel, and with him were two hundred and eighteen males.

Ezra 8:10

And of the sons of Shelomith, the son of Jossiphyah, and with him were one hundred and sixty males.

Ezra 8:11

And of the sons of Bebai, Zechariah the son of Bebai, and with him were twenty and eight males.

Ezra 8:12

And the sons of 'Azgad, Jochanan the son of Hakkatan, and with him were one hundred and ten males.

Ezra 8:13

And of the sons of Adonikam the last; and those are their names, Eliphelet, Je'iel, and Shema'yah, and with them were sixty males.

Ezra 8:14

And of the sons of Bigvai, 'Uthai, and Zabbur, and with them were seventy males.

Ezra 8:15

And I gathered them together to the river that runneth into the Ahava, and we encamped there three days: and I looked about among the people, and the priests, but of the sons of Levi I found none there.

Ezra 8:16

Then sent I for Eli'ezer, for Ariel, for Shema'yah, and for Elnathan, and for Jarib, and for Elnathan, and for Nathan, and for Zechariah, and for Meshullam, the head men; also for Joyarib, and for Elnathan, men of understanding.

Ezra 8:17

And I sent them with a charge unto Iddo the chief at the place Cassiphia, and I laid the words in their mouth to speak unto Iddo, and to his brother, who were appointed at the place Cassiphia, that they should bring unto us ministers for the house of our God.

Ezra 8:18

And they brought unto us according to the good hand of our God upon us a man of intelligence, of the sons of Machli, the son of Levi, the son of Israel, namely, Sherebyah, with his sons and his brothers, eighteen;

Ezra 8:19

And Chashabyah, and with him Jesha'yah of the sons of Merari, his brothers and their sons, twenty.

Ezra 8:20

Also of the temple-servants, whom David and the princes had assigned for the service of the Levites two hundred and twenty temple-servants, all of whom were expressed by names.

Ezra 8:21

Then did I proclaim a fast there, at the river Ahava, that we might afflict ourselves before our God, to request from him a prosperous journey for us, and for our little ones, and for all our substance.

Ezra 8:22

For I was ashamed to ask of the king an army and horsemen to assist us against an enemy on the way; because we had spoken unto the king, saying, The hand of our God is upon all those that seek him for good; but his power and his wrath are against all those that forsake him.

Ezra 8:23

So we fasted and besought our God for this, and he suffered himself to be entreated by us.

Ezra 8:24

Then set I apart of the chiefs of the priests twelve persons, Sherebyah, Chashabyah, and with them ten of their brethren.

Ezra 8:25

And I weighed out unto them the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, the offering for the house of our God, which the king, and his counsellors, and his princes, and all Israel there present, had offered.

Ezra 8:26

And I weighed out into their hand of silver six hundred and fifty talents, and of silver vessels one hundred talents, of gold one hundred talents;

Ezra 8:27

Also twenty cups of gold, of a thousand drachms; and two vessels of fine polished copper, valuable as gold.

Ezra 8:28

And I said unto them, Ye are holy unto the Lord; and the vessels are holy; and the silver and the gold are a freewill offering unto the Lord the God of your fathers.

Ezra 8:29

Watch ye, and guard them, until ye weigh them out before the chiefs of the priests and the Levites, and the chiefs of the divisions of Israel, at Jerusalem, into the chambers of the house of the Lord.

Ezra 8:30

And the priests and the Levites accepted what was weighed out of the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, to bring the same to Jerusalem to the house of our God.

Ezra 8:31

And we departed from the river Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to go unto Jerusalem: and the hand of our God was over us, and he delivered us from the hand of any enemy, and of such as lie in wait on the way.

Ezra 8:32

And we came to Jerusalem, and remained there three days.

Ezra 8:33

And on the fourth day were the silver and the gold and the vessels weighed out in the house of our God into the hand of Meremoth the son of Uriyah the priest; and with him was El'azar the son of Phinehas; and with them was Jozabad the son of Jeshua', and No'adyah the son of Binnui, the Levites;

Ezra 8:34

By number and by weight of everything: and all the weight was written down at the same time.

Ezra 8:35

Those that came out of the captivity, the children of the exile, offered burnt-offerings unto the God of Israel, twelve bullocks for all Israel, ninety and six rams, seventy and seven sheep, twelve he-goats for a sin-offering: all as burnt-offerings unto the Lord.

Ezra 8:36

And they delivered the king's commands unto the king's lieutenants, and to the governors on this side of the river; and these endowed the people, and the house of God.

Ezra 9:1

Now when these things were accomplished, the princes approached me, saying, The people of Israel, and the priests, and the Levites, have not separated themselves from the nations of the lands, notwithstanding their abominations, from the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the 'Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Emorites;

Ezra 9:2

For they have taken of their daughters for themselves and for their sons; and the holy seed have mingled themselves with the nations of these lands; and the hand of the princes and rulers hath been the first in this trespass.

Ezra 9:3

And when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my mantle, and I plucked out some of the hair of my head and of my beard, and sat down astounded.

Ezra 9:4

And then assembled themselves unto me every one that trembled at the words of the God of Israel, because of the trespass of the exiles; and I sat astounded until the evening sacrifice.

Ezra 9:5

And at the evening sacrifice I rose up from my fasting, and while rending my garment and my mantle, I knelt down upon my knees, and spread out my hands unto the Lord my God.

Ezra 9:6

And I said, O my God, I am ashamed and confounded to lift up my face unto thee, my God! for our iniquities are increased above our head, and our guiltiness is grown up as far as the heavens.

Ezra 9:7

From the days of our fathers have we been in a great guiltiness even until this day; and through our iniquities have we been delivered, we, our kings, and our priests, into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, and to a spoil, and to the shame of face, as it is this day.

Ezra 9:8

And now for a little moment hath grace been extended from the Lord our God, to preserve us a remnant to escape, and to give us a stake in his holy place, that our God might enlighten our eyes, and give us a little reviving in our bondage.

Ezra 9:9

For we are bondmen: yet in our bondage hath our God not forsaken us, but hath extended unto us kindness before the kings of Persia, to give us a reviving, to exalt the house of our God, and to erect again its ruins, and to give us a fence in Judah and in Jerusalem.

Ezra 9:10

And now what shall we say, O our God, after this? for we have forsaken thy commandments,

Ezra 9:11

Which thou hast commanded through means of thy servants the prophets, saying, The land, unto which ye go to take possession thereof, is a land defiled through the defilement of the nations of the lands, through their abominations, with which they have filled it from one end to another through their uncleanness.

Ezra 9:12

And now your daughters shall ye not give unto their sons, and their daughters shall ye not take for your sons, and ye shall not seek their peace and their welfare unto eternity: in order that ye may be strong, and eat the best of the land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children unto eternity.

Ezra 9:13

And after all that is come over us for our evil deeds, and for our great guiltiness, seeing that thou our God hast spared us [punishing us] less than our iniquities [deserved], and hast given us such deliverance as this:

Ezra 9:14

Should we again make void thy commandments, and make marriage with these people of abominations? wouldst thou not be angry with us even to make an end of us, so that there would not be any remnant or escape?

Ezra 9:15

O Lord, God of Israel, thou art righteous; for we have been left a remnant that hath escaped, as it is this day; behold, we are before thee in our guiltiness; for there is no standing before thee because of this.

Ezra 10:1

Now when 'Ezra prayed, and when he made his confession, weeping and casting himself down before the house of God, there gathered themselves unto him out of Israel a very large assembly of men and women and children; for the people wept exceedingly much.

Ezra 10:2

Thereupon commenced Shechanyah the son of Jechiel, of the sons of 'Elam, and said unto 'Ezra, we have indeed trespassed against our God, and have brought home strange wives of the nations of the land: yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this thing.

Ezra 10:3

And now let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the direction of the Lord, and of those that tremble at the commandment of our God: and let it be done according to the law.

Ezra 10:4

Arise; for this matter is obligatory upon thee; and we will be with thee: be strong, and do it.

Ezra 10:5

Then arose 'Ezra, and caused the princes of the priests, the Levites, and of all Israel, to swear to do according to this word. And they swore.

Ezra 10:6

Then arose 'Ezra from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Jochanan the son of Elyashib; and he went thither without having eaten bread, or having drunk water; for he was mourning because of the trespass of the exiles.

Ezra 10:7

And they made proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem unto all the children of the exile, to gather themselves together at Jerusalem;

Ezra 10:8

And that whosoever should not come within three days, according to the resolve of the princes and the elders, all his substance should be devoted, and himself separated from the congregation of the exiles.

Ezra 10:9

Then were all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered together unto Jerusalem within three days: it was in the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month; and all the people sat in the open place before the house of God, trembling because of this matter, and by reason of the showers of rain.

Ezra 10:10

And 'Ezra the priest rose up, and said unto them, Ye have acted unfaithfully, and have brought home strange wives, to increase yet more the guiltiness of Israel.

Ezra 10:11

Now therefore make confession unto the Lord the God of your fathers, and do his will; and separate yourselves from the nations of the earth, and from the strange wives.

Ezra 10:12

Then answered all the assembly and said with a loud voice, So be it: according to thy word it is our duty to do.

Ezra 10:13

But the people are many, and it is the rainy season, and we have not the strength to remain in the street, nor is this a work for one day or for two days; for we are many that have transgressed in this matter.

Ezra 10:14

Let however our princes stand forward for all the congregation, and let all those in our cities who have brought home strange wives come at appointed times, and with them the elders of each and every city, and its judges, until the fierce wrath of our God be turned away from us for this whole matter.

Ezra 10:15

Only Jonathan the son of 'Assahel and Jachzeyah the son of Thikvah withstood this [proposal]: and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Levite assisted them.

Ezra 10:16

And the children of the exile did so. And then were set apart 'Ezra the priest, [and] certain chiefs of the divisions, for their family divisions, and all of them [designated] by their names; and they sat down on the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

Ezra 10:17

And they made an end with all, with the men that had brought home strange wives, not before the first day of the first month.

Ezra 10:18

And there were found among the sons of the priests that had brought home strange wives, namely, of the sons of Jeshua' the son of Jozadak, and his brethren: Ma'asseyah, and Eli'ezer, and Jarib, and Gedalyah.

Ezra 10:19

And they gave their hand to put away their wives, and being guilty, [they offered] a ram of the flock for their trespass.

Ezra 10:20

And of the sons of Immer: Chanani, and Zebadyah.

Ezra 10:21

And of the sons of Charim: Ma'asseyah, and Elijah, and Shema'yah, and Jechiel, and 'Uzziyah.

Ezra 10:22

And of the sons of Pashchur: Elyo'enai, Ma'asseyah. Ishmael, Nethanel, Jozabad, and El'assah.

Ezra 10:23

Also of the Levites: Jozabad, and Shim'i, and Kelayan, the same is Kelita, Pethachyah, Judah, and Eli'ezer.

Ezra 10:24

And of the singers, Elyashib; and of the gate-keepers, Shallum, and Telem, and Uri.

Ezra 10:25

And of Israel: Of the sons of Par'osh, Ramyah, and Yizziyah, and Malkiyah, and Miyamin, and El'azar, and Malkiyah, and Benayah.

Ezra 10:26

And of the sons of ‘Elam; Matthanyah, Zecharyah, and Jechiel, and ‘Abdi, and Jeremoth, and Eliyah.

Ezra 10:27

And of the sons of Zattu: Elyo’enai, Elyashib, Matthanyah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad, and ‘Aziza.

Ezra 10:28

And of the sons of Bebai: Jehochanan, Chananyah, Zabbai, and ‘Athlai.

Ezra 10:29

And of the sons of Bani: Meshullam, Malluch, and ‘Adayah, Jashub, and Sheal, and Ramoth.

Ezra 10:30

And of the sons of Pachath–moab: ‘Adna, and Kelal, Benayah, Ma’asseyah, Matthanyah, Bezalel, and Binnui, and Menasseh.

Ezra 10:31

And of the sons of Charim: Eli’ezer, Yishiyah, Malkiyah, Shema’yah, Shim’on,

Ezra 10:32

Benjamin, Malluch, and Shemaryah.

Ezra 10:33

Of the sons of Chashum: Matthenai, Matthathah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Menasseh, and Shim’i.

Ezra 10:34

Of the sons of Bani: Ma’adai, ‘Amram, and Uel,

Ezra 10:35

Benayah, Bedeyah, Keluhu,

Ezra 10:36

Vanyah, Meremoth, Elyashib,

Ezra 10:37

Matthanyah, Matthenai, and Ja’assai,

Ezra 10:38

And Bani, and Binnui, and Shim’i,

Ezra 10:39

And Shelemyah, and Nathan, and ‘Adayah,

Ezra 10:40

Machnadbai, Shashai, Sharai,

Ezra 10:41

‘Asar’el, and Shelemyahu, Shemaryah,

Ezra 10:42

Shallum, Amaryah, and Joseph.

Ezra 10:43

Of the sons of Nebo: Je’iel, Matthithyah, Zabad, Zebina, Jaddai, and Joel, Benayah.

Ezra 10:44

All these had taken strange wives; and some of them had wives by whom they had children.

NEHEMIAH

Nehemiah 1:1

The words of Nehemiah the son of Chachalyah. And it came to pass in the month Kislev, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shushan, the capital,

Nehemiah 1:2

That there came Chanani, one of my brethren, himself with certain men of Judah: and I asked them concerning the Jews that had escaped, who were left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 1:3

And they said unto me, The remnant that are left of the captivity there in the province are in great misery and in disgrace; and the wall of Jerusalem is broken down, and her gates are burnt with fire.

Nehemiah 1:4

And it came to pass, when I heard these words, that I sat down and wept, and mourned some days, and I was fasting, and praying before the God of heaven.

Nehemiah 1:5

And I said, I beseech thee, O Lord the God of heaven, the great and terrible God, that keepeth the covenant and kindness for those that love him and for those that keep his commandments:

Nehemiah 1:6

Let thy ear now be attentive, and thy eyes be open, I entreat thee, to hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, which I am praying this day before thee, by day and by night, in behalf of the children of Israel thy servants, and [as] I confess for the sins of the children of Israel, [with] which we have sinned against thee: yea, I also and my father's house have sinned.

Nehemiah 1:7

We have dealt very corruptly toward thee: and we have not kept the commandments, and the statutes, and the ordinances, which thou didst command Moses thy servant.

Nehemiah 1:8

Remember, I beseech thee, the word with which thou didst charge Moses thy servant, saying, If ye become truly unfaithful, I will indeed scatter you among the nations.

Nehemiah 1:9

But if ye return unto me, and keep my commandments, and do them: [then] though your outcasts should be at the utmost parts of heaven, from there will I gather them, and I will bring them unto the place which I have chosen to let my name dwell there.

Nehemiah 1:10

And they are thy servants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy strong hand.

Nehemiah 1:11

I beseech thee, O Lord, do let thy ear be attentive to the prayer of thy servant, and to the prayer of thy servants, who are desirous to fear thy name; and grant success, I pray thee, to thy servant this day, and let him find mercy in the sight of this man —But I was butler by the king.

Nehemiah 2:1

And it came to pass in the month Nissan, in the twentieth year of king Artaxerxes, that wine [stood] before him; and I took up the wine, and gave it unto the king. But I had never been sad in his presence.

Nehemiah 2:2

Then said the king unto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sick? this is nothing but an illness of heart. Then was I very greatly afraid.

Nehemiah 2:3

And I said unto the king, May the king live for ever: why should not my countenance be sad, when the city, the place of my fathers' sepulchres, lieth ruined, and her gates are consumed by fire?

Nehemiah 2:4

Then said the king unto me, For what then dost thou make request? Then did I pray to the God of heaven.

Nehemiah 2:5

And I said unto the king, If it seem good to the king, and if thy servant might be pleasing in thy presence, [I desire] that thou wouldst send me unto Judah, unto the city of my fathers' sepulchres, that I may build it.

Nehemiah 2:6

And the king said unto me, while the queen was sitting beside him, When is thy journey to be undertaken? and when wilt thou return? So it pleased the king to let me go; and I indicated to him a time.

Nehemiah 2:7

And I said unto the king, If it seem good to the king, let letters be given unto me for the governors beyond the river, that they may convey me over till the time that I come into Judah;

Nehemiah 2:8

Also a letter unto Assaph the keeper of the king's forests, that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the fortress which appertaineth to the house, and for the wall of the city, and for the house that I shall move into. And the king gave [them] to me, according to the good hand of my God upon me.

Nehemiah 2:9

And [so] came I to the governors beyond the river, and I gave them the king's letters. Now the king had sent with me captains of the army and horsemen.

Nehemiah 2:10

When Sanballat the Choronite, and Tobiyah the servant, the 'Ammonite, heard of it, it displeased them exceedingly, that there was come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel.

Nehemiah 2:11

So came I to Jerusalem, and remained there three days.

Nehemiah 2:12

Then arose I in the night, I and some few men with me; but I had not told any man what my God had put in my heart to do for Jerusalem: nor was there any beast with me, save the beast on which I rode.

Nehemiah 2:13

And I went out through the gate of the valley by night, even toward the direction of the dragon-well, and to the dung-gate; and I was viewing the walls of Jerusalem, which were broken down, and the gates whereof were consumed by fire.

Nehemiah 2:14

Then passed I on to the gate of the fountain, and to the king's pool; but there was no space for the beast that was under me to pass through.

Nehemiah 2:15

Then went I up through the valley in the night, and I was viewing the wall, and I returned and entered through the gate of the valley, and so returned home.

Nehemiah 2:16

And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, or what I was doing: nor had I as yet told it to the Jews, and to the priests, and to the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the superintendents of the work.

Nehemiah 2:17

Then said I unto them, Ye see the misery in which we are, how Jerusalem lieth in ruins, and its gates are burnt with fire: come, and let us build up the wall of Jerusalem, that we may no more be for a reproach.

Nehemiah 2:18

And I told them of the hand of my God, which was good upon me, as also the king's words which he had spoken unto me. And they said, We will rise up and build. So they strengthened their hands for the good work.

Nehemiah 2:19

But when Sanballat the Choronite, and Tobiyah the servant, the 'Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian, heard it, they laughed us to scorn, and despised us, and said, What is this thing that ye are doing? are ye rebelling against the king?

Nehemiah 2:20

And I returned them an answer, and said unto them, The God of heaven will indeed give us prosperity, and we his servants will truly rise up and build; but ye have no portion, nor right, nor memorial, in Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 3:1

Then rose up Elyashib the high priest with his brethren the priests, and they built the sheep-gate; they sanctified it, and set up its doors: even as far as the tower of Meah did they sanctify it, as far as the tower of Chananel.

Nehemiah 3:2

And by his side built the men of Jericho. And by his [other] side built Zaccur the son of Imri.

Nehemiah 3:3

But the fish-gate did the sons of Hassenaah build: they also laid its beams, and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars.

Nehemiah 3:4

And alongside of them repaired Meremoth the son of Uriyah, the son of Kakkoz. And alongside of them repaired Meshullam the son of Berechyah, the son of Meshezabel. And alongside of them repaired Zadok the son of Ba'ana.

Nehemiah 3:5

And alongside of them repaired the Teko'ites; but their principal men put not their necks to the work of their Lord.

Nehemiah 3:6

Moreover the old gate repaired Yoyada' the son of Passeach, and Meshullam the son of Bessodeyah: they laid its beams, and set up its doors, and its locks, and its bars.

Nehemiah 3:7

And alongside of them repaired Melatyah the Gib'onite, and Jadon the Meronothite, men of Gib'on and of Mizpah, unto the seat of the governor on this side of the river.

Nehemiah 3:8

Alongside of him repaired 'Uzziel the son of Charhayah, of the goldsmiths. And alongside of him repaired Chananyah the son of one of the apothecaries, and they fortified Jerusalem as far as the broad wall.

Nehemiah 3:9

And alongside of them repaired Rephayah the son of Chur, the chief of the half of the district of Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 3:10

And alongside of them repaired Jedayah the son of Charumaph, and this opposite to his house. And alongside of him repaired Chattush the son of Chashabneyah.

Nehemiah 3:11

Another division did Malkiyah the son of Charim, and Chashub the son of Pachathmoab, repair, as also the tower of the ovens.

Nehemiah 3:12

And alongside of him repaired Shallum the son of Hallochesh, the chief of the other half of the district of Jerusalem, he and his daughters.

Nehemiah 3:13

The gate of the valley repaired Chanun, and the inhabitants of Zanoach: they built it, and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars, and a thousand cubits of the wall as far as the dung-gate.

Nehemiah 3:14

And the dung-gate repaired Malkiyah the son of Rechah, the chief of the district of Beth-hakkerem: he built it, and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars.

Nehemiah 3:15

And the gate of the fountain repaired Shallum the son of Col-chozeh, the chief of the district of Mizpah: he built it and covered it, and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars, and the wall of the pool of Shelach by the king's garden, and as far as the stairs that lead down from the city of David.

Nehemiah 3:16

Next to him repaired Nehemiah the son of 'Azbuk, the chief of the half district of Beth-zur, as far as the place opposite to the sepulchres of David, and as far as the pool that was [newly] made, and as far as the house of the mighty men.

Nehemiah 3:17

Next to him repaired the Levites: Rechum the son of Bani. Alongside of him repaired Chashabyah, the chief of the half district of Ke'ilah, for his district.

Nehemiah 3:18

Next to him repaired their brethren: Bavai the son of Chenadad, the chief of the [other] half district of Ke'ilah.

Nehemiah 3:19

And there repaired alongside of him 'Ezer the son of Joshua, the chief of Mizpah, another division, opposite to the ascent to the armory at the angle.

Nehemiah 3:20

Next to him did Baruch the son of Zaccai' earnestly repair another division, from the angle as far as the door of the house of Elyashib the high priest.

Nehemiah 3:21

Next to him repaired Meremoth the son of Uriyah the son of Hakkoz another division, from the door of the house of Elyashib even as far as the end of the house of Elyashib.

Nehemiah 3:22

And next to him repaired the priests, the men of the plain [of Jordan].

Nehemiah 3:23

Next to him repaired Benjamin and Chashub opposite to their house. Next to him repaired 'Azaryah the son of Ma'aseyah the son of 'Ananyah alongside of his house.

Nehemiah 3:24

Next to him repaired Binnui the son of Chenadad another division, from the house of 'Azaryah as far as the angle, and as far as the corner.

Nehemiah 3:25

Palal the son of Uzai [repaired] from opposite to the angle, and the tower which standeth out from the king's upper house, that was by the court of the prison. Next to him Pedayah the son of Par'osh.

Nehemiah 3:26

And the temple-servants dwelt on the hill fort, [and they built] as far as opposite to the water-gate toward the east, and the tower that standeth out.

Nehemiah 3:27

Next to them repaired the Teko'ites another division from opposite the great tower that standeth out, and as far as the wall of the hill fort.

Nehemiah 3:28

From above the horse-gate repaired the priests, every one opposite to his house.

Nehemiah 3:29

Next to this repaired Zadok the son of Immer opposite to his house. And next to him repaired Shema'yah the son of Schechanyah, the keeper of the east gate.

Nehemiah 3:30

Next to him repaired Chananyah the son of Shelemyah, and Chanun the sixth son of Zalaph another division. Next to him repaired Meshullam the son of Berechyah opposite to his chamber.

Nehemiah 3:31

Next to him repaired Malkiyah the goldsmith's son as far as the house of the temple-servants, and of the merchants, opposite to the mustering-gate, and to the upper chamber of the corner.

Nehemiah 3:32

And between the upper chamber of the corner and the sheep-gate repaired the goldsmiths and the merchants.

Nehemiah 4:1 (3:33)

And it came to pass, when Sanballat heard that we were building the wall, that it displeased him, and he became very angry, and he mocked at the Jews.

Nehemiah 4:2 (3:34)

And he spoke before his brethren and the army of Samaria, and said, What are these feeble Jews doing? will people suffer them [to build]? will they sacrifice? will they complete it in one day? will they revive the stones out of the heaps of the rubbish, seeing that they have been burnt?

Nehemiah 4:3 (3:35)

And Tobiyah the ‘Ammonite was near him, and he said, Even what they are building, if a fox were to run up, he would readily break through their stone wall.

Nehemiah 4:4 (3:36)

Hear, O our God! how we are become a scorn; and bring their reproach back upon their own head, and give them up for prey in the land of captivity.

Nehemiah 4:5 (3:37)

And cover not up their iniquity, and let not their sin be blotted out from before thee; for they have taunted [us] in the presence of the builders.

Nehemiah 4:6 (3:38)

But we built the wall; and all the wall was joined together up to the half thereof; for the people had a heart to work.

Nehemiah 4:7 (4:1)

And it came to pass, when Sanballat and Tobiyah, and the Arabians, and the ‘Ammonites, and the Ashdodites, heard that the walls of Jerusalem were restored, and that the breaches began to be closed up, that it displeased them greatly.

Nehemiah 4:8 (4:2)

And they conspired all of them together to come to fight against Jerusalem, and to do it an injury.

Nehemiah 4:9 (4:3)

But we prayed unto our God, and set a watch over them day and night, because of the others.

Nehemiah 4:10 (4:4)

And Judah said, The strength of the bearers of the burden is failing, and there is much rubbish; and we are not able to build on the wall.

Nehemiah 4:11 (4:5)

And our adversaries said, "They shall not know, nor see until we come in the midst of them, and slay them, and so stop the work."

Nehemiah 4:12 (4:6)

And it came to pass, when the Jews who dwelt near them came, that they said unto us ten times, "From all places whence ye may return home [they intend to come] over us."

Nehemiah 4:13 (4:7)

I placed therefore on the lower parts of the place on the naked rocks behind the wall—there I placed the people after their families with their swords, their spears, and their bows.

Nehemiah 4:14 (4:8)

And I looked [about], and rose up, and said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: think on the Lord, the great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sons, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.

Nehemiah 4:15 (4:9)

And it came to pass, that, when our enemies heard that it was known unto us, God frustrated their counsel: and we returned, all of us, to the wall, every one unto his work.

Nehemiah 4:16 (4:10)

And it came to pass from that day forth, that the half of my young men wrought at the work, while the other half of them were holding the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the coats of mail; and the princes stood behind all the house of Judah.

Nehemiah 4:17 (4:11)

Those that built on the wall, and those that bore burdens, with those that loaded,—every one with one of his hands wrought on the work, and with the other hand held a weapon.

Nehemiah 4:18 (4:12)

And the builders had every one his sword fastened around his loins while they were building; and he that blew the cornet stood alongside of me.

Nehemiah 4:19 (4:13)

And I said unto the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The work is great and extensive, and we are separated upon the wall, distant one from another.

Nehemiah 4:20 (4:14)

In what place [then] ye hear the sound of the cornet, thither must ye assemble unto us: our God will fight for us.

Nehemiah 4:21 (4:15)

So we labored at the work, while the half of them were holding the spears from the rising of the morning—dawn till the stars appeared.

Nehemiah 4:22 (4:16)

Likewise at the same time said I unto the people, Let every one with his young man lodge within Jerusalem, so that they may be in the night a guard to us, and during the day for the labor.

Nehemiah 4:23 (4:17)

And neither I, nor my brothers, nor my young men, nor the men of the guard who followed me—none of us took off our clothes, no one leaving them off even for washing himself.

Nehemiah 5:1

And there arose a great outcry of the people and of their wives against their brethren the Jews.

Nehemiah 5:2

And there were some that said, Our sons, and our daughters, [and] ourselves are many; and we must buy corn, that we may eat, and live.

Nehemiah 5:3

And others there were that said, We must pledge our fields, our vineyards, and our houses, that we may buy corn, in the famine.

Nehemiah 5:4

And others there were that said, We have borrowed money for the king's tax on our fields and vineyards.

Nehemiah 5:5

Yet now our flesh is like the flesh of our brethren, our children are like their children: and, lo, we must force our sons and our daughters to become servants, and some of our daughters are forced [to become so], and our hand is powerless; and our fields and our vineyards belong to others.

Nehemiah 5:6

And it displeased me greatly when I heard their complaint and these words.

Nehemiah 5:7

Then did I consult with my heart, and I upbraided the nobles, and the rulers, and said unto them, "Ye exact usury, every one of his brother!" And I brought together a great assembly against them.

Nehemiah 5:8

And I said unto them, We have indeed ransomed our brethren the Jews, who had been sold unto the various nations, as far as our means went: and will ye yourselves even sell your brethren, so that they will be sold again unto us? And they remained silent, and found no answer.

Nehemiah 5:9

Then said I, The thing is not good which ye are doing: ought ye not to walk in the fear of our God, because of the taunting of the nations, our enemies?

Nehemiah 5:10

And also I, my brothers, and my young men, have lent them money and corn: I pray you, let us relinquish this loan.

Nehemiah 5:11

Give back to them, I pray you, even this day, their fields, their vineyards, their oliveyards, and their houses, also the hundredth part of the money, and of the corn, the wine, and the oil, that ye have lent them.

Nehemiah 5:12

Then said they, We will give [all] back, and of them will we require nothing: so will we do as thou sayest. Then I called the priests, and made them swear, that they would do in accordance with this promise.

Nehemiah 5:13

Also my lap did I shake out, and said, So may God shake out every man that performeth not this promise, from his house and of his toil-gotten wealth, and so let him remain shaken out, and empty. And all the assembly said, Amen, and they praised the Lord. And the people did according to this promise.

Nehemiah 5:14

Moreover from the day that [the king] had enjoined on me to be governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year up to the two and thirtieth year of king Artaxerxes, [full] twelve years, neither I nor my brothers ate the food of the governor.

Nehemiah 5:15

But the former governors that had been before me had made it heavy for the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beside forty shekels of silver: yea, even their young men ruled over the people; but I myself did not act so, because of the fear of God.

Nehemiah 5:16

And in the work of this wall also did I labor actively; and we bought not any fields; and all my young men were assembled there by the work.

Nehemiah 5:17

Moreover of the Jews and rulers, one hundred and fifty men, besides those that came unto us from the nations that are about us, [ate] at my table.

Nehemiah 5:18

And that which was prepared for one day was one ox and six choice sheep; also birds were prepared for me, and once in ten days all sorts of wine in abundance: yet with all this I required not the food of the governor; because the service lay heavily upon this people.

Nehemiah 5:19

Remember for me, my God, for good, all that I have done for this people.

Nehemiah 6:1

Now it came to pass, when it came to the hearing of Sanballat, and Tobiyah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies, that I had built the wall, and that there was no breach left therein, although up to that time I had not yet set up the doors in the gates.

Nehemiah 6:2

That Sanballat and Geshem sent unto me, saying, Come, let us meet together in Kephirim, in the plain of Ono. But they were thinking of doing me mischief.

Nehemiah 6:3

And I sent messengers unto them, saying, I am doing a great work, and I cannot come down: why should the work cease, while I leave it lying, and come down to you?

Nehemiah 6:4

And they sent unto me after this manner four times; and I answered them after the same manner.

Nehemiah 6:5

Then sent Sanballat unto me in like manner the fifth time his young man with an open letter in his hand:

Nehemiah 6:6

Therein was written, It hath been heard among the nations, and Gashmu saith it, that thou and the Jews think of rebelling; wherefore thou art building up the wall; and that thou art to be king unto them, according to these reports.

Nehemiah 6:7

And that thou hast also set up prophets to proclaim concerning thee at Jerusalem, saying, He is king in Judah: and now there may be reported to the king something like these words. Now therefore come, and let us take counsel together.

Nehemiah 6:8

Then I sent unto him, saying, "There hath been done nothing like these reports of which thou speakest; but out of thy own heart thou inventest them."

Nehemiah 6:9

For they all wished to make us afraid, thinking, Their hands will be withdrawn from the work, so that it will not be done. Now therefore, [O God,] strengthen my hands.

Nehemiah 6:10

And I came also into the house of Shema'yah the son of Delayah the son of Mehetabel, who had shut himself up; and he said, Let us meet together in the house of God, within the temple, and let us lock the doors of the temple; for they are coming to slay thee: yea, in the night are they coming to slay thee.

Nehemiah 6:11

And I said, Should a man like me flee? and who is there that is like me, that would go into the temple and live? I will not go in.

Nehemiah 6:12

And I perceived that, lo, God had not sent him; but that he pronounced this prophecy over me, because Tobiyah and Sanballat had hired him.

Nehemiah 6:13

Therefore was he hired, in order that I should become afraid, and do so, and sin, and that it might serve them for an evil report, so that they might cast reproach upon me.

Nehemiah 6:14

Think, O my God, of Tobiyah and Sanballat according to these their works, and also of No'adyah the prophetess, and the rest of the prophets, who wished to make me afraid.

Nehemiah 6:15

And so was the wall finished on the twenty and fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty and two days.

Nehemiah 6:16

And it came to pass, when our enemies heard this, and all the nations that were about us saw it, that they sank greatly in their own eyes; and they perceived that by the aid of our God had this work been wrought.

Nehemiah 6:17

Moreover in those days the nobles of Judah despatched frequently their letters unto Tobiyah, and those of Tobiyah came unto them.

Nehemiah 6:18

For many in Judah were sworn friends unto him; because he was the son-in-law of Shechanyah the son of Arach, and Jehochanan his son had taken the daughter of Meshullam the son of Bercehyah.

Nehemiah 6:19

Also his good deeds were they reporting before me, and my words they used to carry out to him: also Tobiyah sent letters to make me afraid.

Nehemiah 7:1

And it came to pass, when the wall was built, that I set up the doors; and then were appointed the gatekeepers and the singers and the [other] Levites [to their office].

Nehemiah 7:2

And I gave my brother Chanani, and Chananyah the commander of the fortress, charge over Jerusalem; for he was esteemed a faithful man, and one that feared God these many days.

Nehemiah 7:3

And I said unto them, The gates of Jerusalem must not be opened until the sun be hot; and while ye stand by, let them shut the doors, and do ye bar them; and station watches of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, every one in his watch, and every one opposite to his house.

Nehemiah 7:4

But the city was roomy in space and large: while the people therein were few, and the houses were not yet built.

Nehemiah 7:5

Then did my God put it into my heart, and I assembled together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, that they might give in their genealogy; and I found a register of the genealogy of those who were come up at the first, and I found written therein:

Nehemiah 7:6

Besides these were their man-servants and their maid-servants, of whom there were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: and they had two hundred and forty and five singing men and singing women.

Nehemiah 7:68

Their horses were seven hundred thirty and six; their mules, two hundred forty and five;

Nehemiah 7:69

[Their] camels, four hundred thirty and five: [their] asses, six thousand seven hundred and twenty.

Nehemiah 7:70

And a portion of the chiefs of the divisions gave unto the work. The Thirshatha gave to the treasure, of gold one thousand drachms, fifty bowls, five hundred and thirty coats for the priests.

Nehemiah 7:71

And some of the chiefs of the divisions gave to the treasury of the work, of gold twenty thousand drachms, and of silver two thousand and two hundred manehs.

Nehemiah 7:72

And what the rest of the people gave was, of gold twenty thousand drachms, and of silver two thousand manehs, and priests coats sixty and seven.

Nehemiah 7:73

So the priests, and the Levites, and the gatekeepers, and the singers, and some of the people, and the temple-servants, and all Israel, dwelt in their cities: and so came round the seventh month, while the children of Israel were in their cities.

Nehemiah 8:1

And all the people gathered themselves together as one man into the open place which is before the water-gate; and they said unto 'Ezra the expounder that he should bring forward the book of the law of Moses, which the Lord commanded to Israel.

Nehemiah 8:2

Then did 'Ezra the priest bring forward the law before the congregation both of men and women, and every one that had understanding to listen [attentively], on the first day of the seventh month;

Nehemiah 8:3

And he read therein in the open place which is before the water-gate from the first daylight until midday, before the men and the women, and those that could understand: and the ears of all the people were directed unto the book of the law.

Nehemiah 8:4

And 'Ezra the expounder stood upon an elevated stand of wood, which they had made for the purpose: and beside him stood Matthithyah, and Shema', and 'Anayah, and Uriyah, and Chilkiyah, and Ma'asseyah, on his right hand; and on his left, Pedayah, and Mishael, and Malkiyah, and Chashum, and Chashbadanah, Zechariah, [and] Meshullam.

Nehemiah 8:5

And 'Ezra opened the book before the eyes of all the people; for he was [standing] higher than all the people; and as he opened it, all the people became silent.

Nehemiah 8:6

And 'Ezra blessed the Lord, the great God: and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting up their hands; and they bowed their heads, and prostrated themselves before the Lord with their faces to the ground.

Nehemiah 8:7

Also Jeshua', and Bani, and Sherebyah, Jamin, 'Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiayah, Ma'asseyah, Kelita, 'Azaryah, Jozabad, Chanan, Pelayah, and the Levites, explained to the people the law: while the people remained where they stood.

Nehemiah 8:8

So they read in the book, in the law of God distinctly, and exhibiting the sense: so that [the people] understood what was read.

Nehemiah 8:9

Then said Nehemiah, that is the Thirshatha, and 'Ezra the priest the expounder, and the Levites that explained to the people, unto all the people, This day is holy unto the Lord your God: mourn not, and weep not. For all the people were weeping, when they heard the words of the law.

Nehemiah 8:10

Then said he unto them, Go your way, eat fat things, and drink sweet drinks, and send portions unto him for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy unto our Lord: and do not grieve yourselves; but let the joy of the Lord be your stronghold.

Nehemiah 8:11

So the Levites quieted all the people, saying, Be still! for the day is holy: and do not grieve yourselves.

Nehemiah 8:12

And all the people went their way to eat, and to drink, and to send out portions, and to prepare for themselves great joy: because they had understood the words which [the others] had made known unto them.

Nehemiah 8:13

And on the second day there gathered themselves together the chiefs of the divisions of all the people, the priests, and the Levites, unto 'Ezra the expounder, to obtain again intelligence of the words of the law.

Nehemiah 8:14

And they found written in the law that the Lord had commanded through means of Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in booths during the feast in the seventh month.

Nehemiah 8:15

And [they ordered] that they should publish and have proclamation made throughout all their cities, and through Jerusalem, saying, Go forth unto the mountain and fetch olive-leaves, and oleaster-leaves, and myrtle-leaves, and palm-leaves, and leaves of the three-leaved myrtle, to make booths, as it is written.

Nehemiah 8:16

And the people went forth, and brought them; and they made themselves booths, every one upon his roof, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the open place by the water-gate, and in the open place by the gate of Ephraim.

Nehemiah 8:17

And all the congregation that were returned out of the captivity made booths, and dwelt in the booths; for since the days of Jeshua' the son of Nun until that day the children of Israel had not done so. And there was very great joy.

Nehemiah 8:18

And he read in the book of the law of God, day by day, from the first day until the last day. And they celebrated the feast seven days, and on the eighth day the solemn assembly, after the prescribed manner.

Nehemiah 9:1

And on the twenty and fourth day of this month were the children of Israel assembled with fasting, and in sackclothes, and with earth upon them.

Nehemiah 9:2

And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all children of the strangers: and they stood forward and made confession for their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers.

Nehemiah 9:3

And they stood up in their standing-place, and read in the book of the law of the Lord their God the fourth part of the day; and another fourth part they made confession, and prostrated themselves before the Lord their God.

Nehemiah 9:4

Then stood up upon the stairs of the Levites, Jeshua' and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebanyah, Bunni, Sherebyah, Bani, and Kenani, and they cried with a loud voice unto the Lord their God.

Nehemiah 9:5

Then said the Levites, Jeshua', and Kadmiel, Bani, Chashabneyah, Sherebyah, Hadiyah, Shebanyah, and Pethachyah, Arise! bless ye the Lord your God from eternity to eternity. And let men bless thy glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise.

Nehemiah 9:6

Thou indeed art the Eternal One alone: It is thou that hast made the heavens with all their host, the earth, and all that is upon her, the seas, and all that is in them, and thou givest life to them all; and the host of the heavens bow down before thee.

Nehemiah 9:7

Thou art indeed the Lord the [true] God, who didst choose Abram, and bring him forth out of Ur of the Chaldeans, and change his name to Abraham;

Nehemiah 9:8

And thou didst find his heart faithful before thee: and thou madest with him the covenant to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Emorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Girgashite—to give it to his seed: and thou hast performed thy words; for thou art righteous.

Nehemiah 9:9

And thou didst see the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and their cry didst thou hear by the Red Sea;

Nehemiah 9:10

And thou didst display signs and wonders on Pharaoh, and on all his servants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they had dealt presumptuously against them; and thou didst [thus] make thyself a name, as it is this day.

Nehemiah 9:11

And the sea didst thou divide before them, so that they passed through the midst of the sea on dry land; and their pursuers didst thou throw into the deeps, like a stone in mighty waters.

Nehemiah 9:12

And by a pillar of cloud didst thou lead them in the day, and by a pillar of fire in the night, to give light unto them on the way whereon they should go.

Nehemiah 9:13

Also on mount Sinai camest thou down, and spokest with them from heaven; and thou gavest them upright ordinances, and truthful laws, good statutes and commandments;

Nehemiah 9:14

And thy holy sabbath madest thou known unto them, and commandments, statutes, and a law didst thou enjoin on them, by the hand of Moses thy servant.

Nehemiah 9:15

And bread from heaven didst thou give them for their hunger, and water out of the rock broughtest thou forth for them for their thirst; and thou didst order them to go in to take possession of the land concerning which thou hadst lifted up thy hand to give it unto them.

Nehemiah 9:16

And they and our fathers acted presumptuously, and hardened their neck, and hearkened not to thy commandments.

Nehemiah 9:17

And they refused to obey, and remembered not thy marvelous deeds which thou hadst done with them; but they hardened their neck, and [spoke of] appointing a chief to return to their bondage, in their rebellion; but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, long-suffering, and abundant in kindness, and forsookest them not.

Nehemiah 9:18

Yea, although they had made for themselves a molten calf, and said, 'This is thy god that hath brought thee up out of Egypt,' and had practised great provocations:

Nehemiah 9:19

Yet in thy abundant mercies didst thou not forsake them in the wilderness: the pillar of cloud departed not from them by day, to lead them on the way; nor the pillar of fire by night, to give them light on the way whereon they should go.

Nehemiah 9:20

And thy good spirit thou gavest to make them intelligent, and thy manna thou withheldst not from their mouth, and water thou gavest them for their thirst.

Nehemiah 9:21

And forty years didst thou provide for them in the wilderness; they lacked nothing; their clothes did not wear out; and their feet swelled not.

Nehemiah 9:22

Thou gavest them also kingdoms and nations, which thou didst divide into various corners: and they took possession of the land of Sichon, even the land of the king of Cheshbon, and the land of 'Og the king of Bashan.

Nehemiah 9:23

And their children didst thou multiply like the stars of heaven, and then broughtest them into the land, concerning which thou hadst ordered their fathers to enter in to take possession of it.

Nehemiah 9:24

And the children entered in and took possession of the land; and thou didst humble before them the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, and gavest them up into their hands, with their kings, and the nations of the land, that they might do with them according to their pleasure.

Nehemiah 9:25

And they captured fortified cities, and a fat soil; and they took possession of houses full of all good things, hewn-out wells, vineyards, and olive-yards, and fruit trees in abundance; and they ate, and were satisfied, and became fat, and delighted themselves in thy great goodness.

Nehemiah 9:26

Then became they disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy law behind their back, and they slew thy prophets who had warned them to bring them back unto thee, and they practised great provocations.

Nehemiah 9:27

Thereupon thou gavest them up into the hand of their adversaries, who oppressed them: and in the time of their distress they used to cry unto thee, and thou ever heardest them from heaven; and according to thy abundant mercies thou wast wont to give them helpers, who helped them out of the hand of their adversaries.

Nehemiah 9:28

But when [once more] they had rest, they did again evil before thee: wherefore thou didst leave them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had dominion over them; and when they returned, and cried unto thee, thou wast wont to hear them from heaven, and thou didst ever deliver them according to thy mercies many times.

Nehemiah 9:29

And thou gavest them warning to bring them back unto thy law: yet they acted presumptuously, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, and sinned against thy ordinances, which a man is to do that he may live through them: and they rendered their shoulder rebellious, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.

Nehemiah 9:30

Yet thou gavest them indulgence many years, and didst warn them through thy spirit by means of thy prophets; but they gave no ear: therefore didst thou give them up into the hand of the nations of the lands.

Nehemiah 9:31

Yet in thy abundant mercies hast thou not made an entire end of them, and thou hast not forsaken them; for a gracious and merciful God art thou.

Nehemiah 9:32

And now, our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepest the covenant and kindness, let not be esteemed as little before thee all the hardship that hath befallen us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, from the days of the kings of Assyria until this day.

Nehemiah 9:33

Nevertheless thou art righteous in all that is come over us; for thou hast acted [according to] truth, but we have done wickedly.

Nehemiah 9:34

Also our kings, our priests, and our fathers have not executed thy law, and have not listened unto thy commandments and thy testimonies, wherewith thou didst warn them.

Nehemiah 9:35

But they in their kingdom, and in thy abundant goodness which thou hadst given unto them, and in the ample and fat land which thou hadst given up before them, did indeed not serve thee, and they turned not away from their wicked deeds.

Nehemiah 9:36

Behold, we are this day servants: and as regardeth the land that thou gavest unto our fathers to eat its fruit and its good things, behold, we are servants in it;

Nehemiah 9:37

And it yieldeth its products in abundance for the kings whom thou hast set over us because of our sins; also over our bodies have they dominion, and over our cattle [also] at their pleasure, and we are in great distress.

Nehemiah 9:38 (10:1)

And because of all this, we make a faithful covenant, and write it down; and on the sealed document are our princes, our Levites, and our priests.

Nehemiah 10:1 (10:2)

And with those whose seal was affixed were, Nehemiah the Tirshatha the son of Chachalyah, and Zidkiyah.

Nehemiah 10:28 (10:29)

And the rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the gate-keepers, the singers, the temple-servants, and all those that had separated themselves from the nations of the lands unto the law of God, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, every one having knowledge, and having understanding,

Nehemiah 10:29 (10:30)

Held firmly with their brethren, their nobles, and entered into a curse, and into an oath, to walk in the law of God, which was given through means of Moses the servant of God, and to observe and to do all the commandments of the Eternal One, our Lord, and his ordinances and his statutes;

Nehemiah 10:30 (10:31)

And that we would not give our daughters unto the people of the land, nor take their daughters for our sons;

Nehemiah 10:31 (10:32)

And that if the people of the land should bring wares or any provisions on the sabbath day to sell, we would not buy of them on the sabbath, or on [another] holy day; and that we would leave [the fields without reaping in] the seventh year, and [give up] every loan of hand.

Nehemiah 10:32 (10:33)

And we established for us as one of the commandments to impose on ourselves [to give] the third part of a shekel in every year for the service of the house of our God;

Nehemiah 10:33 (10:34)

For the shew-bread, and for the continual meat-offering, and for the continual burnt-offering, [for those of] the sabbaths, of the new-moons, for the appointed feasts, and for the holy things, and for the sin-offerings to make an atonement for Israel, and [for] all the work of the house of our God.

Nehemiah 10:34 (10:35)

And we, the priests, the Levites, and the people, cast lots concerning the procuring of the wood, to bring it into the house of our God, unto the house of our fathers, at fixed times, year by year, to burn upon the altar of the Lord our God, as it is written in the law;

Nehemiah 10:35 (10:36)

And to bring the first-fruits of our ground, and the first-fruits of all fruit of all trees, year by year, unto the house of the Lord;

Nehemiah 10:37 (10:38)

And that we would bring the first portion of our dough, and our heave-offerings, and this of the fruit of all manner of trees, of wine and of oil, to the priests, unto the chambers of the house of our God, and the tithes of our ground unto the Levites; and that these same Levites should be the receivers of the tithes in all the cities of our land-tillage;

And that the priest the son of Aaron should be with the Levites, when the Levites receive the tithes; and that the Levites should bring up the tithes of the tithes unto the house of our God, to the chambers, into the treasure-house.

Nehemiah 10:39 (10:40)

For into the chambers shall the children of Israel and the children of Levi bring the heave-offering of the corn, of the new wine, and the oil, and there shall be the vessels of the sanctuary, and the priests that minister, and the gatekeepers, and the singers: and that we will not forsake the house of our God.

Nehemiah 12:30

And the priests and the Levites purified themselves, and then they purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.

Nehemiah 12:31

Then brought I up the princes of Judah upon the wall, and stationed two great companies for thanksgiving, and trains to walk on the right hand upon the wall by the dung-gate;

Nehemiah 12:32

And after them walked Hosha'yah, and half of the princes of Judah,

Nehemiah 12:33

And 'Azaryah, 'Ezra, and Meshullam,

Nehemiah 12:34

Judah, and Benjamin, and Shema'yah, and Jeremiah;

Nehemiah 12:35

And of the sons of priests' with trumpets, Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shema'yah, the son of Matthanyah, the son of Michayah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Assaph;

Nehemiah 12:36

And his brethren, Shema'yah, and 'Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Ma'ai, Nethanel, and Judah, Chanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God; and 'Ezra the expounder walked before them.

Nehemiah 12:37

And over the fountain-gate, and straight before them, they went up by the stairs of the city of David, at the ascent of the wall, above the house of David, even as far as the water-gate, eastward.

Nehemiah 12:38

And the other company for thanksgiving that walked in the opposite direction to them,— this one did I follow, and the half of the people upon the wall, from beyond the tower of the ovens even as far as the broad wall;

Nehemiah 12:39

And above the gate of Ephraim, and above the old gate, and above the fish-gate, and the tower of Chananel, and the tower of Meah, even as far as the sheep-gate; and they halted at the prison-gate.

Nehemiah 12:40

So did the two companies for thanksgiving place themselves in the house of God, and I, and the half of the rulers with me.

Nehemiah 12:41

And the priests, Elyakim, Ma'asseyah, Minyamin, Michayah, Elyo'enai, Zechariah, and Chananiah, with trumpets;

Nehemiah 12:42

And Ma'asseyah, and Shema'yah, and El'azar, and 'Uzzi, and Jehochanan, and Malkiyah, and 'Elam, and 'Ezer. And the singers sang aloud, with Yisrachyah as their overseer.

Nehemiah 12:43

And they sacrificed on that day great sacrifices, and rejoiced; for God had caused them to rejoice with great joy; and also the women and the children rejoiced: so that the [shout of] joy of Jerusalem was heard even at a great distance off.

Nehemiah 12:44

And there were appointed at that day certain men as superintendents over the chambers for the treasuries, for the heave-offerings, for the first-fruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities the portions according to the law for the priests and the Levites; for Judah had joy on the priests and on the Levites that stood there,

Nehemiah 12:45

And kept the charge of their God, and the charge of the purification, and as singers and gatekeepers, according to the command of David, [and] of Solomon his son.

Nehemiah 12:46

For in the days of David and Assaph of old there were chiefs of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving unto God.

Nehemiah 12:47

And all Israel in the days of Zerubbabel, and in the days of Nehemiah, gave the portions of the singers and the gatekeeper, what was required for every day on its day; and they sanctified things for the Levites: and the Levites sanctified [the portion due] for the children of Aaron.

Nehemiah 13:1

On that day there was read in the book of Moses before the ears of the people; and there was found written therein, that no 'Ammonite or Moabite should come into the congregation of God for ever;

Nehemiah 13:2

Because they had not met the children of Israel with bread and with water, but had hired Bil'am against them, that he should curse them; although our God had changed the curse into a blessing.

Nehemiah 13:3

And it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated all the alien mixture from Israel.

Nehemiah 13:4

And before this, Elyashib the priest, appointed over the chambers of the house of our God, and a near [of kin] unto Tobiyah,

Nehemiah 13:5

Had prepared for him a large chamber, where they had laid in former times the meat-offerings, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithes of the corn, the new wine, and the oil, which was ordained for the Levites, and the singers, and the gatekeepers, and the heave-offering of the priests.

Nehemiah 13:6

But during all this I was not at Jerusalem; for in the two and thirtieth year of Artaxerxes the king of Babylon I went back unto the king, and after the lapse of some time I obtained by request [leave] of the king;

Nehemiah 13:7

And I came to Jerusalem, and perceived the evil that Elyashib had done for Tobiyah, in preparing for him a chamber in the courts of the house of God.

Nehemiah 13:8

And it displeased me greatly: wherefore I cast forth all the household vessels of Tobiyah away out of the chamber.

Nehemiah 13:9

And I gave the order, whereupon they cleansed the chambers; and I had brought thither again the vessels of the house of God, with the meat-offering and the frankincense.

Nehemiah 13:10

And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given [them]: so that the Levites and the singers, that used to do the work, were fled every one to his field.

Nehemiah 13:11

Then contended I with the rulers, and said, Why hath the house of God become forsaken? And I gathered them together, and placed them on their posts.

Nehemiah 13:12

And all Judah brought the tithe of the corn and the new wine and the oil unto the treasuries.

Nehemiah 13:13

And I appointed receivers over the treasuries, Shelemyah the priest and Zadok the scribe, and Pedayah of the Levites; and with them acted Chanan the son of Zaccur, the son of Matthanyah; for they were accounted as faithful, and it was their duty to make a distribution among their brethren.

Nehemiah 13:14

Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and wipe not out my pious deeds which I have done for the house of my God, and for those that had charge of it.

Nehemiah 13:15

In those days I saw in Judah some treading wine-presses on the sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading burdens on asses, as also wine, grapes and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the sabbath day; and I warned them on the day whereon they sold provisions.

Nehemiah 13:16

Also the men of Tyre [that] dwelt therein brought fish and all kinds of wares, and sold [them] on the sabbath unto the children of Judah and in Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 13:17

Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this which ye are doing, and profaning [thereby] the sabbath day?

Nehemiah 13:18

Did not your fathers act thus, wherefore our God brought over us all this evil, and over this city? and ye bring yet more wrath over Israel by profaning the sabbath.

Nehemiah 13:19

And it came to pass, that, when the shadows were lengthened in the gates of Jerusalem before the sabbath, I gave the order, whereupon the gates were locked, and I ordered that they should not be opened till after the sabbath: and some of my young men did I place at the gates, that there should be brought in no burden on the sabbath-day.

Nehemiah 13:20

But the merchants and sellers of all kinds of wares lodged outside of Jerusalem once or twice.

Nehemiah 13:21

Thereupon did I warn them, and said unto them, Why do ye lodge along the wall? if ye do so again, I will lay hands on you. From that time forth they came no more on the sabbath.

Nehemiah 13:22

And I ordered the Levites that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keep watch at the gates, to sanctify the sabbath-day. Also this remember unto me, O my God, and shield me according to the abundance of thy kindness.

Nehemiah 13:23

In those days also I saw certain Jews that had brought home wives of Ashdod, of 'Ammon, and of Moab:

Nehemiah 13:24

And their children spoke partly in the speech of Ashdod, and did not understand to speak in the Jewish language, but according to the language of one or the other people.

Nehemiah 13:25

And I contended with them, and cursed them, and smote certain of them, and plucked out their hair, and made them swear by God, saying, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, nor take their daughters for your sons, nor for yourselves.

Nehemiah 13:26

Did not Solomon the king of Israel sin by these things? and although among the many nations there was never a king like him, and beloved as he was by his God, and God had placed him as king over all Israel: nevertheless even him did the alien women mislead to sin.

Nehemiah 13:27

Shall we then hear it said of you, that ye do all this great evil, to trespass against our God in bringing home alien wives?

Nehemiah 13:28

And one of the sons of Joyada', the son of Elyashib the high priest, was son-in-law to Sanballat the Choronite; wherefore I chased him away from me.

Nehemiah 13:29

Remember [this] unto them, O my God, because of the defilements of the priesthood, and of the covenant of the priesthood, and of the Levites.

Nehemiah 13:30

Thus cleansed I them from all aliens, and I appointed the watches of the priests and the Levites, every one in his work;

Nehemiah 13:31

And for the procuring of the wood, at fixed time, and for the first-fruits. Remember this unto me, O my God, for good.

ESTHER

Esther 1:1

And it came to pass in the days of Achashverosh, of the same Achashverosh who reigned, from India even unto Ethiopia, over a hundred and seven and twenty provinces,

Esther 1:2

In those days, when this king Achashverosh was sitting on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shushan the capital,

Esther 1:3

That, in the third year of his reign, he made a feast unto all his princes and his servants, the army of Persia and Media, the nobles and the princes of the provinces who were near him:

Esther 1:4

When he showed the riches and the glory of his kingdom, and the brilliance [and] the splendor of his greatness, during many days, a hundred and eighty days.

Esther 1:5

And when these days were completed, the king made unto all the people that were found in Shushan the capital, unto every one, from the great even to the small, a feast of seven days, in the court of the garden of the king's palace;

Esther 1:6

[Where were] white, green, and blue [hangings], fastened with cords of fine linen and purple, on rollers of silver and pillars of marble; couches of gold and silver, upon a pavement of green, and white, and yellow, and black marble.

Esther 1:7

And they gave them to drink in vessels of gold,—the vessels being diverse one from the other,—and the royal wine was in abundance, according to the ability of the king.

Esther 1:8

And the drinking was, according to the [king's] order, without compulsion; for so had the king enjoined on all the officers of his house, to do according to the pleasure of every man.

Esther 1:9

Also Vashti the queen made a feast for the women, in the royal house which belonged to king Achashverosh.

Esther 1:10

On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Charbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcass, the seven chamberlains that served in the presence of king Achashverosh,

Esther 1:11

To bring Vashti the queen before the king [ornamented] with the royal crown, to show the people and the princes her beauty; for she was handsome in appearance.

Esther 1:12

But queen Vashti refused to come at the word of the king brought by the hand of the chamberlains; and the king was very wroth, and his fury burnt in him.

Esther 1:13

Then said the king to the wise men, who knew [the occurrences of] the times; for so [came] every affair of the king before all acquainted with law and state institutions;

Esther 1:14

And those next unto him were Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tharshish, Meress, Marsena, and Memuchan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, who could see [at all times] the king's face, who sat in the first rank in the kingdom:

Esther 1:15

What should according to law be done with queen Vashti; because she had not fulfilled the order of king Achashverosh by the hand of the chamberlains?

Esther 1:16

Then said Memuchan before the king and the princes, Not against the king alone hath Vashti the queen done wrong, but also against all the princes, and against all the people that are in all the provinces of king Achashverosh.

Esther 1:17

For the conduct of the queen will go abroad unto all the women, so that they will despise their husbands in their eyes, when it shall be reported, King Achashverosh ordered Vashti the queen to be brought into his presence, but she came not.

Esther 1:18

And even this day will the ladies of Persia and Media, who have heard of the conduct of the queen, say this unto all the princes of the king; and there will arise too much contempt and quarrel.

Esther 1:19

If it please the king, let there go forth a royal order from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, that no one transgress it, That Vashti come no more before king Achashverosh: and let the king give her royal dignity unto another that is better than she.

Esther 1:20

And when the king's decree which he will make shall be published throughout all his kingdom, however great it is: all the wives will show respect to their husbands, unto every one, from the great even to the small.

Esther 1:21

And the speech was pleasing in the eyes of the king and of the princes; and the king did according to the speech of Memuchan.

Esther 1:22

And he sent letters unto all the provinces of the king, unto every province according to its writing, and to every people according to its language, that every man should bear rule in his own house, however he may speak according to the language of his people.

Esther 2:1

After these events, when the fury of king Achashverosh was appeased, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what had been decreed concerning her.

Esther 2:2

Thus said the king's young men, his servants, Let there be sought for the king virgins handsome in appearance;

Esther 2:3

And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the young virgins, handsome in appearance, unto Shushan the capital, into the house of the women, under the custody of Hege the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women; and let them give them their customary anointings;

Esther 2:4

And let the maiden who may be pleasing in the eyes of the king become queen instead of Vashti: and the speech was pleasing in the eyes of the king, and he did so.

Esther 2:5

There was a certain Jew in Shushan the capital, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Yair, the son of Shim'i, the son of Kish, a Benjamite;

Esther 2:6

Who had been carried away into exile from Jerusalem with the exiles who had been exiled with Jeconiah, the king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried into exile.

Esther 2:7

And he had brought up Hadassah, that is Esther, the daughter of his uncle; for she had neither father nor mother, and the maiden was beautiful in form and handsome in appearance; and when her father and mother were dead, Mordecai had taken her to himself as a daughter.

Esther 2:8

And it came to pass, when the king's order and his decree were heard, and when many maidens were brought together unto Shushan the capital, under the custody of Hegai, that Esther also was brought unto the king's house, under the custody of Hegai, the keeper of the women.

Esther 2:9

And the maiden was pleasing in his eyes, and she obtained favor before him; and he made haste to give her her anointings, with her presents, and the seven maidens, who were selected to be given her, out of the king's house: and he preferred her and her maidens with the best things in the house of the women.

Esther 2:10

Esther told nothing of her people or of her descent; for Mordecai had charged her that she should not tell.

Esther 2:11

And day by day did Mordecai walk before the court of the house of women, to ascertain the well-being of Esther, and what would be done with her.

Esther 2:12

And when the turn of every maiden was come to go in unto king Achashverosh, at the expiration [of the time] that she had been treated according to the custom of the women, twelve months; for so were the days of their anointings accomplished, six months with the oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odors, and with other ointments of the women;

Esther 2:13

And thus came the maiden unto the king; [and] whatsoever she asked for was given her to go with her out of the house of the women as far as the house of the king.

Esther 2:14

In the evening she went, and in the morning she returned unto the second house of the women, to the custody of Sha'ashgas, the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the concubines: she used not to come again unto the king, except the king desired for her, and she was called by name.

Esther 2:15

And when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abichayil, the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her to himself as a daughter, was come to go in unto the king, she required nothing but what Hegai the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women, said: and Esther obtained grace in the eyes of all those that beheld her.

Esther 2:16

And Esther was taken unto king Achashverosh, unto his royal house, in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.

Esther 2:17

And the king loved Esther above all the women, and she obtained grace and favor before him more than all the virgins; and he placed the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen instead of Vashti.

Esther 2:18

And the king made a great feast unto all his princes and his servants, the feast of Esther; and he made a release of taxes to the provinces, and gave presents, according to the ability of the king.

Esther 2:19

And when virgins were gathered together the second time, then was Mordecai sitting in the king's gate.

Esther 2:20

[But] Esther had not yet told of her descent nor her people; as Mordecai had charged her; and Esther did [fulfill] the order of Mordecai, equally as when she was under his guardianship.

Esther 2:21

In those days, while Mordecai was sitting in the king's gate, Bigthan and Theresh, two chamberlains of the king, of those who kept the door, became wroth, and sought to lay [their] hand on king Achashverosh.

Esther 2:22

And the thing became known to Mordecai, and he told it unto Esther the queen; and Esther said it to the king in the name of Mordecai.

Esther 2:23

And the thing was inquired into and found true; and they were both of them hanged on a gallows; and it was written in the book of chronicles before the king.

Esther 3:1

After these events did king Achashverosh make great Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and he advanced him; and he placed his seat above that of all the princes that were with him.

Esther 3:2

And all the king's servants, that were in the king's gate, bent the knee and prostrated themselves to Haman; for so had the king commanded concerning him; but Mordecai bent not the knee nor prostrated himself.

Esther 3:3

Then said the king's, servants, who were in the king's gate, unto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the king's command?

Esther 3:4

Now it came to pass, when they spoke unto him day by day, and he hearkened not unto them, that they told it to Haman, to see whether the words of Mordecai would be able to stand; for he had told them that he was a Jew.

Esther 3:5

And when Haman saw that Mordecai bent not the knee, nor prostrated himself to him, Haman became full of fury.

Esther 3:6

But it appeared too contemptible in his eyes to lay his hand on Mordecai alone: for they had told him of the people of Mordecai: therefore Haman sought to destroy all the Jews that were throughout all the kingdom of Achashverosh, the people of Mordecai.

Esther 3:7

In the first month, that is the month Nissan, in the twelfth year of king Achashverosh, some one cast the Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman from day to day, and from month [to month], to the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.

Esther 3:8

Then said Haman unto king Achashverosh, There is one people scattered yet separate among the nations in all the provinces of thy kingdom; and their laws are different from those of every people; while they do not execute the laws of the king; and it is no profit for the king to tolerate them.

Esther 3:9

If it be pleasing to the king, let [a decree] be written to destroy them; and ten thousand talents of silver will I weigh out into the hands of those that have the charge of the business, to bring [the same] into the king's treasuries.

Esther 3:10

And the king drew his signet–ring from off his hand, and gave it unto Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the adversary of the Jews.

Esther 3:11

And the king said unto Haman, The silver is given to thee, that people also, to do therewith as it seemeth good in thy eyes.

Esther 3:12

Then were called the king’s scribes in the first month on the thirteenth day thereof, and there was written all just as Haman had commanded unto the king’s lieutenants, and to the governors that were over every province, and to the princes of every people, to every province according to its writing, and to every people according to its language: in the name of king Achashverosh was it written, and it was sealed with the king’s signet–ring.

Esther 3:13

And the letters were sent by the runners unto all the king’s provinces, to destroy, to kill, and to exterminate all the Jews, from young to old, little ones and women, on one day, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, and to plunder their property as spoil.

Esther 3:14

A copy of the writing, to be given out as a law in every province, was published unto all the nations, that they might be ready against that day.

Esther 3:15

The runners went out with all speed with the king’s decree, and the law was given out in Shushan the capital: and the king and Haman sat down to drink; but the city of Shushan was perplexed.

Esther 4:1

When Mordecai ascertained all that had been done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth [strewed] with ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and cried with a loud and bitter cry;

Esther 4:2

And thus he came up to the front of the king’s gate; for none dared to enter into the king’s gate clothed with sackcloth.

Esther 4:3

And in each and every province, in every place whither the king’s decree and his law had reached, there was great mourning for the Jews, with fasting and weeping and wailing; and a sackcloth [strewed] with ashes became the bed of the great.

Esther 4:4

Then came the maidens of Esther with her chamberlains and told it her; and the queen was exceedingly terrified; and she sent garments to clothe Mordecai, and to remove his sackcloth from him, but he accepted them not.

Esther 4:5

Then called Esther for Hatach, one of the king's chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and gave him a charge for Mordecai to know what this was, and why this was.

Esther 4:6

So Hatach went forth to Mordecai unto the street of the city, which was before the king's gate.

Esther 4:7

And Mordecai told him all that had happened unto him, and of the fixed sum of money which Haman had promised to weigh out into the treasuries of the king for the Jews, to destroy them.

Esther 4:8

Also the copy of the writing of the law that had been given out in Shushan to destroy them he gave to him, to show it unto Esther, and to tell her [all], and to charge her that she should go in unto the king, and to make supplication unto him, and to present a request before him for her people.

Esther 4:9

And Hatach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai.

Esther 4:10

And Esther said unto Hatach, and gave him a charge unto Mordecai,

Esther 4:11

All the king's servants, and the people of the king's provinces, do know, that every one, whether man or woman, who should come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is but one law for him, to put him to death, except the one to whom the king should hold out the golden sceptre, for he will be suffered to live; but I have not been called to come in unto the king these thirty days.

Esther 4:12

And they told Mordecai the words of Esther.

Esther 4:13

Then said Mordecai to bring this answer back to Esther, Imagine not in thy soul to be able to escape in the king's house out of all the Jews.

Esther 4:14

For if thou do indeed maintain silence at this time, enlargement and deliverance will arise to the Jews from another place; but thou and thy father's house will perish: and who knoweth whether thou hast not for a time like this attained to the royal dignity?

Esther 4:15

Then said Esther to bring this answer back to Mordecai,

Esther 4:16

Go, assemble together all the Jews who are now present in Shushan, and fast ye for me, so that ye neither eat nor drink three days, either night or day; also I myself with my maidens will fast in like manner; and then will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law; and if I then perish, I perish.

Esther 4:17

And Mordecai went about, and did in accordance with all that Esther had charged him.

Esther 5:1

And it came to pass on the third day, that Esther put on her royal apparel, and placed herself in the inner court of the king's house, opposite the king's apartment; and the king was sitting upon his royal throne in the royal apartment, opposite to the entrance of the house.

Esther 5:2

And it happened, when the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, that she obtained grace in his eyes; and the king held out to Esther the golden sceptre that was in his hand; and Esther drew near, and touched the top of the sceptre.

Esther 5:3

Then said the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Esther? and what is thy request? if it be equal to half of the kingdom it shall still be given thee.

Esther 5:4

And Esther said, If it seem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet which I have prepared for him.

Esther 5:5

Then said the king, Bring Haman quickly hither to fulfill the word of Esther: so came the king with Haman to the banquet which Esther had prepared.

Esther 5:6

And the king said unto Esther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? even if it be equal to half of the kingdom, it shall still be done.

Esther 5:7

Then answered Esther, and said, My petition and my request are,

Esther 5:8

If I have found grace in the eyes of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition, and to fulfill my request, that the king may come with Haman to the banquet which I will prepare for them, and tomorrow will I do according to the word of the king.

Esther 5:9

And Haman went forth on that day joyful and with a glad heart; but when Haman saw Mordecai in the king's gate, who did not rise up, nor move out of the way for him, then was Haman filled against Mordecai with fury.

Esther 5:10

Nevertheless Haman refrained himself, and went to his house: he then sent and had his friends brought in with Zeresh his wife.

Esther 5:11

And Haman recounted to them the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had made him great, and how he had advanced him above the princes and the servants of the king.

Esther 5:12

And Haman said [farther], Yea, Esther the queen did not let any one come in with the king unto the banquet that she had prepared but myself: and also for tomorrow am I invited unto her with the king.

Esther 5:13

Yet all this profiteth me nothing, every time that I see Mordecai the Jew sitting in the king's gate.

Esther 5:14

Then said unto him Zeresh his wife with all his friends, Let them make a gallows of fifty cubits high, and in the mourning speak unto the king that they may hang Mordecai thereon; and then go thou in with the king unto the banquet joyfully. And the thing pleased Haman; and he had the gallows made.

Esther 6:1

In that night sleep fled from the king, and he ordered to bring in the book of the memorable events of the chronicles; and they were read before the king.

Esther 6:2

And it was found written, that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Theresh, two chamberlains of the king, of those who kept the door, who had sought to lay [their] hand on king Achashverosh.

Esther 6:3

And the king said, What honor and distinction have been done to Mordecai for this? Then said the king's young men, his servants, There hath nothing been done with him.

Esther 6:4

And the king said, Who is in the court? Now Haman was come into the outer court of the king's house, to say unto the king to hang Mordecai on the gallows which he had prepared for him.

Esther 6:5

And the king's young men said unto him, Behold, Haman is standing in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

Esther 6:6

So Haman came in; and the king said unto him, What shall be done with the man whom the king desireth to honor? And Haman said in his heart, To whom would the king desire to do honor more than to myself?

Esther 6:7

Haman therefore said to the king, [For] the man whom the king desireth to honor,

Esther 6:8

Let them bring a royal apparel which the king hath worn, and a horse on which the king hath ridden, and let there be placed a royal crown on his head.

Esther 6:9

And let the apparel and the horse be given into the hand of one of the king's princes, of the most noble, that they may array the man whom the king desireth to honor, and let them cause him to ride on the horse through the streets of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus shall be done to the man whom the king desireth to honor.

Esther 6:10

Then said the king to Haman, Make haste, take the apparel and the horse, as thou hast spoken, and do thus to Mordecai the Jew, that sitteth at the king's gate: leave out nothing of all that thou hast spoken.

Esther 6:11

And Haman then took the apparel and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and caused him to ride through the streets of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall be done unto the man whom the king desireth to honor.

Esther 6:12

And Mordecai thereupon returned to the king's gate; but Haman hastened to his house, mourning, and having his head covered.

Esther 6:13

And Haman related to Zeresh his wife and to all his friends all that had befallen him: then said unto him his wise men and Zeresh his wife, If Mordecai, before whom thou hast begun to fall, be of the seed of the Jews, thou wilt not prevail against him, but thou wilt surely fall before him.

Esther 6:14

They were yet speaking with him, when the king's chamberlains arrived, and they hastened to bring Haman unto the banquet which Esther had prepared.

Esther 7:1

And the king came with Haman to drink with Esther the queen.

Esther 7:2

And the king said unto Esther also on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queen Esther? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? even if it be equal to half the kingdom, it shall still be done.

Esther 7:3

Then answered Esther the queen and said, If I have found grace in thy eyes, O king! and if it be pleasing unto the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request;

Esther 7:4

For we have been sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain and to be exterminated; and if we had been only sold for bondmen and bondwomen, I would have remained silent; for the adversary regardeth not the damage of the king.

Esther 7:5

Then spoke king Achashverosh and said unto Esther the queen, Who is this, and where is he, whose heart hath emboldened him to do so?

Esther 7:6

And Esther said, An adversary, and inimical man, this wicked Haman. Then became Haman terrified before the king and the queen.

Esther 7:7

And the king arose in his fury from the banquet of wine, and went into the palace–garden: and Haman remained behind to make request for his life of Esther the queen; for he saw that there was evil fully determined.

Esther 7:8

And when the king returned out of the palace–garden into the apartment of the banquet of wine, Haman was fallen upon the couch whereon Esther was: then said the king. Will he even do violence to the queen before me in the house? The word had just come out of the king’s mouth, when they covered Haman’s face.

Esther 7:9

Then said Charbonah, one of the chamberlains, before the king, Behold, there is also the gallows, which Haman hath had made for Mordecai, who hath spoken well for the king, standing in the house of Haman, fifty cubits high. And the king said, Hang him thereon.

Esther 7:10

So they hanged Haman on the gallows which he had prepared for Mordecai, and the fury of the king was appeased.

Esther 8:1

On that day did king Achashverosh give the house of Haman the adversary of the Jews unto Esther the queen: and Mordecai came before the king; for Esther had told what he was unto her.

Esther 8:2

And the king took off his signet–ring which he had taken away from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai: and Esther appointed Mordecai over the house of Haman.

Esther 8:3

And Esther spoke again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and wept, and besought him to do away the evil of Haman the Agagite, and his device which he had devised against the Jews.

Esther 8:4

And the king held out toward Esther the golden sceptre; and Esther arose, and stood up before the king;

Esther 8:5

And she said, If it be pleasing to the king, and if I have found grace before him, and the thing seem proper before the king, and I be pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to recall the letters, the device of Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he hath written to exterminate the Jews who are in all the provinces of the king.

Esther 8:6

For how could I endure to look on the evil that is to befall my people? and how could I endure to look on the extermination of my kindred?

Esther 8:7

Then said king Achashverosh unto Esther the queen and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, the house of Haman have I given to Esther, and him have they hanged on the gallows, because he had stretched out his hand against the Jews.

Esther 8:8

But ye write yourselves concerning the Jews, as it may be good in your eyes, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's signet-ring; for a writing which is written in the king's name, and sealed with the king's signet-ring, cannot be recalled.

Esther 8:9

Then were called the king's scribes at that time in the third month, that is, the month Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof; and it was written all just as Mordecai commanded to the Jews, and to the lieutenants, and the governors and the princes of the provinces who were from India unto Ethiopia, one hundred and twenty-seven provinces, unto every province according to its writing, and unto every people according to its language, and to the Jews according to their writing, and according to their language.

Esther 8:10

And he wrote in the name of king Achashverosh, and sealed it with the king's signet-ring, and he sent letters through means of the swift messengers on horseback, and riders on mules, camels, and young dromedaries:

Esther 8:11

That the king had granted to the Jews who were in every city to gather themselves together, and to stand forward for their life, to destroy, to slay, and to exterminate all the military strength of the people and province that would assault them, both little ones and women, and to plunder their property as spoil,

Esther 8:12

On one day in all the provinces of king Achashverosh, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.

Esther 8:13

A copy of the writing to be given out as a law in every province, was published unto all nations, and that the Jews should be ready against that day to avenge themselves on their enemies.

Esther 8:14

The swift messengers that rode upon mules and camels went out, being hastened and hurried forward with the command of the king: and the law was given out at Shushan the capital.

Esther 8:15

And Mordecai went out from the presence of the king in a royal apparel of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a cloak of fine linen and purple: and the city of Shushan was glad and joyful.

Esther 8:16

For the Jews there was light, with joy and gladness, and honor.

Esther 8:17

And in every province, and in every city, whithersoever the king's command reached with his law, there were joy and gladness for the Jews, entertainments and a feast-day: and many of the people of the land became Jews; for the dread of the Jews had fallen upon them.

Esther 9:1

And in the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar, on the thirteenth day thereof, when the king's command with his law drew near to be put into execution, on the day that the enemies of the Jews had hoped to have power over them, which had been changed nevertheless, so that the Jews had power over those that hated them,

Esther 9:2

The Jews assembled together in their cities, throughout all the provinces of king Achashverosh, to stretch out their hand against those that had sought their injury: and no man could keep standing before them; for the dread of them had fallen upon all the nations.

Esther 9:3

And all the rulers of the provinces, and the lieutenants, and the governors, and the superintendents of the affairs of the king, elevated the Jews; because the dread of Mordecai had fallen upon them.

Esther 9:4

For Mordecai was great in the king's house, and his fame went throughout all the provinces; for the man Mordecai became greater and greater.

Esther 9:5

And the Jews smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and slaughter, and extermination; and they acted with those that hated them according to their pleasure.

Esther 9:6

And in Shushan the capital the Jews slew and exterminated five hundred men.

Esther 9:7

And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha,

Esther 9:8

And Poratha, and Adalya, and Aridatha,

Esther 9:9

And Parmashtha, and Arissai, and Aridai, and Vayzatha,

Esther 9:10

The ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the adversary of the Jews, did they slay; but to the spoil did they not stretch forth their hand.

Esther 9:11

On that same day came the number of those that were slain in Shushan the capital before the king.

Esther 9:12

Then said the king unto Esther the queen, In Shushan the capital have the Jews slain and exterminated five hundred men, and the ten sons of Haman: what have they done in the rest of the king's provinces? Now what is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request farther? and it shall be done.

Esther 9:13

Then said Esther, If it please the king, let it tomorrow also be granted to the Jews who are in Shushan to do according to the law of this day, and let the ten sons of Haman be hanged on the gallows.

Esther 9:14

And the king ordered that it should be done so; and the law was given out at Shushan; and the ten sons of Haman were hanged.

Esther 9:15

And the Jews that were in Shushan assembled together also on the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and slew at Shushan three hundred men; but to the spoil they did not stretch forth their hand.

Esther 9:16

And the remaining Jews that were in the king's provinces assembled together, and stood forward for their life, and procured rest from their enemies, and slew of those that hated them seventy and five thousand; but to the spoil did they not stretch forth their hand,

Esther 9:17

On the thirteenth day of the month Adar, and they rested on the fourteenth day thereof, and made it a day of entertainment and joy.

Esther 9:18

But the Jews that were at Shushan assembled together on the thirteenth day thereof, and on the fourteenth thereof, and rested on the fifteenth thereof, and made it a day of entertainment and joy.

Esther 9:19

Therefore do the Jews of the villages, that dwell in the unwalled towns, make the fourteenth day of the month Adar as one of joy and entertainment, and a feast-day, and of sending portions one to another.

Esther 9:20

And Mordecai wrote down these events; and he sent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of king Achashverosh, those nigh and those far away,

Esther 9:21

To take it on themselves as a duty, that they should celebrate the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same in each and every year,

Esther 9:22

Like those days whereon the Jews had rest from their enemies, and the month which was changed unto them from sorrow to joy, and from mourning into a feast-day: to make them days of entertainment and joy, and of sending portions one to the other, and gifts to the needy.

Esther 9:23

And the Jews took upon themselves that which they had begun already to do, and that which Mordecai had written unto them.

Esther 9:24

Because Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the adversary of all the Jews, had devised against the Jews to exterminate them, and had cast the Pur, that is, the lot, to destroy them, and to exterminate them.

Esther 9:25

But when [Esther] came before the king, he ordered by that letter that his wicked device, which he had devised against the Jews, should return upon his own head: and they hanged him and his sons on the gallows.

Esther 9:26

Therefore did they call these days Purim, after the name of Pur: therefore, because of all the words of this letter, both for that which they had experienced thereby, and for that which had occurred unto them,

Esther 9:27

The Jews confirmed it as a duty, and took upon themselves, and upon their seed, and upon all such as join themselves unto them, so that no one should fail therein, that they would celebrate these two days according to their prescription, and at their appointed time, in each and every year.

Esther 9:28

And these days are remembered and celebrated throughout each and every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and these days of Purim will not pass away from the midst of the Jews, nor will their memorial cease from their seed.

Esther 9:29

Then wrote Esther the queen, the daughter of Abichayil, with Mordecai the Jew, with all due strength, to confirm this letter of Purim the second time.

Esther 9:30

And he sent letters unto all the Jews, to the hundred and twenty–seven provinces of the kingdom of Achashverosh, word's of peace and truth,

Esther 9:31

To confirm these days of Purim in their times, just as Mordecai the Jew and Esther the queen had enjoined on them, and as they had confirmed for themselves and for their seed, the matters of the fastings and their prayers.

Esther 9:32

And the order of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim; and it was written in the book.

Esther 10:1

And king Achashverosh imposed a tribute upon the land, and the isles of the sea.

Esther 10:2

And all the acts of his strength and of his might, and the exposition of the greatness of Mordecai, wherewith the king made him great, behold they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia.

Esther 10:3

For Mordecai the Jew was the second in rank after king Achashverosh, and great among the Jews, and acceptable to the multitude of his brethren, a promoter of good to his people, and speaking peace to all its seed.

JOB

Job 1:1

There was a man in the land of 'Uz, Job was his name; And this man was perfect and upright, and fearing God, and eschewing evil.

Job 1:2

And there were born unto him seven sons and three daughters.

Job 1:3

And his cattle consisted of seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she-asses, and he had a very great store of servants: so that this man was greater than all the sons of the east.

Job 1:4

And his sons used to go and prepare a feast in the house of every one on his day; and they sent and invited their three sisters to eat and to drink with them.

Job 1:5

And it happened, when the days of the feast were gone round, that Job sent and sanctified them, and he then rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt-offerings according to the number of all of them; for Job said, It may be that my sons have sinned, and have renounced God in their heart. In this manner used Job to do all the time.

Job 1:6

Now it happened on a certain day, when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, that the Accuser also came in the midst of them.

Job 1:7

Then said the Lord unto the Accuser, Whence comest thou? And the Accuser answered the Lord, and said, From roaming over the earth, and from wandering through it.

Job 1:8

Then said the Lord unto the Accuser, Hast thou directed thy attention toward my servant Job; for there is none like him on the earth, a man perfect and upright, who feareth God, and escheweth evil?

Job 1:9

Then answered the Accuser the Lord, and said, Is it for nought that Job feareth God?

Job 1:10

Behold, thou hast indeed placed a fence about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath, on every side: the work of his hands hast thou blessed, and his cattle are far spread out in the land.

Job 1:11

But stretch only forth thy hand and touch all that he hath, and [see] whether he will not renounce thee to thy face.

Job 1:12

Then said the Lord unto the Accuser, Behold, all that is his be in thy power; only against himself shalt thou not stretch forth thy hand. The Accuser went thereupon away from the presence of the Lord.

Job 1:13

And it happened on a certain day, when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in the house of their first-born brother,

Job 1:14

That a messenger came unto Job, and said, The oxen were ploughing, and the she-asses were feeding beside them:

Job 1:15

When the Sabeans made an incursion, and took them away, and the young men they slew with the edge of the sword; and I am escaped, none but myself alone, to tell it unto thee.

Job 1:16

This one was yet speaking, when another came, and said, A fire of God fell from heaven, and burnt among the sheep and the young men, and consumed them; and I am escaped, none but myself alone, to tell it unto thee.

Job 1:17

This one was yet speaking, when another came, and said, The Chaldeans posted themselves in three divisions, and made an inroad against the camels, and took them away, and the young men they slew with the edge of the sword; and I am escaped, none but myself alone, to tell it unto thee.

Job 1:18

While this one was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, Thy sons and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in the house of their first-born brother:

Job 1:19

When, behold, a violent wind came from the direction of the wilderness, and struck against the four corners of the house, so that it fell upon the young men, and they died; and I am escaped, none but myself alone, to tell it unto thee.

Job 1:20

Then arose Job, and rent his robe, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and prostrated himself.

Job 1:21

And he said, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; may the name of the Lord be blessed.

Job 1:22

With all this did Job not sin, and attributed no injustice to God.

Job 2:1

And it happened [again] on a certain day, when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, that the Accuser also came in the midst of them to present himself before the Lord.

Job 2:2

Then said the Lord unto the Accuser, Whence comest thou now? And the Accuser answered the Lord, and said, From roaming over the earth, and from wandering through it.

Job 2:3

Then said the Lord unto the Accuser, Hast thou directed thy attention toward my servant Job: for there is none like him on the earth, a man perfect and upright, who feareth God, and escheweth evil? and he is still holding fast to his integrity, and thou hast incited me against him, to destroy him without cause.

Job 2:4

Then answered the Accuser the Lord, and said, Skin for skin: yea, all that a man hath will he give in behalf of his life.

Job 2:5

But stretch only forth thy hand, and touch his bone and his flesh, and [see] whether he will not renounce thee to thy face.

