

June 10

See that none render evil for evil unto any man. (1 Thessalonians 5:15)

It does not improve a bad situation to take revenge on someone who has done evil to you. With God's help it is possible to return good for evil. Sometimes the person doing the harmful deed is ashamed of his actions when an act of kindness and forgiveness is shown toward him. Jesus was a good example to us: he had pity, forgiveness, and love in his heart for those who injured him. Proverbs 20:22

Color the picture

Read the sentence in each box.

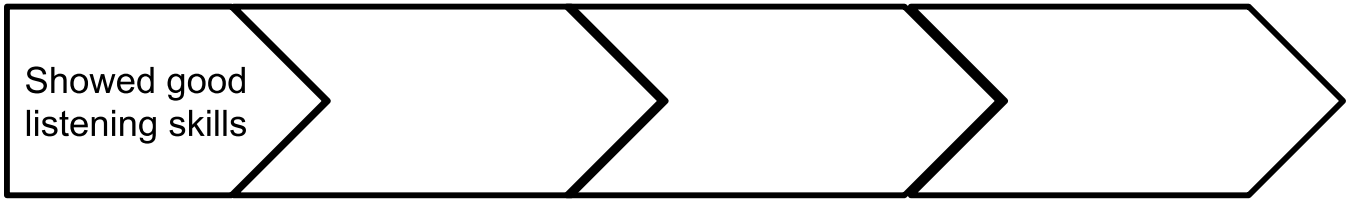

If you would do the same thing to another person, color the entire box red.

If you would NOT do the same thing to another person, color the box green.

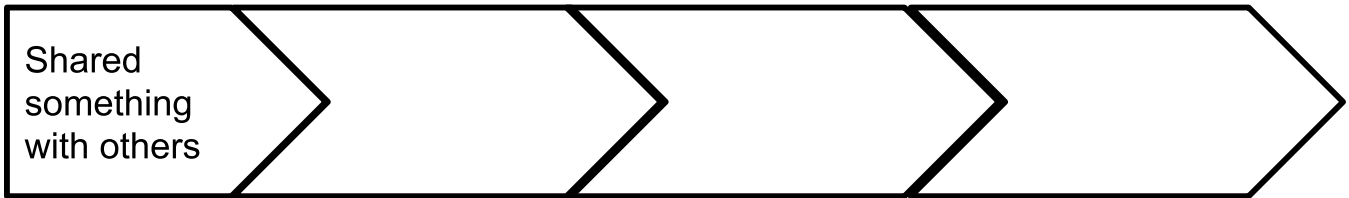

My sister is there whenever I need her.	Silvia lets me know when I make a poor choice.
If Jenny hurts my feelings, she always apologizes.	Mario lies to me so he doesn't have to play with me.
When Lori makes good choices, I support my friend.	Allie and Jasmine don't share and take turns with me.
Justin will not stand up for me.	Even when Michelle is mad at me, she still talks respectfully to me.
Mike will call and ask for my help when I am not around.	Rich pushed me when I was on the slide and I got hurt.
Riley threw a rock at me.	Lily took the crayon right out of my hand when I was using it.
Andrea encourages me, even when I make a mistake.	Jenny and Brian laugh at things that are not true about me.
Judy makes fun of me.	Chris and Henry don't respect my opinions.
Jace doesn't care about the things I'm interested in.	Sam and June always try to make me feel better when I'm upset
Carla tries to not hurt my feelings.	When Mark gets mad, he yells at me.

Can you fill in this chart with positive ways you showed respect this week?

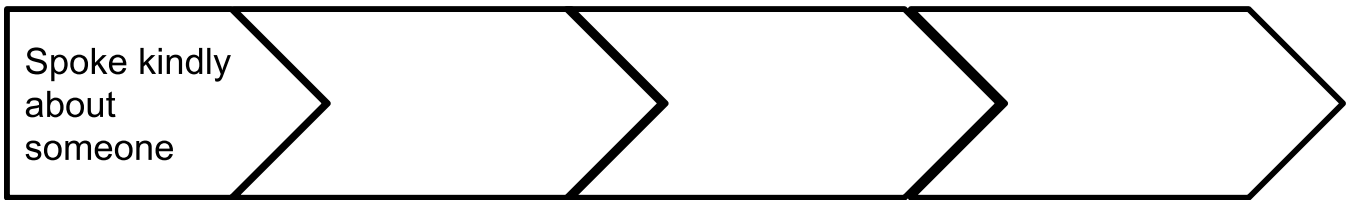

Showed good listening skills

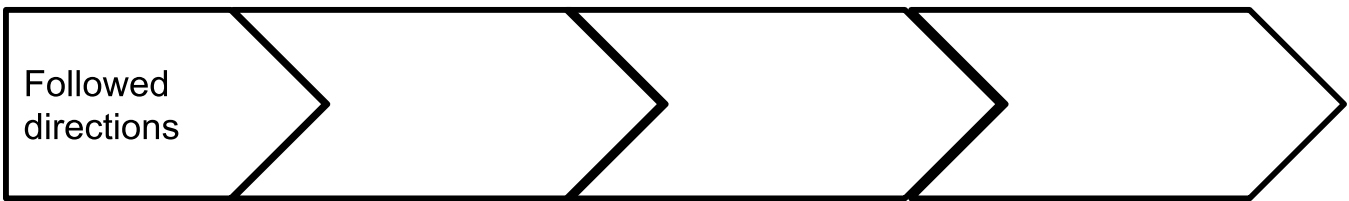

Shared something with others

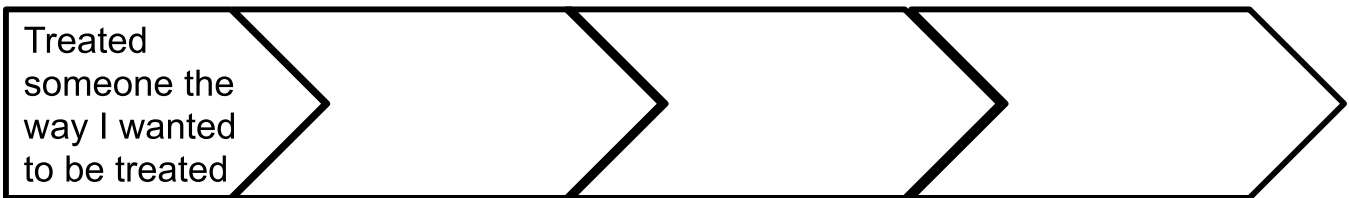

Spoke kindly about someone

Followed directions

Treated someone the way I wanted to be treated

Shared something with someone

