Bind them (God's commandments) upon thy fingers, write them upon the table (tablet) of thine heart. (Proverbs 7:3)

With God's commandments at our fingertips, our hands would busy themselves doing all they could to further God's plan. With them written on our hearts, having them clearly and prominently in our minds and affections, how could there be any bitterness or evil in our lives? Deuteronomy 6:6-8

Match the meaning to the Biblical proverb.

1 Good friends help each other grow and improve.	6 What is inside your heart reveals who you really are.	11 It is better to be honest and right than wealthy through wrongdoing
2 Respecting and honoring God is the foundation of true wisdom.	7 Happiness and joy can benefit your health and outlook.	12 Seeking advice from wise people helps you make better decisions.
3 Kind words can calm an angry situation	8 Loving others helps bring peace instead of arguments	13 We should show kindness and care to all living creatures
4 Your character and reputation are worth more than money.	9 Being careful with your words can keep you out of trouble	14 God wants us to rely on Him instead of only on our own understanding.
5 Working hard usually brings better results than being lazy	10 Humility is important because pride often leads to failure.	15 True friends remain loyal during both good and difficult times.