Job 2:6

Then said the Lord unto the Accuser, Behold, he is in thy hand: only take care of his life.

Job 2:7

Thereupon went the Accuser forth from the presence of the Lord, and he smote Job with a sore inflammation, from the sole of his foot unto the crown of his head.

Job 2:8

And [Job] took himself a potsherd to scrape himself there with, while he was sitting down among the ashes.

Job 2:9

Then said his wife unto him, Art thou still holding fast to thy integrity? renounce God, and die.

Job 2:10

But he said unto her, Thou speakest as one of the worthless women would speak. What? should we accept the good alone, from God, and the evil we should not accept? With all this did Job not sin with his lips.

Job 2:11

When now the three friends of Job had heard of all this evil that was come over him, they came every one from his own place, Eliphaz the Themanite, and Bildad the Shuchite, and Zophar the Na'amthite; and they met together to come to condole with him and to comfort him.

Job 2:12

And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and they recognised him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept; and they rent every one his robe, and strewed dust upon their heads toward heaven.

Job 2:13

They likewise sat down with him on the ground seven days and seven nights; but no one spoke a word unto him; for they saw that his pain was very great.

Job 3:1

After this time Job opened his mouth, and cursed his day.

Job 3:2

And Job commenced, and said,

Job 3:3

Oh that the day whereon I was born might perish, and the night when it was said, There hath been a male child conceived.

Job 3:4

May that day be [covered with] darkness; may not God from above inquire for it, and may no light beam upon it.

Job 3:5

Oh that darkness and the shadow of death might defile it; may a cloud rest upon it; may the blackness of the day terrify it.

Job 3:6

Yon night—let darkness seize upon it; let it not be united to the days of the year; let it not come into the number of the [periods lighted by the] moon.

Job 3:7

Lo, may that night be solitary, let no song of joy occur thereon.

Job 3:8

Let those denounce it that curse the day, who are ready to raise up their mourning cry.

Job 3:9

Let the stars of its twilight be darkened; let it hope for light, and there be none; and let it not behold the eyelids of the morning—dawn;

Job 3:10

Because God closed not against me the doors of the womb, and thus concealed trouble from my eyes.

Job 3:11

Why did I not die [the moment I issued] from the womb, and [why] was I not born merely to perish at once?

Job 3:12

Wherefore were knees ready to receive me? and for what purpose were breasts there that I might suck?

Job 3:13

For now should I be lying still and be quiet; I should sleep: then would I be at rest,

Job 3:14

With kings and counsellors of the earth, who build up ruined places for themselves;

Job 3:15

Or with princes possessing gold, who fill their houses with silver;

Job 3:16

Or as an untimely birth, hidden [from view] I should not exist; as infants that never have seen the light;

Job 3:17

There [where] the wicked cease from troubling; and where the exhausted weary are at rest;

Job 3:18

[Where] the prisoners repose together, [and] they hear no more the taskmaster's voice.

Job 3:19

The small with the great is there, and the servant free from his master.

Job 3:20

Wherefore giveth He now light to the labor-laden, and life unto the bitter in soul?

Job 3:21

Who wait for death, which [cometh] not; and who dig for it sooner than for hidden treasures;

Job 3:22

Who would rejoice even to exulting, who would be glad could they but find a grave?

Job 3:23

[Why is light given] to a man whose way is hidden, and around whom God hath placed a fence?

Job 3:24

For before my food cometh my groaning, and like the water are poured forth my loud complaints.

Job 3:25

Because what I greatly dreaded is come upon me, and what I apprehended is come unto me.

Job 3:26

I have had no safety, and no quiet, and no rest; and [now] harrowing trouble is come.

Job 4:1

Then answered Eliphaz the Themanite, and said,

Job 4:2

If we essay to address a word to thee, wilt thou be wearied? yet who is able to refrain from speaking?

Job 4:3

Behold, thou hast [ere this] corrected many, and weak hands thou wast wont to strengthen.

Job 4:4

Him that stumbled thy words used to uphold, and to sinking knees thou gavest vigor.

Job 4:5

Yet now, when it cometh to thee, thou art wearied: it toucheth even thee, and thou art terrified.

Job 4:6

Is not then thy fear of God still thy confidence, thy hope equal to the integrity of thy ways?

Job 4:7

Remember, I pray thee, who ever perished, being innocent? or where were the righteous destroyed?

Job 4:8

Even as I have seen, that those who plough wrong-doing, and sow trouble, have to reap the same.

Job 4:9

Before the breathing of God they perish, and before the breath of his nostrils they come to their end.

Job 4:10

The roaring of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion, and the teeth of the young lions, are broken.

Job 4:11

The old lion perisheth for lack of prey, and the whelps of the lioness have to scatter themselves abroad.

Job 4:12

But to me a word came by stealth, and my ear took in a scarcely perceptible whisper thereof.

Job 4:13

In intense thoughts out of visions of the night, when deep sleep falleth on men:

Job 4:14

Dread came over me, with trembling, and it caused all my bones to shudder.

Job 4:15

Then flitted a spirit past before my face; the hair of my body stood up:

Job 4:16

It stood still, but I could not recognize its form; a figure was before my eyes, a slight whisper, then a [louder] voice I heard, saying,

Job 4:17

Can a mortal be more righteous than God? or can a man be more pure than his Maker?

Job 4:18

Behold, in his servants he putteth no trust, and his angels he chargeth with folly:

Job 4:19

How much less in those that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, who are crushed till they come to be eaten by the moth?

Job 4:20

From morning to evening are they broken to pieces: without laying it [to heart] they perish for ever.

Job 4:21

Behold, their excellency which is in them is torn away: they die, and this without wisdom.

Job 5:1

Do but call: is there one that will answer thee? and to whom of the saints wilt thou turn thyself?

Job 5:2

For vexation will prove death to a foolish man, and jealousy will slay the simple.

Job 5:3

I have myself seen the foolish taking root; but I suddenly held his habitation as accursed.

Job 5:4

His children are far from help, and men crush them in the gate, with no one to deliver them.

Job 5:5

[He it is] whose harvest the hungry eateth up, and taketh it even out of the thorns, and the robber snatcheth eagerly after their substance.

Job 5:6

For wrong doth not come forth out of the dust, neither doth trouble grow up out of the ground;

Job 5:7

But man is born unto trouble, as young birds take up their flight.

Job 5:8

I, however, would have besought God, and unto God would I have committed my cause;

Job 5:9

Who doth great things which are unsearchable, marvelous things till they are without number;

Job 5:10

Who giveth rain upon the surface of the earth, and sendeth out waters over the face of the fields;

Job 5:11

To set up the lowly on high, that those who mourn may rise high to happiness;

Job 5:12

[But] who frustrateth the plans of the crafty, so that their hands cannot execute their well-devised counsel;

Job 5:13

Who catcheth the wise in their own craftiness; and the advise of the perverse is hastened on headlong;

Job 5:14

By day they meet with darkness, and as though it were night they grope about in the noon of day;

Job 5:15

But who saveth from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the mighty, the needy one:

Job 5:16

And so cometh to the indigent hope, and iniquity stoppeth her mouth.

Job 5:17

Behold, happy is the man whom God admonisheth: despise then not the correction of the Almighty.

Job 5:18

For he it is that woundeth, and bindeth up: he smiteth, and his hands do heal.

Job 5:19

In six distresses will he deliver thee; and in seven there shall no evil touch thee.

Job 5:20

In famine he redeemeth thee from death; and in war from the power of the sword.

Job 5:21

Against the scourge of the tongue shall thou be hidden; and thou needest not be afraid of destruction when it cometh.

Job 5:22

At destruction and famine canst thou laugh; and thou needest not have any fear of the beasts of the earth.

Job 5:23

For with the stones of the field shalt thou have thy covenant; and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.

Job 5:24

And thou shalt know that there is peace in thy tent; and thou wilt look over thy habitation, and shalt miss nothing.

Job 5:25

And thou shalt know that thy seed is numerous, and thy offspring as the herbage of the earth.

Job 5:26

Thou wilt go in a ripe age unto the grave, as a shock of corn is carried home in its season.

Job 5:27

Behold this, we have searched it out, so it is: hear it, and do thou note it well for thyself.

Job 6:1

Then answered Job, and said,

Job 6:2

Oh that my vexation could be truly weighed, and my calamity; oh that men might lift it up in the balances at once!

Job 6:3

For now it is already heavier than the sand of the sea: therefore are my words confused.

Job 6:4

For the arrows of the Almighty are within me, the poison whereof my spirit drinketh it: the terrors of God set themselves in array against me.

Job 6:5

Doth the wild ass bray over the grass? or loweth the ox over his fodder?

Job 6:6

Is ever tasteless food eaten without salt? or is there any flavor in the white of an egg?

Job 6:7

My soul refuseth to touch them: they are unto me like disgusting food.

Job 6:8

Oh that some one would grant the accomplishment of my request; and that God would grant me the fulfillment of my hope!

Job 6:9

Yea, that it would please God that he might crush me: that he would let loose his hand, and make an end of me!

Job 6:10

Then would this be still my comfort; yea, I would rejoice in my pain while he would not spare: that I have not gainsaid the commands of the Holy One.—

Job 6:11

What is my strength, that I should wait? and what my end, that I should yet longer retain my patience?

Job 6:12

Is the strength of stones my strength? or is my flesh brazen?

Job 6:13

Truly, am I not without my help in me? and is not wise counsel driven far away from me?

Job 6:14

As though I were one who refuseth kindness to his friend, and forsaketh the fear of the Almighty:

Job 6:15

My brothers are treacherous as a brook, like flowing brooks they pass along;

Job 6:16

Which are made turbid by reason of the ice, wherein the snow hideth itself;

Job 6:17

At the time when they feel the warmth, they vanish; when it is hot, they are quenched out of their place.

Job 6:18

The paths of their course wind themselves along; they go in the wilderness and are lost.

Job 6:19

The caravans of Tema look hither, the travelling companies Sheba hope for them;

Job 6:20

But they stand ashamed because they had trusted; they come thither and are made to blush.

Job 6:21

For truly now ye are like such a one: ye see my terrible state and are afraid.

Job 6:22

Have I then ever said, Give me something, and out of your property offer a bribe in my behalf?

Job 6:23

And deliver me from the hand of the adversary? and redeem from the hand of tyrants?

Job 6:24

Teach me, and I will indeed remain silent; and wherein I erred give me to understand.

Job 6:25

How pleasant are straightforward words! but what doth arguing prove?

Job 6:26

Do ye think to reprove words, and [to regard] as wind the speeches of one that is despairing?

Job 6:27

Yea, ye would cast any thing upon the fatherless, and ye would dig a pit against your friend.

Job 6:28

But now, if it please you, turn yourselves toward me, and [say] whether I would lie before your face.

Job 6:29

Reflect again, I pray you, there will be no wrong: yea, reflect once more, my righteousness [will be found] therein.

Job 6:30

Is there any wrong on my tongue? or should my palate not understand [if I spoke] what is iniquitous?

Job 7:1

Is there not a limited time of service to a mortal upon the earth? Are not his days also like the days of a hired laborer?

Job 7:2

As a servant eagerly longeth for the shadow, and as a hired laborer hopeth for his reward:

Job 7:3

So was I compelled to possess months of vanity, and nights of trouble were counted out unto me.

Job 7:4

When I lie down, I say, When shall I arise, and the night be gone? and I am wearied with tossings about till the dawn of day.

Job 7:5

My flesh is covered with worms and clods of dust: my skin is burst open, and become loathsome.

Job 7:6

My days hasten away more swiftly than a weaver's shuttle, and they come to an end in the absence of hope.

Job 7:7

Oh remember that nothing but a breath is my life; that my eye will not again see happiness;

Job 7:8

The eye of him that seeth me now will not behold me again: [thou fixest] thy eyes upon me, and I am no more.

Job 7:9

As the cloud vanisheth and passeth away: so will he that goeth down to the nether world not come up again.

Job 7:10

He will return no more to his house, and his place will not recognize him any more.

Job 7:11

Therefore will I also not restrain my mouth: I will speak in the anguish of my spirit: I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.

Job 7:12

Am I a sea, or a monster, that thou settest a watch over me?

Job 7:13

For should I say, My bed shall comfort me, my couch shall help me bear my complaint:

Job 7:14

Then wouldst thou frighten me with dreams, and with visions wouldst thou terrify me;

Job 7:15

So that my soul would choose strangling, death rather than these limbs of mine.

Job 7:16

I loathe it; I cannot live for ever: let me alone; for my days are but nought.

Job 7:17

What is the mortal, that thou shouldst make him great? and that thou shouldst direct thy heart toward him?

Job 7:18

And that thou shouldst visit him every morning, probe him every moment?

Job 7:19

How long wilt thou not turn thy regard from me, nor let; me loose till I swallow down my spittle?

Job 7:20

If I have sinned, what [injury] can I cause unto thee, O thou Guardian of men? why hast thou set me as an object for thee to strike at, so that I am become a burden to myself?

Job 7:21

And why wilt thou not forgive my transgression, and let my iniquity pass away? for soon must I lie down in the dust; and thou wilt seek for me, but I shall be no more.

Job 8:1

Then answered Bildad the Shuchite, and said,

Job 8:2

How long wilt thou speak these things? and [let] like a mighty wind be the words of thy mouth?

Job 8:3

Should God pervert justice? or should the Almighty pervert righteousness?

Job 8:4

If thy children have sinned against him, then did he send them off through the means of their transgression.

Job 8:5

If thou wilt earnestly seek for God, and make thy supplication to the Almighty;

Job 8:6

If thou become pure and upright: surely then will he watch over thee, and restore thy righteous habitation.

Job 8:7

And thy beginning will have been small; because thy latter end will grow up greatly.

Job 8:8

For ask, I pray thee, of an earlier generation, and prepare thyself to [stand by] the research of their fathers; —

Job 8:9

For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing, because a [mere] shadow are our days upon earth; —

Job 8:10

Behold, these will truly teach thee, they will speak unto thee, and out of their very heart will they bring forth words:

Job 8:11

Can the bulrush shoot upward without mire? can the meadow–grass grow up without water?

Job 8:12

It is yet in its greenness, not yet cut down, when it withereth before any other grass.

Job 8:13

So are the paths of all that forget God; and the hope of the hypocrite will perish:

Job 8:14

[It is he] whose trust will be cut off, and but a spider's web is that in which he confideth.

Job 8:15

He leaneth against his house, but it shall not stand: he layeth fast hold on it, but it shall not remain erect.

Job 8:16

He is in full vigor before the sun, and over his garden his shoots go forth.

Job 8:17

His roots are twisted about a stoneheap, he selecteth [for himself] a place of stones.

Job 8:18

But when men destroy him from his place, then will it deny him, saying, I have never seen thee.

Job 8:19

Behold, this is the joy of his way, and out of the [same] dust others will grow up.

Job 8:20

Behold, God will not reject a perfect man, and will not hold fast by their hand the evil–doers:

Job 8:21

Till he fill thy mouth with laughing, and thy lips with joyful shouting.

Job 8:22

They that hate thee shall be clothed with shame; and the tent of the wicked shall be no more.

Job 9:1

Then answered Job, and said,

Job 9:2

Truly I know that it is so: and how could a mortal be righteous before God?

Job 9:3

If he were desirous to enter into a contest with him, he could not give him one answer out of a thousand.

Job 9:4

He is wise of heart, and mighty in strength: who hath hardened himself against him, and escaped unscathed?

Job 9:5

[He it is] who removeth mountains, and they know it not, yea, when he overturneth them in his anger;

Job 9:6

Who shaketh the earth loose out of her place, that her pillars tremble;

Job 9:7

Who speaketh to the sun, and he shineth not, and around the stars he placeth a seal;

Job 9:8

Who spread out the heavens by himself alone, and treadeth upon the hillocks of the sea;

Job 9:9

Who made the Bear, Orion, and the Pleiades, and the chambers the south;

Job 9:10

Who doth great things which are quite unsearchable, and wonders which are quite without number.

Job 9:11

Lo, were he to go past by me, I should not see him; and were he to pass along, I should not perceive him.

Job 9:12

Behold, were he to snatch aught away, who could hold him back? who would say unto him, What dost thou?

Job 9:13

God will not withdraw his anger: beneath him sink down the helpers of the proud.

Job 9:14

How much less then could I answer him, and select my words [to contend] with him?

Job 9:15

Whom, were I even righteous, I could not answer? to him that condemneth me I could [only] make supplication.

Job 9:16

Or were I to call, and he would answer me, I could yet not believe that he would give ear unto my voice—

Job 9:17

He that bruiseeth me with [his] tempest, and multiplieth my wounds without a cause.

Job 9:18

He suffereth me not to recover my breath; but feedeth me overmuch with bitter things.

Job 9:19

If it regard strength, lo, he is the powerful; and if justice, who will cite him for me to appear?

Job 9:20

If I were righteous even, my own mouth would condemn me: were I innocent, it would still prove me perverse.

Job 9:21

I am innocent; I will not have regard for myself: I will despise my life.

Job 9:22

One thing is [certain], therefore have I said it, The innocent and the wicked he bringeth to their end.

Job 9:23

If a scourge should slay suddenly, he will mock at the trial of the guiltless.

Job 9:24

Is a land given up into the hand of the wicked? he covereth the faces of its judges: if this be not the truth, who is it then?

Job 9:25

And my days pass swifter than a runner: they flee away, they see no happiness,

Job 9:26

They hasten along like pirate ships: like the eagle that stoopeth down upon his food.

Job 9:27

If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will leave off my sorrowful countenance, and recover my cheerfulness:

Job 9:28

O then would I be in dread of all my pains; I know that thou wilt not declare me innocent.

Job 9:29

I must ever be guilty: why then should I fatigue myself for nought?

Job 9:30

If I were to wash myself in snow–water, to cleanse myself in the purity of my hands:

Job 9:31

Even then wouldst thou plunge me in the ditch, that my own clothes would render me abhorred.

Job 9:32

For he is not a man, like me, that I could answer him, that we should enter together into a contest.

Job 9:33

There is no one who can decide between us, who could lay his hand upon us both.

Job 9:34

Let him but remove from me his rod, and let not his dread terrify me:

Job 9:35

Then would I speak, and not fear him; for the like I feel not within me.

Job 10:1

My soul is disgusted with my life; I will give free vent to my complaint over myself; I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.

Job 10:2

I will say unto God, Do not condemn me; let me know for what cause thou contendest against me.

Job 10:3

Is it well for thee that thou shouldst oppress, that thou shouldst reject the labor of thy hands, and shed light upon the counsel of the wicked?

Job 10:4

Hast thou eyes of flesh? or wilt thou see as a mortal seeth?

Job 10:5

Are thy days as the days of a mortal, or are thy years as the days of a man,

Job 10:6

That thou inquirest after my iniquity, and searchest after my sin?

Job 10:7

Still it is within thy knowledge that I am not wicked, and there is none that can deliver me out of thy hand.

Job 10:8

Thy hands have carefully fashioned me and made me; every thing is in harmony all round about; and yet thou dost destroy me!

Job 10:9

Remember, I beseech thee, that as though I were clay hast thou made me; and wilt thou cause me to return again unto the dust?

Job 10:10

Behold, like milk didst thou pour me out, and like cheese didst thou curdle me.

Job 10:11

With skin and flesh didst thou clothe me, and with bones and sinews didst thou cover me.

Job 10:12

Life and kindness didst thou grant me, and thy providence watched over my spirit.

Job 10:13

And yet these things hadst thou treasured up in thy heart: I know that this was [resolved] within thee.

Job 10:14

If I have sinned, then dost thou watch me, and from my iniquity thou wilt not declare me guiltless.

Job 10:15

If I be wicked, woe unto me: and if I be righteous, I can still not lift up my head; I am sated with disgrace, and ever seeing my affliction;

Job 10:16

And it constantly increaseth; like a fierce lion dost thou hunt for me; and again thou showest thyself continually wonderful on me;

Job 10:17

Thou ever renewest thy witnesses against me, and causest thy indignation to grow strong against me; changes and multitudes [of sufferings] are around me.

Job 10:18

Wherefore then didst thou bring me forth out of the womb? Oh that I had perished, and that no eye had seen me!

Job 10:19

That I were as though I had not been,—had been borne from the womb to the grave.

Job 10:20

Lo! my days are but few: cease, then, withdraw from me [thy hand], that I may recover my cheerfulness a little.

Job 10:21

Before I go, and return not, to the land of darkness and the shadow of death,

Job 10:22

A land of utter gloom, as of the darkness of the shadow of death, without any order, and the light of which is like utter gloom.

Job 11:1

Then answered Zophar the Na'amathite, and said.

Job 11:2

Shall a multitude of words not be answered? and is it so that a man full of talk shall be deemed in the right?

Job 11:3

Thy inventions are to bring men to silence; and when thou utterest thy mocking no one is to cause thee to feel abashed!

Job 11:4

For thou hast said [to God], My doctrine is pure, and I am become clean in thy eyes.

Job 11:5

But oh that God would but speak, and open his lips against thee;

Job 11:6

And that he would declare unto thee the secrets of wisdom; for it is double to that which is really in our possession: and thou wouldst experience that God overlooketh unto thee much of thy iniquity.

Job 11:7

Canst thou find out the experience of God? or canst thou find [the way] unto the utmost limit of the Almighty?

Job 11:8

It is as high as heaven; what canst thou effect? it is deeper than the nether world; what canst thou know?

Job 11:9

Longer than the earth is its measure, and broader than the sea.

Job 11:10

If he pass by, and surrender [one to suffering], and call together an assembly, who can hinder him?

Job 11:11

For he knoweth the men of vanity: he seeth the wrong-doer and him who considereth not;

Job 11:12

And the heartless who acquireth intelligence, and him who is [like] the colt of the wild ass who is transformed into a man.

Job 11:13

If thou truly direct [aright] thy heart, and spread out thy hands toward him: —

Job 11:14

If wrong be in thy hand, put it far away, and let not wickedness dwell in thy tents.

Job 11:15

For then canst thou lift up thy face free from blemish: yea, thou wilt stand steadfast, and needest not to fear;

Job 11:16

Because thou wilt truly forget thy trouble, and as a waterflood that is passed away wilt thou remember it;

Job 11:17

And brighter than the noon of day will thy earthly existence arise; and thy obscurity will be like thy morning.

Job 11:18

And thou wilt feel trust, because there is hope: yea, thou wilt search about carefully, and thou wilt lie down in safety.

Job 11:19

Also thou wilt stretch thyself out [to rest], with none to make thee afraid; and many will entreat thy favor.

Job 11:20

But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, and the means of escape will vanish from them, and their [sole] hope shall be the breathing out of their soul.

Job 12:1

Then answered Job, and said,

Job 12:2

Truly ye are indeed the [right kind of] people, and with you wisdom must die out.

Job 12:3

I also have sense like you; I do not fall short compared with you: and who possesseth not such things as these?

Job 12:4

I am as one laughed at by his friend, who calleth upon God, while he answered him: [yea,] a laughing-stock though righteous and innocent.

Job 12:5

To the unfortunate there is given contempt— according to the thoughts of him that is at ease— prepared [also] for those whose foot slippeth.

Job 12:6

Prosperous are the tents of robbers, and security is given to those that provoke God. to him who carrieth his god in his hand.

Job 12:7

Yet, do only ask of the beasts, and they will instruct thee; and the fowls of the heavens, and they will tell it thee;

Job 12:8

Or speak to the earth, and she will instruct thee; and the fishes of the sea will inform thee

Job 12:9

Who knoweth not through all these that the hand of the Lord hath wrought this?

Job 12:10

[He] in whose hand is the soul of every living thing, and the spirit of all the bodies of men?

Job 12:11

Doth not the ear try words, as the palate tasteth food for itself?

Job 12:12

So It with the ancients wisdom, and with [those of] length of days understanding,

Job 12:13

That with him are wisdom and strength, his are counsel and understanding.

Job 12:14

Behold, he pulleth down, and there can be no rebuilding: he locketh [the prison] upon a man, and there can be no opening,

Job 12:15

Behold, he restraineth the waters, and they dry up; or he suffereth them to flow, and they overturn the earth.

Job 12:16

With him are strength and counsel: his are the deceived and the deceiver.

Job 12:17

He leadeth counsellors away bereft of sense, and maketh the judges fools.

Job 12:18

He looseth the bond of kings, and bindeth a girdle around their loins.

Job 12:19

He leadeth priests away bereft of sense, and the powerful he causeth to walk on crooked paths.

Job 12:20

He removeth the speech from trusty speakers, and taketh away the intelligence of the aged.

Job 12:21

He poureth contempt upon princes, and the belt of the mighty be looseneth.

Job 12:22

He layeth open deep things from the midst of darkness, and bringeth out unto light the shadow of death.

Job 12:23

He permitteth the nations to become great, and destroyeth them: he spreadeth out the nations, and leadeth them away.

Job 12:24

He taketh away the sense of the chiefs of the people of the land, and causeth them to wander astray in a wilderness when there is no way.

Job 12:25

They grope in the dark without light, and he causeth them to wander astray like a drunken man.

Job 13:1

Lo, all [this] hath my eye seen, my ear hath heard and noted it for itself;

Job 13:2

As much as ye know, do I also know: I do not fall short compared with you.

Job 13:3

However, I would gladly speak to the Almighty; and to argue with God do I desire.

Job 13:4

But ye are inventors of falsehood, physicians of no value are all of you.

Job 13:5

Oh, who would grant that ye might keep a profound silences! and it would he accounted unto you as wisdom.

Job 13:6

Do hearken but to my reasoning, and listen to the pleadings of my lips.

Job 13:7

Will ye speak wrong things for God? and will ye speak for him deceitfully?

Job 13:8

Will ye show him undue favor, when ye contend for God?

Job 13:9

Will it be well if he should search you out? or as one overreacheth another mortal, do ye expect to overreach him?

Job 13:10

He will surely reprove you, if in secret you show him undue favor.

Job 13:11

Doth not his excellency terrify you? and his dread fall upon you?

Job 13:12

The things you remember are mere proverbs of ashes, your high-places are high-places of clay.

Job 13:13

Keep silence toward me, that I may indeed speak, and let pass over me what will.

Job 13:14

Whatever it may cost, I will take my flesh in my teeth, and my life will I put in my hand.

Job 13:15

Lo, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: only I will argue my own ways before him.

Job 13:16

Even he will come to my assistance; for a hypocrite cannot come before him.

Job 13:17

Listen well to my word, and to my demonstration with your ears.

Job 13:18

Behold now, I have arrayed my cause: I know that I shall be indeed justified.

Job 13:19

Who is he that will contend with me? for now, if I keep silence, I must perish.

Job 13:20

Only two things do not unto me: then will I not hide myself from thy presence.

Job 13:21

Remove thy hand far from me; and let not thy dread terrify me.

Job 13:22

Then call thou, and I will answer; or let me speak, and do thou reply to me.

Job 13:23

How many are my iniquities and sins? my transgression and my sin let me know.

Job 13:24

Wherefore wilt thou hide thy face, and regard me as an enemy unto thee?

Job 13:25

Wilt thou terrify a leaf driven about [by the wind]? and wilt thou pursue dry stubble?

Job 13:26

That thou writest bitter decrees against me, and assignest unto me the iniquities of my youth;

Job 13:27

And [that] thou puttest my feet in the stocks, and watchest narrowly all my paths; [and] settest for thyself a mark upon the soles of my feet?

Job 13:28

And yet the body decayeth like a rotten thing, as a garment that the moth hath eaten.

Job 14:1

Man born of a woman is short of days, and sated with harrowing trouble.

Job 14:2

Like a flower he cometh forth, and is cut down: and he fleeth like a shadow, and remaineth not.

Job 14:3

And yet on such a one dost thou open thy eyes, and me thou bringest into judgment with thee?

Job 14:4

Who can make a clean thing out of an unclean? not one [thing].

Job 14:5

Seeing that his days are determined, the number of his months are [fixed] with thee, that thou hast set his bounds which he cannot pass:

Job 14:6

Turn thyself from him that he may recover from his pain, and be able to enjoy like a hired laborer his day.

Job 14:7

For there is hope for the tree: if it be cut down, it may still sprout again, while its young shoot will not cease.

Job 14:8

If even its root become old in the earth, and its stock die in the dust:

Job 14:9

Yet through the scent of water will it flourish [again], and produce boughs as though It were newly planted.

Job 14:10

But man dieth, and lieth powerless: yea, the son of earth departeth—and where is he?

Job 14:11

The waters run off from the sea, and the river faileth and drieth up:

Job 14:12

So doth man lie down, and riseth not: till the heavens be no more, they will not awake, and will not be roused out of their sleep.

Job 14:13

Oh who would grant that thou mightest hide me in the nether world, that thou mightest conceal me, until thy wrath be appeased, that thou mightest set for me a fixed time, and remember me then!

Job 14:14

Or, when a man dieth, will he live again? all the days of my time of service would I then wait, till [the hour of] my release were come.

Job 14:15

Do thou call, and I will truly answer thee: have a desire for the work of thy hands.

Job 14:16

Yet now thou numberest my steps: and thou waitest not with [the punishment of] my sin.

Job 14:17

Sealed up in a bag is my transgression, and thou yet addest to my iniquity.

Job 14:18

But truly a falling mountain will crumble, and [even] a rock is moved out of its place.

Job 14:19

The water weareth out stones; thou sweepest away their fragments [like] the dust of the earth: and so thou destroyest the hope of man.

Job 14:20

Thou assailest him with might without ceasing, till he passeth away: thou changest his countenance, and sendest him off.

Job 14:21

His children acquire honor, but he knoweth it not: and they are esteemed little, but he perceiveth nothing of them.

Job 14:22

But his body. on him, feeleth pain, and his soul will mourn for him.

Job 15:1

Then answered Eliphaz the Themanite, and said,

Job 15:2

Should a wise man utter windy knowledge, and fill his inward parts with the east wind?

Job 15:3

Should he reason with a speech which availeth nothing? and with words in which there is no profit?

Job 15:4

Yea, thou truly makest void the fear [of God], and diminishest devotion before God.

Job 15:5

For thy iniquity teacheth thy mouth, so that thou chooseth the language of the crafty.

Job 15:6

Thy own mouth must condemn thee, but not I: yea, thy own lips will testify against thee.

Job 15:7

Wast thou born as the first man? or wast thou brought forth before the hills?

Job 15:8

Hast thou listened to the secret counsel of God? and is wisdom therefore of little esteem with thee?

Job 15:9

What knowest thou, that we do not know? what understandest thou, which is not with us?

Job 15:10

Both the grayheaded and the very aged are among us,— richer than thy father in days.

Job 15:11

Are the divine consolations too little for thee? and the word that was so mild with thee?

Job 15:12

Whither doth thy heart carry thee away? and what do thy eyes gaze at?

Job 15:13

That thou shouldst turn against God thy spirit, and utter [such] words out of thy mouth?

Job 15:14

What is man, that he should be pure? and that he who is born of woman should be declared righteous?

Job 15:15

Behold, in his holy ones he putteth no trust; and the heavens are not pure in his eyes:

Job 15:16

How much more than the abominable and corrupt, the man who drinketh like water wrong-doing?

Job 15:17

I will instruct thee, hear me; and what I have seen will I relate;

Job 15:18

Which wise men have ever told, and have not concealed, as they obtained it from their fathers;

Job 15:19

Unto whom alone the earth was given, and into whose midst no stranger ever entered.

Job 15:20

All his days is the wicked plagued with pain, and the number of years which are laid by for the tyrant.

Job 15:21

A sound of terrors is in his ears: during peace will the waster come over him.

Job 15:22

He believeth not that he shall return out of darkness, and he is looked for by the sword.

Job 15:23

He wandereth abroad for bread, [saying,] Where is it? he knoweth that there is ready at his hand the day of darkness.

Job 15:24

Distress and anguish terrify him: they assail him with might, as a king prepared for the battle.

Job 15:25

Because he had stretched out against God his hand, and strengthened himself against the Almighty;

Job 15:26

[And] he had run against him, with an [extended] neck, with the thick roundings of his bucklers;

Job 15:27

Because he had covered his face with his fat, and had made thick folds of fat on his flanks;

Job 15:28

And he dwelt in abandoned cities, in houses which none inhabited, which were destined to be ruinous heaps.

Job 15:29

[Yet] will he not remain rich, neither will his wealth endure, nor will he attain their perfection on earth.

Job 15:30

He will never depart out of darkness: the flame shall dry up his shoots, and he will depart by the breath of God's mouth.

Job 15:31

Let him that goeth astray not trust in vanity; for vanity will be what he obtaineth thereby.

Job 15:32

Even before his time will it be overfull, and his branches will not be green.

Job 15:33

He will shake off like the vine his unripe grapes, and cast off like the olive his blossoms.

Job 15:34

For the assembly of hypocrites will remain desolate, and fire will consume the tents of bribery.

Job 15:35

They conceive trouble, and bring forth wrong-doing, and their body prepareth deceit.

Job 16:1

Then answered Job, and said,

Job 16:2

I have heard many things such as these: troublesome comforters are ye all.

Job 16:3

Shall there be any end to words of wind? or what compelleth thee that thou shouldst answer?

Job 16:4

I also could well speak as ye do: if your soul were but in my soul's stead, I could overwhelm you with words, and could shake my head at you.

Job 16:5

But I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the condolence of my lips should restrain [your grief].

Job 16:6

Though I were to speak, my pain would not be restrained; and though I should forbear, what will go away from me?

Job 16:7

But now he hath made me weary: thou hast made desolate all my company.

Job 16:8

And thou hast filled me with wrinkles, they are my witnesses; and my leanness riseth up for me, giveth its testimony to my face.

Job 16:9

In his wrath he teareth me to pieces, and assaileth me: he gnasheth over me with his teeth; my adversary sendeth threatening looks at me.

Job 16:10

They now open wide against me their mouth; reproachfully they smite my cheek: altogether do they assemble against me.

Job 16:11

God hath surrendered me to the unjust, and cast me down into the hands of the wicked.

Job 16:12

I was at ease, but he hath crushed me; he hath also grasped me by the neck, and shaken me to pieces, and set me up unto himself as a mark;

Job 16:13

His archers encompass me round about; he cleaveth my reins sunder, and doth not pity; he poureth out upon the ground my gall;

Job 16:14

He breaketh me down with breach upon breach; he runneth against me like a mighty man.

Job 16:15

Sackcloth have I sewed upon my skin, and my horn I roll in the dust.

Job 16:16

My face gloweth from weeping, and on my eyelids resteth the shadow of death:

Job 16:17

Not because any violence is in my hands, and while my prayer is pure.

Job 16:18

Earth! do thou not cover up my blood, and let no place restrain my cry.

Job 16:19

Even now, behold, my witness is in the heavens, and one that testifieth for me is on high.

Job 16:20

Are my friends my defenders? unto God my eye poureth out [its tears].

Job 16:21

And oh that a man might plead with God, as one son of earth with the other!

Job 16:22

For when the numbered years are passed, then must I travel a path whence I cannot return.

Job 17:1

My spirit is broken, my days are cut short, the grave is ready for me.

Job 17:2

Yet truly those that mock are with me, and on their offendings must my eye rest.

Job 17:3

And thou, [Creator!] attend, I pray thee, be my surety with thyself: who else is there that would strike hands with me?

Job 17:4

For thou hast concealed their heart against intelligence: therefore art thou not exalted [through them].

Job 17:5

Every one of them speaketh deceptively to his friends: may also the eyes of his children fail.

Job 17:6

And he hath placed me here as a by-word unto nations; and I become openly as a place of abomination.

Job 17:7

Therefore is my eye dim from vexation, and my limbs are all of them like a shadow.

Job 17:8

Upright men must be astonished at this, and the innocent must arouse himself against the hypocrite.

Job 17:9

Yet will the righteous hold firmly on to his way; and he that is clean of hands will acquire additional strength.

Job 17:10

But all of you, do only return, and come but [to me]: and yet I shall not find among you one wise man.

Job 17:11

My days are past, my resolves are broken off, [even the thoughts]—the possessions of my heart.

Job 17:12

These would change the night into day, the light as near in the presence of darkness.—

Job 17:13

When I hope for the nether world as my house; in the darkness have I spread my couch;

Job 17:14

When I call to corruption, Thou art my father: Thou art my mother, and my sister, to the worms.

Job 17:15

Ay, where is then my hope? as for my hope, who will see it [fulfilled]?

Job 17:16

Let then my limbs sink down to the nether world: truly in the dust alone there is rest for all.

Job 18:1

Then answered Bildad the Shuchite, and said,

Job 18:2

When will ye at length put an end to words? Come to an understanding, and afterward let us speak.

Job 18:3

For what cause are we counted as beasts, reputed stupid your eyes?

Job 18:4

Thou, the one that teareth himself to pieces in his anger— shall for thy sake the earth be forsaken, and the rock be moved away out of its place?

Job 18:5

Ah, truly the light of the wicked will be quenched, and the spark of his fire shall not give light.

Job 18:6

The light becometh dark in his tent, and his lamp will be quenched above him.

Job 18:7

His powerful steps will be narrowed, and his own counsel will cast him down.

Job 18:8

For he is driven into the net by his own feet, and he taketh his walk upon a snare.

Job 18:9

The trap will seize him by the heel, and the robber will prevail over him.

Job 18:10

The cord is hidden for him in the ground, and a trap is set for him on the pathway.

Job 18:11

All around do terrors scare him, and chase him as he walketh along.

Job 18:12

His first-born will suffer hunger, and calamity will be ready for his wife.

Job 18:13

It will devour the limbs of his body: yea, the first-born of death will devour his limbs.

Job 18:14

Then will be plucked up out of his tent his confidence, and [the evil] will urge him forward to the king of terrors.

Job 18:15

It will dwell in his tent, because it is no more his: there will be strewed sulphur on his habitation.

Job 18:16

Beneath, his roots will be dried up, and above will his boughs he cut away.

Job 18:17

His resemblance vanisheth from the earth, and no name remaineth for him in the streets.

Job 18:18

Men will thrust him out from light into darkness, and out of the world will they drive him.

Job 18:19

He will have neither son nor grandson among his people, nor any that escapeth in the places of his sojourning.

Job 18:20

Because of his [calamitous] day are they that come after him astonished, and they that went before are seized with shuddering.

Job 18:21

Yea, such are the dwellings of the unjust, and this is the place of one that knew not God.

Job 19:1

Then answered Job, and said,

Job 19:2

How long will ye grieve my soul, and crush me with words?

Job 19:3

These ten times have ye reproached me: ye are not ashamed when ye show yourselves as strangers to me.

Job 19:4

Yea, if it be indeed that I have erred, let my error remain with myself.

Job 19:5

But if indeed ye wish to magnify yourselves above me, and to prove against me my disgrace:

Job 19:6

Then know for certain that God hath bent me down, and hath laid his net all around me.

Job 19:7

Behold, I cry out concerning the violence [done me], but I am not answered: I entreat aloud, but there is no justice.

Job 19:8

My road hath he fenced up, so that I cannot pass out; and on my paths he placeth darkness.

Job 19:9

My glory hath he stripped from me, and removed the crown of my head.

Job 19:10

He hath pulled me down on every side, and I am going hence; and he hath rooted up like a tree my hope.

Job 19:11

He hath also kindled against me his wrath, and he counteth me with himself as one of his adversaries.

Job 19:12

Altogether come on his troops, and make level against me their way, and encamp round about my tent.

Job 19:13

My brothers hath he removed far from me, and my acquaintance are entirely estranged from me.

Job 19:14

My near of kin have withdrawn, and those befriended by me have forgotten me.

Job 19:15

Ye that sojourn in my house, and my maid-servants, regard me as a stranger: an alien am I become in their eyes.

Job 19:16

I call for my servant, but he will not answer, though I were to entreat him with my mouth.

Job 19:17

My breath is become nauseous to my wife, and my caressing, to the children of my own body.

Job 19:18

Yea, children even despise me: I rise up, but they speak against me.

Job 19:19

All that have had my confidence abominate me; and those whom I have loved are turned against me.

Job 19:20

To my skin and to my flesh my bones do cleave, and I must sustain myself with the gums of my teeth.

Job 19:21

Spare me, spare me, O ye, my friends; for the hand of God hath touched me.

Job 19:22

Why will ye persecute me as God [hath done], and will never be satisfied with my flesh?

Job 19:23

Oh who would but grant, that my words might be written down! oh who would grant that they were entered in a book!

Job 19:24

That they were hewn with an iron pen and [blackened with] lead for eternity in the hard rock!

Job 19:25

And well I know that my redeemer liveth, and that he will remain as the last after the creatures of the dust [are passed away];

Job 19:26

And after my skin is cut to pieces will this be: and then freed from my body shall I behold God;

Job 19:27

Whom I shall myself behold to my happiness, and whom my eyes will see, and not as a stranger, [when even] my reins are consumed within my bosom.

Job 19:28

But if ye should say, How will we pursue him? seeing the root of the matter is found in me:

Job 19:29

Then have dread for yourselves of the sword; for the wrath [which ye excite] is an iniquity that bringeth the sword; in order that ye may know there is one that judgeth [in the world].

Job 20:1

Then answered Zophar the Na'amathite, and said,

Job 20:2

Even therefore do my inmost thoughts give me an answer, and for this reason do I feel a strong excitement within me.

Job 20:3

Reproof which casteth shame on me must I hear; yet out of my understanding will the spirit give me an answer.

Job 20:4

Dost thou know this? from the very beginning of things, from the very time when man was placed upon earth it was,

Job 20:5

That the triumphal shouting of the wicked is ever of but a recent date, and the joy of the hypocrite endureth only for a moment.

Job 20:6

Though his exaltation should mount up to the heavens, and his head should reach unto the clouds;

Job 20:7

Yet when he but turneth round will he vanish for ever; those who have seen him will say, Where is he?

Job 20:8

Like a dream will he fly away, and men will find him no more; yea, he will be chased away like a vision of the night.

Job 20:9

If an eye have surveyed him, it will not do so again, and it will not behold him any more in his place.

Job 20:10

His children will suffer oppression from the indigent, and his hands will have to restore his [ill-gotten] wealth.

Job 20:11

[Now] his bones are full of his youthful vigor; but it will [suddenly] lie down with him in the dust.

Job 20:12

If the evil be sweet in his mouth, he will conceal it under his tongue;

Job 20:13

He will cherish it, and not forsake it; and hold it back within his palate;

Job 20:14

His food is thus changed within his bowels, and becometh the venom of asps within him.

Job 20:15

The wealth which he hath swallowed, will he have to vomit up again; God will drive it out of his belly.

Job 20:16

The poison of asps will he have to suck; the viper's tongue will slay him.

Job 20:17

He shall not look with pleasure on streams, on flowing brooks of honey and cream.

Job 20:18

He restoreth what he hath labored for, and will not swallow it down; however much he may have obtained by toil, he will not have any joy of it.

Job 20:19

Because he oppressed and forsook the indigent; because he took violently away a house, shall he not rebuild it;

Job 20:20

Because he knew not quietness in his bosom, shall he not escape through what is the most precious to him.

Job 20:21

Nothing was spared from his craving to eat: therefore shall his wealth not prosper.

Job 20:22

In the fulness of his abundance will distress assail him: every hand of [those he] troubled will come against him.

Job 20:23

In order to fill his belly, [God] will send out against him the fury of his wrath, and will rain it upon him for his eating.

Job 20:24

If he flee from the iron weapon, the brazen bow will strike him through.

Job 20:25

He draweth it, and it cometh out of the body; yea, out of his gall the glittering [arrow] cometh forth: over him come the terrors [of death].

Job 20:26

Entire darkness is laid by for his treasures: a fire not urged by blowing will consume him; it will destroy any one that is left in his tent.

Job 20:27

The heavens will lay open his iniquity; and the earth will raise herself up against him.

Job 20:28

The product of his house will be banished, flowing away on the day of his wrath.

Job 20:29

This is the portion of a wicked man from God, and his decreed heritage from God.

Job 21:1

Then answered Job, and said,

Job 21:2

Hear, O hear my speech, and let this be wherewith you give consolations.

Job 21:3

Bear with me that I may indeed speak: and after my speaking, then canst thou mock.

Job 21:4

As for me,—is against man my complaint? and if this be so, why should my spirit not be impatient?

Job 21:5

Turn yourselves unto me, and be astounded, and lay your hand upon your mouth.

Job 21:6

Yea, when I think of it, I am terrified, and shuddering seizeth hold of my flesh.

Job 21:7

Wherefore do the wicked live, become old, yea, grow strong in power?

Job 21:8

Their seed is firmly established in their presence with them. their offspring are before their eyes.

Job 21:9

Their houses are at peace without any dread, and no rod of God [cometh] over them.

Job 21:10

The bull of each one gendereth, and disappointeth not: the cow of each one calveth, and casteth not her young.

Job 21:11

They send forth their little ones like a flock, and their children skip about [with joy].

Job 21:12

They sing to the timbrel and harp, and rejoice at the sound of the pipe.

Job 21:13

They wear out their days in happiness, and in a moment they go down to the nether world.

Job 21:14

And yet they say unto God, "Depart from us; and the knowledge of thy ways we desire not.

Job 21:15

What is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit shall we have, if we entreat him urgently?"

Job 21:16

Lo, not in their hand doth their happiness rest! The counsel of the wicked be [still] far from me.

Job 21:17

How often is the lamp of the wicked quenched? and how often cometh over them their calamity? and doth [God] distribute their lot in his anger?

Job 21:18

Are they as straw before the wind, and as chaff which the stealeth away?

Job 21:19

Should God lay up for his children his wrong-doing? it were better that he reward him, that he might know it himself.

Job 21:20

His own eyes ought to see his downfall, and from the wrath of the Almighty ought he to drink.

Job 21:21

For what care hath he for his household after him, when the number of his months is all apportioned to him?

Job 21:22

Is this fitting God, who teacheth knowledge? him who judgeth those that are highest?

Job 21:23

That this one dieth in his full strength, being wholly at ease and quiet;

Job 21:24

His vessels being full of healthy fluid, and the marrow of his bones being well moistened:

Job 21:25

While this other dieth with an embittered soul, and hath never partaken of any happiness;

Job 21:26

[And yet] together they must lie down in the dust, and the worms will cover them?

Job 21:27

Behold, I know your thoughts, and the opinions which ye wrongfully devise against me.

Job 21:28

For ye say, Where is the house of the noble-minded? and where is the tent of the dwelling-places of the wicked?

Job 21:29

Have ye not asked the wayfarers? surely their token ye cannot disregard,

Job 21:30

That the bad man is reserved for the day of calamity, [that the wicked] are carried forward to the day of wrath.

Job 21:31

[But] who will tell him to his face of his way? and who will repay him what he hath done?

Job 21:32

Yea he will indeed be carried to the grave, and men will quickly think of his monument:

Job 21:33

Sweet are to him the clods of the valley; and after him succeedeth every man, as those that were before him are without number.

Job 21:34

How then will ye comfort me with vanity? and of your answers there remaineth only deception.

Job 22:1

Then answered Eliphaz the Themanite, and said,

Job 22:2

Can a man be serviceable unto God? Truly the intelligent is serviceable unto himself.

Job 22:3

Is it any pleasure to the Almighty that thou art righteous? or is it any gain to him, that thou makest thy ways perfect?

Job 22:4

Is it out of fear of thee that he will reproach thee? or go with thee into judgment?

Job 22:5

Is not thy evil great? and no end to thy iniquities?

Job 22:6

For thou hast taken a pledge from thy brothers for nought, and stripped the naked of their clothing.

Job 22:7

Thou hast not given water to the weary to drink, and from the hungry thou hast withholden bread.

Job 22:8

But as for the man of a strong arm, he obtained the land, and the highly honored could dwell therein.

Job 22:9

Widows hast thou sent away empty, and the arms of the fatherless have been broken.

Job 22:10

Therefore are snares round about thee, and sudden dread terrifieth thee.

Job 22:11

Or seest thou not the darkness? and the abundance of water which covereth thee?

Job 22:12

Is not God in the height of heaven? and beholding the highest elevation of the stars, however high they are?

Job 22:13

But thou sayest, "What doth God know? can he judge behind the darkness?"

Job 22:14

Thick clouds are a covering for him, so that he will not see; and he walketh along on the circle of heaven."

Job 22:15

Wilt thou [thus] observe the path of ancient times which the men of injustice have trodden?

Job 22:16

Who were shrivelled up before their time, whose foundation was flooded away like a river;

Job 22:17

Who said unto God, "'Depart from us:" and what wrought the Almighty for them?

Job 22:18

And yet it was he that filled their houses with good things; but the counsel of the wicked be [still] far from me.

Job 22:19

The righteous will see it, and be glad; and the innocent will laugh them to scorn.

Job 22:20

"Is not he destroyed that rose up against us, and hath not the fire consumed what they had left?"

Job 22:21

Do but become acquainted with him, and be at peace: thereby will happiness come unto thee.

Job 22:22

Do but accept instruction from his mouth, and lay up his saying in thy heart.

Job 22:23

If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up, so thou wilt but remove wrong—doing far away from thy tents.

Job 22:24

And throw down in the dust precious metals, and [the gold of] Ophir to the stones of the brooks:

Job 22:25

Then will the Almighty be thy precious metal, and brightly—shining silver unto thee.

Job 22:26

For then wilt thou have in the Almighty thy delight, and thou canst lift up unto God thy face.

Job 22:27

Thou wilt make entreaty unto him, and he will hear thee, and thy vows wilt thou pay.

Job 22:28

And if thou decree a thing, it will be fulfilled unto thee; and upon thy ways the light will shine.

Job 22:29

For when men are brought low, thou wilt say, Pride [hath done it]; but those of lowly eyes [God] will help.

Job 22:30

He will even deliver him who is not guiltless: and thou wilt be delivered by the purity of thy hands.

Job 23:1

Then answered Job, and said,

Job 23:2

Even now is my complaint bitter: my suffering is heavier than my groans.

Job 23:3

Oh who would grant that I knew where I might find him! that I might attain to his Judgment throne!

Job 23:4

I would put in order before him my cause, and my mouth would I fill with arguments.

Job 23:5

I should know the words which he might answer me, and understand what he might say unto me.

Job 23:6

Would he with his power contend against me? he would truly not lay such doings to my charge.

Job 23:7

There would an upright one argue with him; and I should be allowed to escape for ever by my judge.

Job 23:8

But, lo, I go eastward—and he is not there; and to the west— and I cannot perceive him;

Job 23:9

When he doth great things at the north, I behold him not; he hideth himself in the south—and I see him not.

Job 23:10

But he knoweth the way that I take: were he to probe me, I should come forth as gold.

Job 23:11

On his steps my foot hath held fast: his way have I kept, and swerved not.

Job 23:12

From the commandment of his lips have I also not moved away: as a fixed statute for me have I treasured up the sayings of his mouth.

Job 23:13

But he is unchangeably one, and who can turn him? And what his will desireth, even that he doth.

Job 23:14

For he will bring to completion what hath been destined for me: and like these hath he many other things with him.

Job 23:15

Therefore am I terrified at his presence: I will reflect, and be in dread of him.

Job 23:16

Still God hath made timid my heart, and the Almighty hath terrified me;

Job 23:17

Because I was not destroyed before this darkness, and because he hath not hidden from my face [this] gloom.

Job 24:1

Why are not times [of punishment] treasured up by the Almighty, and why do his adorers not see his days [of retribution]?

Job 24:2

[The wicked] remove landmarks: they rob flocks, and feed them.

Job 24:3

They drive away the ass of the fatherless, they take in pledge the widow's ox.

Job 24:4

They chase the needy out of the highway: altogether hide themselves the poor of the earth.

Job 24:5

Behold, as wild asses in the wilderness go they forth to their work, rising betimes after [their] prey: the desert yieldeth food for them and for their young men.

Job 24:6

In the field they reap their food; and in the vineyard of the wicked they gather the fruit.

Job 24:7

They cause [the poor] to spend the night naked, without clothing and without any covering in the cold.

Job 24:8

Through the sweeping rain of the mountains are they made wet, and for want of a shelter do they embrace the rock.

Job 24:9

The others pluck from the breast the fatherless, and the garment of the poor they take in pledge.

Job 24:10

They cause him to go naked without clothing, and from the hungry they take away the sheaf:

Job 24:11

Within their walls do they make oil, they tread their wine–presses, and suffer thirst.

Job 24:12

Out of a populous city is groaning heard, and the soul of the deadly wounded crieth out: yet God regardeth it not as an offence.

Job 24:13

Yon men are of those that rebel against the light: they know not its ways, nor abide in its paths.

Job 24:14

With the earliest light riseth the murderer, he slayeth the poor and needy, and in the night he becometh like the thief.

Job 24:15

And the eye of the adulterer watcheth for the twilight, saying, No eye will see me; and placeth a covering on his face.

Job 24:16

They break into houses in the dark, in the daytime they lock themselves in: they know not the light.

Job 24:17

For to all of these alike is the morning as the shadow of death; for they are familiar with the terrors of the shadow of death.

Job 24:18

Swift are such men [to flee] on the face of the water; accursed is their field on the land; none of them turneth himself to the way, of the vineyards.

Job 24:19

Drought and heat speedily consume the snow–waters: so doth the grave those who have sinned.

Job 24:20

The mother that bore such a one will forget him; the worm will feed sweetly on him; he will be no more remembered; and like a tree will wickedness be broken.

Job 24:21

He ill–treateth the barren that heareth not; and to the widow he acteth not well.

Job 24:22

But he also draweth down the mighty with his power: he riseth up, no one is sure of life.

Job 24:23

To such [God] granteth to be in safety, that he may find support; and His eyes are upon their ways.

Job 24:24

They are exalted; in but a little while they are no more; and they are brought down low: like all others are they gathered in, and like the top of the ear of corn are they cut off.

Job 24:25

But if it be not so, who will prove me a liar, and render nought my word?

Job 25:1

Then answered Bildad the Shuchite, and said,

Job 25:2

Dominion and dread are with him: he maketh peace in high places.

Job 25:3

Can the number of his hosts be given? and over whom riseth not his light?

Job 25:4

How then can man be justified with God? or how can be one that is born of woman?

Job 25:5

Behold, even as regardeth the moon, that is not bright; yea, the stars are not pure in his eyes.

Job 25:6

How much less the mortal, the mere worm? and the son of earth, the mere maggot?

Job 26:1

Then answered Job, and said,

Job 26:2

What assistance hast thou given to the powerless? [how] hast thou helped the arm without strength?

Job 26:3

How hast thou counselled the unwise? and what sound wisdom hast thou made known so plentifully?

Job 26:4

To whom hast thou told words? and whose spirit came from thee?

Job 26:5

The departed are called into being beneath the waters, and their inhabitants.

Job 26:6

Naked is the nether world before him, and there is no covering for the place of corruption.

Job 26:7

He stretched out the north over empty space; he suspended the earth on nothing;

Job 26:8

He bound up the waters in his clouds; and the cloud bursteth not under their weight;

Job 26:9

He closed up the surface of his throne, spreading over it his cloud;

Job 26:10

A fixed limit he compassed off over the face of the waters, for the division of the light and darkness.

Job 26:11

The pillars of heaven tremble greatly, and are astounded at his rebuke.

Job 26:12

By his power he split in pieces the sea, and by his understanding he crushed [its] pride:

Job 26:13

By his breath the heavens [acquired] beauty; his hand hath created the flying serpent.

Job 26:14

Lo, these are ends of his ways; for how slight a whisper is heard [by us] of him! but the thunder of his mighty deeds who can understand?

Job 27:1

And Job continued taking up his parable, and said,

Job 27:2

As God liveth, who hath removed justice from me; and by the Almighty, who hath embittered my soul:

Job 27:3

All the while my breath is in me, and the spirit of God is in my nostrils;

Job 27:4

Shall my lips not speak any wrong, nor shall my tongue utter deceit.

Job 27:5

Far be it from me that I should justify you; till I depart hence will I not allow [any one] to take my integrity away from me.

Job 27:6

I have laid fast hold on my righteousness, and I will not let it go: my heart shall not reproach me [for my conduct] during all my life.

Job 27:7

Like the wicked is [therefore] my enemy, and he that riseth up against me like a wrong-doer.

Job 27:8

For what is the hope of the hypocrite, when he hath gained unjust wealth, when God casteth forth his soul?

Job 27:9

Will God hear his cry, when distress cometh upon him?

Job 27:10

Or can he find delight in the Almighty? can he call on God at all times?

Job 27:11

I will instruct you concerning what is in the hand of God: [the way] which is with the Almighty will I not conceal.

Job 27:12

Lo! ye yourselves have all beheld it: why is it then that ye deal in such vanities?

Job 27:13

This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the portion of tyrants, which they shall receive from the Almighty.

Job 27:14

If his children be multiplied, it is only for the sword; and his offspring will not be satisfied with bread.

Job 27:15

Those of his that are left to escape will be buried by death; and his widows will not be able to weep.

Job 27:16

Though he heap up silver as the dust, and prepare garments [as plentifully] as the clay:

Job 27:17

He may prepare, but the righteous will clothe himself [therewith], and the silver the innocent will divide.

Job 27:18

He buildeth his house like the moth, and like a hut that a keeper hath made.

Job 27:19

Rich will he lie down, but will not be gathered [into the grave]: one openeth his eyes, and he is no more.

Job 27:20

Like a flood will terror overtake him, in the night a tempest will steal him away.

Job 27:21

The east wind will lift him up, and he must be gone; and it hurleth him like a storm out of his place.

Job 27:22

And [God] will cast [evil] upon him, and bare no pity: out of his hand [his wealth] will surely escape.

Job 27:23

Men will clap their hands over him, and will hiss after him out of his place.

Job 28:1

For truly there is a source for the silver, and a place for the gold which men refine.

Job 28:2

Iron is taken out of the dust, and the stone is melted into copper.

Job 28:3

An end doth he set to darkness, and the very utmost limit doth he search out, the stones of darkness, and of the shadow of death.

Job 28:4

He breaketh a channel far from the inhabited place; those of unsteady foot, the poorest of men move [there about].

Job 28:5

The earth, out of which cometh forth bread, is under its surface turned up as it were with fire.

Job 28:6

Her stones are the place whence the sapphire cometh; and golden dust is also there;

Job 28:7

[On the] path which no bird of prey knoweth, and which the vulture's eye hath not surveyed;

Job 28:8

[Which] ravenous beasts have never trodden, over which the lion hath never passed.

Job 28:9

To the flinty rock he stretcheth forth his hand; he overturneth the mountains from the root.

Job 28:10

Amid rocks he heweth out canals: and every precious thing doth his eye behold.

Job 28:11

The various droppings of water he uniteth into streams, and what is hidden he bringeth forth to light.

Job 28:12

But wisdom—where shall she be found? and where is the place of understanding?

Job 28:13

Man knoweth not her value: and she is not to be found in the land of the living.

Job 28:14

The deep saith, Not in me is she: and the sea saith, She is not with me.

Job 28:15

No fine gold can be given in lieu of her, and silver cannot be weighed out as her price.

Job 28:16

She cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir, with the precious onyx, or the sapphire.

Job 28:17

She cannot be estimated after gold and glass; and not in exchange for her [can] vessels of refined gold [be taken.]

Job 28:18

Coral and crystal will not be thought of; and the value of wisdom is above pearls.

Job 28:19

She cannot be estimated after the topaz of Ethiopia, nor can she be valued with pure gold.

Job 28:20

But wisdom—whence cometh she? and where is the place of understanding?

Job 28:21

Yea, she is hidden from the eyes of all living, and from the fowls of the heavens is she concealed.

Job 28:22

Perdition and death say, With our ears have we heard a report of her.

Job 28:23

God [alone] understandeth her way, and he knoweth her place;

Job 28:24

For he looketh to the ends of the earth, [whatever is] under the whole heaven doth he see.

Job 28:25

When he imparted weight unto the wind; and [when] the waters he established by measure;

Job 28:26

When he made a law for the rain, and a way for the lightning of [his] thunders;

Job 28:27

Then did he see her, and make her known; he established her, and also searched her out.

Job 28:28

And he said unto man, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to eschew evil is understanding.

Job 29:1

And Job continued to take up his parable, and said,

Job 29:2

Who will give me back months like those which are past, days like those when God guarded me;

Job 29:3

When his lamp shone over my head, when by his light I could walk in darkness;

Job 29:4

As I was in the days of my abundance, when the confidence of God was upon my tent:

Job 29:5

When the Almighty was yet with me, when my servants stood round about me;

Job 29:6

When I bathed my steps in cream, and the rock poured out near me streamlets of oil!

Job 29:7

When I went out to the gate close by the city, when in the open place I established my seat:

Job 29:8

Young men saw me, and hid themselves; and the aged rose up, and remained standing;

Job 29:9

Princes stopped in the midst of [their] words, and laid their hand on their mouth:

Job 29:10

The voice of nobles was arrested, and their tongue cleaved to their palate.

Job 29:11

For the ear that heard me called me happy; and the eye that saw me bore witness for me;

Job 29:12

Because I delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherless, yea, that had none to help him.

Job 29:13

The blessing of him that was ready to perish came upon me; and the heart of the widow I caused to sing for joy.

Job 29:14

I took righteousness as my garment, and it clothed me: as a robe and a mitre was justice unto me.

Job 29:15

Eyes was I to the blind; and feet to the lame was I.

Job 29:16

A father was I to the needy; and the cause of him I knew not I used to investigate.

Job 29:17

And I broke the cutting-teeth of the wrong-doer, and out of his teeth I cast down his prey.

Job 29:18

And I said then, "In the midst of my nest shall I depart hence, and like the sand shall I have many days.

Job 29:19

My root will stand open for the water, and the dew will lodge on my boughs.

Job 29:20

My glory will ever be new with me, and my bow will acquire fresh strength in my hand."

Job 29:21

Unto me men listened, and waited, and watched in silence for my counsel

Job 29:22

After my words they made no reply, and my speech dropped on them [like dew].

Job 29:23

And they waited for me as for the rain, and they opened wide their mouth as for the latter rain.

Job 29:24

I smiled on those that had lost their confidence; and the light of my countenance they never cast down.

Job 29:25

I chose their way for them, and I sat as chief, and dwelt as king in his army, as one that comforteth mourners.

Job 30:1

But now they who are younger than I in years laugh at me, whose fathers I scorned to put as equals with the dogs of my flocks.

Job 30:2

Yea, what possible use can the strength of their hands be unto me, over whom old age hath passed fruitlessly?

Job 30:3

Who suffer for want and famine in solitude; who flee into the wilderness [where all is] darkness, ruin, and desolation;

Job 30:4

Who crop off mallows by the bushes, and have broom-bush roots as their bread;

Job 30:5

Who are driven forth from among [men], who are shouted after as though they were thieves,

Job 30:6

To dwell in the caverns of the valleys, in holes of the earth, and on naked cliffs.

Job 30:7

Among the bushes they shriek; under briers they are huddled together,

Job 30:8

The children of the worthless, yea, the children of the nameless, who were outcasts from the land.

Job 30:9

But now I am become their song, and I am become a byword unto them.

Job 30:10

They loathe me, they keep themselves far from me, and from my face they withhold not their spittle.

Job 30:11

Because he hath loosened the cord of my bow, and afflicted me, they have also cast off the bridle before me.

Job 30:12

Against my right hand rise up this swarm of worthless youths: they push away my feet, and they level against me their calamity-bringing paths.

Job 30:13

They destroy my footpath, they help forward my downfall, without any one to aid them.

Job 30:14

As [through] a broad breach they come: amidst a loud noise they rolled themselves along.

Job 30:15

Terrors have turned their face against me; they chase like the wind my glory: and like a cloud is my happiness passed away.

Job 30:16

And now my soul is poured out over me; the days of affliction have seized on me;

Job 30:17

All night it holloweth out my bones out of my body; and my pursuers take no rest.

Job 30:18

Through the Almighty's power is my garment made unknown: like the opening of my coat hath he enclosed me.

Job 30:19

He hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like dust and ashes.

Job 30:20

I cry aloud unto thee, but thou answerest me not: I stand up, and thou fixest thy regard against me.

Job 30:21

Thou art changed into a cruel master toward me: with the strength of thy hand thou assailest me.

Job 30:22

Thou liftest me up to the wind; thou causest me to pass away, and dissolvest in me all wise counsel.

Job 30:23

For I know that thou wilt bring me back to death, and to the house of assembly for all the living.

Job 30:24

But doth not a man stretch out his hand among ruins? or doth one not cry out therefrom [for help] when he meeteth his downfall?

Job 30:25

Did I not weep for him that was hard pressed by misfortune? was not my soul grieved for the needy?

Job 30:26

That I hoped for good, but there came evil; and I waited for light, and there came darkness!

Job 30:27

My bowels heave, and rest not: the days of affliction have overcome me.

Job 30:28

I walk about mournfully without sunlight: when I rise up, in the assembly, I cry with pain.

Job 30:29

I am a brother to [howling] monsters, and a companion to ostriches.

Job 30:30

My skin hangeth down black from me, and my bones are burnt from heat.

Job 30:31

And thus is changed to mourning my harp, and my pipe to the sound of weeping.

Job 31:1

A covenant had I made with my eyes: how then should I fix my look on a virgin?

Job 31:2

And what then would have been my portion of God from above? and what lot of the Almighty from on high?

Job 31:3

Is not calamity [ready] for the unjust? and misfortune for the wrong-doers?

Job 31:4

Behold, he truly seeth my ways, and numbereth all my steps;

Job 31:5

[And knoweth] whether I have walked with vain desires, or if my foot hath hastened after deceit.

Job 31:6

Let him weigh me then in a righteous balance, and let God acknowledge my integrity,

Job 31:7

If my step have turned aside from the [proper] way, and my heart have walked after my eyes, and if any blemish have cleaved to my hands:

Job 31:8

Then let me sow, and let another eat; and let what I have growing be rooted out.

Job 31:9

If my heart have been beguiled toward a woman, or if I have lain in wait at my neighbor's door:

Job 31:10

Then may my wife labor at the mill for another, and may strangers ill-use her;

Job 31:11

For this would be incest; yea, it would be an iniquity [to be punished by] the judges;

Job 31:12

For it would be a fire that consumeth down to the place of corruption, and would root out all my products.

Job 31:13

If ever I cast aside the justice due to my man-servant and my maid-servant, when they contended with me:

Job 31:14

What then could I do when God should rise up? and when he should investigate, what could I answer him?

Job 31:15

Did not he that made me make him born or a woman? and did not the same one fashion us in the womb?

Job 31:16

If ever I denied the wish of the indigent, or ever allowed the eyes of the widow to fall [in vain hopes];

Job 31:17

Or if ever I ate my bread by myself alone, and the fatherless did not eat thereof;

Job 31:18

(For from my youth he was brought up with me, as though we were of one father, and I have guided her [as though she was sprung] from my mother's womb;)

Job 31:19

If ever I saw any one perishing for want of clothing, or the needy without covering:

Job 31:20

If his loins have not blessed me, and if he have not been warmed with the fleece of my sheep;

Job 31:21

If I have swung my hand against the fatherless, because I saw in the gate those that would help me:

Job 31:22

Then may my shoulder fall from my shoulder-blade, and my arm be broken from the channel-bone;

Job 31:23

For dreaded by me was the calamitous punishment of God, and against his highness I can accomplish nothing.

Job 31:24

If I have made gold my confidence, or have said to the fine gold, Thou art my trust:

Job 31:25

If ever I rejoiced because my wealth was abundant, and because my hand had gotten much;

Job 31:26

If ever I looked at the light [of the sun] when he shone brightly and on the moon walking in splendor:

Job 31:27

And my heart became misled in secret, and my hand kissed my mouth:

Job 31:28

This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judge; for thus would I have denied the God that is above.

Job 31:29

If ever I rejoiced at the downfall of him that hated me, or was elated when evil befell him; —

Job 31:30

But I suffered not my mouth to sin by denouncing with a curse his soul:—

Job 31:31

If the men of my tent said not, Oh is there one that is not satisfied of his flesh; —

Job 31:32

In the street a stranger had not to lodge; my doors I held open to the roadside;

Job 31:33

If I covered up my transgressions like a common man, by hiding in my bosom my iniquity;

Job 31:34

Because I dreaded the great multitude, or because the contempt of families did terrify me, so that I kept silence, and dared not to go out of the door; —

Job 31:35

Oh who will bring me one that would hear me! behold, here is my plea; may the Almighty answer me; and any record which my opponent may have written,—

Job 31:36

Surely upon my shoulder would I carry it: I would bind it as a crown unto me.

Job 31:37

The number of my steps would I tell him: as [to] a prince would I go near unto him.—

Job 31:38

If my land ever cried out because of me, or if its furrows wept together;

Job 31:39

If I ever consumed its strength without payment, or caused the soul of its owners to grieve:

Job 31:40

Then may instead of wheat, thorns come forth, and instead of barley, cockle. (Here end the words of Job.)

Job 32:1

So had these three men abstained from answering Job; because he was righteous in his own eyes.

Job 32:2

Thereupon was kindled the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram: against Job was his wrath kindled, because he had declared himself more righteous than God.

Job 32:3

And against his three friends was his wrath kindled; because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job.

Job 32:4

Now Elihu had held back toward Job [his] words; because the others were older in days than he.

Job 32:5

But when Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, then was his wrath kindled.

Job 32:6

And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite commenced, and said, Young am I in days, and ye are very old: therefore I hesitated and feared to show you what I know.

Job 32:7

I had said, Days shall speak, and multitude of years shall make wisdom known.

Job 32:8

But it is the spirit in man, and the breath of the Almighty which giveth them understanding.

Job 32:9

Not those rich in years must be always wise: neither do the aged constantly understand what is just.

Job 32:10

Therefore do I say, Hearken to me: I also will show forth what I know myself.

Job 32:11

Behold, I waited for your words: I gave an attentive ear to your reasonings, till you might have searched out the [proper] words.

Job 32:12

And now I understand you fully, and, behold, there is none that convinceth Job, or, that answereth his speeches among you.

Job 32:13

Say then not, We have found wisdom: God will thrust him down, not man.

Job 32:14

But he hath not directed any words against me: and with your speeches will I not answer him.

Job 32:15

They are dismayed, they answer no more: words have escaped away from them.

Job 32:16

And should I wait [longer], because they cannot speak, because they stand stilt and answer no more?

Job 32:17

[But] I also will surely answer my part, I myself also will show forth what I know;

Job 32:18

For I am full of words, the spirit in my bosom urgeth me hard.

Job 32:19

Behold, my bosom is like [fresh] wine which hath not been opened: like new bottles it is ready to burst.

Job 32:20

I will speak, that I may breathe freer: I will open my lips and answer.

Job 32:21

On no account will I show undue favor to any man, and to no son of earth will I give flattering titles.

Job 32:22

For I know not to give flattering titles; [for else] my Maker would speedily carry me away.

Job 33:1

Therefore do thou but hear, O Job, my speeches, and give ear to all my words.

Job 33:2

Behold now, I have opened my mouth, my tongue speaketh in my mouth.

Job 33:3

Out of my straightforward heart [come] my sayings, and my lips utter knowledge clearly.

Job 33:4

The spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty giveth me life.

Job 33:5

If thou canst, answer me, array thyself before me, stand forward.

Job 33:6

Behold, I am in the same relation as thyself toward God: I myself also am cut out of the clay.

Job 33:7

Behold, dread of me cannot terrify thee, and my pressure will not be too heavy upon thee.

Job 33:8

But thou hast said before my ears, and the sound of the words I still hear,

Job 33:9

"I am pure without transgression, I am quite clean; and there is no iniquity in me:

Job 33:10

Yet, behold, he findeth hateful backsliding on me, he regardeth me as an enemy unto him;

Job 33:11

He putteth my feet in the stocks, he watcheth all my paths."

Job 33:12

Behold, In this thou art not just: I will answer thee; for God is far greater than a mortal.

Job 33:13

Why dost thou contend against him? for with all his words will he not give an answer.

Job 33:14

For God speaketh once, yea twice: [yet man] regardeth it not.

Job 33:15

In a dream, in a vision of the night, when deep sleep falleth upon men, in slumbers upon the couch:

Job 33:16

Then doth he lay open the ear of men, and sealeth it with their warning;

Job 33:17

To remove the son of earth [from his intended] deed and he covereth up pride from man;

Job 33:18

He withholdeth his soul from the pit, and his life from passing away by the sword.

Job 33:19

And so is he admonished by pain upon his couch, and all his bones with violent [aches].

Job 33:20

So that his inclination abhorreth bread, and his soul, the most agreeable food.

Job 33:21

His flesh is consumed away, that it cannot be seen, and his bones that were not seen stick out.

Job 33:22

Yea, his soul draweth near unto the pit, and his life to those that slay.

Job 33:23

If there be now about him one single angel, as defender, one out of a thousand, to tell for man his uprightness:

Job 33:24

Then is he gracious unto him, and saith, Release him from going down to the pit, I have found an atonement.

Job 33:25

His flesh becometh full again as in youth: he returneth to the days of his boyhood.

Job 33:26

He will offer his entreaty unto God, and he will receive him in favor, that he may see his face with joy: so doth He recompense unto the mortal his righteousness.

Job 33:27

He then should assemble men around, and say, "I had sinned, and perverted what is right, yet have I not received a like return."

Job 33:28

Thus he redeemeth his soul from passing into the pit, and his life will look joyously on the light.

Job 33:29

Lo, all these things doth God two or three times with man;

Job 33:30

To bring back his soul from the pit, that she may shine in the light of life.

Job 33:31

Listen well, O Job, hearken unto me: keep silence, and I will truly speak.

Job 33:32

If thou hast any words, answer me: speak, for I wish to justify thee.

Job 33:33

If not, hearken thou unto me: keep silence, and I will teach thee wisdom.

Job 34:1

And Elihu commenced, and said,

Job 34:2

Hear, O ye wise men, my words; and ye that have knowledge, give ear unto me.

Job 34:3

For the ear proveth words, as the palate tasteth the food.

Job 34:4

Let us choose for ourselves what is just: let us acknowledge between ourselves what is good.

Job 34:5

For Job hath said, "I am righteous; and God hath taken away justice from me.

Job 34:6

Should I lie concerning the justice due me? incurable is [my wound from] the arrow I bear in me without any transgression."

Job 34:7

What man is there like Job, who drinketh scorning like water,

Job 34:8

And is on the road to keep company with the wrong-doers, and to walk with men of wickedness?

Job 34:9

For he hath said, "It profiteth a man nothing when he acteth according to the pleasure of God."

Job 34:10

Therefore ye men of sense hearken unto me: far is it from God to practise wickedness; and from the Almighty to do wrong!

Job 34:11

For the work of a son of earth doth he recompense unto him, and according to the path of man doth he permit things to occur to him.

Job 34:12

Yea, surely God will not condemn unjustly, nor will the Almighty pervert justice.

Job 34:13

Who hath given him a charge concerning the earth? or who hath intrusted [him] the whole world?

Job 34:14

If he were to set his heart upon man, he would gather unto himself his spirit and his breath:

Job 34:15

All flesh would perish together, and the son of earth would return again unto dust.

Job 34:16

If then thou wishest to understand, hear this: give ear to the sound of my words.

Job 34:17

Is it possible that he who hateth justice should govern? or wilt thou condemn the righteous mighty One?

Job 34:18

[Is it fit] to say to a king, Thou art worthless? and to princes, Ye are wicked?

Job 34:19

Whereas he is one that showeth no favor to chieftains, and distinguisheth not the rich before the indigent; for all of them are the work of his hands.

Job 34:20

In a moment will they die, and in the midst of the night; people are moved, and pass away: and the mighty will be removed without a human hand.

Job 34:21

For big eyes are upon the ways of man, and all his steps doth he see.

Job 34:22

There is no darkness, nor shadow of death, where the evil-doers can hide themselves.

Job 34:23

For he need not direct [his attention] a long time upon man, that he should enter into judgment before God.

Job 34:24

He breaketh down mighty men without [long] searching, and placeth others in their stead.

Job 34:25

For the reason that he knoweth their deeds: therefore he overturneth them in the night, and they are crushed.

Job 34:26

Among wicked men doth he strike them, in the place where [many] see them:

Job 34:27

Because they have departed from following him, and have not considered all his ways.

Job 34:28

Bringing before them the cry of the indigent, and the cry of the afflicted which he had to hear.

Job 34:29

When he now granteth rest, who will condemn [him]! and when he hideth his face, who can behold him? whether it be against a nation, or against one man, it is the same:

Job 34:30

That no hypocritical man may reign, that such shall not be a mare to the people.

Job 34:31

For truly it is only fitting to say unto God, "I bear [cheerfully], I will not do any wrong;

Job 34:32

What I cannot see myself, do thou truly teach me; if I have done what is unjust, I will do so no more."

Job 34:33

Should he then according to thy view send a recompense, because thou hast rejected him? "Because thou must choose, and not I?" and what thou knowest, do speak.

Job 34:34

Men of sense will say unto me, and every wise man who heareth me,

Job 34:35

That Job hath not spoken with knowledge, and that his words are without intelligence.

Job 34:36

Oh that Job may therefore be probed continually, in order to give answers against sinful men.

Job 34:37

For he addeth unto his sin transgression: among us he uttereth too many loud words, and multiplieth his speeches against God.

Job 35:1

Then commenced Elihu, and said,

Job 35:2

Dost thou deem this to be just, that thou hast said, "My righteousness is more than God's?"

Job 35:3

For thou sayest, "What benefit will it be unto thee? what more profit shall I have, than if I had sinned?"

Job 35:4

I will truly reply unto thee with words, and unto thy friends with thee.

Job 35:5

Look unto the heavens, and see; and gaze on the skies which are higher than thou.

Job 35:6

If thou sin, what dost thou effect against him? and if thy transgressions be multiplied, what canst thou do unto him?

Job 35:7

If thou be righteous, what givest thou him? or what doth he accept out of thy hand?

Job 35:8

A man like thyself thy wickedness may reach, and a son of earth thy righteousness.

Job 35:9

By reason of the multitude of oppressions [the wicked] cause men to cry: these complain aloud because of the arm of the mighty.

Job 35:10

But [man] saith not, Where is God my maker, who bestoweth joyful songs even in the night;

Job 35:11

Who teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth, and maketh us wiser than the fowls of the heavens?

Job 35:12

There do they cry, but he answereth not: because of the pride of evil men.

Job 35:13

Only what is false will God not hear, nor will the Almighty regard it.

Job 35:14

Although thou sayest, thou canst not see him: yet the decision is before him; and do thou wait for him.

Job 35:15

But now, because his anger hath punished nothing, shall he not greatly take cognizance of the multitude of sins?

Job 35:16

But Job openeth wide his mouth for nought: without knowledge he heapeth up words.

Job 36:1

Then continued Elihu, and said,

Job 36:2

Wait for me a little, and I will instruct thee; for [I have] still some words on God's behalf.

Job 36:3

I will lift up my knowledge for him who is afar, and for my Maker will I obtain righteousness.

Job 36:4

For truly no falsehood is [in] my words: one that is upright in [his] opinions [dealeth now] with thee.

Job 36:5

Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any: he is mighty in strength of intellect.

Job 36:6

He permitteth not the wicked to live; but he procureth justice for the afflicted.

Job 36:7

He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous; but [he placeth them] with kings on the throne; yea, he doth establish them for ever, and they are exalted.

Job 36:8

And if they be bound in fetters, and if they be entangled in the cords of affliction:

Job 36:9

Then doth he tell them of their work, and of their transgressions, when they had become strong.

Job 36:10

And he openeth thus their ear to correction, and saith that they should return from wrongdoing.

Job 36:11

If they hearken and serve [him], they will spend their days in happiness, and their years in pleasures.

Job 36:12

But if they hearken not, they will pass away through the sword, and they will perish in want of knowledge.

Job 36:13

But the hypocrites in heart persevere in wrath; they will not offer entreaty when he bindeth them:

Job 36:14

Their soul will die in youth, and their life, among the incestuous.

Job 36:15

He delivereth the afflicted through his affliction, and openeth through oppression his ear.

Job 36:16

And also thee hath he incited away from the jaws of distress into a wide space, on the site of which there is no straitness; and what is set on thy table is full of fatness.

Job 36:17

But if thou art full of the judgment of the wicked: [divine] judgment and decree will support each other.

Job 36:18

For there would be fury, If aught were to incite thee to utter an abundance [of rebellious words]; and the greatness of the infliction must not mislead thee.

Job 36:19

Will he esteem thy riches? no, not gold ore, nor all the highest forces of strength.

Job 36:20

Desire then not eagerly the night, when nations pass away in their place.

Job 36:21

Take heed, turn not thyself to wrong-doing, so that thou wouldst choose this because of [thy] affliction.

Job 36:22

Behold, God is exalted by his power: who is an instructor like him?

Job 36:23

Who hath given him a charge concerning his way? or who hath ever said, Thou hast acted unjustly?

Job 36:24

Reflect, that thou shouldst magnify his work, which [other] men have beheld.

Job 36:25

All men have looked at it [with astonishment]; the mortal gazeth at it from afar.

Job 36:26

Behold, God is great, and we comprehend him not, the number of his years can truly not be searched out.

Job 36:27

For he taketh away drops of water, which are purified into rain in his mist:

Job 36:28

These drop down out of the skies; they distil upon the multitude of men.

Job 36:29

But [what man] can understand the outspreadings of the clouds? the tumult of his tabernacle?

Job 36:30

Behold, he spreadeth out over it his light, and covereth up the roots of the sea.

Job 36:31

For by means of them he judgeth nations, he giveth food in superfluity.

Job 36:32

[His] hands he covereth with light; and he commandeth it to strike the one who striveth against him.

Job 36:33

The noise of his storm telleth of it, yea, the cattle also, of the rising tempest.

Job 37:1

At this also my heart trembleth, and is moved upward out of its place.

Job 37:2

Hear, O hear, the rattling of his thunder, and the storm's roar that goeth out of his mouth.

Job 37:3

Under the whole heavens he letteth it loose, and his lightning over the ends of the earth.

Job 37:4

Behind it roareth the thunder; he thundereth with his majestic voice; and he holdeth them not back when his voice is heard.

Job 37:5

God thundereth with his marvelous voice: he doth great things, which we cannot comprehend.

Job 37:6

For to the snow he saith, Be thou on the earth: likewise the pouring rain, and to the pouring rains of his strength.

Job 37:7

He sealeth it on the hand of every man, that all men whom he hath made may know it.

Job 37:8

Then retire the beasts into [their] dens, and rest in their lairs.

Job 37:9

Out of [his] chamber cometh the whirlwind, and out of the north, the cold.

Job 37:10

From the breathing of God ice is given, and the broad waters become solid.

Job 37:11

Also with moisture he loadeth the cloud; [and] he scattereth the cloud of his lightning;

Job 37:12

And it is turned round about by his guidance, to execute what he commandeth it upon the face of the world, the earth.

Job 37:13

Whether it be as a chastising rod—if this be destined for his earth—or for kindness, doth he cause it to come.

Job 37:14

Give ear unto this, O Job: stand still, and consider well the wonders of God.

Job 37:15

Dost thou know how God hath imposed [a law] on them, and [how] he hath caused the light of his cloud to shine?

Job 37:16

Dost thou know aught about the balancings of the clouds, the wondrous works of him who is perfect in knowledge?

Job 37:17

[Thou] who clothest thyself with warm garments, when He giveth the earth rest from the south wind?

Job 37:18

Hast thou with him spread out the skies, which are strong even as a molten mirror?

Job 37:19

Let us know what we shall say unto him: we cannot set aught in order [before him] because of darkness.

Job 37:20

Can [all] be related of him, when I speak [ever so much]? or if a man talk [of him] even till he be swallowed up [in death]?

Job 37:21

Yet now men see not the light which is bright in the skies, when the wind hath passed along, and purified them.

Job 37:22

The golden [light] that cometh out of the north: around God is terrible majesty.

Job 37:23

The Almighty, whom we cannot find out, excellent in power, and in justice, and abounding in righteousness, will not afflict:

Job 37:24

Therefore do men fear him; he respecteth not any that are wise of heart.

Job 38:1

Then did the Lord address Job out of the storm–wind, and said,

Job 38:2

Who is this that casteth darkness [on my] counsel by words without knowledge?

Job 38:3

Do but gird up like a mighty man thy loins: and I will ask thee, and do thou inform me.

Job 38:4

Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? tell it, if thou hast any understanding [of it].

Job 38:5

Who fixed her measurements, if thou knowest it? or who stretched the measuring–line over her?

Job 38:6

Upon what are her foundation–pillars placed at rest? or who laid her corner–stone:

Job 38:7

When altogether sang the morning stars in gladness, and shouted for joy all the sons of God?

Job 38:8

And who closed up with doors the sea, when, issuing forth, it came out of the deep bosom of the earth?

Job 38:9

When I made the clouds its garment, and thick fog its swaddling–cloth,

Job 38:10

And when I decreed for it my law, and set [for it] bars and doors,

Job 38:11

And said, Thus far mayest thou come, but no farther; and here shall be stayed [thy strength] in the pride of thy waves?

Job 38:12

Didst thou ever, in all thy days, command the morning; didst thou ever assign the morning–dawn its place:

Job 38:13

That it might lay hold of the ends of the earth, so that the wicked might be shaken out therefrom?

Job 38:14

She is changed as the sealing–clay: and [all things] stand as though newly clad.

Job 38:15

And from the wicked is their light withdrawn, and the high–raised arm is broken.

Job 38:16

Didst thou ever penetrate as far as the springs of the sea? or wander through the bottom of the deep?

Job 38:17

Were the gates of death ever laid open unto thee? or canst thou see the doors of the shadow of death?

Job 38:18

Hast thou a clear understanding of the breadth of the earth? Tell it, if thou knowest it all.

Job 38:19

Where is the way [to the spot where] the light dwelleth? and the darkness—where is its place,

Job 38:20

That thou mightest take each to its boundary, and that thou mightest mark the pathways to its house?

Job 38:21

Thou [surely] knowest it; because thou wast then born, and the number of thy days is great!

Job 38:22

Didst thou ever enter into the treasuries of the snow? or canst thou see the treasuries of the hail,

Job 38:23

Which I have reserved for the time of distress, for the day of fight and battle?

Job 38:24

Where is the way [to the spot where] the light divideth itself, [where] the east wind is scattered over the earth?

Job 38:25

Who hath divided off watercourses for the overflowing rain, and a way for the lightning [that is followed by] thunders,

Job 38:26

To bring rain on a land, void of men; on a wilderness wherein no son of earth [is found];

Job 38:27

To satisfy waste and desolate lands; and to promote the growth of the tender grass?

Job 38:28

Hath the rain a father? or who hath begotten the drops of the dew?

Job 38:29

Out of whose womb cometh forth the ice? and the hoary frost of heaven—who giveth birth to it?

Job 38:30

[When] like a stone the waters are congealed, and the face of the deep is bound in fetters?

Job 38:31

Canst thou bind together the chains of the Pleiades, or loosen the bands of Orion?

Job 38:32

Canst thou bring forth the constellations of the zodiac, each in its season? or canst thou guide the Bear with its young?

Job 38:33

Knowest thou the laws of heaven? or dost thou appoint its rule on the earth?

Job 38:34

Canst thou lift up to the clouds thy voice, that the abundance of waters may cover thee?

Job 38:35

Canst thou send out lightnings, that they may go, and say unto thee, Here are we?

Job 38:36

Who hath put wisdom in the dark clouds? or who hath given understanding to the bright meteors?

Job 38:37

Who ordaineth the skies with wisdom? or who emptieth out the bottles of heaven.

Job 38:38

When the dust is poured out as molten metal, and the clods are made to cleave fast together?

Job 38:39

Dost thou hunt for the lioness her prey? and suppliest thou the food for the young lions,

Job 38:40

When they are couched in their lairs, rest in the thicket, lying in wait?

Job 38:41

Who provideth for the raven his provision? when his young ones cry unto God, and wander about for lack of food?

Job 39:1

Knowest thou the time when the chamois of the rock bring forth? or markest thou when the hinds do calve?

Job 39:2

Numberest thou the months of gestation which they complete and knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

Job 39:3

They bend themselves: they drop their young ones; throw off their pains.

Job 39:4

Their little ones become strong; they grow up in the open field; they go forth, and return not unto them.

Job 39:5

Who sent out the wild ass free? or who loosened the bonds of the forest-ass?

Job 39:6

To whom I assigned the wilderness as his house, and the salty land as his dwellings.

Job 39:7

He laugheth at the noise of a town, and the shoutings of the driver he heareth not.

Job 39:8

What he espieth on the mountains is his pasture, and after every green thing doth he search.

Job 39:9

Will the forest-ox be willing to serve thee, or will he stay over night at thy crib?

Job 39:10

Canst thou bind the forest-ox with a rope [to labor] in the furrow? or will he harrow valleys, following after thee?

Job 39:11

Wilt thou trust him, because his strength is great? and wilt thou leave to him thy labor?

Job 39:12

Wilt thou confide in him, that he should bring home thy seed, and gather it into thy threshing-floor?—

Job 39:13

The wing of the ostrich moveth joyfully: hath she the pinions and plumage of the careful stork?

Job 39:14

[No,] for she intrusteth her eggs to the earth, and letteth them be hatched out on the dust:

Job 39:15

And she forgetteth that a foot may crush them, or that the beast of the field may stamp them down.

Job 39:16

He hath made her callous against her young, as though they were not hers: her labor is in vain, [but she feeleth] no dread;

Job 39:17

Because God hath denied her wisdom, and he hath not imparted to her understanding.

Job 39:18

At the time she raiseth herself up on high, she laugheth at the horse and his rider.

Job 39:19

Dost thou give the horse strength? dost thou clothe his neck with the rolling mane?

Job 39:20

Canst thou make him jump like a locust? his majestic snort is terrible.

Job 39:21

Men spy about in the valley, and he rejoiceth in his strength: he goeth forth to meet the armed array.

Job 39:22

He laugheth at fear, and is not dismayed; and turneth not back from before the sword.

Job 39:23

Over him rattle the quiver, the glittering spear and the lance.

Job 39:24

With impatient noise and rage he holloweth [with his hoof] the ground, and keepeth not quiet when the cornet's voice [is heard].

Job 39:25

Midst the sound of the cornet he uttereth his joyful neigh; and from afar he perceiveth the battle, the loud call of the captains, and the battle-cry.—

Job 39:26

Is it through thy understanding that the hawk flieth along, and spreadeth out his wings toward the south?

Job 39:27

Or is it by your order that the eagle doth mount upward, and buildeth high up his nest?

Job 39:28

On a rock he dwelleth, and spendeth his nights, on a rocky crag and mountain fastness.

Job 39:29

From there he espieth his food, from afar can his eyes behold.

Job 39:30

His young ones, also, sip up blood: and where the slain be, there is he.

Job 40:1

And the Lord addressed Job, and said,

Job 40:2

Will he that contendeth with the Almighty yet find fault? him that reproveth God answer this.

Job 40:3

Then answered Job the Lord, and said,

Job 40:4

Behold, I am too vile: what shall I answer thee? my hand do I place on my mouth.

Job 40:5

Once have I spoken; but I will not answer: yea, twice; but I will not repeat it again.

Job 40:6

Then answered the Lord unto Job out of the storm-wind, and said,

Job 40:7

Do but gird up like a mighty man thy loins: I will ask thee, and do thou inform me.

Job 40:8

Wilt thou indeed annul my decree? wilt thou condemn me, in order that thou mayest appear righteous?

Job 40:9

But if thou hast an arm like God, or if thou canst thunder loudly like him:

Job 40:10

Then do deck thyself with excellence and greatness, and clothe thyself in majesty and glory.

Job 40:11

Scatter abroad the ragings of thy wrath, and look on every proud one, and humble him.

Job 40:12

Look on every proud one, and bend him low; and tread down the wicked in their place.

Job 40:13

Hide them in the dust altogether: bind up their faces in concealment.

Job 40:14

Then will I also myself praise thee, when thy own right hand hath helped thee.

Job 40:15

Only behold Behemoth, which I made near thee: grass he eateth like the ox.

Job 40:16

Only see, [how great] is his strength in his loins, and his force, in the muscles of his belly.

Job 40:17

He stretcheth out his tail like a cedar: the sinews of his loins are closely wrapped together.

Job 40:18

His bones are like pipes of brass: his frame is like bars of iron.

Job 40:19

He is the first in rank of the works of God: he that made him can alone bring his sword near unto him.

Job 40:20

But truly the mountains bear for him his food, and all the beasts of the field play there.

Job 40:21

Under shady trees he lieth down, in the covert of the reeds, and swamp.

Job 40:22

Shady trees cover him as his shadow: willows of the brook encompass him about.

Job 40:23

Behold, a river sweepeth violently along, but he hasteneth not away: he remaineth quiet, though a Jordan rusheth up to his mouth.

Job 40:24

Can one catch him before his eyes? pierce his nose by means of snares?—

Job 41:1 (40:25)

Canst thou draw out the crocodile with a fishhook? or cause his tongue to sink into the batted rope?

Job 41:2 (40:26)

Canst thou put a reed through his nose? or bore his jaw through with a thorn?

Job 41:3 (40:27)

Will he address many supplications unto thee? or will he speak submissively unto thee?

Job 41:4 (40:28)

Will he make a covenant with thee? that thou couldst take him as a servant for ever?

Job 41:5 (40:29)

Canst thou play with him as with a bird? and tie him up for thy maidens?

Job 41:6 (40:30)

Can companions waylay him? can they divide him among merchants?

Job 41:7 (40:31)

Canst thou fill his skin with barbed irons? and [pierce] with a fish-spear his head?

Job 41:8 (40:32)

Lay thy hand upon him; think of the battle: thou wilt never do it again.

Job 41:9 (41:1)

Behold, his expectation was deceived: even at his mere sight is he cast down.

Job 41:10 (41:2)

None is so daring that he would stir him up: and who is there that will stand up before me?

Job 41:11 (41:3)

Who hath shown me favor, that I should repay him! whatsoever is under the whole heaven is mine.—

Job 41:12 (41:4)

I will not conceal [the account of] his limbs, nor the relation of his might, nor the grace of his proportion.

Job 41:13 (41:5)

Who hath ever laid open the front of his garment? or who can penetrate into his double row of teeth?

Job 41:14 (41:6)

Who hath opened the doors of his face? all round about his teeth abideth terror.

Job 41:15 (41:7)

What pride is there in [his] strong shields; he is locked up as with a close seal.

Job 41:16 (41:8)

One is joined to another; and no breath can come between them.

Job 41:17 (41:9)

They are fitted closely one to another: they are interlocked, that they cannot be severed.

Job 41:18 (41:10)

From his sneezing there beameth forth a light, and his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning—dawn.

Job 41:19 (41:11)

Out of his mouth issue burning torches, sparks of fire escape [therefrom].

Job 41:20 (41:12)

Out of his nostrils cometh forth smoke, as out of a seething pot or caldron.

Job 41:21 (41:13)

His breath kindleth coals, and a flame cometh out of his mouth.

Job 41:22 (41:14)

In his neck abideth strength, and before him danceth terror joyfully.

Job 41:23 (41:15)

The flakes of his flesh are fitted closely together: they are as molten metal on him, immovable.

Job 41:24 (41:16)

His heart is firm like a stone: yea, as firm as the nether millstone.

Job 41:25 (41:17)

At his lifting himself up the mighty are terrified: the waves also are lessened.

Job 41:26 (41:18)

If one overtake him with the sword, it cannot hold; nor the spear, the dart, and armor.

Job 41:27 (41:19)

He esteemeth iron as straw, [and] brass as rotten wood.

Job 41:28 (41:20)

The child of the bow cannot make him flee: into stubble are slingstones changed unto him.

Job 41:29 (41:21)

Clubs are esteemed as stubble, and he laugheth at the whirring of the lance.

Job 41:30 (41:22)

Beneath him are sharp-pointed potsherds, he spreadeth out, [as it were, a] threshing-roller upon the mire.

Job 41:31 (41:23)

He causeth the deep to boil like a pot: he rendereth the sea like an apothecary's mixture.

Job 41:32 (41:24)

Behind him he causeth his pathway to shine, [so that] men esteem the deep to be hoary.

Job 41:33 (41:25)

There is none upon earth that ruleth over him, who is made to be without dread.

Job 41:34 (41:26)

He looketh upon all that is high: he is the king over all the ravenous beasts.

Job 42:1

Then answered Job unto the Lord, and said,

Job 42:2

I acknowledge that thou art able to do every thing, and that no deep plan of thine can be restrained.

Job 42:3

Who is he that dareth to conceal [thy] counsel without knowledge? Truly I have spoken of what I understood not, of things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.

Job 42:4

Oh do but hear [me], and I will indeed speak: I will ask of thee, and do thou inform me.

Job 42:5

I had only heard of thee by the hearing of the ear; but now my eye hath seen thee.

Job 42:6

Therefore I reject [what I have said], and repent; because I am dust and ashes.

Job 42:7

And it came to pass, after the Lord had spoken these words unto Job, that the Lord said to Eliphaz the Themanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends; because ye have not spoken of me properly, like my servant Job.

Job 42:8

And now take unto yourselves seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up a burnt-offering in your behalf; and my servant Job shall pray for you; for him alone will I receive favorably, so as not to deal with you after your folly; because ye have not spoken of me properly, like my servant Job.

Job 42:9

Then went Eliphaz the Themanite and Bildad the Shuchite and Zophar the Na'amathite, and did in accordance with what the Lord had spoken to them: and the Lord received Job in favor.

Job 42:10

And the Lord brought back the captivity of Job, when he prayed in behalf of his friends; and the Lord increased all that Job had had twofold.

Job 42:11

And then came unto him all his brothers, and all his sisters, and all that had been of his acquaintance before, and ate bread with him in his house; and they condoled with him, and comforted him for all the evil that the Lord had brought upon him; and they gave him, every one, a kessitah, and every one an earring of gold.

Job 42:12

And the Lord blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: and he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses.

Job 42:13

He had also seven sons and three daughters.

Job 42:14

And he called the name of the first Jemimah; and the name of the second, Keziah; and the name of the third, Keren-happuch.

Job 42:15

And there were not found such handsome women as the daughters of Job in all the land; and their father gave them an inheritance among their brothers.

Job 42:16

And Job lived after this one hundred and forty years: and he saw his sons, and his sons' sons, even four generations.

Job 42:17

Then died Job, being old and full of days.

ECCLESIASTES

Ecclesiastes 1:1

The words of Koheleth, the son of David, the king in Jerusalem.

Ecclesiastes 1:2

Vanity of vanities, saith Koheleth, vanity of vanities: all is vanity.

Ecclesiastes 1:3

What profit hath a man of all his toil which he toil-eth under the sun?

Ecclesiastes 1:4

One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh; but the earth endureth for ever.

Ecclesiastes 1:5

The sun also riseth, and the sun goeth down, and striving to reach his place he riseth again there.

Ecclesiastes 1:6

Going toward the south, and turning round toward the north, the wind moveth round about continually; and around its circles doth the wind return again.

Ecclesiastes 1:7

All the rivers run into the sea; yet the sea is never full: unto the place whither the rivers go, thither will they continue to go.

Ecclesiastes 1:8

All things weary themselves [constantly]; man can not utter them: the eye is never satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.

Ecclesiastes 1:9

That which hath been, is the same which will be; and that which hath been done, is the same which will be done; and there is nothing new under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 1:10

If there be any thing whereof it is said, See, this is new: It hath already been in olden times which were before us.

Ecclesiastes 1:11

[Only] there is no recollection of former [generations]; and also of the later ones, that are to be—of these [likewise] there will be no recollection with those that will be still later.

Ecclesiastes 1:12

I Koheleth was king over Israel in Jerusalem.

Ecclesiastes 1:13

And I directed my heart to inquire and to search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under the heavens: this is an evil employment which God hath given to the sons of man to busy themselves therewith.

Ecclesiastes 1:14

I saw all the deeds that are done under the sun: and, behold, all is vanity and a torture of the spirit.

Ecclesiastes 1:15

What is crooked cannot be made straight; and that which is defective cannot be numbered.

Ecclesiastes 1:16

I spoke with my own heart, saying, Lo, I have truly obtained greater and more wisdom than all those who have been before me over Jerusalem: yea, my heart had seen much wisdom and knowledge.

Ecclesiastes 1:17

And I directed my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly; [but] I have perceived that this also is a torture of the spirit.

Ecclesiastes 1:18

For where there is much wisdom there is much vexation: and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth pain.

Ecclesiastes 2:1

Come, then, I said in my heart, I will have a taste of joy, and thou shalt see what is good; but, behold, this also was vanity.

Ecclesiastes 2:2

Of laughter I said, It maketh one mad: and of joy, What doth this do?

Ecclesiastes 2:3

I resolved in my heart to indulge my body with wine, while my heart guideth itself with wisdom; and to lay fast hold on folly, till I might see what it is that is good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heavens during the number of the days of their life.

Ecclesiastes 2:4

I made great works: I built myself houses; I planted myself vineyards;

Ecclesiastes 2:5

I made myself gardens and orchards, and I planted therein trees of all kinds of fruit;

Ecclesiastes 2:6

I made myself pools of water, to water therewith the forest overgrown with trees;

Ecclesiastes 2:7

I bought men–servants and maid–servants, and I had likewise those born in my house; I had also great possessions of cattle and flocks above all that had been before me in Jerusalem.

Ecclesiastes 2:8

I gathered unto myself also silver and gold, and the choice treasures of kings and of the provinces: I procured myself male singers and female singers, and the delights of the sons of men, wagons and chariots.

Ecclesiastes 2:9

So was I great, and obtained more than all that had been before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

Ecclesiastes 2:10

And whatsoever my eyes desired I refused them not; I withheld not my heart from any joy; for my heart was rejoiced with all my toil, and this was my portion of all my toil.

Ecclesiastes 2:11

But when I turned myself [to look] on all my works that my hands had wrought, and on the toil that I had toiled to accomplish: then, behold, all was vanity and a torture of the spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 2:12

And then I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness, and folly; for what [can] the man [do] that cometh after the king? [only] that which [others] have done already.

Ecclesiastes 2:13

But I saw indeed that wisdom hath the advantage over folly, as great as the advantage of light over darkness.

Ecclesiastes 2:14

The wise man hath his eyes in his head, while the fool walketh in darkness; but I myself perceived then also that one occurrence will befall all of them.

Ecclesiastes 2:15

Then said I in my heart, The same that befalleth the fool will also befall even me: and why have I then been wiser? Then spoke I in my heart, that this is also vanity.

Ecclesiastes 2:16

For there is no recollection of the wise any more than of the fool for ever: seeing that which hath long ago been will, in the days that are coming, all be forgotten. And how doth the wise die equally with the fool!

Ecclesiastes 2:17

Therefore I hated life; because I felt displeased with the work that is wrought under the sun; for all is vanity and a torture of the spirit.

Ecclesiastes 2:18

Yea, I hated also all my toil with which I had toiled under the sun; because I should have to leave it unto the man that will be after me.

Ecclesiastes 2:19

And who knoweth, whether he will be a wise man or a fool? yet will he have full sway over all my toil wherein I have toiled, and wherein I have shown myself wise under the sun. Also this is vanity.

Ecclesiastes 2:20

Therefore I turned about to cause my heart to give up thinking of all the toil wherewith I had toiled under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 2:21

For there is many a man whose toil is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and with energy; yet to a man that hath not toiled therefore must he give it as his portion. Also this is vanity and a great evil.

Ecclesiastes 2:22

For what doth a man obtain of all his toil, and of the torture of his heart, wherewith he toileth under the sun?

Ecclesiastes 2:23

For all his days are full of pains, and vexation is [mingled with] his employment: yea, even in the night his heart taketh not rest. Also this is vanity.

Ecclesiastes 2:24

It is not a good thing [inherent] in man that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy happiness for his toil. Also this have I seen, that it cometh out of the hand of God.

Ecclesiastes 2:25

For who can well eat, or who can enjoy earthly things more than I?

Ecclesiastes 2:26

For to a man who is good in his presence [God] giveth wisdom, and knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he giveth employment, to gather up and to bring together, that he may give it to him that is good before God. Also this is vanity and a torture of the spirit.

Ecclesiastes 3:1

For every thing there is a season; and a [proper] time is for every pursuit under the heavens.

Ecclesiastes 3:2

[There is] a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up what hath been planted;

Ecclesiastes 3:3

A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;

Ecclesiastes 3:4

A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;

Ecclesiastes 3:5

A time to throw away stones, and a time to gather up stones; a time to embrace, and a time to be far from embracing;

Ecclesiastes 3:6

A time to seek, and a time to let things be lost; a time to keep, and a time to throw away;

Ecclesiastes 3:7

A time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;

Ecclesiastes 3:8

A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.

Ecclesiastes 3:9

What profit hath [now] he that worketh in that wherein he toileth?

Ecclesiastes 3:10

I have seen the employment, which God hath given to the sons of men to busy themselves therewith.

Ecclesiastes 3:11

Every thing hath he made beautiful in its [proper] time: he hath also placed the eternity in their heart, without a man's being able to find out the work that God hath made from the beginning to the end.

Ecclesiastes 3:12

I know that there is nothing good [inherent] in them, but for every one to rejoice and to do what is good during [all] his life.

Ecclesiastes 3:13

For also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy what is good for all his toil, is likewise a gift of God.

Ecclesiastes 3:14

I know that whatsoever God doth, that will be for ever; to it nothing can be added, and from it there is nothing to be diminished: and God hath so made it, that men should be afraid of him.

Ecclesiastes 3:15

That which hath been hath long since appeared [again]; and what is to be hath already been; and God seeketh [again] that which is sped away.

Ecclesiastes 3:16

And moreover I have seen under the sun, [that in] the place of justice, even there was wickedness; and [that in] the place of righteousness, even there was wickedness.

Ecclesiastes 3:17

I said in my heart, God will judge the righteous and the wicked; for there is a time for every pursuit; and on account of every deed there [will he judge].

Ecclesiastes 3:18

I said in my heart concerning the speaking of the sons of men, that God might make it clear to them, and that they might see that they by themselves are but beasts.

Ecclesiastes 3:19

For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts; even the same thing befalleth them; as the one dieth, so dieth the other; yea, they have all one kind of spirit: so that the preeminence of man above the beast is nought; for all is vanity.

Ecclesiastes 3:20

Every thing goeth unto one place: every thing came from the dust, and every thing returneth to the dust.

Ecclesiastes 3:21

Who knoweth the spirit of the sons of man that ascendeth upward, and the spirit of the beast that descendeth downward to the earth?

Ecclesiastes 3:22

And so did I perceive that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his own works; for that is his portion; for who can bring him to look with pleasure on what will be after him?

Ecclesiastes 4:1

And I turned about, and beheld all the oppressed that are made so under the sun: and, behold, there are the tears of the oppressed, and they have no comforter; and from the hand of their oppressors they suffer violence; and they have no comforter.

Ecclesiastes 4:2

Thereupon praised I the dead that are already dead, more than the living who are still alive;

Ecclesiastes 4:3

And as happier than both of them, him who hath not yet come into being, who hath not seen the evil-doing that is done under the sun.—

Ecclesiastes 4:4

Again, I beheld all the toil, and all the energy in doing, that it is [from] the envy of one man of his neighbor. Also this is vanity and a torture of the spirit.

Ecclesiastes 4:5

The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own flesh.

Ecclesiastes 4:6

Better is a handful of quiet, than both the hands full of toil and torture of spirit.

Ecclesiastes 4:7

Then I turned about, and I saw a vanity under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 4:8

There is one alone, and he hath not a companion; yea, he hath neither son nor brother: yet is there no end to all his toil; his eye also is not satisfied with riches. Yet for whom do I toil, and deprive my soul of good? Also this is vanity, yea, it is a bad employment.

Ecclesiastes 4:9

Two are better than one; because they will have a good reward for their toil.

Ecclesiastes 4:10

For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but woe to the single one that falleth; for he hath no companion to lift him up.

Ecclesiastes 4:11

Also, if two lie together, then will they become warm; but how can one person alone become warm?

Ecclesiastes 4:12

And if a man could overpower him, the single one, two would stand up against him: and a threefold cord cannot quickly be torn asunder.

Ecclesiastes 4:13

Better is a poor and a wise youth than an old and foolish king, who knoweth not how to be admonished any more.

Ecclesiastes 4:14

For out of the prison cometh the one to reign: whereas also in his kingdom the other becometh poor.

Ecclesiastes 4:15

I have seen all the living who walk under the sun, being with the second child that is to stand up in his stead.

Ecclesiastes 4:16

There was no end to all the people, [belonging] to all that have been before them: they also that come after will not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a torture of the spirit.—

Ecclesiastes 5:1 (4:17)

Watch thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be near to hearken [to his will], more than to give the sacrifice of fools; for they consider not that they do evil [to themselves].

Ecclesiastes 5:2 (5:1)

Suffer not thy mouth to be rash, and let thy heart not be hasty to utter any word before God; for God is in the heavens, and thou art upon the earth: therefore let thy words be few.

Ecclesiastes 5:3 (5:2)

For a dream cometh through being much employed [with something], and the voice of a fool cometh with a multitude of words.

Ecclesiastes 5:4 (5:3)

When thou makest a vow unto God, do not delay to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in such fools: that which thou hast vowed must thou pay.

Ecclesiastes 5:5 (5:4)

It is better that thou shouldst not vow, than that thou shouldst vow and not pay.

Ecclesiastes 5:6 (5:5)

Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy body to sin; and say thou not before the messenger, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry because of thy voice, and destroy the work of thy hands?

Ecclesiastes 5:7 (5:6)

For in the multitude of dreams and vanities there are also many words; but rather fear thou God.

Ecclesiastes 5:8 (5:7)

If thou see the oppression of the poor, and violence done to justice and righteousness in a province, do not feel astounded at the matter; for one that is high watcheth over the high; and over them, the highest Power.

Ecclesiastes 5:9 (5:8)

But the advantage of a land in all things is, a king who is subject to the country.

Ecclesiastes 5:10 (5:9)

He that loveth money will never be satisfied with money; nor he that loveth abundance, with any increase. Also this is vanity.

Ecclesiastes 5:11 (5:10)

When prosperity increaseth, those that consume it [likewise] increase: and what advantage is there to its owner, saving to see [it] with his eyes?

Ecclesiastes 5:12 (5:11)

Sweet is the sleep of the laboring man, whether he eat little or much; but the overabundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.

Ecclesiastes 5:13 (5:12)

There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun, [namely,] riches reserved for their owner to his own hurt.

Ecclesiastes 5:14 (5:13)

And these riches are lost through an unfortunate event; and he begetteth a son, and hath not the least in his hand:

Ecclesiastes 5:15 (5:14)

As he came forth out of his mother's womb, naked will he return to go as he came; and not the least will he carry off for his toil, which he might take away with him.

Ecclesiastes 5:16 (5:15)

And also this is a sore evil, that in all points as he came, so must he go: and what profit hath he that hath toiled for the wind?

Ecclesiastes 5:17 (5:16)

All his days also had he to eat in darkness, and hath had much vexation and wrath with his sickness.

Ecclesiastes 5:18 (5:17)

Behold, what I have truly seen as a good thing, that it is fitting to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all one's toil that he taketh under the sun the number of the days of his life, which God hath given him; for this is his portion.

Ecclesiastes 5:19 (5:18)

Also every man to whom God hath given riches and property, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his toil— this is the gift of God.

Ecclesiastes 5:20 (5:19)

Let him then remember, that the days of his life are not many, that God hath answered him with the joy of his heart.

Ecclesiastes 6:1

There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is great on men:

Ecclesiastes 6:2

[There is many] a man to whom God hath given riches, property, and honor, and nothing is wanting for his soul of all that he longeth for: yet God empowereth him not to eat thereof, but a stranger will consume it. This is vanity, and it is an evil disease.

Ecclesiastes 6:3

If a man were to beget a hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years were many, and his soul were not satisfied with what is good, and he have not had even a burial: then do I say, that an untimely birth is better than he.

Ecclesiastes 6:4

For in vanity it came, and in darkness it departeth, and with darkness will its name be covered.

Ecclesiastes 6:5

Moreover it never saw the sun, and knew nothing: this hath more rest than the other.

Ecclesiastes 6:6

Yea, though he were to live a thousand years twice told, and had not seen any good— doth not every one go to one place?

Ecclesiastes 6:7

All the toil of a man is for his mouth; and yet is his desire never filled.

Ecclesiastes 6:8

For what hath the wise more than the fool? what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk [properly] before the living?

Ecclesiastes 6:9

Better is what one seeth with the eyes than the wandering of the desire. Also this is vanity and a torture of the spirit.

Ecclesiastes 6:10

That which hath been is already called by its name, and it is known that he is a man: and he is not able to contend with him that is mightier than he.

Ecclesiastes 6:11

For there are many things that increase vanity: what advantage [cometh thence] for man?

Ecclesiastes 6:12

For who knoweth what is good for man in this life, the number of the days of his vain life, that he should spend them as a shadow? for who can tell a man what will be after him under the sun?

Ecclesiastes 7:1

A good name is better than precious oil, and the day of death, better than the day of one's birth.

Ecclesiastes 7:2

It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting; inasmuch as that is the end of all men: and let the living lay it to his heart.

Ecclesiastes 7:3

Better is vexation than laughing; for through the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better.

Ecclesiastes 7:4

The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of joy.

Ecclesiastes 7:5

It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than that a man should hear the song of fools.

Ecclesiastes 7:6

For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool. Also this is vanity.

Ecclesiastes 7:7

For [exercising] oppression maketh a wise man mad; and bribery corrupteth the heart.

Ecclesiastes 7:8

Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: better is the patient in spirit than the proud in spirit.

Ecclesiastes 7:9

Be not rash in thy spirit to be angry; for anger resteth in bosom of fools.

Ecclesiastes 7:10

Thou must not say, How was it that the former days were better than these? for it is not out of wisdom that thou askest concerning this.

Ecclesiastes 7:11

Wisdom is better than an inheritance, yea, preferable for those that see the sun;

Ecclesiastes 7:12

For under the shadow of wisdom [a man is equally well as] under the shadow of money; but the superior excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to him that possesseth it.

Ecclesiastes 7:13

Consider [then] the work of God; for who can make straight what he hath made crooked?

Ecclesiastes 7:14

On the day of prosperity be happy, but on the day of adversity look on: also this hath God made in equal measure with the other, to the end that man should not find the least to censure him.

Ecclesiastes 7:15

All things have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is many a righteous man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is many a wicked man that liveth long in his wickedness.—

Ecclesiastes 7:16

Be not righteous over much; neither show thyself over wise: why wouldst thou destroy thyself?

Ecclesiastes 7:17

Be not wicked over much, and be no fool: why wouldst thou die before thy time?

Ecclesiastes 7:18

It is good that thou shouldst take hold of that, and that also from this thou withdraw not thy hand; for he that feareth God will come forth out of them all.

Ecclesiastes 7:19

Wisdom giveth more strength to the wise than ten rulers which were in the city.

Ecclesiastes 7:20

For no man is so righteous upon earth, that he should do always good, and never sin.—

Ecclesiastes 7:21

Also take no heed unto all the words that are spoken: lest thou hear thy servant cursing thee.

Ecclesiastes 7:22

For oftentimes also doth thy own heart know that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others.—

Ecclesiastes 7:23

All this have I proved by wisdom: I said, I will be wise; but it was far from me.

Ecclesiastes 7:24

Far is what formerly was so, and what was deep remaineth deep: who can find it out?

Ecclesiastes 7:25

Then I turned myself about together with my heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and experience, and to know the wickedness of folly, and the foolishness of madness.

Ecclesiastes 7:26

And I find as more bitter than death the woman, whose heart is snares and nets, and whose hands are bonds: he that is deemed good before God will escape from her; but the sinner will be caught by her.

Ecclesiastes 7:27

Behold, this have I found, saith Koheleth, [adding] one to the other, to find experience,

Ecclesiastes 7:28

What my soul constantly sought, but I found it not; one man among a thousand did I find; but a woman among all these did I not find.

Ecclesiastes 7:29

Lo, this only did I find, that God hath made man upright; but they have sought for many [sinful] devices.

Ecclesiastes 8:1

Who is like the wise? and who knoweth [as well] the explanation of a thing? a man's wisdom enlighteneth his face, and the boldness of his face will be lessened.

Ecclesiastes 8:2

I [counsel thee], Keep the king's command, and that which regardeth the oath [to him taken] by God.

Ecclesiastes 8:3

Be not hasty to go out of his presence; engage not in an evil thing; for whatsoever pleaseth him, can he do;

Ecclesiastes 8:4

Because the word of a king is powerful; and who may say unto him, What doest thou?—

Ecclesiastes 8:5

Whoso keepeth the commandment will experience no evil thing: and a wise man's heart knoweth both time and the just consequence.

Ecclesiastes 8:6

Because for every pursuit there is a time and a just consequence; for the evil of man [resteth] heavily upon him.

Ecclesiastes 8:7

For he knoweth not that which will be; for who can tell him how it will be?

Ecclesiastes 8:8

No man hath control over the spirit to detain the spirit; and there is no control over the day of death; and there is no representation in that war; and wickedness will not deliver those that practise it.

Ecclesiastes 8:9

All this have I seen, and directed my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: there is a time when one man ruleth over another to his own injury.

Ecclesiastes 8:10

Then also did I see the wicked buried, who had gone to their rest; but those who had acted correctly had to go away from the holy place, and were forgotten in the city. Also this is vanity.

Ecclesiastes 8:11

Because the punishment against evil deeds is not executed speedily, therefore is the heart of the sons of men filled up in them to do evil.

Ecclesiastes 8:12

But let a sinner do evil a hundred times, and [God] withhold long his punishment from him; still do I truly know for certain that it will be well with those that fear God, because they are afraid of him;

Ecclesiastes 8:13

And that it will not be well with the wicked, and that he will not endure many days, like the shadow; because he is not afraid of God.

Ecclesiastes 8:14

There is a vanity which is done upon the earth, that there are righteous men, unto whom it happeneth in accordance with the deeds of the wicked; again, there are wicked men, to whom it happeneth in accordance with the deeds of the righteous. I said that this also is vanity.

Ecclesiastes 8:15

Therefore do I praise joyfulness, that there is nothing better for man under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be joyful; for this will adhere to him in his toil, during the days of his life which God hath given him under the sun.—

Ecclesiastes 8:16

When I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to see the employment that is done upon the earth, how even neither by day nor by night sleep is seen in the eyes of some men:

Ecclesiastes 8:17

Then did I see [in] the whole work of God, that a man is not able to find out the work that is done under the sun; inasmuch as though a man were to toil to seek for it, he would yet not find it; and even if the wise were to think to know it, he would yet not be able to find it.

Ecclesiastes 9:1

For all this did I reflect over in my heart and to explain all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their services, are in the hand of God: that man knoweth neither love nor hatred; it is all [ordained] before them;

Ecclesiastes 9:2

Every thing as it is to happen to all; there is but one occurrence for the righteous, and for the wicked; for the good and for the clean, and for the unclean; and for him that sacrificeth, and for him that sacrificeth not; as is the good, so is the sinner; he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.

Ecclesiastes 9:3

This is an evil among all things that are done under the sun, that there is one occurrence for all, and that also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and that madness is in their heart while they live, and after this they go to the dead.

Ecclesiastes 9:4

For whoever is yet united with all the living hath still hope; for a living dog fareth better than a dead lion.

Ecclesiastes 9:5

For the living know that they will die; but the dead know not the least; nor have they longer any reward; for their memory is forgotten.

Ecclesiastes 9:6

Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy, are now already lost; and they will have never more a portion in all that is done under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 9:7

Go, eat with joy thy bread, and drink with a merry heart thy wine, if God have already received thy works in favor.

Ecclesiastes 9:8

At all times let thy garments be white, and let oil not be wanting on thy head.

Ecclesiastes 9:9

Enjoy life with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which God hath given thee under the sun, [yea,] all the days of thy vanity; for this is thy portion in this life, and in thy toil with which thou toilest under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 9:10

Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do with thy might, that do; for there is no work, nor experience, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the nether world, whither thou goest.—

Ecclesiastes 9:11

I turned about, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the mighty; and that also the wise have no bread, nor yet the men of understanding riches, nor yet men of knowledge favor; but time and fate will overtake them all.

Ecclesiastes 9:12

For man also knoweth not his time, like the fishes that are caught in an evil net, and like the birds that are caught in the snare: like these are the sons of men ensnared at an evil time, when it falleth upon them suddenly.

Ecclesiastes 9:13

Also in this manner have I seen wisdom under the sun, and it seemed great unto me:

Ecclesiastes 9:14

There was a little city, and the men therein were few; and there came against it a great king, who enclosed it, and built around it great works of siege;

Ecclesiastes 9:15

But there was found in it a poor wise man, and he delivered the city by his wisdom; yet no man had thought of that same poor man.

Ecclesiastes 9:16

Then said I, Wisdom is better than might: although the poor man's wisdom is held in contempt, and his words are not heard.

Ecclesiastes 9:17

The words of wise men heard in quiet are better than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

Ecclesiastes 9:18

Wisdom is better than weapons of war; but one sinner causes much good to be lost.

Ecclesiastes 10:1

Dead flies cause the precious oil of the apothecary to become stinking and foaming; so doth a little folly him that is valued for wisdom and honor.

Ecclesiastes 10:2

The heart of a wise man is at his right hand; but the heart of a fool is at his left.

Ecclesiastes 10:3

Yea also, on whatever way the fool walketh, doth he lack proper sense, and he saith to all that he is a fool.

Ecclesiastes 10:4

If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for submissiveness causeth great offences to be avoided.

Ecclesiastes 10:5

There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, like an error which proceedeth from the ruler:

Ecclesiastes 10:6

Folly is set in great high places, and the rich sit in lowness.

Ecclesiastes 10:7

I have seen servants on horses, and princes walking like servants upon the ground.—

Ecclesiastes 10:8

He that diggeth a pit will fall into it; and him who breaketh down a fence—a serpent will bite him.

Ecclesiastes 10:9

Whoso removeth stones will be hurt through them; and he that cleaveth wood will be endangered thereby.

Ecclesiastes 10:10

If the iron be blunt, and man do not whet the edge, then must he exert more strength; but the advantage of making it properly sharp is wisdom.

Ecclesiastes 10:11

If the serpent do bite because no one uttered a charm, then hath the man that can use his tongue [in charming] no preference.—

Ecclesiastes 10:12

The words of a wise man's mouth [bring] grace; but the lips of a fool will destroy himself.

Ecclesiastes 10:13

The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness; and the last that cometh out of his mouth is evil-bringing madness.

Ecclesiastes 10:14

The fool also multiplieth words; [but] a man cannot know what is to be; and what is to be after him, who can tell him?

Ecclesiastes 10:15

The toil of the foolish will weary every one of them, because he knoweth not how to go to the city.—

Ecclesiastes 10:16

Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is lowminded, and when thy princes eat in the morning!

Ecclesiastes 10:17

Happy art thou, O land, when thy king is noble-spirited, and thy princes eat in proper time, for strengthening, and not for gluttony!—

Ecclesiastes 10:18

Through slothful hands the rafters will sink; and through idleness of the hands the house will become leaky.

Ecclesiastes 10:19

For gay pleasure they prepare a feast, and wine is to make the living joyful; but money procureth all things.

Ecclesiastes 10:20

Even in thy thought thou must not curse a king; and in thy bed-chambers do not curse the rich; for a bird of the air can carry the sound, and that which hath wings can tell the word.

Ecclesiastes 11:1

Cast thy bread upon the face of the waters; for after many days wilt thou find it again.

Ecclesiastes 11:2

Give a portion to seven, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what evil may come upon the earth.—

Ecclesiastes 11:3

If the clouds be full of rain, they will empty it out upon the earth; and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, on the place where the tree falleth, there will it remain.

Ecclesiastes 11:4

He that watcheth the wind will not sow; and he that gazeth on the clouds will not reap.

Ecclesiastes 11:5

As thou knowest not which is the way of the wind, as little as what is enclosed in the womb of her that is with child: even so thou canst not know the works of God who maketh all.

Ecclesiastes 11:6

In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening let not thy hand rest; for thou knowest not which will succeed, whether this or that, or whether both of them will be alike good.

Ecclesiastes 11:7

Truly the light is sweet, and it is a pleasant thing for the eyes to see the sun;

Ecclesiastes 11:8

For if a man live [even] many years, let him rejoice in them all; and let him remember the days of darkness; for they will be many; all that cometh is vanity.

Ecclesiastes 11:9

Rejoice, O young man, in thy childhood; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youthful vigor, and walk firmly in the ways of thy heart, and in [the direction which] thy eyes see: but know thou, that concerning all these things God will bring thee into judgment.

Ecclesiastes 11:10

And remove vexation from thy heart, and cause evil to pass away from thy body; for childhood and the time when the head is black are vanity.

Ecclesiastes 12:1

But remember also thy Creator in the days of thy youthful vigor, while the evil days are not yet come, nor those years draw nigh of which thou wilt say, I have no pleasure in them;

Ecclesiastes 12:2

While the sun, and the light, and the moon, and the stars, are not yet darkened, and the clouds return not again after the rain;

Ecclesiastes 12:3

On the day when the watchmen of the house will tremble and the men of might will bend themselves, and the grinders stand idle, because they are become few, and those be darkened that look through the windows;

Ecclesiastes 12:4

And when the two doors on the streets will be locked, while the sound of the mill becometh dull, and man riseth up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of song are brought low;

Ecclesiastes 12:5

Also when men will be afraid of every elevation, and are terrified on every way, and the almond-tree will refuse [its blossom], and the locust will drag itself slowly along, and the desire will gainsay compliance; because man goeth to his eternal home, and the mourners go about the streets;

Ecclesiastes 12:6

While the silver cord is not yet torn loose, and the golden bowl is not crushed, and the pitcher is not broken at the fountain, and the wheel is not crushed at the cistern;

Ecclesiastes 12:7

When the dust will return to the earth as it was, and the spirit will return unto God who gave it.—

Ecclesiastes 12:8

Vanity of vanities, saith Koheleth: all is vanity.—

Ecclesiastes 12:9

And in addition to this that Koheleth was wise, he continually also taught the people knowledge, and he probed, and searched out, and composed many proverbs.

Ecclesiastes 12:10

Koheleth sought to find out acceptable words, and that which would be written down uprightly, even words of truth.

Ecclesiastes 12:11

The words of the wise are like goads, and like nails fastened [are the words of] the men of the assemblies, which are given by one shepherd.

Ecclesiastes 12:12

But more than all these, my son, take warning for thyself: the making of many books would have no end; and much preaching is a weariness of the flesh.

Ecclesiastes 12:13

The end of the matter is, let us hear the whole: Fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole [duty of] man.

Ecclesiastes 12:14

For every deed will God bring into the judgment concerning every thing that hath been hidden, whether it be good, or whether it be bad.

SONG OF SOLOMON

Song of Solomon 1:1

The song of songs, which is Solomon's.

Song of Solomon 1:2

Oh that he might kiss me with the kisses of his mouth; for thy caresses are more pleasant than wine.

Song of Solomon 1:3

To the smell are thy fragrant oils pleasant, [like] precious oil poured forth is thy name [famous afar]: therefore do maidens love thee.

Song of Solomon 1:4

Oh draw me, after thee will we run: the king hath brought me into his chambers; we will be glad and rejoice in thee; we will recall thy caresses, more [pleasant] than wine; without deceit [all] love thee.—

Song of Solomon 1:5

Black am I, yet comely, O daughters of Jerusalem, like the tents of Kedar, like the curtains of Solomon.

Song of Solomon 1:6

Look not so at me, because I am somewhat black, because the sun hath looked fiercely at me: my mother's children were angry with me; they appointed me to be keeper of the vineyards; but my vineyard, which is my own, have I not kept.—

Song of Solomon 1:7

Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest? where lettest thou thy flock rest at noon? for why should I appear like a veiled mourner by the flocks of thy companions?—

Song of Solomon 1:8

If thou knowest this not, O thou fairest of women, go but forth in the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids around the shepherds' dwellings.—

Song of Solomon 1:9

Unto the horse in Pharaoh's chariot do I compare thee, my beloved.

Song of Solomon 1:10

Comely are thy cheeks between strings [of pearls], thy neck with rows [of jewels].

Song of Solomon 1:11

Chains of gold will we make for thee with studs of silver.—

Song of Solomon 1:12

While the king sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth its [pleasant] smell.

Song of Solomon 1:13

A bundle of myrrh is my friend unto me, that resteth on my bosom.

Song of Solomon 1:14

A copher-cluster is my friend unto me in the vineyards of 'En-gedi.—

Song of Solomon 1:15

Lo, thou art beautiful, my beloved: lo, thou art beautiful: thy eyes are those of a dove.—

Song of Solomon 1:16

Lo, thou art beautiful, my friend, also pleasant: also our couch is [made in the] green [wood].

Song of Solomon 1:17

The beams of our houses are cedars and our wainscoting of cypress-trees.

Song of Solomon 2:1

I am the rose of Sharon, the lily of the valleys.—

Song of Solomon 2:2

Like the lily among the thorns, so is my beloved among the young maidens.—

Song of Solomon 2:3

Like the apple-tree among the trees of the forest, so is my friend among the young men: under his shadow do I ardently wish to sit, and his fruit is sweet to my palate.

Song of Solomon 2:4

He brought me to the banqueting-house, and his banner over me was love.

Song of Solomon 2:5

Strengthen me with flagons of wine, refresh me with apples; for sick of love am I.

Song of Solomon 2:6

Oh that his left hand might be under my head, and that his right might embrace me.

Song of Solomon 2:7

I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye awaken not, nor excite my love, till it please [to come of itself].—

Song of Solomon 2:8

The voice of my friend! behold, there he cometh, leaping over the mountains, skipping over the hills.

Song of Solomon 2:9

My friend is like a roebuck or the fawn of the hinds: behold, there he standeth behind our wall, looking in at the windows, seeing through the lattice.

Song of Solomon 2:10

My friend commenced, and said unto me, Rise thee up, my beloved, my fair one, and come along.

Song of Solomon 2:11

For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone its way.

Song of Solomon 2:12

The flowers are seen in the land; the time of the [birds'] singing is come, and the voice of the turtle-dove is heard in our land;

Song of Solomon 2:13

The fig-tree perfumeth its green figs, and the vines with young grapes give forth a [pleasant] smell. Arise thee, my beloved, my fair one, and come along.

Song of Solomon 2:14

O my dove, who art in the clefts of the rock, in the recesses of the cliffs, let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice; for thy voice is sweet, and thy countenance is comely.—

Song of Solomon 2:15

Seize for us the foxes, the little foxes, that injure the vineyards; for our vineyards have young grapes.

Song of Solomon 2:16

My friend is mine, and I am his—that feedeth among the lilies.

Song of Solomon 2:17

Until the day become cool, and the shadows flee away, turn about, my friend, and be thou like the roebuck or the fawn of the hinds upon the mountains of separation.

Song of Solomon 3:1

On my couch during the nights I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

Song of Solomon 3:2

Oh, I must rise now, and go about in the city in the streets, and in the open places; I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.

Song of Solomon 3:3

Then found me the watchmen that walked about the city. "Have ye seen him whom my soul loveth?"

Song of Solomon 3:4

Scarcely had I passed away from them, when I found him whom my soul loveth: I laid fast hold of him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that had born me.

Song of Solomon 3:5

I adjure you, ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye awaken not, nor excite my love, till it please [to come of itself].—

Song of Solomon 3:6

Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, like pillars of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, with all spicy powders of the merchant?

Song of Solomon 3:7

Behold, it is the bed, which is Solomon's, sixty valiant men are round about it, of the valiant ones of Israel.

Song of Solomon 3:8

All of them are girded with the sword, are expert in war; every one hath his sword upon his thigh, because of the terror in the nights.

Song of Solomon 3:9

A palanquin did king Solomon make for himself out of the wood of Lebanon.

Song of Solomon 3:10

The pillars thereof he made of silver, its coverlid of gold, its seat of purple: its inner part is arranged lovely, by the daughters of Jerusalem.

Song of Solomon 3:11

Go forth, and look, O ye daughters of Zion, on king Solomon, with the crown wherewith his mother hath crowned him on the day of his espousals, and on the day of the joy in his heart.

Song of Solomon 4:1

Behold, thou art beautiful, my beloved, behold, thou art beautiful: thy dovelike eyes [look forth] from behind thy veil; thy hair is like a flock of goats, that come quietly down from Mount Gil'ad.

Song of Solomon 4:2

Thy teeth are like a flock of well-selected sheep, which are come up from the washing, all of which bear twins, and there is not one among them that is deprived of her young.

Song of Solomon 4:3

Like a thread of scarlet are thy lips, and thy mouth is comely: like the half of a pomegranate is the upper part of thy cheek behind thy veil.

Song of Solomon 4:4

Thy neck is like the tower of David built on terraces, a thousand shields hang—thereon, all the quivers of the mighty men.

Song of Solomon 4:5

Thy two breasts are like two fawns, the twins of the roe, that feed among the lilies.

Song of Solomon 4:6

Until the day became cool, and the shadows flee away, will I get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense.

Song of Solomon 4:7

Thou art altogether beautiful, my beloved, and there is no blemish on thee.—

Song of Solomon 4:8

Come with me from Lebanon, O bride, with me from Lebanon: look about from the top of Amanah, from the top of Senir and Chermon, from the lions' dens, from the leopards' mountains.

Song of Solomon 4:9

Thou hast ravished my heart, O my sister, [my] bride; thou hast ravished my heart with one of thy eyes, with one chain of thy neck.

Song of Solomon 4:10

How beautiful are thy caresses, O my sister, [my] bride! how much more pleasant are thy caresses than wine! and the smell of thy fragrant oils more than all spices.

Song of Solomon 4:11

Of sweet honey drop thy lips, O bride: honey and milk are under thy tongue; and the scent of thy garments is like the scent of Lebanon.

Song of Solomon 4:12

A locked-up garden is my sister, [my] bride; a locked-up spring, a sealed fountain.

Song of Solomon 4:13

Thy sprouts are an orchard of pomegranates, with precious fruits, copher and spikenard;

Song of Solomon 4:14

Spikenard and saffron; calamus and cinnamon, with all the trees of frankincense; myrrh and aloes, with all the chief of spices;

Song of Solomon 4:15

A garden-spring, a well of living waters, and flowing down from Lebanon.—

Song of Solomon 4:16

Awake, O north wind; and come thou, O south; blow over my garden, that its spices may flow out. Let my friend come into his garden, and eat its precious fruits.—

Song of Solomon 5:1

I am come into my garden, my sister, [my] bride; I have plucked my myrrh with my spice; I have eaten my sugar-cane with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk: eat, ye companions; drink, yea, drink abundantly, ye friends.—

Song of Solomon 5:2

I slept, but my heart was awake: [there was] the voice of my beloved that knocked, "Open for me, my sister, my beloved, my dove, my guiltless one; for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night."

Song of Solomon 5:3

I have put off my coat: how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet: how shall I defile them?

Song of Solomon 5:4

My friend stretched forth his hand through the opening, and my inmost parts were moved for him.

Song of Solomon 5:5

I rose up myself to open for my friend; and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with fluid myrrh, upon the handles of the lock.

Song of Solomon 5:6

I indeed opened for my beloved; but my beloved had vanished, and was gone: my soul had failed me while he was speaking; I sought him, but I could not find him; I called him, but he answered me not.

Song of Solomon 5:7

Then found me the watchmen that walked about the city; they smote me, they wounded me: they took away my vail from me, they that watched the walls.

Song of Solomon 5:8

I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved, what will ye tell him? that I am sick of love.—

Song of Solomon 5:9

What is thy friend more than another's friend, O thou fairest of women? what is thy friend more than another's friend, that thus thou adjurest us?—

Song of Solomon 5:10

My friend is white and ruddy, distinguished among ten thousand.

Song of Solomon 5:11

His head is bright as the finest gold, his locks are like waving foliage, and black as a raven.

Song of Solomon 5:12

His eyes are like [those of] doves by streamlets of waters, bathed in milk, well fitted in their setting.

Song of Solomon 5:13

His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as turrets of sweet perfumes: his lips, like lilies, dropping with fluid myrrh.

Song of Solomon 5:14

His hands are like wheels of gold beset with the chrysolite: his body, an image made of ivory overlaid with sapphires.

Song of Solomon 5:15

His legs are like pillars of marble, resting upon sockets of fine gold: his countenance is as Lebanon, excellent like the cedars.

Song of Solomon 5:16

His palate is full of sweets, and every thing in him is agreeable. This is my friend, and this is my beloved, O daughters of Jerusalem.—

Song of Solomon 6:1

Whither is thy friend gone, O fairest of women? whither hath thy friend turned himself? that we may seek him with thee?—

Song of Solomon 6:2

My beloved is gone down to his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

Song of Solomon 6:3

I am my friend's, and my friend is mine: he that feedeth among the lilies.—

Song of Solomon 6:4

Thou art beautiful, O my beloved, like Thirzah, comely like Jerusalem, terrible as armies encamped round their banners.

Song of Solomon 6:5

Turn away thy eyes from me, for they have excited me: thy hair is like a flock of goats that come quietly down from mount Gil'ad.

Song of Solomon 6:6

Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes which are come up from the washing, all of which bear twins, and there is not one among them that is deprived of her young.

Song of Solomon 6:7

Like the half of the pomegranate is the upper part of thy cheek behind thy veil.

Song of Solomon 6:8

Sixty are the queens, and eighty the concubines, and the young women without number;

Song of Solomon 6:9

But one alone is my dove, my guiltless one; she is the only one of her mother, she is the chosen of her that bore her: maidens see her, and call her happy; yea, queens and concubines, and praise her.

Song of Solomon 6:10

Who is this that shineth forth like the morning-dawn, beautiful as the moon, bright as the sun, terrible as armies encamped round their banners?

Song of Solomon 6:11

Into the nut-garden was I gone down, to look about among the plants of the valley, to see whether the vine had blossomed, whether the pomegranates had budded.

Song of Solomon 6:12

I knew not [how it was], my soul made me [like] the chariots of my noble people.

Song of Solomon 6:13 (7:1)

Return, return, O Shulammoth; return, return, that we may look upon thee. "What will ye see in the Shulammoth?" As though it were the dance of a double company.

Song of Solomon 7:1 (7:2)

How beautiful are thy steps in sandals, O prince's daughter! the roundings of thy thighs are like jewelled ornaments, the work of the hands of the artificer.

Song of Solomon 7:2 (7:3)

Thy navel is like a round goblet which lacketh not the mixed wine: thy body is like a heap of wheat fenced about with lilies.

Song of Solomon 7:3 (7:4)

Thy two breasts are like two fawns, the twins of the roe.

Song of Solomon 7:4 (7:5)

Thy neck is like a tower of ivory; thy eyes are like the pools in Cheshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim; thy nose is like the tower of Lebanon which looketh toward Damascus.

Song of Solomon 7:5 (7:6)

Thy head upon thee is like Carmel, and the hair of thy head like purple: a king is held bound in the tresses.

Song of Solomon 7:6 (7:7)

How beautiful and how pleasant art thou, O love, in thy attractions!

Song of Solomon 7:7 (7:8)

This thy stature is like a palm-tree, and thy breasts are like clusters of grapes.

Song of Solomon 7:8 (7:9)

I thought, I wish to climb up the palm-tree, I wish to take hold of its boughs; and, oh, that thy breasts might be like clusters of the vine, and the smell of thy nose like apples;

Song of Solomon 7:9 (7:10)

And thy palate like the best wine, that glideth down for my friend gently, exciting the lips of those that are asleep.—

Song of Solomon 7:10 (7:11)

I am my friend's, and toward me is his desire.

Song of Solomon 7:11 (7:12)

Come, my friend, let us go forth into the field; let us spend the night in the villages;

Song of Solomon 7:12 (7:13)

Let us get up early to the vineyards; let us see if the vine have blossomed, whether the young grape have opened [to the view], whether the pomegranates have budded: there will I give my caresses unto thee.

Song of Solomon 7:13 (7:14)

[As] when thou didst fearful deeds which we had not looked for, thou camest down, [while] at thy presence mountains melted away;

For, behold, I will create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind;

Isaiah 65:21

And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat their fruit.

He that slaughtereth the ox, slayeth a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, breaketh the neck of a dog; he that offereth a meat-offering, [offereth] swine's blood; he that burneth incense, blesseth an idol: yea, they have made choice of their own ways, and in their abominations doth their soul delight.

Isaiah 66:4

Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith the Lord; or shall I who cause to bring forth, now prevent it? saith thy God.

Isaiah 66:20

And they shall bring all your brethren out of all nations as an offering unto the Lord, upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon dromedaries, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel bring the offering in a clean vessel into the house of the Lord.

And of them also will I take for priests and for Levites, saith the Lord.

Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

Jeremiah 17:16

As for me, I have not hastened to be a shepherd to follow thee; and the woeful day have I not longed for; thou knowest it: what came out of my lips was known before thee.

Jeremiah 17:17

Be not a terror unto me: thou art my protection on the day of evil.

Jeremiah 17:18

Let those be made ashamed that persecute me, but let not me be made ashamed: let them be dismayed, but let me not be dismayed: bring upon them the day of evil, and strike them with a double breach.

Jeremiah 17:19

Thus said the Lord unto me, Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah usually enter, and by which they usually go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem;

Jeremiah 17:20

And say unto them, Hear ye the word of the Lord, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates.

Jeremiah 17:21

Thus hath said the Lord, Take heed for your souls, and bear no burden on the sabbath-day, nor bring it in through the gates of Jerusalem;

Jeremiah 17:22

Nor shall you carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath-day, and no manner of work shall ye do, but hallow ye the sabbath-day, as I have commanded your fathers;

Jeremiah 17:23

But they hearkened not, and inclined not their ear; and they made their neck stiff, so as not to hearken, and not to receive instruction.

Jeremiah 17:24

And it shall come to pass, if ye will diligently hearken unto me, saith the Lord, so as to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath-day, and to hallow the sabbath-day, so as to do no work thereon:

Jeremiah 17:25

Then shall there enter through the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this city shall be inhabited for ever.

Jeremiah 17:26

And there shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the environs of Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the lowlands, and from the mountain, and from the south, those that bring burnt-offerings, and sacrifices, and meat-offerings, and frankincense, and those that bring thanksgiving-offerings, unto the house of the Lord.

Jeremiah 17:27

But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath-day, and not to bear a burden, and to enter in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath-day: then will I kindle a fire in its gates, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

Jeremiah 18:1

The word which came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

Jeremiah 18:2

Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there will I let thee hear my words.

Jeremiah 18:3

Then went I down to the potter's house, and, behold, he was doing work on the wheels.

Jeremiah 18:4

And the vessel that he was making became spoiled as [happeneth] with the clay in the hand of the potter; and he made again thereof another vessel, as it seemed good in the eyes of the potter to make it.

Jeremiah 18:5

Then came the word of the Lord to me, saying,

Jeremiah 18:6

Shall I not be able to do unto you as this potter, O house of Israel? saith the Lord. Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in my hand, O house of Israel.

Jeremiah 18:7

At one instant I speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy it;

Jeremiah 18:8

But should that nation, against whom I have spoken, return from their wrong-doing: then will I bethink me of the evil that I had thought to do unto them.

Jeremiah 18:9

And at one instant I speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it;

Jeremiah 18:10

But should it do what is evil in my eyes, so as not to hearken to my voice: then will I bethink me of the good, wherewith I had thought to benefit the same.

Jeremiah 18:11

And now do say to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, as followeth, Thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I form against you evil, and devise against you a device: do but return now every one from his evil way, and amend your ways and your deeds.

Jeremiah 18:12

And they said, It is useless: for after our own thoughts will we walk, and we will every one do after the stubbornness of his evil heart.

Jeremiah 18:13

Therefore thus hath said the Lord, Only ask among the nations, Who hath heard the like things? a very horrible act hath the virgin of Israel committed.

Jeremiah 18:14

Doth the snow of Lebanon ever quit the rock of the field? or do the far-coming, cold, flowing waters ever fail?

Jeremiah 18:15

That my people have forgotten me, that they have burnt incense to false gods, and are made to stumble on their ways, the ancient beaten tracks, to walk in paths, on a road which is not leveled?

Jeremiah 18:16

To make their land desolate, a perpetual derision: every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and shake his head.

Jeremiah 18:17

Like an east wind will I scatter them before the enemy; with the back, and not the face, will I regard them on the day of their calamity.

Jeremiah 18:18

And they said, Come, and let us contrive devices against Jeremiah; for the law will not be lost from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not listen to any of his words.

Jeremiah 18:19

Listen to me, O Lord, and hearken to the voice of those that contend with me.

Jeremiah 18:20

Shall evil be recompensed instead of good, that they have dug a pit for my life? Remember my standing before thee to speak good concerning them, to cause thy wrath to turn away from them.

Jeremiah 18:21

Therefore give up their children to the famine, and let their life ebb out by means of the sword; and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and widows; and let their men be slain by death; their young men smitten by the sword in the battle.

Jeremiah 18:22

Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou bringest a troop over them suddenly; for they have dug a pit to catch me, and laid concealed snares for my feet.

Jeremiah 18:23

Yet thou, Lord, knowest well all their counsel against me to [procure my] death: forgive not their iniquity, and let their sin not be blotted out from before thee; but let them be brought to stumbling before thee; in the time of thy anger deal thus with them.

Jeremiah 19:1

Thus said the Lord, Go and buy a bottle from a maker of earthenware, and [take] some of the elders of the people, and of the elders of the priests;

Jeremiah 19:2

And go forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the gate Charsith, and proclaim there the words that I will speak unto thee.

Jeremiah 19:3

And say, Hear ye the word of the Lord, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring evil over this place, so that the ears of every one that heareth it shall tingle.

Jeremiah 19:4

For the reason that they have forsaken me, and have defiled this place, and have burnt incense in it unto other gods, which they had not known, either they or their fathers, or the kings of Judah, and have filled this place with the blood of innocents;

Jeremiah 19:5

And they have built the high-places of Ba'al, to burn their sons with fire as burnt-offerings unto Ba'al, which I had not commanded, nor spoken, and which had not come into my mind:

Jeremiah 19:6

Therefore, behold, days are coming, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more be called The Thopheth, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but, The valley of slaughter.

Jeremiah 19:7

And I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of those that seek their life: and I will give their carcasses as food unto the fowls of the heaven, and unto the beasts of the earth.

Jeremiah 19:8

And I will render this city desolate, and an [object of] derision: every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all its plagues.

Jeremiah 19:9

And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his associate, in the siege and straitness, wherewith their enemies, and those that seek their life, shall distress them.

Jeremiah 19:10

Then shalt thou break the bottle before the eyes of the men that are going with thee.

Jeremiah 19:11

And thou shalt say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, In this manner will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be restored again; and in Thopheth shall they bury, for want of room to bury.

Jeremiah 19:12

Thus will I do unto this place, saith the Lord, and to its inhabitants, and to make this city as Thopheth:

Jeremiah 19:13

And the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, which are unclean, shall become as the place of the Thopheth, with all the houses upon the roofs of which they have burnt incense to all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink-offerings to other gods.

Jeremiah 19:14

Then came Jeremiah from the Thopheth, whither the Lord had sent him to prophesy; and he placed himself in the court of the house of the Lord; and said to all the people,

Jeremiah 19:15

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all its towns all the evil that I have spoken against it; because they have hardened their neck, so as not to hear my words.

Jeremiah 20:1

But when Pashchur the son of Immer the priest, who was chief superintendent in the house of the Lord, heard Jeremiah prophesying these words:

Jeremiah 20:2

Then smote Pashchur Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the upper gate of Benjamin, which was in the house of the Lord.

Jeremiah 20:3

And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pashchur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. And Jeremiah said unto him, Not Pashchur [Fulness of Freedom] hath the Lord called thy name, but Magor-missabib [Terror all around].

Jeremiah 20:4

For thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends; and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thy eyes shall see it; and all Judah will I give into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall lead them into exile to Babylon, and shall smite them with the sword.

Jeremiah 20:5

And I will give up all the wealth of this city, and all its acquisitions, and all its precious things; and all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, who shall plunder them, and take them and carry them away to Babylon.

Jeremiah 20:6

And thou, Pashchur, and all the inhabitants of thy house, shall go into captivity; and to Babylon shalt thou come, and there thou shalt die, and there shalt thou be buried, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied with falsehood.

Jeremiah 20:7

Thou didst persuade me, O Lord, and I was persuaded; thou laidst thy [hand] strongly on me, and didst prevail: I am laughed at all the time, every one mocketh me.

Jeremiah 20:8

For as often as I speak must I cry out, violence and wasting must I proclaim; because the word of the Lord is become unto me a disgrace, and a derision, all the time.

Jeremiah 20:9

And I thought, I will not make mention of him, and I will not speak any more in his name. But it became in my heart as a burning fire enclosed within my bones, and I was weary with enduring, and I could not overcome it.

Jeremiah 20:10

For I heard the defaming of many, angry assemblies on every side, "Tell, and we will tell of him." All the men who ought to seek my welfare, watch for my fall; saying, "Peradventure he may be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we will then take our revenge on him."

Jeremiah 20:11

But the Lord is with me as a mighty powerful one; therefore my persecutors will stumble, and they will not prevail: they will be greatly ashamed, for they will not prosper; [it is] an everlasting confusion which will never be forgotten.

Jeremiah 20:12

But, O Lord of hosts, that probest the righteous, seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them; for unto thee have I laid open my cause.

Jeremiah 20:13

Sing unto the Lord, praise ye the Lord; for he hath delivered the soul of the needy from the hand of evil-doers.

Jeremiah 20:14

Cursed be the day whereon I was born: the day on which my mother bore me shall not be blessed.

Jeremiah 20:15

Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying, A man-child is born unto thee. How very glad did he make him!

Jeremiah 20:16

And may that same man become like the cities which the Lord overthrew, and bethought himself not; and may he hear a cry of anguish in the morning, and a tumultuous noise at noontide;

Jeremiah 20:17

Because I was not slain [as I escaped] from the womb; or that my mother might have become unto me my grave, and her womb have been affected with a perpetual pregnancy.

Jeremiah 20:18

Wherefore was this that I came forth out of the womb to see trouble and sorrow, that my days should pass away in shame?

Jeremiah 21:1

The word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, when king Zedekiah sent unto him Pashchur the son of Malkiyah, and Zephanyah the son of Ma'asseyah the priest, saying,

Jeremiah 21:2

Inquire, I pray thee, in our behalf of the Lord; for Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon maketh war against us; peradventure the Lord will deal with us according to all his wondrous deeds, so that he may withdraw from us.

Jeremiah 21:3

Then said Jeremiah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah:

Jeremiah 21:4

Thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel, Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans, who besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this city.

Jeremiah 21:5

And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, and in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.

Jeremiah 21:6

And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: of a great pestilence shall they die.

Jeremiah 21:7

And afterward, saith the Lord, will I give up Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and those that are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he will not spare them, nor have pity, nor have mercy.

Jeremiah 21:8

And unto this people shalt thou say, Thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

Jeremiah 21:9

He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, or by the famine, or by the pestilence; but he that goeth out, and runneth away to the Chaldeans that besiege you, shall remain alive, and his life shall be unto him as a booty.

Jeremiah 21:10

For I have set my face against this city for evil, and not for good, saith the Lord: into the hand of the king of Babylon shall it be given up, and he will burn it with fire.

Jeremiah 21:11

And to the house of the king of Judah [say], Hear ye the word of the Lord:

Jeremiah 21:12

O house of David, thus hath said the Lord, Exercise justice on [every] morning, and deliver him that is robbed out of the hand of the oppressor; lest my fury go forth like fire, and burn so that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

Jeremiah 21:13

Behold, I am against thee, O inhabitress of the valley, [about] the rock of the plain, saith the Lord; who say, Who shall descend down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations?

Jeremiah 21:14

But I will inflict punishment on you according to the fruit of your doings, saith the Lord: and I will kindle a fire in its forest, and it shall devour all its environs.

Jeremiah 22:1

Thus said the Lord, Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word;

Jeremiah 22:2

And thou shalt say, Hear the word of the Lord, O king of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates:

Jeremiah 22:3

Thus hath said the Lord, Execute ye justice and righteousness, and deliver him that is robbed out of the hand of the oppressor; and the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow shall ye not oppress, and do them no violence, and shed no innocent blood in this place.

Jeremiah 22:4

For if ye indeed will do this thing, then shall enter in through the gates of this house kings sitting after David upon his throne, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people.

Jeremiah 22:5

But if ye will not hear these words, then do I swear by myself, saith the Lord, that this house shall become a ruin.

Jeremiah 22:6

For thus hath said the Lord concerning the house of the king of Judah, A Gil'ad [though] thou art unto me, a summit of the Lebanon: yet I will surely change thee into a wilderness, cities which are not inhabited.

Jeremiah 22:7

And I will make ready against thee destroyers, every one with his weapons: and they shall cut down the choice of thy cedars, and cast them into the fire.

Jeremiah 22:8

And [when] many nations [then] pass by this city, they will say every man to his neighbor, Wherefore hath the Lord done the like unto this great city?

Jeremiah 22:9

Then shall they say, Because they had forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and bowed down unto other gods, and served them.

Jeremiah 22:10

Weep not for the dead, and do not bemoan him: weep sorely for him that goeth away; for he shall never return any more, and see the land of his birth.

Jeremiah 22:11

For thus hath said the Lord respecting Shallum the son of Josiah the king of Judah, who reigneth in the place of Josiah his father, who is gone forth out of this place, He shall never return thither any more;

Jeremiah 22:12

But in the place whither they have led him into exile, there shall he die; but this land shall he not see any more.

Jeremiah 22:13

Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by injustice; that maketh his neighbor work without wages, and giveth him not the reward for his labor;

Jeremiah 22:14

That saith, I will build me a roomy house, and ample chambers, and cutteth himself out windows, and ceileth it with cedar, and painteth it with colors.

Jeremiah 22:15

Shalt thou reign, because thou strivest to excel with cedar buildings? behold, thy father ate and drank, but he executed justice and righteousness: then was it well with him!

Jeremiah 22:16

He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then was it well: is not this the proper knowledge of me? saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 22:17

But thy eyes and thy heart are directed on nothing but upon thy own gain, and upon innocent blood to shed it, and upon oppression, and upon extortion, to practise them.

Jeremiah 22:18

Therefore thus hath said the Lord concerning Jehoyakim the son of Josiah the king of Judah, They shall not lament for him, with, "Woe, my brother!" and, "Woe, sister!" they shall not lament for him, with "Woe, lord!" and, "Woe, to his glory!"

Jeremiah 22:19

With the burial of an ass shall he be buried, dragged about and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 22:20

Ascend the Lebanon, and cry aloud; and let thy voice resound in Bashan; and cry aloud from 'Aharim; for crushed are all thy lovers.

Jeremiah 22:21

I spoke unto thee in thy prosperity; but thou saidst, I will not hear. This hath been thy manner from thy very youth, that thou didst not hearken to my voice.

Jeremiah 22:22

The wind shall scatter abroad all thy shepherds, and thy lovers shall go into captivity: surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded because of all thy wickedness.

Jeremiah 22:23

O inhabitress of Lebanon, that makest thy nest in the cedars, how full of grace wilt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail!

Jeremiah 22:24

As I live, saith the Lord, though Conyahu the son of Jehoyakim the king of Judah were a signet upon my right hand, yet for a surety would I thence pluck thee;

Jeremiah 22:25

And I will give thee into the hand of those that seek thy life, and into the hand of those of whom thou art afraid, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.

Jeremiah 22:26

And I will hurl thee out, and thy mother that hath born thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die.

Jeremiah 22:27

But to the land whitherward they direct their soul to return, thither shall they not return.

Jeremiah 22:28

Is this man Conyahu a despised broken image? or a vessel without value? wherefore are they hurled out, he and his seed, and are cast forth into a land which they know not?

Jeremiah 22:29

O land, land, land! hear the word of the Lord.

Jeremiah 22:30

Thus hath said the Lord, Write ye down this man as childless, as a man that shall not prosper in his days; for no man of his seed shall succeed to sit upon the throne of David, and to rule any more in Judah.

Jeremiah 23:1

Woe unto the shepherds that destroy and scatter the flocks of my pasture! saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 23:2

Therefore thus hath said the Lord the God of Israel concerning the shepherds that feed my people, Ye have scattered my flocks, and driven them away, and have not taken care of them: now, behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 23:3

And I will indeed gather the remnant of my flock together out of all the countries whither I have driven them; and I will bring them back again to their folds: and they shall be fruitful and multiply.

Jeremiah 23:4

And I will raise up over them shepherds who shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, and none of them shall be missing, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 23:5

Behold, days are coming, saith the Lord, when I will raise up unto David a righteous sprout, and he shall reign as king, and prosper, and he shall execute justice and righteousness on the earth.

Jeremiah 23:6

In his days shall Judah be helped, and Israel shall dwell in safety: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, The Lord is our righteousness.

Jeremiah 23:7

Therefore, behold, days are coming, saith the Lord, when they shall no more say, As the Lord liveth, who hath brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

Jeremiah 23:8

But, As the Lord liveth, who hath brought up and who hath led forth the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and out of all countries whither I had driven them: and they shall dwell in their own land.

Jeremiah 23:9

To the prophets—Broken is my heart within me; all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a person whom wine hath overcome, because of the Lord, and because of his holy words.

Jeremiah 23:10

For of adulterers is the land full; for because of false swearing mourneth the land, dried up are the pastures in the wilderness; because their course was for evil, and their strength was for injustice.

Jeremiah 23:11

For both prophet and priest are hypocrites: yea, in my own house have I found their wickedness, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 23:12

Therefore shall their way be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness; they shall be pushed forward, and fall thereon; for I will bring upon them evil, the year of their punishment, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 23:13

And on the prophets of Samaria have I seen absurdity: they prophesied by Ba'al, and misled my people Israel.

Jeremiah 23:14

But on the prophets of Jerusalem have I seen a horrible thing; they commit adultery, and walk in falsehood; and they strengthen the hands of evil-doers, so that not one of these doth return from his wickedness: they are become unto me all of them as Sodom, and its inhabitants as Gomorrah.

Jeremiah 23:15

Therefore thus hath said the Lord of hosts concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink poison-water; for from the prophets of Jerusalem is hypocrisy gone forth over all the land.

Jeremiah 23:16

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you, they bring you unto vanity: a vision of their own heart do they ever speak, not out of the mouth of the Lord.

Jeremiah 23:17

They say indeed unto those that incense me, The Lord hath spoken, Peace shall ye have; and unto every one that walketh in the stubbornness of his own heart, they said, There shall come no evil upon you.

Jeremiah 23:18

For who hath stood in the secret counsel of the Lord, that he could perceive and hear his word? who hath listened to his word and heard it?

Jeremiah 23:19

Behold, the storm–wind of the Lord is gone forth in fury, yea, a whirling storm: upon the head of the wicked shall it fall grievously.

Jeremiah 23:20

The anger of the Lord will not return, until he have executed, and until he have fulfilled the purposes of his heart: in the end of days shall ye understand this fully.

Jeremiah 23:21

I had not sent these prophets, yet they ran: I had not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.

Jeremiah 23:22

But if they had stood in my secret counsel, they should have announced my words to my people, and have caused them to turn back from their evil way, and from the wrongfulness of their doings.

Jeremiah 23:23

Am I a God for those near at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God for those who are afar off?

Jeremiah 23:24

If a man should hide himself in secret places should I not then see him? saith the Lord. Do I not fill the heavens and the earth? saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 23:25

I have heard what the prophets have said, that prophesy falsely in my name, saying, I have dreamt, I have dreamt.

Jeremiah 23:26

How long shall it be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy falsehood? yea, the prophets of the deceit of their own heart,—

Jeremiah 23:27

[How long] do they think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they relate every man to his neighbor, as their fathers forgot my name for the sake of Ba'al?

Jeremiah 23:28

The prophet that hath had a dream, let him relate his dream; and he that hath received my word, let him speak my word of truth. What hath the straw to do with the corn? saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 23:29

Is not thus my word, like the fire? saith the Lord, and like a hammer that shivereth the rock?

Jeremiah 23:30

Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, saith the Lord, that steal my words every one from his neighbor.

Jeremiah 23:31

Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the Lord, that use their own word, and say, [The Lord] saith.

Jeremiah 23:32

Behold, I am against those that prophesy with false dreams, saith the Lord, and do relate them, and mislead my people by their falsehoods, and by their vain boasting: while I have not sent them, nor commanded them; and they cannot bring the least profit to this people, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 23:33

And if this people, or the prophet, or a priest, should ask thee, saying, What is the message of the Lord? then shalt thou say unto them, Because of this "What is the message?" will I even cast you off, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 23:34

And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that will say, "A message of the Lord," I will even inflict punishment on that man and on his house.

Jeremiah 23:35

Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbor, and every one to his brother, What hath the Lord answered? and, What hath the Lord spoken?

Jeremiah 23:36

But "A message of the Lord" shall ye not mention any more; for the message cometh indeed to the man of his [prophetic] word; but ye pervert the words of the living God, of the Lord of hosts our God.

Jeremiah 23:37

Thus shalt thou say to the prophet, What hath the Lord answered thee? and, What hath the Lord spoken?

Jeremiah 23:38

But if ye will say, "A message of the Lord," then thus saith the Lord, Because ye say this word, "A message of the Lord," and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, "A message of the Lord:"

Jeremiah 23:39

Therefore, behold, I am here, and I will tear you completely away, and I will cast you off, and the city that I have given to you and to your fathers, out of my presence;

Jeremiah 23:40

And I will lay upon you an everlasting disgrace, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

Jeremiah 24:1

The Lord caused me to see, and, behold, there were two baskets of figs placed before the temple of the Lord, after Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon had carried away into exile Yehonyahu the son of Yehoyakim the king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the carpenters and the locksmiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon.

Jeremiah 24:2

The one basket [had] very good figs, like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket [had] very bad figs, which could not be eaten, from being so bad.

Jeremiah 24:3

Then said the Lord unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs: the good figs, are very good; and the bad ones, are very bad, which cannot be eaten, from being so bad.

Jeremiah 24:4

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Jeremiah 24:5

Thus hath said the Lord, the God of Israel, Like these good figs, so will I acknowledge the exiles of Judah, whom I have sent away from this place into the land of the Chaldeans, for good.

Jeremiah 24:6

And I will set my eye upon them for good, and I will cause them to return again to this land; and I will build them up, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up.

Jeremiah 24:7

And I will give them a heart to know me, that I am the Lord: and they shall be unto me for a people, and I will be unto them for God! for they will return unto me with all their heart.

Jeremiah 24:8

And like the bad figs, which cannot be eaten, from being so bad, surely thus hath said the Lord, So I will render Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and those that dwell in the land of Egypt;

And I will send out against them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, till they be destroyed from off the land that I had given unto them and to their fathers.

And go not after other gods to serve them, and to bow down to them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands; and I will not injure you.

Therefore thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Because ye have not hearkened to my words:

Jeremiah 25:9

Behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the Lord, and to Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and I will bring them over this land, and over its inhabitants, and over all these nations round about, and I will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and a derision, and perpetual ruins.

Jeremiah 25:30

But thou, do thou prophesy concerning them all these words, and say unto them, The Lord will cry aloud from on high, and from his holy habitation will he send forth his voice; he will cry out very loudly over his habitation; the vintner's call, as they that tread out the grapes, will he lift up against all the inhabitants of the earth.

Jeremiah 26:4

And thou shalt say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord, if ye will not hearken unto me, to walk in my law, which I have set before you,

To hearken unto the words of my servants the prophets, whom I send unto you, yea, making them rise up early, and sending them, while ye have not hearkened:

Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the Lord, saying, Like Shiloh shall this house be, and this city shall be ruined, [left] without an inhabitant? And all the people assembled themselves against Jeremiah in the house of the Lord.

Jeremiah 26:10

But when the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house unto the house of the Lord, and sat down at the entrance of the new gate of the Lord's house.

Jeremiah 26:16

Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets, This man is not deserving the punishment of death; for in the name of the Lord our God hath he spoken unto us.

Jeremiah 26:17

And then rose up certain men of the elders of the land, and said to all the assembly of the people, as followeth,

Did Hezekiah the king of Judah and all Judah attempt to put him to death? behold, he did fear the Lord, and besought the Lord, and the Lord bethought him of the evil which he had spoken against them. And shall we bring a great wickedness on our souls?

Jeremiah 26:20

And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the Lord, Uriyah the son of Shema'yahu of Kiryath-ye'arim, who prophesied against this city and against this land in accordance with all the words of Jeremiah;

Jeremiah 27:3

And send such to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the children of 'Ammon, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Zidon, by means of the messengers who come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah the king of Judah;

Jeremiah 27:4

And thou shalt charge them unto their masters, saying, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say unto your masters,

It is I who have made the earth, the men, and the beasts that are upon the face of the earth, by my great power and by my outstretched arm, and I have given it unto the one who seemeth proper in my eyes.

And now it is I who have given all these countries into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant; and also the beasts of the field have I given him to serve him.

And it shall come to pass, that the nation and the kingdom which will not serve him, Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and that will not put its neck in the yoke of the king of Babylon,—even that nation will I punish with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, saith the Lord, until I have made an end of them by his hand.

Jeremiah 27:9

But do ye not hearken to your prophets, and to your diviners, and to your dreamers, and to your enchanters, and to your sorcerers, who speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon;

Jeremiah 27:10

For falsehood do they prophesy unto you, in order to remove you far from your land; and that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish.

But the nation that will bring its neck into the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him,—that one will I then let remain quietly in its own land, saith the Lord: and it shall till it, and dwell therein.

And unto the priests and unto all this people did I speak, saying, Thus hath said the Lord, Do not hearken to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the house of the Lord shall be brought again from Babylon now speedily; for a falsehood do they prophesy unto you.

Jeremiah 27:17

Hearken not unto them; serve the king of Babylon, that ye may live: wherefore should this city become a ruin?

Jeremiah 27:18

And if they be prophets, and if the word of the Lord be with them, let them now make intercession with the Lord of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, may not be carried to Babylon.

Jeremiah 27:19

For thus hath said the Lord of hosts of the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that are left in this city,

Jeremiah 27:20

Which Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon did not take away, when he carried away into exile Jechonyah the son of Jehoyakim the king of Judah from Jerusalem to Babylon, with all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem;

Jeremiah 27:21

[Yea] for thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Judah and in Jerusalem,

Jeremiah 27:22

Unto Babylon shall they be carried, and there shall they remain until the day that I think of them, saith the Lord, when I will bring them up, and restore them to this place.

Jeremiah 28:1

And it came to pass in the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah the king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, that there said unto me Chananyah the son of 'Azzur the prophet, who was from Gib'on, in the house of the Lord, before the eyes of the priests, and of all the people, as followeth,

Jeremiah 28:2

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon;

Within yet two years' time will I cause to be brought back unto this place all the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon hath taken away from this place, and which he hath carried to Babylon:

Jeremiah 28:4

And Jechonyah the son of Jehoyakim the king of Judah, and all the exiles of Judah that are gone to Babylon, will I cause to return to this place, saith the Lord; for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.

Jeremiah 28:5

Then said Jeremiah the prophet unto Chananyah the prophet before the eyes of the priests, and before the eyes of all the people that stood in the house of the Lord,

Jeremiah 28:6

Yea, then said Jeremiah the prophet, Amen, may the Lord do so: may the Lord fulfill thy words which thou hast prophesied, to cause the vessels of the Lord's house, and all that have been carried into exile, to be brought back from Babylon unto this place.

Jeremiah 28:7

Nevertheless hear thou now this word which I speak before thy ears, and before the ears of all the people:

Jeremiah 28:8

The prophets that have been before me and before thee from olden times prophesied both concerning many countries, and against great kingdoms, respecting war, and respecting evil, and respecting pestilence.

Jeremiah 28:9

The prophet who prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet doth come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, [as the one] whom the Lord hath sent in truth.

Then took Chananyah the prophet the yoke–bar from off the neck of Jeremiah the prophet, and broke it.

Jeremiah 28:11

And Chananyah said before the eyes of all the people, as followeth, Thus hath said the Lord, Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon within two years' time from the neck of all the nations. And Jeremiah the prophet went his way.

Jeremiah 28:12

Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, after Chananyah the prophet had broken the yoke–bar from off the neck of Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

Jeremiah 28:13

Go and say unto Chananyah as followeth, Thus hath said the Lord, Yoke–bars of wood hast thou broken; but thou shalt make in their stead yoke–bars of iron.

Jeremiah 28:14

For thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, A yoke of iron have I placed upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon; and they shall work for him: and also the beasts of the field have I given him.

Jeremiah 28:15

Then said Jeremiah the prophet unto Chananyah the prophet, Hear now, Chananyah, The Lord did not send thee; but thou hast caused this people to trust on a falsehood.

Jeremiah 28:16

Therefore thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will send thee away from off the face of the earth: this year shalt thou die, because thou hast spoken rebellion against the Lord.

Jeremiah 28:17

So Chananyah the prophet died in that same year, in the seventh month.

Jeremiah 29:1

And these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the elders of the exiles, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon;

(After king Jechonyah and the queen–mother, and the court–officers, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the carpenters, and the locksmiths, were departed from Jerusalem;)

Jeremiah 29:3

By the hand of El’assah the son of Shaphan, and Gemaryah the son of Chilkiyah, [whom Zedekiah the king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon,] saying,

Jeremiah 29:4

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all the exiles, whom I have caused to be carried into exile from Jerusalem unto Babylon,

Jeremiah 29:5

Build ye houses, and dwell therein; and plant gardens, and eat their fruit;

Jeremiah 29:6

Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; that ye may multiply there, and not be diminished.

Jeremiah 29:7

And seek the welfare of the city whither I have banished you, and pray in its behalf unto the Lord; for in its welfare shall ye fare well.

For thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Let not your prophets, that are in the midst of you, and your diviners, deceive you, and do not hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamt;

Jeremiah 29:9

For with falsehood do they prophesy unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 29:10

For thus hath said the Lord, Because only after the accomplishment of seventy years for Babylon, will I visit you, and fulfill respecting you my good word, in causing you to return to this place.

Jeremiah 29:11

For I alone know the thoughts that I entertain respecting you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you a [happy] future and hope.

Jeremiah 29:12

And you will call upon me, and ye will go and will pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you.

Jeremiah 29:17

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will send out against them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence; and I will render them like the detestable figs, that cannot be eaten, from being so bad.

Jeremiah 29:18

And I will pursue after them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will make them a horror unto all the kingdoms of the earth, a curse, and an astonishment, and a derision, and a disgrace, among all the nations whither I have driven them;

Jeremiah 29:19

For the reason that they have not hearkened to my words, saith the Lord, since I sent unto them my servants the prophets, causing them to rise up early and sending them; but ye would not hear, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 29:20

But ye—hear ye the word of the Lord, all ye exiles whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon.

And a curse shall be derived from them for all the exiles of Judah who are in Babylon, saying, "May the Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Achab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire;"

Because they have done scandalous deeds in Israel, and have committed adultery with the wives of their neighbors, and have spoken in my name falsehood, which I had not commanded them; whereas I am the one that know, and am the witness, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 29:24

And to Shema'yahu the Nechemite shalt thou say, as followeth,

Jeremiah 29:25

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent in thy name letters unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephanyah the son of Ma'asseyah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,

Jeremiah 29:26

The Lord hath appointed thee priest in the place of Jehoyada' the priest, that ye should be superintendents in the house of the Lord, for every man that is mad, and that prophesieth, that thou shouldst put him in the stocks, and in prison:

Jeremiah 29:27

And now, why hast thou not rebuked Jeremiah of 'Anathoth, who prophesieth to you?

Jeremiah 29:28

For the reason that he hath sent unto us to Babylon saying, It will last a long time: build ye houses, and dwell therein; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit thereof.

Jeremiah 29:29

And Zephanyah the priest read the letter before the ears of Jeremiah the prophet.

Jeremiah 29:30

Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

Jeremiah 29:31

Send to all the exiles, saying, Thus hath said the Lord concerning Shema'yah the Nechlamite, Whereas Shema'yah hath prophesied unto you, while I have not sent him, and he hath caused you to rely on a falsehood:

Jeremiah 29:32

Therefore thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will inflict punishment on Shema'yah the Nechlamite, and on his seed; he shall not have a man to dwell in the midst of this people; and he shall not behold the good that I am doing for my people, saith the Lord; because he hath spoken revolt against the Lord.

And these are the words that the Lord spoke concerning Israel and concerning Judah;

Jeremiah 32:1

The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord in the tenth year of Zedekiah the king of Judah, which is the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar.

Jeremiah 32:2

And at that time the king of Babylon's army was besieging Jerusalem; and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the prison, which was in the house of the king of Judah;

Jeremiah 32:3

Because Zedekiah the king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore art thou prophesying, saying, Thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will give up this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall capture it.

Jeremiah 32:4

And Zedekiah the king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, because he shall surely be given up into the hand of the king of Babylon, and his mouth shall speak to his mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes;

Jeremiah 32:5

And to Babylon shall he lead Zedekiah, and there shall he remain until I think of him, saith the Lord: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper.

Jeremiah 32:6

And Jeremiah said, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Jeremiah 32:7

Behold, Chanamel the son of Shallum thy uncle is coming unto thee, saying, Buy for thyself my field that is in 'Anathoth; for unto thee belongeth the right of redemption to buy it.

Jeremiah 32:8

And there came to me Chanamel my uncle's son according to the word of the Lord into the court of the prison, and he said unto me, Buy, I pray thee, my field, that is in 'Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin; for to thee belongeth the right of inheritance, and to thee belongeth the redemption, buy it for thyself: then did I know that it was the word of the Lord.

Jeremiah 32:9

And I bought the field from Chanamel my uncle's son, that is in 'Anathoth; and I weighed out unto him the money, seven shekels, and ten pieces of silver.

Jeremiah 32:10

And I wrote it in a deed, and sealed it, and had it certified by witnesses, and weighed the money in balances.

Jeremiah 32:11

And I took the deed of the purchase, both that which was sealed, according to the law and custom, and that which was open;

Jeremiah 32:12

And I gave the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriyah, the son of Machseyah, before the eyes of Chanamel my kinsman, and before the eyes of the witnesses that had signed the deed of the purchase, before the eyes of all the Jews that were sitting in the court of the prison.

Jeremiah 32:13

And I charged Baruch before their eyes, saying,

Jeremiah 32:14

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Take these deeds, this deed of the purchase, both the sealed, and this open deed, and place them in an earthen vessel, in order that they may last many days.

Jeremiah 32:15

For thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Yet again shall there be bought houses and fields and vineyards in this land.

Jeremiah 32:16

And I prayed to the Lord after I had delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriyah, saying,

Jeremiah 32:17

Ah Lord Eternal! behold, it is thou that hast made the heavens and the earth by thy great power and by thy outstretched arm; nothing is too wonderful for thee;

Jeremiah 32:18

Thou exercisest kindness unto the thousandth [generation], and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers unto the bosom of their children after them; [thou art] the Great, the Mighty God, the Lord of hosts is his name;

Jeremiah 32:19

Great in counsel, and mighty in execution: [thou] whose eyes are open over all the ways of the sons of man, to give unto every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings;

Jeremiah 32:20

Who hast displayed signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, up to this day, and in Israel, and among other men; and thou hast made thyself a name, as it is at this day;

Jeremiah 32:21

And thou didst bring forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with great terror;

Jeremiah 32:22

And thou gavest them this land, which thou hadst sworn to their fathers to give unto them, a land flowing with milk and honey;

Jeremiah 32:23

And they came in, and took possession of it; but they hearkened not to thy voice, and in thy law they did not walk; all that thou hadst commanded them to do they did not do: and thou hast therefore caused all this evil to befall them.

Jeremiah 32:24

Behold the mounds reach unto the city to capture it; and the city is given up into the hand of the Chaldeans, who fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence: and what thou hast spoken is come to pass; and, behold, thou seest it.

Jeremiah 32:25

And yet thou hast said unto me, O Lord Eternal, Buy for thyself the field for money, and have it certified by witnesses: while the city is given up into the hand of the Chaldeans.

Jeremiah 32:26

Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

Jeremiah 32:27

Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh: shall any thing be too wonderful for me?

Jeremiah 32:28

Therefore thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will give up this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, and he shall capture it:

Jeremiah 32:29

And the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come and set this city on fire, and burn it, with the houses upon the roofs of which they have offered incense unto Ba'al, and have poured out drink-offerings unto other gods, in order to provoke me to anger;

Jeremiah 32:30

For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have been doing only what is evil in my eyes from their youth; for the children of Israel have been only provoking me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 32:31

For to excite my anger and my fury hath been unto me this city from the day that they built it, even until this day; so that I will remove it from before my presence:

Jeremiah 32:32

Because of all the wickedness of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem;

Jeremiah 32:33

And they turned unto me the back, and not the face: though [my prophets] taught them, rising up early and teaching; yet they hearkened not to receive instruction.

Jeremiah 32:34

But they placed their abominations in the house, which is called by my name, to defile it.

Jeremiah 32:35

And they built the high-places of Ba'al, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through [the fire] unto Molech; which I had not commanded them, and which had not come into my mind, to practise this abomination, in order to mislead Judah to sin.

Jeremiah 32:36

But now, therefore, thus hath said the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning this city, whereof ye say, it is given up into the hand of the king of Babylon through the sword, and through the famine, and through the pestilence:

Jeremiah 32:37

Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries, whither I have driven them in my anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them back again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell in safety;

Jeremiah 32:38

And they shall be unto me for a people, and I will be unto them for a God:

Jeremiah 32:39

And I will give them one heart, and one manner, to fear me at all times, that it may be well with them, and with their children after them;

Jeremiah 32:40

And I will make with them an everlasting covenant, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good on my part; and my fear will I place in their heart, so that they may not depart from me.

Jeremiah 32:41

And I will be glad over them to do them good; and I will plant them in this land in truth, with all my heart and with all my soul.

Jeremiah 32:42

For thus hath said the Lord, Just as I have brought upon this people all this great evil, so will I bring upon them all the good that I speak concerning them.

Jeremiah 32:43

And the field shall yet be bought in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast, it is given up into the hand of the Chaldeans.

Jeremiah 32:44

Men shall buy fields for money, and write it in deeds, and seal it, and certify it by witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the environs of Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the mountain, and in the cities of the lowlands, and in the cities of the south; for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 33:1

And the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

Jeremiah 33:2

Thus hath said the Lord who doth this, the Lord that formeth it, to establish it: the Eternal is his name;

Jeremiah 33:3

Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and I will tell thee great and unheard of things, which thou knowest not.

Jeremiah 33:4

For thus hath said the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are thrown down by means of the mounds, and by means of the sword;

Jeremiah 33:5

As they come to fight with the Chaldeans, but only to fill those with the corpses of the men whom I slay in my anger and in my fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hidden my face from this city:

Jeremiah 33:6

Behold, I will bring it healing and cure, and I will cure them, and I will display unto them the abundance of peace and truth.

Jeremiah 33:7

And I will cause to return the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel, and I will build them up, as at the first.

Jeremiah 33:8

And I will cleanse them from all their guiltiness, whereby they have sinned against me; and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned toward me, and whereby they have transgressed against me.

Jeremiah 33:9

And it shall be to me for a name of gladness, a praise and an honor with all the nations of the earth, who will hear all the good that I am doing unto them: and they shall dread and tremble because of all the good and because of all the happiness that I prepare unto it.

Jeremiah 33:10

Thus hath said the Lord, Yet again shall there be heard in this place, of which ye say, "It is ruined, without man and without beast" [[even] in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast,]

Jeremiah 33:11

The voice of gladness, and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the voice of those that say, "Give thanks unto the Lord of hosts; for the Lord is good; because to eternity endureth his kindness:" of those that bring thanksgiving—offering unto the house of the Lord. For I will cause to return the captivity of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 33:12

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Yet again shall there be in this place, which is ruined, without man and even without beast, and in all its cities, a habitation of shepherds who cause their flocks to lie down.

Jeremiah 33:13

In the cities of the mountain, in the cities of the lowlands, and in the cities of the south, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the environs of Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks yet pass again under the hands of him that counteth them, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 33:14

Behold, days are coming, saith the Lord, when I will fulfill that good word which I have spoken concerning the house of Israel and respecting the house of Judah.

Jeremiah 33:15

In those days, and at that time, will I cause to grow up unto David the sprout of righteousness: and he shall execute justice and righteousness in the land.

Jeremiah 33:16

In those days shall Judah be helped, and Jerusalem shall dwell in safety: and this is what she shall be called, The Lord is our righteousness.

Jeremiah 33:17

For thus hath said the Lord, There shall never be wanting unto David a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel;

Jeremiah 33:18

And unto the priests the Levites there shall not be wanting a man before me, to offer burnt-offerings, and to burn meat-offerings, and to prepare sacrifices at all times.

Jeremiah 33:19

And the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah, saying,

Jeremiah 33:20

Thus hath said the Lord, If ye can break my covenant with the day, and my covenant with the night, and so, that there be not day and night in their season:

Jeremiah 33:21

Then also shall my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and [that] with the Levites the priests, my ministers.

Jeremiah 33:22

As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, and the sand of the sea not be measured: so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me.

Jeremiah 33:23

And the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying,

Jeremiah 33:24

Hast thou not observed what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the Lord hath made choice of, even these hath he rejected: and they [thus] have despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

Jeremiah 33:25

Thus hath said the Lord, If my covenant be not with day and night, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth:

Jeremiah 33:26

Then also will I reject the seed of Jacob, and David my servant, so as not to take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; for I will cause their captivity to return, and have mercy on them.

Jeremiah 34:1

The word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, when Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the country ruled by his power, and all the people, fought against Jerusalem, and against all its cities, saying,

Jeremiah 34:2

Thus hath said the Lord, the God of Israel, Go and speak to Zedekiah the king of Judah, and say to him, Thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will give up this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, that he may burn it with fire:

Jeremiah 34:3

And thou thyself shalt not escape out of his hand; but thou shalt surely be caught, and be delivered into his hand; and thy eyes shall see the eyes of the king of Babylon, and his mouth shall speak with thy mouth, and to Babylon shalt thou go.

Jeremiah 34:4

Yet hear the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah king of Judah, Thus hath said the Lord respecting thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword:

Jeremiah 34:5

In peace shalt thou die; and as burnings were made for thy fathers, the former kings who were before thee, so shall they make burnings for thee; and "Ah lord" shall they lament for thee; for I have spoken the word, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 34:6

And Jeremiah the prophet spoke unto Zedekiah the king of Judah all these words in Jerusalem,

Jeremiah 34:7

When the army of the king of Babylon was fighting against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish, and against 'Azekah; for these had been left of the cities of Judah as fortified cities.

Jeremiah 34:8

The word which came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, after king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people who were at Jerusalem, to proclaim among themselves freedom;

Jeremiah 34:9

That every man should dismiss his man-servant, and every man his maid-servant, being a Hebrew man or a Hebrew woman, free; so that no man among them should exact labor of a Jew, his brother.

Jeremiah 34:10

And all the princes had hearkened, with all the people, who had entered into the covenant, that every one should dismiss his man–servant, and every one his maid–servant, free, that no one should exact labor of them any more: and they had obeyed, and dismissed them.

Jeremiah 34:11

But they had turned afterward, and they had brought back the men–servants and the maid–servants whom they had dismissed as free, and had subjected them to become men–servants and maid–servants.

Jeremiah 34:12

And the word of the Lord [then] came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

Jeremiah 34:13

Thus hath said the Lord, the God of Israel,—I myself made a covenant with your fathers on the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondmen, saying,

Jeremiah 34:14

At the end of seven years shall ye dismiss every man his brother the Hebrew, who may have been sold unto thee; and when he hath served thee six years, then shalt thou dismiss him from thee; but your fathers hearkened not unto me, and inclined not their ear.

Jeremiah 34:15

And ye had turned this day, and done what is right in my eyes, to proclaim freedom every man to his neighbor; and ye had made a covenant before me in the house over which my name is called;

Jeremiah 34:16

But ye have turned again, and profaned my name, and ye have brought back every man his man–servant, and every man his woman–servant, whom ye had dismissed as free at their pleasure, and have subjected them to be unto you for men–servants and for women–servants.

Jeremiah 34:17

Therefore thus hath said the Lord, Ye indeed have not hearkened unto me, to proclaim freedom, every one to his brother, and every one to his neighbor: behold, I proclaim a freedom over you, saith the Lord, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you a horror unto all the kingdoms of the earth.

Jeremiah 34:18

And I will give up the men that have transgressed my covenant, who have not fulfilled the words of the covenant which they had made before me, at the calf which they cut in twain, and between the parts whereof they passed,

Jeremiah 34:19

The princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the court-servants, and the priests, and all the people of the land, who have passed between the parts of the calf;

Jeremiah 34:20

[Yea] I will give them up into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life; and their dead bodies shall become food unto the fowls of the heavens, and to the beasts of the earth.

Jeremiah 34:21

And Zedekiah the king of Judah and his princes will I give up into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life, and into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, that are [now] gone away from you.

Jeremiah 34:22

Behold, I will command, speaketh the Lord, and I will bring them back to this city; and they shall fight against it, and capture it, and burn it with fire: and the cities of Judah will I make a desert without an inhabitant.

Jeremiah 35:1

The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, [in] the days of Jehoyakim the son of Josiah the king of Judah, saying,

Jeremiah 35:2

Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak with them, and bring them into the house of the Lord, into one of the chambers, and offer them wine to drink.

Jeremiah 35:3

Then I took Yaazanyah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Chabazzinyah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites;

Jeremiah 35:4

And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sons of Chanan, the son of Yigdalyahu, the man of God, which was alongside of the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Ma'aseyahu the son of Shallum, the keeper of the door:

Jeremiah 35:5

And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites goblets full of wine, and cups; and I said unto them, Drink wine.

Jeremiah 35:6

But they said, We will not drink wine; for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father hath laid a charge on us, saying, Ye shall not drink wine, neither ye, nor your sons for ever;

Jeremiah 35:7

Nor shall ye build any house, nor sow seed, nor plant a vineyard, nor have [any such]; but in tents shall ye dwell all your days, in order that ye may live many days on the face of the land where ye may sojourn.

Jeremiah 35:8

And we have hearkened unto the voice of Jehonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he hath charged us, not to drink any wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, and our daughters;

Jeremiah 35:9

And not to build houses for our dwelling: and we never had any vineyard, or field, or seed;

Jeremiah 35:10

But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done in accordance with all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

Jeremiah 35:11

But it came to pass, when Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go into Jerusalem because of the army of the Chaldeans, and because of the army of the Syrians; and so we dwell at Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 35:12

Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah, saying,

Jeremiah 35:13

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Go and say to the men of Judah and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words? saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 35:14

Fulfilled are the words of Jehonadab the son of Rechab, that he hath commanded his sons not to drink wine: and they have not drunk any even unto this day; because they have obeyed the commandment of their father; but I, I have spoken unto you, early in the day and speaking; but ye have not hearkened unto me.

Jeremiah 35:15

And I have sent unto you all my servants the prophets, making them rise up early and sending them, saying, Do but return every man from his evil way, and amend your deeds, and go not after other gods to serve them: and so shall ye remain in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers; but ye have not inclined your ear, and have not hearkened unto me.

Jeremiah 35:16

Because the sons of Jehonadab the son of Rechab have fulfilled the commandment of their father, which he hath commanded them; but as this people have not hearkened unto me:

Jeremiah 35:17

Therefore thus hath said the Lord, the God of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have spoken concerning them; because I spoke unto them, but they would not hear; and I called unto them, but they would not answer.

Jeremiah 35:18

And unto the house of the Rechabites said Jeremiah, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Whereas ye have hearkened to the charge of Jonadab your father, and have kept all his commandments, and have done in accordance with all that he hath commanded you:

Jeremiah 35:19

Therefore thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, There shall not be wanting unto Jehonadab the son of Rechab a man to stand before me at all times.

Jeremiah 36:1

And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoyakim the son of Josiah the king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

Jeremiah 36:2

Take thee a roll-book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spoke unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even until this day.

Jeremiah 36:3

Peradventure it be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them: in order that they may return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.

Jeremiah 36:4

Then did Jeremiah call Baruch the son of Neriya: and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the Lord, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll-book.

Jeremiah 36:5

And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up; I am not able to enter into the house of the Lord:

Jeremiah 36:6

Therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the Lord before the ears of the people in the house of the Lord on the fast-day; and also before the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities shalt thou read them.

Jeremiah 36:7

Perhaps it may be that they will humbly present their supplication before the Lord, and will return every one from his evil way; for great are the anger and the fury that the Lord hath decreed against this people.

Jeremiah 36:8

And Baruch the son of Neriya did in accordance with all that Jeremiah the prophet had commanded him, to read in the book the words of the Lord in the house of the Lord.

Jeremiah 36:9

And it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoyakim the son of Josiah the king of Judah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a fast before the Lord for all the people in Jerusalem, and for all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 36:10

And Baruch read in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemaryahu the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at the entrance of the new gate of the Lord's house, before the ears of all the people.

Jeremiah 36:11

And when Michayhu the son of Gemaryahu, the son of Shaphan, had heard all the words of the Lord out of the book:

Jeremiah 36:12

He went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber; and, lo, all the princes were sitting there, even Elishama' the scribe, and Delayahu the son of Shema'yahu, and Elnathan the son of 'Achbor, and Gemaryahu the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Chananyahu, and all the princes.

Jeremiah 36:13

And Michayhu told unto them all the words which he had heard, when Baruch read in the book before the ears of the people.

Jeremiah 36:14

Thereupon sent all the princes Jehudi the son of Nethanyahu, the son of Shelemyahu, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, The roll wherein thou hast read before the ears of the people,—this take in thy hand, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriylahu took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.

Jeremiah 36:15

And they said unto him, Sit down, we pray thee, and read it before our ears. So Baruch read it before their ears.

Jeremiah 36:16

Now it came to pass, when they heard all the words, they looked terrified at each other, and they said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king of all these words.

Jeremiah 36:17

And they asked Baruch, saying, Do tell us, How didst thou write down all these words from his mouth?

Jeremiah 36:18

Then said Baruch unto them, With his mouth did he utter clearly all these words unto me, and I wrote them in the book with ink.

Jeremiah 36:19

Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, hide thyself, thou with Jeremiah; and let no man know where ye are.

Jeremiah 36:20

And they went in to the king into the court, but the roll they had put in safe keeping in the chamber of Elishama' the scribe; and they told before the ears of the king all the words.

Jeremiah 36:21

But the king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll; and he took it out of the chamber of Elishama' the scribe. And Jehudi read it before the ears of the king, and before the ears of all the princes who stood around the king.

Jeremiah 36:22

Now the king was sitting in the winter-house in the ninth month: and a pan of coals was burning before him.

Jeremiah 36:23

And it came to pass, when Jehudi had read three or four pages, that he cut it with the writer's knife, and cast it into the fire that was in the coal-pan, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was in the coal-pan.

Jeremiah 36:24

Yet they were not terrified, nor did they rend their garments, either the king, or any of his servants that had heard all these words.

Jeremiah 36:25

And although Elnathan and Delayahu and Gemaryahu had also made intercession with the king that he might not burn the roll, he would not listen to them.

Jeremiah 36:26

And the king commanded Yerachmeel the son of the king, and Serayahu the son of 'Azriel, and Shelemyahu the son of 'Abdeel, to seize on Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet; but the Lord hid them.

Jeremiah 36:27

Then came the word of the Lord to Jeremiah, after the king had burnt the roll, and the words which Baruch had written down from the mouth of Jeremiah, saying,

Jeremiah 36:28

Take thee again another roll, and write on it all the former words that have been on the first roll, which Jehoyakim the king of Judah hath burnt.

Jeremiah 36:29

And concerning Jehoyakim the king of Judah shalt thou say, Thus hath said the Lord, Thou hast indeed burnt this roll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease therefrom man and beast!

Jeremiah 36:30

Therefore thus hath said the Lord concerning Jehoyakim the king of Judah, He shall have no one to sit upon the throne of David; and his dead body shall be cast out to the heat in the day, and to the cold in the night.

Jeremiah 36:31

And I will visit on him and on his seed and on his servants their iniquity; and I will bring over them, and over the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and against the men of Judah, all the evil that I have spoken against them, while they did not hearken.

Jeremiah 36:32

And Jeremiah took another roll, and gave it to Baruch the son of Neriyahu the scribe; who wrote thereon from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoyakim the king of Judah had burnt in the fire: and there were yet added unto them many words like them.

Jeremiah 37:1

And Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned as king in the place of Conyahu the son of Jehoyakim, whom Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah.

Jeremiah 37:2

But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the Lord, which he had spoken by means of Jeremiah the prophet.

Jeremiah 37:3

And king Zedekiah sent Jehuchal the son of Shelemyah and Zephanyahu the son of Ma'asseyah the priest unto Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Pray now in our behalf unto the Lord our God.

Jeremiah 37:4

Now Jeremiah came and went out among the people; and they put him not into the prison-house.

Jeremiah 37:5

But the army of Pharaoh was come forth out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard the report of them, they withdrew from Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 37:6

Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

Jeremiah 37:7

Thus hath said the Lord, the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that hath sent you unto me to inquire of me, Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, returneth into its own land to Egypt.

Jeremiah 37:8

But the Chaldeans will come again, and fight against this city, and capture it, and burn it with fire.

Jeremiah 37:9

Thus hath said the Lord, Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans will certainly go away from us; for they will not go away.

Jeremiah 37:10

For if even ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained among them [only such] men as are pierced through: yet should they rise up, every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

Jeremiah 37:11

And it came to pass, when the army of the Chaldeans had withdrawn from Jerusalem because of the army of Pharaoh,

Jeremiah 37:12

That Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to make his escape thence in the midst of the people.

Jeremiah 37:13

But as he was in the gate of Benjamin, there was there a captain of the guardsmen, whose name was Yiriyah, the son of Shelemyah, the son of Chananyah; and he seized hold of Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Thou runnest away to the Chaldeans.

Jeremiah 37:14

But Jeremiah said, It is false; I am not running away to the Chaldeans. But he listened not to him; and Yiriyah seized hold of Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes.

Jeremiah 37:15

Thereupon were the princes wroth with Jeremiah, and struck him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe; for that had they made into a prison-house.

Jeremiah 37:16

When Jeremiah had been placed in the dungeon, within the traders' shops, where Jeremiah remained many days:

Jeremiah 37:17

King Zedekiah sent, and had him taken out, and the king asked him in his house in secret, and said, "Is there any word from the Lord?" And Jeremiah said, "There is:" and he said, Into the hand of the king of Babylon shalt thou be given up.

Jeremiah 37:18

And Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, What have I sinned against thee, and against thy servants, and against this people, that ye have put me into the prison-house?

Jeremiah 37:19

And where are now your prophets who have prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon will not come against you, and against this land?

Jeremiah 37:20

Yet now, do but hear, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let me offer my humble supplication, I pray thee, before thee, that thou wilt not make me return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

Jeremiah 37:21

Then commanded king Zedekiah that they should put Jeremiah in ward in the court of the prison, and that they should give him a loaf of bread for every day out of the bakers' street, until all the bread was spent out of the city. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

Jeremiah 38:1

And Shephatyah the son of Matthan, and Gedalyahu the son of Pashchur, and Juchal the son of Shelemياهو, and Pashchur the son of Malkiyah, heard the words that Jeremiah was speaking unto all the people, saying,

Jeremiah 38:2

Thus hath said the Lord, He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live; and he shall have his life as a booty, and shall live.

Jeremiah 38:3

Thus hath said the Lord, This city shall surely be given up into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, and he shall capture it.

Jeremiah 38:4

Thereupon said the princes unto the king, We beseech thee, let this man be put to death; for the cause that he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that are yet left in this city, and the hands of all the people, by speaking such words unto them; for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but their hurt.

Jeremiah 38:5

Then said king Zedekiah, Behold, he is in your hand; for the king is not able to do any thing against you.

Jeremiah 38:6

Then did they take Jeremiah, and cast him into the pit of Malkiyahu the son of the king, that was in the court of the prison: and they let Jeremiah down with cords; but in the pit there was no water, but mire; so that Jeremiah sunk into the mire.

Jeremiah 38:7

Now when 'Ebed-melech the Cushi, a eunuch who was in the king's house, heard that they had placed Jeremiah into the pit; while the king was sitting in the gate of Benjamin:

Jeremiah 38:8

'Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spoke to the king, saying,

Jeremiah 38:9

My lord, O king, these men have done wrong in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the pit; and he would have had to die [as it is] in the place where he was for hunger; for there is no more bread in the city.

Jeremiah 38:10

The king then commanded 'Ebed-melech the Cushi, saying, Take with thee from here thirty men, and bring up Jeremiah the prophet out of the pit, before he die.

Jeremiah 38:11

So 'Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence cast-off clothes and old rags, and let them down into the pit to Jeremiah by cords.

Jeremiah 38:12

And Ebed-melech the Cushi said unto Jeremiah, Put, I pray, these cast-off clothes and old rags under thy arm-pits beneath the cords. And Jeremiah did so.

Jeremiah 38:13

So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and brought him up out of the pit: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

Jeremiah 38:14

Then sent king Zedekiah, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that was in the house of the Lord; and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee something: conceal nothing from me.

Jeremiah 38:15

Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, If I should tell it unto thee, behold, thou wilt surely put me to death; and if I should give thee counsel, thou wilt not hearken unto me.

Jeremiah 38:16

So king Zedekiah swore unto Jeremiah secretly, saying, As the Lord liveth, who hath made for us this soul, I will not put thee to death, nor will I give thee up into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

Jeremiah 38:17

Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus hath said the Lord, the God of hosts, the God of Israel, If thou wilt indeed go forth unto the princes of the king of Babylon, then shall thy soul live, and this city shall not be burnt with fire; and thou shalt live, thou with thy household;

Jeremiah 38:18

But if thou wilt not go forth to the princes of the king of Babylon, then shall this city be given up into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou thyself shalt not escape out of their hand.

Jeremiah 38:19

Then said king Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, I am in dread of the Jews that have run away to the Chaldeans, lest these deliver me into their hand, and they might ill-use me.

Jeremiah 38:20

But Jeremiah said, They will not give [thee] up. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the Lord, in that which I speak unto thee; so it shall be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live.

Jeremiah 38:21

But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the Lord hath shown me:

Jeremiah 38:22

And behold, all the women that are left in the house of the king of Judah shall be led forth to the princes of the king of Babylon; and these women shall say, "They have enticed, and have overpersuaded thee—thy men that should have sought thy welfare; thy feet are [now] sunk in the mire, and they have withdrawn themselves backward."

Jeremiah 38:23

And all thy wives and thy children shall they bring out to the Chaldeans; and thou thyself shalt not escape out of their hand; for by the hand of the king of Babylon shalt thou be caught; and this city wilt thou cause to be burnt with fire.

Jeremiah 38:24

Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, that thou mayest not die.

Jeremiah 38:25

And if the princes should hear that I have spoken with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, tell us, we pray thee, what thou hast spoken unto the king, conceal it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; also what the king hath spoken unto thee:

Jeremiah 38:26

Then shalt thou say unto them, I presented my humble supplication before the king, that he would not send me back to the house of Jonathan, to die there.

Jeremiah 38:27

And all the princes came unto Jeremiah, and asked him: and he told them in accordance with all these words that the king had commanded. And they turned away silent from him; for the matter had not been made public.

Jeremiah 38:28

And Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was taken. And it came to pass when Jerusalem was captured,

Jeremiah 39:1

In the ninth year of Zedekiah the king of Judah, in the tenth month, that Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon came with all his army against Jerusalem, and they besieged it.

Jeremiah 39:2

[And] in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, was the city broken in.

Jeremiah 39:3

And then came all the princes of the king of Babylon, and sat down in the middle gate; [namely,] Neregal–sharezer, Samgar–nebu, Sarsechim, the chief of the eunuchs, Neregal–sharezer, the chief of the magi, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babylon.

Jeremiah 39:4

And it came to pass when Zedekiah the king of Judah saw them, and all the men of war, that they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate between the two walls: and he went out by the way of the plain.

Jeremiah 39:5

But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and they overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and they took him, and brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Chamath: and he called him to account.

Jeremiah 39:6

And the king of Babylon slaughtered the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes; also all the nobles of Judah did the king of Babylon slaughter.

Jeremiah 39:7

And the eyes of Zedekiah did he blind; and he bound him with brazen fetters, to carry him to Babylon.

Jeremiah 39:8

And the house of the king, and the houses of the people did the Chaldeans burn with fire, and the walls of Jerusalem did they pull down.

Jeremiah 39:9

And the rest of the people that remained in the city, and those who had run away that had run away to him, with the rest of the people that remained, did Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carry off into exile to Babylon.

Jeremiah 39:10

But of the poorest of the people, who had nothing, did Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard leave some in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and arable fields at the same time.

Jeremiah 39:11

And Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah through means of Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying,

Jeremiah 39:12

Take him, and direct thy eyes to him, and do him not the least harm; but as he may speak unto thee, even so do thou with him.

Jeremiah 39:13

Then sent Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, and Nebushazban, the chief of the eunuchs, and Neregal-sharezer, the chief of the magi, and all the chiefs of the king of Babylon,—

Jeremiah 39:14

Even they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and they committed him unto Gedalyahu the son of Achikam the son of Shaphan, to carry him home: and he remained in the midst of the people.

Jeremiah 39:15

But unto Jeremiah was come the word of the Lord while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

Jeremiah 39:16

Go and say to 'Ebed-melech the Cushi as followeth, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my words [to fulfillment] against this city for evil, and not for good; and they shall be accomplished before thee on that day.

Jeremiah 39:17

But I will deliver thee on that day, saith the Lord; and thou shalt not be given up into the hand of the men of whom thou hast dread.

Jeremiah 39:18

For I will surely let thee escape, and thou shalt not fall by the sword; but thy life shall be unto thee as a booty; because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

Jeremiah 40:1

The word that came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, after Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had dismissed him from Ramah, when he had taken him as he was bound in chains in the midst of all the exiles of Jerusalem and Judah, who were carried away into exile unto Babylon.

Jeremiah 40:2

Then took the captain of the guard Jeremiah, and said unto him, The Lord thy God had spoken this evil over this place;

Jeremiah 40:3

Now the Lord hath brought it [to fulfillment], and hath done according as he had spoken; because ye had sinned against the Lord, and had not hearkened to his voice; and therefore is this thing come upon you.

Jeremiah 40:4

And now, behold, I have freed thee this day from the chains which were upon thy hand. If it seem good in thy eyes to come with me to Babylon, come, and I will direct my eye unto thee; but if it seem ill in thy eyes to come with me to Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee; whither it seemeth good and proper in thy eyes to go, thither go.

Jeremiah 40:5

And as he did not yet turn about, [he said,] Go then back to Gedalyah the son of Achikam the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath appointed governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him in the midst of the people; or wheresoever it seemeth proper in thy eyes to go, go. And the captain of the guard gave him an allowance and a present, and then dismissed him.

Jeremiah 40:6

So did Jeremiah come unto Gedalyah the son of Achikam to Mizpah; and he dwelt with him in the midst of the people that had been left in the land.

Jeremiah 40:7

Now when all the captains of the armies who were in the field, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedalyahu the son of Achikam governor over the land, and that he had entrusted unto him men, and women, and children, and these of the poorest of the land, of those that had not been carried away into exile to Babylon:

Jeremiah 40:8

Then came they to Gedalyah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethanyahu, and Jochanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareach, and Serayah the son of Tanchumeth, and the sons of 'Ephai the Netophathite, and Yezanyahu the son of a Ma'achathite, they and their men.

Jeremiah 40:9

And Gedalyahu the son of Achikam the son of Shaphan swore unto them and unto their men, saying, Have no fear to serve the Chaldeans: remain in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it will be well with you.

Jeremiah 40:10

As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans, who will come unto us; but ye, gather ye together wine, and summer-fruits, and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities of which ye have taken possession.

Jeremiah 40:11

And so likewise all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the children of 'Ammon, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant unto Judah, and that he had appointed over them Gedalyahu the son of Achikam the son of Shaphan;

Jeremiah 40:12

And then did all the Jews return out of all places whither they had been driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedalyahu, unto Mizpah, and gathered together wine and summer-fruits in very great abundance.

Jeremiah 40:13

And Jochanan the son of Kareach, and all the captains of the armies that were in the field, came to Gedalyahu to Mizpah,

Jeremiah 40:14

And they said unto him, Dost thou at all know that Ba'alish the king of the children of 'Ammon hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethanyah to deprive thee of life? But Gedalyahu the son of Achikam believed them not.

Jeremiah 40:15

And Jochanan the son of Kareach said to Gedalyahu secretly in Mizpah, as followeth, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethanyah, and no man shall know of it: wherefore should he deprive thee of life, whereby all the Jews who are gathered unto thee would be scattered, and the remnant of Judah be lost?

Jeremiah 40:16

But Gedalyahu the son of Achikam said unto Jochanan the son of Kareach, Thou shalt not do this thing; for thou speakest a falsehood concerning Ishmael.

Jeremiah 41:1

Now it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethanyah the son of Elishama', of the royal seed, and the chiefs of the king, even ten men with him, came unto Gedalyahu the son of Achikam to Mizpah; and they ate there bread together in Mizpah.

Jeremiah 41:2

Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethanyah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedalyahu the son of Achikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and put to death him, whom the king of Babylon had appointed governor over the land.

Jeremiah 41:3

And all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedalyahu, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, even the men of war, did Ishmael slay.

Jeremiah 41:4

And it came to pass on the second day after he had put Gedalyahu to death, while no man knew of it,

Jeremiah 41:5

That there came certain men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, eighty men [in all], having their beards shaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with meat-offerings and frankincense in their hand, to bring the same to the house of the Lord.

Jeremiah 41:6

And Ishmael the son of Nethanyah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, going along and weeping: and it came to pass as he met them, that he said unto them, Come to Gedalyahu the son of Achikam.

Jeremiah 41:7

And it happened, as they entered into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethanyah slaughtered them, [and cast them] into the midst of the cistern, he, and the men that were with him.

Jeremiah 41:8

But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not; for we have some things hidden in the field, [such as] wheat, and barley, and oil, and honey. So he forbore, and slew them not in the midst of their brethren.

Jeremiah 41:9

And the cistern wherein Ishmael cast all the corpses of the men, whom he had slain in company with Gedalyahu, is the same which king Assa had made on account of Ba'sha the king of Israel: this did Ishmael the son of Nethanyah fill with slain persons.

Jeremiah 41:10

Then did Ishmael carry away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, the king's daughters, and all the people that were remaining in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had entrusted to Gedalyahu the son of Achikam: and Ishmael the son of Nethanyah carried them away captive, and went off to pass over to the children of Ammon.

Jeremiah 41:11

But when Jochanan the son of Kareach, and all the captains of the armies that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethanyah had done:

Jeremiah 41:12

Then did they take all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethanyah, and found him by the great water[-pool] that is near Gib'on.

Jeremiah 41:13

And it came to pass, when all the people who were with Ishmael saw Jochanan the son of Kareach, and all the captains of the armies that were with him, that they were rejoiced.

Jeremiah 41:14

And all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah turned about and returned, and went unto Jochanan the son of Kareach.

Jeremiah 41:15

But Ishmael the son of Nethanyah escaped with eight men from the presence of Jochanan, and he went to the children of 'Ammon.

Jeremiah 41:16

Then took Jochanan the son of Kareach, and all the captains of the armies that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethanyah, from Mizpah, after he had slain Gedalyah the son of Achikam, the adult males, the men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought back from Gib'on;

Jeremiah 41:17

And they went, and remained in Geruth-Kimham, which is by Beth-lechem, to go to enter into Egypt,

Jeremiah 41:18

Because of the Chaldeans; for they were afraid of them; because Ishmael the son of Nethanyah had slain Gedalyahu the son of Achikam, whom the king of Babylon had appointed governor over the land.

Jeremiah 42:1

Then came near all the captains of the armies, and Jochanan the son of Kareach, and Yezanyah the son of Hosha'yah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest,

Jeremiah 42:2

And said unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let, we beseech thee, our humble supplication be accepted before thee, and pray in our behalf unto the Lord thy God, in behalf of all this remnant; [for we are left but a few of many, as thy own eyes do see us:]

Jeremiah 42:3

That the Lord thy God may tell us the way whereon we should walk, and the thing that we should do.

Jeremiah 42:4

Then said Jeremiah the prophet unto them, I have heard you: behold, I will pray unto the Lord your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass, that whatsoever thing the Lord will answer you, I will tell unto you; I will withhold not a word from you.

Jeremiah 42:5

But they said to Jeremiah, May the Lord be a true and faithful witness against us, if we do not act entirely according to all the word with which the Lord thy God may send thee to us:

Jeremiah 42:6

Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will hearken to the voice of the Lord our God, to whom we send thee; in order that it may be well with us, when we hearken to the voice of the Lord our God.

Jeremiah 42:7

And it came to pass at the end of ten days, that the word of the Lord came unto Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 42:8

Then called he Jochanan the son of Kareach, and all the captains of the armies who were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest,

Jeremiah 42:9

And he said unto them, Thus hath said the Lord, the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to present your humble supplication before him:

Jeremiah 42:10

If ye will indeed remain in this land, then will I build you up, and I will not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up; for I have bethought me of the evil that I have done unto you.

Jeremiah 42:11

Be ye not afraid because of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid: have no fear of him, saith the Lord; for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you out of his hand.

Jeremiah 42:12

And I will give unto you mercy, that he may have mercy upon you, and let you return to your own land.

Jeremiah 42:13

But if ye say, We will not remain in this land, so as not to hearken to the voice of the Lord your God,

Jeremiah 42:14

Saying, No; but into the land of Egypt will we go, that we may not see war, nor hear the sound of the cornet, and that we may not have hunger for bread; and there will we dwell;

Jeremiah 42:15

And now therefore hear the word of the Lord, ye remnant of Judah, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, If ye will indeed set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go thither to sojourn there:

Jeremiah 42:16

Then shall the sword, of which ye are afraid, there overtake you in the land of Egypt; and the famine, whereof ye are in dread, shall there cleave close unto you in Egypt; and there shall ye die.

Jeremiah 42:17

So shall be all the men that have set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there,—they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; and they shall have none that remaineth or escapeth from the evil that I am bringing over them.

Jeremiah 42:18

For thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, As my anger and my fury were poured forth over the inhabitants of Jerusalem: so shall my fury be poured forth over you, when ye enter into Egypt; and ye shall become an oath, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a disgrace; and ye shall never see this place again.

Jeremiah 42:19

The Lord hath spoken concerning you, O ye remnant of Judah, "Ye shall not go into Egypt:" ye must know for certain that I have warned you this day.

Jeremiah 42:20

For ye have dissembled in regard to what your intentions are; for ye sent me unto the Lord your God, saying, Pray in our behalf unto the Lord our God: and in accordance with all that the Lord our God may say, so tell unto us, and we will do it.

Jeremiah 42:21

And I have told it to you this day; but ye have not hearkened to the voice of the Lord your God, and this in all with which he hath sent me unto you.

Jeremiah 42:22

But now know for certain that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go to sojourn there.

Jeremiah 43:1

And it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto the whole people all the words of the Lord their God, with which the Lord their God had sent him to them, [namely,] all these words,

Jeremiah 43:2

That then spoke 'Azaryah the son of Hosha'yah, and Jochanan the son of Kareach, and all the presumptuous men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Ye shall not go into Egypt to sojourn there;

Jeremiah 43:3

But Baruch the son of Neriyah setteth thee on against us, in order to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, or carry us away as exiles to Babylon.

Jeremiah 43:4

So Jochanan the son of Kareach, and all the captains of the armies, and all the people, hearkened not to the voice of the Lord, to remain in the land of Judah.

Jeremiah 43:5

But Jochanan the son of Kareach, and all the captains of the armies, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all the nations, whither they had been driven, to sojourn in the land of Judah;

Jeremiah 43:6

The men, and the women, and the children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedalyahu the son of Achikam the son of Shaphan; and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriyah;

Jeremiah 43:7

And they entered into the land of Egypt; for they hearkened not to the voice of the Lord; and they came as far as Thachpanches.

Jeremiah 43:8

Then came the word of the Lord unto Jeremiah in Thachpanches, saying,

Jeremiah 43:9

Take great stones in thy hand, and hide them in the mortar in the brick-kiln which is at the entrance of Pharaoh's house in Thachpanches, before the eyes of the Jewish men;

Jeremiah 43:10

And thou shalt say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will send for and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and I will set his throne above these stones that I have hidden; and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them.

Jeremiah 43:11

And he shall come and smite the land of Egypt: such as are destined for death shall be given to death; and such as are destined for captivity, to captivity; and such as are destined for the sword, to the sword.

Jeremiah 43:12

And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burn them, and carry them away captive: and he shall wrap around him the land of Egypt, as a shepherd wrappeth his garment around him; and he shall go forth from there in peace.

Jeremiah 43:13

And he shall break the statues of Bethshemesh, which is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burn with fire.

Jeremiah 44:1

The word that came to Jeremiah for all the Jews who dwell in the land of Egypt, who dwell at Migdol, and at Thachpanches, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying,

Jeremiah 44:2

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, You yourselves have seen all the evil that I have brought over Jerusalem, and over all the cities of Judah; and, behold, they are ruins this day, and no man is dwelling in them;

Jeremiah 44:3

Because of their wickedness which they had committed to provoke me to anger, by going to burn incense, to serve other gods, whom they did not know, either they, you, or your fathers.

Jeremiah 44:4

And I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, making them rise early and sending them, saying, Oh, do not commit this abominable thing which I hate.

Jeremiah 44:5

But they hearkened not, and inclined not their ear to turn away from their wickedness, so as not to burn incense unto other gods.

Jeremiah 44:6

Whereupon my fury and my anger were poured forth, and were enkindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: and they are become ruins, a desert, as at this day.

Jeremiah 44:7

And now thus hath said the Lord, the God of hosts, the God of Israel, Wherefore do ye commit so great an evil against your souls, so as to cut off unto you man and woman, child and suckling, out of the midst of Judah, so as not to leave you any remainder,

Jeremiah 44:8

By provoking me unto wrath with the works of your hands, in burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye are come to sojourn there, in order to cut yourselves off, and in order that ye might become a curse and a disgrace among all the nations of the earth?

Jeremiah 44:9

Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they had committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?

Jeremiah 44:10

They are not humbled even up to this day, and they are not afraid, and they walk not in my law, nor in my statutes, that I have set before you and before your fathers.

Jeremiah 44:11

Therefore thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.

Jeremiah 44:12

And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all come to their end, and in the land of Egypt shall they fall: by the sword [and] by the famine shall they come to their end; from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine shall they die; and they shall become an oath, an astonishment, and a curse, and a disgrace.

Jeremiah 44:13

And I will inflict punishment on those that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have inflicted punishment on Jerusalem, through the sword, through the famine, and through the pestilence:

Jeremiah 44:14

So that there shall be no one that escapeth or remaineth of the remnant of Judah, who are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, that they should return into the land of Judah, to which they direct [the desire of] their soul to return thither to dwell there; for they shall not return, but such as shall escape.

Jeremiah 44:15

Then did all the men who knew that their wives were burning incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, and all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answer Jeremiah, saying,

Jeremiah 44:16

Respecting the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of the Lord, we will not hearken unto thee.

Jeremiah 44:17

For to a surety we will do all the word that is gone forth out of our own mouth, to burn incense unto the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, as we have done, we, and our fathers, our kings, and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: when we had plenty of food, and fared well, and saw no evil.

Jeremiah 44:18

But since the time we have left off to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her, have we had a lack of every thing; and we have come to our end through the sword and through the famine.

Jeremiah 44:19

And when we burnt incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink-offerings unto her,—was this without [the consent of] our husbands, that we did make cakes for her to make her image, and pour out drink-offerings unto her?

Jeremiah 44:20

Then said Jeremiah unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people who had answered him [with that] word, saying,

Jeremiah 44:21

Behold, it was the incense that ye burnt in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye, and your fathers, your kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, which the Lord remembered, and which came into his mind;

Jeremiah 44:22

So that the Lord could no longer endure it, because of the evil of your doings, because of the abominations which ye had committed: therefore is your land become a ruin, and an [object of] astonishment, and a curse, without an inhabitant, as at this day.

Jeremiah 44:23

Because that ye had burnt incense, and because ye had sinned against the Lord, and had not hearkened to the voice of the Lord, and had not walked in his law, in his statutes, and in his testimonies: therefore did this evil befall you, as it is this day.

Jeremiah 44:24

And Jeremiah said [farther] to all the people, and to all the women, Hear the word of the Lord, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt,

Jeremiah 44:25

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouth, and fulfilled with your hands, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink-offerings unto her: ye will fully accomplish your vows, and fully perform your vows.

Jeremiah 44:26

Therefore hear ye the word of the Lord, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt, Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith the Lord, that my name shall no more be called by the mouth of any man of Judah, saying, "As the Lord Eternal liveth," in all the land of Egypt.

Jeremiah 44:27

Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good: and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall come to their end through the sword and through the famine, until they be destroyed.

Jeremiah 44:28

Yet some that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, but few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, that are come into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose words shall stand firm, mine, or theirs.

Jeremiah 44:29

And this shall be unto you the sign, saith the Lord, that I will inflict punishment on you in this place, in order that ye may know that my words shall surely stand firm against you for evil:

Jeremiah 44:30

Thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will give Pharaoh—chopra' the king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of those that seek his life, as I gave Zedekiah the king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, his enemy, and who had sought his life.

LAMENTATIONS

Lamentations 1:1

Oh how doth she sit solitary—the city that was full of people is become like a widow! she that was so great among the nations, the princess among the provinces, is become tributary!

Lamentations 1:2

She weepeth sorely in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks; she hath none to comfort her among all her lovers; all her friends have dealt treacherously toward her, they are become her enemies.

Lamentations 1:3

Exiled is Judah because of affliction, and because of the greatness of servitude she dwelleth indeed among the nations, she findeth no rest: all her pursuers have overtaken her between the narrow passes.

Lamentations 1:4

The ways to Zion are in mourning, because none come to the solemn feasts; all her gates are desolate; her priests sigh; her virgins moan, and she suffereth herself from bitter grief.

Lamentations 1:5

Her adversaries are become chiefs, her enemies prosper; for the Lord hath caused her to grieve because of the multitude of her transgressions: her babes are gone into captivity before the adversary.

Lamentations 1:6

And there is gone forth from the daughter of Zion all her splendor: her princes are become like harts that have found no pasture, and they flee without strength before the pursuer.

Lamentations 1:7

Jerusalem remembereth in the days of her affliction and of her miseries all her magnificent things which have been in the days of old: when her people fell into the hand of the adversary, with none to help her, the adversaries looked at her, they laughed at the cessation [of her glory].

Lamentations 1:8

A grievous sin did Jerusalem commit, therefore is she become a wanderer: all that honored her hold her in contempt, because they have seen her nakedness; she also sigheth, and turneth [ashamed] backward.

Lamentations 1:9

[With] her uncleanness on her skirts, she thought not of her latter end: therefore is she come down wonderfully, without one to comfort her. Behold, O Lord, my affliction; for the enemy hath become great [above me].

Lamentations 1:10

His hand hath the adversary spread out over all her magnificent things; for she hath seen nations entering into her sanctuary, of whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.

all her people sigh, they are seeking bread; they have given their precious things for food to refresh their soul: see, O Lord, and look, how I have been brought low.

From on high hath he sent a fire into my bones, and breaketh [them] one by one: he hath spread a net for my feet, he hath caused me to return backward; he hath made me desolate, sick all the day.

Lamentations 1:14

Bound fast is the yoke of my transgressions by his hand,— they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck; he hath made my strength to stumble: the Lord hath given me up into the hands of [those against whom] I am not able to rise up.

Lamentations 1:15

The Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me; he hath called an assembly against me to crush my young men: a winepress hath the Lord trodden over the virgin, the daughter of Judah.

For these things do I weep; my eye, my eye runneth down with water; because far from me is the comforter that should refresh my soul: my children are in misery, because the enemy hath prevailed."

Zion spreadeth forth her hands, without one to comfort her; the Lord hath given a charge concerning Jacob to all his adversaries round about him: Jerusalem is become as an unclean woman among them.

"Righteous is the Lord; for against his orders have I rebelled: oh do hear, all ye people, and see my pain! my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

Lamentations 1:19

I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my priests and my elders perished in the city; for they sought food for themselves to refresh their soul.

Lamentations 1:20

See, O Lord! how I am in distress; my bowels are heated; my heart is turned round within me; because I have grievously rebelled: abroad bereaveth the sword, at home, like the pestilence.

Lamentations 1:21

They hear how greatly I sigh, [yet] there is none to comfort me; all my enemies have heard of my misfortune, they are glad that thou hast done it: oh that thou wouldst bring the day which thou hast proclaimed [against me], that they may become like me.

Let all their wickedness come before thee, and do unto them as thou hast done unto me because of all my transgressions; for many are my sighs, and my heart is sick."

The Lord hath destroyed and hath not pitied all the habitation of Jacob: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong-holds of the daughter of Judah: he hath thrown them down to the ground; he hath defiled the kingdom and its princes.

Lamentations 2:3

He hath hewn away in his fierce anger the whole horn of Israel; he hath drawn back his right hand before the enemy; and he burnt against Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.

He bent his bow like an enemy; he held out his right hand as an adversary, and slew all that were pleasant to the eye: in the tent of the daughter of Zion did he pour out like fire his fury.

The Lord became like an enemy; he destroyed Israel, he destroyed all her palaces, he ruined her strong-holds, and he increased in the midst of the daughter of Judah groaning and wailing.

Lamentations 2:6

And he violently wasted, as if it were a garden, his tabernacle; he destroyed his place of assembly: [yea,] the Lord hath caused to be forgotten in Zion the solemn feast and the day of rest, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger both king and priest.

Lamentations 2:7

The Lord hath cast off his altar, he hath made void his sanctuary, he hath surrendered into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces: they have made their voice to resound in the house of the Lord, as on a day of a solemn feast.

Lamentations 2:8

The Lord hath resolved to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion; he stretched out the measuring-line, he withdrew not his hand from destroying: and he caused the rampart and the wall to mourn; together they languish.

Lamentations 2:9

Sunk into the ground are her gates, he hath ruined and broken her bars: her king and her princes are among the nations without any law; her prophets also obtain no more any vision from the Lord.

Lamentations 2:10

The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, they keep silence: they have thrown dust upon their head; they have girt themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem have brought down low their head to the ground.

Lamentations 2:11

My eyes do fail with tears, my bowels are heated, my liver is poured upon the earth because of the breach of the daughter of my people; because babes and sucklings faint away in the streets of the town.

To their mothers they say, Where is corn and wine? when they faint away like the deadly wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul is poured out on the bosom of their mother.

Lamentations 2:13

What shall I take to witness for thee? what shall I compare unto thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? what shall I find equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for great like the sea is thy breach; who can bring healing to thee?

Lamentations 2:14

Thy prophets foresaw for thee vain and deceptive things; and they did not lay open thy iniquity, to cause thy backsliders to return: but they foresaw for thee prophecies of falsehood and seduction.

Lamentations 2:15

All that pass by [this] way clap their hands on account of thee; they hiss and shake their head over the daughter of Jerusalem: [saying,] Is this the city that men called The perfection of beauty. The joy for all the earth?

Lamentations 2:16

All thy enemies open wide their mouth against thee; they hiss and gnash their teeth; they say, We have swallowed her up: ah, truly this is the day that we hoped for; we have found, we have seen it.

Lamentations 2:17

The Lord hath done what he had resolved; he hath accomplished his word which he had ordained already in the days of old; he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied; and he hath caused to rejoice over thee thy enemy, he hath raised on high the horn of thy adversaries.

Lamentations 2:18

Their heart crieth unto the Lord, O thou wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a stream day and night; allow thyself no rest; let not the apple of thy eye be still.

Lamentations 2:19

Arise, complain aloud in the night, in the beginning of the watches; pour out like water thy heart before the face of the Lord: lift up toward him thy hands because of the life of thy babes, that faint away for hunger at the corner of all the streets.

Lamentations 2:20

See, O Lord, and behold! to whom hast thou ever done the like? Shall women, then, eat their own fruit, the babes they have tenderly nursed? or shall there be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord the priest and the prophet?

Lamentations 2:21

There lie down on the ground in the streets the lad and the ancient: my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slain on the day of thy anger; thou hast slaughtered, thou hast not pitied.

Lamentations 2:22

Thou hast called, as it were on a festive day, my evil neighbors from round about; and there was not on the day of the Lord's anger one that escaped or remained: those that I had tenderly nursed and reared up my enemy brought to their end.

I am the man who hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

And my soul hath given up all thoughts of peace: I forget happiness.

And I said, Lost is my strength, my expectation also from the Lord.

Lamentations 3:19

Remembering my affliction and [the cause of] my complaint, wormwood and poison.

Remembering [this] continually my soul is bowed down deeply within me.

Lamentations 3:21

[Yet] this answer will I give to my heart: therefore will I wait [in confidence].

It is through the Lord's kindness that we are not consumed, because his mercies have no end;

The Lord is my portion, saith my soul, therefore will I wait for him.

Lamentations 3:25

It is good that one should wait and this in silence for the salvation of the Lord.

Lamentations 3:27

It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth;

Lamentations 3:28

That he sit in solitude and be silent; because He hath laid it upon him;

Lamentations 3:29

That he put his mouth in the dust; perhaps there still is hope;

Lamentations 3:30

That he offer his cheek to him that smiteth him; that he be satisfied with reproach.

Lamentations 3:31

For the Lord will not cast off for ever;

For he doth not afflict of his own will, and aggrieve the children of men.

Lamentations 4:7

Her crowned princes were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more brilliant in body than pearls, more than the sapphire, their countenance:

Darker than black is now their visage; they are not to be recognized in the streets: their skin is shriveled fast upon their bones; it is dry, it is become like wood.

Lamentations 4:12

The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world, would not believe that an adversary or an enemy could ever enter within the gates of Jerusalem.

They wandered about blindly in the streets, they became defiled with blood; so that men were not able to touch their garments.

Depart, ye unclean, they called out unto them: depart, depart, touch not. So they flee away and also wander about: men say among the nations, They shall no more sojourn there.

Lamentations 4:16

The anger of the Lord hath divided them; he will no more look at them: the faces of the priests they respected not, and the elders they spared not.

Lamentations 4:17

Even now our eyes anxiously wait for our valueless help: in our waiting have we waited for a nation that cannot help.

Lamentations 4:18

They hunt our steps, that we cannot walk in our streets: our end is near, our days are full: for our end is come.

Lamentations 4:19

Swifter were our pursuers than the eagles of heaven: upon the mountains did they hotly follow us: in the wilderness did they lie in wait for us.

Brought to an end is thy iniquity, O daughter of Zion; He will no more carry thee away into exile: He visiteth thy iniquity, O daughter of Edom; He layeth open thy sins.

Lamentations 5:1

Remember, O Lord, what hath occurred to us, look down, and behold our disgrace.

Lamentations 5:2

Our inheritance is turned over to strangers, our houses to aliens.

Up to our necks are we pursued: we are fatigued, and no rest is allowed us.

To Egypt do we stretch out our hand, to Asshur, to be satisfied with bread.

Servants rule over us: no one delivereth us out of their hand.

At the peril of our life must we bring home our bread, because of the sword of the wilderness.

Lamentations 5:10

Our skin gloweth like an oven, because of the heat of famine.

Lamentations 5:11

Women have they ravished in Zion, virgins, in the cities of Judah.

Lamentations 5:12

Princes were hanged up by their hand: the faces of elders were not honored.

Young men they bore to the mill, and boys stumbled under the wood.

Lamentations 5:14

The elders have ceased from the gate, young men, from their singing.

Lamentations 5:15

Ceased hath the joy of our heart: our dance is changed into mourning.

Fallen is the crown of our head: woe to us, for we have sinned.

Lamentations 5:17

Because of this is our heart made sick; for these things are our eyes dimmed;

O thou, Lord, wilt truly abide for ever, thy throne existeth throughout all generations.

Wherefore wilt thou forget us for ever! wilt thou forsake us for so long a time?

Lamentations 5:21

Cause us to return, O Lord, unto thee, and we will return: renew our days as of old.

Lamentations 5:22

For wouldst thou entirely reject us, be wroth with us to the uttermost?

EZEKIEL

Ezekiel 1:1

And it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I was in the midst of the exiles by the river Kebar, that the heavens were opened, and I saw divine visions.

Ezekiel 1:2

On the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of the exile of king Jehoyachin,

Ezekiel 1:3

Came the word of the Lord expressly unto Ezekiel the son of Buzi, the priest, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Kebar; and there came upon him there the inspiration of the Lord.

Ezekiel 1:4

And I saw, and behold, a storm-wind came out of the north, a great cloud, and a flaming fire, and a brightness was on it round about; and out of the midst of it was like the glitter of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

Ezekiel 1:5

And out of the midst thereof [I saw] the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance: They had the likeness of a man.

Ezekiel 1:6

And every one had four faces, and every one of them had four wings.

Ezekiel 1:7

And their feet were straight feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot: and they sparkled like the glitter of burnished copper.

Ezekiel 1:8

And hands of man [were visible] from beneath their wings on their four sides: and their faces and their wings [were alike] on all these four.

Ezekiel 1:9

Their wings were joined one to the other: they turned not about in their going; they went every one in the direction of one of their faces.

Ezekiel 1:10

And the likeness of their faces was the face of a man; and the face of a lion, on the right side for all four of them; and the face of an ox on the left side for all four of them; and the face of an eagle for all four of them.

Ezekiel 1:11

Thus were their faces: and their wings were spread out upward; every one had two joined one to another, and two covered their bodies.

Ezekiel 1:12

And they went every one in the direction of one of his faces: whither the spirit was directed to go, they went; they turned not about in their going.

Ezekiel 1:13

As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like coals of fire, burning as with the appearance of torches; this [fire] it was which passed along between the living creatures: and a brightness was about the fire, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

Ezekiel 1:14

And the living creatures ran backward and forward like the appearance of a flash of lightning.

Ezekiel 1:15

And I looked on the living creatures, and, behold, there was one wheel upon the earth close by the living creatures, by their four front faces.

Ezekiel 1:16

The appearance of the wheels and their work was like the color of a chrysolite; and all four had one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as though it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

Ezekiel 1:17

Toward their four sides they went in their going: they turned not round in their going.

Ezekiel 1:18

As for their circumferences, they were so high that they excited fear: and their fellows were full of eyes round about on all these four.

Ezekiel 1:19

And when the living creatures went, the wheels went near to them: and when the living creatures lifted themselves up from the earth, the wheels lifted themselves up.

Ezekiel 1:20

Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went; [for] thither was [their] spirit to go: and the wheels lifted themselves up at the same time with them; for the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

Ezekiel 1:21

When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those lifted themselves up from the earth, the wheels lifted themselves up at the same time with them; for the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

Ezekiel 1:22

And the likeness of a vault was over the head of the living creatures, [shining] like the glitter of the purest crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

Ezekiel 1:23

And under the vault their wings were straight, the one toward the other: every one had two, which covered them, and every one had two, which covered them,—[namely,] their bodies.

Ezekiel 1:24

And I heard the sound of their wings, like the sound of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, when they went, the sound of [their] speech, as the noise of an army: when they stood still, they let down their wings.

Ezekiel 1:25

And there was a voice from the vault that was over their head: when they stood still, they let down their wings.

Ezekiel 1:26

And above the vault that was over their head was like the appearance of a sapphire—stone, the likeness of a throne: and upon the likeness of the throne was a likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it.

Ezekiel 1:27

And I saw as if it were the glitter of amber, as the appearance of fire within it round about, from the appearance of his loins upward; and from the appearance of his loins downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about.

Ezekiel 1:28

Like the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud on the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about: this was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the Lord. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard the voice of one that spoke.

Ezekiel 2:1

And he said unto me, Son of man, stand up upon thy feet, and I will speak with thee.

Ezekiel 2:2

And a spirit entered into me as he spoke unto me, and it placed me upon my feet, and I heard him that spoke unto me.

Ezekiel 2:3

And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to rebellious tribes that have rebelled against me: they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even until this very day.

Ezekiel 2:4

And the children are impudent of face, and obdurate of heart: I send thee unto them; and thou shalt say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 2:5

And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, [for they are a rebellious family,] shall yet know that a prophet hath been among them.

Ezekiel 2:6

And thou, son of man,—thou shalt not be afraid of them, and of their words thou shalt have no fear, though they be briers and thorns with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: of their words be not afraid, and at their presence be not dismayed; for they are a rebellious family.

Ezekiel 2:7

And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear; for they are rebellious.

Ezekiel 2:8

But thou, son of man, hear what I am speaking unto thee, Be not thou rebellious like this rebellious family: open thy mouth, and eat what I give unto thee.

Ezekiel 2:9

And then I looked, and behold, a hand was stretched out toward me; and, lo, a roll—book was therein;

Ezekiel 2:10

And he spread it out before me; and it was written within and without: and there were written therein lamentations, and dirges, and woe.

Ezekiel 3:1

And he said unto me, Son of man, eat what thou findest: eat this roll, and go, speak unto the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 3:2

So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat this roll.

Ezekiel 3:3

And he said unto me, Son of man, feed thy belly, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I am giving unto thee. And I ate it; and it was in my mouth like honey in sweetness.

Ezekiel 3:4

And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them.

Ezekiel 3:5

For not to a people of an obscure speech and of a difficult tongue art thou sent, but to the house of Israel;

Ezekiel 3:6

Not to many people of an obscure speech and of a difficult tongue, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, had I sent thee to them, they would truly have hearkened unto thee.

Ezekiel 3:7

But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me; for all the house of Israel have a bold forehead, and a hard heart.

Ezekiel 3:8

Behold, I have made thy face strong against their face, and thy forehead strong against their forehead.

Ezekiel 3:9

As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: thou shalt not fear them, nor shalt thou be dismayed at their presence, though they be a rebellious family.

Ezekiel 3:10

And he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I will speak unto thee receive in thy heart, and hear [them] with thy ears.

Ezekiel 3:11

And go, get thee to those in exile, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal: whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

Ezekiel 3:12

Then a spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, [saying,] Blessed be the glory of the Lord from his place.

Ezekiel 3:13

[I heard] also the sound of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another, and the sound of the wheels at the same time with them, and the sound of a great rushing.

Ezekiel 3:14

So a spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I walked in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit, and the inspiration of the Lord was strong upon me.

Ezekiel 3:15

Then came I to the exiles at Tel–abib, who dwelt by the river Kebar, and I remained where they dwelt, and I remained there in a state of confusion among them seven days.

Ezekiel 3:16

And it came to pass at the end of seven days, That the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 3:17

Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: and thou shalt hear the word out of my mouth, and give them warning from me.

Ezekiel 3:18

When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou dost not give him warning, and speakest not to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life: the same wicked man shall die through his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thy hand.

Ezekiel 3:19

But thou,—if thou hast warned the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way: he shall indeed die in his iniquity; but thou hast surely delivered thy soul.

Ezekiel 3:20

Again, When a righteous man do turn from his righteousness, and do what is wrong: then will I lay a stumbling–block before him, [so that] he shall die; yet if thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his acts of righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require from thy hand.

Ezekiel 3:21

But if thou hast truly warned him,—the righteous, that the righteous should not sin, and he doth not sin: he shall surely live, because he attended to the warning, and thou hast surely delivered thy own soul.

Ezekiel 3:22

And the inspiration of the Lord came there over me; and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the valley, and there will I speak with thee.

Ezekiel 3:23

And I arose, and went forth into the valley; and, behold, there was the glory of the Lord standing, like that glory which I had seen by the river Kebar: and I fell down on my face.

Ezekiel 3:24

Then entered a spirit into me, and placed me upright on my feet, and spoke with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself up within thy house.

Ezekiel 3:25

But thou, O son of man, behold, they put ropes upon thee, and bind thee with them, that thou canst not go out among them:

Ezekiel 3:26

And I will let thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not become to them a man who reproveth; for they are a rebellious family.

Ezekiel 3:27

But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear; for they are a rebellious family.

Ezekiel 4:1

But thou, O son of man, take thyself a tile, and lay it before thee, and engrave upon it a city, [namely,] Jerusalem:

Ezekiel 4:2

And place around it a siege, and build works of attack against it, and cast up a mound against it; and arrange around it encampments, and place against it battering rams round about.

Ezekiel 4:3

Moreover take thou unto thyself an iron pan, and set it up as a wall of iron between thee and the city: and direct thy face against it, that it may be placed in a state of siege, and lay siege against it. This shall be a sign for the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 4:4

And as for thyself, lie upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: [after] the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it shalt thou bear their iniquity.

Ezekiel 4:5

But as for myself, I lay upon thee the years of their iniquity, after the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days: so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 4:6

And when thou hast made an end of them, thou shalt lie on thy right side, the second time, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days: a day each for a year, a day for a year do I lay it on thee.

Ezekiel 4:7

And toward the siege of Jerusalem shalt thou direct thy face with thy arm uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.

Ezekiel 4:8

And, behold, I will lay ropes upon thee, that thou mayest not turn thyself from one side to the other, till thou hast made an end of the days of thy siege.

Ezekiel 4:9

But thou take unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make thyself bread thereof, [after] the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, three hundred and ninety days, shalt thou eat it.

Ezekiel 4:10

And thy food which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels for every day: from one time to the other time shalt thou eat it.

Ezekiel 4:11

And water shalt thou drink by measure, the sixth part of a hin: from one time to the other time shalt thou drink [it].

Ezekiel 4:12

And in form of a barley-cake shalt thou eat it, and this shalt thou bake with balls of human excrement before their eyes.

Ezekiel 4:13

And the Lord said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their bread unclean among the nations whither I will drive them.

Ezekiel 4:14

Then said I, Ah Lord Eternal! behold, my soul hath not been defiled; and that which dieth of itself, or is torn in pieces, have I never eaten from my youth up even until now; and never is flesh of abomination come into my mouth.

Ezekiel 4:15

Then said he unto me, Lo, I have given thee cow's dung instead of human excrement; and thou shalt prepare thy bread thereupon.

Ezekiel 4:16

And he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem; and they shall eat bread by weight, and with anxious care; and they shall drink water by measure, and in confusion;

Ezekiel 4:17

In order that they may want bread and water, and be confounded one with the other, and pine away for their iniquity.

Ezekiel 5:1

And thou, son of man, take unto thyself a sharp sword, a barber's razor shalt thou take for it unto thyself, and cause it to pass over thy head and over thy beard: then take unto thee balances for weighing, and divide the hair.

Ezekiel 5:2

One third part shalt thou burn with fire in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are completed; and thou shalt take another third part, and smite [it] round about it with the sword; and the other third part shalt thou scatter to the wind: and I will draw out a sword after the same.

Ezekiel 5:3

And take thence a few in number, and tie them up in the corners of thy garment.

Ezekiel 5:4

And from these again shalt thou take some, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire: therefrom shall a fire go forth unto all the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 5:5

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, This is Jerusalem, which I had set it in the midst of the nations and countries that are round about her.

Ezekiel 5:6

But she rebelled against my ordinances more wickedly than the nations, and against my statutes, more than the countries that are round about her; for my ordinances they have despised, and as for my statutes, they have not walked in them.

Ezekiel 5:7

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because ye have given yourselves up to evil more than the nations that are round about you, have not walked in my statutes, and have not executed my ordinances, and not even acted according to the ordinances of the nations that are round about you:

Ezekiel 5:8

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I, also I am against thee, and I will execute judgments in the midst of thee before the eyes of the nations.

Ezekiel 5:9

And I will do in thee that which I have never done, and the like of which I will never do any more, because of all thy abominations.

Ezekiel 5:10

Therefore fathers shall devour their children in the midst of thee, and children shall devour their fathers: and I will execute judgments on thee, and I will scatter all thy remnant unto all the winds.

Ezekiel 5:11

Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord Eternal, Surely, because thou hast made unclean my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thy abominations: therefore will I also diminish [thee]; and my eye shall not show pity, and I also will not spare.

Ezekiel 5:12

A third part of thee shall die through the pestilence, and come through famine to their end in the midst of thee; and another third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and the other third part will I scatter unto all the winds, and a sword will I draw out after them.

Ezekiel 5:13

Thus shall my anger be accomplished, and I will cause my fury to rest upon them, and I will satisfy myself: and they shall know that I the Lord have spoken it in my zeal, when I have let out all my fury on them.

Ezekiel 5:14

Yea, I will render thee a ruin, and a disgrace among the nations that are round about thee, before the eyes of every one that passeth by.

Ezekiel 5:15

And she shall be a disgrace and a taunt, a warning and an astonishment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I execute judgments on thee in anger and in fury and in furious chastisements,—I the Lord have spoken it,—

Ezekiel 5:16

When I send out among them the dreadful arrows of famine, which [ever] were the cause of destruction, which I will send out to destroy you; and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break unto you the staff of bread:

Ezekiel 5:17

So will I let loose over you famine and wild beasts, and they shall make thee childless; and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and the sword will I bring over thee. I the Lord have spoken it.

Ezekiel 6:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 6:2

Son of man, set thy face against the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them,

Ezekiel 6:3

And thou shalt say, O mountains of Israel, hear ye the word of the Lord Eternal! Thus hath said the Lord Eternal to the mountains, and to the hills, to the brooks, and to the valleys, Behold, I, even I, will bring over you the sword, and I will destroy your high-places.

Ezekiel 6:4

And your altars shall be made desolate, and your sun-images shall be broken: and I will cause your slain ones to fall before your idols.

Ezekiel 6:5

And I will lay the carcasses of the children of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

Ezekiel 6:6

In all your dwelling-places the cities shall be laid in ruins, and the high-places shall be made desolate; in order that your altars may be laid in ruins and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and annihilated, and your sun-images may be cut down, and your works may be blotted out.

Ezekiel 6:7

And the slain shall fall in the midst of you: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 6:8

Yet will I leave [some]; that ye shall have some that escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered in the [various] countries.

Ezekiel 6:9

And those of you that escape shall remember me among the nations among whom they shall have been carried captive, when I shall have broken their licentious heart, which had departed from me, even with their eyes, which were gone astray after their idols: and they shall loathe themselves on account of the evil deeds which they have committed with all their abominations.

Ezekiel 6:10

And they shall know that I am the Lord: not for naught have I spoken that I would do unto them this evil.

Ezekiel 6:11

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Strike thy hands together, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas for all the dreadful abominations of the house of Israel! who will have to fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

Ezekiel 6:12

He that is afar off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine: thus will I let out all my fury on them.

Ezekiel 6:13

And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when their slain ones shall lie in the midst of their idols round about their altars, on every high hill, upon all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick-branched oak,—places where they presented sweet savor to all their idols.

Ezekiel 6:14

And I will stretch out my hand over them, and I will render the land desolate and waste, more than the wilderness toward Diblath, in all their habitations: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 7:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 7:2

And thou, son of man, thus hath said the Lord Eternal concerning the land of Israel, There is an end! the end is coming over the four corners of the land.

Ezekiel 7:3

Now cometh the end over thee, and I will let loose my anger against thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways, and I will lay upon thee all thy abominations.

Ezekiel 7:4

And my eye shall not show pity upon thee, and I will not spare thee; for thy own ways will I lay upon thee, and thy abominations shall come in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 7:5

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, An evil, a peculiar evil, behold, is coming.

Ezekiel 7:6

An end is coming, there is coming the end: it waketh up against thee; behold, [the evil] cometh.

Ezekiel 7:7

The evil decree is come against thee, O thou inhabitant of the land: the time is come, near is the day of tumult, and not the joyful call on the mountains.

Ezekiel 7:8

Now will I in a short time pour out my fury over thee, and I will let out all my anger against thee, and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and I will lay upon thee all thy abominations.

Ezekiel 7:9

And my eye shall not show pity, and I will not spare: according to thy ways will I lay [evil] on thee, and thy abominations shall come in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the Lord that smiteth.

Ezekiel 7:10

Behold the day, behold, it is coming; the evil decree is gone forth; the staff hath blossomed, presumption hath budded;

Ezekiel 7:11

The violence is grown up into the staff of wickedness: nothing is left of them, and nothing of their multitude, and nothing of theirs; and there shall be no lamenting for them.

Ezekiel 7:12

The time is coming, the day occurreth; let the buyer not rejoice, and let the seller not mourn; for wrath is against all her multitude.

Ezekiel 7:13

For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, although their soul were yet alive; for the vision is against all her multitude; no one shall return; but the soul of every one is fastened to his iniquity, they do not strengthen themselves [to repent].

Ezekiel 7:14

They have blown the cornet, every one maketh himself ready; but no one goeth to the battle; for my wrath is against all her multitude.

Ezekiel 7:15

The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine are within: he that is in the field shall die by the sword; and he that is in the city, him shall famine and pestilence devour.

Ezekiel 7:16

But they that escape of them shall escape, and they shall be on the mountains like the doves of the valleys, all of which are moaning, every one in his iniquity.

Ezekiel 7:17

All hands become feeble, and all knees go into water.

Ezekiel 7:18

And people gird themselves with sackcloth, and shuddering covereth them: and upon all faces there is shame, and upon all their heads there is baldness.

Ezekiel 7:19

Their silver shall they cast into the streets, and their gold shall be as though it were unclean: their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them on the day of the wrath of the Lord; they shall not satisfy their souls, and not fill their bowels; because it was the stumbling-block for their iniquity.

Ezekiel 7:20

And as for the beauty of his ornament, which he had instituted for [their] pride: even therein did they make the images of their abominations, their detestable things; therefore have I rendered it unclean for them.

Ezekiel 7:21

And I will give it up into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil: and they shall pollute it.

Ezekiel 7:22

And I will turn away my face from them, and they shall pollute my place where I dwelt in secret; and therein shall barbarians enter and pollute it.

Ezekiel 7:23

Make chains; for the land is full of blood-guiltiness, and the city is full of violence.

Ezekiel 7:24

Therefore will I bring the worst of nations, and they shall take possession of their houses: I will also cause the pride of the mighty to cease; and their holy places shall be polluted.

Ezekiel 7:25

Destruction cometh: and they will seek peace, but there shall be none.

Ezekiel 7:26

Mishap shall come upon mishap, and report shall be spread upon report: and then will they seek a vision from the prophet; but the law shall be lost from the priest, and counsel from the ancients.

Ezekiel 7:27

The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with distress, and the hands of the people of the land shall be powerless: after their way will I do unto them, and according to their own manners will I judge them; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 8:1

And it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, on the fifth day of the month, that I was sitting in my house, and the elders of Judah were sitting before me; and there fell upon me there the inspiration of the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 8:2

And I saw, and, behold, there was a likeness similar to the appearance of fire; from the appearance of his loins downward, it was fire; and from his loins upward, it was similar to the appearance of a bright light, like the glitter of amber.

Ezekiel 8:3

And he stretched forth the form of a hand, and took me by the locks of my head; and a spirit bore me between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner gate that looketh toward the north, where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoketh to wrath.

Ezekiel 8:4

And, behold, there was the glory of the God of Israel, like the appearance which I had seen in the valley.

Ezekiel 8:5

And he said unto me, Son of man, do but lift up thy eyes in the direction toward the north. So I lifted up my eyes in the direction toward the north, and behold northward at the gate of the altar [there was] this image of jealousy at the entrance.

Ezekiel 8:6

Then said he unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they are doing? great abominations are they that the house of Israel commit here, to make me go far away from my sanctuary; but thou shalt yet see still other great abominations.

Ezekiel 8:7

And he brought me to the door of the court: and I looked, and behold there was a hole in the wall.

Ezekiel 8:8

Then said he unto me, Son of man, do break [an opening] in the wall: and I broke [an opening] in the wall, and, behold, there was a door.

Ezekiel 8:9

And he said unto me, Go in, and see the wicked abominations which they are doing here.

Ezekiel 8:10

So I went in and saw; and behold there was every form of creeping things, and cattle, abominations, and all the idols of the house of Israel, engraven upon the wall all round about.

Ezekiel 8:11

And seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and Yaazanyahu the son of Shaphan standing in the midst of them, were standing before them, and every man had his censer in his hand; and a thick curling cloud of incense was ascending upward.

Ezekiel 8:12

Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the elders of the house of Israel are doing in the dark, every man in his image-chambers? for they say, The Lord seeth us not: the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

Ezekiel 8:13

And he said unto me, Thou shalt yet again see still other great abominations that they are doing.

Ezekiel 8:14

And he brought me to the entrance of the gate of the Lord's house which was on the north side: and, behold, there sat the women weeping for Thammuz.

Ezekiel 8:15

Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Thou shalt yet again see still other greater abominations than these.

Ezekiel 8:16

And he brought me into the inner court of the Lord's house, and, behold, at the door of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the east; and they were prostrating themselves eastward to the sun.

Ezekiel 8:17

Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it too light a thing for the house of Judah to commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and they constantly repeat to provoke me to anger; and, lo, they stretch forth the branch to their nose.

Ezekiel 8:18

Therefore I also will deal in fury; my eye shall not look with pity, and I will not spare: and though they call before my ears with a loud voice, will I still not hear them.

Ezekiel 9:1

And he called before my ears with a loud voice, saying, Let those come near that have charge to punish the city, and every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

Ezekiel 9:2

And, behold, six men came from the direction of the upper gate, which is turned toward the north, and every man with his weapon of destruction in his hand; and one man in the midst of them was clothed in linen, with a writer's materials by his side: and they went in, and placed themselves beside the copper altar.

Ezekiel 9:3

And the glory of the God of Israel ascended up from the cherub, whereupon it had been, to the threshold of the house. And he called to the man clothed in linen, who had the writer's materials by his side.

Ezekiel 9:4

And the Lord said unto him, Pass through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and inscribe a mark upon the foreheads of the men who sigh and who complain because of all the abominations which are done in the midst of it.

Ezekiel 9:5

And to the others he said before my ears, Pass ye through the city after him, and smite: let your eye not look with pity, and do not spare;

Ezekiel 9:6

The aged, youth, and virgin, and little children, and women shall ye slay and destroy; but come not near any man upon whom the mark is; and at my sanctuary shall ye begin. Then they began with the ancient men who were before the house.

Ezekiel 9:7

And he said unto them, Make unclean the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go forth. And they went forth, and they smote in the city.

Ezekiel 9:8

And it came to pass, while they were smiting them, and I alone was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried out, and said, Ah Lord Eternal! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel when thou pourest out thy fury over Jerusalem?

Ezekiel 9:9

Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and of Judah is exceedingly great, and the land is full of blood-guiltiness, and the city full of injustice; for they have said, The Lord hath forsaken the land, and the Lord seeth not.

Ezekiel 9:10

And as for me also, my eye shall not look with pity, and I will not spare; but I will bring their course upon their own head.

Ezekiel 9:11

And, behold, the man clothed in linen, who had the writing materials by his side, brought back word, saying, I have done according to all that thou hast commanded me.

Ezekiel 10:1

Then I saw, and, behold, on the vault that was above the head of the cherubim, there appeared over them something like a sapphire stone, something similar in appearance to the likeness of a throne.

Ezekiel 10:2

And he said unto the man clothed in linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, under the cherub, and fill thy hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and throw [them] over the city. And he went in before my eyes.

Ezekiel 10:3

Now the cherubim were standing on the right side of the house, when the man went in: and the cloud filled the inner court.

Ezekiel 10:4

Then the glory of the Lord rose upward from the cherub, toward the threshold of the house: and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the Lord's glory.

Ezekiel 10:5

And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard as far as the outer court, like the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

Ezekiel 10:6

And it came to pass, when he commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubim, that he went in, and stood beside the wheel.

Ezekiel 10:7

And the one cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim unto the fire that was between the cherubim, and lifted it up, and placed it into the hands of the one clothed in linen; who took it, and went out.

Ezekiel 10:8

And there became visible on the cherubim the form of a man's hand beneath their wings.

Ezekiel 10:9

And I saw, and, behold, there were four wheels by the cherubim, one wheel by the one cherub, and another wheel by the other cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was like the glitter of a chrysolite stone.

Ezekiel 10:10

And as for their appearances, the whole four had one likeness, as if a wheel were in the midst of another wheel.

Ezekiel 10:11

In their going, they went toward their four sides, they turned not round in their going; but to the place whither the head was turned they followed it, they turned not round in their going.

Ezekiel 10:12

And their whole body, and their back, and their hands, and their wings, as also the wheels, were full of eyes round about, [even] the wheels that belonged to all four of them.

Ezekiel 10:13

As for the wheels, they were called Galgal before my ears.

Ezekiel 10:14

And every one had four faces: the one face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third face was the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

Ezekiel 10:15

And the cherubim lifted themselves up. This is the living creature that I saw by the river Kebar.

Ezekiel 10:16

And when the cherubim went forward, the wheels went close by them; and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels also did not turn away from beside them.

Ezekiel 10:17

When those halted, these halted; and when those lifted themselves up, these lifted themselves up with them; for the spirit of the living creature was in them.

Ezekiel 10:18

And the glory of the Lord went forth from off the threshold of the house, and halted over the cherubim.

Ezekiel 10:19

And the cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth before my eyes as they went forth, and the wheels at the same time with them, and halted at the entrance of the east gate of the house of the Lord: and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

Ezekiel 10:20

This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Kebar; and I understood that they were cherubim.

Ezekiel 10:21

Every one had four faces apiece, and every one had four wings; and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

Ezekiel 10:22

And the likeness of their faces was the same as the faces which I had seen by the river Kebar, their appearances and themselves: they went every one in the direction of his face.

Ezekiel 11:1

And a spirit bore me up, and brought me unto the east gate of the house of the Lord, which looketh eastward: and behold, there were at the entrance of the gate five and twenty men; and I saw in the midst of them Yaazanyah the son of 'Azzur, and Pelatyahu the son of Benayahu, princes of the people.

Ezekiel 11:2

Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise wickedness, and give evil counsel in this city;

Ezekiel 11:3

Who say, [The evil] is not near; so let us build houses: this [city] is the pot, and we are the flesh.

Ezekiel 11:4

Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man.

Ezekiel 11:5

And the Spirit of the Lord fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak, Thus hath said the Lord, Thus have ye said, O house of Israel; and whatever cometh into your mind, do I know full well.

Ezekiel 11:6

Ye have multiplied those slain by you in this city, and ye have filled its streets with the slain.

Ezekiel 11:7

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Those slain by you whom ye have struck down in the midst of it, —they are the flesh, and this place is the pot; but you are to be removed out of the midst of it.

Ezekiel 11:8

The sword have ye feared: and the sword will I bring over you, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 11:9

And I will remove you out of the midst of it, and I will give you up into the hand of strangers, and will execute punishments among you.

Ezekiel 11:10

By the sword shall ye fall; on the boundary of Israel will I judge you: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 11:11

This place shall not be unto you as a pot, so that you should be as flesh in the midst of it; but on the boundary of Israel will I judge you.

Ezekiel 11:12

And ye shall know that I am the Lord: because in my statutes have ye not walked, and my ordinances have ye not executed; but ye have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you.

Ezekiel 11:13

And it came to pass, as I was prophesying, that Pelatyahu the son of Benayah died. Then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord Eternal! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?

Ezekiel 11:14

Then came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 11:15

Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and the whole house of Israel altogether, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Remain you far from the Lord: unto us is this land given for a possession.

Ezekiel 11:16

Therefore say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Although I have removed them far away among the nations, and although I have scattered them among the countries: yet will I be to them as a minor sanctuary in the countries whither they are come.

Ezekiel 11:17

Therefore say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, I will both gather you from the people, and assemble you out of the countries whether ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.

Ezekiel 11:18

And they shall come thither, and they shall remove all its detestable things, and all its abominations out of it.

Ezekiel 11:19

And I will give them one single heart, and a new spirit will I put within you; and I will remove the heart of stone out of their body, and I will give unto them a heart of flesh:

Ezekiel 11:20

In order that they may walk in my statutes, and keep my ordinances, and do them; and they shall be unto me for a people, and I will indeed be unto them for a God.

Ezekiel 11:21

But as for those whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, their way do I bring upon their own head, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 11:22

Then did the cherubim lift up their wings, and the wheels at the same time with them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

Ezekiel 11:23

And the glory of the Lord ascended from the midst of the city, and halted upon the mount which is on the east side of the city.

Ezekiel 11:24

But a spirit bore me up, and brought me into Chaldea, to those in exile, in the appearance through the spirit of God: and then ascended away from me the appearance which I had seen.

Ezekiel 11:25

Then did I speak unto those in exile all the things that the Lord had shown me.

Ezekiel 12:1

The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 12:2

Son of man, in the midst of a rebellious family art thou dwelling, who have eyes to see, and see not; who have ears to hear, and hear not; for they are a rebellious family.

Ezekiel 12:3

But thou, O son of man, prepare for thyself vessels for going into exile, and wander away by day before their eyes; and thou shalt wander away from thy place to another place before their eyes: perhaps they may become aware that they are a rebellious family.

Ezekiel 12:4

Then shalt thou carry forth thy vessels, like vessels of exile, by day before their eyes: and thou shalt go forth at evening before their eyes, as they do that go forth into exile.

Ezekiel 12:5

Before their eyes break a hole through the wall, and carry [them] through it.

Ezekiel 12:6

Before their [eyes] shalt thou bear them upon thy shoulders, in the dark shalt thou carry them forth: thy face shalt thou cover, that thou mayest not see the ground; for as a token have I set thee unto the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 12:7

And I did so as I had been commanded; my vessels I carried forth by day, like vessels of exile, and in the evening I broke a hole for myself through the wall with my hand: in the dark I brought them forth, and I bore them upon my shoulder before their eyes.

Ezekiel 12:8

And the word of the Lord came unto me in the morning, saying,

Ezekiel 12:9

Son of man, have not the house of Israel, the rebellious family, said unto thee, What doest thou?

Ezekiel 12:10

Say thou unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, For the prince in Jerusalem is the doom, and for all the house of Israel, [and those] that are in the midst of them.

Ezekiel 12:11

Say, I am your token; just as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: into exile, into captivity, shall they wander.

Ezekiel 12:12

And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the dark, and shall go forth; through the wall shall they break a hole to carry [things] through it: his face shall he cover up, that he may not see the ground with his eyes.

Ezekiel 12:13

And I will spread out my net over him, and he shall be caught in my snare: and I will bring him to Babylon into the land of the Chaldeans; yet shall he not see it, and there shall he die.

Ezekiel 12:14

And all that are round about him, those who assist him, and all the wings of his armies will I disperse toward every wind; and the sword will I draw out after them.

Ezekiel 12:15

And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countries.

Ezekiel 12:16

But I will leave of them men few in number from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence: in order that they may relate all their abominations among the nations whither they shall have come; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 12:17

And the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

Ezekiel 12:18

Son of man, thy bread shalt thou eat with quaking, and thy water shalt thou drink with trembling and with anxious care.

Ezekiel 12:19

And thou shalt say unto the people of the land, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem, [and] concerning the land of Israel, Their bread shall they eat with anxious care, and their water shall they drink with confusion, for the cause that her land will be desolate, deprived of its plenteousness because of the violence of all those that dwell therein.

Ezekiel 12:20

And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid in ruins, and the land shall be made desolate: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 12:21

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 12:22

Son of man, what sort of proverb is that which ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days are lasting long, and lost is every vision?

Ezekiel 12:23

Therefore say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, I will cause this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel; but speak unto them, The days are coming nigh, and the word of every vision.

Ezekiel 12:24

For there shall be no more any false vision and a deceptive divination within the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 12:25

For I am the Lord,—I do speak, and whatever word I do speak shall be done; it shall not be delayed any more; for in your days, O rebellious family, will I speak the word, and I will execute it, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 12:26

And the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

Ezekiel 12:27

Son of man, behold, the house of Israel say, The vision that he foreseeeth is for distant days, and for times that are far off doth he prophesy.

Ezekiel 12:28

Therefore say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, There shall not be delayed any more one of all my words; but whatever word I do speak shall be done, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 13:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 13:2

Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say thou unto those that prophesy out of their own heart, Hear ye the word of the Lord:

Ezekiel 13:3

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Woe unto the scandalous prophets, that follow their own spirit, without having seen any thing!

Ezekiel 13:4

Like foxes among the ruins have been thy prophets, O Israel!

Ezekiel 13:5

Ye did not go up into the breaches, nor did ye make a fence around the house of Israel to stand in the battle on the day of the Lord.

Ezekiel 13:6

They saw falsehood and lying divination, they who say, "The Lord saith," when the Lord had not sent them; and yet they made others hope for the fulfillment of the word.

Ezekiel 13:7

Had ye not seen a false vision, and had ye not said a lying divination? and ye say, "The Lord saith," when I have not spoken.

Ezekiel 13:8

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Whereas ye have spoken falsehood, and have seen lies: therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 13:9

And my hand shall be against the prophets that see false-hood, and that divine lies; in the secret council of my people shall they not be, and in the register of the house of Israel shall they not be written, and into the land of Israel shall they not come: and ye shall know that I am the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 13:10

Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, "Peace," when there was no peace: and [my people] build a protecting wall, and lo, they plaster it with unadhesive mortar.

Ezekiel 13:11

Say unto those who plaster it with unadhesive mortar, that it shall fall: there cometh an overflowing rain–shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a storm–wind shall rend it.

Ezekiel 13:12

And, lo, the wall is fallen down; will it not now be said unto you, Where is the plastering wherewith ye have plastered?

Ezekiel 13:13

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, I will even rend it with storm–winds in my fury; and an overflowing rain–shower shall come in my anger, with great hailstones in my fury to destroy it.

Ezekiel 13:14

And I will pull down the wall that ye have plastered with unadhesive mortar, and I will cast it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be laid open; and it shall fall, and ye shall be destroyed in the midst of it: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 13:15

Thus will I let out all my wrath upon the wall, and upon those that have plastered it with unadhesive mortar; and I will say unto you, Gone is the wall, and gone are they that plastered it;

Ezekiel 13:16

[Namely,] the prophets of Israel who prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and who see for her a vision of peace, when there is no peace, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 13:17

But, thou son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, who prophesy out of their own heart: and prophesy against them,

Ezekiel 13:18

And say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Woe to the women that sew bolsters together for the armpits of all, and make cushions for the head of every stature, to hunt souls! Will ye hunt the souls of my people, that ye may keep your own soul alive?

Ezekiel 13:19

And ye profane me among my people for handfuls of barley and for bits of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to keep alive the souls that should not live, by your lying to my people that listen to lies!

Ezekiel 13:20

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I am against your bolsters, whereon ye hunt the souls that they may flutter [in your net], and I will tear them away from your arms; and I will let the souls go free, even the souls that ye hunt that they may flutter [in your net.]

Ezekiel 13:21

And I will tear away your cushions, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 13:22

Because ye grieve the heart of the righteous with falsehood, when I have not given him pain; and strengthen the hands of the wicked, so that he should not return from his wicked way, through which he might live.

Ezekiel 13:23

Therefore shall ye see no more falsehood, and tell no more divinations; and I will deliver my people out of your hand: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 14:1

Then came there unto me certain men of the elders of Israel, and sat down before me.

Ezekiel 14:2

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 14:3

Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and the stumbling–block of their iniquity have they placed before their faces: shall I in any wise let myself be inquired of by them?

Ezekiel 14:4

Therefore speak with them and say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Whatever man it be of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and layeth the stumbling–block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet: I the Lord will answer him, although he cometh with the multitude of his idols;

Ezekiel 14:5

In order that I may grasp the house of Israel by their heart, those who are separated from me through all their idols.

Ezekiel 14:6

Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Return, and cause [your heart] to turn away from your idols: and from all your abominations turn away your faces.

Ezekiel 14:7

For whatever man it be of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, that separateth himself from me, and setteth up his idols in his heart, and layeth the stumbling-block of his iniquity before his face, and then cometh to the prophet to inquire through him of me: I the Lord will answer him through my word;

Ezekiel 14:8

And I will set my face against that man, and will make him an astonishment for a sign and for proverbs, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 14:9

And when the prophet suffereth himself to be deceived, and he speaketh a word: I the Lord have suffered that prophet to be deceived: and I will stretch out my hand against him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel.

Ezekiel 14:10

And they shall bear their guilt: as the guilt of the inquirer is, so shall the guilt of the prophet be;

Ezekiel 14:11

In order that the house of Israel may go no more astray by not following me, and not pollute themselves any more with all their transgressions; but that they may become unto me a people, and I may be unto them a God, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 14:12

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 14:13

Son of man, if a land should sin against me by trespassing grievously, and I stretch out my hand against it, and break unto it the staff of bread, and send out famine against it, and cut off from it man and beast;

Ezekiel 14:14

And if there be these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, in the midst of it: these through their righteousness should save but their own soul; saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 14:15

If I cause wild beasts to pass through the land, and they depopulate it, and it becometh desolate, without any one to pass through because of the beasts:

Ezekiel 14:16

These three men [if they were] in it, as I live, saith the Lord Eternal, should not save either sons or daughters: they only should be saved, but the land should be made desolate.

Ezekiel 14:17

Or, if I should bring a sword over that land, and say, The sword shall pass through the land, and I cut off from it man and beast;

Ezekiel 14:18

And if these three men should be in it: as I live, saith the Lord Eternal, they should not save either sons or daughters, but they alone should be saved.

Ezekiel 14:19

Or, if I should send out the pestilence against that land, and pour out my fury over it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast;

Ezekiel 14:20

And if Noah, Daniel, and Job, should be in the midst of it: as I live, saith the Lord Eternal, they should not save either son or daughter; they through their righteousness should save their own soul.

Ezekiel 14:21

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Although I send my four dreadful means of punishment over Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the wild beasts, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast:

Ezekiel 14:22

Still, behold, there are left therein some that escape who shall be carried forth, both sons and daughters; behold, they are coming forth unto you, and ye will see their way and their doings; and then will ye be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, yea, concerning all that I have brought upon it;

Ezekiel 14:23

And they will comfort you, when ye see their way and their doings; and ye shall know that I have not done without cause all that I have executed in it, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 15:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 15:2

Son of man, What shall become of the wood of the vine more than of any other wood, of the branch which was standing among the trees of the forest?

Ezekiel 15:3

Can wood be taken therefrom to employ it for any work? or will men take from it a pin to hang thereon any vessel?

Ezekiel 15:4

Behold, if it be given up to the fire to be consumed,—[and] the fire have consumed both its ends, and the middle of it be scorched; will it be fit for any work?

Ezekiel 15:5

Behold, when it was yet entire, it could not be employed for any work: how much more [must this be] when the fire hath consumed it, and it is scorched,—and shall it yet be employed for any work?

Ezekiel 15:6

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, As the wood of the vine among the trees of the forest, which I have given up to the fire to be consumed: so do I give up the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

Ezekiel 15:7

And I will set my face against them: from the fire have they gone forth, yet the fire shall devour them; and ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them.

Ezekiel 15:8

And I will render the land a desert; because they have committed a trespass, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 16:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 16:2

Son of man, make known unto Jerusalem her abominations,

Ezekiel 16:3

And thou shalt say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal unto Jerusalem, Thy origin and thy birth are out of the land of Canaan: thy father was an Emorite, and thy mother a Hittite.

Ezekiel 16:4

And as for thy birth, on the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, nor wast thou washed in water to be cleansed; and thou wast not rubbed with salt, nor wrapt in swaddling clothes.

Ezekiel 16:5

No eye looked with pity on thee, to do any of these things unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; but thou wast cast out on the open field, with a loathing of thy body, on the day that thou wast born.

Ezekiel 16:6

But I passed then by thee, and I saw thee stained with thy own blood, and I said unto thee, In thy blood, live; yea, I said unto thee, In thy blood, live.

Ezekiel 16:7

Myriads, like the vegetation of the field, did I make of thee, and thou didst increase and become great, and thou attainedst the highest attractions: with thy breasts developed, and thy hair full grown; but thou wast still naked and bare.

Ezekiel 16:8

But I passed then by thee, and saw thee, and, behold, thy time was the time of love; and I spread the skirt of my garment over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I swore unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord Eternal, and thou becamest mine.

Ezekiel 16:9

Then did I bathe thee with water, yea, I thoroughly washed away thy blood from thee; and I anointed thee with oil.

Ezekiel 16:10

I clothed thee also with brodered work, and made thee shoes of badger's skin, and I placed on thy head a turban of fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.

Ezekiel 16:11

And I decked thee with ornaments, and I placed bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain around thy neck.

Ezekiel 16:12

And I placed a ring on thy nose, and earrings in thy ears, and a crown of splendor on thy head.

Ezekiel 16:13

Thus wast thou ornamented with gold and silver; and thy garments were of fine linen, and silk, and brodered work; fine flour, and honey, and oil didst thou eat: and thou wast exceedingly beautiful, and thou didst succeed to acquire dominion.

Ezekiel 16:14

And thy fame went forth among the nations because of thy beauty; for it was perfect through my glorious ornament, which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 16:15

But thou didst trust in thy beauty, and play the harlot because of thy fame, and lavish thy lewd caresses on every one that passed by—on him they were bestowed.

Ezekiel 16:16

And thou didst take from thy garments, and deck thee high-places with divers colors, and play the harlot thereupon: never should the like come to pass, and never should it be so.

Ezekiel 16:17

And thou didst take thy elegant ornaments of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and make for thyself male images, and play the harlot with them;

Ezekiel 16:18

And thou didst take thy brodered garments, and cover them: and my oil and my incense didst thou place before them.

Ezekiel 16:19

And my bread which I had given thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, which I had let thee eat, even this didst thou set before them for a sweet savour: yes, so was it, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 16:20

And thou didst take thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hadst born unto me, and didst slaughter these unto them to be devoured; [but] were thy acts of lewdness not yet enough?

Ezekiel 16:21

That thou didst slay my children, and give them up to cause them to pass through the fire for them?

Ezekiel 16:22

And in all thy abominations and thy acts of lewdness thou didst not remember the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, when thou wast stained with thy blood.

Ezekiel 16:23

And it came to pass after all thy wickedness,—[woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord Eternal;]—

Ezekiel 16:24

That thou didst build unto thyself eminences, and make thyself elevations in every street.

Ezekiel 16:25

On the corner of every road didst thou build thy elevations, and make thy beauty abominable, and spread out thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiply thy acts of lewdness.

Ezekiel 16:26

And thou didst play the harlot with the Egyptians, thy neighbors, with large limbs, and multiply thy acts of lewdness, to provoke me to anger.

Ezekiel 16:27

And, behold, I stretched out my hand over thee, and diminished thy stated portion; and I gave thee up unto the will of those that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, who were made to blush for thy incestuous course.

Ezekiel 16:28

Then didst thou play the harlot with the sons of Asshur, because thou wast unsatiable: yea, thou didst play the harlot with them, and wast even then not satisfied.

Ezekiel 16:29

And thou didst multiply thy lewdness with the traders' land as far as Chaldea; and even with this wast thou not satisfied.

Ezekiel 16:30

How very corrupt is thy heart, saith the Lord Eternal, seeing thou didst all these things, deeds of an abandoned lewd woman;

Ezekiel 16:31

Seeing that thou didst build thy eminences at the corner of every road, and make thy elevations in every street; and wast not like a harlot, as thou scornedst the wages.

Ezekiel 16:32

O thou adulterous wife! who, while bound to her husband, receiveth strangers!

Ezekiel 16:33

Unto all harlots they give presents; but thou hast given thy presents to all thy lovers, and hast bribed them, that they might come unto thee from every side in thy acts of lewdness.

Ezekiel 16:34

And the reverse was the case with thee from [other] women in thy acts of lewdness, that men did not follow thee to seek thy lewd caresses; and because thou gavest the wages, and no wages were given thee: so was it the reverse with thee.

Ezekiel 16:35

Therefore, O harlot, hear the word of the Lord!

Ezekiel 16:36

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Whereas thy wealth was squandered, and thy nakedness was uncovered through thy lewd acts with thy lovers, and with all thy abominable idols, and for the blood of thy children, whom thou didst give unto them:

Ezekiel 16:37

Therefore, behold, I will gather all thy lovers, whom thou hast given pleasure, and all whom thou hast loved, together with all whom thou hast hated,—yea, I will gather them all round about thee, and will uncover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness.

Ezekiel 16:38

And I will judge thee, as adulteresses and women that shed blood are judged; and I will bring upon thee the blood of fury and jealousy.

Ezekiel 16:39

And I will also give thee up into their hand, and they shall pull down thy eminences, and shall break down thy elevations; and they shall strip thee of thy clothes, and they shall take thy elegant ornaments, and leave thee naked and bare.

Ezekiel 16:40

And they shall bring up against thee an assembly, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords;

Ezekiel 16:41

And they shall burn thy houses with fire, and execute punishments on thee before the eyes of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from being a harlot, and also the wages [of sin] shalt thou not give any more.

Ezekiel 16:42

And then will I assuage my fury on thee, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

Ezekiel 16:43

Because that thou didst not remember the days of thy youth, but didst irritate me with all these things: behold, therefore I also will bring thy course upon thy head, saith the Lord Eternal, and thou shalt no more commit incest with all thy [other] abominations.

Ezekiel 16:44

Behold, every one that speaketh in proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As the mother is, so is her daughter.

Ezekiel 16:45

Thou art thy mother's daughter, loathing her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, who have loathed their husbands and their children: your mother was a Hittite, and your father an Emorite.

Ezekiel 16:46

And thy elder sister is Samaria, she with her daughters, that dwelleth at thy left hand, and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom with her daughters.

Ezekiel 16:47

Yet not even in their ways didst thou walk, nor act according to their abominations: as though this were quite too little, and thou wast more corrupt than they in all thy ways.

Ezekiel 16:48

As I live, saith the Lord Eternal, Sodom thy sister, she with her daughters, hath not done as thou hast done, thou with thy daughters.

Ezekiel 16:49

Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom: Pride, abundance of food, and prosperous security were hers and her daughters'; but the hand of the poor and needy did she not strengthen.

Ezekiel 16:50

And they became haughty, and committed abominations before me: therefore did I remove them when I saw their course.

Ezekiel 16:51

And Samaria hath not committed even the half of thy sins; but thou didst multiply thy abominations more than they; and thou hast justified thy sisters through all thy abominations which thou hast done.

Ezekiel 16:52

Bear then thou also thy own confusion, which thou didst adjudge unto each of thy sisters; through thy sins, which thou hast committed more abominably than they, are they made more righteous than thou: therefore thou also—be ashamed, and bear thy confusion, since thou hast justified thy sisters.

Ezekiel 16:53

And I will bring back again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captivity of the captives in the midst of them:

Ezekiel 16:54

In order that thou mayest bear thy confusion, and mayest be confounded because of all that thou hast done, when thou art a comfort unto them.

Ezekiel 16:55

And thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former state, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former state, and thou and thy daughters shall return to your former state.

Ezekiel 16:56

And was not thy sister Sodom a report in thy mouth in the days of thy pride,

Ezekiel 16:57

Before yet thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of the reproach of the daughters of Syria, and all those round about her, the daughters of the Philistines, who taunted thee on all sides?

Ezekiel 16:58

Thy incest and thy abominations,—thou thyself hadst to bear them, saith the Lord.

Ezekiel 16:59

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, thou who hast despised the oath by breaking the covenant.

Ezekiel 16:60

Nevertheless will I indeed remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant.

Ezekiel 16:61

And thou shalt then remember thy ways, and be confounded, when thou receivest thy sisters, both those that are older than thou and younger than thou: and I will give them unto thee for daughters, though not because thou wast faithful to the covenant.

Ezekiel 16:62

And I will establish my covenant with thee; and thou shalt know that I am the Lord:

Ezekiel 16:63

In order that thou mayest remember, and feel ashamed, and never open thy mouth any more because of thy confusion, when I forgive thee for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 17:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 17:2

Son of man, put forth a riddle, and propound a parable unto the house of Israel;

Ezekiel 17:3

And say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, The great eagle with large wings, long winged, full of feathers, who is rich in many colors, came unto the Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar:

Ezekiel 17:4

The topmost of its young twigs did he crop off, and carry it into the traders' land; and he set it in a city of merchants.

Ezekiel 17:5

And he took some of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful field: he placed it by great waters, he transplanted it among the willow-trees.

Ezekiel 17:6

And it grew, and became a trailing vine of low stature, the tendrils of which should turn toward him, and the roots of which should be under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and sent out shoots.

Ezekiel 17:7

There was also another great eagle with large wings and many feathers: and, behold, this vine did bend its roots famishing toward him, and shot forth its tendrils toward him, that he might water it, from the beds where it was planted;

Ezekiel 17:8

[Although] it was planted in a good field by great waters, that it might produce boughs, and that it might bear fruit, that it might become an elegant vine.

Ezekiel 17:9

Say now, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Shall it prosper? Behold the other will pull up its roots, and its fruit will he cut away, that it may dry up; every one of its growing leaves shall dry up; and not with great power and numerous people [will he have to come] to tear it away from its roots.

Ezekiel 17:10

Yea, behold, although it is planted, shall it prosper? Lo, as soon as the east wind toucheth it, shall it be utterly dried up: in the beds where it groweth shall it dry up.

Ezekiel 17:11

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 17:12

Do now say to the rebellious family, Know ye not what these things mean? Say, Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took away its king and its princes, and he brought them unto himself to Babylon;

Ezekiel 17:13

And he took one of the royal seed, and made a covenant with him, and bound him with an oath; but the mighty of the land did he take away;

Ezekiel 17:14

That the kingdom should be debased, so as not to lift itself up; that it should keep his covenant that it might continue to exist.

Ezekiel 17:15

But he rebelled against him by sending his messengers into Egypt, that they might give him horses and numerous people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doth such things? yea, he hath broken the covenant, and shall he escape?

Ezekiel 17:16

As I live, saith the Lord Eternal, surely in the residence of the king that hath made him king, whose oath he hath despised, and whose covenant he hath broken, even near him in the midst of Babylon shall he die.

Ezekiel 17:17

And not with a mighty army and a large assembly shall Pharaoh labor for him in the war, when [the other] casteth up mounds, and buildeth works of attack, to cut off many souls.

Ezekiel 17:18

Yea, he that hath despised the oath by breaking the covenant, when, lo, he had given his hand, and hath done all these things, shall not escape.

Ezekiel 17:19

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, As I live, surely my oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken,—even this will I bring upon his own head.

Ezekiel 17:20

And I will spread my net over him, and he shall be caught in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will hold judgment with him there for his trespass which he hath committed against me.

Ezekiel 17:21

And all his fugitives with all the wings of his army shall fall by the sword, and those that remain shall be dispersed toward all winds: and ye shall know that I the Lord have spoken it.

Ezekiel 17:22

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, But I myself will take [a part] of the highest branch of the high cedar, and will preserve it; from the topmost of its young twigs will I crop off a tender one, and I myself will plant it firmly upon a high and eminent mountain:

Ezekiel 17:23

On the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it firmly; and it shall produce boughs, and bear fruit, and become an elegant cedar; and there shall dwell under it all fowls, every thing that hath wing; in the shadow of its light branches shall they dwell.

Ezekiel 17:24

And all the trees of the field shall know that I the Lord have made low the high tree, have made high the lowly tree, that I have dried up the green tree, and have caused to flourish the dry tree: I the Lord have spoken and have done it.

Ezekiel 18:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 18:2

What mean ye, that ye use this proverb in the country of Israel, saying, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the teeth of the children are set on edge?

Ezekiel 18:3

As I live, saith the Lord Eternal, ye shall not have any more to use this proverb in Israel.

Ezekiel 18:4

Behold, all the souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son—mine are they: the soul which sinneth that alone shall die.

Ezekiel 18:5

But if a man be righteous, and execute justice and righteousness;

Ezekiel 18:6

Upon the mountains he eateth not, and his eyes he lifteth not up to the idols of the house of Israel, and the wife of his neighbor he defileth not, and unto a woman in her separation he cometh not near;

Ezekiel 18:7

And he over-reacheth no man, he restoreth his pledge for a debt, a robbery he doth not commit, his bread he giveth to the hungry, and the naked he covereth with a garment;

Ezekiel 18:8

Upon interest he giveth not forth, and increase he doth not take, from wrong he withdraweth his hand, true judgment he executeth between man and man;

Ezekiel 18:9

In my statutes he walketh steadfastly, and my ordinances he keepeth to deal truly: he is righteous, he shall surely live, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 18:10

If he [now] beget a dissolute son that sheddeth blood and doth to [his] brother any one of thee things;

Ezekiel 18:11

And he is one that doth not any of these [duties]; but eateth even upon the mountains, and defileth the wife of his neighbor;

Ezekiel 18:12

The poor and needy he over-reacheth, he is guilty of robberies, the pledge he restoreth not, and to the idols he lifteth up his eyes, abominations he committeth:

Ezekiel 18:13

Upon interest he giveth forth, and increase he taketh: and he should live? he shall not live; all these abominations hath he done, he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon him.

Ezekiel 18:14

And behold, if he beget a son, who seeth all the sins of his father which he hath done, and he considereth, and doth not the like of them;

Ezekiel 18:15

Upon the mountains he eateth not, and his eyes he lifteth not up to the idols of the house of Israel, the wife of his neighbor he defileth not;

Ezekiel 18:16

And he over-reacheth no man, a pledge he withholdeth not, and of a robbery he is never guilty, his bread he giveth to the hungry, and the naked he covereth with a garment;

Ezekiel 18:17

From the poor he withdraweth his hand, interest and increase he taketh not: my ordinances he executeth; in my statutes he walketh:—he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

Ezekiel 18:18

His father, because he unjustly withheld [wages], was guilty of robbery on his brother, and did that which is not good in the midst of his people,—and lo, he died through his iniquity.

Ezekiel 18:19

Yet say ye, Why doth not the son bear part of the iniquity of the father? when the son hath executed justice and righteousness, all my statutes hath he kept, and hath done them: he shall surely live.

Ezekiel 18:20

The soul that sinneth, she alone shall die; the son shall not help to bear the iniquity of the father and the father shall not help to bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

Ezekiel 18:21

And the wicked, when he turneth away from all his sins that he hath committed, and keepeth all my statutes, and executeth justice and righteousness, shall surely live, he shall not die.

Ezekiel 18:22

All his transgressions which he hath committed shall not be remembered unto him: through his righteousness which he hath done shall he live.

Ezekiel 18:23

Have I then the least pleasure in the death of the wicked? saith the Lord Eternal: and not in his turning away from his ways, that he may live?

Ezekiel 18:24

But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth wrong, and doth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? all his righteousness that he hath done shall not be remembered: through his trespass which he hath committed, and through his sin that he hath done,—through them shall he die.

Ezekiel 18:25

Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equitable: hear now, O house of Israel, Is not my way equitable? is it not your ways which are not equitable?

Ezekiel 18:26

When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and doth wrong, and dieth therefore: through his wrong which he hath done must he die.

Ezekiel 18:27

Again, when the wicked turneth away from his wickedness which he hath committed, and executeth justice and righteousness: he shall indeed preserve his soul alive.

Ezekiel 18:28

Because he hath considered, and turned away from all his transgressions which he had committed: he shall surely live, he shall not die.

Ezekiel 18:29

Yet say the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equitable: are not my ways equitable, O house of Israel? is it not your ways which are not equitable?

Ezekiel 18:30

Therefore will I judge you, every one according to his ways, O house of Israel, saith the Lord Eternal: return ye, and cause others to return from all your transgressions, that iniquity may not become your stumbling-block.

Ezekiel 18:31

Cast away from yourselves all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

Ezekiel 18:32

For I have no pleasure in the death of him that deserveth to die, saith the Lord Eternal: therefore convert yourselves, and live.

Ezekiel 19:1

And thou,—do thou lift up a lamentation for the princes of Israel,

Ezekiel 19:2

And say, What a noble lioness was thy mother! among lions did she lie down, in the midst of young lions did she raise her whelps!

Ezekiel 19:3

And she brought up one of her whelps: he became a young lion, and he learned to tear in pieces the prey; [even] men he devoured.

Ezekiel 19:4

And when nations heard of him, he was caught in their pit, and they brought him with nose-rings unto the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 19:5

Now when she saw that she had long waited, [that] her hope was lost, she took another one of her whelps, and made him a young lion.

Ezekiel 19:6

And he went up and down in the midst of lions, he became a young lion; and he learned to tear in pieces the prey; even men he devoured.

Ezekiel 19:7

And he broke down their palaces, and their cities laid he in ruins: and then was terrified the land, with all that filled it, because of the noise of his roaring.

Ezekiel 19:8

Then set themselves the nations against him on every side from the provinces; and they spread over him their net: in their pit was he caught.

Ezekiel 19:9

And they put him in a cage with nose-rings [in his nose], and they brought him to the king of Babylon: they brought him into strong-holds, in order that his voice should no more be heard on the mountains of Israel.

Ezekiel 19:10

Thy mother was like a vine, if I compare thee to aught, planted by the waters: fruitful and full of boughs was she by reason of many waters.

Ezekiel 19:11

And she had strong branches [fit] for the sceptres of rulers, and her stature grew up high between the thick-branched [trees], and she was seen through her height by means of the multitude of her tendrils.

Ezekiel 19:12

But she was plucked up in fury, to the ground was she cast down, and the east wind dried up her fruit: and torn off and dried up were her strong branches, a fire consumed them.

Ezekiel 19:13

And now is she planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty land.

Ezekiel 19:14

And fire is gone out of a branch of her boughs, and hath devoured her fruit, so that there is no more on her a strong branch for a sceptre to rule. This is a lamentation, and it is become a lamentation.

Ezekiel 20:1

And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month, that certain men of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the Lord, and they sat down before me.

Ezekiel 20:2

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 20:3

Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Is it to inquire of me that ye are coming? as I live, I will not let myself be inquired of by you, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 20:4

Wilt thou take them to task, wilt thou take them to task, son of man? then cause them to know the abominations of their fathers;

Ezekiel 20:5

And say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, On the day when I made choice of Israel, I lifted up my hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and I made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt: and I lifted up my hand unto them, saying, I am the Lord your God.

Ezekiel 20:6

On the same day I lifted up my hand unto them, to bring them forth from the land of Egypt into a land that I had selected for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is an ornament among all the countries.

Ezekiel 20:7

And I said unto them, Cast ye away every one of the abominations of his eyes, and on the idols of Egypt shall ye not defile yourselves: I am the Lord your God.

Ezekiel 20:8

But they rebelled against me, and they would not hearken unto me; they did not cast away every one the abominations of their eyes, and the idols of Egypt did they not forsake: and I thought then to pour out my fury over them, to let out all my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 20:9

But I acted for the sake of my name, so as not to profane it before the eyes of the nations, in the midst of whom they were; because I had made myself known unto them before their eyes, to bring them forth out of the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 20:10

I therefore caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

Ezekiel 20:11

And I gave them my statutes, and my ordinances made I known to them, which a man is to do, that he may live through them.

Ezekiel 20:12

And also my sabbaths gave I unto them, to be as a sign between me and between them, that they might know that I am the Lord who sanctify them.

Ezekiel 20:13

But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness; in my statutes they walked not, and my ordinances they despised, which a man is to do, that he may live through them; and my sabbaths they greatly profaned: and I then thought to pour out my fury over them in the wilderness, to make an end of them.

Ezekiel 20:14

But I acted for the sake of my name, so as not to profane it before the eyes of the nations, before whose eyes I had brought them forth.

Ezekiel 20:15

Yet did I also lift up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given [them], flowing with milk and honey, which is an ornament among all the countries.

Ezekiel 20:16

Because my ordinances they had despised, and in my statutes they had not walked, and my sabbaths they had profaned; for after their idols did their heart go.

Ezekiel 20:17

Nevertheless my eye looked pityingly on them, so as not to destroy them, and I did not make an end of them in the wilderness.

Ezekiel 20:18

And I said unto their children in the wilderness, In the statutes of your fathers shall ye not walk, and their ordinances shall ye not keep, and on their idols shall ye not defile yourselves.

Ezekiel 20:19

I am the Lord your God: in my statutes must ye walk, and my ordinances must ye keep, and do them;

Ezekiel 20:20

And my sabbaths must ye sanctify; and they shall be as a sign between me and between you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.

Ezekiel 20:21

Nevertheless the children rebelled against me; in my statutes did they not walk, and my ordinances they kept not to do them, which a man is to do, that he may live through them; my sabbaths they profaned: and I then thought to pour out my fury over them, to let out all my anger against them in the wilderness.

Ezekiel 20:22

But I withdrew my hand, and acted for the sake of my name, so as not to profane it before the eyes of the nations, before whose eyes I had brought them forth.

Ezekiel 20:23

I also lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the nations, and disperse them through the countries;

Ezekiel 20:24

Because my ordinances they had not executed, and my statutes they had despised, and my sabbaths they had profaned, and after the idols of their fathers their eyes were directed.

Ezekiel 20:25

And I also let them follow statutes that were not good, and ordinances whereby they could not live;

Ezekiel 20:26

And I let them be defiled through their gifts, in that they caused to pass [through the fire] all that openeth the womb, in order that I might destroy them, to the end that they might know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 20:27

Therefore, speak unto the house of Israel, O son of man, and say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Yet in this too did your fathers blaspheme me, by their committing a trespass against me:

Ezekiel 20:28

When I had brought them into the land, for which I had lifted up my hand to give it to them, they saw every high hill, and all the thick-branched trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and presented there their provoking offerings, and they brought there their sweet savor, and poured out there their drink-offerings.

Ezekiel 20:29

Then said I unto them, What is this high-place whereunto ye go? And its name was called "The height" until this day.

Ezekiel 20:30

Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Ha! do you pollute yourselves after the manner of your fathers; and after their abominations do ye go astray?

Ezekiel 20:31

And when ye offer up your gifts, when ye make your sons pass through the fire, ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, even until this day: and I should allow myself to be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord Eternal, I will not let myself be inquired of by you.

Ezekiel 20:32

And that which cometh up into your mind shall not at all come to pass, [namely,] that ye say, We will be like the nations, like the families of the [other] countries, to serve wood and stone.

Ezekiel 20:33

As I live, saith the Lord Eternal, surely, with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you:

Ezekiel 20:34

And I will bring you out from the people, and I will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with [my] fury poured out.

Ezekiel 20:35

And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and I will hold judgment over you there, face to face.

Ezekiel 20:36

As I held judgment over your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I hold judgment over you, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 20:37

And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant;

Ezekiel 20:38

And I will separate from you those that have rebelled, and those that have transgressed against me: out of the country where they sojourn will I cause them to go forth, but into the land of Israel shall not one [of them] enter; and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 20:39

As for you, O house of Israel, thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Go ye, serve ye every one his idols, and hereafter [also], if ye will not hearken unto me; but my holy name do not profane any more with your gifts, and with your idols.

Ezekiel 20:40

For on my holy mountain, on the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord Eternal, there shall serve me all the house of Israel, altogether, in the land: there will I accept them in favor, and there will I require your heave-offerings, and the first-fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

Ezekiel 20:41

With your sweet savor will I accept you in favor, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered: and I will be sanctified through you before the eyes of the nations.

Ezekiel 20:42

And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I bring you into the land of Israel, into the country for which I have lifted up my hand to give it to your fathers.

Ezekiel 20:43

And ye shall remember there your ways, and all your doings, whereby ye have been defiled; and ye shall loathe yourselves, because of all your evil deeds that ye have committed.

Ezekiel 20:44

And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I deal with you for the sake of my name, not in accordance with your wicked ways, and in accordance with your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 20:45 (21:1)

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 20:46 (21:2)

Son of man, set thy face in the direction toward the south, and preach toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the field in the south.

Ezekiel 20:47 (21:3)

And say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of the Lord, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour in thee every green tree, and every dry tree: the glowing flame shall not be quenched, and there shall be burnt therein all faces from the south to the north.

Ezekiel 20:48 (21:4)

And all flesh shall see that I the Lord have kindled it: it shall not be quenched.

Ezekiel 20:49 (21:5)

Then said I, Ah Lord Eternal! they say of me, Behold, he speaketh but in parables!

Ezekiel 21:1 (21:6)

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 21:2 (21:7)

Son of man, direct thy face toward Jerusalem, and preach toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel,

Ezekiel 21:3 (21:8)

And say to the land of Israel, Thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will be against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of its sheath; and I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked.

Ezekiel 21:4 (21:9)

But because I shall have cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked: therefore shall my sword go forth out of its sheath against all flesh from the south to the north;

Ezekiel 21:5 (21:10)

That all flesh may know that I the Lord have drawn forth my sword out of its sheath; it shall not return any more.

Ezekiel 21:6 (21:11)

But thou, son of man, do thou sigh: as though with broken loins, and with bitterness [of grief] shalt thou sigh before their eyes.

Ezekiel 21:7 (21:12)

And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt say, For the report, because it cometh, when every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be made feeble, and every spirit shall become faint, and all knees shall be changed into water: behold, it cometh, and shall be brought to pass, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 21:8 (21:13)

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 21:9 (21:14)

Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus hath said the Lord, Say, The sword, the sword is sharpened, and also polished;

Ezekiel 21:10 (21:15)

In order to make a thorough slaughter is it sharpened; in order that it may glitter is it polished: how can we now rejoice, [when] the rod which reacheth my son excelleth in hardness every tree?

Ezekiel 21:11 (21:16)

And he hath given it to be polished, to make it fit to grasp it in the hand: it is the sword which is sharpened, and it is polished, to place it into the hand of the slayer.

Ezekiel 21:12 (21:17)

Cry aloud and wail, O son of man; for it cometh against my people, it cometh against all the princes of Israel; brought together for the sword are they with my people: therefore strike [thy hand] upon thy thigh.

Ezekiel 21:13 (21:18)

For a purification taketh place: and what if the irresistible rod will also come? [my son] would not be able to exist, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 21:14 (21:19)

But thou, son of man, prophesy, and strike thy hands together, and let "The sword" be repeated the third time, the sword of the slain: it is the sword of the great that are slain, which lieth in wait for them everywhere.

Ezekiel 21:15 (21:20)

In order to make timid the heart, and to multiply the stumbling-blocks, do I bring the howling of the sword against all their gates: ah! it is made bright, it is made thin-edged for the slaughter.

Ezekiel 21:16 (21:21)

Gather up thy strength, go to the right hand, direct thyself, go to the left, whithersoever thy edge is turned.

Ezekiel 21:17 (21:22)

And I also,—I will strike my hands together, and I will cause my fury to be assuaged: I the Lord have spoken it.

Ezekiel 21:18 (21:23)

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 21:19 (21:24)

But thou, O son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come; out of one land shall both of them come forth: and select a place; at the head of the way to a city do thou select it.

Ezekiel 21:20 (21:25)

A way shalt thou appoint, that the sword may come against Rabbah of the children of 'Ammon, and [the other] against Judah [dwelling] in Jerusalem the fortified.

Ezekiel 21:21 (21:26)

For the king of Babylon hath halted at the parting of the way, at the commencement of the two ways, to use divination: he shaketh the arrows, he consulteth with images, he looketh at the liver.

Ezekiel 21:22 (21:27)

At his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem, to erect battering-rams, to open the mouth with the [cry for] murder, to lift up the voice with shouting, to place battering-rams against the gates, to cast up a mound, and to build works of attack.

Ezekiel 21:23 (21:28)

And it will appear unto them as a false divination in their eyes, to those that had sworn oaths; but he will bring to remembrance their iniquity, that they may be caught.

Ezekiel 21:24 (21:29)

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because ye have brought your iniquity to remembrance, as your transgressions are discovered, so that your sins do appear in all your doings: because ye are thus brought to remembrance, ye shall be caught by [his] hand.

Ezekiel 21:25 (21:30)

And thou, death-deserving wicked one, prince of Israel, whose day is come, at the time of the iniquity of the end,—

Ezekiel 21:26 (21:31)

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Remove the mitre, and take off the crown: this shall not be always so; exalt him that is low, and make him low that is high.

Ezekiel 21:27 (21:32)

Overthrown, overthrown, overthrown will I render it: also this shall not belong [to any one], until he come whose right it is, and I will give it him.

Ezekiel 21:28 (21:33)

And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal concerning the children of 'Ammon, and concerning their reproach: even say thou, The sword, the sword is drawn; for the slaughter is it polished, to destroy, that it may continue to glitter;

Ezekiel 21:29 (21:34)

While they foresee unto thee falsehood, while they divine unto thee lies, to lay thee by the necks of the slain wicked, whose day is come, at the time of the iniquity of the end.

Ezekiel 21:30 (21:35)

Put back [the sword] into its sheath! in the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy origin, will I judge thee.

Ezekiel 21:31 (21:36)

And I will pour out over thee my indignation, with the fire of my wrath will I blow against thee, and I will give thee up into the hand of brutish men, skilful in destroying.

Ezekiel 21:32 (21:37)

To the fire shalt thou be given to be devoured; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land: thou shalt not be remembered [any more]; for I the Lord have spoken it.

Ezekiel 22:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 22:2

And thou, son of man, wilt thou take to task, wilt thou take to task the city of blood? and wilt thou make her know all her abominations?

Ezekiel 22:3

Then say thou, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, O city that sheddeth blood in her midst, that her time [of sorrow] may come, and that hath made idols for herself to become unclean:

Ezekiel 22:4

Through thy blood which thou hast shed, are thou become guilty; and through thy idols which thou hast made art thou become unclean; and thou hast caused thy days [of destruction] to draw near, and thou art come even unto thy years; therefore do I make thee a disgrace unto the nations, and a mocking to all the countries.

Ezekiel 22:5

Those who are near, and those who are far from thee, shall mock thee, O thou unclean in name, and great in confusion!

Ezekiel 22:6

Behold, the princes of Israel were each [ready] with his arm within thee, in order to shed blood.

Ezekiel 22:7

Father and mother they esteemed lightly within thee, toward the stranger they acted with extortion in the midst of thee, the fatherless and the widow they oppressed within thee.

Ezekiel 22:8

My holy things thou didst despise, and my sabbaths thou didst profane.

Ezekiel 22:9

Tale-bearers [also] were within thee, in order to shed blood; and upon the mountains did they eat within thee; incest did they commit in the midst of thee.

Ezekiel 22:10

Their father's nakedness they uncovered within thee; her that was unclean in her separation did they violate within thee.

Ezekiel 22:11

And one with his neighbor's wife did commit abomination; and another did defile his daughter-in-law with incest; and another did violate his sister, the daughter of his father, within thee.

Ezekiel 22:12

Bribes they took within thee, in order to shed blood; interest and increase didst thou take, and thou didst acquire gain off thy neighbors by extortion: and me thou didst forget, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 22:13

And behold, I have struck my hands together at thy wrongful gain which thou hast acquired, and at thy blood-guilt which hath been in the midst of thee.

Ezekiel 22:14

Will thy courage endure, or will thy hands remain strong, on the days that I will deal with thee? I the Lord have spoken, and will do it.

Ezekiel 22:15

And I will scatter thee among the nations, and disperse thee in the countries, and I will entirely remove thy uncleanness out of thee.

Ezekiel 22:16

And thou shalt be degraded through thyself before the eyes of nations, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 22:17

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 22:18

Son of man, the house of Israel are become to me dross: they all are copper, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midst of the furnace; the dross of silver are they become.

Ezekiel 22:19

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because ye are all become dross, therefore, behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.

Ezekiel 22:20

As silver, and copper, and iron, and lead, and tin are gathered into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it: so will I gather you in my anger and in my fury and I will lay you down there, and melt you.

Ezekiel 22:21

Yea, I will assemble you in a heap, and blow upon you with the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst of it.

Ezekiel 22:22

As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst of it: and ye shall know that I am the Lord who have poured out my fury over you.

Ezekiel 22:23

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 22:24

Son of man, say unto her, Thou art a land that is not cleansed; [and] which is not rained upon on the day of indignation.

Ezekiel 22:25

The banded troop of her prophets in the midst of her is like a roaring lion that teareth in pieces the prey: souls do they devour; wealth and precious things do they take away; the number of her widows do they increase in the midst of her.

Ezekiel 22:26

Her priests violate my law, and profane my holy things: between the holy and profane do they make no distinction, and the difference between the unclean and the clean do they not make known, and from [the violation of] my sabbaths do they turn away their eyes, so that I am profaned among them.

Ezekiel 22:27

Her princes in her midst are like wolves that tear in pieces the prey, to shed blood, to destroy souls, in order to obtain selfish gain.

Ezekiel 22:28

And her prophets plastered for them with unadhesive mortar, foreseeing falsehood, and divining unto them lies, saying, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal; when the Lord had not spoken.

Ezekiel 22:29

The people of the land are guilty of extortion, and practise robbery, and the poor and the needy they defraud: and they extort from the stranger with injustice.

Ezekiel 22:30

And I seek now among them for a man, that could erect a fence, and stand in the breach before me in behalf of the land, so that I should not destroy it; but I find none.

Ezekiel 22:31

And I therefore pour out over them my indignation; with the fire of my wrath do I make an end of them: their own way do I bring upon their head, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 23:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 23:2

Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother;

Ezekiel 23:3

And they played the harlot in Egypt; in their youth they played the harlot: there were their breasts pressed, and there they suffered their virgin bosoms to be touched.

Ezekiel 23:4

And their names were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister; but they became mine, and they bore sons and daughters: and their names are, Samaria is Aholah, and Jerusalem, Aholibah.

Ezekiel 23:5

And Aholah played the harlot while she was mine; and she longed for her lovers, for the Assyrians that were near [her],

Ezekiel 23:6

Clothed [as they were] in blue, governors, and rulers, attractive youths all of them, horsemen riding upon horses.

Ezekiel 23:7

Thus she played the harlot with them, all of them the chosen ones of the sons of Asshur: and with all for whom she longed,—with all their idols did she defile herself.

Ezekiel 23:8

But also her lewdness from Egypt forsook she not; for they had lain with her in her youth, and they had touched her virgin bosom, and had lavished their lewd caresses on her.

Ezekiel 23:9

Therefore did I give her up into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the sons of Asshur, after whom she longed.

Ezekiel 23:10

These were they that laid open her nakedness; her sons and her daughters did they take away, and her they slew with the sword: and she became infamous among women, when they inflicted the decreed punishments on her.

Ezekiel 23:11

And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she became more corrupt in her longing than she, and in her lewd acts more than her sister's lewdness.

Ezekiel 23:12

For the sons of Asshur did she long, the governors and rulers that were near, clothed as they were most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, attractive youths all of them.

Ezekiel 23:13

Then saw I that she was defiled, that they followed both one way.

Ezekiel 23:14

But she added still more to her acts of lewdness; for when she saw men engraved upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans portrayed with color,

Ezekiel 23:15

Bound with girdles on their loins, with hanging down colored turbans on their heads, in appearance like commanders, all of them, in the likeness of the sons of Babylon of the Chaldeans, the land of their birth:

Ezekiel 23:16

Then did she long for them as soon as she saw them with her eyes, and she sent messengers unto them to Chaldea.

Ezekiel 23:17

And the sons of Babylon came to her unto the couch of love, and they defiled her with their lewd caresses; and [yet] when she had been defiled with them, she tore her soul away from them.

Ezekiel 23:18

And when she had laid open her lewdness, and had uncovered her nakedness: then my soul tore itself away from her, as my soul had torn itself away from her sister.

Ezekiel 23:19

Yet she multiplied her deeds of lewdness, in calling to remembrance the days of her youth, when she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 23:20

And she longed for her paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose lustfulness is like the lustfulness of horses.

Ezekiel 23:21

And thou calledst to mind the incest of thy youth, when thy bosom was touched by the Egyptians for the sake of thy youthful breasts.

Ezekiel 23:22

Therefore, O Aholibah, thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will wake up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy soul hath torn itself away, and I will bring them against thee from every side;

Ezekiel 23:23

The sons of Babylon, and all the Chaldeans, Pekod, and Shoa and Koa, and all the sons of Asshur with them, attractive youths, governors and rulers all of them, commanders and chiefs, riding upon horses all of them.

Ezekiel 23:24

And they shall come over thee with weapons, chariots, and wheels, and with an assembly of people, buckler and shield and helmet shall they set up against thee round about: and I will give up before them the right to judge, and they shall judge thee according to their ordinances.

Ezekiel 23:25

And I will set my zealousness against thee, and they shall deal with thee in fury; thy nose and thy ears shall they cut off; and what is left of thee shall fall by the sword: thy sons and thy daughters shall they take away; and what is left of thee shall be devoured by the fire.

Ezekiel 23:26

And they shall strip thee of thy clothes, and take away thy ornamental attire.

Ezekiel 23:27

Thus will I make thy incest to cease from thee, and thy lewdness brought from the land of Egypt: and thou shalt not lift up thy eyes unto them, and Egypt shalt thou not remember any more.

Ezekiel 23:28

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will give thee up into the hand of those whom thou hatest, into the hand of those from whom thy soul hath torn itself away;

Ezekiel 23:29

And they shall deal with thee in hate, and shall take away all [things acquired by] thy labor, and they shall leave thee naked and bare: and thus shall be uncovered the nakedness of thy lewdness, and thy incest and thy lewd deeds.

Ezekiel 23:30

I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone with vile lust after the nations, because thou hast defiled thyself with their idols.

Ezekiel 23:31

On the way of thy sister hast thou walked; therefore will I place her cup into thy hand.

Ezekiel 23:32

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, The cup of thy sister shalt thou drink, the deep and wide one: thou shalt become to be laughed to scorn and to be held in derision, more than thou canst bear.

Ezekiel 23:33

With drunkenness and sorrow shalt thou be filled, [out of] the cup of astonishment and confusion, the cup of thy sister Samaria.

Ezekiel 23:34

Thou shalt even drink it and drain it out, and thou shalt break in pieces its fragments, and tear thy own breasts; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 23:35

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back: therefore bear thou also thy incest and thy acts of lewdness.

Ezekiel 23:36

The Lord said moreover unto me, Son of man, wilt thou call Aholah and Aholibah to account? then tell them of their abominations;

Ezekiel 23:37

That they have committed adultery, and there is blood on their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and also their sons whom they had born unto me have they caused to pass for them through [the fire], to devour them.

Ezekiel 23:38

Moreover this have they done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary on the same day, and my sabbaths have they profaned.

Ezekiel 23:39

And when they had slain their children to their idols, then came they into my sanctuary on the same day to profane it: and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of my house.

Ezekiel 23:40

And furthermore yet, because they sent for men who were to come from afar, unto whom messengers were sent; and, lo, they came, for whom thou didst bathe thyself, paint thy eyes, and deck thyself with ornaments;

Ezekiel 23:41

And thou didst sit upon a stately bed, with a table spread before it, and my incense and my oil didst thou set upon it.

Ezekiel 23:42

And the shout of a peaceful joyous multitude was [heard] within her; and with the men of the masses of the common people were brought Sabean from the wilderness; and these women placed bracelets on their hands, and crowns of glory upon their heads.

Ezekiel 23:43

Then thought I of her that was worn out in adulteries, Will they now [still] commit lewdness with her, when she [is thus]?

Ezekiel 23:44

But men went in unto her, as they go in unto a faithless wife: thus went they in unto Aholah and unto Aholibah, the incestuous women.

Ezekiel 23:45

Righteous men, however—these shall judge them as adulteresses are judged, and as women that shed blood are judged; because adulteresses are they, and blood is on their hands.

Ezekiel 23:46

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, I will bring up against them an assemblage of men, and I will give them up to ill-usage and plunder.

Ezekiel 23:47

And the assemblage shall stone them with stones, and cut them down with their swords: their sons and their daughters shall they slay, and their houses shall they burn with fire.

Ezekiel 23:48

Thus will I cause incest to cease out of the land, that all women may be warned by example, and not do after your incestuous course.

Ezekiel 23:49

And they shall lay your incest upon you, and the sins of your idols shall ye bear: and ye shall know that I am the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 24:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me in the ninth year, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, saying,

Ezekiel 24:2

Son of man, write thee down the name of this day, of this same day: the king of Babylon hath advanced against Jerusalem on this same day.

Ezekiel 24:3

And speak concerning the rebellious family a parable, and say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Set on the pot, set it on, and also pour water into it;

Ezekiel 24:4

Gather the proper pieces into it, every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it up with the choice bones.

Ezekiel 24:5

Take the choice of the flock, and make also a fire for the bones under it: cause it to seethe well, that even the bones therein may be fully boiled through.

Ezekiel 24:6

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Woe to the city of blood-guiltiness, to the pot the scum of which is yet in it, and the scum of which is not gone out of it! one of its pieces after the other take out from it: no lot is cast for it.

Ezekiel 24:7

For her blood was in the midst of her; on the naked rock did she place it: she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it over with dust.

Ezekiel 24:8

To cause my fury to arise to take vengeance, do I place her blood upon the naked rock, so that it shall not be covered up.

Ezekiel 24:9

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Woe to the city of blood–guiltiness! I also will myself build up a large burning pile,

Ezekiel 24:10

Heaping on the wood, kindling the fire, thoroughly boiling the flesh, and stirring the mixture, that the bones may be scorched.

Ezekiel 24:11

Then will I set it empty upon its coals, in order that it may become hot, and its copper be made to glow, and its uncleanness may be molten in it, that its scum may be consumed.

Ezekiel 24:12

With fraud hath she wearied [the poor]; therefore shall not go forth from her the greatness of her scum: through fire shall her scum [be removed].

Ezekiel 24:13

In thy uncleanness is [thy] incest; because I endeavored to cleanse thee, and thou wouldst not be clean, thou shalt not be cleansed from thy uncleanness any more, until I have assuaged my fury on thee.

Ezekiel 24:14

I the Lord have spoken it; it cometh to pass, and I will do it; I will not recall my decree, and I will not have pity, nor will I repent: according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall men judge thee, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 24:15

And the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

Ezekiel 24:16

Son of man, behold, I will take away from thee the desire of thy eyes by a sudden death; but thou shalt neither mourn nor weep, nor shalt thou shed a tear.

Ezekiel 24:17

Sigh in silence, make no mourning for the deceased, thy bonnet bind around thy head, and thy shoes put on thy feet, and cover not thyself to thy upper lip, and eat not the bread of [other] men.

Ezekiel 24:18

And when I had spoken unto the people in the morning, my wife died at evening: and I did in the morning as I had been commanded.

Ezekiel 24:19

And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things mean for us, that thou doest so?

Ezekiel 24:20

And I said unto them, The word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 24:21

Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the pride of your strength, the desire of your eyes, and the darling of your soul: and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left behind shall fall by the sword.

Ezekiel 24:22

And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover yourselves to your upper lip, and the bread of other men shall ye not eat.

Ezekiel 24:23

And your bonnets shall be around your heads, and your shoes shall be on your feet: ye shall not mourn nor shall ye weep; but ye shall pine away in your iniquities, and groan, looking one at the other.

Ezekiel 24:24

Thus shall Ezekiel be unto you for a token; in accordance with all that he hath done shall ye do: when this cometh, then shall ye know that I am the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 24:25

Also, thou son of man, behold, on the day when I take from them their stronghold, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and the coveted object of their soul, their sons and their daughters,—

Ezekiel 24:26

On that day there shall come one that hath escaped unto thee, and announce it to thy ears.

Ezekiel 24:27

On that day shall thy mouth be opened through him that hath escaped, and thou shalt speak, and thou shalt not be silenced any more: and thou shalt be a token unto them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 25:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 25:2

Son of man, set thy face against the sons of 'Ammon, and prophesy against them;

Ezekiel 25:3

And say unto the sons of 'Ammon, Hear ye the word of the Lord Eternal, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because thou hast said, Aha, concerning my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and concerning the land of Israel, when it was made desolate; and concerning the house of Judah, when they went into exile:

Ezekiel 25:4

Therefore, behold, I will give thee up to the children of the east for a possession, and they shall set up their towers in thee, and place in thee their dwellings; they shall indeed eat thy fruit, and they shall surely drink thy milk.

Ezekiel 25:5

And I will change Rabbah into a pasture for camels, and [the land of] the sons of 'Ammon into a resting-place for flocks: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 25:6

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Whereas thou didst clap thy hands, and stamp with thy feet, and rejoice with all thy derision in the soul over the land of Israel:

Ezekiel 25:7

Therefore, behold, will I stretch out my hand over thee, and will give thee up for a spoil to the nations; and I will cut thee off from the people, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries; I will destroy thee, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 25:8

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because Moab and Se'ir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like all the nations:

Ezekiel 25:9

Therefore, behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from his cities on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Beth-ha-yeshimoth, Ba'al-me'on, and Kiryathayim,

Ezekiel 25:10

Unto the children of the east [coming] against the sons of 'Ammon, and I will give them in possession; in order that the sons of 'Ammon may not be remembered among the nations.

Ezekiel 25:11

And on Moab will I execute judgments: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 25:12

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because the Edomites have acted revengefully against the house of Judah, and have greatly offended, and have taken vengeance on them:

Ezekiel 25:13

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, I will also stretch out my hand against Edom, and cut off from it man and beast; and I will make it a ruined land from Theman; and they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.

Ezekiel 25:14

And I will display my vengeance on Edom by the hand of my people Israel; and they shall do in Edom according to my anger and according to my fury: and they shall feel my vengeance, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 25:15

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because the Philistines have acted in revenge, and have taken vengeance with derision in their soul, to destroy out of ancient enmity:

Ezekiel 25:16

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will stretch out my hand against the Philistines, and I will cut off the Kerethim, and destroy the remnant of the [dwellers] of the sea-coast.

Ezekiel 25:17

And I will execute on them great vengeance with furious chastisements: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I display my vengeance on them.

Ezekiel 26:1

And it came to pass in the eleventh year, on the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 26:2

Son of man, because Tyre hath said concerning Jerusalem, Aha, she is broken that was the gates of the people; she is turned unto me; I shall be made full, now she is laid in ruins:

Ezekiel 26:3

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I am against thee, O Tyre, and will bring up against thee many nations, as the sea causeth its waves to come up.

Ezekiel 26:4

And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre, and pull down her towers: I will also flood away her earth from her, and I will change her into a naked rock.

Ezekiel 26:5

A place for the spreading out of nets shall she be in the midst of the sea; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord Eternal: and she shall become a spoil to the nations.

Ezekiel 26:6

And her daughters that are in the field shall be slain with the sword: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 26:7

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will bring against Tyre Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, from the north, the king of kings, with horses, and with chariot's, and with horsemen, and an assemblage, and a numerous people.

Ezekiel 26:8

Thy daughters in the field will he slay with the sword: and he shall place around thee works of attack, and cast up against thee a mound, and erect against thee a target-fence.

Ezekiel 26:9

And his catapults shall he set against thy walls, and thy towers shall he break down with his axes.

Ezekiel 26:10

By reason of the abundance of his horses shall the dust they raise cover thee: by reason of the noise of horsemen, and wheels, and chariots, shall thy walls quake, when he entereth into thy gates, as men enter into a city that is broken in.

Ezekiel 26:11

With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: thy people will he slay with the sword, and the statues of thy strength shall come down to the ground.

Ezekiel 26:12

And they shall plunder thy riches, and make a spoil of thy merchandise; and they shall break down thy walls, and thy pleasure-houses shall they pull down: and thy stones and thy timber and thy earth shall they throw into the midst of the water.

Ezekiel 26:13

And I will cause the sound of thy songs to cease: and the tones of thy harps shall not be heard any more.

Ezekiel 26:14

And I will change thee into a naked rock; a place to spread out nets upon shalt thou be; thou shalt not be rebuilt any more; for I the Lord have spoken it, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 26:15

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal to Tyre, Truly at the noise of thy fall, when the deadly wounded whine, when the slaughter taketh place in the midst of thee, shall the islands quake.

Ezekiel 26:16

Then shall all the princes of the sea come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and their brodered garments shall they put off: with trembling shall they clothe themselves; upon the ground shall they sit, and shall tremble at every moment, and be astonished concerning thee.

Ezekiel 26:17

And they shall lift up over thee a lamentation, and say to thee, How art thou lost, that wast inhabited [safely] by reason of the seas: O renowned city, which was strong on the sea, she and her inhabitants, who caused their terror to be on all that dwelt around her!

Ezekiel 26:18

Now shall the isles tremble on the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy end.

Ezekiel 26:19

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, When I render thee a ruined city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I bring up over thee the deep, and when the great waters cover thee:

Ezekiel 26:20

Then will I bring thee down with those that descend into the pit, unto the people of olden time, and I will cause thee to dwell in the land of the nether world, among ruins of ancient days, with those that go down to the pit, in order that thou mayest not be inhabited; but I will bestow glory in the land of life.

Ezekiel 26:21

As though thou hadst not been will I render thee, and thou shalt be no more: and thou shalt be sought for, but thou shalt never be found any more to eternity, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 27:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 27:2

But thou, O son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyre;

Ezekiel 27:3

And say unto Tyre, O thou that art situated at the entrances of the sea, the merchant of the people unto many isles, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, O Tyre, thou hast indeed said, I am perfect in beauty.

Ezekiel 27:4

In the heart of the seas were thy boundaries, thy builders had perfected thy beauty.

Ezekiel 27:5

Of the fir-trees from Senir had they built thee all thy woodwork: cedars from Lebanon had they taken to make masts for thee.

Ezekiel 27:6

Of the oaks of Bashan had they made thy oars; thy rudder had they made inlaid with ivory of boxwood, brought out of the isles of the Kittim.

Ezekiel 27:7

Fine linen with brodered work from Egypt was thy flag to be unto thee a sign: of blue and purple from the isles of Ellishah was thy cover.

Ezekiel 27:8

The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy oarsmen: thy wise men, O Tyre, that were in thee, these were thy pilots.

Ezekiel 27:9

The elders of Gebal and her wise men were in thee thy caulkers: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to carry on thy commerce.

Ezekiel 27:10

They of Persia and of Lud and of Put were in thy army, thy men of war: the shield and the helmet did they hang up in thee; these gave thee thy elegance.

Ezekiel 27:11

The men of Arvad with thy army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadim were in thy towers: their quivers they hung upon thy walls round about; these made perfect thy beauty.

Ezekiel 27:12

Tharshish was thy merchant through the abundance of all kind of wealth: with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they supplied thy markets.

Ezekiel 27:13

Javan, Thubal, and Meshech; these were thy merchants: with the persons of men and vessels of copper they carried on thy commerce.

Ezekiel 27:14

They of the family of Thogarmah furnished thy supplies in horses and horsemen and mules.

Ezekiel 27:15

The men of Dedan were thy merchants; many isles fetched the merchandise from thy place: chamois horns, ivory, and ebony did they bring as presents for thee.

Ezekiel 27:16

Syria was thy trader by reason of the multitude of thy productions: with emeralds, purple, and brodered work, and fine linen, and coral, and rubies they made deposits in thy treasuries.

Ezekiel 27:17

Judah, and the land of Israel, these were thy merchants: in wheat of Minnith, and balsam, and honey, and oil, and balm they carried on thy commerce.

Ezekiel 27:18

Damascus was thy trader in the multitude of thy productions, for the multitude of all wealth, with the wine of Chelbon, and white wool.

Ezekiel 27:19

Dan also and Javan brought silken goods into thy warehouses: hardened iron, cassia, and calamus came among thy commerce.

Ezekiel 27:20

Dedan was thy merchant in precious clothes for riding on.

Ezekiel 27:21

Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, these were the traders of thy place in lambs, and wethers, and he-goats: in these were they thy traders.

Ezekiel 27:22

The merchants of Sheba and Ra'mah,—these were thy merchants: in the best of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold, they furnished thy supplies.

Ezekiel 27:23

Charan, and Canneh, and 'Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Asshur, [and] Kilmad, were thy merchants.

Ezekiel 27:24

These were thy merchants in ornamental wares, in cloaks of blue, and broidered work, and in chests of damask cloth, bound with cords, and packed in cedar, in thy market-place.

Ezekiel 27:25

The ships of Tharshish were thy caravans in thy commerce: and thou wast made full, and becomest very rich in the heart of the seas.

Ezekiel 27:26

Into great waters brought thee those that were thy rowers: the east wind hath broken thee in the heart of the seas.

Ezekiel 27:27

Thy wealth, and thy warehouses, thy commerce, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy caulkers, and the conductors of thy commerce, and all thy men of war that were in thee, and in all thy assemblage which was in the midst of thee, fell into the heart of the seas on the day of thy downfall.

Ezekiel 27:28

At the sound of the painful cry of thy pilots quake [thy] rural districts.

Ezekiel 27:29

And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, come down from their ships, they stand upon the land;

Ezekiel 27:30

And cause their voice to be heard concerning thee, and cry bitterly, and cast up dust upon their heads, they wallow in the ashes;

Ezekiel 27:31

And they make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird themselves with sackcloth, and they weep for thee with bitterness of heart in a bitter complaint.

Ezekiel 27:32

And they take in their wailing a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, Who is like Tyre, who is so utterly destroyed in the midst of the sea?

Ezekiel 27:33

When thy supplies went forth out of the seas, thou didst satisfy many people: with the multitude of thy wealth and of thy commerce thou didst enrich the kings of the earth.

Ezekiel 27:34

[Now] at the time thou art broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy commerce and all thy assemblage fell in the midst of thee.

Ezekiel 27:35

All the inhabitants of the isles are astonished at thee, and the hair of their kings stand at an end, grieved are their countenances.

Ezekiel 27:36

The traders among the people shall hiss concerning thee: thou wast rendered as though thou hadst not been, and thou shalt not be any more for ever.

Ezekiel 28:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 28:2

Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyre, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Whereas thy heart was lifted up, and thou saidst, A god am I, on the seat of the gods do I dwell, in the heart of the seas; yet thou art but a man, and not God, while thou esteemest thy mind equal to the mind of God;

Ezekiel 28:3

Behold, thou wast wiser than Daniel; no secret was obscure to thee;

Ezekiel 28:4

With thy wisdom and with thy understanding hadst thou gotten thee riches, and hadst gotten gold and silver into thy treasuries;

Ezekiel 28:5

By the abundance of thy wisdom in thy traffic hadst thou increased thy riches; and thy heart was lifted up because of thy riches:

Ezekiel 28:6

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because thou hast esteemed thy mind equal to the mind of God,

Ezekiel 28:7

Therefore, behold, will I bring over thee strangers, the fiercest of nations; and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall profane thy elegance.

Ezekiel 28:8

Down to the grave will they cast thee, and thou shalt die the deaths of the slain in the heart of the seas.

Ezekiel 28:9

Wilt thou then say, I am God, before him that slayeth thee? when thou art but a man, and no God, in the hand of him that fatally wounded thee.

Ezekiel 28:10

The deaths of the uncircumcised shalt thou die by the hand of strangers; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 28:11

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 28:12

Son of man, take up a lamentation concerning the king of Tyre, and say unto him, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Thou wast complete in outline, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.

Ezekiel 28:13

In 'Eden the garden of God didst thou abide; every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, the topaz, and the diamond, the chrysolite, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold; thy tabrets and thy flutes of artificial workmanship were prepared in thee on the day thou wast created.

Ezekiel 28:14

Thou wast a cherub with outspread covering [wings]; and I had set thee upon the holy mountain of God [as] thou wast; in the midst of the stones of fire didst thou wander.

Ezekiel 28:15

Perfect wast thou in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till wickedness was found in thee.

Ezekiel 28:16

By the abundance of thy commerce thou wast filled to thy centre with violence, and thou didst sin: therefore I degraded thee out of the mountain of God; and I destroyed thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

Ezekiel 28:17

Thy heart was lifted up through thy beauty, thou didst corrupt thy wisdom by reason of thy elegance: [therefore] I cast thee down to the ground, before kings did I set thee that they might gaze on thee.

Ezekiel 28:18

Through the abundance of thy iniquities, through the wickedness of thy commerce didst thou profane thy sanctuaries: therefore brought I forth fire from the midst of thee, this devoured thee, and I changed thee to ashes upon the earth before the eyes of all those that saw thee.

Ezekiel 28:19

All that know thee among the people are astonished concerning thee: thou art as though thou hadst not been, and thou shalt not be any more for ever.

Ezekiel 28:20

And the word of the Lord came to me, saying,

Ezekiel 28:21

Son of man, set thy face against Zidon, and prophesy against it,

Ezekiel 28:22

And thou shalt say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon, and I will be honored in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I execute judgments on her, and will be sanctified on her.

Ezekiel 28:23

And I will send out against her pestilence, and blood—[shedding] into her streets; and the deadly wounded shall be felled in the midst of her by the sword [that is] against her from every side: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 28:24

And there shall be no more unto the house of Israel a pricking brier, nor painful thorn from all that are round about them, that despoil them: and they shall know that I am the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 28:25

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, When I gather the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified on them before the eyes of the nations: then shall they dwell in their land that I have given to my servant Jacob.

Ezekiel 28:26

And they shall dwell thereupon in safety, and they shall build houses, and plant vineyards; yea, they shall dwell in safety; when I execute judgments on all those that despoiled them from round about them: and they shall know that I am the Lord their God.

Ezekiel 29:1

In the tenth year, in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month, came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 29:2

Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt.

Ezekiel 29:3

Speak and say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will be against thee, O Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great crocodile that lieth in the midst of his streams, who hath said, Mine is my stream, and I have made it for myself.

Ezekiel 29:4

But I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will fasten the fish of thy streams on thy scales; and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy streams, with all the fish of thy streams which shall stick fast on thy scales.

Ezekiel 29:5

And I will cast thee out into the wilderness, thee with all the fish of thy streams; upon the open field shalt thou fall; thou shalt not be brought in, nor gathered up: to the beasts of the field and to the fowls of the heaven have I given thee for food.

Ezekiel 29:6

And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord; because they have been a reed-staff to the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 29:7

When they took hold of thee with the hand, thou wast cracked, and didst rend for them all the shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou wast broken, and madest all their loins to be at a stand.

Ezekiel 29:8

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and I will cut off out of thee man and beast.

Ezekiel 29:9

And the land of Egypt shall be changed into a waste and ruin, and they shall know that I am the Lord; because he hath said, The stream is mine, and I have made it.

Ezekiel 29:10

Therefore, behold, I will be against thee, and against thy streams, and I will render the land of Egypt a mass of ruins, a waste, and a wilderness, from Migdol to Seveneh even up to the border of Ethiopia.

Ezekiel 29:11

There shall not pass through it the foot of man, and the foot of beast shall not pass through it, and it shall not be inhabited forty years.

Ezekiel 29:12

And I will render the land of Egypt a desolate land in the midst of desolated countries, and her cities among the cities that are ruined shall be desolate forty years: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

Ezekiel 29:13

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, [only] at the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the people whither they shall have been scattered;

Ezekiel 29:14

And I will bring back the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their own origin: and they shall be there an unimportant kingdom.

Ezekiel 29:15

Among the kingdoms it shall be the lowest; neither shall it raise itself any more above the nations: and I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations.

Ezekiel 29:16

And it shall be no more unto the house of Israel for a dependence, bringing [their] iniquity to remembrance, when they turned after them: and they shall know that I am the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 29:17

And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, on the first of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 29:18

Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon hath caused his army to perform a great service against Tyre; every head hath been made bald, and every shoulder hath been rubbed sore: yet no reward hath come to him or to his army from Tyre, for the service that he hath performed against it.

Ezekiel 29:19

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will give unto Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon the land of Egypt; and he shall carry away its multitude, and take its spoil, and plunder its prey: and this shall be the reward for his army.

Ezekiel 29:20

As his recompense for that which he hath served against it, have I given him the land of Egypt, for that which they had done against me, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 29:21

On that day will I cause to grow a horn for the house of Israel, and unto thee will I open the mouth in the midst of them: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 30:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 30:2

Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Wail ye, Woe unto the day!

Ezekiel 30:3

For nigh is the day, yea nigh is the day of the Lord; a cloudy day; the time of the nations' [misfortune] shall it be.

Ezekiel 30:4

And the sword shall come into Egypt, and there shall be trembling in Ethiopia, when the slain fall in Egypt, and when they take away its multitude, and its foundations shall be broken down.

Ezekiel 30:5

Ethiopia, and Put, and Lud, and all the confederates, and Cub, and all the men of the leagued land, shall fall with them by the sword.

Ezekiel 30:6

Thus hath said the Lord, Yea, there shall fall those that uphold Egypt; and there shall come down the pride of her strength: from Migdol to Seveneh shall they fall in her by the sword, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 30:7

And they shall be made desolate in the midst of the desolate countries, and its cities shall be counted in the midst of the cities that have been laid in ruins.

Ezekiel 30:8

And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I set fire to Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be broken.

Ezekiel 30:9

On that day shall messengers go forth from my presence in ships to terrify the secure Ethiopians, and there shall be trembling among them, as on the day of Egypt; for, lo, it cometh.

Ezekiel 30:10

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, I will also cause the multitude of Egypt to cease through the hand of Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon.

Ezekiel 30:11

He and his people with him, the fiercest of nations, shall be brought to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and they shall fill the land with the slain.

Ezekiel 30:12

And I will render the streams dry, and sell the land into the hand of evil men; and I will make the land desolate, and all that filleth it, by the hand of strangers: I the Lord have spoken it.

Ezekiel 30:13

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause false gods to cease out of Noph; and a prince out of the land of Egypt shall there not be any more: and I will lay fear on the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 30:14

And I will make Pathros desolate, and set fire to Zo'an; and I will execute judgments in No.

Ezekiel 30:15

And I will pour my fury over Sin, the stronghold of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of No.

Ezekiel 30:16

And I will set fire to Egypt: Sin shall have great pain, and No shall be broken in, and [over] Noph shall the besiegers [prevail] by broad day.

Ezekiel 30:17

The young men of Aven and of Pi-besseth shall fall by the sword; and they themselves shall go into captivity.

Ezekiel 30:18

And at Thechaphneches the day shall be darkened, when I break there the yoke-bars of Egypt, and the pride of her strength ceaseth therein: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

Ezekiel 30:19

Thus will I execute judgments on Egypt: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 30:20

And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, on the seventh day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 30:21

Son of man, the arm of Pharaoh the king of Egypt have I broken; and lo, it shall not be bound up to apply remedies, to put on a bandage to bind it up, to make it strong that it may grasp the sword.

Ezekiel 30:22

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will be against Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and will break his arms, both the strong, and that which was already broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

Ezekiel 30:23

And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and I will disperse them through the countries.

Ezekiel 30:24

And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and will put my sword in his hand; but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he shall groan, with the groanings of a deadly wounded man before him.

Ezekiel 30:25

Yea I will make strong the arms of the king of Babylon, but the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I place my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, that he may stretch it out over the land of Egypt.

Ezekiel 30:26

And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 31:1

And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, on the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 31:2

Son of man, say unto Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and to his multitude, Unto whom art thou like in thy arrogance?

Ezekiel 31:3

Behold, Asshur was a cedar in Lebanon beautiful in its boughs, and a shadowing thicket, and high in stature; and among the thick-boughed trees was its highest branch.

Ezekiel 31:4

The waters made it great, the deep made it high, with its rivers it was flowing round the place where it was planted, and its ditches it sent forth unto all the trees of the field.

Ezekiel 31:5

Therefore became its stature higher than all the trees of the field, and its boughs were multiplied, and its branches became long because of the multitude of waters, when it stretched itself forth.

Ezekiel 31:6

In its boughs made all the fowls of heaven their nest, and under its branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under its shade dwelt all great nations.

Ezekiel 31:7

And it was beautiful in its greatness, in the length of its light branches; for its root was by many waters.

Ezekiel 31:8

The cedars could not obscure it in the garden of God; the firs were not like its boughs, and the chestnut-trees were not like its branches: not any tree in the garden of God was like unto it in its beauty.

Ezekiel 31:9

Beautiful had I made it by the multitude of its light branches: so that all the trees of 'Eden that were in the garden of God, envied it.

Ezekiel 31:10

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because thou wast so high in stature, and it had placed its highest branch between the thick-boughed trees, and its heart was lifted up through its height:

Ezekiel 31:11

Therefore do I give it up into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with it at his pleasure; for its wickedness do I drive it out.

Ezekiel 31:12

And strangers, the fiercest of nations, cut it down, and cast it to the ground: on the mountains and in all the valleys fall its light branches, and its boughs are [lying] broken in all the ravines of the land; and all the people of the earth are gone away from its shade, and have cast it to the ground.

Ezekiel 31:13

Upon its fallen fragments dwell all the fowls of the heaven, and on its branches are all the beasts of the field:

Ezekiel 31:14

In order that none of all the trees by the waters shall exalt themselves for their height, nor place their highest branch among the thick-boughed trees, and that all those that are nourished by water shall not place themselves erect, because of their height; for they are all given up unto death, to the land of the nether world, in the midst of the children of men, with those that go down to the pit.

Ezekiel 31:15

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, On the day when it went down to the grave I caused a mourning; I covered the deep for its sake, and I restrained its rivers, and the great waters were withheld; and I caused Lebanon to be clothed in black attire for its sake, and all the trees of the field were famished because of it.

Ezekiel 31:16

Through the noise of its downfall I caused nations to quake, when I cast it down into the tomb with the [others] that descend into the pit: and in the land of the nether world comforted themselves all the trees of 'Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that were nourished by water.

Ezekiel 31:17

They also went down with it into the tomb unto those that were slain with the sword, and its helpers that had dwelt under its shade in the midst of the nations.

Ezekiel 31:18

To whom art thou then like in glory and in greatness among the trees of 'Eden? And thou too shalt be brought down with the trees of 'Eden unto the land of the nether world: in the midst of the uncircumcised shalt thou lie with those slain by the sword; yes, he, Pharaoh, and all his multitude, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 32:1

And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, on the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 32:2

Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou didst deem thyself like a young lion among the nations: while thou art as a crocodile in the seas; and thou issuedst forth with thy rivers, and madest turbid the waters with thy feet, and didst stir up their rivers.

Ezekiel 32:3

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, I will therefore spread out my net over thee through the assemblage of many people, and they shall draw thee up in my net.

Ezekiel 32:4

Then will I cast thee upon the land, upon the open field will I hurl thee, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to dwell upon thee, and I will satisfy off thee the beasts of all the earth.

Ezekiel 32:5

And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy carcass.

Ezekiel 32:6

I will also saturate the land wherein thou swimmest with thy blood, even to the mountains; and the ravines shall be full of thee.

Ezekiel 32:7

And I will cover up the heavens, when thou art quenched, and make their stars obscure: the sun will I cover up with a cloud, and the moon shall not let shine her light.

Ezekiel 32:8

All the light-dispensing lights of the heavens—these will I make obscure because of thee, and I will lay darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 32:9

And I will aggrieve the heart of many people, when I bring those who are broken off from thee among the nations, into countries which thou hast not known.

Ezekiel 32:10

Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and on their kings the hair shall stand on end because of thee, when I brandish my sword before their faces: and they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, on the day of thy downfall.

Ezekiel 32:11

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, The sword of the king of Babylon shall come over thee.

Ezekiel 32:12

By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, the fiercest of nations are all of them: and they shall destroy the pride of Egypt, and all her multitude shall be annihilated.

Ezekiel 32:13

And I will cause to vanish all her beasts from beside the great waters; and the foot of man shall not make them turbid any more, nor shall the hoofs of beasts make them turbid.

Ezekiel 32:14

Then will I make clear their waters, and cause their rivers to flow like oil, saith the Lord Eternal;

Ezekiel 32:15

When I render the land of Egypt desolate and wasted, the country bereft of what now filleth it, when I smite all those that dwell therein: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 32:16

This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament for her; the daughters of the nations shall lament for her: for Egypt, and for all her multitude, shall they lament with it, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 32:17

And it came to pass in the twelfth year, on the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 32:18

Son of man, moan for the multitude of Egypt, and say that it shall go down, yea, she, and the daughters of powerful nations, unto the land of the nether world, with those that go down to the pit.

Ezekiel 32:19

Whom dost thou surpass in loveliness? go down [then], and be thou laid with the [other] uncircumcised.

Ezekiel 32:20

In the midst of those that are slain by the sword shall they fall: to the sword is she given up; drag her away and all her multitudes.

Ezekiel 32:21

Then will speak of him the strongest among the mighty out of the midst of the nether world with those that once helped him, They are gone down, there lie the uncircumcised,—slain by the sword.

Ezekiel 32:22

There is Asshur and all his assemblage; round about him are his graves; all of them the slain that are fallen by the sword;

Ezekiel 32:23

Whose graves are placed in the lowest depth of the pit, and his assemblage is round about his grave; all of them are slain, fallen by the sword, who once spread terror in the land of the living.

Ezekiel 32:24

There is 'Elam and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them the slain, that are fallen by the sword, who are gone down uncircumcised into the land of the nether world, who once spread their terror in the land of the living; and they have borne their confusion with those that go down to the pit.

Ezekiel 32:25

In the midst of the slain have they set a couch for her with all her multitude; all round about are her graves; all of them are uncircumcised, slain by the sword; because their terror was once spread in the land of the living; and they have borne their confusion with those that go down to the pit: in the midst of the slain was she placed.

Ezekiel 32:26

There is Meshech, Thubal, and all her multitude; all round about her are her graves: all of them are the uncircumcised, slain by the sword; because they once spread their terror in the land of the living.

Ezekiel 32:27

And those who are fallen of the uncircumcised shall not lie with the mighty, who are gone down to the nether world with their weapons of war, while men laid their swords under their heads, and the [instruments of] their iniquities were upon their bones; for the terror of the mighty was in the land of the living.

Ezekiel 32:28

But thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with those that are slain by the sword.

Ezekiel 32:29

There are Edom, her kings, and all her princes, who are laid despite their prowess by those that are slain by the sword: they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with those that go down to the pit.

Ezekiel 32:30

There are the chieftains of the north, all of them, and all the Zidonians, who are gone down with the slain: despite the terror they excited through their prowess are they made ashamed; and they lie uncircumcised with those that are slain by the sword, and bear their confusion with those that go down to the pit.

Ezekiel 32:31

These shall Pharaoh see, and he shall be comforted over all his multitude: slain by the sword are Pharaoh and all his army, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 32:32

For I spread my terror in the land of the living; and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with those that are slain by the sword,—yea, Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 33:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 33:2

Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, If there be a land over which I bring the sword, and the people of the land take a man from among themselves, and appoint him unto themselves for a watchman;

Ezekiel 33:3

And if he see the sword coming over the land, and blow the cornet, and warn the people;

Ezekiel 33:4

And whosoever heareth the sound of the cornet, and taketh no warning; and the sword cometh, and taketh him away: his blood shall be upon his own head.

Ezekiel 33:5

The sound of the cornet hath he heard, and he hath taken no warning; his blood shall be upon him. But had he taken warning he would have delivered his soul.

Ezekiel 33:6

But if the watchman see the sword coming, and blow not the cornet, so that the people be not warned, and the sword cometh, and taketh away from among them some person: this one is taken away for his iniquity; but his blood will I require from the watchman's hand.

Ezekiel 33:7

But as for thee, O son of man, I have appointed thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: so that when thou hearest a word from my mouth, thou shalt warn them from me.

Ezekiel 33:8

When I say unto the wicked, O wicked one, thou shalt surely die; and thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way: that wicked one shall die for his iniquity; but his blood will I require from thy hand.

Ezekiel 33:9

Nevertheless, if thou hast indeed warned the wicked of his way to turn away from it, and he do not turn from his way: he shall certainly die for his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

Ezekiel 33:10

But thou, O son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, Thus do ye speak, saying, Truly our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and through them do we pine away: how then shall we live?

Ezekiel 33:11

Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord Eternal, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but in the return of the wicked from his way that he may live: return ye, return ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel?

Ezekiel 33:12

But thou, son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him on the day of his transgression; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not stumble through it on the day that he returneth from his wickedness; nor shall the righteous be able to live through the other on the day that he sinneth.

Ezekiel 33:13

When I say of the righteous, that he shall surely live, and he trusteth to his own righteousness, and committeth what is wrong: all his righteous deeds shall not be remembered, and for his wrong that he hath committed,—through this shall he die.

Ezekiel 33:14

Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and he turneth from his sin, and executeth justice and righteousness;

Ezekiel 33:15

If the wicked restore the pledge, make restitution for what he hath robbed, walk in the statutes of life, so as not to do any wrong: he shall surely live, he shall not die.

Ezekiel 33:16

All his sins that he hath committed shall not be remembered unto him: justice and righteousness hath he executed, he shall surely live.

Ezekiel 33:17

Yet say the children of thy people, The way of the Lord is not equitable: while, as to them, their way is not equitable.

Ezekiel 33:18

When the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and doth what is wrong, he shall even die therefore.

Ezekiel 33:19

And when the wicked returneth from his wickedness, and executeth justice and righteousness, he shall surely live therefore.

Ezekiel 33:20

Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equitable. Every one after his own ways will I judge you, O house of Israel.

Ezekiel 33:21

And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the tenth month, on the fifth day of the month after our exile, that there came unto me one that had escaped out of Jerusalem, saying, The city hath been smitten.

Ezekiel 33:22

Now the inspiration of the Lord was come upon me in the evening, before the coming of the one who had escaped; and he had opened my mouth, before he was come to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened and I was not kept dumb any more.

Ezekiel 33:23

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 33:24

Son of man, they that dwell in these ruins in the land of Israel say as followeth, But one man was Abraham, and he obtained the land as an inheritance; and as we are many, the land must [surely] be given to us for an inheritance.

Ezekiel 33:25

Therefore say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, By the blood do ye eat, and your eyes do you lift up toward your idols, and blood do ye shed: and ye expect to possess the land?

Ezekiel 33:26

Ye depend upon your sword, ye commit abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbor's wife: and ye expect to possess the land?

Ezekiel 33:27

Thus shalt thou say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, As I live, surely those that are in the ruined places shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts that they may devour him, and those that are in the strongholds and in the caves shall die through the pestilence.

Ezekiel 33:28

And I will render the land desolate and wasted, and the pride of her strength shall cease; and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, with none to pass through them.

Ezekiel 33:29

And they shall experience that I am the Lord, when I render the land desolate and wasted, because of all their abominations which they have committed.

Ezekiel 33:30

And thou, son of man, [there are] the children of thy people, who are talking about thee by the walls and in the entrances of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Do come, and hear what the word is which cometh forth from the Lord.

Ezekiel 33:31

And then they come unto thee as the people come, and they sit before thee [as] my people, and they hear thy words, but do not execute them; for as merry songs they carry them in their mouth, while their heart goeth after their unlawful gains.

Ezekiel 33:32

And, lo, thou art unto them as a merry song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well: and [thus] they hear thy words, but execute them not.

Ezekiel 33:33

But when it cometh to pass, [lo, it will come,] then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

Ezekiel 34:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 34:2

Son of man, prophesy concerning the shepherds of Israel; prophesy, and say unto them, unto the shepherds, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Woe to the shepherds of Israel who do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

Ezekiel 34:3

The fat ye eat, and with the wool ye clothe yourselves, those that are well fed ye slaughter; but the flock ye feed not.

Ezekiel 34:4

The diseased have ye not strengthened, and the sick have ye not healed, and that which had a limb broken have ye not bound up, and the strayed have ye not brought back again, and what was lost have ye not sought for; but with force have ye ruled them and with rigor.

Ezekiel 34:5

And they were scattered for want of a shepherd; and they became food unto all the beasts of the field, and they were scattered.

Ezekiel 34:6

My sheep have to wander about on all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, over all the face of the land are my flock scattered, and there is none that inquireth and none that seeketh [after them].

Ezekiel 34:7

Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord,

Ezekiel 34:8

As I live, saith the Lord Eternal, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock became food unto every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, and my shepherds did not inquire for my flock, but the shepherds fed themselves, and my flock they fed not:

Ezekiel 34:9

Therefore, O ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord,

Ezekiel 34:10

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will be against the shepherds, and I will require my flock from their hand, and I will stop them from feeding the flock; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more: and I will deliver my flock out of their mouth, that they may not serve them for food.

Ezekiel 34:11

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I am here, and I will both inquire for my flocks, and search for them.

Ezekiel 34:12

As a shepherd searcheth for his flock on the day that he is among his flocks that are scattered: so will I search for my flocks; and I will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered on the day of clouds and [tempestuous] darkness.

Ezekiel 34:13

And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and I will bring them to their own land; and I will feed them upon the mountains of Israel, in the ravines, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

Ezekiel 34:14

On a good pasture will I feed them, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall be their fold: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed on the mountains of Israel.

Ezekiel 34:15

I myself will feed my flock, and I myself will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 34:16

That which was lost will I seek for, and that which was gone astray will I bring back again, and that which had a limb broken will I bind up, and the sick will I strengthen: but the fat and the strong will I destroy; I will feed them in justice.

Ezekiel 34:17

And as for you, O my flock, thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will judge between lamb and lamb, between the wethers and the he-goats.

Ezekiel 34:18

Is it too little for you that ye can feed on the good pasture, that ye must tread down the residue of your pastures with your feet? and that ye can drink clear waters, that ye must render muddy with your feet what is left?

Ezekiel 34:19

And as for my flock, what ye have trodden with your feet must they eat; and what ye have made muddy with your feet must they drink.

Ezekiel 34:20

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal unto them, Behold, I am here, and I will judge between the fat lamb and the lean lamb.

Ezekiel 34:21

Because ye thrust with side and with shoulder, and push with your horns all the diseased, till ye have scattered them abroad:

Ezekiel 34:22

Therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and I will judge between lamb and lamb.

Ezekiel 34:23

And I will appoint over them one shepherd, and he shall feed them, namely, my servant David: he it is that shall feed them, and he it is that shall be unto them for a shepherd.

Ezekiel 34:24

And I the Lord—I will be unto them for a God, and my servant David shall be a prince in their midst: I the Lord have spoken it.

Ezekiel 34:25

And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and I will cause the wild beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell in the wilderness in safety, and sleep in the forests.

Ezekiel 34:26

And I will make them and the environs of my hill a blessing; and I will cause the rain to come down in its season; rains of blessing shall they be.

Ezekiel 34:27

And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield her products, and they shall be on their land in safety: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I break the bands of their yoke, and deliver them out of the hand of those that had made them labor for them.

Ezekiel 34:28

And they shall be no more a prey to the nations, and the beasts of the land shall not devour them; but they shall dwell in safety, with none to make them afraid.

Ezekiel 34:29

And I will raise up for them a plantation for a [perpetual] renown, and they shall be no more taken away by hunger in the land, neither bear the shameful reproach of the nations any more.

Ezekiel 34:30

Thus shall they experience that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 34:31

And ye my flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, [and] I am your God, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 35:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 35:2

Son of man, set thy face against the mountain of Se'ir, and prophecy against it,

Ezekiel 35:3

And say unto it, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will be against thee, O mountain of Se'ir, and I will stretch out my hand over thee, and I will render thee desolate and wasted.

Ezekiel 35:4

Thy cities will I lay in ruins, and thou thyself shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 35:5

Because thou hast had an undying hatred, and didst surrender the children of Israel to the power of the sword, at the time of their calamity, at the time of the iniquity of the end:

Ezekiel 35:6

Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord Eternal, I will surely let thy blood flow, and blood shall pursue thee; since thou didst not hate blood-shedding, so shall blood pursue thee.

Ezekiel 35:7

Thus will I change the mountain of Se'ir into a desolate land and a waste, and I will cut off from it him that travelleth forward and backward.

Ezekiel 35:8

And I will fill his mountains with his slain: as regardeth thy hills, and thy valleys, and all thy ravines, in them shall fall those that are slain by the sword.

Ezekiel 35:9

Into perpetual desolations will I change thee, and thy cities shall not be restored: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 35:10

Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countries shall indeed be mine, and we will take possession thereof; whereas the Lord was there:

Ezekiel 35:11

Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord God, I will even do according to thy anger, and according to thy envy which thou didst use out of thy hatred against them; and I will make myself known among them, when I judge thee.

Ezekiel 35:12

And thou shalt know that I am the Lord: I have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given unto us to consume them.

Ezekiel 35:13

And ye boasted greatly against me with your mouth, and have multiplied against me your words: I have indeed heard them.

Ezekiel 35:14

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate.

Ezekiel 35:15

As thou didst rejoice over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was made desolate: so will I do unto thee; desolate shalt thou be, O mountain of Se'ir, and all Idumea—altogether; and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 36:1

But thou, son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Israel, and say, O mountains of Israel, hear ye the word of the Lord.

Ezekiel 36:2

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because the enemy hath said regarding you, Aha, even the ancient high-places are become ours as a possession:

Ezekiel 36:3

Therefore prophesy and say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because, even because men have made you desolate, and sought to swallow you up on every side, that ye might become a possession unto the residue of the nations, and ye are taken up as a talk for tongues, and an evil report of the people:

Ezekiel 36:4

Therefore, O mountains of Israel, hear ye the word of the Lord Eternal, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal to the mountains, and to the hills, to the ravines, and to the valleys, to the desolate ruins, and to the cities that are forsaken, which are become a prey and derision to the residue of the nations that are round about:

Ezekiel 36:5

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the nations, and against all Idumea, that have appropriated my land unto themselves as a possession with the joy of all their heart, with derision in their soul, in order to drive it out that it may be for a prey.

Ezekiel 36:6

Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains, and to the hills, to the ravines, and to the valleys, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, In my zealousness and in my fury have I spoken, because ye have borne the reproach of the nations:

Ezekiel 36:7

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, I have indeed lifted up my hand, that the nations who are round about you— these shall bear their shame.

Ezekiel 36:8

But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall send forth your boughs, and your fruit shall ye bear for my people Israel, for they are near at hand to come.

Ezekiel 36:9

For, behold, I will be for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and ye shall be sown;

Ezekiel 36:10

And I will multiply upon you men, all the house of Israel— altogether; and the cities shall be inhabited again, and the ruins shall be rebuilt;

Ezekiel 36:11

And I will multiply upon you men and beast, and they shall increase and be fruitful; and I will cause you to be inhabited after your old estates, and will do more good unto you than at your beginnings: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 36:12

Yea, I will cause to walk upon you men, even my people Israel, and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be unto them as an inheritance, and thou shalt not any more henceforth cast them out.

Ezekiel 36:13

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Because they say unto you, Thou land devourest up men, and hast been one that hath ever cast out thy nations:

Ezekiel 36:14

Therefore shalt thou not devour up men any more, and thy nations shalt thou not cast out any more, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 36:15

And I will not let be heard against thee any more the reproach of the nations, and the disgrace of the people shalt thou not bear any more, and thy nations shalt thou not cast out any more, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 36:16

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 36:17

Son of man, the house of Israel, when they dwelt in their own land, defiled it through their way and through their doings: like the uncleanness of a woman in her separation was their way before me.

Ezekiel 36:18

And I poured out my fury over them because of the blood that they had shed in the land, and because through their idols they had polluted it;

Ezekiel 36:19

And I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries: according to their way and according to their doings did I judge them.

Ezekiel 36:20

And when they were come unto the nations, whither they were gone, they profaned my holy name; because they said of them, These are the people of the Lord, and out of his land are they gone forth.

Ezekiel 36:21

But I had pity for my holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations, whither they were gone.

Ezekiel 36:22

Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Not for your sake do I this, O house of Israel, but for the sake of my holy name, which ye have profaned among the nations, whither ye are gone.

Ezekiel 36:23

And I will sanctify my great name, which was profaned among the nations, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the nations shall know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord Eternal, when I will be sanctified through you before your eyes.

Ezekiel 36:24

And I will take you from among the nations, and I will gather you out of all the countries, and I will bring you unto your own land.

Ezekiel 36:25

And I will sprinkle upon you clean water, and ye shall be clean: from all your impurities, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you.

Ezekiel 36:26

And I will give you a new heart, and a new spirit will I put within you; and I will remove the heart of stone out of your body, and I will give you a heart of flesh.

Ezekiel 36:27

And my spirit I will put within you, and I will cause that you shall walk in my statutes, and that my ordinances ye shall keep, and do them.

Ezekiel 36:28

And ye shall dwell in the land which I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be unto me for a people, and I truly will be unto you as a God.

Ezekiel 36:29

And I will save you from all kinds of your impurities; and I will call unto the corn, and increase it, and I will not lay famine upon you.

Ezekiel 36:30

And I will multiply the fruit of the trees, and the products of the field: in order that ye may receive no more reproach on account of famine among the nations.

Ezekiel 36:31

Then shall ye remember your ways that they were evil, and your doings that were not good; and ye shall loathe yourselves on account of your iniquities and on account of your abominations.

Ezekiel 36:32

Not for your sake do I this, saith the Lord Eternal, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded because of your ways, O house of Israel.

Ezekiel 36:33

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, On the day of my cleansing you from all your iniquities, when I cause the cities to be inhabited, and when the ruins are built up,

Ezekiel 36:34

And when the desolate land is tilled, instead that it was a waste before the eyes of every passer by:

Ezekiel 36:35

Then shall they say, This land, that was desolate, is become like the garden of 'Eden; and the cities that were ruined, and desolate, and broken down, are become fortified, and inhabited.

Ezekiel 36:36

And the nations that are left round about you shall know that I the Lord have built up the broken-down [places], have planted the desolate [land]: I the Lord have spoken this, and have done it.

Ezekiel 36:37

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Also in this will I yet suffer myself to be entreated of by the house of Israel, to do it for them, I will increase them with men like flocks [in multitude].

Ezekiel 36:38

As the flocks of the holy things, as the flocks of Jerusalem on her appointed feasts, so shall the ruined cities be full of flocks of men: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 37:1

There came over me the inspiration of the Lord, and he carried me out in the spirit of the Lord, and set me down in the midst of the valley which was full of bones;

Ezekiel 37:2

And he caused me to pass by them all round about; and, behold, there were very many of them on the surface of the valley; and, lo, they were very dry.

Ezekiel 37:3

And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live! And I said, O Lord Eternal, thou alone knowest this.

Ezekiel 37:4

And he said unto me, Prophesy over these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear ye the word of the Lord.

Ezekiel 37:5

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal unto these bones, Behold, I will bring a spirit into you, and ye shall live;

Ezekiel 37:6

And I will lay sinews upon you, and bring up flesh upon you, and draw over you a skin, and put a spirit in you, and ye shall live: and ye shall experience that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 37:7

And so I prophesied as I had been commanded: and there was a sound, as I prophesied, and behold there was a rustling noise, and the bones came together, bone to its bone.

Ezekiel 37:8

And I looked, and behold, there were sinews upon them, and the flesh came up, and the skin was drawn over them above; but no spirit was in them.

Ezekiel 37:9

Then said he unto me, Prophecy unto the spirit; prophecy, son of man, and say to the spirit, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, From the four winds come, O spirit, and breathe into these slain ones, that they may live.

Ezekiel 37:10

And I prophesied as he had commanded me, and there came into them the spirit, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceedingly great army.

Ezekiel 37:11

Then said he unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Dried are our bones, and lost is our hope; we are quite cut off.

Ezekiel 37:12

Therefore prophecy and say unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will open your graves, and I will cause you to come up out of your graves, O my people, and I will bring you into the land of Israel.

Ezekiel 37:13

And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I open your graves, and when I cause you to come up out of your graves, O my people.

Ezekiel 37:14

And I will put my spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall acknowledge that I the Lord have spoken it, and done it, saith the Lord.

Ezekiel 37:15

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 37:16

But thou, son of man, take unto thyself one stick of wood, and write upon it, "For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions;" then take another stick, and write upon it, "For Joseph,—the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions:"

Ezekiel 37:17

And join them one to the other unto thee as one stick; and they shall become one in thy hand.

Ezekiel 37:18

And if the children of thy people should say unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not tell us what thou meanest by these?

Ezekiel 37:19

[Then] speak unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph,—which is in the hand of Ephraim,—and the tribes of Israel his companions, and will lay them upon him, even the stick of Judah, and make them into one stick, and they shall be one in my hand.

Ezekiel 37:20

And the sticks whereon thou shalt have written shall be in thy hand before their eyes.

Ezekiel 37:21

And speak unto them, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations, whither they are gone, and I will gather them from every side, and bring them unto their own land;

Ezekiel 37:22

And I will make them into one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be to them all for king; and they shall not be any more two nations, nor shall they at any time be divided into two kingdoms any more:

Ezekiel 37:23

Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, and with their detestable things, and with all their transgressions; but I will save them out of all their dwelling-places, wherein they have sinned, and I will cleanse them, and they shall be unto me for a people, and I will be to them for a God.

Ezekiel 37:24

And my servant David shall be king over them; and one shepherd shall be for them all: and in my ordinances shall they walk, and my statutes shall they observe, and do them.

Ezekiel 37:25

And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto my servant, unto Jacob, wherein your fathers have dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, they, and their children, and their children's children for ever: and David my servant shall be prince unto them for ever.

Ezekiel 37:26

And I will make with them a covenant of peace, an everlasting covenant shall it be with them: and I will multiply them, and I will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore.

Ezekiel 37:27

My dwelling also shall be with them, and I will be unto them for a God; and they shall be unto me as a people.

Ezekiel 37:28

And the nations shall know that I am the Lord who sanctify Israel, when my sanctuary will be in the midst of them for evermore.

Ezekiel 38:1

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Ezekiel 38:2

Son of man, direct thy face against Gog of the land of Magog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech and Thubal, and prophesy against him,

Ezekiel 38:3

And say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will be against thee, O Gog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech and Thubal;

Ezekiel 38:4

And I will derange thee, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thy army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed in elegant attire, a great assemblage with bucklers and shields, all of them grasping swords.

Ezekiel 38:5

Persia, Cush, and Put [shall be] with them; all of them with shield and helmet;

Ezekiel 38:6

Gomer and all of its armies; the house of Thogarmah out of the farthest north, and all its armies; many people shall be with thee.

Ezekiel 38:7

Be thou ready, and prepare thyself, thou, and all thy assemblages that are assembled about thee, and be thou a guard unto them.

Ezekiel 38:8

After many days shalt thou be ordered forward; in the end of years shalt thou come into the land that is recovering from the sword, and is gathered together out of many people, against the mountains of Israel, which have been ruined for a very long time: [to a people] that are brought forth out of the nations, and that now dwell in safety, all of them.

Ezekiel 38:9

Thou wilt ascend and come like a tempest, like a cloud to cover the earth wilt thou be, thou, and all thy armies, and the many people with thee.

Ezekiel 38:10

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, It will also come to pass, at the same time, that things will come into thy mind, and thou wilt entertain an evil device;

Ezekiel 38:11

And thou wilt say, I will go up over the land of open towns; I will come against those that are careless, that dwell in safety, all of whom dwell without walls, and have neither bars nor gates,

Ezekiel 38:12

To snatch up the spoil, and to take away the prey; to turn thy hand against the ruined places now inhabited, and against the people that are gathered out of the nations, that have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the highest part of the land.

Ezekiel 38:13

Sheba, and Dedan, and the traders of Tharshish, with all her young lions, will say unto thee, Art thou come to plunder the spoil? hast thou gathered thy company to carry off the prey? to bear away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to plunder a great spoil?

Ezekiel 38:14

Therefore, prophesy, son of man, and say unto Gog, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, on the day when my people of Israel dwelleth in safety, shalt thou know [my power].

Ezekiel 38:15

And thou wilt come from thy place out of the farthest ends of the north, thou, and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great assemblage, and a mighty army;

Ezekiel 38:16

And thou wilt come up against my people of Israel, like a cloud to cover the land; in the latter days will this be, and I will bring thee over my land, in order that the nations may know me, when I am sanctified on thee, before their eyes, O Gog.

Ezekiel 38:17

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Art thou [not] he of whom I have spoken in ancient days through means of my servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days [many] years, that I would bring thee against them?

Ezekiel 38:18

And it shall come to pass at the same time, on the day of Gog's coming over the land of Israel, saith the Lord Eternal, that my fury shall be kindled in my nose.

Ezekiel 38:19

And in my zealously, in the fire of my wrath, have I spoken, Surely on that day there shall be a great earthquake in the country of Israel;

Ezekiel 38:20

And there shall quake at my presence the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the cliffs shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.

Ezekiel 38:21

And I will call against him throughout all my mountains for the sword, saith the Lord Eternal: every man's sword shall be against his brother.

Ezekiel 38:22

And I will hold judgment over him with pestilence and with blood[–shedding]; and an overflowing rain, and great hailstones, fire, and sulfur will I let rain over him and his armies, and over the many people that are with him.

Ezekiel 38:23

Thus will I magnify myself, and sanctify myself, and make myself known before the eyes of many nations: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 39:1

But thou, O son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Behold, I will be against thee O Gog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech and Thubal;

Ezekiel 39:2

And I will derange thee, and lead thee astray, and will cause thee to come up from the farthest ends of the north; and I will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel;

Ezekiel 39:3

And I will strike thy bow out of thy left hand, and thy arrows will I cause to fall out of thy right hand.

Ezekiel 39:4

Upon the mountains of Israel shalt thou fall, thou, and all thy armies, and the people that are with thee: unto the ravenous birds, to every thing that hath wings, and to the beasts of the field, do I give thee for food.

Ezekiel 39:5

Upon the open field shalt thou fall; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 39:6

And I will send a fire against Magog, and against those that dwell in the isles in safety: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Ezekiel 39:7

And my holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; and I will not permit my holy name to be profaned any more: and the nations shall know that I am the Lord, Holy in Israel.

Ezekiel 39:8

Behold, it cometh, and it taketh place, saith the Lord Eternal; this is the day whereof I have spoken.

Ezekiel 39:9

And the inhabitants of the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall burn and make fire for heating of the weapons, and shields and bucklers, of bows and of arrows, and of hand-staves, and of spears; and they shall feed with them the fire for seven years;

Ezekiel 39:10

And they shall take no wood out of the field, nor cut down any out of the forests; for with weapons shall they feed the fire: and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and plunder those that plundered them, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 39:11

And it shall come to pass on that day, that I will give unto Gog a place there for a grave in Israel, the valley where people pass over to the east of the sea; and it shall stop the passengers [from passing]: and they shall bury there Gog and all his multitude, and they shall call it The valley of the multitude of Gog.

Ezekiel 39:12

And the house of Israel shall be burying them, in order to cleanse the land, during seven months.

Ezekiel 39:13

Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them as a renown on the day that I glorify myself, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 39:14

And men constantly devoted to this shall they set apart to pass through the land, to bury with those that pass through those that remain upon the face of the earth, to cleanse it; at the end of seven months shall they make a search.

Ezekiel 39:15

And those that thus travel will pass through the land; and when any one seeth a human bone, then will he set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of the multitude of Gog.

Ezekiel 39:16

And also the name of the city shall be Hamonah. Thus shall they cleanse the land.

Ezekiel 39:17

And thou, O son of man, thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Say unto the birds, to every thing that hath wings, and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves from every side to my sacrifice that I do slaughter for you, as a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.

Ezekiel 39:18

The flesh of the mighty shall ye eat, and the blood of the princes of the earth shall ye drink,—wethers, lambs, and he-goats, bullocks, fatlings of Bashan are they all of them.

Ezekiel 39:19

And ye shall eat fat till ye be sated, and ye shall drink blood till ye be drunken, from my sacrifice which I have slaughtered for you.

Ezekiel 39:20

And ye shall be sated at my table on horses and chariot-teams, on mighty men, and on all men of war, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 39:21

And I will display my glory among the nations: and all the nations shall see my punishment that I execute, and my hand that I lay on them.

Ezekiel 39:22

And the house of Israel shall acknowledge that I am the Lord their God from that day and forward.

Ezekiel 39:23

And the nations shall know that for their iniquity did the house of Israel go into exile; because they had trespassed against me, and I had hidden my face from them; and I gave them up therefore into the hand of their oppressors, and they all fell by the sword.

Ezekiel 39:24

According to their uncleanness, and according to their transgressions did I deal with them, and hid my face from them.

Ezekiel 39:25

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Now will I bring back again the captivity of Jacob, and I will have mercy upon the whole house of Israel, and will be zealous for my holy name;

Ezekiel 39:26

And they shall feel their disgrace, and all their trespass whereby they had trespassed against me, when they dwelt in their land in safety, with none to make them afraid:

Ezekiel 39:27

When I bring them back again from the people, and gather them out of the land of their enemies, and sanctify myself on them before the eyes of the many nations.

Ezekiel 39:28

And they shall know that I am the Lord their God; because I had exiled them among the nations, but gather them now unto their own land, and leave none of them any more there.

Ezekiel 39:29

And I will not hide my face any more from them; for I will have poured out my spirit over the house of Israel, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 40:1

In the five and twentieth year of our exile, in the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city had been smitten, on the selfsame day came the inspiration of the Lord upon me, and brought me thither.

Ezekiel 40:2

In the visions of God brought he me unto the land of Israel, and set me down upon a very high mount, on which there was built something like a city on the south.

Ezekiel 40:3

And when he had brought me thither, behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of copper, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring-rod: and he was standing in the gate.

Ezekiel 40:4

And the man spoke unto me, Son of man, behold with thy eyes, and hear with thy ears, and direct thy heart unto all that I am about to show thee; for in order to show it unto thee art thou brought hither: tell all that thou seest to the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 40:5

And behold there was a wall on the outside of the house all round about, and in the man's hand was a measuring-rod of six cubits long by the cubit which was a hand's breadth longer than usual; and he measured the breadth of the building, one rod, and the height, one rod.

Ezekiel 40:6

Then came he unto the gate which looked in the direction toward the east, and went up its steps, and measured the threshold of the gate, one rod in breadth, and the other threshold one rod in breadth.

Ezekiel 40:7

And every cell was one rod long, and one rod broad; and between the cells were five cubits: and the threshold of the gate near by the porch of the gate within was one rod.

Ezekiel 40:8

He measured also the porch of the gate within, one rod.

Ezekiel 40:9

Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits, and its door-posts, two cubits: and the porch of the gate was inward.

Ezekiel 40:10

And the cells of the gate in the eastern direction were three on this side, and three on that side, one measure was for all the three; and there was one measure for the door-posts on this side and on that side.

Ezekiel 40:11

And he measured the breadth of the entrance of the gate, ten cubits, [and] the length of the gate, thirteen cubits.

Ezekiel 40:12

And there was a space before the cells of one cubit on this side, and one cubit space was there on that side: and every cell was of six cubits on this side, and of six cubits on that side.

Ezekiel 40:13

And he measured the gate from the roof of [one] cell to the roof of [another], in breadth five and twenty cubits, one door being against [the other] door.

Ezekiel 40:14

And he made door-posts of sixty cubits, and around the door-posts the court and the gate all round about.

Ezekiel 40:15

And the height of the gate of the entrance as also the height of the porch of the inner gate was fifty cubits.

Ezekiel 40:16

And there were narrow windows in the cells, and by their door-posts within the gate all round about, and likewise in the porches: and windows were all round about inward; and on each door post were palm-shaped [capitals].

Ezekiel 40:17

Then brought he me into the outward court, and, lo, there were chambers, and a pavement made for the court all round about: thirty chambers were upon the pavement.

Ezekiel 40:18

And the pavement by the side of the gates was all along the whole length of the gates: this was the lower pavement.

Ezekiel 40:19

Then measured he the breadth from the front of the lower gate unto the front of the inner court, without, one hundred cubits, eastward and northward.

Ezekiel 40:20

And the gate of the outer court that looked in a northern direction, he measured after its length, and its breadth.

Ezekiel 40:21

And its cells were three on this side and three on that side; and its door-posts and its porches were after the measure of the first gate: fifty cubits was its length, and its breadth five and twenty cubits.

Ezekiel 40:22

And its windows, and its porches, and their palm-shaped capitals, were after the measure of the gate that looked in an eastern direction: and by seven steps did they go up unto it, and to its porches which were before them.

Ezekiel 40:23

And the gates of the inner court were opposite the gates on the north, and on the east: and he measured from gate to gate one hundred cubits.

Ezekiel 40:24

After that he led me forth to the south side, and behold there was a gate on the south side: and he measured its door-posts and its porches after these measures.

Ezekiel 40:25

And there were windows in it and in its porches all round about, like the other windows: it was fifty cubits in length, and in breadth five and twenty cubits.

Ezekiel 40:26

And by seven steps was the ascent to it, and to its porches which were before them; and it had palm-shaped capitals, one on this side, and another on that side, upon its door-posts.

Ezekiel 40:27

And there was a gate in the inner court on the south side: and he measured from gate to gate on the south side one hundred cubits.

Ezekiel 40:28

And he brought me to the inner court by the south gate; and he measured the south gate after these measures;

Ezekiel 40:29

And its cells, and its door-posts, and its porches were after these measures; and there were windows in it and in its porches all round about: it was fifty cubits in length, and in breadth five and twenty cubits.

Ezekiel 40:30

And arched passages were all round about, five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad.

Ezekiel 40:31

And its porches were toward the outer court; and palm-shaped capitals were upon its door-posts: and its ascent was by eight steps.

Ezekiel 40:32

And he brought me into the inner court on the east side; and he measured the gate after these measures;

Ezekiel 40:33

And its cells and its door-posts, and its porches, were according to these measures; and there were windows in it and in its porches all round about: its length was fifty cubits, and its breadth five and twenty cubits.

Ezekiel 40:34

And its porches were toward the outward court; and palm-shaped capitals were upon its door-posts, on this side, and on that side: and by eight steps was the ascent to it.

Ezekiel 40:35

And he brought me to the north gate, and he measured it after these measures;

Ezekiel 40:36

Its cells, its door-posts, and its porches; and the windows in it were all round about: its length was fifty cubits, and its breadth five and twenty cubits.

Ezekiel 40:37

And its door-posts were toward the outer court; and palm-shaped capitals were upon its door-posts, on this side, and on that side: and by eight steps was the ascent to it.

Ezekiel 40:38

And there was a chamber with its door by the door-posts of the gates, where they washed off the burnt-offerings.

Ezekiel 40:39

And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slaughter thereon the burnt-offerings and the sin-offerings and the trespass-offerings.

Ezekiel 40:40

And at the side without [the porch], as one went up to the entrance of the north gate, were two tables; and on the other side of the porch of the gate were two tables;

Ezekiel 40:41

Four tables being on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate, eight tables, whereupon they slaughtered [the sacrifices].

Ezekiel 40:42

And there were four tables of hewn stone for the burnt-offerings, of a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon they laid the instruments wherewith they slaughtered the burnt-offerings and the sacrifices.

Ezekiel 40:43

And hooks, a hand long, were fastened within all round about: and on the tables was placed the flesh of the offerings.

Ezekiel 40:44

And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their front was toward the south side: one was at the side of the east gate having the front toward the north side.

Ezekiel 40:45

And he spoke unto me, This chamber, the front of which is toward the south, is for the priests who have the charge of the house.

Ezekiel 40:46

And the chamber, the front of which is toward the north, is for the priests who have the charge of the altar: these are the sons of Zadok, who come near, from among the sons of Levi, to the Lord to minister unto him.

Ezekiel 40:47

So he measured the court, in length one hundred cubits, and in breadth one hundred cubits, foursquare: and the altar [stood] before the house.

Ezekiel 40:48

And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each door-post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

Ezekiel 40:49

The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, together with the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the door-posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

Ezekiel 41:1

And he brought me to the temple: and he measured the door-posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, [as also] the breadth of the tabernacle.

Ezekiel 41:2

And the breadth of the door was ten cubits; and the sides of the door were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured its length, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits.

Ezekiel 41:3

Then went he inward, and measured the posts of the door, two cubits; and the door was six cubits high; and the breadth of the door, was seven cubits.

Ezekiel 41:4

And he measured its length, twenty cubits; and the breadth, twenty cubits, fronting on the temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

Ezekiel 41:5

After this he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every side-chamber was four cubits, all round about the house on every side.

Ezekiel 41:6

And the side-chambers were one over another, three and thirty times; and they entered into the wall which was on the house for the side-chambers all round about, that they might be fastened on, but they were not fastened on the wall of the house.

Ezekiel 41:7

And as one wound upward it became continually wider for the side-chambers; for the row of chambers about the house went more and more upward round about the house; therefore was the breadth of the house greater upward: and so they ascended from the lowest chambers to the highest through the middle ones.

Ezekiel 41:8

And I saw the height of the house all round about: the foundations of the side-chambers were a full rod of six cubits under ground.

Ezekiel 41:9

The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chambers without, was five cubits, as also the space which was left open by the row of the side-chambers that were on the house.

Ezekiel 41:10

And between the chambers there was a width of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.

Ezekiel 41:11

And the doors of the side-chambers were on the open space, one door was in a northern direction, and another door on the south; and the breadth of the place that was left open was five cubits all round about.

Ezekiel 41:12

Now the building that was before the main wing on the west side was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and its length, ninety cubits.

Ezekiel 41:13

So he measured the house, in length one hundred cubits; and the main wing, and the building, with its walls, in length one hundred cubits;

Ezekiel 41:14

Also the breadth in the front of the house, and of the main wing on the east, was one hundred cubits.

Ezekiel 41:15

And he measured the length of the building on the front side of the main wing which was behind it, and its corner-pillars on the one side and on the other side, one hundred cubits; and this included the inner temple, and the porches of the court;

Ezekiel 41:16

The thresholds, and the narrow windows, and the corner-pillars were round about on their three sides: opposite the threshold there was a wainscoting of wood all round about, and so from the ground up to the windows; and the windows were covered.

Ezekiel 41:17

On the part above the door, and as far as the inner house, and the outer [house], was [a wainscoting], and on all the wall round about within and without, by [the same] measure;

Ezekiel 41:18

And it was ornamented with cherubim and palm-trees, a palm-tree being between two cherubim; and every cherub had two faces;

Ezekiel 41:19

So that a human face was toward the palm-tree on the one side, and a young lion's face toward the palm-tree on the other side: it was so made on all the house round about.

Ezekiel 41:20

From the ground to the part above the door were the cherubim and the palm-trees made, and so on the wall of the temple.

Ezekiel 41:21

The temple had four-cornered door-posts, and the front of the holy of holies had the [same] appearance as the appearance [of the other].

Ezekiel 41:22

The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and its length was two cubits; and its corners, and its top-piece, and its walls, were of wood: and he spoke unto me, This is the table that is before the Lord.

Ezekiel 41:23

And the temple and the holy of holies had two doors.

Ezekiel 41:24

And the doors had two leaves [apiece], two turning leaves, two [leaves] for the one door, and two leaves for the other.

Ezekiel 41:25

And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm-trees, as they were made upon the walls; and [a covering of] thick wooden planks was upon the front of the porch without.

Ezekiel 41:26

And there were narrow windows and palm-trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and on the side-chambers of the house, and the [covering of] thick planks.

Ezekiel 42:1

And he led me forth into the outer court, on the way to the north side; and he brought me into the [row of] chambers that was opposite the main wing, and which was opposite the building toward the north;

Ezekiel 42:2

On the front side the length [of which] was a hundred cubits, [up to] the north door, while the breadth was fifty cubits.

Ezekiel 42:3

Opposite the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and opposite the pavement which was for the outer court, was corner-pillar before corner-pillar in the three stories.

Ezekiel 42:4

And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits in breadth toward the inner house, a way of one cubit [in width]; and their doors were toward the north.

Ezekiel 42:5

Now the upper chambers were shorter [for the corner-pillar took away part of the space from them] than the lowest and than the middle chambers of the building.

Ezekiel 42:6

For they were in three stories, but had not pillars like the pillars of the courts: therefore was something taken off the lowest and the middle ones [as one ascended] from the ground.

Ezekiel 42:7

And the wall that was without alongside the chambers, toward the outer court in front of the chambers, was in its length fifty cubits.

Ezekiel 42:8

For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits; and lo, [the whole space] in front of the temple was one hundred cubits.

Ezekiel 42:9

And beneath these chambers was the entrance from the east side, as one goeth into them from the outer court.

Ezekiel 42:10

On the breadth of the wall of the court in an eastern direction before the main wing, and before the building, were chambers.

Ezekiel 42:11

And the way before them was of like appearance as that for the chambers which were on the north side, of the same length and the same breadth; and all their means of egress, and their arrangement, and their doors were of the like manner.

Ezekiel 42:12

And so also were the doors of the chambers that were on the south side, a door being on the head of the way, of the way directly before the wall on the east side, as one entereth into them.

Ezekiel 42:13

And he said unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers which are in front of the main wing,—these are the holy chambers, where the priests that approach unto the Lord shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, namely, the meat-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering; for the place is holy.

Ezekiel 42:14

When the priests enter therein, then shall they not go out of the sanctuary into the outer court; but there shall they lay down their garments wherein they may have ministered; for they are holy: and they shall put on other garments, and shall then approach to [the court] which is for the people.

Ezekiel 42:15

Now when he had finished the measurings of the inner house, he led me forth by the way of the gate which looked in an eastern direction, and measured it all round about.

Ezekiel 42:16

He measured the east side with the measuring-rod, five hundred rods, with the measuring-rod round about.

Ezekiel 42:17

He measured the north side, five hundred rods, with the measuring-rod round about.

Ezekiel 42:18

The south side he measured, five hundred rods, with the measuring-rod.

Ezekiel 42:19

He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred rods with the measuring-rod.

Ezekiel 42:20

On the four sides did he measure it by the wall that was all round about, five hundred rods in length, and in breadth five hundred, to make a separation between the holy place and the profane.

Ezekiel 43:1

Then did he lead me to the gate, even the gate that was turned in an eastern direction.

Ezekiel 43:2

And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east; and his voice was like a noise of many waters; and the earth gave light from his glory.

Ezekiel 43:3

And it was like the appearance of the vision which I had seen, yea, like the vision that I had seen when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I had seen by the river Kebar: and I fell upon my face.

Ezekiel 43:4

And the glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate which was turned in an eastern direction.

Ezekiel 43:5

Then did the Spirit take me up, and bring me into the inner court: and, behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house.

Ezekiel 43:6

And I heard him speaking unto me out of the house; and a man was standing alongside of me.

Ezekiel 43:7

And he said unto me, Son of man, [this] is the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel forever: and the house of Israel shall not defile any more my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their lewdness, nor by the carcasses of their kings on their high-places.

Ezekiel 43:8

Inasmuch as they placed their threshold by my threshold, and their door-posts close by my door-posts, and the wall being only between me and them, and they defiled my holy name by their abominations which they committed; so that I made an end of them in my anger.

Ezekiel 43:9

Now will they have to put away their lewdness, and the carcasses of their kings, far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

Ezekiel 43:10

Thou, son of man, tell the house of Israel of the house, that they may be confounded because of their iniquities: and let them measure the outlines.

Ezekiel 43:11

And if they be confounded because of all that they have done: then let them know the form of the house, and its arrangements, and its means of egress, and its entrances, and all its forms, and all its statutes, and all its forms, and all its laws, and write them down before their eyes; that they may observe the whole of its form, and all its statutes, and carry them out.

Ezekiel 43:12

This is the law for the house, Upon the top of the mount shall its whole limit all round about be most holy: behold, this is the law for the house.

Ezekiel 43:13

And these are the measures of the altar in cubits, The cubit is a cubit and a hand-breadth; and the bottom shall be a cubit high, and a cubit broad, and its border on its edge round about shall be a span: and this shall be the outside of the altar.

Ezekiel 43:14

And from the bottom upon the ground up to the lower projection shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser projection up to the greater projection shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

Ezekiel 43:15

And the upper portion of the altar shall be four cubits; and from the upper surface of the altar and upward shall be the four horns.

Ezekiel 43:16

And the upper surface of the altar shall be twelve cubits long, by twelve broad, square on its four sides.

Ezekiel 43:17

And the projection shall be fourteen cubits in length, by fourteen in breadth on its four sides; and the border round about it shall be half a cubit; and its bottom shall be a cubit round about; and its steps shall look toward the east.

Ezekiel 43:18

And he said unto me, Son of man, thus hath said the Lord Eternal, These are the statutes of the altar on the day when it shall be finished, to offer thereon burnt-offerings, and to sprinkle thereon blood.

Ezekiel 43:19

And thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that are of the seed of Zadok, who approach unto me, saith the Lord Eternal, to minister unto me, a young bullock for a sin-offering.

Ezekiel 43:20

And thou shalt take of his blood, and put it on its four horns, and on the four corners of the projection, and upon the border round about; and thou shalt cleanse it and make an atonement for it.

Ezekiel 43:21

And thou shalt take the bullock of the sin-offering, and some one shall burn him at an appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary.

Ezekiel 43:22

And on the second day shalt thou offer a he-goat without blemish for a sin-offering: and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.

Ezekiel 43:23

When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, shalt thou offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

Ezekiel 43:24

And thou shalt bring them near before the Lord, and the priests shall throw salt upon them, and they shall offer them up as a burnt-offering unto the Lord.

Ezekiel 43:25

Seven days shalt thou prepare a goat for a sin-offering every day; and a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish shall they prepare.

Ezekiel 43:26

Seven days shall they atone for the altar and purify it; and they shall consecrate the same.

Ezekiel 43:27

And when these days are expired, it shall be, that on the eighth day, and thenceforward, the priests shall prepare upon the altar your burnt-offerings, and your peace-offerings: and I will accept you in favor, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 44:1

And he brought me back by the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary which looked toward the east: and it was locked.

Ezekiel 44:2

Then said the Lord unto me, This gate shall remain locked, it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it; because the Lord, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it, therefore shall it remain locked.

Ezekiel 44:3

As for the prince, being the prince, he shall sit in it to eat bread before the Lord: by the way of the porch of that gate shall he enter, and by the way of the same shall he go out.

Ezekiel 44:4

Then brought he me by the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked, and, behold, the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord: and I fell upon my face.

Ezekiel 44:5

And the Lord said unto me, Son of man, direct thy mind, and see with thy eyes, and hear with thy ears all that I am speaking with thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the Lord, and of all its laws; and direct thy mind to the entrance of the house, with every place of egress of the sanctuary.

Ezekiel 44:6

And thou shalt say to the rebellious, to the house of Israel, Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Ye have done enough with all your abominations, O house of Israel!

Ezekiel 44:7

In your having brought the sons of the stranger, uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to pollute it, even my house, while you were offering my food, the fat and the blood: so that they broke my covenant because of all your abominations.

Ezekiel 44:8

And [because] ye have not kept the charge of my holy things; but ye have set [those unworthy ones] as keepers of my charge in my sanctuary at your own pleasure.

Ezekiel 44:9

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, No son of the stranger, uncircumcised in heart, or uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of all the sons of the stranger that are in the midst of the children of Israel.

Ezekiel 44:10

But as respecteth the Levites that were gone away far from me, when Israel went astray, who went astray away from me, after their idols, they shall surely bear their iniquity;

Ezekiel 44:11

And they shall be in my sanctuary, servants, appointed to watch at the gates of the house, and to be servants for the house: these are they that shall slay the burnt-offerings and the sacrifices for the people, and they shall stand before them to do the service for them.

Ezekiel 44:12

Because that they used to serve them before their idols, and have been unto the house of Israel as a stumbling-block of iniquity; therefore have I lifted up my hand against them, saith the Lord Eternal, and they shall bear their iniquity;

Ezekiel 44:13

And they shall not come near unto me, to officiate as priests unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, to the most holy things; but they shall bear their shame, yea, for their abominations which they have committed.

Ezekiel 44:14

And I will appoint them to be keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

Ezekiel 44:15

But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me,—these are they that shall come near unto me to minister unto me, and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord Eternal:

Ezekiel 44:16

These are they that shall enter into my sanctuary, and these shall come near to my table, to minister unto me; and they shall keep my charge.

Ezekiel 44:17

And it shall come to pass, that, when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall clothe themselves with linen garments; and there shall no wool come upon them, when they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within the house.

Ezekiel 44:18

Linen bonnets shall be upon their heads, and linen breeches shall be upon their loins: they shall not gird themselves with any thing that causeth sweat.

Ezekiel 44:19

And when they go forth into the outer court, into the outer court to the people: then shall they put off their garments wherein they have ministered, and they shall lay them down in the holy chambers; and they shall put on other garments, and they shall not mingle among the people with their garments.

Ezekiel 44:20

And their heads shall they not shave close, nor suffer their hair to grow long: they shall only crop [the hair of] their heads.

Ezekiel 44:21

And wine shall none of the priests drink when they enter into the inner court.

Ezekiel 44:22

And a widow, or one that is divorced from her husband shall they not take to themselves as wives; but only virgins of the seed of the house of Israel; but whatever widow it may be, the [common] priests may take.

Ezekiel 44:23

And my people shall they teach the difference between the holy and profane, and that between the unclean and the clean shall they make known unto them.

Ezekiel 44:24

And in a controversy shall they stand up to judge, according to my ordinances shall they decide it: and my laws and my statutes at all my festivals shall they observe, and my sabbaths shall they sanctify.

Ezekiel 44:25

And to a dead person shall they not come to defile themselves; but on father, or on mother, or on son, or on daughter, on brother, or on sister that hath had no husband, may they defile themselves.

Ezekiel 44:26

And after he is become clean,—they shall reckon unto him seven days,—

Ezekiel 44:27

Then shall he on the day that he cometh into the sanctuary, into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, offer his sin-offering, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 44:28

And it shall be unto them as an inheritance, I am their inheritance: and any possession shall you not give them in Israel, I am their possession.

Ezekiel 44:29

The meat-offering, and the sin-offering, and the trespass-offering—these shall they eat; and every devoted thing in Israel shall belong to them.

Ezekiel 44:30

And the first of all kinds of first-fruits of all, and every kind of heave-offering of every thing of all your heave-offerings, shall belong to the priests; and the first of your dough shall you give to the priest, to cause a blessing to rest on thy house.

Ezekiel 44:31

Any thing that hath died of itself, or that is torn, whether it be fowl or beast, shall the priests not eat.

Ezekiel 45:1

And when ye divide the land by lot for an inheritance, shall ye offer an oblation unto the Lord, as a holy portion of the land, five and twenty thousand rods in length, and in breadth ten thousand. This shall be holy in all its extent round about.

Ezekiel 45:2

Of this there shall be for the sanctuary five hundred [rods] by five hundred, square round about; and fifty cubits as an open space for it round about.

Ezekiel 45:3

And of this measure shalt thou measure, in length five and twenty thousand, and in breadth ten thousand [rods]: and in it shall be the sanctuary [and] the holy of holies.

Ezekiel 45:4

The holy portion of the land shall it be, for the priests the ministers of the sanctuary shall it be, who come near to minister unto the Lord; and it shall be unto them a place for houses, and a holy place for the sanctuary.

Ezekiel 45:5

And five and twenty thousand [rods] in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall also belong unto the Levites, the servants of the house, for themselves, as a possession, with twenty chambers.

Ezekiel 45:6

And as the possession of the city shall ye assign five thousand rods broad, and five and twenty thousand long, alongside the holy oblation: unto the whole house of Israel shall it belong.

Ezekiel 45:7

And the prince shall have that on the one side and on the other side of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy oblation, and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward; and in length alongside one of the portions, both on the west border and on the east border.

Ezekiel 45:8

As landed property shall it be his possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more wrong my people; but the land shall they give to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

Ezekiel 45:9

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, Ye have done enough wrong, O princes of Israel: remove violence and robbery, and execute justice and righteousness; take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 45:10

Just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath shall ye have.

Ezekiel 45:11

The ephah and the bath shall contain the same quantity, that the bath may contain the tenth part of a chomer, and the ephah the tenth part of a chomer: after the chomer shall the measure of contents be.

Ezekiel 45:12

And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: [in pieces of] twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your maneh.

Ezekiel 45:13

This is the heave-offering that ye shall offer; The sixth part of an ephah of a chomer of wheat; and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah of a chomer of barley;

Ezekiel 45:14

And the fixed portion of oil shall be after the bath of oil, the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, ten baths reckoned to the chomer; for ten baths are a chomer;

Ezekiel 45:15

And one lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat pastures of Israel, for meat-offerings, and for burnt-offerings, and for peace-offerings, to make an atonement for them, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 45:16

All the people of the land shall be held bound for this heave-offering for the prince in Israel.

Ezekiel 45:17

And upon the prince shall be the duty to furnish the burnt-offerings, the meat-offerings, and the drink-offerings, on the feasts, and on the new-moon days, and on the sabbaths, on all the festive seasons of the house of Israel: he himself shall prepare the sin-offering, and the meat-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the peace-offerings, to make an atonement in behalf of the house of Israel.

Ezekiel 45:18

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, In the first month, on the first of the month, shalt thou take a young bullock without blemish, and make an expiation for the sanctuary.

Ezekiel 45:19

And the priest shall take some of the blood of the sin-offering, and put it upon the door-post of the house, and upon the four corners of the projection of the altar, and upon the door-post of the gate of the inner court.

Ezekiel 45:20

And so shalt thou do on the seventh day of the month for every one that erreth, and for him that hath sinned unawares; so shall ye atone for the house.

Ezekiel 45:21

In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, shall ye have the passover: a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten.

Ezekiel 45:22

And the prince shall prepare on that day in behalf of himself and in behalf of all the people of the land a bullock for a sin-offering.

Ezekiel 45:23

And on the seven days of the feast shall he prepare a burnt-offering to the Lord, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish on every day of the seven days; and for a sin-offering a he-goat on every day.

Ezekiel 45:24

And as a meat-offering an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram shall he prepare, and a hin of oil for each ephah.

Ezekiel 45:25

In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month, on the feast, shall he prepare the like during the seven days, both the sin-offering, as also the burnt-offering, and the meat-offering, and the oil.

Ezekiel 46:1

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the east shall remain locked the six working days; but on the sabbath day shall it be opened, and on the new-moon day shall it be opened.

Ezekiel 46:2

And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, from without, and shall stand by the door-post of the gate, and the priests shall prepare his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings, and he shall bow himself down at the threshold of the gate, and he shall then go forth; but the gate shall not be locked until the evening.

Ezekiel 46:3

And the people of the land shall bow themselves down at the door of this same gate on the sabbaths and on the new-moons before the Lord.

Ezekiel 46:4

And the burnt-offering which the prince is to offer unto the Lord, shall be on the sabbath-day six sheep without blemish, and a ram without blemish;

Ezekiel 46:5

And as a meat-offering an ephah for the ram, and for the sheep a meat-offering as his hand may be able to give, and a hin of oil for every ephah.

Ezekiel 46:6

And on the day of the new moon, a young bullock without blemish, and six sheep and a ram; without blemish shall they be.

Ezekiel 46:7

And an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, shall he prepare as a meat-offering, and for the sheep according as his means may reach, and a hin of oil for every ephah.

Ezekiel 46:8

And when the prince doth enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and by the same way shall he go forth.

Ezekiel 46:9

But when the people of the land come before the Lord on the appointed feasts, he that entereth in by the way of the north gate to bow himself down shall go out by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go out by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in; but by that opposite to him shall he go out.

Ezekiel 46:10

And as for the prince—in the midst of them, when they go in, shall he go in; and when they go out, shall they go out [together].

Ezekiel 46:11

And on the feasts and on the appointed festivals shall the meat-offering be an ephah for each bullock, and an ephah for each ram, and for the sheep as his hand may be able to give, and a hin of oil for every ephah.

Ezekiel 46:12

And when the prince doth prepare as a voluntary gift a burnt-offering, or a peace-offering, as a voluntary gift unto the Lord: then shall be opened for him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt-offering and his peace-offering, as he usually doth on the sabbath-day; and he shall go out, and the gate shall be locked after his going out.

Ezekiel 46:13

And a sheep of the first year without blemish shalt thou prepare as a burnt-offering every day unto the Lord: morning by morning shalt thou prepare it.

Ezekiel 46:14

And as a meat-offering shalt thou prepare with it, morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third of a hin of oil, to mingle with the fine flour—a meat-offering unto the Lord, as ordinances for ever continually.

Ezekiel 46:15

Thus shall they prepare the sheep, and the meat-offering, and the oil, morning by morning, as a continual burnt-offering.

Ezekiel 46:16

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, If the prince make gift unto any one of his sons, it is his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons: it shall be their possession as their inheritance.

Ezekiel 46:17

But if he make a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants: then shall it remain his to the year of freedom, when it shall return to the prince; but his inheritance shall only remain for his sons.

Ezekiel 46:18

But the prince shall not take any thing from the inheritance of the people, to wrong them out of their possession: out of his own possession can he give an inheritance to his sons; in order that not one of my people be deprived of his possession.

Ezekiel 46:19

And then he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers for the priests, which looked toward the north: and, behold, there was a place by the back wall on the west side.

Ezekiel 46:20

And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass-offering and the sin-offering, where [also] they shall bake the meat-offering; so as not to carry the same out into the outer court, to mingle with the people.

Ezekiel 46:21

Then did he lead me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass along the four corners of the court; and, behold, in every corner of the court there was a court.

Ezekiel 46:22

In the four corners of the court there were uncovered courts of forty cubits in length and thirty in breadth: there was one measure for all these four in the corners.

Ezekiel 46:23

And there was a shelf of masonry round about in them, round about all these four, and it was furnished with hearths for boiling under the shelves round about.

Ezekiel 46:24

Then said he unto me, These are the places of those that boil, where the servants of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

Ezekiel 47:1

And he brought me back again unto the door of the house: and, behold, water was issuing out from under the threshold of the house eastward; for the front of the house stood toward the east; and the water came down from under [the threshold], from the right side of the house, to the south of the altar.

Ezekiel 47:2

Then did he bring me out by the way of the gate northwards and led me about the way without unto the outer gate by the way that looked eastward: and, behold, the water was running on the right side.

Ezekiel 47:3

When the man went forth eastward, having the measuring-line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he led me through the water, the water reaching to the ankles.

Ezekiel 47:4

Again he measured a thousand [cubits], and led me through the water, the water reaching to the knees. Again he measured a thousand [cubits], and led me through, the water reaching to the loins.

Ezekiel 47:5

And he measured again a thousand [cubits], it being a stream that I could not wade through; for the water was increased, being water fit to swim in, a stream that could not be waded through.

Ezekiel 47:6

And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this: Then did he lead me, and caused me to return to the bank of the stream.

Ezekiel 47:7

Now when I returned, behold, there were at the banks of the stream very many trees, on the one side and on the other.

Ezekiel 47:8

Then said he unto me, These waters issue out toward the eastern district, and go down into the plain, and fall into the sea, [the waters] being carried forth into the sea, so that the waters shall be healed.

Ezekiel 47:9

And it shall come to pass, that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whithersoever the double-stream shall come, shall live: and the fish shall be [therein] in great abundance; for when this water shall have come thither, [the waters of the sea] shall be healed, and every thing shall live whither the stream cometh.

Ezekiel 47:10

And it shall come to pass, that the fishers shall stand by it; from 'En-gedi even unto 'En-'eglayim, there shall be places for the spreading out of nets: after their various kinds shall the fish thereof be, like the fish of the great sea, exceedingly many.

Ezekiel 47:11

But its swamps and its lagoons shall not be healed, for [the production of] salt are they destined.

Ezekiel 47:12

And by the stream upon its banks, on this side and on that side, shall grow up all kinds of trees for food, the leaves of which shall not fade, and the fruit of which shall not come to an end, every month shall they bring forth new ripe fruit; because its water is that which issueth out of the sanctuary; and their fruit shall serve for food, and their leaves for remedies.

Ezekiel 47:13

Thus hath said the Lord Eternal, This shall be the boundary, whereby ye shall divide out the land unto the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions.

Ezekiel 47:14

And ye shall inherit it, every one like the other, [the land] concerning which I lifted up my hand to give it unto your fathers: and this land shall fall unto you for an inheritance.

Ezekiel 47:15

And this shall be the boundary of the land: On the north side, from the great sea, the road to Chethlon, as far as to Zedad;

Ezekiel 47:16

Chamath, Berothah, Sibrayim, which is between the boundary of Damascus and the boundary of Chamath; Chazar-hattichon, which is by the boundary of Chavran.

Ezekiel 47:17

And the boundary shall be from the sea to Chazar-'enon, the boundary of Damascus, and the northern part on the north, and the boundary of Chamath. And this is the north side.

Ezekiel 47:18

And the east side shall ye measure between Chavran and Damascus [on the one side], and between Gil'ad and the land of Israel [on the other side] by the Jordan, from the [north] boundary unto the east sea. And this is the east side.

Ezekiel 47:19

And the south side; on the south, from Thamar even to the waters of contention at Kadesh, toward the brook [flowing] into the Great Sea. And this is the south side on the south.

Ezekiel 47:20

And the west side shall be the great sea from the [southern] boundary, as far as straight up to Chamath. This is the west side.

Ezekiel 47:21

And ye shall divide this land among yourselves according to the tribes of Israel.

Ezekiel 47:22

And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance among yourselves, and to the strangers that sojourn in the midst of you, who shall have begotten children in the midst of you; and they shall be unto you as the native born among the children of Israel: with you shall they obtain an inheritance in the midst of the tribes of Israel.

Ezekiel 47:23

And it shall come to pass that in whatever tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 48:1

Now these are the names of the tribes: At the edge, on the north side, along the road on the way to Chethlon, as far as Chamath, Chazar-'enan, the boundary of Damascus northward, alongside of Chamath, there shall be from the east side to the west for Dan one portion.

Ezekiel 48:2

And by the boundary of Dan, from the east side unto the west side, for Asher one portion.

Ezekiel 48:3

And by the boundary of Asher, from the east side even unto the west side, for Naphtali one portion.

Ezekiel 48:4

And by the boundary of Naphtali, from the east side unto the west side, for Menasseh one portion.

Ezekiel 48:5

And by the boundary of Menasseh, from the east side unto the west side, for Ephraim one portion.

Ezekiel 48:6

And by the boundary of Ephraim, from the east side even unto the west side, for Reuben one portion.

Ezekiel 48:7

And by the boundary of Reuben, from the east side unto the west side, for Judah one portion.

Ezekiel 48:8

And by the boundary of Judah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be the oblation which ye shall set aside of five and twenty thousand rods in breadth, and in length as one of the other parts, from the east side unto the west side: and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

Ezekiel 48:9

The oblation that ye shall set aside unto the Lord shall be in length five and twenty thousand [rods], and in breadth ten thousand.

Ezekiel 48:10

And to these shall belong the holy oblation,—namely to the priests, toward the north, five and twenty thousand rods [in length], and on the west ten thousand in breadth, and on the east ten thousand in breadth, and on the south five and twenty thousand in length: and the sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the midst of it.

Ezekiel 48:11

Unto the priests, that are sanctified, of the sons of Zadok, who have kept my charge, who went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

Ezekiel 48:12

To them shall thus belong the portion set aside of the oblation of the land as a most holy thing by the boundary of the Levites.

Ezekiel 48:13

And the Levites shall have alongside the boundary of the priests five and twenty thousand rods in length, and in breadth ten thousand; the whole in length five and twenty thousand, and in breadth ten thousand.

Ezekiel 48:14

But they shall not sell aught thereof, or exchange, or alienate this first portion of the land; for it is holy unto the Lord.

Ezekiel 48:15

And the five thousand rods, that are left in the breadth, with a length of five and twenty thousand, shall be an unconsecrated land for the city, for dwelling, and for an open space: and the city shall be in the midst thereof.

Ezekiel 48:16

And these shall be its measures: The north side four thousand and five hundred [rods], and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred.

Ezekiel 48:17

And the open space of the city shall be toward the north two hundred and fifty [rods], and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty.

Ezekiel 48:18

And the produce of the residue in length alongside the holy oblation ten thousand rods eastward, and ten thousand westward, that which is alongside the holy oblation, shall be for food unto the laborers of the city.

Ezekiel 48:19

And the laborers of the city, men taken out of all the tribes of Israel, shall till it.

Ezekiel 48:20

All the oblation, five and twenty thousand [rods] by five and twenty thousand square, shall ye set apart as the holy oblation, with the possession of the city.

Ezekiel 48:21

And the residue shall belong to the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the city, alongside of the five and twenty thousand of the oblation toward the eastern boundary, and westward alongside the five and twenty thousand toward the western boundary, alongside the portions [of the tribes]; for the prince [shall it be]: and so shall be the holy oblation; and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof.

Ezekiel 48:22

And both the possession of the Levites, and the possession of the city, shall be in the midst of that which belongeth to the prince: between the boundary of Judah and the boundary of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.

Ezekiel 48:23

As for the rest of the tribes, from the east side unto the west side, shall be for Benjamin one portion.

Ezekiel 48:24

And by the boundary of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west side, for Simeon one portion.

Ezekiel 48:25

And by the boundary of Simeon, from the east side unto the west side, for Issachar one portion.

Ezekiel 48:26

And by the boundary of Issachar, from the east side unto the west side, for Zebulun one portion.

Ezekiel 48:27

And by the boundary of Zebulun, from the east side unto the west side, for Gad one portion.

Ezekiel 48:28

And by the boundary of Gad, on the southern side toward the south, shall be the boundary from Thamar unto the waters of contention of Kadesh, unto the brook by the Great Sea.

Ezekiel 48:29

This is the land which ye shall divide by lot for an inheritance to the tribes of Israel, and these are their allotted divisions, saith the Lord Eternal.

Ezekiel 48:30

And these are the outlines of the city: On the north side, five hundred and four thousand rods, by the measure.

Ezekiel 48:31

And of the gates of the city, being after the names of the tribes of Israel, shall be three gates on the north: the gate of Reuben one, the gate of Judah one, the gate of Levi one.

Ezekiel 48:32

And on the east side, five hundred and four thousand rods, with three gates: namely, the gate of Joseph one, the gate of Benjamin one, the gate of Dan one.

Ezekiel 48:33

And the south side, five hundred and four thousand rods by the measure, with three gates: the gate of Simeon one, the gate of Issachar one, the gate of Zebulun one.

Ezekiel 48:34

The west side, five hundred and four thousand rods, with their three gates: the gate of Gad one, the gate of Asher one, the gate of Naphtali one.

Ezekiel 48:35

All around it shall be eighteen thousand rods: and the name of the city shall be from that day "The Lord is there."

DANIEL

Daniel 1:1

In the third year of the reign of Jehoyakim the king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it.

Daniel 1:2

And the Lord gave up into his hand Yehoyakim the king of Judah, with part of the vessels of the house of God: and he brought them into the land of Shin'ar into the house of his god, namely, he brought the vessels into the treasure-house of his god.

Daniel 1:3

And the king said unto Ashpenas, the chief of his eunuchs, that he should bring out of the children of Israel, and of the royal seed, and of the nobles,

Daniel 1:4

[Certain] lads in whom there should be no kind of blemish, but who should be handsome in appearance, and intelligent in all wisdom, and acquainted with knowledge, and understanding science, and such as should have the ability to serve in the king's palace, and that these should be taught the learning and the language of the Chaldeans.

Daniel 1:5

And the king ordered for them a daily provision for its day of the king's food, and of the wine which he drank, and to educate them three years, so that at the end thereof they should serve before the king.

Daniel 1:6

Now there were among these of the children of Judah, Daniel, Chananyah, Mishael, and 'Azaryah.

Daniel 1:7

And the chief of the eunuchs assigned them names; and he assigned to Daniel the name of Belteshazzar; and to Chananyah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to 'Azaryah, of 'Abed-nego.

Daniel 1:8

But Daniel resolved in his heart that he would not defile himself with the food of the king, nor with the wine which he drank: and therefore he requested of the chief of the eunuchs that he might not need to defile himself.

Daniel 1:9

And God gave Daniel kindness and mercy before the chief of the eunuchs.

Daniel 1:10

And the chief of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath ordered your food and your drink; for why should he see your face sadder looking than that of the lads who are of your age? and ye would thus endanger my head with the king.

Daniel 1:11

Then said Daniel to the steward whom the chief of the eunuchs had given charge over Daniel, Chananyah, Mishael, and 'Azaryah,

Daniel 1:12

Prove, I beseech thee, thy servants, ten days; and let them give us vegetables to eat, and water to drink;

Daniel 1:13

And then let our countenances be looked at before thee, and the countenance of the lads that eat the food of the king: and as thou mayest see [fitting], so deal with thy servants.

Daniel 1:14

And he hearkened unto them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

Daniel 1:15

And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared better and fuller in flesh than [that of] all the lads who ate the food of the king.

Daniel 1:16

And the steward took away their [apportioned] food, and the wine that they were to drink, and gave them vegetables.

Daniel 1:17

But as regardeth all these four lads, God gave them knowledge and intelligence in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

Daniel 1:18

And at the end of the days [after] which the king had said that they should be presented, the chief of the eunuchs presented them before Nebuchadnezzar.

Daniel 1:19

And the king spoke with them; and there was not found among them all any one like Daniel, Chananyah, Mishael, and 'Azaryah: and so they served before the king.

Daniel 1:20

And in every matter of wise understanding, which the king required of them, he found them ten times superior above all the magicians and astrologers that were in all his kingdom.

Daniel 1:21

And Daniel continued even unto the first year of king Cyrus.

Daniel 2:1

And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, wherewith his spirit was troubled, and his sleep that was upon him was gone.

Daniel 2:2

Then said the king to call the magicians, and the astrologers and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, to solve for the king his dreams: and they came and placed themselves before the king.

Daniel 2:3

And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream.

Daniel 2:4

Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in Aramic, O king, live for ever: recite the dream to thy servants, and we will tell the interpretation.

Daniel 2:5

The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, The decree is firmly resolved on by me: If ye do not make known unto me the dream with its interpretation, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be changed into a dunghill.

Daniel 2:6

But if ye tell the dream and its interpretation, then shall ye receive gifts and rewards and great honor from me. Therefore tell me the dream and its interpretation.

Daniel 2:7

They answered the second time and said, Let the king recite the dream to his servants, and we will tell its interpretation.

Daniel 2:8

The king answered and said, I know of a certainty that ye wish to gain time, because ye see the decree is firmly resolved on by me:

Daniel 2:9

That if ye do not make known unto me the dream, there is but one sentence for you; for ye have prepared lying and deceptive words to speak before me, till the time be changed. Therefore relate to me the dream, and I shall know that ye can tell me its interpretation.

Daniel 2:10

The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the habitable earth that can tell the king's matter: wherefore no mighty and powerful king ever hath asked such a thing of any magician, or astrologer, or Chaldean.

Daniel 2:11

And the matter which the king requireth is difficult, and there is no other that can tell it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

Daniel 2:12

For all this cause the king became angry, and very furious; and he commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.

Daniel 2:13

And the law went forth and [some of] the wise men were slain: and they sought Daniel and his companions to slay them.

Daniel 2:14

Then made Daniel representations with intelligence and prudence to Aryoch the captain of the king's guard, who was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon.

Daniel 2:15

He commenced and said to Aryoch the king's commander, Wherefore is the law so hasty from the king? Then made Aryoch the matter known to Daniel.

Daniel 2:16

But Daniel went in, and requested of the king that he would give him time, that he might tell the interpretation to the king.

Daniel 2:17

Then went Daniel to his house, and made the matter known to Chananyah, Mishael, and 'Azaryah, his companions.

Daniel 2:18

In order that they might pray for mercy of the God of heaven concerning this secret: so that Daniel and his companions might not be destroyed with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

Daniel 2:19

Thereupon was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a vision of the night. Then did Daniel bless the God of heaven.

Daniel 2:20

Daniel commenced and said, May the name of God be blessed from eternity and to all eternity; for wisdom and might are his;

Daniel 2:21

And he changeth times and seasons; he removeth kings, and raiseth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to those that possess understanding.

Daniel 2:22

He it is that revealeth what is deep and secret; he knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him.

Daniel 2:23

To thee, O God of my father, do I give thanks, and I praise thee, who hast given me wisdom and might, and because thou hast made known unto me what we prayed for of thee; for thou hast made known unto us the king's matter.

Daniel 2:24

Therefore did Daniel go in unto Aryoch, whom the king had ordered to destroy the wise men of Babylon, He went and said thus unto him, the wise men of Babylon must thou not destroy: bring me before the king, and I will tell unto the king the interpretation.

Daniel 2:25

Then did Aryoch bring Daniel before the king in haste, and thus he said unto him, Here have I found a man out of the children of the exiles of Judah, who will make known unto the king the interpretation.

Daniel 2:26

The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and its interpretation?

Daniel 2:27

Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded no wise men, astrologers, magicians, or soothsayers, can tell unto the king;

Daniel 2:28

But there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and he hath made known to king Nebuchadnezzar what is to be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy couch, were these.

Daniel 2:29

As for thee, O king, thy thoughts, when thou wast on thy couch, rose [within thee] concerning what is to come to pass hereafter; and the Revealer of secrets hath made known to thee what is to come to pass.

Daniel 2:30

But as for me, this secret hath not been revealed to me because of any wisdom that is in me more than in all other living; but for the sake that men might make known the interpretation to the king, and that thou mightest understand the thoughts of thy heart.

Daniel 2:31

Thou, O king, sawest, and behold there was a large image; this image was mighty, and its brightness was excellent; it stood opposite to thee; and its form was fear-inspiring.

Daniel 2:32

As regardeth this image, its head was of fine gold, its breast and its arms were of silver, its belly and its thighs of copper,

Daniel 2:33

Its legs of iron, its feet part of them of iron and part of them of clay.

Daniel 2:34

Thou didst look on till the moment that a stone tore itself loose, not through [human] hands, and it struck the image upon its feet that were of iron and clay, and ground them to pieces.

Daniel 2:35

Then were the iron, the clay, the copper, the silver, and the gold ground up together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that no trace was found of them; and the stone that had stricken the image became a mighty mountain, and filled the whole earth.

Daniel 2:36

This is the dream; and its interpretation will we relate before the king.

Daniel 2:37

Thou, O king, art a king of kings, to whom the God of heaven hath given kingdom, power, and strength, and honor:

Daniel 2:38

And wheresoever the children of men dwell, hath he given the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven into thy hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all. Thou art the head of gold.

Daniel 2:39

And after thee there will arise another kingdom inferior to thee; and another third kingdom of copper, which will bear rule over all the earth.

Daniel 2:40

And the fourth kingdom will be as strong as iron; forasmuch as iron grindeth up and beateth down all things, and as iron that breaketh [every thing], will it grind up and break all these.

Daniel 2:41

And that thou sawest the feet and toes, and part of them of potter's clay, and part of them of iron, [signifieth] that it will be a divided kingdom, although there will be in it of the strength of the iron; forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mingled with miry clay.

Daniel 2:42

And as the toes of the feet were part of them of iron, and part of them of clay: so will the kingdom be partly strong and partly brittle.

Daniel 2:43

And whereas thou sawest iron mingled with miry clay: so will they mingle themselves among the seed of men; but they will not cleave firmly one to another, even as iron cannot be mingled with clay.

Daniel 2:44

But in the days of these kings will the God of heaven set up a kingdom: which shall to eternity not be destroyed, and its rule shall not be transferred to any other people; [but] it will grind up and make an end of all these kingdoms, while it will itself endure for ever.

Daniel 2:45

Whereas thou sawest that out of the mountain a stone tore itself loose, not through [human] hands, and that it ground up the iron, the copper, the clay, the silver, and the gold: the great God hath made known to the king what is to come to pass after this. And the dream is reliable, and its interpretation certain.

Daniel 2:46

Then did king Nebuchadnezzar fall upon his face, and he bowed down to Daniel, and ordered that they should offer an oblation and sweet odors unto him.

Daniel 2:47

The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and the revealer of secrets; because thou hast been able to reveal this secret.

Daniel 2:48

Then did the king elevate Daniel, and gave him many great presents, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the superintendents over all the wise men of Babylon.

Daniel 2:49

Then requested Daniel of the king, that he might appoint Shadrach, Meshach, and ‘Abed-nego, over the public service of the province of Babylon; but Daniel remained in the gate of the king.

Daniel 3:1

King Nebuchadnezzar made an image of gold, the height of which was sixty cubits, and the breadth of which was six cubits: he set it up in the valley of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

Daniel 3:2

And king Nebuchadnezzar sent to assemble [his] lieutenants, the superintendents, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, those learned in the law, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which king Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

Daniel 3:3

Thereupon were assembled the lieutenants, the superintendents, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, those learned in the law, and all the rulers of the provinces unto the dedication of the image that king Nebuchadnezzar had set up; and they stood opposite to the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

Daniel 3:4

Then a herald called out with a loud voice, To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages,

Daniel 3:5

That at the time when ye do hear the sound of the cornet, flute, guitar, harp, psaltery, bagpipe, and all kinds of music, ye shall fall down and bow yourselves to the golden image which king Nebuchadnezzar hath set up:

Daniel 3:6

And whoso doth not fall down and bow himself shall in the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

Daniel 3:7

Therefore at the same time, when all the people heard the sound of the cornet, flute, guitar, harp, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the people, the nations, and the languages fell down bowing themselves to the golden image which king Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

Daniel 3:8

Therefore at the same time certain Chaldean men came near, and accused the Jews treacherously.

Daniel 3:9

They commenced and said to king Nebuchadnezzar, O king, live for ever.

Daniel 3:10

Thou, O king, hadst made a decree, that every man that should hear the sound of the cornet, flute, guitar, harp, psaltery, and bagpipe, and all kinds of music, should fall down and bow himself to the golden image;

Daniel 3:11

And that whoso should not fall down and bow himself should be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

Daniel 3:12

There are certain Jewish men whom thou hast appointed over the public service of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego: these men, O king, have not paid any regard to thee; thy god they do not worship, and to the golden image which thou hast set up they do not bow themselves.

Daniel 3:13

Then ordered Nebuchadnezzar in rage and fury to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego. Then were these men brought before the king.

Daniel 3:14

Nebuchadnezzar commenced and said unto them, Is it out of disrespect, O Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego? My god ye do not worship, and to the golden image which I have set up ye do not bow yourselves?

Daniel 3:15

Now then if ye be ready at the time when ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, guitar, psaltery, and bagpipe, and all kinds of music, to fall down and bow yourselves to the image which I have made, [well]; but if ye bow yourselves not, ye shall be cast in the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace: and who is the God that can deliver you out of my hand?

Daniel 3:16

Then answered Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego, and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer thee a word in this matter.

Daniel 3:17

Behold, there is our God whom we worship, he is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace: and out of thy hand, O king, will he deliver us.

Daniel 3:18

But if not, then be it known unto thee, O king, that thy god will we not worship, and to the golden image which; thou hast set up will we not bow ourselves.

Daniel 3:19

Then was Nebuchadnezzar filled with fury, and the form of his countenance was changed because of Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego; [and] he commenced and ordered that they should heat the furnace thoroughly seven times more than it was wont to be heated.

Daniel 3:20

And he ordered the mightiest men in strength that were in his army, to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego, [and] to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

Daniel 3:21

Then were these men bound in their mantles, their under-garments, and their turbans, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

Daniel 3:22

Now, because the king's command was so urgent, and the furnace exceedingly heated, the flame of the fire slew those men that carried up Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego.

Daniel 3:23

And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

Daniel 3:24

Then was king Nebuchadnezzar astonished, and he rose up in haste, [and] commenced, and said unto his counsellors, Did we not cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, Certainly, O king.

Daniel 3:25

He answered and said, Lo, I see four men unbound, walking in the midst of the fire, and there is no injury on them; and the appearance of the fourth is like a son of the gods.

Daniel 3:26

Then came Nebuchadnezzar near to the door of the burning fiery furnace, commenced, and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego, ye servants of the most high God, step forth, and come hither. Then stepped Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego forth out of the midst of the fire.

Daniel 3:27

And the lieutenants, superintendents, and governors, and the king's counsellors, being assembled together, saw these men, over whose bodies the fire had had no power, and the hair of whose head was not singed, whose mantles were not changed, and on whom there was not come the smell of fire.

Daniel 3:28

Then commenced Nebuchadnezzar, and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that had trusted in him, and had transgressed the king's word, and yielded up their bodies, that they might not worship no bow themselves to any god, except their own God.

Daniel 3:29

Therefore do I make a decree, That every people, nation, and language, that may speak any thing disrespectful against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be changed into a dunghill; because there is no other God that can deliver like this one.

Daniel 3:30

Then did the king promote Shadrach, Meshach, and 'Abed-nego, in the province of Babylon.

Daniel 4:1 (3:31)

Nebuchadnezzar the king, unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell on all the earth, May your welfare increase.

Daniel 4:2 (3:32)

The signs and wonders which the most high God hath wrought toward me I find it for good to make known.

Daniel 4:3 (3:33)

His signs—how great are they! and his wonders— how mighty are they! his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his rule is over every generation.

Daniel 4:4 (4:1)

Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace.

Daniel 4:5 (4:2)

I saw a dream which terrified me; and the thoughts upon my couch and the visions of my head troubled me.

Daniel 4:6 (4:3)

Therefore made I a decree to bring before me all the wise men of Babylon, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

Daniel 4:7 (4:4)

Then came up the magicians, the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers; and the dream did I recite before them; but its interpretation did they not make known unto me.

Daniel 4:8 (4:5)

But at the last came up before me Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, after the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and the dream did I recite before him, [saying,]

Daniel 4:9 (4:6)

O Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, of whom I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and that no secret is concealed from thee, tell me the visions of my dream which I have seen, with its interpretation.

Daniel 4:10 (4:7)

And the visions of my head on my couch were, [that] I saw, and behold, there was a tree in the midst of the earth, and its height was great.

Daniel 4:11 (4:8)

The tree grew, and was strong, and its height reached unto heaven, and it was visible to the end of all the earth.

Daniel 4:12 (4:9)

Its foliage was splendid, and its fruit large, and on it was food for all: under it sought the beasts of the field for shade, and in its boughs dwelt the fowls of heaven, and from it was fed all flesh.

Daniel 4:13 (4:10)

I saw in the visions of my head on my couch, and, behold, a watcher who was also a holy one came down from heaven.

Daniel 4:14 (4:11)

He called with might, and thus he said, Hew down the trees and lop off its branches, strip off its leaves, and scatter its fruit; let the beasts flee away from under it, and the fowls from among its branches:

Daniel 4:15 (4:12)

Nevertheless leave the body of its roots in the earth, but [bound] with fetters of iron and copper, among the grass of the field; and let it be made wet with the dew of heaven, and let its portion be with the beasts on the herbage of the earth;

Daniel 4:16 (4:13)

Let his heart be changed not to be human, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let seven times elapse over him.

Daniel 4:17 (4:14)

Through the resolve of the watchers is this decree, and by the order of the holy ones is this decision: to the intent that the living may know that the Most High ruleth over the kingdom of men, and that he can give it to whomsoever he pleaseth, and can set up over it the lowest of men.

Daniel 4:18 (4:15)

This dream have I, king Nebuchadnezzar, seen; but thou, O Belteshazzar, relate its interpretation, forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able; for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

Daniel 4:19 (4:16)

Then was Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, astounded for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him. The king then commenced, and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or its interpretation, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, O that the dream might be for those that hate thee, and its interpretation for thy enemies.

Daniel 4:20 (4:17)

The tree that thou hast seen, which grew, and was strong, the height of which reached unto the heaven, and which was visible to all the earth;

Daniel 4:21 (4:18)

The foliage of which was splendid, and the fruit of which was large, and on which was food for all; under which dwelt the beasts of the field, and in the boughs of which nestled the fowls of the heaven:—

Daniel 4:22 (4:19)

It is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong; and thy greatness is grown apace, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion is to the end of the earth.

Daniel 4:23 (4:20)

And whereas the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from heaven, who said, Hew the tree down, and destroy it; yet leave the body of its roots in the earth, but [bound] in fetters of iron and copper, among the grass of the field; and let it be made wet with the dew of heaven, and let its portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times elapse over it:—

Daniel 4:24 (4:21)

This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the resolve of the Most High, which will come over my lord the king:

Daniel 4:25 (4:22)

They will drive thee away from men, and with the beasts of the field is thy dwelling to be, and they will suffer thee to eat herbs like oxen, and they will suffer thee to be made wet with the dew of heaven, and seven times will elapse over thee; until that thou wilt know that the Most High ruleth over the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he pleaseth.

Daniel 4:26 (4:23)

And whereas they ordered to leave the body of the roots of the tree: thy kingdom will remain unto thee, as soon as thou wilt know that the Heavens do rule.

Daniel 4:27 (4:24)

Therefore, O king, let my counsel be agreeable unto thee, and atone for thy sins by righteousness, and for thy iniquities by showing kindness to the poor: perhaps thy prosperity may [thereby] endure long.

Daniel 4:28 (4:25)

All this came over king Nebuchadnezzar.

Daniel 4:29 (4:26)

At the end of twelve months he was walking upon the royal palace at Babylon.

Daniel 4:30 (4:27)

The king commenced, and said, Is not this Babylon the great, that I myself have built for a royal residence by the might of my power, and for the honor of my majesty?

Daniel 4:31 (4:28)

The word was still in the king's mouth, when there fell a voice from heaven, [saying,] To thee it is said, O king Nebuchadnezzar, The kingdom departeth from thee.

Daniel 4:32 (4:29)

And from men will they drive thee away, and with the beasts of the field shall thy dwelling be; herbs like oxen will they suffer thee to eat, and seven times shall elapse over thee: until thou wilt know that the Most High ruleth over the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he pleaseth.

Daniel 4:33 (4:30)

At the same hour the word was fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar; and from men was he driven away, and herbs like oxen had he to eat, and with the dew of heaven was his body made wet: till his hair was grown like eagles' [feathers], and his nails were like birds' [claws].—

Daniel 4:34 (4:31)

But at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up my eyes unto heaven, and my understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and glorified the Everliving, whose dominion is an everlasting dominion, and whose kingdom is over every generation;

Daniel 4:35 (4:32)

And [by whom] all the inhabitants of the earth are regarded as nought; and [who] according to his pleasure doth with the host of heaven and the inhabitants of the earth; while there is none that can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou?

Daniel 4:36 (4:33)

At the same time my understanding returned unto me; and with the glory of my kingdom, my honor and my splendor returned unto me; and my counsellors and my lords sought for me: and I was replaced in my kingdom, and additional greatness was added unto me.

Daniel 4:37 (4:34)

Now I Nebuchadnezzar praise and extol and glorify the King of heaven, all whose works are truth, and whose ways are justice; and who is able to bring low those that walk in pride.

Daniel 5:1

King Belshazzar prepared a great feast for a thousand of his lords, and before these thousand did he drink wine.

Daniel 5:2

Belshazzar ordered, through the counsel of the wine, to bring in the golden and silver vessels which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken away out of the temple which was in Jerusalem: that the king, and his lords, his wives, and his concubines, might drink therefrom.

Daniel 5:3

Then they brought in the golden vessels that were taken away out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king, and his lords, his wives, and his concubines, drank from them.

Daniel 5:4

They drank wine, and praised their gods of gold, and of silver, of copper, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

Daniel 5:5

At that same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote opposite to the chandelier upon the plaster of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.

Daniel 5:6

Then was the king's color changed, and his thoughts troubled him: so that the bands of his loins were loosed, and his knees knocked one against the other.

Daniel 5:7

the king called with might to bring in the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. The king commenced, and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whatsoever man will read this writing, and tell me its interpretation, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall rule as the third in the kingdom.

Daniel 5:8

Then came in all the wise men of the king; but they were not able to read the writing, nor to make its interpretation known to the king.

Daniel 5:9

Then was king Belshazzar greatly terrified, and his color was changed on him, and his lords were confounded.

Daniel 5:10

[Now] the queen in consequence of the words of the king and of his lords came into the banquet-house; the queen commenced and said, O king, live for ever; let thy thoughts not trouble thee, nor let thy color be changed:

Daniel 5:11

There is a man in thy kingdom in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father enlightenment and intelligence and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, were found in him: and king Nebuchadnezzar thy father appointed him chief of the magicians, astrologers, Chaldeans, and soothsayers:—yes, thy father, O king.—

Daniel 5:12

Forasmuch as a superior spirit, and knowledge, and intelligence, interpreting of dreams, and solving of riddles, and of untying knotty [doubts], were found in him, in Daniel, to whom the king assigned the name of Belteshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will tell the interpretation.

Daniel 5:13

Then was Daniel brought in before the king: the king commenced and said unto Daniel, Art thou Daniel, who art of the children of the exiles of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah?

Daniel 5:14

And I have heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that enlightenment and intelligence and superior wisdom are found in thee.

Daniel 5:15

And now the wise men, the astrologers, had been brought before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me its interpretation; but they were not able to tell the interpretation of the matter.

Daniel 5:16

But I have truly heard concerning thee, that thou art able to give interpretations, and untie knotty [doubts]: now if thou art able to read the writing, and make known to me its interpretation, thou shalt be clothed with purple, with a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt rule as the third in the kingdom.

Daniel 5:17

Then answered Daniel and said before the king, Let thy gifts remain in thy possession, and bestow thy bounty on another: nevertheless will I read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

Daniel 5:18

O thou king! the most high God gave kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and honor unto Nebuchadnezzar thy father;

Daniel 5:19

And because of the greatness that he had given unto him, all people, nations, and languages trembled and shook before him: whom he pleased he slew; and whom he pleased he kept alive; and whom he pleased he lifted up; and whom he pleased he brought low.

Daniel 5:20

But, when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit hardened to deal presumptuously, he was cast down from the throne of his kingdom, and his dignity did they take from him;

Daniel 5:21

And from the sons of men was he driven forth, and his heart became equal with [that of] the beasts, and with the wild asses was his dwelling; they suffered him to eat herbs like oxen, and with the dew of heaven was his body made wet: till he acknowledged that the most high God ruleth over the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it whomsoever he pleaseth.

Daniel 5:22

And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thy heart, though thou knewest all this;

Daniel 5:23

But against the Lord of heaven hast thou lifted thyself up; and the vessels of his house have they brought before thee, and thou, and thy lords, thy wives, and thy concubines, have drunk wine from them; and the gods of silver, and gold, of copper, iron, wood, and stone, which neither see, nor hear, nor know, hast thou praised; and the God in whose hand thy soul is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified:

Daniel 5:24

Thereupon was sent from before him the part of the hand, and this writing was noted down.

Daniel 5:25

And this is the writing that was noted down, M'ne, M'ne, T'kel, Upharsin.

Daniel 5:26

This the interpretation of the matter: M'ne, God hath numbered thy kingdom, and made an end of it.

Daniel 5:27

T'kel, Thou hast been weighed in the balances, and been found wanting.

Daniel 5:28

P'ress; Thy kingdom hath been divided, and is given to the Medes and Persians.

Daniel 5:29

Then gave Belshazzar the order, and they clothed Daniel with purple, with a chain of gold about his neck, and they made a proclamation concerning him, that he should rule as the third in the kingdom.

Daniel 5:30

In that very night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain.

Daniel 5:31 (6:1)

And Darius the Median obtained the kingdom, when he was sixty and two years old.

Daniel 6:1 (6:2)

Darius deemed it proper, and he set over the kingdom one hundred and twenty lieutenants, who should be over all the kingdom;

Daniel 6:2 (6:3)

And over these, three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; that these lieutenants should give accounts unto them, so that the king might suffer no damage.

Daniel 6:3 (6:4)

Then did this Daniel excel [all] the presidents and lieutenants, because a superior spirit was in him: and the king thought to appoint him over the whole kingdom.

Daniel 6:4 (6:5)

Then sought the presidents and lieutenants to find a pretext against Daniel on account of the management of the kingdom; but they were not able to find any pretext or fault, forasmuch as he was faithful, and no kind of error or fault was to be found on him.

Daniel 6:5 (6:6)

Then said these men, We shall not find any pretext against this Daniel, except we find it against him in the law of his God.

Daniel 6:6 (6:7)

Then came these presidents and lieutenants tumultuously to the king, and thus said they unto him, King Darius, live for ever.

Daniel 6:7 (6:8)

All the presidents of the kingdom, the superintendents, and the lieutenants, the counsellors, and the governors, have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a firm prohibition, that whosoever will ask any thing by prayer of any God or man within thirty days, save of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions.

Daniel 6:8 (6:9)

Now, O king, establish the prohibition, and sign the writing, that it cannot be changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which is not to be repealed.

Daniel 6:9 (6:10)

In view of this king Darius signed the writing and the prohibition.

Daniel 6:10 (6:11)

Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went up unto his house, where he had open windows in his upper chamber in the direction of Jerusalem; and three times every day he kneeled upon his knees, and prayed, and offered thanks before his God, as he had been doing before that time.

Daniel 6:11 (6:12)

Then came in these men tumultuously, and found Daniel praying and making supplication before his God.

Daniel 6:12 (6:13)

Then came they near, and spoke before the king concerning the king's prohibition, Hast thou not signed a prohibition, that every man that will pray [for aught] of any God or man, within thirty days, save of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is certainly so, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be repealed.

Daniel 6:13 (6:14)

Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, who is of the children of the exiles of Judah, hath paid no regard to thee, O king, nor to the prohibition which thou hast signed; but three times every day he offereth up his prayer.

Daniel 6:14 (6:15)

Then the king, when he heard this matter, felt very much distressed within himself, and on account of Daniel he sought an excuse to deliver him; and till the going down of the sun he strove hard to rescue him.

Daniel 6:15 (6:16)

Then came these men tumultuously unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that it is the law of the Medes and Persians. That every prohibition and statute which the king hath established is not to be changed.

Daniel 6:16 (6:17)

Then gave the king the order, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. The king commenced and said unto Daniel, May thy God whom thou worshippest continually, truly deliver thee.

Daniel 6:17 (6:18)

And a stone was brought, and placed upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet-ring, and with the signet-ring of his lords, that nothing should be changed in the purpose concerning Daniel.

Daniel 6:18 (6:19)

Then went the king to his palace, and passed the night fasting: and no food was brought before him; and his sleep fled from him.

Daniel 6:19 (6:20)

Then arose the king by the morning-dawn, as soon as it was light, and went in great haste unto the den of lions.

Daniel 6:20 (6:21)

And when he came near to the den, he cried with a mournful voice unto Daniel: the king commenced and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, hath thy God, whom thou worshippest continually, been able to deliver thee from the lions!

Daniel 6:21 (6:22)

Then spoke Daniel with the king, O king, live for ever.

Daniel 6:22 (6:23)

My God sent his angel, and locked up the mouths of the lions, and they have not hurt me; forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, had I done nothing injurious.

Daniel 6:23 (6:24)

Then was the king exceedingly glad within himself, and concerning Daniel he ordered to bring him up out of the den. So was Daniel brought up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in his God.

Daniel 6:24 (6:25)

And the king gave the order, and they brought those men who had accused Daniel treacherously, and they cast into the den of lions them, their children, and their wives; and they had not yet touched the bottom of the den when the lions had the mastery over them, and ground up all their bones.

Daniel 6:25 (6:26)

Then wrote king Darius unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell on all the earth, May your welfare increase.

Daniel 6:26 (6:27)

From me is it decreed, That in all the dominion of my kingdom men shall tremble and have fear before the God of Daniel; for he is the living God, and endureth for ever, and it is his kingdom which will not be destroyed, and his dominion will be unto the end [of things].

Daniel 6:27 (6:28)

He delivereth and rescueth, and he displayeth signs and wonders in heaven and on earth, he who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.

Daniel 6:28 (6:29)

So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

Daniel 7:1

In the first year of Belshazzar the king of Babylon, Daniel saw a dream and the visions of his head while on his couch: afterward he wrote down the dream, relating the principal things.

Daniel 7:2

Daniel commenced and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of heaven blew fiercely on the great sea.

Daniel 7:3

And four great beasts came up from the sea, differing one from another.

Daniel 7:4

the first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I looked till its wings were plucked out, and it was lifted up from the earth, and was placed upon its feet as a man, and a human heart was given to it.

Daniel 7:5

And behold there was another, a second beast, like a bear, and on one side was it placed, with three ribs in its mouth between its teeth: and thus they said unto it, Arise, eat much flesh.

Daniel 7:6

After this I looked, and lo there was another, like a leopard; and it had four wings of a bird on its back: the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given unto it.

Daniel 7:7

After this I looked in the night visions, and behold there was a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and ground up, and what was left it stamped with its feet; and it was different from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns.

Daniel 7:8

I looked carefully at the horns, and, behold, another little horn came up between them, and three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots before the same; and, behold, there were eyes like the eyes of man in this horn, with a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

Daniel 7:9

I was looking until chairs were set down, and an Ancient of days seated himself, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of whose head was like clean wool; his chair was like flames of fire, and his wheels like fire that burnt;

Daniel 7:10

A stream of fire issued and came forth from before him; thousand times thousands ministered unto him, and myriad times myriads stood before him: they sat down to hold judgment, and the books were opened.

Daniel 7:11

I looked then, because of the sound of the presumptuous words which the horn had spoken,—I looked till the beast was slain, and its body destroyed, and given over to the burning fire.

Daniel 7:12

But concerning the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet a longer duration of life was given unto them until the time and period.

Daniel 7:13

I looked in the nightly visions, and, behold, with the clouds of heaven came one like a son of man, and he attained as far as the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

Daniel 7:14

And there were given him dominion, and dignity, and government, and all people, nations, and languages had to serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom is one which shall never be destroyed.

Daniel 7:15

My spirit was deeply shaken within me, Daniel, in the midst of its tenement, and the visions of my head troubled me.

Daniel 7:16

I came near unto one of those that stood by, and asked him something certain concerning all this: and he spoke to me, and made known unto me the interpretation of the things.

Daniel 7:17

These great beasts, of which there are four, are four kings, who are to arise on the earth.

Daniel 7:18

But the saints of the Most High will obtain the kingdom, and possess the kingdom to eternity, even to all eternity for ever.

Daniel 7:19

Then I desired what is certain concerning the fourth beast, which was different from all these others, exceedingly dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and whose nails of copper; which devoured, ground up, and stamped with its feet what was left;

Daniel 7:20

And concerning the ten horns that were in its head, and concerning the other which came up, and before which three fell down, even concerning that horn which had eyes, and a mouth which spoke presumptuous things, and whose appearance was greater than that of its companions.

Daniel 7:21

I had seen how the same horn had made war with the saints, and had prevailed against them:

Daniel 7:22

Until the Ancient of days came, and procured justice unto the saints of the Most High; and the time came and the saints took possession of the kingdom.

Daniel 7:23

Thus said he, The fourth beast [signifieth that] a fourth kingdom will be upon earth, which is to be different from all kingdoms, and will devour all the earth, and will tread it down, and grind it up.

Daniel 7:24

And the ten horns out of this kingdom [signify] that ten kings will arise; and another will rise after them, and he will be different from the first, and three kings will he bring low.

Daniel 7:25

And he will speak words against the Most High, and the saints of the Most High will he oppress, and think to change the festivals and the law: and they will be given up into his hand until a time and times and half a time.

Daniel 7:26

But they will sit down to hold judgment, and they will take away his dominion, to destroy and to annihilate it unto the end.

Daniel 7:27

And the kingdom and the dominion, and the power over the kingdoms under the whole heaven, will be given to the people of the saints of the Most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all governments are to worship and obey him.

Daniel 7:28

Thus far is the end of the speech. As for me Daniel, my reflections troubled me greatly, and my color was changed on me; but I kept the speech in my heart.

Daniel 8:1

In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, to me Daniel, after that which had appeared unto me at the first.

Daniel 8:2

And I saw in the vision—and it came to pass, in my seeing, that I was at Shushan the capital, which is in the province of 'Elam; —and I saw in the vision, as though I was by the river Ulai.

Daniel 8:3

And I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and, behold, there was a ram standing before the river, and he had two horns; and the horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher one came up last.

Daniel 8:4

I saw the ram butting westward, and northward, and southward; so that all the beasts could not stand before him, and no one was there to deliver out of his hand: and he did according to his will, and became great.

Daniel 8:5

And as I was looking attentively, behold, there came a shaggy, he-goat from the west over the face of the whole earth, without touching the ground; and the goat had a slightly large horn between his eyes.

Daniel 8:6

And he came as far as the ram that had two horns, that I had seen standing before the river, and ran at him with his furious power.

Daniel 8:7

And I saw him coming close unto the ram, and he became bitterly enraged against him, and he struck the ram, and broke his two horns: and there was no power in the ram to stand forward before him: and he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him; and there was no one to deliver the ram out of his hand.

Daniel 8:8

And the shaggy he-goat became very great: but when he was grown strong, the great horn was broken; and there came up four slightly large ones in its place toward the four winds of heaven.

Daniel 8:9

And out of them came forth a little horn, which became exceedingly great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the glorious land.

Daniel 8:10

And it became great, even up to the host of the heavens; and it cast down to the ground some of the host and of the stars, and trod them under foot.

Daniel 8:11

Yea, it magnified itself even up to the prince of the host, and by it the continual sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.

Daniel 8:12

And the host is given up together with the continual sacrifice, by reason of transgression: and it casteth down the truth to the ground, and it doth [this], and is prosperous.

Daniel 8:13

Then did I hear a certain holy one speaking, and a holy one said unto the unknown one who was speaking, For how long is the vision concerning the continual sacrifice, and the wasting transgression, to give up both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot?

Daniel 8:14

And he said unto me, Until two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings, when the sanctuary shall be justified.

Daniel 8:15

And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, saw the vision, and sought for understanding, that, behold, there was standing opposite to me something like the appearance of a man.

Daniel 8:16

And I heard the voice of a man between [the banks of] the Ulai, and it called, and said, Gabriel, cause this one to understand this appearance.

Daniel 8:17

So he came close to where I stood: and when he came, I was terrified, and I fell upon my face; but he said unto me, Mark it well, O son of man; because for the time of the end is the vision.

Daniel 8:18

Now as he was speaking with me, I fell down in amazement on my face to the ground: but he touched me, and set me upright where I had been standing.

Daniel 8:19

And he said, Behold, I will make known unto thee what is to be at the last end of the indignation; for it is for the appointed time of the end.

Daniel 8:20

The ram that thou hast seen, him with the two horns, [signifieth] the kings of Media and Persia.

Daniel 8:21

And the shaggy he-goat is the king of Javan; and the great horn which is between his eyes is the first king.

Daniel 8:22

But that it was broken, and that four sprung up in its stead, [signifieth that] four kingdoms will spring up out of the nation, but not with his power.

Daniel 8:23

And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors have filled their measure of guilt, there will arise a king of an impudent face, and understanding deep schemes.

Daniel 8:24

And his power will be mighty, but not by his own power; and he will destroy wonderfully, and will prosper while he doth [this]; and he will destroy very many and the people of the saints.

Daniel 8:25

And through his intelligence, and because he prospereth, is craftiness in his hand; and in his heart will he magnify himself, and in peace will he destroy many: he will also stand up against the Prince of princes; but without a human hand will he be broken.

Daniel 8:26

And the appearance of the evening and the morning which was spoken of is true: but do thou keep the vision closed up;

Daniel 8:27

And I Daniel grieved, and was sick several days; afterward I rose up, and did the king's business; and I was depressed because of the appearance; but no one observed it.

Daniel 9:1

In the first year of Darius the son of Achashverosh, of the seed of the Medes, who was made king over the kingdom of the Chaldeans,

Daniel 9:2

In the first year of his reign, I Daniel searched in the books for understanding concerning the number of the years whereof the word of the Lord had come to Jeremiah the prophet, that he would let pass full seventy years over the ruins of Jerusalem.

Daniel 9:3

And I directed my face unto the Lord God, to ask by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and in sackcloth, and ashes.

Daniel 9:4

And I prayed unto the Lord my God, and made my confession, and said, O Lord, the great and terrible God, who keepeth the covenant and kindness to those that love him, and to those that keep his commandments:

Daniel 9:5

We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, and have departed from thy commandments and from thy ordinances;

Daniel 9:6

Nor have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, who spoke in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

Daniel 9:7

Thine, O Lord, is the righteousness, but unto us belongeth the shame of face, as it is this day,—to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, those that are near, and those that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass which they have trespassed against thee.

Daniel 9:8

O Lord, to us belongeth the shame of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers; because we have sinned against thee.

Daniel 9:9

To the Lord our God belong mercies and pardonings; for we have rebelled against him;

Daniel 9:10

And we have not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us through means of his servants the prophets.

Daniel 9:11

Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, and have departed so as not to obey thy voice: therefore was poured out over us the curse, with the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God; because we had sinned against him.

Daniel 9:12

And he hath accomplished his words, which he had spoken concerning us, and concerning our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil, which was never done under the whole heaven as it hath been done in Jerusalem.

Daniel 9:13

As it is written in the law of Moses; all this evil came over us: yet offered we not any entreaty before the Lord our God, to return from our iniquities, and to become intelligent in thy truth.

Daniel 9:14

Therefore did the Lord watch over the evil, and he brought it upon us; for the Lord our God is righteous because of all his deeds which he hath done; but we have not obeyed his voice.

Daniel 9:15

And now, O Lord our God, who hast brought forth thy people out of the land of Egypt with a strong hand, and hast made thyself a [great] name, as it is this day: we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

Daniel 9:16

O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thy anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain; because through our sins, and through the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all who are round about us.

Daniel 9:17

And now listen, O our God, to the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary which is desolate, for the sake of the Lord.

Daniel 9:18

Incline, O my God, thy ear, and hear; open thy eyes, and look on our desolations, and the city whereupon thy name is called: for not [relying] on our acts of righteousness do we present humbly our supplications before thee, but [relying] on thy great mercies.

Daniel 9:19

O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do it; delay it not; for thy own sake, O my God; for thy name is called upon thy city and upon thy people.

Daniel 9:20

And while I was yet speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication humbly before the Lord my God because of the holy mountain of my God:

Daniel 9:21

Yea, while I was yet speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, came, flying swiftly, near me about the time of the evening oblation.

Daniel 9:22

And he gave me understanding, and spoke with me, and said, O Daniel, now am I come forth to make thee intelligent with understanding.

Daniel 9:23

At the beginning of thy supplications the word went forth, and I am come to tell it; for thou art greatly beloved: therefore understand the matter, and have understanding of the appearance.

Daniel 9:24

Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people and upon thy holy city, to close up the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to atone for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most holy thing.

Daniel 9:25

Know therefore and comprehend, that from the going forth of the word to restore and to build Jerusalem unto the anointed the prince will be seven weeks: and during sixty and two weeks will it be again built with streets and ditches [around it], even in the pressure of the times.

Daniel 9:26

And after the sixty and two weeks will an anointed one be cut off without a successor to follow him: and the city and the sanctuary will the people of the prince that is coming destroy; but his end will come in a violent overthrow; but until the end of the war devastations are decreed [against it].

Daniel 9:27

And he will make a strong covenant with the many for one week; and in the half of the week will he cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and this because of the prevalence of the abominations which bringeth devastation, and until destruction and what is decreed shall be poured out upon the waster.

Daniel 10:1

In the third year of Cyrus the king of Persia a word was revealed unto Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the word is the truth, but the time appointed is long off: and he noted the word, and took notice of it in the appearance.

Daniel 10:2

In those days I Daniel was mourning three full weeks.

Daniel 10:3

Costly food did I not eat, and flesh and wine came not in my mouth, nor did I at all anoint myself, till three whole weeks were elapsed.

Daniel 10:4

And on the four and twentieth day of the first month, while I was by the side of the great river, which is Chiddekel,

Daniel 10:5

I lifted up my eyes, and looked, and behold there was a certain man clothed in linen, and his loins were girded with fine gold of Uphaz;

Daniel 10:6

And his body was also like the chrysolite, and his face, like the appearance of lightning, and his eyes were like torches of fire, and his arms and his feet, like the color of polished copper, and the sound of his words was like the noise of a multitude.

Daniel 10:7

And I Daniel saw alone this appearance; but the men that were with me did not see the appearance: nevertheless a great terror fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

Daniel 10:8

And I was left by myself alone, and I saw this great appearance, and there remained no strength in me; and my healthy color was changed on me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

Daniel 10:9

Then heard I the sound of his words; and as I heard the sound of his words, I sank in amazement on my face, with my face toward the ground.

Daniel 10:10

And, behold, a hand touched me, and it moved me upon my knees and the palms of my hands.

Daniel 10:11

And he said unto me, O Daniel, the man greatly beloved, mark well the words that I speak unto thee, and stand on thy standing-place; for now have I been sent unto thee. And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood up trembling.

Daniel 10:12

And he said unto me, Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst set thy heart to obtain understanding, and to fast before thy God, were thy words heard: and I am come in consequence of thy words.

Daniel 10:13

But the prince of the kingdom of Persia stood up against me one and twenty days: but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I obtained the victory there with the kings of Persia.

Daniel 10:14

Now am I come to make thee understand what is to befall thy people, in the latter days; for the vision is yet for the [coming] days.

Daniel 10:15

And when he spoke unto me such words, I directed my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.

Daniel 10:16

And, behold, something like the form of the sons of men touched my lips; and I opened my mouth, and I spoke, and said unto him that stood opposite to me, O my lord, because of the appearance my pains suddenly overcame me, and I have retained no strength.

Daniel 10:17

And how shall the servant of this my lord be able to speak with this my lord? And as for me, from that moment there remained no strength in me, and no breath was left in me.

Daniel 10:18

Then there touched me again something like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me;

Daniel 10:19

And he said, Fear not, O man greatly beloved: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he spoke with me, I felt myself strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.

Daniel 10:20

Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia; and as I am going forth, lo, the prince of Javan is coming.

Daniel 10:21

Nevertheless will I tell thee what is noted down in the writing of truth:—and there is none that holdeth with me [to assist me] against those, except Michael your prince.

Daniel 11:1

And I in the first year of Darius the Mede had my station to assist and to protect him.

Daniel 11:2

And now will I tell thee the truth. Behold, there will stand up yet three kings of Persia: and the fourth will obtain far greater riches than all [these]: and when he is strong through his riches will he stir up all, [namely,] the kingdom of Javan.

Daniel 11:3

And then will stand up a mighty king, who will rule with great dominion, and do according to his pleasure.

Daniel 11:4

And when he shall have stood, his kingdom will be broken, and will be divided toward the four winds of the heavens, and not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion which he ruled; for his kingdom will be torn asunder even for others beside those.

Daniel 11:5

And the king of the south will become strong, yea, he who is one of his princes; but [another] will become strong against him, and will rule: a great dominion will his dominion be.

Daniel 11:6

But at the end of [some] years will they associate themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south will come to the king of the north to make a settlement of difficulties; but she will not retain the power of the support; neither will he stand, nor his support: but she will be given up with those that had brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in those times.

Daniel 11:7

But there will up a sprout of her roots in his place, and he will come to the army, and will enter into the stronghold of the king of the north, and will deal with them, and prevail:

Daniel 11:8

And also their gods with their molten images, with their precious vessels of silver and of gold, will he carry into captivity to Egypt; and he will stand off some years from the king of the north.

Daniel 11:9

But this one will then enter the kingdom of the king of the south, and then return into his own land.

Daniel 11:10

But his sons will commence a war, and assemble a multitude of great armies; and one will certainly enter, and overflow, and pass along: then will he return, and make war again, even to his stronghold.

Daniel 11:11

And the king of the south will be moved with bitter wrath, and go forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he will set forth a great multitude; but the multitude [of the other] will be given up into his hand.

Daniel 11:12

And the multitude will be lifted up, and his heart will become proud; and he will cast down myriads; but he will not be strengthened by it.

Daniel 11:13

And the king of the north will return, and set forth a multitude greater than the former; and at the end of the times, of years, will he certainly come with a great army and with much riches.

Daniel 11:14

And in those times many will stand up against the king of the south: also the rebellious sons of thy people will lift themselves up to establish the vision; but they will stumble.

Daniel 11:15

And the king of the north will come, and cast up a mound, and capture the city defended by fortifications: and the arms of the south will not withstand, and as regardeth his chosen people, there will be no power [in them] to withstand.

Daniel 11:16

But he that cometh against them will do according to his pleasure, and none will stand before him; and he will place himself in the glorious land, which will be altogether in his hand.

Daniel 11:17

He will also direct his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, having professions of peace with him; and thus will he do it: and he will give him the daughter of his wife to destroy it: but it will not stand, and it will not remain his.

Daniel 11:18

And he will direct his face unto the isles, and capture many; but a chieftain will cause to cease his reproach against him: without his giving back to him his own reproach.

Daniel 11:19

Then will he direct his face toward the strong-holds of his own land; but he will stumble and fall, and will no more be found.

Daniel 11:20

And there will stand up in his place one who will cause the exactor [of taxes] to pass through the glorious [land] of the kingdom; but within a few days will he be broken, but not in anger, nor in battle.

Daniel 11:21

And there will stand up in his place a despicable person, to whom they assigned not the honor of the kingdom; but he will come in quietly, and lay hold of the kingdom by flatteries.

Daniel 11:22

And the powers of the overflow will be swept away from before him, and will be broken: yea, so also the prince in covenant [with him].

Daniel 11:23

And from the time of his associating with him will he deal deceitfully; and he will come up, and obtain the victory with a small number of people.

Daniel 11:24

In quiet and into the fattest portion of the province will he enter; and he will do what his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers: the prey, and spoil, and riches will he divide freely to them, and against the strong-holds will he devise his plans, but only till a certain time.

Daniel 11:25

And he will then stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army: and the king of the south will prepare himself for the war with an exceedingly great and mighty army; but he will not stand; for they will devise [evil] plans against him.

Daniel 11:26

Yea, they that eat of his food will bring his downfall, and the army of the other will overflow; and many will fall down slain.

Daniel 11:27

And as for both these kings, their heart is bent on mischief, and at one table will they speak lies; but it shall not prosper; for the end is yet for the time appointed.

Daniel 11:28

Then will he return into his land with great riches, and his heart will be against the holy covenant: and he will do it, and return to his own land.

Daniel 11:29

At the time appointed will he return, and enter into the south; but not as in the former will it be in the latter time.

Daniel 11:30

For there will come against him the ships of Kittim; and he will become faint-hearted, and return, and will rage against the holy covenant; and he will do it: and he will return, and have an understanding with those that forsake the holy covenant.

Daniel 11:31

And the army divisions will proceed from him, and they will defile the sanctuary, the fortress, and remove the continual sacrifice, and they will set up the desolating abomination.

Daniel 11:32

And such as act wickedly against the covenant will be corrupted by flatteries; but the people that do know their God will be strong, and deal [valiantly].

Daniel 11:33

And the intelligent among the people will impart understanding to many: yet they will stumble through the sword, and through flame, through captivity, and through being plundered for some time.

Daniel 11:34

But in their stumbling will they be aided with a little help: but many will join themselves to them with deceptive flatteries.

Daniel 11:35

And some of the intelligent will stumble, to make a purification among them, and to select and to cleanse them, until the time of the end; because it is yet for the time appointed.

Daniel 11:36

And the king will do according to his pleasure; and he will exalt and magnify himself above every god, and against the God of gods will he speak incredible things, and he will prosper till the indignation be at an end; for that which is determined will be accomplished.

Daniel 11:37

And to the gods of his fathers will he pay no regard; and to the desire of women, or to any god whatever will he not pay any regard; for above all will he magnify himself.

Daniel 11:38

But in his place he will pay honor to the god of the fortresses; and to a god whom his fathers knew not will he pay honor with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and costly things.

Daniel 11:39

This will he do for the very strong fortresses together with the strange god: whoever will acknowledge him, him will he give much honor; and he will cause such to rule over many, and he will divide out the land for a price.

Daniel 11:40

And at the time of the end will the king of the south push against him; and the king of the north will come against him like a storm-wind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he will enter into some countries, and will overflow and press along.

Daniel 11:41

And he will enter into the glorious land, and much will be overthrown; but these will escape out of his hand, even Edom, and Moab, and the first portion of the children of 'Ammon.

Daniel 11:42

And he will stretch forth his hand against some countries, and the land of Egypt will not escape.

Daniel 11:43

And he will have control over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the costly things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians will follow at his steps.

Daniel 11:44

But reports out of the east and out of the north will terrify him; and he will go forth with great fury to destroy, and to exterminate many.

Daniel 11:45

And he will pitch the tents of his palace between seas and the glorious holy mountain; and he will come to his end, without one to help him.

Daniel 12:1

And at that time will Michael, the great prince who standeth for the children of thy people, stand forth; and there will be a time of distress, such as hath never been since the existence of any nation, until that same time; and at that time shall thy people be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

Daniel 12:2

And many of those that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to disgrace and everlasting abhorrence.

Daniel 12:3

And the intelligent shall shine brilliantly like the brilliance of the expanse [of the sky]; and they that bring many to righteousness shall be like the stars, for ever and ever.

Daniel 12:4

But thou, O Daniel, close up the words, and seal the book, until the time of the end: many will roam about, yet shall knowledge be increased.

Daniel 12:5

Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there were two others standing, the one on this side of the bank of the stream, and the other on that side of the bank of the stream.

Daniel 12:6

And one said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the stream, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?

Daniel 12:7

Then heard I the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the stream; and he lifted up his right hand and his left hand unto the heavens, and swore by the Everliving One that after a time, times, and a half, and when there shall be an end to the crushing of the power of the holy people, all these things shall be ended.

Daniel 12:8

And I heard indeed, but I understood it not: then said I, O my lord, what shall be the end of these things?

Daniel 12:9

And he said, Go [thy way], Daniel; for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.

Daniel 12:10

Many shall be selected and cleansed, and purified; but the wicked will deal wickedly, and none of the wicked will understand: but the intelligent will understand.

Daniel 12:11

And from the time that the continual sacrifice will be removed, even to set up the desolating abomination, there will be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.

Daniel 12:12

Happy is he that waiteth, and attaineth to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days.

Daniel 12:13

But thou, go [thy way] toward the end; and thou shalt rest, and arise again for thy lot at the end of the days.

HOSEA

Hosea 1:1

The word of the Lord that came unto Hosea the son of Beerī, in the days of ‘Uzziyah, Jotham, Achaz, [and] Hezekiah, the kings of Judah, and in the days of Jerobo’am the son of Joash the king of Israel.

Hosea 1:2

The beginning of the word of the Lord by Hosea was, that the Lord said to Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of prostitution and children of prostitution; for the [inhabitants of the] land go far astray, departing from the Lord.

Hosea 1:3

So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblayim, and she conceived and bore him a son.

Hosea 1:4

And the Lord said unto him, Call his name Yizre’el; for but yet a little while, when I will visit the blood of Yizre’el upon the house of Jehu, and I will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.

Hosea 1:5

And it shall come to pass on that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Yizre’el.

Hosea 1:6

And she conceived again, and bore a daughter: and he said unto him, Call her name Lo–ruchamah [Not finding mercy]; for I will not farther have any more mercy upon the house of Israel; but I will give them their full recompense.

Hosea 1:7

But upon the house of Judah will I have mercy, and I will save them through the Lord their God, and I will not save them by the bow, or by the sword, or by battle, by horses, or by horsemen.

Hosea 1:8

Now when she had weaned Lo–ruchamah, she conceived, and bore a son.

Hosea 1:9

Then said he, Call his name Lo–’ammi [Not my people]; for ye are not my people, and I will indeed not be unto you [a God].

Hosea 1:10 (2:1)

Yet shall the number of the children of Israel [once] be like the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass, that instead that people say of them, Ye are not my people [Lo-'ammi], shall they call them, The sons of the living God.

Hosea 1:11 (2:2)

Then shall the children of Judah and the children of Israel be gathered together, and they will appoint for themselves one head, and they shall go up out of the land, for great shall be the day of Yizre'el.

Hosea 2:1 (2:3)

Call ye your brothers, 'Ammi [my people]; and your sisters, Ruchamah [That hath obtained mercy].

Hosea 2:2 (2:4)

Contend with your mother, contend; for she is not my wife, and I am not her husband; but let her put away her prostitution from her face, and her adulteries from between her breasts:

Hosea 2:3 (2:5)

Lest I strip her naked, and set her, as on the day that she was born, and make her as a wilderness, and render her like a dry land, and let her die with thirst.

Hosea 2:4 (2:6)

And upon her children will I not have mercy; for they are children of prostitution;

Hosea 2:5 (2:7)

For their mother hath played the harlot; she that conceived them hath done shamefully; for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, my oil and my drink.

Hosea 2:6 (2:8)

Therefore, behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and I will close it up with a fence, that she shall not find her paths.

Hosea 2:7 (2:9)

And she will make pursuit after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she will seek them, but shall not find them: then will she say, I will go and return to my first husband; for it was better with me then than now.

Hosea 2:8 (2:10)

But she indeed did not acknowledge, that it was I that had given her the corn, and the wine, and the oil, and multiplied for her silver and gold, which they devoted for Ba'al.

Hosea 2:9 (2:11)

Therefore will I turn back, and take away my corn in its time, and my wine in its season, and I will snatch away my wool and my flax, [given] to cover her nakedness.

Hosea 2:10 (2:12)

And now will I lay open her disgrace before the eyes of her lovers, and no man shall deliver her out of my hand.

Hosea 2:11 (2:13)

And I will cause to cease all her mirth, her festival, her new-moon, and her sabbath, and all her appointed feasts.

Hosea 2:12 (2:14)

And I will make desolate her vine and her fig-tree, whereof she hath said, These are my reward which my lovers have given me: and I will change them into a forest, and the beasts of the field shall devour them.

Hosea 2:13 (2:15)

And I will visit upon her the days of the Be'alim, to which she used to burn incense, when she decked herself with her earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers, and me she forgot, saith the Lord.

Hosea 2:14 (2:16)

Therefore, behold, will I allure her, and lead her forth into the wilderness, and I will speak comfortingly unto her heart.

Hosea 2:15 (2:17)

And I will give her [again] her vineyards from there, and the valley of 'Achor [sorrow] as an entrance for hope: and she shall sing there, as in the days of her youth, and as on the day of her coming up out of the land of Egypt.

Hosea 2:16 (2:18)

And it shall happen at that day, saith the Lord, that thou shalt call me Ishi [my husband], and shalt not call me any more Ba'ali [my lord].

Hosea 2:17 (2:19)

For I will remove the names of the Be'alim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be mentioned by their name.

Hosea 2:18 (2:20)

And I will make for them a covenant on that day with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of the heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and bow, and sword, and war I will break away out of the land, and I will cause them to lie down in safety.

Hosea 2:19 (2:21)

And I will betroth thee unto me for ever: yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in justice, and in loving-kindness, and in mercy.

Hosea 2:20 (2:22)

And I will betroth thee unto me in faithfulness; and thou shalt know the Lord.

Hosea 2:21 (2:23)

And it shall come to pass on that day, that I will answer prayer, saith the Lord, I will answer the heavens, and they shall answer the earth;

Hosea 2:22 (2:24)

And the earth shall answer the corn, and the wine, and the oil; and they shall answer Yizre'el.

Hosea 2:23 (2:25)

And I will sow her for me in the land; and I will have mercy upon "Her that had not obtained mercy" [Lo-ruchamah]; and I will say to those who were "Not my people" [Lo-'ammi], Thou art my people: and they shall say, Thou art my God.

Hosea 3:1

Then said the Lord unto me, Go once more, love a woman beloved of her husband, yet committing adultery; like the love of the Lord toward the children of Israel, who turn themselves after other gods, and love flagons of wine.

Hosea 3:2

So I bought me such a one for fifteen pieces of silver, and for a chomer of barley, and half a chomer of barley.

Hosea 3:3

And I said unto her, Many days shalt thou abide [true] for me: thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not belong to any man, and so will I also be toward thee.

Hosea 3:4

For many days shall the children of Israel abide without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without a standing image, and without an ephod and theraphim.

Hosea 3:5

After that will the children of Israel return, and seek for the Lord their God and David their king; and fearing will they hasten to the Lord and to his goodness in the latter days,

Hosea 4:1

Hear the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel; for the Lord hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land; because there is no truth, nor kindness, nor knowledge of God in the land.

Hosea 4:2

There is false swearing, and lying, and murdering, and stealing, and committing adultery: they break the bounds, and blood toucheth on blood.

Hosea 4:3

Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of the heaven; yea, also the fishes of the sea shall perish.

Hosea 4:4

Yet let no man strive, let no man reprove another: and thy people are contentious equally with the priest.

Hosea 4:5

Therefore shalt thou stumble in the daytime, and the prophet also shall stumble with thee in the night; and I will destroy thy mother.

Hosea 4:6

My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge; because thou hast rejected knowledge, so will I also reject thee, that thou shalt not be a priest to me; and as thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, so will I myself also forget thy children.

Hosea 4:7

The more they increased, the more did they sin against me: therefore will I change their glory into shame.

Hosea 4:8

The sin-offering of my people do they eat, and for their iniquity doth the soul of each one of them long.

Hosea 4:9

Therefore shall the same befall both people and priest: and I will punish every one of them for his ways, and recompense every one for his doings.

Hosea 4:10

And they will eat, and shall not be satisfied; they will commit lewdness, and they shall not increase; because the Lord have they forsaken [not] keeping [his law].

Hosea 4:11

Lewdness and wine and new wine take away the heart.

Hosea 4:12

My people ask counsel of their stick of wood, and their staff shall tell them [the future]: for the spirit of lewdness hath caused them to err, and they are gone astray unfaithful to their God.

Hosea 4:13

Upon the tops of the mountains do they sacrifice, and upon the hills burn they incense, under oaks and poplars and terebinths, because their shadow is good: therefore will your daughters play the harlot, and your daughter-in-law will commit adultery.

Hosea 4:14

I cannot inflict punishment on your daughters when they play the harlot, nor on your daughters-in-law when they commit adultery; for they themselves associate with lewd women, and with harlots do they sacrifice: and so doth the people that doth not understand stumble.

Hosea 4:15

Yet though thou play the harlot, O Israel, let not Judah offend: and come not ye unto Gilgal, nor go ye up to Beth-aven, nor swear, As the Lord liveth.

Hosea 4:16

For like an untamable cow is Israel disobedient: now would the Lord have fed them as a sheep in a wide pasture.

Hosea 4:17

Ephraim is bound to idols: let him alone.

Hosea 4:18

Their drinking bout will come to an end: while they are so often guilty of lewdness, their rulers love, prepare themselves but shame.

Hosea 4:19

The wind seizeth fast on them with its wings, and they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

Hosea 5:1

Hear this, O ye priests; and listen well, O ye house of Israel; and give ye ear, O house of the king; for the punishment threateneth you; because ye have been a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread out upon Thabor.

Hosea 5:2

And for murdering they who had rebelled [against God] concealed themselves in deep places; but I will inflict correction on them all.

Hosea 5:3

I well know Ephraim, and Israel is not hidden from me; for now, O Ephraim, hast thou played the harlot, [and] Israel is defiled.

Hosea 5:4

Their doings will not permit them to return unto their God; for the spirit of lewdness is in their bosom, and the Lord they have not known.

Hosea 5:5

Therefore shall the pride of Israel be humbled before his face: and Israel and Ephraim shall stumble in their iniquity; Judah also shall stumble with them.

Hosea 5:6

With their flocks and with their herds will they go to seek the Lord; but they shall not find him: he hath withdrawn himself from them.

Hosea 5:7

Against the Lord have they dealt treacherously; for strange children have they begotten: now shall one month devour them together with their possessions.

Hosea 5:8

Blow ye the cornet in Gib'ah, the trumpet in Ramah: blow the alarm at Beth-aven, [The enemy is] after thee, O Benjamin.

Hosea 5:9

Ephraim shall be made desolate on the day of chastisement: among the tribes of Israel had I made known that which is true.

Hosea 5:10

The princes of Judah were like those that remove the landmark: my wrath, therefore, will I pour out upon them like water.

Hosea 5:11

Oppressed is Ephraim, broken through punishment; because he willingly walked after the commandment [of false prophets].

Hosea 5:12

But like the moth became I unto Ephraim, and like rottenness to the house of Judah.

Hosea 5:13

Then saw Ephraim his sickness, and Judah his wound, and Ephraim went to Asshur, and [the other] sent to the king that should contend [Jareb]; but he will never be able to heal you, nor remove from you your wound.

Hosea 5:14

For I am as a lion unto Ephraim, and as a young lion to the house of Judah: I, even I myself will tear in pieces and go away; I will bear away, and none shall deliver.

Hosea 5:15

I will go [from here, and] return to my place, till they acknowledge their guilt, and seek my presence: in their affliction will they seek for me.

Hosea 6:1

"Come, and let us return unto the Lord; for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind up our wounds.

Hosea 6:2

He will revive us after two days: on the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his presence.

Hosea 6:3

And let us feel it, that we may strive to know the Lord; bright as the morning–dawn is his rising; and he will come as the rain unto us, as the latter rain that maketh fruitful the earth."

Hosea 6:4

What shall I do unto thee, O Ephraim? what shall I do unto thee, O Judah? for your piety is as a morning cloud, and as the early dew that passeth away.

Hosea 6:5

Therefore did I hew [them] down by means of the prophets; I slew them by the words of my mouth: and thy punishments go forth like the light.

Hosea 6:6

For piety I desired, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God, more than burnt–offerings.

Hosea 6:7

But they, like an ordinary man, have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me.

Hosea 6:8

Gil'ad is become a city of workers of wickedness, is full of traces of blood.

Hosea 6:9

And as troops that lie in wait for a man, so is the band of priests, they murder on the way in unison; for they commit scandalous deeds.

Hosea 6:10

On the house of Israel have I seen a horrible thing: there is lewdness in Ephraim, Israel is become defiled.

Hosea 6:11

Also for thee, O Judah, will a harvest be prepared, when I bring back the captivity of my people.

Hosea 7:1

Should I desire to heal Israel, then would the iniquity of Ephraim and the wickedness of Samaria be laid open; for they commit falsehood; and the thief entereth [secretly], and the troop of robbers is spread abroad without.

Hosea 7:2

And they never think in their own heart that I remember all their wickedness: though now their own doings are all round about them; before my face are they present.

Hosea 7:3

With their wickedness they make the king glad, and with their lies the princes.

Hosea 7:4

They are all adulterers, as an oven well heated by the baker: [when] he that stirreth [the fire] resteth awhile from kneading the dough, until it be leavened.

Hosea 7:5

On the day of our king's [entering on his rule] the princes are made sick with the fumes of wine: [the king] joineth his hand with scorners.

Hosea 7:6

For they make ready their heart for their tricky deeds, like the oven, the baker whereof sleepeth all the night, while in the morning it gloweth as a flaming fire.

Hosea 7:7

They are all hot as an oven, they devour their judges; all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me.

Hosea 7:8

Ephraim mixeth himself indeed among the nations: Ephraim is a cake not turned.

Hosea 7:9

Strangers devour his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are sprinkled about on his [head], yet he knoweth not.

Hosea 7:10

And humbled was the pride of Israel before his own face; but they did not return to the Lord their God, and sought him not, notwithstanding all this.

Hosea 7:11

And Ephraim is become like a silly dove without understanding: Egypt did they call hither, to Assyria did they go.

Hosea 7:12

As they go, so will I spread out my net over them; as the fowls of the heaven will I bring them down: I will chastise them, as it hath been announced to their congregation.

Hosea 7:13

Woe unto them! for they have fled from me; destruction shall come unto them, because they have transgressed against me: though I desired to redeem them, they yet spoke lies against me.

Hosea 7:14

And they cried not unto me with their heart, when they howled upon their beds: for corn and new wine they assemble themselves, and they rebel against me.

Hosea 7:15

And I desired to instruct and to strengthen their arms; yet would they devise evil against me.

Hosea 7:16

They never return upward: they are like a deceitful bow: by the sword shall their princes fall because of the rage of their tongue; this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

Hosea 8:1

Set the cornet to thy mouth. [Let the enemy come] like the eagle against the house of the Lord: because they have transgressed my covenant, and against my law have they trespassed.

Hosea 8:2

To me will they then cry, My God, we, Israel, know thee.

Hosea 8:3

[But] Israel did reject the good; so let the enemy pursue him.

Hosea 8:4

They set up kings, but not my advice: they chose princes and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made themselves idols so that they will be cut off.

Hosea 8:5

Thy calf, O Samaria, hath caused thy rejection; my anger is kindled against them: how long will it be that they cannot cleanse themselves?

Hosea 8:6

For whom Israel did also that [idol] spring; an artisan made it, and no God is it: so then shall it become broken in splinters— that calf of Samaria.

Hosea 8:7

For the wind do they sow, and the whirlwind shall they reap: [their seed] bringeth no standing corn; the plant yieldeth no meal; but should it yield it, strangers would swallow it up.

Hosea 8:8

Swallowed up is Israel: now are they among the nations as a vessel without any value.

Hosea 8:9

For they are needs gone up to Assyria, they who like a wild ass should dwell alone: Ephraim spendeth lovers' gifts.

Hosea 8:10

But even though they should spend gifts among the nations, now will I gather them: and they shall be humbled a little through the burden of the king of princes.

Hosea 8:11

Because Ephraim hath multiplied altars to sin, the altars have been unto him the means of sinning.

Hosea 8:12

I ever wrote down for him the great things of my law; but as a strange thing are they accounted.

Hosea 8:13

My sacrificial offerings they slay as common flesh that they may eat it; the Lord accepteth them not in favor: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins; they shall indeed return to Egypt.

Hosea 8:14

For Israel forgot his Maker, and built palaces; and Judah multiplied fortified cities; but I will send a fire among his cities, and it shall devour their fine edifices.

Hosea 9:1

Rejoice not, O Israel, for gladness, as other people; for thou art gone astray, unfaithful to thy God: thou hast loved the wages of sin upon every corn-filled threshing-floor.

Hosea 9:2

The threshing-floor and the wine-press shall not feed them, and the new wine shall deceive them.

Hosea 9:3

They shall not dwell in the land of the Lord; but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and in Assyria will they eat unclean things.

Hosea 9:4

They shall not pour out wine to the Lord, and [their offerings] shall not be pleasing unto him; their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for this their food can only be for themselves, it shall not come into the house of the Lord.

Hosea 9:5

What will ye do on the day of the appointed festival, and on the day of the feast of the Lord?

Hosea 9:6

For, lo, they are gone forth because of the desolation: Egypt will gather them up, Moph will bury them: the pleasant chambers for their silver,—these shall nettles take possession of; thorns shall [grow] in their tents.

Hosea 9:7

Come are the days of the visitation, come are the days of thy recompense; this shall Israel experience: a fool was the prophet, mad the inspired man, because of the greatness of thy iniquity, and the great hatefulness.

Hosea 9:8

The watchman of Ephraim with my God, the prophet, was a snare of the fowler on all his ways, a hateful thing in the house of his god.

Hosea 9:9

They are deeply corrupt, as in the days of Gib'ah: he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

Hosea 9:10

Like grapes in the wilderness had I found Israel; as the first ripe fruit on the fig-tree in the first of the season had I seen your fathers; but they too went to Ba'al-pe'or: and devoted themselves unto that shameful idol, and became abominations as those they loved.

Hosea 9:11

As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird: there is no more birth, and no pregnancy, and no conception.

Hosea 9:12

But though they were to bring up their children, yet would I bereave them, that there should be no man: yea, woe also to themselves, when I depart from them!

Hosea 9:13

Ephraim, as I have seen him like Tyre, planted in a pleasant meadow,—yet this Ephraim shall lead forth to the murderer his children.

Hosea 9:14

Give them, O Lord, what thou wilt give! give them a miscarrying womb and dried-up breasts.

Hosea 9:15

All their wickedness is in Gilgal; for there I [learnt to] hate them; for the wickedness of their doings will I drive them out of my house: I will love them no farther; all their princes are rebels.

Hosea 9:16

Smitten is Ephraim, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit; yea, though they should bring forth, yet would I slay the beloved fruit of their body.

Hosea 9:17

My God will reject them, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

Hosea 10:1

An emptied vine is Israel; how should he bring forth fruit for himself? the more numerous was his fruit the more he increased the altars; the more prosperous was his land, the more they made goodly statues.

Hosea 10:2

Their heart is divided; now shall they bear their guilt: this will break down their altars, will devastate their statues.

Hosea 10:3

For now will they say, We have no king; because we fear not the Lord: and the king— what can he do for us?

Hosea 10:4

They have spoken [vain] words, swearing falsely in making a covenant: therefore springeth up the punishment as poison in the furrows of the field.

Hosea 10:5

For the calves of Beth-aven are terrified the inhabitants of Samaria: yea, the people thereof mourn over them, and also its false priests that [before] rejoiced over them, for its glory, because it is departed from it.

Hosea 10:6

Also this shall be carried unto Assyria for a present to the contentious king: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed because of his own counsel.

Hosea 10:7

As for Samaria, her king shall vanish like the foam upon the surface of the water.

Hosea 10:8

And destroyed shall be the high-places of Aven, [the cause of] the sin of Israel; the thorn and the thistle shall grow upon their altars: and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall upon us.

Hosea 10:9

More than in the days of Gib'ah hast thou sinned, O Israel! there they stood; and the battle in Gib'ah against the children of wickedness did not overtake them.

Hosea 10:10

[But now] after my desire will I chastise them: and the people shall be gathered against them, when they harness them [for labor] in their two furrows.

Hosea 10:11

And Ephraim is as a well-taught heifer that loveth to tread out the corn; and I passed over her fair neck: now will I make Ephraim draw the wagon, Judah shall plough, and Jacob shall harrow the field for the enemy.

Hosea 10:12

Sow then for yourselves after righteousness, that you may reap [the fruit] of kindness; cultivate your fallow field; for it is time to seek the Lord, till he come and rain righteousness down for you.

Hosea 10:13

[But] ye have ploughed wickedness, iniquity have ye reaped, ye have eaten the fruit of lies; because thou didst trust in thy own way, in the multitude of thy mighty men:

Hosea 10:14

Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be wasted, as Shalman devastated Beth-arbel on the day of battle, [when] the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.

Hosea 10:15

The like of this doth Beth-el procure unto you because of your great wickedness: in the early morning shall utterly pass away the king of Israel.

Hosea 11:1

When Israel was yet young, then I loved him, and out of Egypt did I call my son.

Hosea 11:2

The [prophets] called them; but the more they went from them: unto the Be'alim would they sacrifice, and to the graven images would they burn incense.

Hosea 11:3

Yet I myself appointed a leader for Ephraim, who took them up in his arms; but they would not acknowledge that I healed them.

Hosea 11:4

With human cords I ever drew them forward, with leading-strings of love: and I was to them as those that lift off the yoke from their jaws, and I held out unto them food.

Hosea 11:5

He should not return unto the land of Egypt: yet [now] is the Assyrian his king; because they refused to repent.

Hosea 11:6

And the sword shall fall on his cities, and shall make an end of his boughs, and consume them, because of their [evil] counsels.

Hosea 11:7

For my people are only bent on backsliding from me; and though upward they call them, they altogether will not elevate themselves.

Hosea 11:8

How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I surrender thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? how shall I change thee as Zeboyim? turned is my heart within me, all my compassion is enkindled together.

Hosea 11:9

I will not execute the fierceness of my anger, I will not again destroy Ephraim; for God am I, and not man, the Holy One in the midst of thee, and I will not come with an enemy's hatred.

Hosea 11:10

They shall follow after the Lord, when he will roar like a lion; for he will roar, and the children shall hasten together from the west;

Hosea 11:11

They shall hasten together as birds out of Egypt, and as doves out of the land of Assyria: and I will cause them to dwell in their houses, saith the Lord.

Hosea 11:12 (12:1)

With lies hath Ephraim encompassed me about, and with deceit, the house of Israel; but Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful to the Holy One.

Hosea 12:1 (12:2)

Ephraim feedeth on wind, and pursueth the east wind; the whole day he increaseth deceit and corruption; and a covenant do they make with Assyria, and oil is carried into Egypt.

Hosea 12:2 (12:3)

But with Judah also hath the Lord [to hold] a controversy; and to punish Jacob according to his ways, according to his doings will he recompense him.

Hosea 12:3 (12:4)

In the womb he took his brother by the heel, and in his strength he strove with an angel.

Hosea 12:4 (12:5)

Yea, he strove with an angel, and prevailed; he wept, and made supplication unto him: in Beth-el he should find him, and there he will speak with us.

Hosea 12:5 (12:6)

And the Lord God of hosts, the Eternal One is his memorial.

Hosea 12:6 (12:7)

Therefore do thou return to thy God: keep goodness and justice, and wait on thy God continually.

Hosea 12:7 (12:8)

But like a merchant, who hath the balances of deceit in his hand, loving to overreach,

Hosea 12:8 (12:9)

Did Ephraim say, I am certainly become rich, I have acquired substance unto myself: it is all through my labors; they will find no iniquity in me, that could be sin.

Hosea 12:9 (12:10)

And I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt: I will yet make thee dwell in tents, as in the days of antiquity.

Hosea 12:10 (12:11)

And I have spoken through the prophets, and I myself have multiplied visions, and by the means of the prophets have I spoken in similitudes.

Hosea 12:11 (12:12)

If in Gil'ad there was misfortune, [it is because] there was naught but idolatry; in Gilgal they sacrificed bullocks [to idols]: their altars also are as stone-heaps on the furrows of the fields.

Hosea 12:12 (12:13)

And Jacob fled into the fields of Syria, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept [the flocks].

Hosea 12:13 (12:14)

And by a prophet did the Lord bring Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he guarded.

Hosea 12:14 (12:15)

[Yet] Ephraim provoked [him] to anger most bitterly: therefore will his Lord cast his blood-guiltiness upon him, and his reproach will he recompense unto him.

Hosea 13:1

When once Ephraim spoke, [all] trembled, so high was he exalted in Israel; but he offended through Ba'al, and he died.

Hosea 13:2

And now they yet continue to sin, and have made themselves molten images of their silver, idols according to their own imagining, every one of them the work of the artisan: they say to them, They that sacrifice men may kiss the calves.

Hosea 13:3

Therefore shall they be as the morning cloud, and as the dew that early passeth away, as the chaff that is driven by the whirlwind out of the threshing-floor, and as smoke out of a window.

Hosea 13:4

Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt: and no god but me shalt thou know, and there is no saviour beside me.

Hosea 13:5

I myself did provide for thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought.

Hosea 13:6

When they came to their pasture, they became sated; they were sated, and their heart was lifted up: therefore have they forgotten me.

Hosea 13:7

And now I will be unto them as a lion: as a leopard will I lie in wait by the way.

Hosea 13:8

I will meet them as a bear bereaved of her whelps, and I will rend their closed-up heart; and I will devour them there like a lioness, the beasts of the field shall rend them.

Hosea 13:9

Thou hast destroyed thyself, O Israel; for against me, against thy helper [didst thou rebel.]

Hosea 13:10

Where then is now thy king, that he may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges, since thou saidst, Give me a king, and princes?

Hosea 13:11

I give thee a king in my anger, and take him away in my wrath.

Hosea 13:12

Bound up is the iniquity of Ephraim, treasured up is his sin.

Hosea 13:13

The pains of a travailing woman shall come upon him; he is an unwise son; for he will not remain steadfast at the time of the breaking forth of the child.

Hosea 13:14

From the power of the grave would I ransom them, from death would I redeem them; [but now] where are thy plagues, O death, where is thy pestilence, O grave? compassion shall be hidden from my eyes.

Hosea 13:15

Though he grow luxuriantly in the green meadows, the east wind shall come, the wind of the Lord, rising up from the wilderness, and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up: the same shall plunder the treasure of all precious vessels.

Hosea 13:16 (14:1)

Samaria shall meet her punishment; for she hath rebelled against her God: by the sword shall they fall; their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their pregnant women shall be ripped up.

Hosea 14:1 (14:2)

Return, O Israel, even unto the Lord thy God; for thou hast stumbled through thy iniquity.

Hosea 14:2 (14:3)

Take with you swords, and return to the Lord: say unto him, "Pardon all [our] iniquity, and accept [our return to] good; and let us repay the steers [of sacrifice] with [the prayer of] our lips.

Hosea 14:3 (14:4)

Asshur shall not help us; upon horses will we not ride: and we will no more say, Ye are our gods, to the work of our hands; for in thee alone the fatherless obtaineth mercy."

Hosea 14:4 (14:5)

I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely; for my anger is turned away from them.

Hosea 14:5 (14:6)

I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall bloom as the lily; and he shall strike his roots as [the forests of] Lebanon.

Hosea 14:6 (14:7)

His suckers shall spread out, and his beauty shall be as that of the olive-tree, and his smell as that of the Lebanon.

Hosea 14:7 (14:8)

They shall return that sat under his shade; they shall revive as corn, and bloom as the vine: the scent of which shall be as that of the wine of Lebanon.

Hosea 14:8 (14:9)

Ephraim [shall say], What have I to do any more with idols? I have answered, and will observe him; I will be [to him] like a green fir-tree; through me is thy fruit found.

Hosea 14:9 (14:10)

Who is wise, that he may understand these things? intelligent, that he may know them? for righteous are the ways of the Lord; and the just shall walk in them; but the transgressors will stumble through them.

JOEL

Joel 1:1

The word of the Lord that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

Joel 1:2

Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land. Did ever such a thing as this come to pass in your days, or ever in the days of your fathers?

Joel 1:3

Tell ye of it to your children, and let your children tell it to their children, and their children to another generation.

Joel 1:4

What the caterpillar left hath the locust eaten; and what the locust left hath the cankerworm eaten; and that which the cankerworm left hath the cricket eaten.

Joel 1:5

Wake up, ye drunkards, and weep; and wail, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the sweet new wine, that it is taken away from your mouth.

Joel 1:6

For a nation is come up over my land, strong, and without number; its teeth are the teeth of a lion, and it hath the cutting-teeth of the lioness.

Joel 1:7

It hath laid my vine waste, and barked my fig-tree: it hath peeled it clean bare, and cast it down; made white are its light branches.

Joel 1:8

Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the betrothed of her youth.

Joel 1:9

Cut off are the meat-offering and the drink-offering from the house of the Lord: now mourn the priests, the ministers of the Lord.

Joel 1:10

Wasted is the field, the land mourneth; for wasted is the corn: dried up is the new wine, withered is the oil.

Joel 1:11

Be ashamed, O ye husbandmen; wail, O ye vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley; because lost is the harvest of the field.

Joel 1:12

The vine is made ashamed, and the fig-tree is withered; the pomegranate-tree, the palm-tree also, and the apple-tree, even all the trees of the field, are dried up; because joy hath ceased from the children of men.

Joel 1:13

Gird yourselves [with sackcloth], and lament, ye priests; wail, ye ministers of the altar: come, remain all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God; for there are withholden from the house of your God the meat-offering and the drink-offering.

Joel 1:14

Sanctify ye a fast, proclaim a solemn assembly, gather the elders, all the inhabitants of the land, into the house of the Lord your God, and cry aloud unto the Lord.

Joel 1:15

Alas for the day! for the day of the Lord is at hand, and like destruction from the Almighty will it come.

Joel 1:16

Is not before our eyes the food cut off, from the house of our God joy and gladness?

Joel 1:17

The grains of seed are rotten under their clods, laid desolate are the garners, pulled down are the barns; for the corn is dried up.

Joel 1:18

How do the beasts groan! how do the herds of cattle roam about; because there is no pasture for them: yea, the flocks of sheep are made to perish.

Joel 1:19

To thee O Lord, will I cry; for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath singed all the trees of the field.

Joel 1:20

Also the beasts of the field cry unto thee panting; for the brooks of waters are dried up, and a fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

Joel 2:1

Blow ye the cornet in Zion, and sound an alarm on my holy mount; let all the inhabitants of the land tremble; for the day of the Lord cometh, for it is nigh;

Joel 2:2

It is a day of darkness and of gloom, a day of clouds and of tempestuous obscurity, like the morning–dawn spread out upon the mountains: a people numerous and strong, the like of which hath never been and after it there will be none any more, even to the years of all coming generations.

Joel 2:3

Before it devoureth a fire; and behind it singeth a flame: like the garden of 'Eden was the land before it [came], and after it is a desolate wilderness; yea, and nothing escapeth from it.

Joel 2:4

Like the appearance of horses is its appearance; and like horsemen, so do they run.

Joel 2:5

Like the noise of chariots on the tops of mountains do they leap; they are like the noise of a flame of fire consuming the stubble, as a strong people arrayed for a battle.

Joel 2:6

At its presence the people are much pained: all the faces are covered with blackness.

Joel 2:7

Like mighty men do they run; like men of war they climb up a wall; and they march every one on his own ways, and they turn not aside on their paths.

Joel 2:8

And they do not press one another; every one on his beaten track do they go forward: and they pass through between war–like weapons, and change not their purpose.

Joel 2:9

Into the city they hasten forward; on the wall they run; into the houses they climb up; through the windows they make their entrance like a thief.

Joel 2:10

Before them trembleth the earth; the heavens quake; the sun and the moon are obscured, and the stars withdraw their brightness.

Joel 2:11

And the Lord uttereth his voice before his army; for very numerous is his camp; for strong is he that executeth his word; for great is the day of the Lord and very terrible; and who is able to endure it?

Joel 2:12

But even now also, saith the Lord, return ye fully to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning:

Joel 2:13

And rend your heart, and not your garments, and return unto the Lord your God; for gracious and merciful is he, long suffering, and of great kindness, and he bethinketh himself of the evil.

Joel 2:14

He that is conscious [of guilt], let him return and repent: when [the plague] may leave behind it a blessing; even a meat-offering and a drink-offering unto the Lord your God.

Joel 2:15

Blow the cornet in Zion, sanctify a fast, proclaim a solemn assembly;

Joel 2:16

Gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts; let the bridegroom go forth out of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.

Joel 2:17

Between the porch and the altar let the priests weep, the ministers of the Lord, and let them say, Spare, O Lord, thy people, and give not up thy heritage to reproach, for nations to make a by-word of them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?

Joel 2:18

And the Lord was zealous for his land, and he had pity for his people.

Joel 2:19

And the Lord answered and said unto his people, "Behold, I will send you the corn, and the young wine, and the oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith; and I will not give you up any more to be a reproach among the nations:

Joel 2:20

And the host of the north will I remove far away from you, and I will drive it off into a land barren and desolate, with its advance toward the eastern sea, and its rereward toward the western sea; and its stench shall ascend, and its ill savor shall come up, because it hath done great things."

Joel 2:21

Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice; for the Lord hath done great things.

Joel 2:22

Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field; for the pastures of the wilderness have become green; for the tree beareth its fruit, the fig-tree and the vine yield their strength.

Joel 2:23

And ye children of Zion, be glad, and rejoice in the Lord your God; for he hath given you the first rain in beneficence, and he hath caused to come down for you the rain, the first rain, and the latter rain in the first [month].

Joel 2:24

And the threshing-floors are full of corn, and the vats overflow with young wine and oil.

Joel 2:25

And I will repay to you the years [in] which the locust hath eaten [all], with the cankerworm, and the cricket, and the caterpillar, my great army, which I had sent against you.

Joel 2:26

And ye shall eat in plenty, and be satisfied, and praise the name of the Lord your God, who hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people shall not be made ashamed unto eternity.

Joel 2:27

And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none else; and my people shall not be made ashamed unto eternity.

Joel 2:28 (3:1)

And it shall come to pass after this, that I will pour out my spirit over all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy: your old men shall dream dreams: your young men shall see visions:

Joel 2:29 (3:2)

And also over the men-servants and over the maid-servants in those days will I pour out my spirit.

Joel 2:30 (3:3)

And I will display wonderful tokens in the heavens and on the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

Joel 2:31 (3:4)

The sun shall be changed into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the coming of the day of the Lord, the great and the terrible.

Joel 2:32 (3:5)

And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall escape; for on mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be deliverance, as the Lord hath said, and among the remnant whom the Lord calleth.

Joel 3:1 (4:1)

For, behold, in those days, and in that time, when I will cause to return the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,

Joel 3:2 (4:2)

Then will I assemble all the nations, and I will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat, and I will hold judgment with them there because of my people and my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and for my land [which] they have divided out.

Joel 3:3 (4:3)

And for my people did they cast lots; and gave a boy for a harlot, and sold a girl for wine, and drank it.

Joel 3:4 (4:4)

And also ye, what have ye to do with me, O Tyre, and Zidon, and all ye districts of Philistia? is this the recompense which ye repay me? or do ye only commence to render me evil?— swiftly and speedily will I bring back your recompense upon your own head;

Joel 3:5 (4:5)

Because my silver and my gold have ye taken, and the handsomest of my precious things have ye carried into your temples;

Joel 3:6 (4:6)

And the children of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the sons of the Jevanim, in order to remove them far from their borders.

Joel 3:7 (4:7)

Behold, I will awaken them out of the place whither ye have sold them, and I will bring back your recompense upon your own head;

Joel 3:8 (4:8)

And I will deliver your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the Sabeans, to a nation far off; for the Lord hath spoken it.

Joel 3:9 (4:9)

Proclaim ye this among the nations, Prepare war, wake up the mighty men; let them draw near; let them come up—all the men of war.

Joel 3:10 (4:10)

Beat your plough–shares into swords, and your pruning–knives into spears: let the weak say, I am a hero.

Joel 3:11 (4:11)

Assemble hastily together, and come, all ye nations from every side, and gather yourselves together: there doth the Lord strike down thy mighty ones.

Joel 3:12 (4:12)

Let the nations awake, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat; for there will I sit to judge all the nations from every side.

Joel 3:13 (4:13)

Put forth the sickle; for the harvest is ripe: come, tread down [the grapes]; for the press is full; the vats overflow; for great is their wickedness.

Joel 3:14 (4:14)

Multitudes, multitudes are in the valley of decision; for near is the day of the Lord in the valley of decision.

Joel 3:15 (4:15)

Sun and moon are obscured, and stars withdraw their brightness.

Joel 3:16 (4:16)

And the Lord will cry aloud out of Zion, and from Jerusalem will he send forth his voice; and the heavens and the earth shall quake; but the Lord will be a refuge for his people, and a stronghold for the children of Israel.

Joel 3:17 (4:17)

So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God, dwelling on Zion, my holy mount: and Jerusalem shall be holy, and strangers shall not pass through her any more.

Joel 3:18 (4:18)

And it came to pass on that day, that the mountains shall drop down sweet new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the ravines of Judah shall flow with water; and a spring shall come forth out of the house of the Lord, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

Joel 3:19 (4:19)

Egypt shall become a desolate land, and Edom shall become a desolate wilderness; because of the violence against the children of Judah, in whose land they have shed innocent blood.

Joel 3:20 (4:20)

But Judah shall be inhabited for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.

Joel 3:21 (4:21)

And I will avenge their blood that I have not yet avenged; for the Lord dwelleth in Zion.

AMOS

Amos 1:1

The words of 'Amos, who was among the herdmen of Tekoa, which he foresaw concerning Israel in the days of 'Uzziah the king of Judah, and in the days of Jerobo'am the son of Joash the king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

Amos 1:2

And he said, The Lord will cry aloud out of Zion, and from Jerusalem will he send forth his voice; and then shall mourn the pastures of the shepherds, and then shall dry up the top of Carmel.

Amos 1:3

Thus hath said the Lord, For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, will I not turn away their punishment; because they have threshed [the inhabitants of] Gil'ad with threshing instruments of iron;

Amos 1:4

And I will send a fire into the house of Chazael, which shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad.

Amos 1:5

And I will break the bars of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitants from the valley of Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from the house of 'Eden: and the people of Syria shall be exiled unto Kir, saith the Lord.

Amos 1:6

Thus hath said the Lord, For three transgressions of Gazzah, and for four, will I not turn away their punishment; because they carried away exiles in full numbers, to deliver them up to Edom;

Amos 1:7

And I will send a fire against the wall of Gazzah, which shall devour her palaces;

Amos 1:8

And I will cut off the inhabitants from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon, and I will turn my hand against 'Ekron: and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord Eternal.

Amos 1:9

Thus hath said the Lord, For three transgressions of Tyre, and for four, will I not turn away their punishment; because they delivered up the exiles in full numbers to Edom, and remembered not the brotherly covenant;

Amos 1:10

And I will send a fire against the walls of Tyre, which shall devour her palaces.

Amos 1:11

Thus hath said the Lord, For three transgressions of Edom, and for four, will I not turn away their punishment; because he pursued with the sword his brother, and disregarded his mercy, and his anger tore in pieces continually, and he kept his wrath for ever:

Amos 1:12

And I will send out a fire against Theman, which shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

Amos 1:13

Thus hath said the Lord, For three transgressions of the children of 'Ammon, and for four, will I not turn away their punishment; because they have ripped up the pregnant women of Gil'ad, in order to enlarge their own territory;

Amos 1:14

And I will kindle a fire within the walls of Rabbah, which shall devour her palaces, with shouting on the day of battle, with a storm on the day of the tempest;

Amos 1:15

And their king shall go into exile, he and his princes together, saith the Lord.

Amos 2:1

Thus hath said the Lord, For three transgressions of Moab, and for four, will I not turn away their punishment; because he burnt the bones of the king of Edom into lime;

Amos 2:2

And I will send a fire against Moab, which shall devour the palaces of Keriyoth: and Moab shall die in the tumult, in the shouting, amidst the sound of the cornet;

Amos 2:3

And I will cut off the judges from her midst, and all her princes will I slay, with him, saith the Lord.

Amos 2:4

Thus hath said the Lord, For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, will I not turn away their punishment; because they have despised the law of the Lord, and did not keep his statutes, and their lying idols caused them to err, after which their fathers had walked;

Amos 2:5

And I will send out a fire against Judah, which shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

Amos 2:6

Thus hath said the Lord, For three transgressions of Israel, and for four, will I not turn away their punishment; because they sold for silver the righteous, and the needy for a pair of shoes;

Amos 2:7

That are eager after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and turn aside the way of the meek: and a man and his father will go in unto the same young woman, in order to profane my holy name.

Amos 2:8

And upon pledged garments they stretch themselves out by every altar, and the wine of the condemned do they drink in the house of their gods.

Amos 2:9

Yet have I destroyed the Emorite from before them, whose height was like the height of cedars, and who was strong as the oaks; but I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.

Amos 2:10

And it was I who have brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you forty years through the wilderness, to take possession of the land of the Emorite.

Amos 2:11

And I have raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for nazarites: is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith the Lord.

Amos 2:12

But ye have given the nazarites wine to drink; and concerning the prophets have ye commanded, saying, Ye shall not prophesy.

Amos 2:13

Behold, I press down [the ground] under you, as the wagon presseth [it] down that is full of sheaves.

Amos 2:14

And refuge shall vanish from the swift, and the strong shall not make use of his force, neither shall the mighty man escape with his life.

Amos 2:15

And he that handleth the bow shall not be able to stand; and he that is swift of foot shall not escape: neither shall he that rideth the horse escape with his life.

Amos 2:16

And he that is most courageous hearted among the mighty shall flee away naked on that day, saith the Lord.

Amos 3:1

Hear this word which the Lord hath spoken concerning you, O children of Israel, concerning the whole family which I have brought up from the land of Egypt, saying,

Amos 3:2

Only you have I loved out of all the families of the earth: therefore will I visit upon you all your iniquities.

Amos 3:3

Will two walk together, except they had agreed [to do so]?

Amos 3:4

Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion send forth his voice out of his den, unless he have caught something?

Amos 3:5

Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, when there is no gin for him? is ever a snare taken up from the ground, when it hath caught nothing at all?

Amos 3:6

Shall a cornet be blown in a city, and the people not become afraid? shall there be evil in a city, and the Lord have not done it?

Amos 3:7

For the Lord Eternal will do nothing, unless he have revealed his secret unto his servants the prophets.

Amos 3:8

The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord Eternal hath spoken, who will not prophesy?

Amos 3:9

Publish at the palaces in Ashdod, and at the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold the great confusions in her midst, and the oppressions [that are] within her.

Amos 3:10

For they know not how to act rightly, saith the Lord, who treasure up violence and robbery in their palaces.

Amos 3:11

Therefore thus hath said the Lord Eternal, The adversary [is there] and surroundeth the land: and he shall bring down from thee thy strength, and thy palaces shall be plundered.

Amos 3:12

Thus hath said the Lord, As the shepherd snatcheth out of the mouth of the lion [at most] two leg–bones, or a tip of the ear: so shall be delivered the children of Israel that sit in Samaria on the corner of a bed, and on Damascus couches.

Amos 3:13

Hear ye, and give warning in the house of Jacob, saith the Lord Eternal, the God of hosts.

Amos 3:14

For on the day when I visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, will I also inflict punishment on the altars of Beth–el: and then shall be hewn off the horns of the altar, and they shall fall to the ground.

Amos 3:15

And I will smite the winter–house together with the summer–house: and the houses of ivory shall disappear, and the great houses shall be no more, saith the Lord.

Amos 4:1

Hear this word, O ye cows of Bashan, that are on the mount of Samaria, who oppress the poor, who crush the needy, who say to their lords, Bring, and let us drink.

Amos 4:2

Sworn hath the Lord Eternal by his holiness, that, lo, days are coming over you, when men will carry you away with hooks, and your posterity with fishhooks.

Amos 4:3

And through breaches in the wall shall ye go out, every one through that before her: and ye shall cast off your proud greatness, saith the Lord.

Amos 4:4

Go then to Beth–el, and transgress; to Gilgal, [and] multiply transgression; and bring in the morning your sacrifices, after three days your tithes:

Amos 4:5

And burn of leaven a sacrifice of thanksgiving, and proclaim and publish freewill–offerings; for so do you love [to do], O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord Eternal.

Amos 4:6

But, I also had indeed given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: and yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

Amos 4:7

And I also had indeed withholden from you the rain, when it was yet three months to the harvest; and I caused it to rain upon one city, and upon another city I caused it not to rain; one piece of land was rained upon, and another piece whereupon it rained not became dried up;

Amos 4:8

And two or three cities wandered unto one city, to drink water; but they were not satisfied: and yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

Amos 4:9

I had smitten you with blasting and mildew; the multitude of your gardens and your vineyards and your fig-trees and your olive-trees did the caterpillar devour: and yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

Amos 4:10

I had sent out against you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt; I slew your young men with the sword, together with your captive horses; and I had caused the stench of your camps to ascend even into your nostrils; and yet ye have not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

Amos 4:11

I had produced an overthrow among you, like the overthrow by God of Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye became like a fire-brand snatched out of the burning: and yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the Lord.

Amos 4:12

Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: because then I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.

Amos 4:13

For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning-dawn [and] darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, —The Lord, the God of hosts, is his name.

Amos 5:1

Hear ye this word which I take up against you, as a lamentation, O house of Israel.

Amos 5:2

She is fallen, she will not rise again—the virgin of Israel: she is thrown down upon her land; there is none to raise her up.

Amos 5:3

For thus hath said the Lord Eternal, The city that goeth forth with a thousand shall retain but a hundred, and she that goeth forth with a hundred shall retain but ten, [left] to the house of Israel.

Amos 5:4

For thus hath said the Lord unto the house of Israel, Seek ye for me, and ye shall live;

Amos 5:5

But seek not for Beth-el, and into Gilgal enter not, and to Beer-sheba' do not pass over; for Gilgal shall surely go into exile, and Beth-el shall become naught.

Amos 5:6

Seek for the Lord, and ye shall live: so that he come not suddenly like fire over the house of Joseph, and it devour, and there be none to quench it in Beth-el;

Amos 5:7

Ye who change justice into wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth!

Amos 5:8

[But] he maketh the seven stars and Orion, and changeth into morning the shadow of death, and maketh the day dark into night; he it is that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out over the face of the earth: The Lord is his name;

Amos 5:9

That causeth wasting to prevail against the strong, so that wasting shall come against the fortress.

Amos 5:10

They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and him that speaketh uprightly they abhor.

Amos 5:11

Therefore forasmuch as you tread down upon the poor, and ye take from him onerous contributions of corn: if ye have built houses of hewn stone, ye shall not dwell in them; if ye have planted pleasant vineyards, ye shall not drink their wine.

Amos 5:12

For I know your manifold transgressions and your numerous sins: ye are those that are the adversaries of the just, that take a ransom, and that wrest [the cause of] the needy in the gate.

Amos 5:13

Therefore will the intelligent keep silence in that time; for it is an evil time.

Amos 5:14

Seek for the good, and not the evil, in order that ye may live: and so will the Lord, the God of hosts, be with you, as ye have said.

Amos 5:15

Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish justice firmly in the gate: perhaps the Lord the God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

Amos 5:16

Therefore thus hath said the Eternal, the God of hosts, the Lord, On all public places there is lamentation, and in all the streets they cry, Woe! woe! and they call the husbandman to mourning, and to lamentation those skilled in wailing.

Amos 5:17

And in all vineyards there is lamentation; for I will pass through thy midst, saith the Lord.

Amos 5:18

Woe unto you that long for the day of the Lord! for what do you wish the day of the Lord? it is [one of] darkness, and not of light.

Amos 5:19

As if a man were to flee from a lion, and a bear should meet him; and he enter into the house, and lean his hand against the wall, and a serpent should bite him.

Amos 5:20

Behold the day of the Lord is [one of] darkness, and not of light; yea, it is obscure, and hath no brightness.

Amos 5:21

I hate, I despise your feast-days, and I will not smell [the sacrifices] on your festive assemblies.

Amos 5:22

For though ye should offer me burnt-offerings and your meat-offerings, I will not accept them in favor: and the peace-offerings of your fatted cattle will I not look at.

Amos 5:23

Remove thou from around me the noise of thy songs: and the playing of thy psalteries I will not hear.

Amos 5:24

But let justice roll along like water, and righteousness like a mighty stream.

Amos 5:25

Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and meat-offerings in the wilderness [during] forty years, O house of Israel?

Amos 5:26

Bear then the canopy of your chief idol, and the figure of your images, the star of your god, which ye have made for yourselves.

Amos 5:27

And I will cause you to go into exile far beyond Damascus, saith the Lord, The God of hosts is his name.

Amos 6:1

Woe to those that are free from care in Zion, and that are in safety on the mount of Samaria, who are named the chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come!

Amos 6:2

Pass ye over unto Calneh, and see; and go from there to Chamath-rabbah; then go down to Gath of the Philistines: whether they be better than these kingdoms? or whether their territory be greater than your territory?

Amos 6:3

[Ye] that deem far away the evil day, and cause the seat of violence to come near;

Amos 6:4

That lie upon beds of ivory, and are stretched out upon their couches, and eat lambs out of the flock, and calves out of the midst of the stall;

Amos 6:5

That chant to the sound of the psaltery, and like David's do they imagine their instrument of music to be;

Amos 6:6

That drink out of wine-bowls, and anoint themselves with the costliest of ointments; but who feel no pain for the wound of Joseph.

Amos 6:7

Therefore now shall they go into exile at the head of exiles, and the noisy banquet of those that were stretched out shall pass away.

Amos 6:8

The Lord Eternal hath sworn by his own existence, saith the Lord the God of hosts, I abhor the pride of Jacob, and his palaces do I hate: therefore will I surrender up [to the enemy] the city with all that filleth it.

Amos 6:9

And it shall come to pass, that if there remain ten men in one house, they shall die.

Amos 6:10

And should a man's uncle or relative carry him forth, to bring out the bones out of the house, and say unto him that is in the recesses of the house, Is there yet any one with thee? he will say, There is no one left. Then will he say, Be silent; for we may not make mention of the name of the Lord.

Amos 6:11

For, behold, the Lord commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little house with clefts.

Amos 6:12

Do horses ever run upon the rock? or will one plough there with oxen? that ye have turned justice into poison, and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood;

Amos 6:13

Ye who rejoice for a thing of naught, who say, Have we not through our own strength procured ourselves horns?

Amos 6:14

For, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the Lord the God of hosts, and they shall oppress you from the entrance of Chamath unto the brook of the wilderness.

Amos 7:1

Thus did the Lord Eternal show unto me: and, behold, he was forming locusts in the beginning of the sprouting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings [was over].

Amos 7:2

And it came to pass, when they had made an end of eating up the herbs of the earth, that I said, O Lord Eternal, forgive, I beseech thee: how should Jacob be able to endure, since he is so small!

Amos 7:3

The Lord bethought himself of this: It shall not be, said the Lord.

Amos 7:4

Thus did the Lord Eternal show unto me: and, behold, the Lord Eternal called forth the punishment by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and consumed the ploughed field.

Amos 7:5

Then said I, O Lord Eternal, forbear, I beseech thee: how should Jacob be able to endure, since he is so small!

Amos 7:6

The Lord bethought himself of this: Also this shall not be, said the Lord Eternal.

Amos 7:7

Thus he showed unto me: and, behold, the Lord was standing upon a wall [made] by a plumbline, and in his hand was a plumbline.

Amos 7:8

And the Lord said unto me, What dost thou see, 'Amos? And I said, A plumbline. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumbline in the midst of my people Israel; I will not farther indulge them any more.

Amos 7:9

And the high places of Isaac shall be made desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid in ruins: and I will rise up against the house of Jerobo'am with the sword.

Amos 7:10

Then sent Amazyah, the priest of Beth-el, to Jerobo'am the king of Israel, saying, 'Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

Amos 7:11

For thus hath 'Amos said, By the sword shall Jerobo'am die, and Israel shall surely be led away into exile out of their own land.

Amos 7:12

And Amazyah said unto 'Amos, Seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and eat there [thy] bread, and there prophesy;

Amos 7:13

But at Beth-el prophesy not farther any more; for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal residence.

Amos 7:14

Then answered 'Amos, and said to Amazyah, I am no prophet, nor am I a prophet's son; but I am a herdman, and a gatherer of wild figs;

Amos 7:15

But the Lord hath taken me away from behind the flocks, and the Lord said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel.

Amos 7:16

And now hear thou the word of the Lord, Thou sayest, Prophesy not against Israel, and preach not against the house of Isaac.

Amos 7:17

Therefore thus hath said the Lord, Thy wife will play the harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided out by the line; and thou shalt die in an unclean land; and Israel shall surely be led forth into exile out of their land.

Amos 8:1

Thus did the Lord Eternal show unto me: and, behold, there was a basket of summer fruit.

Amos 8:2

And he said, What dost thou see, 'Amos? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the Lord unto me, The end is come for my people Israel: I will not farther indulge them any more.

Amos 8:3

And the songs of the temple shall become a wailing on that day, saith the Lord Eternal: many shall be the dead bodies; in every place shall men throw them down, [saying,] Be silent.

Amos 8:4

Hear this, O ye that are greedy to swallow the needy, and to ruin the poor of the land,

Amos 8:5

Saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell provision? and the sabbath, that we may open the corn-warehouses, making the ephah small, and increasing the shekel, and cheating with deceitful balances?

Amos 8:6

That we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes; and even sell the refuse of the corn?

Amos 8:7

Sworn hath the Lord by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will not forget to eternity all their works.

Amos 8:8

Shall because of this the land not tremble, and mourn every one that dwelleth therein? and shall it not rise up like a stream wholly, and roll onward and sink again like the stream of Egypt?

Amos 8:9

And it shall come to pass on that day, saith the Lord Eternal, that I will cause the sun to set at noon, and I will bring darkness over the earth on a bright day;

Amos 8:10

And I will change your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentations; and I will bring upon all loins sackcloth, and upon every head baldness; and I will cause [the land] to mourn as one doth for an only son, and its end to be as a day of bitter [complaint].

Amos 8:11

Behold, days are coming, saith the Lord Eternal, when I will send a famine in the land, not a famine for bread, nor a thirst for water, but to hear the words of the Lord:

Amos 8:12

And they will wander about from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east, they will roam about to seek the word of the Lord; but they shall not find it.

Amos 8:13

On that day shall the fair virgins and the young men faint for thirst;

Amos 8:14

Those that swear by the guilt of Samaria, and say, As thy god liveth, O Dan; and, As liveth the worshipped idol of Beer-sheba', —yea, they shall fall, and never rise up again.

Amos 9:1

I saw the Lord standing upon the altar; and he said, Smite the capital, that the sills may quake; and break them in pieces over the head of all of them; and their posterity will I slay with the sword: there shall not flee away from them one that fleeth, and there shall not escape from them one that is saved.

Amos 9:2

Though they were to creep down into the nether world, thence would my hand fetch them; and though they were to climb up to the heavens, thence would I bring them down;

Amos 9:3

And though they were to hide themselves on the top of Carmel, thence would I search and take them out; and though they were to conceal themselves from before my eyes in the bottom of the sea, thence would I command the serpent, that he should bite them;

Amos 9:4

And though they were to go into captivity before their enemies, thence would I command the sword, that it should slay them: and I will set my eye upon them for evil, and not for good.

Amos 9:5

And the Lord Eternal of hosts it is that toucheth the earth, and she melteth away, and all that dwell thereon shall mourn; and she riseth up like a stream wholly; and she sinketh like the stream of Egypt;

Amos 9:6

That buildeth in the heavens his steps, and hath founded his vault over the earth; that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out over the face of the earth: The Lord is his name.

Amos 9:7

Are ye not like the children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith the Lord: have I not brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?

Amos 9:8

Behold, the eyes of the Lord Eternal are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; save only that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the Lord.

Amos 9:9

For, lo, I will give the command, and I will shake about among all the nations the house of Israel, as one shaketh things in a sieve, while not the least piece falleth down upon the earth.

Amos 9:10

By the sword shall die all the sinners of my people, who say, The evil will not come near [us], nor hasten along for our sake.

Amos 9:11

On that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David which is fallen; and I will close up its breaches; and its ruins will I raise up, and I will rebuild it as in days of old:

Amos 9:12

In order that they may take possession of the remnant of Edom, and of all the nations, which are called by my name, saith the Lord that doth this.

Amos 9:13

Behold, days are coming, saith the Lord, when the ploughman shall come close up to the harvester, and the treader of the grapes to the one that scattereth the seed: and the mountains shall drop with sweet new wine, and all the hills shall melt away.

Amos 9:14

And I will bring back the captivity of my people Israel, and they shall build the wasted cities, and dwell therein; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink their wine; and they shall lay out gardens, and eat their fruit.

Amos 9:15

And I will plant them upon their own soil, and they shall not be pulled up any more out of their land which I have given unto them, saith the Lord thy God.

OBADIAH

Obadiah 1:1

The vision of 'Obadiah: Thus hath said the Lord Eternal concerning Edom, A rumor have we heard from the Lord, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her to war.

Obadiah 1:2

Behold, I make thee small among the nations: thou shalt be greatly despised.

Obadiah 1:3

The presumption of thy heart hath beguiled thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high; that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?

Obadiah 1:4

Though thou wert to rise as high as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the Lord.

Obadiah 1:5

How? are thieves come to thee? or night-prowling robbers? how destroyed art thou! would they not have stolen till they had enough? if grape-gatherers had come to thee, would they not have left some gleanings?

Obadiah 1:6

How are [the treasures] of Esau searched out! how are his hidden things laid open!

Obadiah 1:7

Up to the border have accompanied thee all the men of thy confederacy; beguiled, overcome thee have the men that were at peace with thee: [they that eat] thy bread have struck thee secretly a wound. There is no understanding in him.

Obadiah 1:8

Shall I not on that same day, saith the Lord, even destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau?

Obadiah 1:9

And thy mighty men, O Theman, shall be dismayed, in order that every one from the mount of Esau may be cut off by slaughter.

Obadiah 1:10

Because of thy violence against thy brother Jacob shall shame cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever.

Obadiah 1:11

On the day that thou stoodest on the other side, on the day that strangers carried away captive his army, and foreigners entered into his gates, and cast lots over Jerusalem, also thou wast as any one of them.

Obadiah 1:12

But thou shouldst not have looked on [pleased] at the day of thy brother, on the day that he was delivered up to strangers; neither shouldst thou have rejoiced over the children of Judah on the day of their destruction; nor should thou have spoken proudly on the day of distress.

Obadiah 1:13

Thou shouldst not have entered into the gate of my people on the day of their calamity; yea, thou too shouldst not have looked [pleased] on their affliction on the day of their calamity; nor have laid hands on their army on the day of their calamity;

Obadiah 1:14

Neither shouldst thou have stood in the crossway, to cut off those of his that did escape; neither shouldst thou have delivered up those of his that did remain on the day of distress.

Obadiah 1:15

For near is the day of the Lord over all the nations: as thou hast done, shall it be done unto thee; thy deeds shall return upon thy own head.

Obadiah 1:16

For as ye have drunk upon my holy mount, so shall all the nations drink continually; yea, they shall drink, and they shall reel about, and they shall be as though they had not been.

Obadiah 1:17

But upon mount Zion shall be deliverance, and it shall be holy: and the house of Jacob shall again possess their inheritances.

Obadiah 1:18

And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau become stubble, and they shall set them on fire, and devour them; and there shall not be any one remaining of the house of Esau; for the Lord hath spoken it.

Obadiah 1:19

And they of the south shall possess the mount of Esau; and they of the lowlands, the Philistines; and they shall possess the fields of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria: and Benjamin [shall possess] Gil'ad.

Obadiah 1:20

And the exiles of this host of the children of Israel that are [with] the Canaanites, as far as Zarephath, and the exiles of Jerusalem, who are in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the south.

Obadiah 1:21

And deliverers shall go up on mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau: and the kingdom shall be the Lord's.

JONAH

Jonah 1:1

The word of the Lord also came unto Jonah the son of 'Amitthai, saying,

Jonah 1:2

Arise, Go unto Nineveh, the great city, and proclaim against her; for their wickedness is come up before me.

Jonah 1:3

But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tharshish from the presence of the Lord; and he went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tharshish, and paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tharshish, from the presence of the Lord.

Jonah 1:4

But the Lord excited a great wind upon the sea, and there was a mighty tempest on the sea; and it was thought that the ship would be broken in pieces.

Jonah 1:5

And the mariners were afraid, and called every man unto his god; and they cast forth the articles which were in the ship into the sea, to be lightened of them. But Jonah was gone down into the hold of the ship, and lay down, and was fast asleep.

Jonah 1:6

So the ship-master came near unto him, and said unto him, Why dost thou sleep? arise, call upon thy God: perhaps it be that God will think of us, that we may not be lost.

Jonah 1:7

And they said one to the other, Come, and let us cast lots; that we may know for whose cause this evil hath happened unto us. And they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.

Jonah 1:8

Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, thou for whose cause this evil hath happened unto us, What is thy business? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

Jonah 1:9

And he said unto them, I am a Hebrew; and I fear the Lord, the God of heaven, who hath made the sea and the dry land.

Jonah 1:10

Then were the men exceedingly afraid and they said unto him, What is this thou hast done? for the men knew that he was flying from the presence of the Lord; because he had told them.

Jonah 1:11

And they said unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may become calm around us? for the sea grew more and more tempestuous.

Jonah 1:12

And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea: so shall the sea be calm around you; for I know well that because of me is this great tempest upon you.

Jonah 1:13

Nevertheless the men rowed hard to bring [the ship] back to the land; but they could not; for the sea grew more and more tempestuous around them.

Jonah 1:14

And they called unto the Lord, and said, We beseech thee, O Lord, let us not be lost, we pray thee, for the life of this man, and lay not upon us [the guilt of] innocent blood; for thou art the Lord, as it pleaseth thee so dost thou do.

Jonah 1:15

And they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: and the sea ceased from its raging.

Jonah 1:16

And the men feared the Lord very greatly; and they offered a sacrifice unto the Lord, and made vows.

Jonah 1:17 (2:1)

And the Lord made ready a large fish to swallow up Jonah: and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

Jonah 2:1 (2:2)

Then prayed Jonah unto the Lord his God out of the belly of the fish.

Jonah 2:2 (2:3)

And he said, I called from the midst of my distress unto the Lord, and he hath answered me: out of the depth of the grave have I cried, and thou hast heard my voice.

Jonah 2:3 (2:4)

For thou hast cast me into the deep, in the heart of the seas; and the stream compasseth me about: all thy billows and thy waves have passed over me.

Jonah 2:4 (2:5)

And I thought indeed, I am driven out from before thy eyes: yet I again shall look toward thy holy temple.

Jonah 2:5 (2:6)

The waters surrounded me, to the peril of my life; the deep compassed me about: seaweeds were bound about my head.

Jonah 2:6 (2:7)

To the bottoms of the mountains did I go down; the earth [closed] her bars about me for ever: when thou broughtest up my life from the pit, O Lord my God!

Jonah 2:7 (2:8)

When my soul fainted within me I remembered the Lord: and my prayer came unto thee, unto thy holy temple.

Jonah 2:8 (2:9)

They that guard false vanities forsake [the source of] their kindness.

Jonah 2:9 (2:10)

But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving; that which I have vowed will I pay; [for] help is with the Lord.

Jonah 2:10 (2:11)

And the Lord commanded the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

Jonah 3:1

And the word of the Lord came unto Jonah the second time, saying,

Jonah 3:2

Arise, go unto Nineveh, the great city, and proclaim unto it the proclamation which I shall speak unto thee.

Jonah 3:3

And Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the Lord. Now Nineveh was a great city before God, a three days' journey.

Jonah 3:4

And Jonah began to go through the city one day's journey, and he called out, and said, Yet forty days more, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.

Jonah 3:5

And the men of Nineveh believed in God; and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them to the least of them.

Jonah 3:6

For when the matter was come unto the king of Nineveh, he arose from his throne, and put off his mantle from him, and covered himself with sackcloth, and sat down on ashes.

Jonah 3:7

And he caused to be proclaimed and he published through Nineveh, By the decree of the king and his chief men, it is said, Neither man nor beast, neither herds nor flocks, shall taste any thing; they shall not feed, nor drink water;

Jonah 3:8

But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and let [men] call unto God with might; and let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence which is in their hands.

Jonah 3:9

Who knoweth, but God may turn and bethink himself, and turn away from the fierceness of his anger, that we perish not?

Jonah 3:10

And God saw their works, that they had turned from their evil way: and God bethought himself of the evil, which he had spoken that he would do unto them, and he did it not.

Jonah 4:1

But it displeased Jonah exceedingly; and he was wroth.

Jonah 4:2

And he prayed unto the Lord, and said, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my word, while I was yet in my own country? Therefore made I haste to fly unto Tharshish; for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and merciful, long-suffering, and abundant in kindness, and repentant of the evil.

Jonah 4:3

And now, O Lord, take, I pray thee, my soul from me; because it is better for me to die, than to live.

Jonah 4:4

And the Lord said, Art thou very wroth?

Jonah 4:5

Now Jonah was gone out of the city, and dwelt on the east side of the city; and he had made himself there a booth, and sat under it in the shade, till he should see what would become of the city.

Jonah 4:6

And the Lord God made ready a gourd, and it grew up over Jonah, to be a shade over his head, to relieve him from his affliction. And Jonah rejoiced because of the gourd exceedingly.

Jonah 4:7

But God made ready a worm when the morning dawned on the morrow, and it smote the gourd that it withered.

Jonah 4:8

And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God made ready a hot east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he became faint; and he wished for himself to die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.

Jonah 4:9

And God said unto Jonah, Art thou very wroth for the gourd? And he said, I am very wroth, even unto death.

Jonah 4:10

And the Lord said, Thou wouldst have spared the gourd, for which thou hadst not labored, neither hadst thou made it grow; which came up in one night, and perished in one night;

Jonah 4:11

And shall I not spare Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than twelve times ten thousand persons, who know not how to discern between their right hand and their left hand, and also much cattle?

MICAH

Micah 1:1

The word of the Lord that came to Micah the Morashthite in the days of Jotham, Achaz, [and] Hezekiah, the kings of Judah, which he foresaw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

Micah 1:2

Hear, ye people, altogether; listen, O earth, with all that filleth it: and let the Lord Eternal be witness against you, the Lord from his holy temple.

Micah 1:3

For, behold, the Lord cometh forth out of his residence; and he will come down, and will step along upon the high places of the earth.

Micah 1:4

And the mountains shall melt beneath him, and the valleys shall cleave in twain, like wax [melteth] before the fire, like water poured out on a declivity.

Micah 1:5

For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. Who caused the transgression of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and who caused the high-places of Judah? is it not Jerusalem?

Micah 1:6

Therefore will I change Samaria into stone-heaps on the field, into vineyard plantations: and I will hurl down into the valley her stones, and her foundations will I lay open.

Micah 1:7

And all her graven images shall he beaten to pieces, and all her wages of sin shall be burnt with the fire, and all her idols will I make desolate; for from harlot's wages she gathered them, and for harlot's wages shall they be used again.

Micah 1:8

For this will I lament and wail; I will go confused and naked: I will make a lament like the crocodiles, and mourning like the ostriches.

Micah 1:9

For her wounds are incurable; for [the evil] is come even unto Judah; [the enemy] hath reached as far as the gate of my people, even up to Jerusalem.

Micah 1:10

Tell it not at Gath, weep ye not loudly [there]: in Bethle'aphrah roll thyself in the dust.

Micah 1:11

Pass ye away, ye inhabitants of Shaphir, having your shame laid bare: the inhabitress of Zaanan cometh not forth [any more]; the mourning of Beth-haezel taketh from you its halting place.

Micah 1:12

For the inhabitress of Maroth is grieved for the [lost] good; because evil came down from the Lord unto the gate of Jerusalem.

Micah 1:13

Bind the chariot to the swift horses, O inhabitress of Lachish: the beginning of sin was she to the daughter of Zion; for in thee were found the transgressions of Israel.

Micah 1:14

Therefore shalt thou have to give presents to Moresheth-gath: the houses of Achzib shall become a deception to the kings of Israel.

Micah 1:15

Yet will I bring an [enemy as] heir unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareshah: as far as 'Adullam shall withdraw the glory of Israel.

Micah 1:16

Make thyself bald, and cut off thy hair for the children of thy delight; enlarge thy baldness like the eagle; because they are gone into exile from thee.

Micah 2:1

Woe to those that devise wickedness, and resolve on evil upon their couches! by the first light of the morning they execute it, if they have it in the power of their hand.

Micah 2:2

And they covet fields, and rob them; and houses, and take them away: so they defraud the master and his house, and the man and his heritage.

Micah 2:3

Therefore thus hath said the Lord, Behold, I will devise against this family an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks; nor shall ye go erect; for it is an evil time.

Micah 2:4

On that day shall one take up a parable against you, and lament with a mournful lamentation, and say, "We are utterly wasted: the portion of my people hath he exchanged; how hath he removed it from me! instead of restoring [them to us] he divideth our fields."

Micah 2:5

Therefore shalt thou have none that shall draw the [measuring] cord in [his] lot in the congregation of the Lord.

Micah 2:6

"Preach not;" [but] they shall preach: they shall not preach [indeed] to these, that reproach may not overtake them.

Micah 2:7

Shall it be said [in] the house of Jacob, Is the spirit of the Lord straightened? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly?

Micah 2:8

But long since is my people risen up as an enemy: from the garment do you pull off the ornament; of those that pass by securely [ye make] men returned from war.

Micah 2:9

The wives of my people do you drive out of their delightful houses; from their children do ye take away my ornament for ever.

Micah 2:10

Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your resting-place; because it is polluted, it shall destroy [you], even with a grievous destruction.

Micah 2:11

If a man that goeth after wind and lieth with falsehood [should say], "I will preach unto thee of wine and of strong drink:" he would be a preacher for this people.

Micah 2:12

I will [once] surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; I will surely gather up the remnant of Israel; I will place them together as flocks in the fold, as droves in the midst of their pen: they shall be crowded with men.

Micah 2:13

The wall-breaker cometh up before them; they break in and pass through the gate, and go out by it: and their king passeth on before them, and the Lord at their head.

Micah 3:1

And I said, Hear, I pray you, O ye heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel! Is it not for you to know what is justice?

Micah 3:2

[But they are those] who hate the good, and love the evil; who tear their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones;

Micah 3:3

Who also eat the flesh of my people, and flay their skin from off them; and who crush their bones, and chop them in pieces, as that to be put in a pot, and as flesh within a caldron.

Micah 3:4

Then will they cry unto the Lord, but he will not hear them; and he will hide his face from them at that time, as they have committed their evil deeds.

Micah 3:5

Thus hath said the Lord concerning the prophets that mislead my people, who, when they have something to bite with their teeth, cry, Peace; but who prepare war against him who putteth nothing in their mouth:

Micah 3:6

Therefore shall the night be unto you, without a vision; and it shall be dark unto you, without divining; and the sun shall go down around the prophets, and the day shall be obscured around them.

Micah 3:7

Thus shall the seers be made ashamed, and the diviners be put to the blush: yea, they shall all wrap themselves up to the upper lip; for there is no answer of God.

Micah 3:8

But truly I am indeed full of strength by the spirit of the Lord, and [of power] of judging, and of might, to tell unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin.

Micah 3:9

Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel, that abhor justice, and make crooked all that is straight.

Micah 3:10

They build up Zion with blood—guiltiness, and Jerusalem with wrong.

Micah 3:11

Her heads judge for bribes, and her priests teach for reward, and her prophets divine for money: and yet will they lean upon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among us? evil cannot come over us.

Micah 3:12

Therefore for your sake shall Zion be ploughed up as a field, and Jerusalem shall become ruinous heaps, and the mount of the house, forest-covered high-places.

Micah 4:1

And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be firmly established on the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and unto it shall people flow.

Micah 4:2

And many nations shall come, and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; that he may teach us of his ways, and we may walk in his paths; for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord out of Jerusalem.

Micah 4:3

And he shall judge between many people, and decide for strong nations even afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plough-shares, and their spears into pruning-knives: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, and they shall not learn any more war.

Micah 4:4

But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig-tree, with none to make them afraid; for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it.

Micah 4:5

[But] though all the people should walk every one in the name of his god, yet will we walk in the name of the Lord our God for ever and ever.

Micah 4:6

On that day, saith the Lord, will I assemble her that halteth, and her that is driven out will I gather, and her to whom I have done evil;

Micah 4:7

And I will make of her that halted a remnant, and of her that was cast off far away a strong nation: and the Lord will reign over them on mount Zion, from this time and unto eternity.

Micah 4:8

And thou, O tower of flocks, the strong-hold of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall go, and shall come, the former dominion, the kingdom belonging to the daughter of Jerusalem.

Micah 4:9

Now why dost thou cry aloud? is there no king in thee? is thy counsellor lost? that pangs have seized on thee as on a woman in travail?

Micah 4:10

Be in pain, and labor to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail; for now shalt thou go forth out of the town, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go as far as Babylon; there shalt thou be delivered; there will the Lord redeem thee from the grasp of thy enemies.

Micah 4:11

And now many nations are gathered against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye look with pleasure on Zion.

Micah 4:12

But they know not the thoughts of the Lord, and they understand not his counsel: that he will [once] gather them as the sheaves into the threshing-floor.

Micah 4:13

Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion; for I will render thy horn iron, and thy hoofs will I render copper, and thou shalt beat in pieces many people: and I will devote unto the Lord their ill-gotten gain, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

Micah 5:1 (4:14)

Now gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops; they lay siege against us: with the rod they smite upon the cheek the judge of Israel.

Micah 5:2 (5:1)

But thou, Beth-lechem Ephratah, the least [though] thou be among the thousands of Judah, [yet] out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel, whose origin is from olden times, from most ancient days.

Micah 5:3 (5:2)

Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she who travaileth hath brought forth: then shall the remnant of his brethren return with the children of Israel.

Micah 5:4 (5:3)

And he shall stand forward and feed [Israel] through the strength of the Lord, through the excellency of the name of the Lord his God: and they shall abide [safely]; for now shall he be great even unto the ends of the earth.

Micah 5:5 (5:4)

And in this [manner] shall there be peace: If Asshur should come into our land; and if he should tread in our palaces, then will we raise up against him seven shepherds, and eight anointed men.

Micah 5:6 (5:5)

And they shall lay waste the land of Asshur with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the gates of its [cities]: thus will he deliver us from Asshur, if he should come into our land, and if he should tread within our borders.

Micah 5:7 (5:6)

And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many people like dew from the Lord, like showers upon the herbs, that wait not for man, nor hope for the sons of man.

Micah 5:8 (5:7)

And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many people, like a lion among the beasts of the forest, like a young lion among flocks of sheep: who, if he break in, both treadeth down, and teareth in pieces, while none can deliver.

Micah 5:9 (5:8)

High shall thy hand be lifted up above thy adversaries, and all thy enemies shall be cut off.

Micah 5:10 (5:9)

And it shall come to pass on that day, saith the Lord, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots;

Micah 5:11 (5:10)

And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and I will throw down all thy strongholds;

Micah 5:12 (5:11)

And I will cut off the arts of witchcraft out of thy hand; and soothsayers shalt thou have no more;

Micah 5:13 (5:12)

And I will cut off thy graven images, and thy statues out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt no more prostrate thyself to the work of thy hands;

Micah 5:14 (5:13)

And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee; and I will destroy thy enemies.

Micah 5:15 (5:14)

And I will in anger and in fury execute vengeance upon the nations, upon those that have not hearkened.

Micah 6:1

Do but hear now what the Lord saith, Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

Micah 6:2

Hear ye, O mountains, the controversy of the Lord, and ye strong foundations of the earth! for the Lord hath a controversy with his people, and with Israel will he plead.

Micah 6:3

O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherewith have I wearied thee? testify against me.

Micah 6:4

Although I had brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of bond-men; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

Micah 6:5

O my people, do but remember what Balak the king of Moab resolved, and what Bil'am the son of Be'or answered him, from Shittim unto Gilgal, in order that ye may know the gracious benefits of the Lord.

Micah 6:6

Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, bow myself before the God on high? shall I come before him with burnt-offerings, with calves of a year old!

Micah 6:7

Will the Lord be pleased with thousands of rams, or with myriads of streams of oil? shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

Micah 6:8

He hath told thee, O man, what is good; and what the Lord doth require of thee: [nothing] but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God.

Micah 6:9

The voice of the Lord calleth unto the city,—and [the man of] wisdom shall see thy name:—hear ye the rod [of punishment], and who hath ordained it.

Micah 6:10

Are there yet in the house of the wicked man the treasures of wickedness, and the scant accursed measure?

Micah 6:11

Can I be pure with wicked balances, and with a bag [full] of deceptive weights?

Micah 6:12

For her rich men are full of violence, and her inhabitants have spoken falsehood, and their tongue is deceit [itself] in their mouth.

Micah 6:13

Therefore have I also smitten thee with sore wounds, making [thee] desolate because of thy sins.

Micah 6:14

Thou wilt indeed eat, but not be satisfied; and what thou hast eaten shall bend thee down; and thou wilt overtake [the enemy], but thou shalt not deliver; and that which thou deliverest will I give up to the sword.

Micah 6:15

Thou wilt indeed sow, but thou shalt not reap; thou wilt indeed tread out olives, but thou shalt not anoint thyself with oil; and the juice of the grapes, but thou shalt not drink wine.

Micah 6:16

For there are observed the statutes of 'Omri, and all the works of the house of Achab, and ye walk in their counsels: in order that I should give thee up unto desolation, and thy inhabitants to derision; and ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

Micah 7:1

Woe is me! for I am as in the gathering of the summer-fruits, as in the grape-gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat, no first-ripe fruit for which my soul longeth.

Micah 7:2

The pious hath disappeared out of the land; and the upright among men there is none; all of them lie in wait for blood; they hunt every man his brother with a net.

Micah 7:3

For the evil of your hands you expect good? while the prince demandeth [bribes], and the judge acteth for pay; and the great man is only speaking the wilful pleasure of his soul: and so do they make a network [of wrong].

Micah 7:4

The best of them is like a brier; the most upright is [sharper] than a thorn-hedge: the day of thy watchmen, thy punishment, is come; now shall be perplexity among them.

Micah 7:5

Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a confidant: from her that lieth in thy bosom guard the doors of thy mouth.

Micah 7:6

For the son disgraceth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

Micah 7:7

But I—I will look unto the Lord; I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me.

Micah 7:8

Rejoice not, O my enemy, over me: though I am fallen, I rise again: though I should sit in darkness, the Lord will be a light unto me.

Micah 7:9

The indignation of the Lord will I bear, because I have sinned against him; until that he plead my cause, and execute justice for me: [when] he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness.

Micah 7:10

Then she that is my enemy will see it, and shame shall cover her, who said unto me, Where is the Lord thy God? My eyes shall complacently see her [suffer]: now shall she be trodden down as the mire of the streets.

Micah 7:11

The day that thy fences are to be built—that same day, the ordained, is yet far removed.

Micah 7:12

It is a day when men shall come to thee from Assyria, and the cities of Mazor, and from Mazor even to the river, and from sea to sea, and [from] mountain to mountain.

Micah 7:13

While the land [of the nations] shall be made desolate because of its inhabitants, for the fruit of their doings.

Micah 7:14

Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thy heritage, which dwell in solitude in the wood, in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gil'ad, as in the days of old.

Micah 7:15

As in the days of thy coming out of the land of Egypt will I let them see marvelous things.

Micah 7:16

Nations shall see and be ashamed of all their might: they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deafened.

Micah 7:17

They shall lick the dust like the serpent; like those that crawl on the earth, shall they come forth trembling out of their close places: unto the Lord our God shall they hasten in dread, and shall be afraid of thee.

Micah 7:18

Who is a god like unto thee, pardoning iniquity, and forgiving transgression to the residue of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in kindness.

Micah 7:19

He will again have mercy on us, he will suppress our iniquities; yea, thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.

Micah 7:20

Thou wilt show faithfulness unto Jacob, and kindness unto Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers in the days of old.

NAHUM

Nahum 1:1

The doom of Nineveh, The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

Nahum 1:2

A God watchful and avenging is the Lord; an avenger is the Lord, and full of fury; the Lord taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and keepeth in mind the deeds of his enemies.

Nahum 1:3

The Lord is long-suffering, and great in power, but he will by no means clear the guilty: the Lord—in the whirlwind and in the storm is his way, and the clouds are the dust of his feet.

Nahum 1:4

He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and all the rivers he drieth up: Bashan then withereth, with Carmel, and the flowers of Lebanon wither.

Nahum 1:5

Mountains quake before him, and the hills melt away; and the earth is lifted up at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.

Nahum 1:6

Before his indignation who can stand? and who can subsist before the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken down by him.

Nahum 1:7

The Lord is good, a strong-hold on the day of distress; and he knoweth those that trust in him.

Nahum 1:8

But with an overflowing flood will he utterly destroy the place of [Nineveh], and his enemies will he pursue with darkness.

Nahum 1:9

What will you devise against the Lord? he is bringing about an utter destruction, the distress shall not rise up twice.

Nahum 1:10

For they, like thorns interwoven, and as men made drunken in their drinking bout, shall be entirely consumed as dry stubble.

Nahum 1:11

There is gone forth out of thee he that devised evil against the Lord, the counsellor of infamous things.

Nahum 1:12

Thus hath said the Lord, Though they be complete, and ever so many, nevertheless shall they be cut down, and it shall be over [with them]: and if even I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

Nahum 1:13

For now will I break his yoke from off thee, and thy bonds will I tear asunder.

Nahum 1:14

But against thee hath the Lord decreed, that no heir of thy name shall be any more: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven and the molten image; I will prepare thy grave [there]; for thou art made vile.

Nahum 1:15 (2:1)

Behold, upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace, Celebrate thy feasts, O Judah, fulfill thy vows; for never more shall the wicked pass again through thee, he is utterly cut off.

Nahum 2:1 (2:2)

The destroyer is come up against thee to enclose [thee] with works of siege: look out on the way, make thy loins strong, strengthen [thyself] greatly with power.

Nahum 2:2 (2:3)

For the Lord bringeth back again the excellency of Jacob, as also the excellency of Israel; for the plunderers have plundered them, and have wasted branches of their vines.

Nahum 2:3 (2:4)

The shields of his mighty men are made red, the valiant men are [clothed] in scarlet: with the fire of the steel chariots [glitter] on the day when he prepareth himself [for battle], and the spears are shaken.

Nahum 2:4 (2:5)

In the streets the chariots rush madly along, they rattle through the public places: their appearance is like torches, they run along like the lightnings.

Nahum 2:5 (2:6)

He will summon his valiant men, they shall stumble in their walk: they hasten to her walls, and the covering for defence is prepared.

Nahum 2:6 (2:7)

The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace is dissolved.

Nahum 2:7 (2:8)

And the queen is carried away into exile stripped of her attire, and her maids moan as with the voice of doves, striking their hand upon their breast.

Nahum 2:8 (2:9)

And Nineveh was like a pool of water from the days that she existed: yet now they flee. "Stand, stand," [shall they cry,] but none shall look back.

Nahum 2:9 (2:10)

Plunder silver, plunder gold; for without end are the treasures, there is an abundance of all precious vessels.

Nahum 2:10 (2:11)

She is void, and emptied out, and wasted; and the heart melteth, and the knees totter, and trembling is in all loins, and the faces of them all are covered with blackness.

Nahum 2:11 (2:12)

Where is [now] the dwelling of the lions, and what was the feeding-place of the young lions, where the lion, the lioness, and the lion's whelp walked, and none made them afraid?

Nahum 2:12 (2:13)

The lion tore in pieces [prey] enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled with prey his holes, and his dens with what he had torn.

Nahum 2:13 (2:14)

Behold, I will be against thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will burn into smoke thy chariots, and thy young lions shall the sword devour: and I will cut off from the earth thy preying, and no more shall be heard the voice of thy messengers.

Nahum 3:1

Woe to the city of blood! it is all full of lies and robbery; never ceaseth the preying;

Nahum 3:2

The noise of a whip, and the noise of the rattling of wheels, and of prancing horses, and of the skipping chariots.

Nahum 3:3

Horsemen mount, and there are the flaming sword and the glittering spear: and there is a multitude of slain, and heaps of carcasses; and without end are the corpses; they stumble on their corpses;

Nahum 3:4

Because of the multitude of the lewd deeds of the harlot, that is rich in gracefulness, the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her lewd deeds, and families through her witchcrafts.

Nahum 3:5

Behold, I will be against thee, saith the Lord of hosts; and I will lay thy skirts open over thy face, and I will let nations see thy nakedness, and kingdoms thy shame.

Nahum 3:6

And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and defile thee, and will render thee a dirt-heap.

Nahum 3:7

And it shall come to pass, that all they that see thee shall flee from thee, and say, Laid waste is Nineveh: who will condole with her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee?

Nahum 3:8

Art thou better than No-amon, that was situated on the rivers, that had water round about her, the rampart of which was the sea, and the walls of which rose out of the sea?

Nahum 3:9

Ethiopia the numerous, and Egypt that was without end, Put and Lubim were thy helpers.

Nahum 3:10

Yet also she was exiled, was carried away into captivity; also her young children were dashed in pieces at the corners of all streets: and for her honorable men they cast lots, and all her great ones were bound with chains.

Nahum 3:11

Thou also shalt be made drunken, thou shalt be hidden from view: thou also shalt seek refuge because of the enemy.

Nahum 3:12

All thy strong-holds shall be like fig-trees with the first ripe figs, which, if they be shaken, will fall into the mouth of the eater.

Nahum 3:13

Behold, thy people are become women in the midst of thee: unto thy enemies are the gates of thy land set wide open; the fire hath devoured thy bars.

Nahum 3:14

Water for the siege draw for thyself, fortify thy strongholds: go into the clay, and tread the mortar, make strong the brick-kiln.

Nahum 3:15

There shall the fire devour thee; the sword shall cut thee off, it shall devour thee up like the cankerworm: [though] thou make thyself many as the cankerworm; make thyself many as the locusts.

Nahum 3:16

[Though] thou hadst multiplied thy merchants more than the stars of heaven: the cankerworm spreadeth itself out, and flieth away.

Nahum 3:17

Thy crowned ones are like the locusts, and thy leaders like the swarms of locusts, which camp in the hedges on a cold day, but when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are.

Nahum 3:18

Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria; thy valiant men are at rest: scattered are thy people upon the mountains, and there is none that gathereth them.

Nahum 3:19

There is no healing for thy breach; fatal is thy wound: all that hear the report of thee will clap their hands over thee; for over whom did not thy wickedness pass continually?

HABAKKUK

Habakkuk 1:1

The prophecy which Habakkuk the prophet foresaw.

Habakkuk 1:2

How long, O Lord, have I entreated [thee], and thou wouldst not hear? [how long] shall I cry out unto thee [because of] violence, and thou wilt not save?

Habakkuk 1:3

Why wilt thou let me see wickedness, and wilt look on trouble, and the robbery and violence [that are] before me: while there is strife, and contention lifteth up [its head]?

Habakkuk 1:4

Therefore is the law powerless, and justice cometh not forth victorious; for the wicked encompasseth about the righteous; therefore doth justice come forth perverted.

Habakkuk 1:5

Look ye about among the nations, and behold and be astonished and astounded; for [God] will fulfill a work in your days, ye would not believe it, if it were only told you.

Habakkuk 1:6

For, lo, I will raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and impetuous nation, that march to the wide spaces of the earth to conquer dwelling-places that are not theirs.

Habakkuk 1:7

Terrible and dreadful are they: from themselves go forth their judicial laws and their dignity.

Habakkuk 1:8

And swifter than leopards are their horses, and fiercer than the evening wolves; and their horsemen spread themselves abroad: and their horsemen will come from afar; they will fly like the eagle hastening to eat.

Habakkuk 1:9

They all will come for violence: the front of their faces is like the east wind, and they gather captives as the sand.

Habakkuk 1:10

And they will make sport with kings, and princes will be a play unto them: at every strong-hold will they laugh, and they will cast up earth-mounds and capture it.

Habakkuk 1:11

Then doth their spirit become arrogant, and they are surpassingly proud, and offend, [imputing] this their power unto their god.

Habakkuk 1:12

Art thou not from everlasting, O Lord my God, my Holy One? we shall not die. O Lord, thou hast ordained them for judgment; and, O Protector, thou hast appointed them to correct [nations].

Habakkuk 1:13

Thou, who art too pure of eyes to behold evil, and canst not look on trouble, wherefore wilt thou look upon those that deal treacherously, be silent when the wicked swalloweth up him that is more righteous than he?

Habakkuk 1:14

And [why] makest thou men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them?

Habakkuk 1:15

All of them he bringeth up with the angle, he draggeth them up in his net, and gathereth them in his drag: therefore he rejoiceth and is glad.

Habakkuk 1:16

Therefore he sacrificeth unto his net, and burneth incense unto his drag; because through them is his portion fat, and his food marrowy.

Habakkuk 1:17

Shall he therefore [always] empty his net, and continually slay nations without sparing?

Habakkuk 2:1

Upon my watch will I stand, and place myself upon the tower, and will watch to see what he will speak with me, and what I shall answer to my reproof.

Habakkuk 2:2

And the Lord answered me, and said, Write down the vision, and make it plain upon the tables, that everyone may read it fluently.

Habakkuk 2:3

For there is yet a vision for the appointed time, and it speaketh of the end, and it will not deceive: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will surely come, it will not be delayed.

Habakkuk 2:4

Behold, disturbed, not at rest is the soul of [the wicked] in him; but the righteous ever liveth in his [trustful] faith.

Habakkuk 2:5

And though the wine-[drunken] traitor, the proud man, whose house will not stand, who enlargeth his desire as the grave, and is like death, which cannot be satisfied,—though he gather unto him all the nations, and assemble unto him all the people:

Habakkuk 2:6

Will not all these take up a parable against him, and a proverb and a satire concerning him? and they will say, Woe to him that increaseth what is not his! for how long? and to him that loadeth himself with a burden of guilt!

Habakkuk 2:7

Behold, suddenly will rise up those that afflict thee, and awake those that plague thee, and thou shalt become a booty unto them.

Habakkuk 2:8

Because thou hast despoiled many nations will all the remnant of the people despoil thee; because of the blood of men, and the violence against the land, the town, and all that dwell therein.

Habakkuk 2:9

Woe to him that obtaineth an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the grasp of the wicked!

Habakkuk 2:10

Thou hast counselled shame to thy house, by cutting off many people, and sinning [against] thy soul.

Habakkuk 2:11

For the stone will cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the wood[–work] will answer it.

Habakkuk 2:12

Woe to him that buildeth a city with blood–guiltiness, and layeth the foundation of a town by wrong–doing.

Habakkuk 2:13

Behold, is it not from the Lord of hosts that people shall labor for the very fire, and nations shall weary themselves for naught but vanity!

Habakkuk 2:14

For the earth shall be filled with knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

Habakkuk 2:15

Woe unto him that maketh his neighbors drink, [to thee] that pourest out thy poisonous [wine], and makest them also drunken, in order to look on their nakedness!

Habakkuk 2:16

Thou art filled with shame instead of glory; drink thou also, and let thy nakedness be uncovered: there shall be turned around thee the cup of the Lord's right hand, and filthy spittle shall be on thy glory.

Habakkuk 2:17

For the violence against Lebanon shall cover thee, and the destruction of beasts, which he terrified away; because of the blood of men, and the violence against the land, the town, and all that dwell therein.

Habakkuk 2:18

What profiteth the graven image that its maker hath graven it? the molten image, and a teacher of falsehood? that the maker of his image trusteth therein, while making dumb idols?

Habakkuk 2:19

Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake! Rouse up to the dumb stone. Shall this teach? Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, and no breath whatever is in its bosom.

Habakkuk 2:20

But the Lord is in his holy temple: be silent before him all the earth.

Habakkuk 3:1

A prayer of Habakkuk the prophet upon Shigyonoth.

Habakkuk 3:2

O Lord, I have heard thy fame, [and] was afraid: O Lord, thy work—in the midst of the years [of sorrow] revive thou it, in the midst of the years make it known; in wrath remember mercy.

Habakkuk 3:3

[When] God from Theman came, and the Holy One from mount Paran, Selah: his glory covered the heavens, and of his praise the earth was full.

Habakkuk 3:4

And [his] brightness was like the sunlight; rays streamed forth out of his hand unto them; and there was the hiding of his power.

Habakkuk 3:5

Before him went the pestilence, and burning coals went forth in his steps.

Habakkuk 3:6

He stood forward, and made the earth tremble; he looked and dispersed nations; and there burst asunder the everlasting mountains; there sunk the perpetual hills: the ways of the world are his.

Habakkuk 3:7

In affliction I saw the tents of Cushan: they trembled—the curtains of the land of Midian.

Habakkuk 3:8

Was the Lord wroth against the rivers? yea, was against the rivers thy anger [kindled]? was against the sea thy wrath that thou rodest upon thy horses, thy chariots of victory!

Habakkuk 3:9

Laid quite bare is thy bow, like severe rods of punishment [goeth forth] thy word, Selah: into rivers thou splittest the earth.

Habakkuk 3:10

The mountains saw thee, they trembled; the flowing waters passed along: the deep issued forth its voice, the height lifted up its hands.

Habakkuk 3:11

The sun and moon stood still in their dwelling: at the light of thy arrows they walked along, at the shining of the flaming glitter of thy spear.

Habakkuk 3:12

In indignation thou marchest through the earth, in anger thou treadest down nations.

Habakkuk 3:13

Thou wentest forth to the assistance of thy people, to the assistance of thy anointed: thou didst wound the head out of the house of the wicked, destroy the foundation with the high-towering walls. Selah.

Habakkuk 3:14

Thou didst strike through with his own spears the chiefs of his villages, who rushed out furiously to scatter me; who rejoiced greatly as though they were to devour the poor in secret.

Habakkuk 3:15

[But] thou didst pass along over the sea with thy horses, over the piled up billows of great waters.

Habakkuk 3:16

I heard it, and my inmost parts trembled; at the report my lips quivered; rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in my place, that I should rest till the day of distress, till the withdrawing of the people that will invade us with its troops.

Habakkuk 3:17

For the fig-tree doth not bud, and no fruit is on the vines; the productiveness of the olive deceiveth, and the fields yield no food; from the fold the flocks are cut off, and there are no herds in the stalls.

Habakkuk 3:18

Yet will I rejoice in the Lord, I will exult in the God of my salvation.

Habakkuk 3:19

The Lord Eternal is my strength, and he maketh my feet fleet as those of the hinds, and he will cause me to tread upon my high places. To the chief musician of my songs.

ZEPHANIAH

Zephaniah 1:1

The word of the Lord which came unto Zephanyah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedalyah, the son of Amaryah, the son of Chizkiyah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon the king of Judah.

Zephaniah 1:2

I will remove, utterly remove all things from off the face of the earth, saith the Lord.

Zephaniah 1:3

I will remove man and beast; I will remove the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and the stumbling blocks together with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the face of the earth, saith the Lord.

Zephaniah 1:4

And I will stretch out my hand over Judah, and over all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Ba'al from this place, the name of his ministers with his priests;

Zephaniah 1:5

And those that bow themselves down on the roofs of houses to the host of heaven; and those that bow themselves down that are sworn [to be true] to the Lord and still swear by Malkom;

Zephaniah 1:6

And those that are turned away from following the Lord; and those that have not sought for the Lord, and have not inquired of him.

Zephaniah 1:7

Be silent in the presence of the Lord Eternal; for nigh is the day of the Lord; for the Lord hath prepared a slaughter, he hath bidden his invited guests.

Zephaniah 1:8

And it shall come to pass on the day of the Lord's slaughter, that I will inflict punishment on the princes, and on the king's sons, and on all such as are clothed in garments of a foreign land.

Zephaniah 1:9

And I will inflict punishment on all those that leap over the threshold on that day, who fill the house of their master with violence and deceit.

Zephaniah 1:10

And it shall come to pass on that day, saith the Lord, that there shall be a loud cry of lamentation from the fish-gate, and a wailing from the second, and [that of] a great breach from the hills.

Zephaniah 1:11

Wail, ye inhabitants of the mortar-street, for destroyed are all the trading people; cut off are all that were laden with silver.

Zephaniah 1:12

And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem through with lights; and I will inflict punishment on the men that are at rest on their lees, that say in their heart, The Lord will not do good, nor will he do evil.

Zephaniah 1:13

And their wealth shall become a booty, and their houses shall be made desolate; and they will build houses, but they shall not inhabit them; and they will plant vineyards, but they shall not drink their wine.

Zephaniah 1:14

Nigh is the great day of the Lord, it is nigh, and hasteneth greatly, [there is] the noise of the day of the Lord: bitterly crieth there the mighty man.

Zephaniah 1:15

A day of wrath is that day, a day of distress and anxiety, a day of wasting and desolation, a day of darkness and obscurity, a day of clouds and tempestuous gloom,

Zephaniah 1:16

A day of the cornet and alarm, against the fenced cities, and against the high battlements.

Zephaniah 1:17

And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk about like the blind, because against the Lord have they sinned: and their blood shall be poured out like the dust, and their flesh like the dung.

Zephaniah 1:18

Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them on the day of the Lord's wrath; through the fire of whose zeal the whole land shall be devoured; for destruction, yea, quite sudden, will he prepare for all the inhabitants of the land.

Zephaniah 2:1

Gather yourselves together, yea, gather together, O nation without desire [for repentance];

Zephaniah 2:2

Before the decree is brought forth—like the chaff the day passeth away—before yet there be come over you the fierce anger of the Lord, before yet there be come over you the day of the anger of the Lord.

Zephaniah 2:3

Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, who have fulfilled his ordinances; seek righteousness, seek meekness: perhaps ye will be protected on the day of the Lord's anger.

Zephaniah 2:4

For Gazzah shall become forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolate place: Ashdod shall they drive out at the noon of day, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

Zephaniah 2:5

Woe unto the inhabitants of the district by the sea, the nation of the Kerethites! the word of the Lord is against you, O Canaan, the land of the Philistines, I will even destroy thee, that no inhabitant shall remain.

Zephaniah 2:6

And the district by the sea shall become places for pens of shepherds, and folds for flocks.

Zephaniah 2:7

And this district shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah; thereupon shall they feed their flocks: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening; for the Lord their God will think of them, and bring back their captivity.

Zephaniah 2:8

I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of 'Ammon, wherewith they have reproached my people, and made themselves great against their border.

Zephaniah 2:9

Therefore as I live, saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall become like Sodom, and the children of 'Ammon like Gomorrah, overgrown with nettles, and [filled with] salt-pits, and a desolation to eternity; the residue of my people shall plunder them, and the remnant of my nation shall possess them.

Zephaniah 2:10

This shall they have in recompense for their pride; because they have reproached and made themselves great against the people of the Lord of hosts.

Zephaniah 2:11

Terrible will the Lord [appear] over them; for he will cause to vanish all the gods of the earth; and then shall prostrate themselves before him, every one from its place, all the isles of the nations.

Zephaniah 2:12

Also ye Ethiopians shall be those slain by my sword.

Zephaniah 2:13

And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria; and he will make Nineveh a desolate place, dry, like the wilderness.

Zephaniah 2:14

And there shall lie down in the midst of her flocks, all the beasts of the nations; both the pelican and the hedgehog shall lodge in the capitals of her columns; singing-birds shall sing in the windows; ruin shall be on the thresholds; for the cedar wainscoting shall be torn away.

Zephaniah 2:15

This is the joyful city that dwelt in security, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none else beside me: how is she become desolate, a resting-place for beasts! every one that passeth by her will hiss, and shake his hand.

Zephaniah 3:1

Woe to her that is rebellious and polluted, to the oppressing city!

Zephaniah 3:2

She hearkened not to any voice; she accepted no correction; in the Lord she did not trust; to her God she drew not near.

Zephaniah 3:3

Her princes in her midst are roaring lions: her judges are evening wolves, they leave not a bone for the morning.

Zephaniah 3:4

Her prophets are thoughtless men of treachery: her priests have profaned the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law.

Zephaniah 3:5

The just Lord is in her midst, he will not do wrong; morning after morning doth he bring his justice to the light [of day], it never faileth; but the unjust knoweth no shame.

Zephaniah 3:6

I have cut off nations; destroyed are their battlements; I have laid in ruins their streets, so that none passeth through; their cities are wasted, without a man, without an inhabitant.

Zephaniah 3:7

I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt accept correction; so that her dwelling should not be cut off, all that I had decreed to bring over her; but they rose up early, they acted corruptly in all their doings.

Zephaniah 3:8

Therefore wait but for me, saith the Lord, for the day that I rise up to the prey; for my judgment [cometh] to gather the nations, for me to assemble the kingdoms, to pour over them my indignation, all the fierceness of my anger; for through the fire of my jealousy shall all the earth be devoured.

Zephaniah 3:9

Yea then will I change unto the people a pure language, that they may all call on the name of the Lord, to serve him with one accord.

Zephaniah 3:10

From beyond the rivers of Cush shall they bring my suppliants, even the assembly of my dispersed, as an offering unto me.

Zephaniah 3:11

On that day shalt thou not be ashamed because of all thy doings, whereby thou hast transgressed against me; for then will I remove out of the midst of thee those that rejoice in thy pride, and thou shalt never more be haughty again on my holy mount.

Zephaniah 3:12

And I will leave remaining in the midst of thee a humble and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the Lord.

Zephaniah 3:13

The remnant of Israel shall not do injustice, nor speak lies; and there shall not be found in their mouth a deceitful tongue; for they shall feed and lie down, with none to make them afraid.

Zephaniah 3:14

Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; rejoice and be glad with all thy heart, O daughter of Jerusalem!

Zephaniah 3:15

The Lord hath removed thy punishment, he hath cleared away thy enemy: the king of Israel, the Lord, is in the midst of thee; thou shalt not see evil any more.

Zephaniah 3:16

On that day shall it be said to Jerusalem, Fear thou not: [to] Zion, Let not thy hands become weak.

Zephaniah 3:17

The Lord thy God is in the midst of thee, the mighty one who will save; he will be glad over thee with rejoicing; he will be silent in his love, he will exult over thee with song.

Zephaniah 3:18

Those that mourn far away from the festive assembly do I gather, those that were separated from thee, [that have borne] for thee the burden of reproach.

Zephaniah 3:19

Behold, I will deal [severely] with all that afflict thee at that time: and I will save her that halteth, and her that was driven off will I gather; and I will render them a praise and a famous name on all the earth where they have been put to shame.

Zephaniah 3:20

At that time will I bring you back, even in the time that I gather you; for I will make you for a name and for a praise among all people of the earth, when I bring back again your captives before your eyes, saith the Lord.

HAGGAI

Haggai 1:1

In the second year of king Darius, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month, came the word of the Lord through means of Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealthiel, the governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying,

Haggai 1:2

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, saying, This people have said, The time is not yet come, the time for the Lord's house to be built.

Haggai 1:3

And the word of the Lord came by means of Haggai the prophet, saying,

Haggai 1:4

Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your ceiled houses, while this house lieth in ruins?

Haggai 1:5

Now therefore, thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Direct your heart unto your ways.

Haggai 1:6

Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but it doth not satisfy hunger; ye drink, but it doth not appease thirst; ye clothe yourselves, but no one is warm; and he that earneth something earneth it for a bag with holes.

Haggai 1:7

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Direct your heart to your ways.

Haggai 1:8

Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house: that I may take pleasure in it, and be glorified, saith the Lord.

Haggai 1:9

[Till now] ye looked for much, and lo, it came to be little; and when ye brought it home, I blew upon it. For what cause? saith the Lord of hosts. Because of my house that lieth in ruins, while ye run every man unto his own house.

Haggai 1:10

Therefore do the heavens for your sake withhold the dew, and the earth withholdeth her products.

Haggai 1:11

And I called for a drought over the land, and over the mountains, and over the corn, and over the new wine, and over the oil, and over what the ground bringeth forth, and over men, and over cattle, and over all the labor of the hands.

Haggai 1:12

Then hearkened Zerubbabel the son of Shealthiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, unto the voice of the Lord their God, and to the words of Haggai the prophet, as the Lord their God had sent him, and the people were afraid of the Lord.

Haggai 1:13

Then said Haggai the messenger of the Lord by the Lord's message unto the people saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

Haggai 1:14

And the Lord stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealthiel, the governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came and did work on the house of the Lord of hosts, their God.

Haggai 1:15

On the four and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of king Darius.

Haggai 2:1

In the seventh [month], on the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the Lord by means of Haggai the prophet, saying,

Haggai 2:2

Do say to Zerubbabel the son of Shealthiel, the governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

Haggai 2:3

Who is there yet left among you that hath seen this house in its first glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in comparison with it as nothing in your eyes?

Haggai 2:4

Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord, and be strong O Joshua, the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and do; [for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts,]

Haggai 2:5

[In accordance with] the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so [will] my spirit remain among you: fear nought.

Haggai 2:6

For thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Yet one thing more [will I do], it is but little, when I will cause to quake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land;

Haggai 2:7

And I will cause to quake all the nations, and the precious things of all the nations shall come [hither]: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hosts.

Haggai 2:8

Mine is the silver, and mine is the gold, saith the Lord of hosts.

Haggai 2:9

Greater shall be the glory of this latter house than that of the former, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the Lord of hosts.

Haggai 2:10

On the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord by means of Haggai the prophet, saying,

Haggai 2:11

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Do ask the priests concerning the law, saying,

Haggai 2:12

Lo! if one should carry holy flesh in the corner of his garment, and touch with his corner bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any food, shall it become holy? And the priests answered and said, No.

Haggai 2:13

Then said Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body shall touch any of these, will it become unclean? And the priests answered and said, It will become unclean.

Haggai 2:14

Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord; and so are all works of their hands; and what they offer there is unclean.

Haggai 2:15

And now direct, I pray you, your heart from this day and upward, before the time that a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the Lord:

Haggai 2:16

Since those days were, when one came to a heap of sheaves of twenty [in number], and there were but ten; when one came to the winepress for to draw off fifty measures out of the vat, and there were but twenty.

Haggai 2:17

I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail in all the labors of your hands: yet ye [turned] not [back] to me, saith the Lord.

Haggai 2:18

Direct, I pray you, your heart from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the Lord's temple was laid, direct your heart [to this].

Haggai 2:19

Is the seed yet in the barn? yes, as yet the vine, and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree, have not brought forth; [but] from this day will I bless you.

Haggai 2:20

And the word of the Lord came the second time unto Haggai on the four and twentieth day of the month, saying,

Haggai 2:21

Speak to Zerubbabel the governor of Judah, saying, I will cause to quake the heavens and the earth;

Haggai 2:22

And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; and I will overthrow chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

Haggai 2:23

On that day, saith the Lord of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, the son of Shealthiel, my servant, saith the Lord, and I will place thee as a signet; for of thee have I made choice, saith the Lord of hosts.

ZECHARIAH

Zechariah 1:1

In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord unto Zechariah, the son of Berechyah, the son of 'Iddo the prophet, saying,

Zechariah 1:2

The Lord hath been greatly angry with your fathers.

Zechariah 1:3

And [now] say thou unto them, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Return ye unto me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will return unto you: so hath said the Lord of hosts.

Zechariah 1:4

Be ye not like your fathers, unto whom the former prophets proclaimed, saying, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Do return from your evil ways, and your evil doings; but they did not hear, nor listen unto me, saith the Lord.

Zechariah 1:5

Your fathers,—where are they! and the prophets,— could they live for ever!

Zechariah 1:6

But my words and my decrees, which I commanded my servants the prophets, behold, they did overtake your fathers: and [then] they returned and said, Just as the Lord of hosts had purposed to do unto us, in accordance with our ways, and in accordance with our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

Zechariah 1:7

On the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month of Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord unto Zechariah, the son of Berechياهو, the son of 'Iddo the prophet, saying,

Zechariah 1:8

I saw this night, and behold there was a man riding upon a red horse, and he was standing among the myrtle-trees that were in the deep valley; and behind him were red, pale, and white horses.

Zechariah 1:9

And I said, What are these, O my lord? Then said unto me the angel that spoke with me, I will show thee what these are.

Zechariah 1:10

And the man that stood among the myrtle-trees answered and said, These are those whom the Lord hath sent to traverse the earth.

Zechariah 1:11

And they answered the angel of the Lord that stood among the myrtle-trees, and said, We have traversed the earth, and, behold, all the earth is inhabited quietly, and is at rest.

Zechariah 1:12

Then commenced the angel of the Lord, and said, O Lord of hosts, how long yet wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast been indignant these seventy years?

Zechariah 1:13

And the Lord answered the angel that spoke with me with good words and comforting words.

Zechariah 1:14

And the angel that spoke with me said unto me, Proclaim thou, saying, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy.

Zechariah 1:15

And with a great anger will I be angry with the nations that are at ease; for I was but a little angry [with Zion], and they helped forward the mischief.

Zechariah 1:16

Therefore thus hath said the Lord, I am returned to Jerusalem in mercy: my house shall be rebuilt in it, saith the Lord of hosts, and the measuring-line shall be stretched forth over Jerusalem.

Zechariah 1:17

Proclaim yet [farther], saying, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, My cities shall again overflow with prosperity: and the Lord will again comfort Zion, and make choice again of Jerusalem.

Zechariah 1:18 (2:1)

And I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold, there were four horns.

Zechariah 1:19 (2:2)

And I said unto the angel who spoke with me, What are these? And he said unto me, These are the horns that have dispersed Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.

Zechariah 1:20 (2:3)

And the Lord showed me four carpenters.

Zechariah 1:21 (2:4)

Then said I, What are these coming to do? And he said as followeth, These are the horns that have dispersed Judah, to the extent that no man could lift up his head; but these are come to terrify them, to cast off the horns of the nations, that have been lifting up their horn over the land of Judah to disperse it.

Zechariah 2:1 (2:5)

And I lifted up my eyes, and looked, and behold, there was a man with a measure—cord in his hand.

Zechariah 2:2 (2:6)

Then said I, Whither art thou going? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, to see what is her breadth, and what is her length.

Zechariah 2:3 (2:7)

And, behold, the angel that spoke with me went out, and another angel came out to meet him;

Zechariah 2:4 (2:8)

And he said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Without walls shall Jerusalem be inhabited because of the multitude of men and cattle in her midst.

Zechariah 2:5 (2:9)

But I—I will be unto her, saith the Lord, a wall of fire round about, and for glory will I be in the midst of her.

Zechariah 2:6 (2:10)

Up! up! and flee away from the land of the north saith the Lord; for as the four winds of the heaven have I spread you abroad, saith the Lord.

Zechariah 2:7 (2:11)

Up, Zion, escape, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon.

Zechariah 2:8 (2:12)

For thus hath said the Lord of hosts, For the sake of [your] glory hath he sent me unto the nations that have despoiled you; for whoever toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye.

Zechariah 2:9 (2:13)

For, behold, I will swing my hand over them, and they shall be a spoil to those that served them: and ye shall acknowledge that the Lord of hosts hath sent me.

Zechariah 2:10 (2:14)

Sing, and rejoice, O daughter of Zion; for, lo, I am coming, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the Lord.

Zechariah 2:11 (2:15)

And many nations will join themselves to the Lord on that day, and they shall be unto me for a people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

Zechariah 2:12 (2:16)

And the Lord will take Judah as his inheritance upon the holy land; and he will again make choice of Jerusalem.

Zechariah 2:13 (2:17)

Be silent, all flesh! before the Lord; for he is waked up out of his holy habitation.

Zechariah 3:1

And he showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord, and the accuser standing at his right hand to accuse him.

Zechariah 3:2

And the Lord said unto the accuser, The Lord rebuke thee, O Accuser; yea, the Lord rebuke thee that hath chosen Jerusalem: is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?

Zechariah 3:3

Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and was standing before the angel.

Zechariah 3:4

And he commenced and said unto those that stood before him, saying; Take away the filthy garments from him. And he said unto him, Behold, I have caused thy iniquity to pass from off thee, and I clothe thee with festive garments.

Zechariah 3:5

And I said, Let them place a clean mitre upon his head. So they placed the clean mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments; and the angel of the Lord stood by.

Zechariah 3:6

And the angel of the Lord forewarned Joshua, saying,

Zechariah 3:7

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then shalt thou also judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee places to walk among these that stand by.

Zechariah 3:8

Do but hear, O Joshua the high priest, thou, and thy fellows that sit before thee; for distinguished men are they; for, behold, I will bring my servant Zemach [the Sprout].

Zechariah 3:9

For behold [here is] the stone that I have laid before Joshua; upon one stone shall be seven eyes: behold, I will engrave thereon its inscription, saith the Lord of hosts, And I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

Zechariah 3:10

On that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall ye call every man to his neighbor under the vine and under the fig-tree.

Zechariah 4:1

And the angel that spoke with me came back again, and waked me up, as a man that is wakened up out of his sleep;

Zechariah 4:2

And he said unto me, What art thou seeing? And I said, I have looked, and behold, there is a candlestick all of gold, with a bowl upon its top, and its seven lamps are thereupon, and seven pipes to the seven lamps, which are upon its top:

Zechariah 4:3

And two olive-trees are by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

Zechariah 4:4

And I commenced and said unto the angel that spoke with me, saying, What are these, my lord?

Zechariah 4:5

Then the angel that spoke with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these are? And I said, No, my lord.

Zechariah 4:6

Then answered he and spoke unto me, saying, This is the word of the Lord unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts.

Zechariah 4:7

Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou wilt become a plain: and he shall bring forth the headstone with shoutings of, Grace, grace unto it.

Zechariah 4:8

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Zechariah 4:9

The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house, and his hands shall complete it: and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto you.

Zechariah 4:10

For whoever even despised the day of [its] small beginning: yet will they rejoice when they see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel, with those seven; they are the eyes of the Lord, which hold a survey through all the earth.

Zechariah 4:11

And I began, and said unto him, What are these two olive-trees upon the right side of the candle-stick and upon its left?

Zechariah 4:12

And I began a second time, and said unto him, What are these two olive-branches, which are close by the two golden pipes which empty out of themselves the gold-colored oil?

Zechariah 4:13

And he said to me as followeth, Knowest thou not what these things are? And I said, No, my lord.

Zechariah 4:14

Then said he, These are the two sons of the clear oil, that stand by the Lord of the whole earth.

Zechariah 5:1

And I again lifted up my eyes, and looked, and behold there was a flying roll[-book].

Zechariah 5:2

And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll, its length is twenty cubits, and its breadth ten cubits.

Zechariah 5:3

Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of all the earth; for every one that stealeth as it is on this side shall be in an equal degree entirely destroyed, as also every one that sweareth [falsely] as it is on that side shall be likewise entirely destroyed.

Zechariah 5:4

I bring it forth, saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsely by my name: and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and shall consume it with its timber and its stones.

Zechariah 5:5

Then went forth the angel that spoke with me, and said unto me, Do but lift up thy eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

Zechariah 5:6

And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their appearance through all the earth.

Zechariah 5:7

And, behold, there was lifted up a heavy [cover] of lead: and there was a certain woman sitting in the midst of the ephah.

Zechariah 5:8

And he said, This is the wickedness. And he cast her into the midst of the ephah; and he cast the weighty lead cover upon the mouth thereof.

Zechariah 5:9

Then did I lift up my eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came out two women, having the wind in their wings, and they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.

Zechariah 5:10

Then said I to the angel that spoke with me, Whither are these bearing away the ephah?

Zechariah 5:11

And he said unto me, To build for it a house in the land of Shin'ar: and when this is erected, then will the other be set there upon its own base.

Zechariah 6:1

And I again lifted up my eyes, and looked, and behold, there came out four chariots from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of copper.

Zechariah 6:2

In the first chariot were red horses; and in the second chariot, black horses:

Zechariah 6:3

And in the third chariot, white horses; and in the fourth chariot, grizzled, ash-colored horses.

Zechariah 6:4

And I began and said unto the angel that spoke with me, What are these, my lord?

Zechariah 6:5

And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four spirits of the heavens, which go forth after having stood before the Lord of all the earth.

Zechariah 6:6

The [chariot] on which are black horses—these go forth into the north country; and the white go forth after them; and the grizzled go forth toward the south country.

Zechariah 6:7

And the red-colored were gone forth, and sought to traverse the earth: and he said, Go, traverse the earth. So they traversed the earth.

Zechariah 6:8

Then cried he loudly unto me, and spoke unto me, saying, Behold, these that are going toward the north country, have quieted [the indignation of] my spirit in the north country.

Zechariah 6:9

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

Zechariah 6:10

Take from the exiles, from Cheldai, from Tobiyahu, and from Yeda'yah, and thou shalt come on the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephanyah, whither they have arrived from Babylon;

Zechariah 6:11

Take also silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua, the son of Jehozadak the high priest;

Zechariah 6:12

And thou shalt say unto him as followeth, Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, saying, Behold a man, Sprout is his name; since out of his own place shall he sprout up, even he shall build the temple of the Lord:

Zechariah 6:13

Yea, he shall build the temple of the Lord; and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne; and a priest shall be upon his own throne; and the counsel of peace shall be between both of them.

Zechariah 6:14

And the crowns shall be for Chelem, and for Tobiyah, and for Yeda'yah, and for Chen the son of Zephanyah, as a memorial in the temple of the Lord.

Zechariah 6:15

And distant ones shall come and build on the temple of the Lord, and ye shall know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently hearken to the voice of the Lord your God.

Zechariah 7:1

And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius that the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah on the fourth day of the ninth month, in Kislev;

Zechariah 7:2

When they had sent unto Beth-el Sherezer and Regem-melech, and his men, to make entreaty before the Lord.

Zechariah 7:3

[And] to say unto the priests who were in the house of the Lord of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Shall I weep in the fifth month with abstinence, as I have done already these many years?

Zechariah 7:4

Then came the word of the Lord of hosts unto me, saying,

Zechariah 7:5

Say unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, as followeth, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh [month], already these seventy years, did ye in anywise fast for me, yea, for me?

Zechariah 7:6

And if ye do eat, and if ye do drink, are ye not yourselves those that eat, and yourselves those that drink?

Zechariah 7:7

Are not these the words which the Lord hath proclaimed by means of the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, with her cities round about her, when [men] inhabited the south, and the lowlands?

Zechariah 7:8

And the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah, saying,

Zechariah 7:9

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, saying, Execute true justice, and show kindness and mercy every man to his brother;

Zechariah 7:10

And defraud not the widow, or the fatherless, the stranger, or the poor; and imagine not evil in your heart one against the other.

Zechariah 7:11

But they refused to listen, and turned away rebelliously the shoulder, and stopped their ears, so as not to hear;

Zechariah 7:12

And their heart they rendered as an adamant, so as not to hear the law, and the words which the Lord of hosts had sent through his spirit, by means of the former prophets: wherefore came a great anger from the Lord of hosts.

Zechariah 7:13

And it is come to pass, that as he proclaimed, and they would not hear: so had they to call, and I would not hear, saith the Lord of hosts;

Zechariah 7:14

And I resolved to scatter them with a storm-wind among all the nations that they had not known; and the land was left desolate after them, without any one to pass through it forward or backward; and the pleasant land have they changed into a desert.

Zechariah 8:1

And the word of the Lord of hosts came, saying,

Zechariah 8:2

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, I am jealous for Zion with a great jealousy, and with great fury am I jealous for her.

Zechariah 8:3

Thus hath said the Lord, I return unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called, The city of truth; and the mount of the Lord of hosts, The holy mount.

Zechariah 8:4

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Again shall there sit old men and old women in the streets of Jerusalem, and every one with his staff in his hand because of their multitude of years.

Zechariah 8:5

And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in her streets.

Zechariah 8:6

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, If it should be marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvelous in my eyes? saith the Lord of hosts.

Zechariah 8:7

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will save my people from the east country and from the country of the setting of the sun;

Zechariah 8:8

And I will bring them [back], that they may dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and they shall be unto me for a people, and I will be unto them for a God, in truth and in righteousness.

Zechariah 8:9

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words out of the mouth of the prophets, who [spoke] on the day that the foundation of the house of the Lord of hosts was laid, when the temple was to be built.

Zechariah 8:10

For before those days there was no reward for man, nor any reward for beast; and for him that went out or came in there was no peace, because of the oppressor: and I let loose all men, every one against his neighbor.

Zechariah 8:11

But now I am no more as in the former days unto the residue of this people, saith the Lord of hosts.

Zechariah 8:12

For the seed shall be undisturbed; the vine shall give its fruit, and the ground shall give her production, and the heavens shall give their dew: and I will bestow on the remnant of this people all these things.

Zechariah 8:13

And it shall come to pass, that, in the same degree as ye have been a curse among the nations, O house of Judah, and house of Israel, so will I save you and ye shall be a blessing: fear not; let your hands be strong.

Zechariah 8:14

For thus hath said the Lord of hosts, As I had purposed to do you evil, when your fathers incensed me, saith the Lord of hosts, and I bethought myself not:

Zechariah 8:15

So do I again purpose in these days to do well unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah; fear ye not.

Zechariah 8:16

These are the things that ye shall do, Speak ye the truth every man to his neighbor; [with] truth and the judgment of peace judge ye in your gates;

Zechariah 8:17

And let none of you think evil in your hearts against his neighbor; and love not a false oath, for all these are what I hate, saith the Lord.

Zechariah 8:18

And the word of the Lord of hosts came unto me, saying,

Zechariah 8:19

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, The fast of the fourth, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth [month], shall become to the house of Judah gladness and joy, and merry festivals: only love ye the truth and peace.

Zechariah 8:20

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, [A time] shall yet be when there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities;

Zechariah 8:21

And the inhabitants of one [city] shall go to another, saying, Let us only go to pray before the Lord, and to seek the Lord of hosts: I too will likewise go.

Zechariah 8:22

And many people and strong nations shall come to seek the Lord of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

Zechariah 8:23

Thus hath said the Lord of hosts, In those days [it shall happen], that ten men out of all the languages of the nations shall take hold—yea, they shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, Let us go with you; for we have heard that God is with you.

Zechariah 9:1

The prophecy of the word of the Lord concerning the land of Chadrach, and Damascus his resting-place; for unto the Lord [will look] the eye of men, and [that of] all the tribes of Israel;

Zechariah 9:2

And also concerning Chamath that is bordering thereon, Tyre, and Zidon, though it be very wise.

Zechariah 9:3

And though Tyre have built herself a strong-hold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets:

Zechariah 9:4

Behold, the Lord will drive her out, and he will strike down her power into the sea; and she herself shall be devoured with fire.

Zechariah 9:5

Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gazzah also, and tremble greatly: and 'Ekron, for her trust will be made ashamed: and the king shall vanish from Gazzah, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

Zechariah 9:6

And aliens shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

Zechariah 9:7

And I will remove their bloody[–sacrifices] out of their mouth, and their abominations from between their teeth; and their land also shall be left for our God, and it shall be as a prince's [dwelling] in Judah, and 'Ekron shall be like Jebusi.

Zechariah 9:8

And I will encamp about my house against armies, against those that pass to and fro, and there shall not pass over them any more an oppressor; for now do I look [on them] with my eyes.

Zechariah 9:9

Be greatly glad, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem! behold, thy King will come unto thee, righteous and victorious is he, lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of a she-ass.

Zechariah 9:10

And I will cut off chariots from Ephraim, and horses from Jerusalem, and there shall be cut off the battle-bow, and he shall speak peace unto the nations; and his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from the river to the ends of the earth.

Zechariah 9:11

As for thee also, because of the blood of thy covenant, do I send forth thy prisoners out of the pit wherein there is no water.

Zechariah 9:12

Return you to the strong-hold, ye hopeful prisoners: even today do I declare, that I will recompense twofold [good] unto thee.

Zechariah 9:13

For I do bend Judah for me, grasp Ephraim [as] a bow; and I will stir up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Javan, and I will render thee as the sword of a mighty man.

Zechariah 9:14

And the Lord will appear over them, and then will go forth like the lightning his arrow: and the Lord Eternal will blow on the cornet, and he will go along in the tempests of the south.

Zechariah 9:15

The Lord of hosts will be a shield over them; and they shall devour [the prey], and subdue the sling–stones; and they shall drink, make a noise as one [drunken with] wine; and they shall be filled like the offering–bowls, like the corners of the altar.

Zechariah 9:16

And the Lord their God will save them on that day as the flock of his people; for [like] the stones of a crown, will they elevate themselves over his land.

Zechariah 9:17

For how great will be [that generation's] happiness, and how great its beauty! corn shall make the young men sing joyfully, and new wine the virgins.

Zechariah 10:1

Ask from the Lord rain at the time of the latter rain, [from] the Lord who maketh lightning–clouds: and he will give unto them showers of rain, to every herb in the field.

Zechariah 10:2

For the Theraphim speak vanity, and the diviners foresee a lie, and those that have dreams speak what is false, with nought do they comfort: therefore do they move about like a flock, they bleat, because [they have] no shepherd.

Zechariah 10:3

Against the shepherds is my anger kindled, and on the he–goats will I inflict punishment; for the Lord of hosts thinketh of his flock, the house of Judah, and maketh them as his elegant horse in the battle.

Zechariah 10:4

Out of him cometh forth the corner[–stone], out of him the tent–nail, out of him the battle–bow, out of him every ruler [of others] together.

Zechariah 10:5

And they shall be like mighty men, treading down [their enemies] in the mire of the streets in the battle, and they shall fight, because the Lord is with them: and the riders on horses shall be made ashamed.

Zechariah 10:6

And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and the house of Joseph will I save, and I will bring them again to their own homes; for I have mercy upon them, and they shall be as though I had never cast them off; for I am the Lord their God, and I will answer their prayer.

Zechariah 10:7

And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as though from wine: and their children shall see it, and be rejoiced; their heart shall be glad in the Lord.

Zechariah 10:8

I will call for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them: and they shall increase as they have increased [formerly].

Zechariah 10:9

And when I shall have scattered them among the people, they will remember me in the far-off countries: therefore shall they live with their children, and return again.

Zechariah 10:10

And I will bring them back again out of the land of Egypt, and out of Assyria will I gather them; and into the land of Gil'ad and Lebanon will I bring them, and it shall not be sufficient for them.

Zechariah 10:11

And he will pass through the sea [with] distress, and he will smite in the sea the waves, and there shall dry up all the deeps of the stream: and there shall be brought down the pride of Assyria, and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away.

Zechariah 10:12

And I will strengthen them in the Lord, and in his name shall they ever walk, saith the Lord.

Zechariah 11:1

Open thy doors, O Lebanon, and the fire shall eat on thy cedars.

Zechariah 11:2

Wail, fir-tree; for fallen is the cedar; those that were mighty are despoiled: wail, O ye oaks of Bashan; for the impervious forest is come down.

Zechariah 11:3

[There is] the noise of the wailing of the shepherds; for wasted is their glory: [there is] the noise of the roaring of young lions; for wasted is the pride of the Jordan.

Zechariah 11:4

Thus hath said the Lord my God, Feed the flocks [that are destined for] the slaughter;

Zechariah 11:5

Whom their buyers slay, and hold themselves guiltless; and whose sellers say, Blessed be the Lord, for I am rich: and none of whose shepherds have pity on them.

Zechariah 11:6

For I will no more have pity on the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord: but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into the hand of his neighbor, and into the hand of his king: and they shall beat down the land, and I will not deliver out of their hand.

Zechariah 11:7

And I had fed the flocks [that were destined for] the slaughter,—indeed, the poorest of the flocks; and I had taken unto me two staves; the one I called Mildness [No'am], and the other I called Concord [Choblim]: and I fed the flocks.

Zechariah 11:8

And I removed the three shepherds in one month; and my soul was tired of them, and also their soul abhorred me.

Zechariah 11:9

Then said I, I will not feed you: what is dying may die; and what is to be lost may be lost; and those that are left may eat every one the flesh of the other.

Zechariah 11:10

And I took my staff, namely, Mildness, and cut it to pieces, to annul my covenant which I had made with all the tribes.

Zechariah 11:11

And when it was annulled on that day, then knew they well, truly the poorest of the flocks that waited for me, that it was the word of the Lord.

Zechariah 11:12

And I said unto them, If it be good in your eyes, give me my reward; and if not, forbear. So they weighed out as my reward thirty pieces of silver.

Zechariah 11:13

And the Lord said unto me, Cast it unto the treasurer, the precious price which I am prized at by them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them in the house of the Lord unto the treasurer.

Zechariah 11:14

Then I cut in pieces my second staff, namely, Concord, to annul the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

Zechariah 11:15

And the Lord said unto me, Take unto thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

Zechariah 11:16

For, lo, I raise up a shepherd in the land, who will not think of those that are lost, nor seek for that which is gone astray, nor heal that which hath [a limb] broken; who will not care for that which hath stood still; but who will eat the flesh of the fat, and devour all even to their claws.

Zechariah 11:17

Woe to the worthless shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall utterly wither, and his right eye shall be completely blinded.

Zechariah 12:1

The prophecy of the word of the Lord concerning Israel, Saith the Lord, who stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him:

Zechariah 12:2

Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of confusion unto all the people round about; and also against Judah, who will have to be at the siege against Jerusalem.

Zechariah 12:3

And it shall come to pass on that day that I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all the people; all that burden themselves with it shall be severely cut: yet then will be gathered together against it all the nations of the earth.

Zechariah 12:4

On that day, saith the Lord, will I smite every horse with dizziness, and his rider with madness; but over the house of Judah will I open my eyes, while I will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

Zechariah 12:5

And the chiefs of Judah will say in their heart, A strong support for me are the inhabitants of Jerusalem through the Lord of hosts their God.

Zechariah 12:6

On that day will I make the chiefs of Judah like a fire—hearth among the wood, and like a torch of fire among sheaves; and they shall devour on the right hand and on the left all the people round about; and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jerusalem.

Zechariah 12:7

The Lord also will save the tents of Judah first: in order that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem shall not become boastful over Judah.

Zechariah 12:8

On that day will the Lord be a shield around the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and the feeblest among them shall be on that day like David; and the house of David shall be like divine beings, like an angel of the Lord before them.

Zechariah 12:9

And it shall come to pass on that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that are come against Jerusalem.

Zechariah 12:10

But I will pour out over the house of David, and over the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they will look up toward me [for every one] whom they have thrust through, and they will lament for him, as one lamenteth for an only son, and weep bitterly for him, as one weepeth bitterly for the first-born.

Zechariah 12:11

On that day will the lamentation be great in Jerusalem, like the lamentation at Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

Zechariah 12:12

And the land will mourn, every family apart by itself: the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart;

Zechariah 12:13

The family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of Shim'i apart, and their wives apart;

Zechariah 12:14

All the families that remain, every family apart by itself, and their wives apart.

Zechariah 13:1

On that day shall there be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for cleansing from sin and for purification.

Zechariah 13:2

And it shall come to pass on that day, saith the Lord of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall not be remembered any more: and also the prophets and the unclean spirit will I remove out of the land.

Zechariah 13:3

And it shall come to pass, if any one should yet prophesy, that his father and his mother who have begotten him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for falsely hast thou spoken in the name of the Lord: and his father and his mother who have begotten him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

Zechariah 13:4

And it shall come to pass on that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one because of his vision, when he prophesieth; and they shall not clothe themselves with a hairy cloak in order to deceive.

Zechariah 13:5

But he will say, I am no prophet, a man that tilleth the ground am I; for some one hath taught me to keep cattle from my youth.

Zechariah 13:6

And should some one say unto him, What are these wounds between thy hands? Then will he say, Those with which I have been wounded in the house of my [vicious] friends.

Zechariah 13:7

Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man whom I have associated with me, saith the Lord of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; but I will turn my hand toward the feeble ones.

Zechariah 13:8

And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts [of those] therein shall be cut off, shall perish; but the third part shall be left therein.

Zechariah 13:9

And I will bring the third part into the fire, and I will refine them as one refineth silver, and will probe them as gold is probed: they will call on my name, and I will answer their prayer; I will say, They are my people; and they will say, The Lord is my God.

Zechariah 14:1

Behold, a day is coming unto the Lord, when thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

Zechariah 14:2

And I will assemble all the nations against Jerusalem to battle; and the city shall be captured, and the houses plundered, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go forth into exile, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

Zechariah 14:3

Then will the Lord go forth, and fight against these nations, as on the day when he fought on the day of battle.

Zechariah 14:4

And his feet will stand on that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall be split in twain in its middle eastward and westward, making a very great valley; and half of the mount shall remove northward, and half of it southward.

Zechariah 14:5

And ye shall flee [from] the valley of my mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal; and ye shall flee, just as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of 'Uzziyah the king of Judah: and then will come the Lord my God, and all the saints with thee.

Zechariah 14:6

And it shall come to pass on that day, that there shall be no light, but fleeting light and thick darkness;

Zechariah 14:7

But it shall be one particular day which shall indeed be known as the Lord's, neither day nor night; but it shall come to pass, that at evening-time there shall be light.

Zechariah 14:8

And it shall happen on that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem, the half of them toward the eastern sea, and the other half of them toward the western sea: in summer and in winter shall it be so.

Zechariah 14:9

And the Lord will be king over all the earth: on that day shall the Lord be [acknowledged] one, and his name be one.

Zechariah 14:10

All the land shall be changed as it were into a plain from Geba' to Rimmon to the south of Jerusalem; and she herself shall be elevated, and be inhabited on her former site, from the gate of Benjamin unto the place of the first gate, up to the corner gate, and from the tower of Chananel unto the king's wine-presses.

Zechariah 14:11

And men shall dwell in it, and no destruction shall any more take place; but Jerusalem shall be inhabited in safety.

Zechariah 14:12

And this shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will afflict all the people that shall have come to battle against Jerusalem: The flesh of every one shall consume away while he standeth upon his feet, and his eyes shall consume away in their holes, and the tongue of every one shall consume away in his mouth.

Zechariah 14:13

And it shall come to pass on that day, that a great confusion from the Lord shall be among them: and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbor, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbor.

Zechariah 14:14

And also Judah will have to fight against Jerusalem: and there shall be gathered together the wealth of all the nations round about, gold, and silver, and garments, in great abundance.

Zechariah 14:15

And thus shall be the plague of the horses, of the mules, of the camels, and of the asses, and of all the beasts that will be in these camps, just like this plague.

Zechariah 14:16

And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left out of all the nations who will have come against Jerusalem, yea, these shall go up year by year to bow down before the King, the Lord of hosts, and to celebrate the feast of tabernacles.

Zechariah 14:17

And it shall happen, that whoso will not come up out of the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to bow down before the King, the Lord of hosts,—even upon these there shall be no rain.

Zechariah 14:18

And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, then shall not [any rain fall] upon them also: this shall be the plague, wherewith the Lord will afflict the nations that will not come up to celebrate the feast of tabernacles.

Zechariah 14:19

This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that will not come up to celebrate the feast of tabernacles.

Zechariah 14:20

On that day shall [every thing], even to the bells of the horses, be holy unto the Lord; and the pots in the Lord's house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

Zechariah 14:21

And every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holy unto the Lord of hosts; and all those that sacrifice will come and take some of them, and seethe therein: and on that day there shall be no more any trader in the house of the Lord of host.

MALACHI

Malachi 1:1

The prophecy of the word of the Lord to Israel by means of Malachi.

Malachi 1:2

I have loved you, so hath said the Lord: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Is not Esau brother to Jacob? saith the Lord: yet I loved Jacob;

Malachi 1:3

And Esau I hated; and I rendered his mountains a desert, and his heritage a dwelling for the monsters of the wilderness.

Malachi 1:4

Should Edom even say, We are impoverished; but we will return and build the ruined places: thus hath said the Lord of hosts, They may indeed build, but I will surely throw down; and men shall call them, The territory of wickedness, and, The people against whom the Lord hath indignation to eternity.

Malachi 1:5

And your eyes shall see it; and ye shall then say, The Lord will be magnified beyond the territory of Israel.

Malachi 1:6

A son honoreth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is my honor? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the Lord of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name; and ye say, wherein have we despised thy name?

Malachi 1:7

Ye offer upon my altar polluted bread; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the Lord is contemptible.

Malachi 1:8

And if ye bring near the blind to sacrifice it, is this not evil? and if ye bring near the lame and the sick, is this not evil? do but present it unto thy governor, will he be pleased with thee, or receive thee with favor? saith the Lord of hosts.

Malachi 1:9

And now, I pray you, beseech the presence of God that he may be gracious unto us; from your hand hath this thing come: will he receive one of you with favor? saith the Lord of hosts.

Malachi 1:10

Oh that there were some one among you that would lock up the doors [of the sanctuary], that ye might not light up my altar for nought: I have no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hosts, neither will I accept in favor an offering from your hand.

Malachi 1:11

For from the rising of the sun even unto his going down my name is great among the nations; and in every place incense is burnt and there is offered unto my name, even a pure offering; for great is my name among the nations, saith the Lord of hosts.

Malachi 1:12

But ye profane it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is polluted, and by the assertion, Its food is contemptible.

Malachi 1:13

And ye have said, Behold, what a wearisome task is it! and ye have left it to famish, saith the Lord of hosts; and ye have brought what was robbed, and the lame, and the sick, and thus ye have brought an offering: should I accept this in favor from your hand? saith the Lord.

Malachi 1:14

But cursed be the deceiver, who hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth a corrupt thing unto the Lord; for I am a great king, saith the Lord of hosts, and my name is feared among the nations.

Malachi 2:1

And now, this commandment is for you, O ye priests.

Malachi 2:2

If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the Lord of hosts: I will even send out against you a curse, and I will curse your blessings; yea, I will curse the same, because ye do not lay it to heart.

Malachi 2:3

Behold, I will destroy unto you the seed, and spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your festive offerings; and one shall take you away with it.

Malachi 2:4

And ye shall thereby know that I have sent out unto you this commandment, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the Lord of hosts.

Malachi 2:5

My covenant was with him life and peace; and I gave them to him for the fear wherewith he feared me, and because of my name he had dread.

Malachi 2:6

The law of truth was in his mouth, and falsehood was not found on his lips: in peace and equity he walked with me, and many did he turn away from iniquity.

Malachi 2:7

For the priest's lips are ever to keep knowledge, and the law are they to seek from his mouth; for he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts.

Malachi 2:8

But ye are indeed departed out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble in the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of the Levite, saith the Lord of hosts.

Malachi 2:9

Therefore have I also made you contemptible and low before all the people, in the same measure as ye do not keep my ways, but act with partiality in the law.

Malachi 2:10

Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? [then] why shall we deal treacherously every man against his brother, to profane the covenant of our fathers?

Malachi 2:11

Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination hath been committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath profaned the sanctuary of the Lord which he loveth, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

Malachi 2:12

The Lord will cut off unto the man that doth this, son and grandson, out of the tents of Jacob, and him that bringeth near an offering unto the Lord of hosts.

Malachi 2:13

And this do ye secondly, covering the altar of the Lord with tears, with weeping and with loud complaint, so that he turneth not any more his regard to the offerings, nor receiveth it with favor at your hand.

Malachi 2:14

Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the Lord hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast indeed dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

Malachi 2:15

And not one doth so who hath a remnant of a [good] spirit; for what desireth such a one? he seeketh [to possess] a godly posterity: therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none of you deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.

Malachi 2:16

For he hateth putting away [the wife], so hath said the Lord the God of Israel, and him who covereth his garment with violence, so hath said the Lord of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, and deal not treacherously.

Malachi 2:17

Ye have wearied the Lord with your words: yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? By your saying, Every one that doth evil is good in the eyes of the Lord, and in them he findeth delight; or else, Where is the God of justice!

Malachi 3:1

Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall clear out the way before me: and suddenly will come to his temple the Lord, whom ye seek; and the messenger of the covenant, whom ye desire for, behold, he is coming, saith the Lord of hosts.

Malachi 3:2

But who can sustain the day of his coming? and who can stand when he appeareth? for he is like the fire of the melter, and like the lye of the washers:

Malachi 3:3

And he will sit as a melter and purifier of silver; and he will purify the sons of Levi, and refine them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness

Malachi 3:4

And then shall be pleasant unto the Lord the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem, as in the days of old, and as in former years.

Malachi 3:5

And I will come near unto you to [hold] judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against those that swear falsely, and against those that withhold the wages of the hired laborer, [oppress] the widow, and the fatherless, and that do injustice to the stranger, and fear me not, saith the Lord of hosts.

Malachi 3:6

For I the Lord,—I have not changed: and ye sons of Jacob—ye have not ceased to be.

Malachi 3:7

From the days of your fathers did ye depart from my statutes, and did not keep them; return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the Lord of hosts; but ye say, Wherein shall we return?

Malachi 3:8

Can a man rob God, that ye will rob me? But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and in heave-offerings.

Malachi 3:9

With the curse are ye cursed, and yet ye do rob, O ye entire nation!

Malachi 3:10

Bring ye all the tithes into the store-house, that there may be provision in my house, and prove me but herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open for you the windows of heaven, and pour out for you a blessing, until it be more than enough.

Malachi 3:11

And I will rebuke for you the devourer, and he shall not destroy for you the fruit of the ground: and the vine shall not cast its fruit for you before the time in the field, saith the Lord of hosts.
